Sleeves will be rolled up by Florida State students who are donating a pint to Red Cross Blood Drive for the armed forces on Tuesday, Oct. 28, at the campus infirmary. The Junior Class is in charge of the drive.

Donors under 21 years of age are required to send permission slips signed by parents or guardian before making blood contributions.

STUDENTS appointments must be made through the Blood Captains, who are stationed throughout the campus for that purpose. They will post the lists of donors and their time appointments on the bulletin boards of their respective dormitories, sorority or fraternity houses.

Students should be prompt for their appointments, urges Roy Slaton, Junior Class president. "All students donating blood will be treated as though they were patients of the infirmary," he says. Students will be given a slip upon entering on which the time they came in and time left will be checked. In this way, professors will know students had been donating blood

THOSE DONATING must not eat for four hours before the time of appointment. Refreshments will be given afterwards.

Everyone is urged to help make this blood drive as successful as last year's, Slaton said.

FSU Music School Opens String Clinic; Auditions Slated

Students and teachers of violin, viola violoncello and bass will be offered an opportunity to study and consult with some outstanding musical artists when the Florida State University School of Music sponsors its second annual String Clinic, Feb. 12-14, 1953.

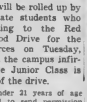
Albert Spalding, famed American violinist, and Ernst von Dohnanyi, renowned composer, will head the faculty for the clinic. Tiet will be assisted by Dr. Karl Ahlgren, head of the String Department of the School of Music and conductor of the State Symphony of Florida; Arthur Kreutz, conductor of the FSU Symphony Orchestra, and the string instructors and performers on the FSU faculty.

A SPECIAL feature of the Clinic (Continued on Page 4)

Tickets to Carmen Up for Public Sale

Public sale of tickets to the Artist Series presentation of "Carmen" began yesterday in the Public Relations Office in Longmire Building and will continue on through all performances until all tickets are sold.

A special student issue of tickets which makes a ticket available to each Florida State University student who offers his ID card and student activities book is still open. Student tickets will be available up until curtain time of each performance.



Mr. Thomas Welsh, Chairman of Artist Series at FSU, has stated that every student ticket be used so that someone who really wants to see Carmen will not be turned away when there would be an available seat for the performance. Public Relations office adds that all main performance tickets have been sold out and the supply of student tickets for the night shows has been exhausted. Only matinee tickets in student issues and public sales issues are left.

MATINEE AND NIGHT performances of the Wassim Opera Company's interpretation of the famous Bizet opera will be given in the Leon High School Auditorium. Afternoon curtain time is 3:30 and evening performances start at 8:15

Two exciting prima-donnas will sing Carmen in Tallahassee. Maria Russo will perform at the matinee showings and Lydia Ibarrando at night. Among their concerns are conservation of breath and a thorough knowledge of Spanish dancing for the taxing role. Famous dancer experts have discussed the authenticity of the Carmen dances, but few of them realize that by necessity these dances must be simulated rather than actually danced.

RISE STEVENS, famous opera star of many successes, is quoted as saying, "I have been every woman in the audience identifies herself with certain facets of

(Continued on Page 4)

LYDIA LaARRANDO, famous prima-donna who appears with the Wagner Opera Company is the Artist Series presentation "Carmen" at Leon High School Auditorium at evening performances all next week.

ACE Inaugurates Junior Art Series In Music Concert

The Association for Childhood Education on the Florida State campus yesterday inaugurated a Junior Artist Series for Children in the form of an organ-vocal concert.

The new Artist Series is a project of the student branch of ACE. Guests at the first concert were pupils in the FSU Nursery School, Ella kindergarten, the Demonstration School kindergarten and all its elementary grades. Parents were also invited.

MRS. HARRIET C. Beard, organist; Walter James, vocalist; and Robert Glottbach, piano accompanist, comprised the School of Music faculty trio which presented the program lasting 45 minutes

Miss Sara Lou Hammond, director, and Mrs. Margaret Cassel, instructor of the Demonstration Kindergarten, co-sponsored the student group. They are Frances Lee, general chairman of the series; Marie Smith, initial concert chairman, Ara Andrews, Kay Upson, Patsy Pate, Pat Russell, Roberta Fryer, Maurita Sutton, Jean Hopkins, Katherine Patrick, Billie Wester and Janice Moreland. Student ushers included Jane Wood, Marion Goosman and Sally Paige.

NEXT ON the Junior Artist Series will be the Tallahassee Junior Chorus, representative of all local elementary schools, directed by Miss Lou L. Schnoor of the School of Music, at 3:30 p.m., Thursday, November 13.

Government Service Management Exams Slated in December

Applications for the 1953 Junior Management Examinations, by which the Federal Government selects candidates for government service, may now be obtained at the School of Public Administration.

This examination is given once a year and consists of two phases. On Dec. 6, a written examination is given in many cities throughout the country. Any one who desires an interview is given those who pass the written exam.

Students who submit to either the government service upon graduation or to graduate work in the university may find out if they qualify for such service by obtaining the qualifying test announcement obtainable at the School of Public Administration or the local Tallahassee Post Office.

ALL STUDENTS wishing to sp-

(Continued on Page 4)

Qualification Tests To Be Scheduled

Applications for the Dec. 4, 1952 and April 23, 1953 administrations of the College Qualification Tests are now available at the Civil Service System local boards throughout the country.

Eligible FSU students who intend to take the test on either date should apply at once to Local Board No. 11, 319 East Gaines Street, Tallahassee, for examination and a bulletin of information. Following instructions in the bulletin, the applicant must fill out his application and mail it immediately after the blanks provided. Applications for the Dec. 4 test must be postmarked no later than midnight, Nov. 1, 1952.

Britishers Meet FSU Debaters In Annual Tilt

Discuss Nationalization Of Radio, TV; Poll Taken Before, After

British debaters met with the Florida State team last night in the annual International Debate. The topic was "Resolved that Radio and Television should be a State Monopoly."

The debate marked the fourth year representatives from British universities have argued with the FSU varsity team. It took the form of a split debate in which an FSU student and Englishman teamed together.

THE AFFIRMATIVE side was supported by Ronald Evans of Great Britain, and Ted Clevenger, FSU graduate student in the department of speech. Arlene Amend, PSU, and Kenneth Dibben, Great Britain, took the negative.

No decision was made at the conclusion of the debate, but a check of audience opinion before and after was made.

ALL FOUR participants have had considerable experience in debating, and have won numerous honors during their collegiate careers. Dibben is president of the Society president of the Debating Group at the University College in Southhampton, Enc., and Evans served as chairman o fthe Socialist Society there.

Arlene Amend won first place in an original oratory contest last year. She compiled a record holder for events won in the annual Reserve Speech Association tournament.

Sandspur Has Float in Parade

Sandspur 1953 is entering the Homecoming float contest, it was announced By chairman Jim Harris recently.

The contest concerns itself with ideas and a detailed sketch for the float idea which must be submitted at the Sandspur office of Longmire building in the Sandspur box by 6 p.m., October 28. Anyone may enter this contest and may submit as many ideas and sketches as he wishes.

Harris has also issued a request for a semi-truck to be used for the float either, to be donated for free or to be rented at a low fee.

Sandspur did not have a float in last year's Homecoming parade although they have entered in the competition in previous years. In the opinion of this year's entry, states Harris, is to make a good showing and all the same time to bring Sandspur to the forefront in the minds of the students at Florida State University.

THE PERSON submitting the winning idea and sketch will be awarded two tickets to the Sandspur dance to be held Sandspur Weekend which will also be providing the music. As yet, the band has not been determined, although several good bands are being approached for this spot on the agenda of local events on campus this year.

IN REPLY to many queries, Harris has stated that sketches or scrips are to be under consideration by the reading and judging committee. Deadline for scripts is for the 1953 Sandspur production was October 15.

Home Ec Majors Tie for Omicron Nu Scholastic Award

Martha Ann Garrett and Priscilla Holmes tied for the scholarship award of the Pi chapter of Omicron Nu, home economics scholastic honorary, announced by Dr. Ruth Sizemore home economics major with the highest average during the past year.

At the meeting last night, Dr. Hannah Byrd, professor of education, was the main speaker. The initiation was conducted by Pat Dosian, president of the Home Economics Club and then turned over to Mary Helen Speed, president of Omicron Nu.

Rat Caps at Stake In Soph-Frosh Day

Joanos Leads Frosh Athletes In Attempt to Doff Rat Caps

Will the Freshmen throw away their Rat Cape, or will they keep them on till Homecoming? This pressing question will be answered tomorrow afternoon when the Frosh meet the Sophomores on the battle field of the West Campus track.

Spearheaded by newly elected Freshman class president Johnny Joanos, the Frosh team, studded with many former high school greats, will go into action against a strong sophomore team, which will be captained by Paul Reynolds, familiar rat cafe in the offing.

EVENTS WILL begin at 1 p.m. tomorrow with the 100 yard dash for boys, the 50 yard dash for girls, the 220 yard dash for boys and the 80 yard relay for boys. Following this will be the shot and discus throw for boys, high and broad jump for boys and a softball throw for distance for girls.

The Sophomore attack will be led by such standouts as Carlos Praundorfer, Bill Wagoner, Julian Hurst, Pete Nimkoff and Bill Conway. Promising contestants' identities as yet remain a mystery and probably will not be revealed until registration which will start at the track at 12 noon tomorrow.

OFFICIATING at the meet will be members of the physical education department of Florida State University under the supervision of Coach Bud Kennedy and Coach Grace Fox.

"All Freshmen are required to attend this meet," states this year's chairman Bob Canada, "and it is hoped that a large number of sophomores will turn out to see their team in action and cheer the winners."

Sandspur 1953 is entering

Investiture Is Held For Senior Class; Dr. Rogers Speaks

Senior status was conferred upon approximately 350 members of the Class of 1953 Tuesday night in the annual Investiture ceremonies.

The Seniors, dressed in academic robes, marched into the Open-Air Theatre by the Black Knight-Sophomore brothers and sisters to the strains of the Processional played by Mrs. Ramona C. Beard of the school of music.

UNIVERSITY President Dr. Doak S. Campbell welcomed the class and explained the nature and significance of the Investiture ceremony.

He also introduced Senior Class officers, who presented the program.

Dr. Sam Neel, philosophy department, gave the Invocation. Dr. Hudson Rogers, head of the department of English, gave the address on learning, stressing the importance of the cultural and liberal side in a day when much of the college education is channeled to professional courses and the sole view of making good money.

MRS. DOAK S. Campbell placed the mortar board on Senior Class Pres. Bob Ryals, while Sophomores dressed in white capped their Senior brothers and sisters, the act which symbolized brotherhood. After capping, the Sophomores sang the traditional "Hail to the Caps and Gowns."

Wednesday, Seniors went to classes in their academic regalia in accordance with the ruling passed at the last Senior Class meeting.

Pow Wow Skit AtHomecoming Draws Entries

Organizations wishing to compete in the Homecoming skit contest at the Annual Pow Wow, Friday night, Nov. 14, must fill out an entry form with description of the skit and give it to Dr Paul J. Reynolds, Room 206, History Building, by Wednesday, Oct. 29.

The competition is sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta and Sigma Nu.

PRELIMINARY ENTRY deadline for groups going to participate in the Pow Wow contest was Wednesday. Eliminations will take place Nov. 4, 5 and 6, with a final elimination on Wednesday, Nov. 12, at 7 p. m. in the Amphitheater.

Order of appearance will be determined by chance. Skits will be based on a basis of originality, clarity, appropriateness of the theme to the occasion and cleverhumorous.

ANOTHER POINT will be the adaptability of the action to the musical accompaniment in which it takes place. To be meaningful in the skit, the action, as the stadium, action should be broad and pantomimic with little or no dialogue.

The originality and appropriateness of the costumes will also be considered. A time limit of five to ten minutes for setting, performing and clearing the stage has been set.

IN THE NOV. 11 eliminations, three sororities and three fraternities will be chosen to present their skits.

Further information may be obtained from Coach Jack Hasking, chairman of the committee, or Jean Wetherell, Chi Omega House.

Methodists Feature Dr. Timothy Chow, Chinese Minister

Dr. Timothy Chow, Chinese Methodist minister, will be featured speaker at the Methodist Student Supper Sunday evening Oct. 26. The fellowship program is being presented by the World Christian Community Committee with Carolyn Johnson as chairman.

Dr. Chow has been in America for several years now. He first studied Religious Philosophy in Massachusetts and is now the associate pastor of the Methodist church in Spokane, Wash. It was that he plans to go back to China within a short while.

The program will start off with a supper at 5:15 and Dr. Chow will speak at 6:15. Other members of the committee in charge are Dot Cooke, Gloria Parrish, Mary Ann Hamilton and Richard Hutto.

BUSINESS STUDENTS [illegible] Over 200 students faculty members and other guests became acquainted at the third annual Coffee Hour recently held yesterday evening in the Longmire Lounge.

Under the direction of Dr. Olen Murphy business education department students were served as hosts sored by the student organizations of the School of Business.

Guests included Dr. J. Frank Dame, Dean of the School of Business, and other FSU faculty. Erwin Clark, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Tallahassee; faculty members of the School of Business and students majoring in the various fields of business.

Greeting the guests on the reception line were the presidents of the sponsoring student organizations. The handshakers included: Bill McDonald of Alpha Kappa Psi, Jim Smith of Delta Sigma Pi, Bette Lue Kabrezy of the FBLA Club, Ed Richardson of the Insurance and Real Estate Club, Betty Carlile of Pi Omega Pi and Jim Brady of the Sertoma

Soph Hop Nomination

Nominations for King and Queen of the Sophomore Hop, Nov. 8, will take place in Tucker on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Martin Is Made Chairman Of '52 Gymkana Production

Robert S. Martin, Jr. of West Palm Beach has been selected by Coach Hartley Price as general manager chairman of the 1952 Gymkana production, "Out Of This World."

Martin succeeding Dick Gutling, last year's chairman, heads a large production committee including Ann Tucker as women's chairman, Harmer Weichel, senior men's manager, Pat Russell and Mary McNatt student directors of Tumbling Tots and Dick Gutling, student coach.

Dance committees are composed of Gladys Tinkler, Phenita Stokes, Jackie Goodlett, Edna Shoemaker, Barbara Vickers, Kenneth Sperling and Jerry Bowden, student assistant directors of the show are Clarence Hale, Bill Rousheen, Frank Hilla and Betty Doss.

A preview of 'Out of This World,' scheduled for November 3 to 8 in the East Campus Gymnasium will be given tonight at the Veterans' Domiciliary at Thomasville, Ga.," states Coach Price. This preview will serve as one of the final rehearsals for the week-long show in which nearly 200 performers will appear nightly.

COMPLETE WITH a spectacular array of balancing on tables and chairs, calisthenics, stunts on the parallel bars, side horse and trampoline, the show will also feature new and alternating array of costumes and equipment. The show will be highlighted by the appearance of the ever-popular Tumbling Tots, a group of youngsters specially trained by Gymkana members, and a specialty act, "Tiger Leaping."

Other features, whose practicing many students have been watching in front of the field for hours at a time, will present ballet, adagio and acrobatic tap dance features besides performances on the unicycle and balance-bar.

THE FINALISTS to compete for the title of "Miss Gymkana" have been selected by the committee of judges this week. The queen will be crowned at the final night performance, Nov. 8. Judges serving on the committee are Miss Bill Mildred Parrish, Alumni Secretary, Roy Flynn, Public Relations Director, Lloyd Arnold, Coach Price and Mrs. Price. The finalists not selected will serve in the queen's court.

Many thousands of specialists over the entire South have been presented at National Collegiate Gymnastic championship meet at Boulder, Colorado, and the National AAU and Olympic trysts at State College, Pennsylvania.

"THIS YEAR'S SHOW," states Coach Price, "will be the biggest and the best production ever staged by Florida State University. With 200 performers in the cast, it will be the biggest, and with the plans we've made, it will be the best also."

In developing gymnastic teams who have won national collegiate championships, Price has also succeeded in making his annual Gymkana show as well known that it has chosen feature entertainment at the North Florida State Fair last year and was given top billing.

Light Opera Guild Hard at Work On Herbert's Popular Sweethearts

By PAT FLYNN

Victor Herbert's wrote an excellent musical play entitled, "Sweethearts" in 1913 and even today the production is very popular. Students of FSU will have the opportunity to see the show in its entirety on November 4, 5 and 6 when it is presented by the Light Opera Guild in the Opperman Music Hall at 8:15.

As the story goes, in part, Sylvia Alice Peacock', as an infant is found in Tulip Garden one morning by Dame Paula Beverly Benefit who conducts the laundry of The White Geese and who is known as "Mother Goose" Sylvia is brought up as the daughter of Paula, although the latter has six daughters of her own. They are Lizette (Sandra Darling) Clarette (Donna Harper) Babette (Lynn Longbottom) Lucette (Clare Canyon) Colette (Evelyn Amundson) and Nanette (Mickey Kondos).

Mikel Makelovic (Harrison Fisher) who comes to the laundry disguised as a monk, left Sylvia as an infant in Dame Paulas care. He knows that Sylvia is the Crown Princess of the little Kingdom of Silania. Hikel is conspiring to restore her to the throne, which is about to be given to Franz (Kenneth) Nelson) the Presumptive, who, traveling incognito has fallen in love with Sylvia and who finds a rival in Gilbert (Bill) Dalrymple; a military Lothario, betrothed to Sylvia. Mikel's plans are frustrated by the schemes of Hon. Percy Alcernon Slingsby (Jack Hamilton) Lord Dolly (Jim Tromp (Sam Frank) and Aristide Caniche (Jim Crews) who wish to purchase Prince Franz's estates for their own personal use.

Lizzie (Ellen Bone) is a milliner who has rough temporary employment in the laundry of "The White Geese" and is mistaken by Mikel and Slingsby for the lost princess.

Of course, there is more to it than this and one phase is the

(Continued on Page 4)

Unification Proposal Faces 'Groaning, Teeth-Gnashing'

There will be "great moaning, groaning and gnashing of teeth by the alumni of both universities," said state-Senator nominate George Tapper of Port St. Joe, referring to his proposal to combine the University of Florida and Florida State University under one administration.

And doubtless there will be.

But if Mr. Tapper is really as serious as he seems to be, people at the two universities, as well as interested citizens throughout the state, had better start giving serious consideration to the proposal.

Probably one's first reaction upon hearing the idea is to scorn it. How could two intense rivals be put under the same leadership, and what will the ardent alumni of each institution have to say about it? How does the third state college fit into the picture? The structures that will be brought to bear in the legislature to maintain the present system will be immense.

The proposal will be bogged down in predudice before it has a hearing.

So far, the Flambeau has been able to receive only the scantest of details about Tapper's idea. The Associated Press carried a few paragraphs about his speech before a Panama City civic luncheon club. There has been no official statement, as far as is known.

From what is known, however, it seems that the basic motive behind the unification suggestion is one of economy. Tapper pointed out that there is costly duplication of courses on the two campuses. There is necessarily considerable duplication, however.

It is ridiculous to assume that all mathematics can be taught on one campus, all political science on the other, and so on and so on ad infinitum. Surely the proposal doesn't embody such ideas.

If, however, Mr. Tapper were planning to eliminate the repitition of extremely specialized courses, there might very well be something to say for his proposal. It does seem silly to offer a major in underwater penmanship to three and one-half interested students at FSU and five and three-quarters more at the U. of F.

There are doubtless other conveniences to be attributed to the proposed unification plan. If it can be shown that economies can be effected by doing away with overlapping administrative duties, by centralized purchasing and the like, then Mr. Tapper certainly deserves the right to be heard.

Putting the state universities under one administration is not a new idea. It is being done, and quite successfully, in a number of states near us—Virginia, Illinois and Georgia being only a few. Even here in Florida there is the nucleus of a unified system in the State Board of Control, which makes decisions for all state institutions.

The Flambeau wishes neither to support nor condemn Mr. Tapper's proposal as yet, for not enough is known about it at this time. The Flambeau will keep the matter to the attention of the student body, though, because there will doubtless be much more said about it in the coming legislative year.

There seems to be a lot for and a lot against the system. The Flambeau would like to know more about the plan, so as to be able to keep the student informed.

OFF THE HEUFF

ON POLITICAL POLLS AND BARBER POLES

BY BRUCE GALPHIN

After the 1948 fiasco, it would be natural to expect the pollsters and political analysts to be a little easier on their predictions. In fact, one wonders whether four years is a long enough period of grace for them to keep before coming out of hiding.

But they're out again in force, with a barrage of statistics to match. It seem official. It's almost humorous, though, to witness their timidity. They predict but with more ifs, ands and buts than a lecture at a political rally. They're ready to say "I told you so" no matter what the outcome of the election.

As a result, the Gallup poll, the Crosley poll, the Princeton poll and various other varieties have about as much significance as a barber pole.

They have good reason to be cautious. In 1948 one of the leading pollsters found Dewey so far ahead early in the campaign that he stopped taking interviews entirely. Others were confident of a GOP victory. The classic example of how wrong they could be was the Chicago Tribune, which ran huge banner headlines of "Dewey Wins" on the basis of early returns election night.

Perhaps remembering this, the "experts" are being a little more careful. A couple of months ago, they showed the Republicans to be ahead with a considerable lead, but now the percentages have dropped off, so that neither party has a majority. The large undecided vote, they say, will swing the election.

Gallup performed an eulogy on the corpse after the last presidential election and found its important reason among others for going wrong:

First, his inquest had an application as to where they took their samples; they avoided the downtrodden of cities. This year, says Gallup, he's going everywhere.

Second, Gallup cather arbitrarily split the undecided vote about 50-50 in making his predictions. Later he found that almost 75 per cent of the undecided sample of how wrong they could finally went to the polls and voted Democratic.

The latest Gallup poll is typical of how the crystal-gazers are seems to it this they don't find themselves out on a limb come election time. The Republican figure is down to 45 per cent, the Democrats up to 38. That leaves an unusually large 47 per cent yet to make up their minds.

Now if the GOP should win the election, the pollsters can claim their methods had "dictated" the direction of the results. On the other hand, they're safe if the Democrats poll through. They can point out that 75 per cent of the 17 per cent undecided was just enough to put Stevenson over the top.

Add to that the three per cent of error leeway they always give, and they should almost claim validity in the event of a Democratic landslide.

Conclusions? The divining rod and magic potions are only a little less accurate.

THE PARTISAN REVIEW

WRITER SAYS 'CRUSADE' COLLAPSING

By GENE LAWLER

As the Eisenhower campaign escochets along, the big question seems to be just where the "Great Crusade" Eisenhower originally talks "Great Smear," as Wilson Wyatt so nicely put it, is headed.

Our Republican columnist, Wayne Morse of Oregon, decided this week that the whole purpose of Eisenhower campaign was headed, and announced he would vote for Stevenson.

He said: "I have never been so completely disillusioned in any man as I am about Eisenhower." He accused the General of "demagoguery, McCarthyism, and dangerous desertion" of principles, and stated that he was "dancing and dancing" from puppet swings jerked by "evil and corrupt forces."

These, it is to be remembered, are statements by the man who personally has been the target of the first man in Congress to recommend Eisenhower for the Republican nomination.

Apparently similar, if milder views are fortunately expressed by newsmen traveling with the Eisenhower campaign. Asked to though 80% of the newspapers in the U. S. are committed to Eisenhower, only one spoke up in the first time in FSU's history the Seniors did the Charleston to the Processional March.

The Seniors that were invested heard an inspiring, rousin' talk by Dr. Hutton. Hutton, Roger; even made them feel like running home and reading Plato. But they didn't of course. They went to the Amber House and the Siecca instead. Where they had entertainment, now sure they'd stuck their foot into the high front door, bill and all, sing "Hail to the Caps and Gowns" and "Seniors" to the higher-ups again.

The Seniors, official now, went home Tuesday night. They were up high front door, bill and around this place. Peeking from under edges of oversized hats, they can see areal things ahead. But does anybody know a sure cure for a cold?

COLUMNIST INTRODUCES HIMSELF: FIERY ONE

BY IGNAT

Today I start what I hope will be a regular weekly feature. It will of course depend on the reaction this column makes. Thus is another endeavor to which I am going and which the author calls the "college try." Truth is I have been here long enough to be able to give almost anything a try once. But enough of this boasting.

As for myself, I am the author of this column has given his name as Ignat. Hello. "Hello FSU fast slipping from him," and "who is exhausted all methods to prove it." It so happens that my name is Ignacio and that I am a Senior. Whether the columnists had that in mind or not, I want to make clear that I do not "pray" for the above, at least not all the time.

The name I have chosen for the column is simply because it came to my mind easily. Since most of the thoughts that will be transplanted to the newspapers have to originate in this lovely campus in the fair city, I consider the title logical.

To establish some rapport between my readers and myself I have chosen to go into my full name. Do you, as many, feel that it is related to "ignorant" or perhaps "ignoble." Let me correct your impression. "Ignave" is from the French, from the Latin "ignavus," from "in-" not and the rest of "ignavus" knowing, "nosere" to become acquainted with. Next "ignoble" from the French, from the Latin "ignobilis" from "in-" not and "gnobilis, nobilis," noble.

Now for the real root of my name. Ignacio is related to such words as "ignite," "ignition" from the Latin "ignis," fire. My name is given the meaning "fiery." So I'll be fiery. I'll be fiery in the ware of the fire that burns among you on the campus of FSU.

Today is U.N. Day, proclaimed by President Truman. It is a day e student born in a foreign country I have been asked to participate in. Many special programs scheduled for today. Perhaps the best indication of the interest that Americans are taking in international relations. Many exhibits of bright ma- terially civilized peoples, nevertheless there is hope while we have such as the U.N. we have proof of living and lively people who believe too lively.

Yes, there is irony in seems a picture of Mrs. Roosevelt shaking hands with the Russian delegate at the U. N. Assembly, while American soldiers and communist soldiers are engaged in duels to the ands of miles away, and yet so close to us. Yet there is much encouraging work being done by real humanists in the many branches of the UN. work that is increasing the well-being, the knowledge and with that the hope of mankind.

Well, there you have it. My first column. Now another final word. Many times in reading oso school paper, especially in newspaper columns days. I have felt insulted by what I considered petty and insignificant issues being given an inordinate amount of space. I have at times begun to appreciate many of these trivia, but am still sympathetic to those who become irritated with those who do some worrying about some of the overwhelming problems of the world: war, overpopulation, human misery. In these I am still in the dark, and anyone with the time and interest is welcome to help me in shedding some light and partaking in this column, for this week.

Likes Adlai

Dear Editor:

I am writing to ask student voters to think and think again before they cast their ballots November 4.

A few months a go the Republican candidate promised to devote himself to a crusade, to give real morality to government, to maintain government leadership of the last 20 years and to work for a lasting peace.

There are many people, Democrats, Republicans and independents included, who were impressed by him, wanted a change and decided to vote for him.

But in the weeks that followed, the crusade and the crusader slipped time and time again. On almost every point, the generalnominee has backflipped and given in to the repudiated old guard of his party. The very people who worked hard for the nomination are now sickened, disgusted and disillusioned. Like Republican Senator Wayne Morris they are heeding a new choice.

Adlai Stevenson has continued to be honest in his campaign. In the South he has spoken frankly on the issues that "count" and denounced Ike was too liberal for him to stomach. Now the Cabinet has expressed itself as "very pleased" with the Democrats platform, and has expressed satisfaction over Ike's endorsement of McCarthy, Jenner, and Knowland, the reactionaries of the Ike is expected presently.

It is little wonder then that Wayne Morse says, "The Ike campaigning now is not the same Ike that started out in the convention."

All this forces some mighty difficult rationalization on a lot of confirmed Republicans. It also forces a lot of confirmed Democrats who feel certain that "Talk-Some" Stevenson is winning a lot of votes by offering the kind of straight-forward campaign most people had hoped Eisenhower would conduct.

(Note: Never let it be said that this writer can't present both sides of an issue. This column, giving the case against Eisenhower, follows one giving the case for Stevenson, published in the Flambeau last summer.)

Likes Ike

Dear Editor:

The 1952 political campaign drawn to a close we witness the sorry spectacle of a greedy, incompetent, power-drunk administration trying to keep its hands in the political pie by the means of filthy lies and name-calling.

The Truman candidate, Adlai Stevenson, continues on his filthy pink cloud of pretended high level presentation, but that cloud is just a lot of smoke and fog, because the president continues to heap one vile charge after another on his former friend, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

He says Ike is supporting and is supported by men who are anti-semetic and anti-Catholic. How ridiculous can you get? There may be among the Republican party and the America-First party, which has now endorsed Ike, certain such people, but how in the world can anyone tie Ike to a man of such sterling qualities as Senator Wherry.

The students of this campus and the people of this nation have an opportunity to put a stop to the mess in the country and rid the world of the 2 years. I urge everyone to vote for Ike.

MARK HANNA

All O.K. Later

Dear Editor.

These democratic namecallers in Florida have been saying that it is the country-club set who are in favor of a Republican victory. Democrats, look at the set here and now that I have been invited to the home of a country club in my life, but I am for IKE.

IKE is not tied to the Republican party clock, stock and five stars as the Democrats like to think. When FDR's set elected he going to tell the world that Mrs. Carlby, Jenner and right winger Taft to go to Hell, but he won't listen to them, believe me, he's going to give them because it will set him votes.

And certainly he needs votes to put through persuasion of Secretson. You know the Republicans have been in control of affairs so long that it takes a great man like IKE to get them back to power. But he won't pay any attention to them when he is finally in the White House.

They are spending lots of money for him and Nixon. After that makes no difference. We vote for the man not the party. Who cares. But he will stand for, they don't have much influence over him and he is a conservative anyway.

So on November 4th I'm going to Vote for IKE, the man without party ties.

Sincerely,
(Name withheld on request)

SEMINOLE SCENES . . .

NEED DEGREES ON KLEENEX?

By FRANCES CAWTHON

The invested part of the Seminole Class is now in the infirmary. All visitors are welcome. Infirmary hours are posted on the bulletin board. They are from 8a.m. to 4p.m. and they love it.

Tuesday night the Seniors woke up to the fact that they are supposed to be scholars. Wednesday morning they had to prove it to the Kleenex. But it's a long story.

Tuesday had arrived, the big investiture day when fourth rearers would be able to lord it over rat can wearers and other forms of humanity that attended classee Sophomore brothers and sisters had been sickened. Many had complained, "Wan't take long; just a matter of sitting a mortar board on our heads."

As the hours of the chilly day dwindled out, those silk and lace brother pressed ecedeme results: Seniors, unofficial, that is practiced evening in the mirror on looking dissimified with tassels resting on their white Sophie shoulders had knock-down battles over whether it was the formal or informal color that should be worn.

Finally the clock neared 7:30, and Seniors, still unofficial, put on "new love feelings for one another, and with pure-white Sophy sight. There they stopped again, everybody jumping up and down knee a surprise for a cold?

hurried over to Opperman "to get invested."

They stood there a while, gossiping and sleeping each other on the back. Good ole Seniors. "We made it, we made it." And to the white-clad people. "Well, kid, it's all over. You go here for so long, and then . . ."

It wasn't long they stood there; but it seemed like it with the wind whistling up big black sleeves every time anyone would move a head a another voice somewhere between th N's and P's would yell, "We're moving, moving!"

Yeah, they were moving all right. The weather was a bit nippy. The sight of robed people rubbing their hands together didn't seem to help much either, about finally getting a mortar board. They were just trying to get their fingers warm.

Soon they DID begun to move, this time toward Opperman. But it had to be done. Everybody had to get there and get there then. Down this patch across to the Union. Then Opperman must have thought that since Seniors have been here going on four years, it was high time they knew what the campus looked like.

Eventually the end of the journey—the Opperman door was in sight. There they stopped again, slowly jumping up and down some to keep warm and the Seniors beginning to avoid Sophomore looks and said, "Come gone and rocked us into something.

Standing there in the last throes of freezing to death, they heard a wild rumor that students without their ID cards weren't being admitted to Opperman. Just before the line scattered in search of its IBM identifications, the line moved on into the auditorium. It was an awful sight to the first time in FSU's history the Seniors did the Charleston to the Processional March.

The Seniors that were invested heard an inspiring, rousin' talk by Dr. Hutton. Hutton, Roger; even made them feel like running home and reading Plato. But they didn't of course. They went to the Amber House and the Siecca instead. Where they had entertainment, now sure they'd stuck their foot into the high front door, bill and all, sing "Hail to the Caps and Gowns" and "Seniors" to the higher-ups again.

The Seniors, official now, went home Tuesday night. They were up high front door, bill and around this place. Peeking from under edges of oversized hats, they can see areal things ahead. But does anybody know a sure cure for a cold?

IBM Cards and Confusion

THE LIFE AND TIMES OF JEFF DAVIS

By EMORY KING

This is the second in a series of stories "exposing" the life and times of this mythical "hero" and "patron Saint" of the Freshman class.

Today was the biggest day of my collegiate life thus far—for today I got my career. Today I would start my career and before ing I hoped I would be SOMEBODY.

I stood in line in front of the desk of my vocational counsellor in the crowded gymnasium. There were a few students ahead of me. I thrilled and blush ever time I touched my body. Now I was an my way. Here was a man who could open all the vistas of modern education to me. Here was a man with intelligence, learning, and compassion. A scholar. A man to lead me by the hand through the labyrinth of learning.

"Lemme see your triel schedule," he snapped at me through bloodshot eyes.

"I don't have one," I said shyly, knowing he would be tender and understand that I was new and needed help.

"Ya ain't got no trial schedule." he roared and slapped me across the face three times with a worn copy of the Police Gazette. "Get outa here an get a schedule made up."

"Yes sir." I said humbly. I knew he was overworked and slightly on edge.

I stopped a girl in the aisle wearing a blue jacket and white skirt. "Where can I get a trial schedule," I asked her, relishing the wa hare to help me—an upperclassman giving generously of her time to assist freshmen.

She knocked me down without word and yelled to another big jacketed girl. "Hey, Mebel, you gotta date tonight? Am I tired of this job of helping freshmen."

Everyone was tired I decided.

Close behind me another voice, yelling. "Save your Confederate money. The South will raise again." Close behind him I heard a solitary figure, wearing horn-rimmed glasses, and a few students ahead of me. I thrilled and blush ever time I touched my body. Now I was an my way. Here was a man who could open all the vistas of modern education to me. Here was a man with intelligence, learning, and compassion. A scholar. A man to lead me by the hand through the labyrinth of learning.

"Lemme see your triel schedule," he snapped at me through bloodshot eyes.

"I don't have one," I said shyly, knowing he would be tender and understand that I was new and needed help.

"Ya ain't got no trial schedule." he roared and slapped me across the face three times with a worn copy of the Police Gazette. "Get outa here an get a schedule made up."

"Yes sir." I said humbly. I knew he was overworked and slightly on edge.

I stopped a girl in the aisle wearing a blue jacket and white skirt. "Where can I get a trial schedule," I asked her, relishing

I passed an upperclassman and smiled.

"Where's your rat-cap." He snarled.

Picture Deadline For Queen, Oct. 31

Next Friday will be the deadline for candidates qualifying for the Homecoming Queen to hand in their pictures to the Office of Dean of Student Welfare.

Each candidate in the annual contest should turn in an eight by ten, black and white head and shoulders portrait. Also the back should print her name, home town and sponsoring organization.

The winner will take place Thursday, Nov. 4. A second slate will be drawn up from the finalists and the "Queen" will be held Friday, Nov. 7.

Further information may be obtained from the Chairmen of the Homecoming Committee, Mutton Brothers, by calling him at 2-3294.

Pledges To Play Hosts

Sigma Chi's 21 pledges will play hosts at a Halloween Costume Party Saturday night. The boys and their dates, under the supervision of actives and housemother, will bob for apples, play blind man's bluff and take part in other such 'seasonal activities."

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BARS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors ..... Marcia Morris, Bruce Galphin
Sports Editors ..... Jim Couch, Jon Eady
Copy Editor ..... Lucy Ellen Hall
Feature Editor ..... June Morgan
Advertising Manager ..... Al Pierce
Rewrite Editor ..... Jake Harrigan

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida

The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, N.Y.

Telephone 3-8966, Extension 6181 Second Floor Alumni Bldg.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Auction Nets $731 At Soph Council's Sale for Chest

"Come on, folks, it's worth as at any store!" the little ladies with the hammers said done by the auctioneers. They were competing to the tune of $131, all for Campus Chest.

Rey Arnold, president of Sophomore Council, and head "going sale", had been selling everything "go." Assuring her with the calling the auctioneers had done.

The auction, held at the Music Amphitheater Wednesday night from 7 to 9 o'clock, was sponsored by the Sophomore Council. The FSU faculty contributed canes, candies, fudge, and other articles as well as many household goods.

"Well, there were too many people out there but the whole thing turned out very well," Arnold commented. Rey. "Of course, we could have made more if more people had come to the auction," she continued, "that the Sophomore Council girls worked hard."

Dr. Walton Opens Lectures; Talks On Classics Here

Dr. Francis R. Walton, head of the classics department at Florida State University, opened a series of lectures this Wednesday, at 7:30 p. m. in 124 Science Building.

The series will include various aspects of classical culture in music and thought of Western Civilization. "Common Men and Uncommon Children" will be Dr. Walton's subject. He will explore the meaning of citizenship as reflected in Athens, the world's first and boldest experiment in democracy.

Other lectures in the series will be given by Rabbi Julius Kravetz of Temple Israel, Dr. James V. McDonough of the FSU Art department and Dr. Warren D Allen of the FSU Music department. These series of lectures are sponsored by the FSU humanities staff, and everyone on the staff, will be open to the public.

Florida State Class Hears Hotel Exec. On Food Service

J. E. Stephens, President of Stephens Associates of Detroit, addressed the Florida State University class studying restaurant and Hotel management recently on the planning and human engineering aspects in the management of large institutions.

Mr. Stephens, who owns an estate at Crawfordville, has agreed to serve in advisory capacity for courses in physical plant maintenance and layouts for the FSU Department of Restaurant and Hotel Management.

The food service facilities available to him have had much experience in feeding thousands of people in large institutional food operations and he stressed the need for planning in such operations to save precious manpower hours.

Stephens executives have regard the food service facilities in their organization as a major item in their operations, and the speaker, "because of the time element involved in the feeding of thousands of employees on company time."

Self Service Requests

Tonight is the last time students may announce their own record requests over campus station WFSU. Contributions given for this amateur broadcasting will go to the Campus Chest.

Students may announce over the Late Dase Show between 6:45 and 7:00 p.m. All students are welcome to come to the station and announce their selections and dedications.

SLA Meeting Called

Ralph L. Witherspoon, Chairman of Student Life and Activities Committee has announced that a meeting will be held today among all the committee members at 4:00 p.m. in the Music Building.

Seminole Scout

By JIM COUCH

North Carolina 20, Florida State 13

OLFMEAT—That's the menu that the Florida State ensuy Seminoles are supposed to shave tomorrow, when tangle the North Carolina State Wolfpack up in Raland it looks like they may well be the entree'.

The Wolfpack will be out to prove that they are better han week's 57-0 rout by Duke showed them to be. The Devils, ranked fifth in the nation, didn't give the Rahpays time to even get their breath, much less a scoring

This means that the Wolfpack will want to redeem themselves and the fact that it is their Homecoming doesn't boost Seminole's lot any either.

The North Carolina team is big and rough and should have our injured squad up quite a bit in the opening minof the contest, and should our team fail to respond with spirit and strength, look out for those boys from the

The Seminoles may be in tune for their first win, howif they can give the Wolfpack a few early lumps like old the strong VMI team two weeks ago.

Anyone will admit that FSU completely dominated the quarter against the Keydets, showing for the first time year, the teamwork that is so essential for a winning

It was this teamwork that enabled the Seminoles to put scoring drives against all three of our conquerors, and it have to be present tomorrow if the Seminoles hope to our the Wolfpack.

Injuries will undoubtedly slow the Seminole attack as Thompson, FSU leading offensive threat, is still ailing a separated shoulder and will be available for limited use only. His replacement, Bobby Fiveash is also nursin injury and may become sidelined if he is hit on his again.

The fullback slot is weak, with Italiano, Turk, and Dobosz sidelined with bad legs. This leaves the spot open for Sand King, who has been hoping to get a chance at the ball all year long, while playing at his end position.

King is a big, aggreaive, raw-boned 205 pound junior who has a lot of talent and may prove to be the missing link Coach Bible's fullback conscious offensive patterns.

However, with all things considered, I am again predicting an FSU loss, but by a close margin in a tight ball game. North Carolina 20. Florida State 13.

Segregation Law Cancels 'B' Team Game

Here it is again, that ugly old segregation law that kept us from playing Drake last year, has again reared its ugly head views to keep the FSU "B" team from having a game with Pensacola Navy this weekend.

Another unknown fact is that Louisville had to leave one of its better players back home in Kentucky just because he didn't have white skin.

How long the State Board of Control is going to admit its ignorance and false values by letting this sort of thing go on, is something that ought to be tackled by some influential politicians who are interested in better sports in the south.

There is no better state in the south to start getting away from segregation than Florida. There would be less opposition in Florida because of the great amount of northern blood and transplanted populace.

If the board of control continues in its same old Confederate fashion, we can expect one way streets all over Florida—one for whites and one for negroes.

Sometimes I wonder how I, born and raised in the South, can expect anyone down south to ever fight segregation.

And then again the fact that the Florida A & M Rattlers are playing in Doak S. Campbell Stadium this weekend will be a turning point here in the state capital. Let's hope it will be for the best.

Sigma Chi Beats Pikes

The Sigma Chi's battled a chilling wind and an aggressive Pi Kappa Alpha last Tuesday to save their undefeated record as they trounced the Pikes 13-0.

The first half was comparatively quiet. PKA won the kick and started off with a bang as Scott hit Martin with a 35 yard strike on the first play. The action slowed however, and the ball was displayed back and forth throughout the rest of the half.

After the half, the Pikes served the Sigma Chi's a hard-to-handle kick that put the ball on their 9 yard line. Their first pass failed to connect and an off sides penalty set them back on the 4. A pass by Miller netted them 5, and Slade rushed for about 6. They went down fighting instead of kicking, and the Pikes took over on the Sigma Chi 15.

Sigma Chi set up a pass defense that foiled all the Pike attempts except a short one from Scott to Martin that was good for about 8. Scott tried rushing on the last down, but was tagged on the line of scrimmage.

From there on out, the game belonged to Sigma Chi. A series of passes, with Miller and Sheppard alternating on the arm work, set them up around the 35, from where Sheppard connected with Whichard for the first score. The pass for point was knocked down.

Two plays later, Haines tucked in a PKA pass that gave the ball to Sigma Chi around the Pike 40. The scoring pass was Sheppard to Slade from the 10. The pass from Sheppard to Whichard was good for the point, and ended the scoring for both teams.

Pre-Season Grid Powers Still Up Top

THE PRE - SEASON pollsters who picked last year's football powers performed a very capable job of prognosticating, so far, anyway. A look at the present standings with the season almost half over reveals that 15 of the first 20 are still included in that select group. Of course the order has changed a bit, with many teams rearranged to lower or upper ranking.

The pollsters were near correct on the first two squads: Maryland was picked first followed by Michigan State, although, according to the latest AP grid ratings that order is reversed. In the number three spot is Oklahoma whereas in the pre-season choice, Georgia Tech was given that position. Tech is now number five.

THE BIG HUNDRED came on the pickins of Notre Dame for the fourth position since the Irish now find themselves ranked 16th by the AP. Another overestimated team is Wisconsin who were a pre-season choice for sixth but now are 11th. Illinois, too, was considered better than what they have proved to be in games so far as they now aren't even in the first 20. They were picked for the No. seventh spot before the grid season started.

A couple of underrated squads have also helped to confuse the pollsters. Chief among them is the undefeated Duke Blue Devils who have climbed from the unheralded ranks to the number six team in the nation.

Virginia, unbeaten, have moved from 16th to ninth and Villanova another undefeated eleven, is now ranked 11th although they received no pre-season considerations.

On only one prediction, were the rankinns perfectly correct, and that is in the case of Kansas '52 are in the same spot—15th—that they were given before the season began. Also close one is Texas' 16th rating which is two away from the 14th position they were given by the pollsters.

THE ASSOCIATED Press poll which comes out every week, is based on the selection of sportswriters throughout the nation. One hundred thirty-eight sports writers and sportscasters from coast to coast cast ballots in this week's poll.

They give 10 points for the first team, nine for second, eight for third and so on down the line. This is the same method that was used to compile the pre-season ratings.

Injuries Bother FSU Eleven

In their worst physical condition of the season, Florida State University's freshman-laden football team was slated for only a light drill Wednesday as numerous injuries prevented the Tribe from engaging in rough work for Saturday's game with North Carolina State in Raleigh.

At least 10 Seminoles are on the crippled list including Roy Thompson and Bobby Fivesh, the Indiana' Ol. 4 and 3 fullbacks, respectively. The fullback ranks are riddled too. Lettermen Nelson Italiano and Dick Turk are still plagued with knee and leg wounds while freshman play-horse Stan Dobosz is not ready for heavy work due to a charlie horse. Tackles Nat Polak (bad cold and sprained ankle) and Jerry Jacobs (slanted muscle) will see only limited action Saturday. Defensive halfbacks Billy Keller and Winsback Al Woodham suffer from a shoulder and leg injury respectively.

And to indicate the seriousness of the thinness in the Tribe backfield, Head Coach Don Veller is readying freshman fullback Frank Henico for duty. Henico, who has played only some eight minutes of collere ball, may get the assignnod come Saturday. Ronnie King, 205-pounder formerly a fullback, may see duty at the power slot if injuries to Italiano, Turk and Dobosz linger.

Veller stated yesterday that he had not decided who would compose the 35 to 40-man traveling squad. The Tribe will leave here Thursday afternoon, arriving in Raleigh Friday for an afternoon workout.

FSU to Battle N.C. State

Friday, October 24, 1952 THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU 3

INTRAMURALS

The Fraternity League football race is gaining momentum and the competition is becoming greater, During the last week, Kappa Alpha merged to the fore by swamping Theta Chi 13-0 after receiving a forfeit win over Phi Kappa Tau Tuesday.

In a first place tie with the Southern Gentlemen are the Sigma Phi Epsilon Skulls and Crossbones crew-members as they posted their fourth win without a defeat over the winless SAE team, winning 6 first downs to 2.

Sigma Chi downed the Pikes Tuesday, 14-0 to remain in the undefeated ranks, one game behind KA and SPE. Also undefeated is Phi Delta Theta, who had idle last week, but already have three wins.

The other Tuesday games saw Theta Chi whipping Kappa Sigma 14-0, and Alpha Tau Omega swamping Pi Kappa Phi 18-0.

Other scores yesterday had Pi Kappa Phi drubbing Kappa Sigma 20-0, Delta Tau Delta romping Sigma Nu 13-0, and Alpha Tau Omega easing past Lambda Chi Alpha 13-7.

Thursdays' Results:

Kappa Alpha 13, Theta Chi 0.
Sigma Phi Epsilon 6, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 2 (first downs).
Delta Tau Delta 13, Sigma Nu 0.
Alpha Tau Omega 13, Lambda Chi Alpha 7.
Pi Kappa Phi 20, Kappa Sigma 0.

Tuesday's Results:

Kappa Alpha 1, Phi Kappa Tau 0 (forfeit).
Alpha Tau Omega 18, Pi Kappa Phi 2.
Theta Chi 14, Kappa Sigma 8.
Sigma Chi 14, Pi Kappa Alpha 0

Fraternity Standings:
(Through October 23)

	W	L
Kappa Alpha	4	0
Sigma Phi Epsilon	4	0
Sigma Chi	3	0
Phi Delta Theta	3	0
Lambda Chi Alpha	2	1
Delta Tau Delta	2	2
Alpha Tau Omega	2	2
Phi Kappa Tau	1	1
Pi Kappa Phi	1	3
Theta Chi	0	4
Pi Kappa Alpha	1	3
Sigma Nu	0	3
Kappa Sigma	0	4
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	0	4

The Trojans of the Freshmen Hall and Magnolia Hall are in a two way tie for leadership of the Dormitory league as result of Wednesday's action. While Magnolia took a forfeit victory over last place Panthers the Trojans beat the Cats 7-0, which puts their records at 4-1. The lone defeat to the Trojan's came at the hands of the Magnolians while Magnolia was involved in a double forfeited game to pick up their only defeat.

Senior Hall is right behind in second place with a record of 4-2 after beating the Newman Club 6-2 on a last minute TD pass.

DORM STANDINGS

	W	L
Trojans	4	1
Magnolia	4	1
Senior Hall	3	2
Moccasins	2	2
Rebels	1	3
Confederates	2	3
AAF	1	3
Newman Club	1	4
Panthers	0	5

Wednesday's results.

Magnolia 1, Panthers 0 (forfeit).
Trojans 7, Cats 0
Senior Hall 8, Newman Cl. 2.

Monday's results.

AAF, Panthers (double-forfeit).
Magnolia 6, Trojans 0.
Moccasins 6, Newman Club 0.
Confederates 3, Cats 0.

Men's Senate Meets

Men's Senate which did not meet Thursday, will meet Wednesday, Oct. 29 at 5:15 p. m. in the University Government Association Senate Room, Jim Dyer, vice-president in charge of men's affairs, announced.

Patronize Our Advertisers

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!
Whatever the formal occasion—wear fashionably correct clothes, at reasonable rental prices!
$6.50
Nic's Toggery

McGREGOR
PULLOVER SWEATERS give you
Trim, smart, lightweight warmth
$5.95 to $7.95
SeeUs For FSU FOOTBALL TICKETS
Handsomely styled in the famed McGregor tradition, these action-comfortable, easy-wearing sweaters are expertly knitted of the finest wools and are immaculately tailored for season into season durability.
Alford Brothers
212 South Monroe

Test CAMELS for 30 days for Mildness and Flavor
CAMELS are America's most popular cigarette. To find out why, test them as your steady smoke. Smoke only Camels for thirty days. See how rich and flavorful they are — pack after pack! See how mild CAMELS are — week after week!

...But only Time will Tell . . . . . .
THE MAN SAID IN 48 HOURS THERE WOULDN'T BE A MOUSE IN THE HOUSE!
LOOK AT THOSE CLAWS! A VERITABLE TIGER...OF THE FELIS GO-GETTEM TYPE!
GO GET 'EM, TIGE! I KNOW YOU CAN DO IT!
HO-HUM! HOW CAN THEY TELL SO SOON? HE LOOKS CHEESEY TO ME!
"ONLY TIME WILL TELL HOW GOOD A "MOUSER" IS, AND ONLY TIME WILL TELL ABOUT A CIGARETTE! TAKE YOUR TIME ... MAKE THE SENSIBLE 30-DAY CAMEL MILDNESS TEST. SEE HOW CAMELS SUIT YOU AS YOUR STEADY SMOKE!
CAMEL
CAMEL leads all other brands by billions of cigarettes per year!

Wolf Pack Favored To Win Over Seminoles

The Florida State University Seminoles will still be seeking their initial win of the 1952 season when they play the North Carolina Wolfpack at Raleigh tomorrow at 2:15.

The Seminoles left by train yesterday afternoon and were scheduled for a light workout in Raleigh this afternoon.

The Wolfpack will be the favorites by from one to two touchdowns and will be particularly tough on their homecoming weekend.

The Seminoles will have to find some to take the place of the men who are injured if they hope to make a good showing. On the injured list are Roy Thompson, Bobby Fivesh,, Dick Turk, Nelson Italiano, Stan Dobosz, Al Woodham, Billy Kelley, Jerry Jacobs, and Nat Polak.

Ted Morrill is the only Seminole, however, who has been sidelined for the remainder of the season. He has a bad ankle.

If Thompson and Fivesh are reinjured, it is likely that freshman Frank Henico will get the nod to fill in at the tailback position. Henico has been a standout in the past two weeks of heavy practice and may aid the Seminole cause considerable.

If FSU's three injured fullbacks remain on the bench, the line blasting job will probably fall to junior Ronald "Cue" King, a 205 pound Daytona Beach product, has been playing end this year in an attempt to strengthen the flanks, but may turn into a regular fullback if he performs well tomorrow.

The probable starting offensive lineup for FSU will be Curt Campbell and Steve Kalenich at ends; Earl O'Neal and Charlie Booth at tackles; Mac Huey and Jerry Jacobs at guards; Gecrge Boyer at center; Jimmy Lee Taylor at blocking back; Roy Thompson or Bobby Fivesh at tailback; Stan Dobosz at fullback; and Al Woodham at wingback.

The probable defensive pistoon will call on Ed Mann and Jimmy MacDonald at ends; Jerry Jacobs and Ronald Breger at tackles; Vic Szczepanik and Dosey Merritt or Bob Duckworth at guards; Bob Crenshaw and John Griner at linebacker; Ray Inlow and Curt Campbell at halfbacks; and Tommy Brown in the safety position.

Stetson-FSU Tickets on Sale

Tickets for the Florida State-Stetson football game to be played in Orlando, Saturday night, Nov. 1, are now on sale at the FSU athletic ticket office on West Campus.

Prices for the adult ducats are three dollars, for students, one dollar. The game will be played in the Tangerine Bowl starting at 8:30.

Naval Airmen Coming To Interview Students

Lt. R. E. Hanna and Yeoman W. E. Wade of the Navy will be at Florida State University from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 28-30 to interview senior men students interested in the Naval Officer Program of the Air Reserve. They will conduct the interviews in Room 403, Lonnnie building.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.
FLORIDA
Today and Saturday
"WAY OF A GAUCHO"
With Gene Tierney and Rory Calhoun
STATE
NOW SHOWING
MARIO LANZA
in
"BECAUSE YOUR MINE"
in Technicolor
RITZ
Today and Saturday
"OVERLAND TELEGRAPH"
with TIM HOLT
also
"JET JOB"
with
Stanley Clements
DRIVE-IN
Today and Saturday
"RODEO"
with John Archer and Jane Night
also
'JUNGLE BOOK'
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW

Stevenson Announces New Ornithology Meet

Dr. Henry M. Stevenson, associate professor of zoology, announced that the next meeting of the Ornithology Seminar will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 308, History building.

Saturday Special
½ Fried Chicken
$1.00

Sunday Special
ROAST TURKEY
With Dressing,
Cranberry Sauce

Stewart Movie Shows Tonight

The Amphitheater will serve as the showing place tonight at 8 of "Northside 777," a suspenseful movie of a newspaperman's fight to free an innocent man.

This movie stars James Stewart, Richard Conte and Lee J. Cobb.

"Charge of the Light Brigade," with Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland, begins Monday at the C Chee at 7:30, and continues Tuesday in South Cawbom; Wednesday, Magnolia. Thursday, Senior Hall and Friday, in the Freshman's Men Dorm at 8 p.m.

The story is based on Tennyson's famous poem of the same name. Six hundred English soldiers, hopleesly outnumbered, ride to their death. This is the significant picture of the Crimean War, of the Enrlish against the Russians and of the evil Surat Khan.

DANCE POSTPONED

The formal dance sponsored by University Recreation Association for the Campus Chest Drive has been indefinitely postponed. The dance was scheduled for Friday, Oct. 24, at the East Campus Gymnasium.

Longmire Building New Campus Chest Site for Collections

Money for the Campus Chest will now be collected right outside Longmire auditorium on the second floor, rather than at the University Government Association office, as had been previously announced.

The following schedules should be observed by all organizations so that they might turn their money in on time announces Margaret Krasemann. Today, at 9 to 11 in the morning, and 1 to 2 in the afternoons. Tomorrow, Saturday, Oct. 25, from 9 to 12. Monday, Oct. 27, from 9 to 11 and 1 to 2. Tuesday is the last day and collections will be made during the following hours: in the morning, 9 to 11 and in the afternoon, 1 to 2.

Classified Ads

LOST: One pair black rimmed glasses in brown leather case. Case had 420 Gilchrist written inside. Mary Ruth Armstrong. Zeta Tau Alpha House.

FSU Music

(Continued From Page 1)

this year will be the selection of two student artists to be soloists with the clinic string orchestra the Clinic on Saturday, Feb. 14.

Auditions will be held in Tampa and Tallahassee during January the concert which will conclude for string players interested in this opportunity. The audition committee will be composed of Dr. Kuersteiner, Sedore and C. M. Carroll, FSU music instructor.

THERE IS NO registration fee for the Clinic, and comfortable lodging will be available at minimum cost. The Clinic is open to all those interested in the advancement of string technique. Dr. Kuersteiner emphasized students and teachers of the orchestral stringed instruments are eligible to attend, either as participants or observers.

Tickets to Carmen

(Continued From Page 1)

Carmen's character, and therefore reads into the part her own personal problems and aspirations. I might eve, so so far", continues Miss Stevens, "as to say that nets do the same, using as a prototype the woman they know best."

Artist Series is an exclusively FSU organization, supported by student activities fees with program schedules arranged by faculty members. The Series was started at FSU 27 years ago by Deans Opperman and Doyle of the music school, both Deans Emeritus now.

FAMOUS ARTISTS who have appeared at Artist Series productions here include Rise Stevens, Lauritz Melchoir, Charles Laughton, Lawrence Tibbett, the Robert Shaw Chorale and The Navy Band.

Gov. Service

(Continued From Page 1)

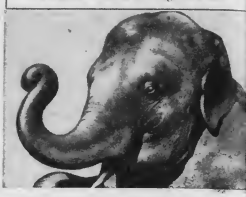
ply for the examination are urged to obtain from the School of Public Administration card form 5000-B which must be completed and returned to the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, 25, D. C. by Nov. 11, 1952. These cards are available along with the announcements.

Special announcement has been made by the Navy Department that it is planning to take a number of outstanding young men and women for its 9th civilian Management Training Program starting next July.

BEGINNING SALARIES range from $3410 to $4205 depending on education and or experience. This message is sent in conjunction with the Junior Management Exam announcement.

Light Opera

(Continued From Page 1)



chorus, which has 36 members who play an important part in the production. Many of the favorite songs that Americans love, come from this show. In the soprano section are Betsy Berckbickler, Shirley Daniels, Delano Driver, Janet Epting, Elizabeth Reece, Toni Leto, Imogene McHale, Reed, Joyce Reynolds, Martha Slayden, Thalia Whitehurst, and Martha Kay Willis. The altos are Jeanne Alles, Jeanette Cox, Jackie Fletcher, Mary Lou Harrelson, Mary Ann Howes, Nancy Killefore, Sonya Meyer, Roberta Pace, Helen Russell, Judy Russ and Barbara Willis.

Composing the tenor section are Wendell Barthelf, Kenneth Hankina, Jim Hudson, Foy Lee Spivey and Don Van Nus. The basses are James Atkinson, Wendell Carpenter, Jerry Connell, Rex Cook, Adrian Ketcham, Tommy McMullen, Brownlee Waschek and David Whipple.

The production is under the direction of Dr. Robert L. Briggs, and assisted by Miss Betty Jane Grimm, who will act as stage manager for the performances.

Tickets are now on sale and may be purchased from any member of the Sigma Alpha Iota, Women's Professional Fraternity, who is sponsoring the show, at the School of Music Office, or at the University Book Store. The price is 75 cents and there will be no reserved seats.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"HUMPH!" I trumpeted Sheedy, "What a elephant does to have my hair set up. Might as well break my dam and get trunk!" Luckily he was overheard by a Pachydermologist who said, "Tusk, tusk! You've got a messy big trap from pouring those buckets of water on your head. Get out of your ivory tower and visit any toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. "Your Hair's Best Friend". Non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Relieves dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test." Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil, and now all the girls next to him move their eyes. So why don't you try Wildroot Cream-Oil? It only costs pennies —2¢! And once you try it, you'll really have a niece.

* of 151 So Morris Hill Rd., Williamsville, N. Y.

Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 11, N. Y.

FREMAC'S has YOUR

• Styles as sketched. Many others not shown.

A Deposit Holds on Lay-Away

Gabardine Blouse Jacket. Fully rayon lined. Spot and wrinkle-resistent. Water-repellent padded shoulders. 7.95

Capeskin Leather Flight Jacket. Military shoulder straps. Quilted rayon lining. 100% wool interlining.. 16.95

Fremac's

302 S. MONROE

Weatherize Your Car Now

Cold Weather is near, be sure your car is ready. Come in early for a Winter Check-up . . .

We Have New Stock in • Anti-Freeze • Water Hoses
• Check Your Oil

Cameron's Texaco Service Station
556 West Tennessee

"Everything for the Student"

- Sundries, Pipes
- FSU, Fraternity and Sorority Decals
- Whitman's Candy
- Felt Goods
- Magazines, "I Go Pogo"

"WE HAVE USED BOOKS"

MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE
107 South Copeland

The Amber House

Continues Their SPECIAL Thru Sunday

STUDENTS
Why go down town!
We have the Finest in Foods right here on your own reservotian.
And for you especiolly
we hove o . . . .

SPECIAL
which includes 1 meat,
2 vegetables, a chapped
salod ond your choice of opple pie, pudding or coke, ice teo or coffee oll for you ot these . .

LOW PRICES
at 65c, 75c and 85c
Short orders ore served ot all hours of the doy, olong with refreshments
from our sodo fountoin.
It's All Yours "For Food Thot's Fine"

WATCH FOR OUR SPECIALS

WATCH FOR OUR SPECIALS

The Amber House

FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE

Florida Flambeau

VOL. XXXIX, No. 11 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — TUESDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1952

Armed Forces Need Your Blood Give Today!

Two Performances Of Opera "Carmen" Scheduled Today

Blood Drive Opens In FSU Infirmary

Hopes of Over 200 Sleeves Rolled To Fill Junior Class Drive's Pint Quota

All day today Florida Staters will have the chance to lay their brothers in the armed forces via the Fall Blood Drive sponsored by the Junior Class in cooperation with the Red Cross.

It is hoped that well over 200 sleeves will be rolled in the busiest summer yet as FSU is top the 200 pint quota set for this year's drive.

DONORS WHO haven't as yet received definite appointments to have blood drawn at the infirmary today, are urged to check the main bulletin boards of their respective residence hall sorority or fraternity houses. Their individual appointments will be listed there.

Again students are reminded that they must not eat for 4 hours prior to their appointments, and that refreshments will be served after blood has been drawn. Also, all students under 21 are reminded that they must present release slips signed by their parents before they will be permitted to donate blood.

"WE I RGE that all donors be prompt for their appointments," adds Roy Stanley, Junior Class President and general chairman of the drive. "At students' convenience, Red Cross will be glad to, if they were regular patients of the infirmary, arrange for an excuse slips from classes designating the time they entered the infirmary and the time they left. In this way, their professor will know they have been donating blood."

MORNING APPOINTMENTS start at 8 a.m. and continue through noon. Afternoon appointments start at 2 p.m.

Upon looking over the list of donors so far, committee members stated that they were pleased with the number of students already signed up and also expressed the hope that the infirmary will have a large turnout in order to make this drive go "over the top."

Men Must File For Draft Test

Male Students Urged To Make Applications

Selective Service officials today reminded college students that the deadline for submitting applications for the Dec. 4th Selective Service College Qualification Test is midnight Saturday, Nov. 1, test that applications postmarked after that time cannot be considered.

Local draft boards have an adequate supply of test application forms on hand for eligible students. Students are to mail the completed applications to Educational Testing Service, Princeton New Jersey.

TO BE ELIGIBLE to apply for the deferment test a student must intend to request deferment as a student, must be pursuing a full-time course of instruction and must not have taken the Selective Service College Qualification Test previously. The test will be held April 4, 1953.

— See Page 2 —

Grad Club Chooses Officers For Year At Initial Meeting

The officers of the current school year were elected for the Graduate Club at its first meeting in Bonnet Hall, Friday night.

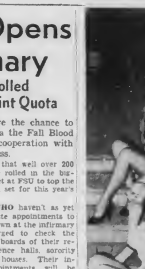
B. R. Tiller, doctoral student in Education, was elected president.

Walter Dyson, sociology department, elected vice-president; Sheffler, psychology department, and Don FLAGNOR, ASLET welfare, treasurer, and Betty Lou Barnes, graduate student in Education, representative of

DR. RALPH Witherspoon, faculty of the Graduate Club, spoke on the functions previously elected officers were not back for faculty members in Dean and Mrs. Mildred Graduate Dean Witherspoon, also an active Graduate Club during the election of Witherspoon met with the officers of graduate student activities of interest.

Mrs. Elsie Duvall, advisor in Home Economics, assisted in the organization

THE NEWLY elected officers met with an early meeting to discuss activities of the club for the year.



The general objectives of the Graduate Club are to foster friendship among graduate students, to bring programs of interest to club members and to serve as an organized voice for graduate students.

Applications to the Registrar's office for Nov. 10, 1952, there were eligible students enrolled at FSU, of which about 150 attended the first meeting.

Famous Tale Depicted In Movie This Week

Lillian and Olivia de Havilland's film week in a free adaptation of Henry James' novel, "The Heiress," will show tonight in South Hall at 7:30 and Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Hall at 8:30 p.m. Friday night it will be shown at the Freshman Men's Dormitory, which will be the permanent Friday night theater due to the weather.

The movie is adapted from Henry James' novel, "Washington Square," and the play of 1600 by Ruth Goetz and Augustus Goetz. English soldiers.

ONE OF THESE beauties will be "Miss Gymkana" when the FSU gymnasts present "Out of This World" November 3 through 8. Shown are Colleen Miller, Janet Stark, Mary Belle Twyatt, Saul Jones, Gladys Tinkler, Susan Ball, Ann Lee Hays, and Marilyn Gable; right, Jeannie Briscoe, Vonnie Backer, Laurie Viccaret, June Morgan, Rita Carter, Mary Ellen Spears, Barbara Ann Vickers, and Pat O'Brien.

State TV Chosen For British Debate

By AL PIERCE

Should it, or shouldn't it?

That's what the whole thing boiled down to Thursday night when combined Florida State University and British debaters wrangled over the question of making radio and television a state-owned monopoly.

No decision was reached in full-hard-fought, fourth annual debate sponsored yearly by the FSU Speech Department and featuring forensics field pitted against FSU's finest. Both sides, however, discussed their subject pro and con, brought out much provocative thought and left the matter open to the people. It is his contention that a state monopoly is truly democratic where chance by the people is possible. This last statement set the debate off in fine fettle.

Miss Arlene Amend, FSU speech

(Continued on Page 4)

Speech Dept.'s Annual Debate Begins Tonight

Participating Students Scheduled to Discuss Fair Employment Law

The first round of the Fourth Annual Intramural Debate tournament sponsored by the department of speech begins tonight at 7. The second round of the tournament will be held on Nov. 4, with the third and fourth rounds following on Nov. 11.

Subject for debate will be the national proposition: Resolved, that the Congress of the United States should enact a compulsory fair employment practices law. The tournament director is Bert Bradley, graduate assistant in the department of speech.

THE PAIRINGS for the first round are as follows: Richard Morgan and Helen Lawler, Seniors, versus Frank Hirt and Richard Jackson, Sigma Nu, 109 History; Corrie Simmons and Harriet Davis, graduate students, versus Bob Ducker and Sam Skogstad, Sigma Chi, 124 History; Harold LeVay and Carol Hannon, Phi-Mu, versus Jennings Rehwinkel and Tommy Lewis, Delta Sigma Omega, 208 History; Beverly Dupersonn and Wyn Woods, graduate students, Bev-Mac, versus George Lee-Roy and Joyce Langley, JLS, 219 History.

Others participating are Bill Chaners and Jayne Gardner, Thespians, versus George Gnann and Juanita Lawrence Rebels, 225 History; Bruce Keefe and Nancy David Dress, Sophomores, xersus Frank Shaw and Bill Stancik, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 322 History, Nancy Dickenson and Dorothy Womble, Presbyterians, versus George Anants and Ronald Brasswell, Pike-Det, 323 History; Amos Coolbrey and Bill Lexford, ABS, versus Phyllis Woods and Herbert Lucavo, Theta Chi, 325 History; Earene L. Lawler and Phil Spruce, Young Democrats, and Barbara Modre and Gracen Smith, Kappa Alpha, 411 History.

Speech Department Announces Plan As Play Season Opens

The Department of Speech will open its 1952-53 Community Play Series on Nov. 7. Four plays will be presented during the season. For its first production, George Kelly's satire, "The Torch-Bearers" will be given in the early 20's and is a satire on the Little Theater Movement which was gaining much attention at that time throughout the country. Although the play was written as an earlier date, the play is just as amusing today as it was at the time it was written. Kelly knew theater people and has written into his script many of the funny situations that occur during amateur productions.

The play will be presented on Nov. 7, 8, 10 and 11 at 8:15 p.m. Tickets will go on sale at the Union Desk, located in the History Building on Wednesday, Nov. 5. Students may purchase season tickets at the special students rate of 40 cents by presenting their ID cards.

Navy Data Available

Lt. R. E. Hanna will be in Room 402, Langford building today through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to discuss the Naval Air Cadet program with students. He will also show a movie for interested students.

Appointments Lag For Annual Pics; Deadline Oct. 31

Only 861 students have had their pictures made for the Tallahassee. Of this number, approximately 450 are seniors. The situation on fourth floor Longmire will be open for regular sittings through Friday, Oct. 31.

Make up pictures may be taken on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of the following week, Nov. 3, 4, and 5 from 9:30 a.m. and 2:30 to 4 in the afternoon.

"FOR THE FIRST TIME a regular studio has been established, with many conveniences for both the students and the photographer. The studio is beautifully arranged with scenic displays of pictures, accented by display lights. To get the most effects from these lights, the blinds have been drawn shut. An air conditioning unit takes the place of the open windows and even makes it more comfortable," explained David Avant.

Georgeanne Coleman, co-owner of Lee-Avant Studios, and in charge of the picture-taking at FSU, purchased a new sound system to supply the modern studios with music.

MRS. GINERVA FISHER, secretary for the firm, is personally working in a new office, with much of the modern equipment found in the main office. All this, in fourth floor Longmire, includes a dressing room, which contains a large vanity with lamps and other conveniences for the comfort of the girls.

A new electronic camera which takes a shot, flashes a light, numbers negatives and finishes the film all in one click, is used for photographs. This camera carries 100 feet of film which can take 240 pictures without a change.

It is announced that persons which still have their pictures taken by making appointments at the Tallahassee office. Underclassmen are reminded to wear suits and ties, while girls must wear dark sweaters and pearls.

Walton Will Lecture Tomorrow At 7:30

Dr. Francis R. Walton, head of the Department of History at Florida State University, will lecture on "Common Men and Uncommon Citizens" tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in room 124 of the Science building.

The lecture, sponsored by the FSU humanities staff, is the first in a series of talks by faculty members on specific aspects of literature art, music and thought of western civilization. The lecture will be open to the public.

In his lecture Dr. Walton will explore the meaning of citizenship in the Periclean Athens, the world's first and boldest experiment in Democracy. A question and discussion period will be conducted at the conclusion of Dr. Walton's lecture.

Hap Nominations On

Nominations for the King and Queen of Sophomore Hop will take place today and tomorrow in Westcott. The annual dance will be held on November 8 at the Student Center.

Debaters Love Florida Visit; Enjoy South's Co-Ed Progress

By ORCHID ALONSO

"We just love this country, and a cordially friendly." This comment was identical to both Ronald Evans and Dibben, British debaters from Great Britain. "We are known as great kidders," continued Evans, "but we mean everything when we say we like Florida. If you know England, you'll know why."

Evans, from Wales and Dibben, from Southampton, were featured on a debate last Thursday on the Nationalization of TV and Radio. "Though we were quite humorous during the debate, it didn't seem to leave them in want of ammunition for their talk after the debate. Evans, blonde, and possessing a borrowed red face, has the humor slinger of the debate, yet he seemed to be serious in his approach to questions on just how they had found America. In "In America, the students are better dressed, but, in England, only the intellectual go to school."

Dibben, bland, and seemingly serious, could not refrain from repeating what he had previously told the audience about the girls. "I enjoyed the North, but like the South where it is more progressive. They have co-education."

The first college girl-friend the men met were their landlords at New York on the week before, were seen Wednesday at Gainesville, where they also held a debate.

Dibben, who just graduated from the largest," Evans exclaimed, "is a member of the Conservative Party of England. Evans graduated just recently from the University College of Southampton, England. He is a member of the National Socialist Party.

Crowds of interested persons gathered on the stage after the debate to congratulate the two. Also, many were interrupted by an introduction or a hearty clap on the back.

Dibben revealed that although in England much time is given to debates, the question of voice improvement was never touched upon. "In the United States, we come across opponents who have wonderful speaking voices, we were never helped in this respect," he said.

"The crowd here was one of "It compared favorably with the reception given us at Brooklyn College."

The young Britishers were guests of the Phi Mu's during their visit.

Carmen Makes Bow In Afternoon Show

Two Performances Scheduled; Opera Scores Sellout Tonight

The famous music of Bizet's "Carmen" will be presented to Florida State students in two performances today, a matinee at 3:30 p.m. and an evening performance at 8:15 in the Leon County High School Auditorium.

The evening performance was a complete sellout, as last report Thomas Wright, Artist Series Chairman, said there were still matinee tickets available, but they were going fast.

THE WAGNER Opera Company will have two prima-donnas in the principal role. Marla Russo will sing the afternoon, with Lydia Ibarrando, at night. Both stars have knowledge of Spanish dancing.

The opera "Carmen" has been brought to the FSU student body once before by the Wanner company. Its appearance here is supported by the Artist Series, through which student activity fee money is funneled. The Series was started at FSU 27 years ago by Dean Ellis S. Opperman and Doyle of the School of Music agreed to share receipts in any way, it would in effect be dividing the responsibilities with other organizations that have no legal obligation to support the fight against infantile paralysis." 8029 the release.

"It is for this reason," explains Margret Kraseman, "that we announced in the last issue of the Flambeau that the goals established this organization would have to go towards buying needed equipment, and not save the March of Dimes proceeds.

CRITICISM OF the plan was to contribute ten percent of the total collected in the Campus Chest, to the March of Dimes, and not have a Dime March as in the past.

Campus Chest Chairman Kraseman said the chest committee has no objection to buying the equipment, but this would possibly lease still another drive, The March of Dimes, to be held on campus when the ides of Campus Chest is to have one drive for all such organizations.

Fountain Turns Tub for Sophs

Rat-court members took a bath last Saturday night and the Westcott fountain served as a tub.

After beating the Sophomores in the first annual Freshman-Sophomore Day at West Campus field, the Frosh grabbed hold of co-chairman Don Van Hise, lifted him into the air, and carried him to the East campus and dumped him into the Westcott fountain.

BECAUSE THE Freshman did win the annual event, they not only had the privilege of dunking the rat court, but also of removing their rat-caps. Approximately 176 Frosh went before the court which held its meetings every Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Van Hise's mock look it all in good feeling, but a certain few Freshmen didn't appreciate the jocularity and wneeded in an educational institution."

Penalties ranged from wearing a sign all day to opening doors for residence halls and dining halls.

The insanity ends with Don Jose killing his unfaithful lover and then committing suicide.

Interns Leave To Observe And Teach Before Graduation

One hundred and fifty-four Florida State students assumed the role of teacher yesterday as they began their internship in the various schools of the state.

They will observe and practice instruction from now until the Christmas Holidays. Duties will be:

Panama City: Pohn Asaphil, Paul B. Hodges and Adelaide Hollywood: Eileen Ruth Hollywood; Ronald Pickins.

Miami: I. Jean Blizard, Anna Marie Crapp, Joyce Lynn Crawford, Dorothy Ann Hall, Walter L. Hamlin, Virginia E. Hannaha, Harvey L. Hatton, George B. Hollier, Jean O. Hopkins, Jay Lou Ladd, Lois V. Lojeski, Joan Rita Pratt, Charles Edwin Smith, Mary Lydia Smith, Ira Blaine Stokes, Jr., Ann Trafton, Barbara Ann Wier, Frankie M. Williams, Joan N. Wilson and Jane Claire Wood.

Jacksonville: Jean Bailey, Frances C. Clark, Mary P. Cobello, Theresa Porter Garrett, Peter A. Graae, Dorothy Ann Henderson, Ramona E. McCall, Patsy Anne Pate, Doris J. Pennington, Ann Ryerson, Russell Shampine, Mary Helen Spede, Claude Vernam and Margaret Virginia Wilson.

Apalachicola: Jacqueline Glass, Quincy: James Lamar Adams, Josephine Grubb, Robert G. Jones, Harold Donald Leddy, Jo Ann Davis.

Thomasville, Ga.: Clyde Stanland.

Port St. Joe: Mary Alice Elder.

Tampa: William E. Backun, Alice Gordon, Carol Robertson Hall, Gordon H. Johnston and Patricia A. Sisson.

Vero Beach: Ellen A. Avis and Marilyn Ella Harris.

Marianna: Sadie J. Coulette, Lester Deese, Kathryn E. Patrick, John C. Thompson and Billie W. Weiser.

Monticello: Edith Pope.

Leesburg: Sally Gaddy Browder, William J. Rankin and Virginia Spears.

Ft. Myers: Florence Jean Kelly.

(Continued on Page 4)

FSU STUDENTS HONORED—The English Department at Florida State University has inaugurated a series of lecture time "coffee hours" late each Friday afternoon at the new FSU Student Center as a means of helping the students to become better acquainted with the faculty and with each other in a spirit of mutual helpfulness. Here a group is shown discussing some of its mutual problems in the study of English. Seated, left to right, are Ida Collie, Ida Marcia Middleton, Marjorie Ellen McDonald and Ruby Jones. Standing, left to right, are Dr. James A. Pyre, assistant professor of English; Dr. W. H. Rogers, English department head; Dr. Russell J. Reaver J.r., associate professor of English; Dee Scott and Frances Wells.

Campus Chest Must Exclude Polio Group

State Representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis Benson Skelton sent Campus Chest Chairman Margret Kraseman a letter stating the foundation or the March of Dimes does not wish to be included in the Campus Chest.

The letter stated that the Board of Trustees for the national group had established a policy of non-participation with other groups in "cash-and-drives in which receipts are shared by more than one organization."

THIS RULING means that one Campus Chest cannot include the March of Dimes. "If it should join with other agencies in its fund-raising function, and agree to share receipts in any way, it would in effect be dividing the responsibilities with other organizations that have no legal obligation to support the fight against infantile paralysis." 8029 the release.

"It is for this reason," explains Margret Kraseman, "that we announced in the last issue of the Flambeau that the goals established this organization would have to go towards buying needed equipment, and not save the March of Dimes proceeds.

CRITICISM OF the plan was to contribute ten percent of the total collected in the Campus Chest, to the March of Dimes, and not have a Dime March as in the past.

Campus Chest Chairman Kraseman said the chest committee has no objection to buying the equipment, but this would possibly lease still another drive, The March of Dimes, to be held on campus when the ides of Campus Chest is to have one drive for all such organizations.

Culture Exam Set For Juniors, Nov. 6

The Junior Culture Examination has been set for Nov. 6 at 4:00 p.m. in the Education Music Hall, according to Mark H. DeGraff, head of the testing bureau.

This test is required of all Junior students who have not yet taken it before. Failure to do so incurs the penalty fee of five dollars. The fee will be paid and the test taken before a student may register again.

Results of the testing is sent to the students and to the dean, to be used as information for guidance. The data is also used by the University to study its process of General Education.

Friday Made Deadline For Queen Pictures

This Friday will be the deadline for candidates qualifying for the Homecoming Queen to hand in their pictures to the office of Dean of Student Welfare.

The candidate should turn in an eight by 10, black and white head and shoulders portrait, on the back of which should be the name of the girl, hometown and sponsoring organization.

Voting will take place Tuesday, November 4. A second vote will be taken up from the finalists and the runoff will be Friday, November 7.

Senate Meets Today; New Members Attend

The regular meeting of University Senate will be held today in the UGA rooms of the Rotary-Lonsmire building at 5:15 p.m. The student body is urged to attend. This will be the second meeting for the new representation which include Jean Hallock, Nancy Graham, Harriet Lear, Bob Gnann, Barbara Gnann and Covie Moore. Merrill Mooney, the recently appointed Editor Men's Senator.

Physics Prof to Talk

Dr. Robert Bacher will speak on the probability and applications of physics will be made at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday in the Physics auditorium.

Refreshments will be served.

Funds Are Called In

Today is the last day to turn in money for the Campus Chest. Money is to be turned in on Second Floor Longmire up to 2:00. If you can not do so, contact Margaret Kraseman, ext. 4511, or 228 Landis.

Political Pollsters Agree: 'It's Going to Be Close'

It's going to be a close one, agree all the political pollsters. The "experts" may just be acting cautiously because they remember what a limb they were out on in 1948, but the best available weather vanes seem to bear out their statements.

The party heads will say it-differently, with the accent depending on the candidate they're backing. Just the other day Joseph Martin, big Republican in the House of Representatives, said his party would carry 30 to 35 states, including some in the South, as well as win a large majority in the House and possibly get a margin in the Senate.

Steven Mitchell, Democratic National Committee chairman, on the other hand, said as early as a couple of weeks ago that the Democrats were headed for a landslide victory and would carry almost all the populous states, as well as many others.

Less enthusiastic and less partisan sources, however, seem to come to the same general conclusion - namely, that the presidential race is going to be a close one.

For what it's worth, here are some interesting points the pollsters have come up with:

According to Gallup, the people feel, by a sizeable majority, that the Democratic party is the party that has their interests more at heart. The smallest thing, it's the seeming anomaly that they still like Ike. In other words, Eisenhower is running far ahead of his party and could win even though the party of his party is not. In fact, if the general's strength is great enough, he could pull through certain members of his party just as Democratic congressional candidates pulled Truman through in 1948.

Wholesale coat-tail tagging seems unlikely, since the race is so very close. Although ticket-splitting groups such as Gallup, Crosley and Princeton Research differ on exact percentages, they all point to another trend: Stevenson is pulling up on Eisenhower. He had a lot of pulling up to do, though, for reports before the campaign got under way showed Eisenhower had a tremendous lead. The big question of the campaign, of course, is how much change can be effected in the little time.

The latest Princeton Research poll shows Eisenhower ahead with 50.2 per cent of the vote. Stevenson holding 47.3 per cent and 2.5 per cent undecided. This was a loss of 8 per cent for the Republicans, a gain of 1.3 per cent for the Democrats and a drop of .5 per cent in the undecided vote over the previous figure.

The Princeton poll found Eisenhower ahead in 23 states with 278 electoral votes: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Colorado, Idaho, Wyoming, California and Oregon.

Stevenson was seen leading in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, West Virginia, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Virginia, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Minnesota, Illinois, Washington, Arizona, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico and Utah.

This gives the Republicans a lead of 278 to 253 electoral votes. If even one large state should shift between now and the election, the Democrats would add to this a three per cent mechanical error which the polls can't seem to get away from, and the election could go heavily either way. Because of the peculiarities of our system of balloting, in fact, the electoral vote could be a landslide vote in either direction.

Thus while the pollsters have had a lot of victory, the not-so-partisan must wait and see. The Flambeau can only repeat the old cliche, "It's going to be a close one."

VEGETABLE AREAS SUFFER WIDESPREAD LOSSES

By SEN. GEORGE SMATHERS

WASHINGTON — It was a report of real concern the other day when we received the distressing news of widespread losses throughout the Florida vegetable producing areas.

Unusually heavy rains had washed out many spring plantings, ruin to many small farmers and substantial setbacks to those able to withstand the losses. And the reports reached me I immediately asked conference by phone with Senator Holland and with other members of the Florida delegation in Congress. Then I called upon the head of the Farmers Home Administration.

Almost within the hour, the Department of Agriculture was receiving its own reports of distress in the area and calling for additional information from the field.

It is our thought, after discussion of the conditions and need warrant, the areas affected shall be certified for disaster relief, thus making it possible the farmers eligible for special assistance in the form of loans from the Farmers Home Administration.

This agency was established by Congress to meet conditions such as apparently exist in the central Florida and Lake Okeechobee areas at the present time. With our delegation, as usual, working on the problem to the greatest unity there is no doubt that every consideration will be given by the Agriculture Department's FHA, while his directed by a Georgian as part time Floridian, Mr. Dillard B. Lasseter.

One of the aspects of this farmers aid program is that it is designed to permit energetic and ambitious small farmers to help themselves. Over the years, the country has proved the theory behind its establishment — that given a chance and a minimum of credit, these farmers can and do make good.

Mr. Lasseter, during our many conversations that his agency has not, over the taxpayers anything but rather has showed a profit. More than $7 per cent of all loans made have been paid back, or are being paid. Just before this was sent out I again talked with Mr. Lasseter and he said, "I am confident that loan funds will be made available to the farmers in Florida whose crops have been injured by these very heavy rains.

* * *

FLORIDA NOTES: After 5 days in my office in Washington, I am returning to Florida to make a few talks and "take in" the football games at Jacksonville, Miami, Georgia and Florida.

I will then go to Miami to appear Wednesday night October 27, on a radio debate from Miami (WIOD-AM & FM) on the subject of the proposed FEPC. Then I am glad to join in a discussion of this issue. I constantly feel deep regret that the matter of civil rights sentiment to be a political football and hope that the time is near when men of good will can join in finding an acceptable solution under the Constitution of the United States.

Justice Tom Thomas has not yet returned, and Scott Peek and Jake Carlton from the office are in Florida. Our good friend Bill Thompson has been up here for a few days.

Men Must File

(Continued From Page 1)

23, 1953, but General Hershey emphasized that only those delinquent or demands made is important that each draft-age man determine who has not taken the test do so as soon as possible.

STUDENTS SUSPENSE academic year will end in January, 1953, have been urged to take the December test. They will then only have a test score in their cover sheets before the end of the academic year, at which time their boards will reopen and reconsider the cases. The peculiarities of our system of balloting, in fact, the electoral vote could be a landslide vote in either direction.

Thus while the pollsters have had a lot of victory, the not-so-partisan must wait and see. The Flambeau can only repeat the old cliche, "It's going to be a close one."

PLAYBITS

SPEECH PLAYS KEEP STUDENTS HARD AT WORK

By GEORGE SPELVIN

Well, now everyone is hard at work? There are many signs of it, mores, graduate students, juniors and freshmen slaving away on their every possible moment. Even the best of all the shows at the department of speech and drama are not without the hustle of activity in all these different phases unless you're a sorked out and ready to retire before or are tied up in one night now.

Less night the freshman show, "Stardust," began rehearsals for its P.S.U. opening night on Dec. 9. Director Rudolf is most pleased with the fine cast although he says that could have been quite a selection problem due to all the talent that was present at tryouts.

Those freshmen who are not playing roles in "Stardust" have signed up to work on the various crews, and if there are any others who would like to do so, there is still time. Just go over to the History building and put your name on the bulletin list which is posted on the Call Board outside.

And as the freshmen get off to a fine start on their show, the end of "Torchbearers" swings into their final weeks of rehearsal. There are some very interesting sell a Speech Department. It was, be greatly appreciated. At the office we find that Dr. Orr is directing a one-act play for the presentation one of the Career Days. More information as to the name and stic. will be available soon.

The dramatic honorary, Les Jongleurs, held its first meeting of the school year Wednesday night. This semester Les Jongleurs is devoted to a series of lectures on Shakespeare; the end is in the series to be given on Nov. 20.

The honorary plans to continue the lecture series in the fall semester, but has not as yet chosen the topic or topics of interest to the membership. That is where they need and want the opinion and help of those who are not. So here's an opportunity for you to express your choice as to a most interesting topic for presentation in the 2nd lecture series.

And here's a last minute item The cast of "Taming of the Shrew" by Shakespearian play to be presented in January, has been announced. However, rehearsals will not start for several weeks yet.

Student Dance Is Friday At Center

The next dance in the series of informal dances being sponsored by the social and recreational programs of the Student Union Center, Friday, Oct. 31, from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m., according to Phyllis Pittman.

This dance will be the third one of the series which will continue periodically throughout both Fall and Spring semesters.

A five piece combo, the Regents will play at Friday's dance, although the combo is small, it will be financially impossible to have this for every informal dance.

Combos will be used for some of the dances and free juke box music for others.

Dr. Breen to Discuss Textbook Comparison

Dr. Ruth S. Breen, Florida State University professor of English has been invited by Dr. Samuel L. Meyer, executive director of the American Association of Physics Teachers, to participate in a public discussion panel in St. Louis, Dec. 29.

The panel sponsored and supported by the National Science Foundation will discuss "A Comparison of Three College Textbook writings in the Three Approaches of Principles, Systematic and Humanistic." The panel discussion is being held during the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in St. Louis.

Dr. Meyer is on leave of absence from FSU

Dem School Plans Halloween Carnival

On Friday evening the Democratization School will sponsor their annual Halloween carnival for underprivileged children from 6 to 11 p.m.

The carnival will begin with a parade sponsored by the sixth grade. The parade will include children dressed in costumes and various stunts. Prizes will be given to those with unusual Halloween costumes. Following the various activities within the program there will be an annual dance for the high school students.

Each grade under the direction of teachers and parents will sponsor some typical Halloween carnival booth or concession. All the money received from these concessions will be put in the School Improvement Activities Fund.

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BABS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors..... Marcia Morris, Bruce Gutchin
Sports Editors..... Jim Cauch, Jim Eady
Copy Editor..... Judy Tedders
Feature Editor..... Jane Morgan
Assistant News Editor..... Jim Harrington
Literary Editor..... John Harrington

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York
Telephone 3-0600, Extension 4181 Second Floor Almond Bldg

MEMBER:
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Kiwanis Club Forms Circle "K" on Campus

Here at Florida State University campus are many freshmen and upperclassmen who were active members of Key Clubs in their high schools. So that these people would not have to give up their Key Club ways altogether, Kiwanis International formed an equivalent organization to the Key Club, the group is known as Kiwanis Service Organization.

CIRCLE "K", like the Key Club, is primarily a service organization to promote good fellowship, encourage participation in group activities, build effort useful training to develop qualities of leadership in a person.

Although Circle "K" is comparatively new to FSU it has made many strides in its development with this the many projects in store for the club this year, there will be a need for enthusiastic help, good will and determination to see a job will done.

ALL INTERESTED in becoming members should contact Charles K. Bellamy, Jr., Box 126 Marmelia: Ted Steinmeyer, Sigma Chi house; George Spurlin, Sigma Phi Epsilon house or Byrne Ashmore, 1601 Bellview Way, phone 3-2637. All names received will be presented to membership committee for approval.

Members are required to attend a large majority of meetings and maintain a C average. The club holds its regular meetings at the first and third Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in 401 Alumni building.

Today Marks End of MSMTA Concert Of FSMTA, FCL

Florida State students and faculty members will wind up an eight-day tour of appearances in Miami today, as they attend the last program of the Florida State Music Teachers Association and Florida Composers League.

The FSU wind quintet, composed of four faculty members and a student, played at the general session of the Music Teachers Association yesterday.

Quintet members who plays the flute: Robert Forman, oboe; Harry Schmidt, clarinet; Joseph Allard, bassoon, and French horn; Frank Starbuck, bassoon, are the group.

Schmidt and White took part in a panel discussion of instrumental problems at the meeting of the Teachers Association conclave, and Miss Reeder, also of the faculty, played the clarinet in a panel discussion of piano teaching problems.

TAKING PART in the business sessions of the teachers' meeting was Dr. Dorothy Dickens, head of the FSU school; Mrs. Ramona C. Beard, and Herman Gunter, all of the FSU faculty.

FSU faculty members and students are also participating in both the Florida Composers League program. The faculty composers, whose compositions were played were John Boda, former league president; Bertil Boer, C.M. Carpenter, Ernst Krenek and Howard Wilson.

Works of Tommy McMullen and Harpik der Hovhanissian, FSU music students, will also be played.

Tally Ho Deadline Set For Nov. 5 for Pics

Tally-Ho, the yearbook, announced Nov. 5, as the final deadline for having class pictures made for the annual. Sally Ann Thomas, Editor Becky Brown announced. Cap and gowns will be furnished all Seniors having their pictures made. Freshman, Sophomore and Junior girls should wear dark sweaters and pearls, and men, white shirts, ties and coats.

Foreign Students' Club Elects New Officers

The Florida Association elected officers at a meeting at 222 Music building tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Margret Kennedy from Trom Hamburg, Germany, was elected temporary chairman at the last meeting.

Social Workers Meet

The Social Work Club will have its annual Halloween party tonight from 7 until 8 in the Clubroom of the Lonsmire building.

A panel discussion will discuss "Working with the Blind in Florida," and refreshments will be served.

Laughs and Music Make Movie Hits

By JUNE MORGAN
Feature Editor

Cary Grant, Ginger Rogers, Charles Coburn and Marilyn Monroe are just a few of the big name names in the whirlwind of hokum, Monkey Business which plays at the Florida Theatre today through 29 to Tuesday, Nov. 4.

Howard Hawks newest laugh hit is a formula of crazy situations guaranteed to temporarily peel several years off the ages of audiences.

THE WHOLE hilarious tale would never have happened if one very absent-minded scientist hadn't wanted to recapture his youth by rejuvenating his centuporaries. He attempts to mix a youth potion that he over-enthusiastic boss, Charles Coburn, calls B4, the miracle age-peeler-off-er.

Actually scientist Cary Grant never gets the formula right. Father, an experimental chimpanzee, escapes from her cage and accidentally adds the right ingredients. She then hides her work in the office where not even everyone believes it's this scientist's potion not the polluted water that's causing the fun.

CARY GRANT, as the stodgy, half-blind scientist, has the ideal paper mache is made by soaking bits of newspaper overnight in warm water adding wheat paste and sawdust to the desired consistency and then moulding.

ANOTHER interesting effect is achieved by folding, bending and cutting heavy paper or cardboard. This paper sculpture would be excellent for small house decorations, floor lamp trimmers and silk paper properties. Some examples of the effects that are easily achieved are on display in the art department of the first floor Education building.

For floats and airy effects, there's always the old favorite chicken wire stuffed with multicolor paper napkins. Tissue could paper and cheesecloth over wire can also be used for textures.

REMEMBERING the outstanding Gilchrist Park float of last year, we include the possibilities of two-dimensional paper creations. Backgrounds can be made of extra-heavy cardboard, or wall-board, reinforced by frame-works of wood. Wall-paint to the base and a finish coat of varnish will brighten colors and protect the decorations from the elements, at least till after the judging.

Last word from the art department is "the sky's the limit—don't be afraid to experiment!" Color, texture design, will make a catchy design a sure winner.

Groups Out to Make Chicken Wire, Paper Into Prizewinning Homecoming Displays

By JUNE MORGAN

Drag out the chicken wire, napkins, newspaper and wheat paste, because that time is here again when all good dormitory, sorority and fraternity groups start their studies and the other more frivolous members are busy concentrating on creations for houses and floats.

For those dismayed, knee deep in papier mache, and uncertain in which direction they're going, the art department has several suggestions.

FIRST comes the zoal, the skeleton sketch of the effect that is desired. That means some committee huddles to turn up an exciting design. Purple hurricanes, Seminola Indians, football scenes, and just about any other unusual gimmick will fit into this fun homecoming theme. The secret is to find something big and complicated-looking that is also fun to turn out.

Perhaps the most effective displays are those which are first constructed in the three-dimensional. Large pieces can be chicken wire, then floss trimmers and silk wood strips and a covering of paper or cloth. Smaller decorations and trim can be fashioned of newspaper, tied into an armature and covered with strips of paper mache. The mache may be made by tearing strips of paper, and dipping them into a wheat paste solution before arranging them around the armature. Wet

Baptist Players Act At Student House

The Baptist Players, under the direction of Jane Parkman, will present a play, "The Challenge of Yukon," at the Baptist Student House tonight from 7 until 7:30.

The cast includes Mary Brower, Ben Lamb, Jimmy Hamilton, Carey Wood, Frankie Brownlee, Libby Sullenberger and Virginia Norris.

Auditions for the Baptist girls' octette will be tomorrow at 5 p.m. at the BSU House with Jane Byrne Ashmore, 1601 Bellview Way, phone 3-2637. All names received will be presented to membership committee for approval.

Members are required to attend a large majority of meetings and maintain a C average. The club holds its regular meetings at the first and third Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in 401 Alumni building.

Graham to Explain State Budget Work

Homer Graham, state budget director, will discuss some of the administrative problems of Florida in relation to the budget in a lecture to a class studying public administration at the University at 7 p.m. today in Room 123 History Building.

In his lecture the state budget director will explain to the student operations of this office which checks the budgets of the various state agencies before they are passed along to the legislative committees for inclusion in the legislative appropriations measures.

Graham is one of a series of state officials who will present a lecture-type this semester in the School of Public Administration to acquaint the students with some of the various administrative problems of the state.

Angus Laird, state merit system supervisor and part time faculty member, will be the speaker in charge of the class and will introduce the state budget director.

Dr. Publishes Social Study Work

A Florida State faculty member has had four research papers accepted for publication in a recent issue of a national magazine, Dr. Gross's contribution to the field of the teaching of social studies.

The four articles soon to appear are: "Evaluation of Student Opinions in Controversial Areas" "The School and Public Relations" "Illustrative Facilitation of the Social Studies Program" in The School Executive and "Evaluation of Controversial Issues" in the Bulletin of the National Council for the Social Studies and "Evaluation Practices in the Social History Classes" in The Social Studies.

Dr. Gross also has articles in the current issue of Childhood Education and The Journal of the Florida Education Association.

His research findings have also been printed in The Civic Leader, The California Journal of Secondary Education, The Phi Delta Kappan and Social Education.

Dr. Gross is a member of the Board of Directors of the Florida Council for the Social Studies and the Advisory Board of the National Council of Social Studies.

Graham Discusses Problems in Talk

Operations of the state government, relative to budgets will be explained in a talk to students of administration at Florida State University today at 7 p.m. in room 123 of the History Building by Homer Graham, State Budget Director.

At present the class is studying the administrative problems of Florida. A number of state officials have accepted invitations to be guest lecturers to the class to explain the functions of their various state offices.

4-H Club Initiates Fourteen Members Into Their Number

The Florida State 4-H Club initiated fourteen new members in its history recently when 14 white-clad former 4-H members became part of the University 4-H club.

Those initiated were Tom Woods, Harriet Lowe, Jo Ann Tiery, Norma Cooley, Mildred Carter, Martha Hawthorne, Ann Kennedy, Billie Ann Folsom, Betty Bender Esther, Winkleblack, Jerry Lewis, Jo Ann Johnston, Genie Johnson and Carol De Voss.

THE OFFICERS of the club presided at the initiation and also the punch bowl afterwards. Presiding officers and their respective advisors. Miss Lorene Sievers, Miss Anna Stevens, Miss Frances Cannon and Miss Bronna Mae Olson.

Chairman of the Youth Conference Committee, Ann Edwards reported on the meeting recently held in Gainesville in connection part in Gainesville. The conference began Thursday night and met with a similar committee from their University 4-H club. Plans were made for the theme of the conference next Spring asserted much of the business organization. The theme decided upon for the conference in Gainesville next Spring is "Have 4-H Educated Heart?"

MANY OF THE new members met at the University 4-H club for the first time last weekend. While at camp, the group made plans for a membership drive. Many of the members are urged to help and will be contacted as to when and where.

Danish Discussion To Feature Movie

Eva May Atwood, instructor in the department of Modern Languages at Florida State University, will give an illustrated discussion on Denmark at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the Language auditorium in a program open to the public.

The program is the first of a series being presented in which department faculty members will present talks on the Scandinavian talk. Miss Atwood will present a movie of Copenhaven and pictures that she took during a recent visit of Denmark. There will also be an exhibit of Danish-made articles and recorded Danish music. Miss Atwood will wear a traditional Danish flag which was presented to her by the Danish Embassy.

Miss Atwood recently completed tour of Europe and the Near East last summer. She has collected many materials for use in teaching of humanities.

The Sports Line

BY JIM EADY

Next Saturday the FSU football players will be the ...-welcomed guests of the Stetson Hatters in Orlando's ...erine Bowl. Anything and everything can be expected ...ppen when these two state rivals get together on a ...ball field. The two have met five times and the Sem... can claim four victories . . . the only loss taking place ... Stetson won 14 to 6 in FSU's first game of football ... in 1904. After that 1947 defeat, the Seminoles took four ... row.

...ides looking for their fifth consecutive victory, the tribe will ...e after their first victory of the year. To achieve either will ...re a task. The Hatters have improved since last year when ...pped a hard-fought 13-10 decision to FSU. And the Semi... will definitely not be at full strength as injuries will keep at ... key performers from doing top-flight work. Italiano, Fyvesh, ... are all hampered by bad legs. And they are injuries that ... permanently heal as long as their owners do any playing. A ...hner in the right spot would put them out for a game, at least. ...ough the Hatters were beaten last Saturday by the Parris ...d Marines, 54-13, head coach Veller says . . . "They're a lot ...ter than N. C. State." They will be keyed to top form for ... contest with former college and pro stars . . . a condition ...ost of the country's service teams now-a-days.

WITH THIS IN MIND, it goes without saying the Seminole eleven ...eed all the support the student body can muster when they ...e the field at Orlando. The game will offer a good opportunity ... FSU to show just how much spirit it has. All but one of the ...me played so far have been at home so it hasn't required any ... to get to the games and back up the team. Since Orlando ...within automobiling distance of Tallahassee it's hoped the FSU ...me section will be jammed.

THERE'S NOTHING more encouraging to a ball player than to ...ok to see some friendly faces in a hostile stadium. With the ...nsin in the throes of a disastrous season it is all the more en...aging. And if you think it's hard to cheer for a team that's ...n beaten in every outing, just think of how much "fun" it must ...e for the players who take the beatings.

...ou're still not convinced that you should be in attendance at ...Stetson battle you can always take the attitude of the fellow who ...stened. " . . . It'll be a good excuse to take off for the weekend ...ayway."

A M CONTEST A REAL CROWD PLEASER

...ll who were on hand at Campbell stadium, Saturday night for ...e Florida A. & M.-Prairie View (of Texas) battle were certainly ...ed to some hard-hitting football. A. & M. still undefeated, won ...3 to 7 on a last quarter, 35 yard field goal. Although the tilt ...s spiced with bone-jarring tackling and blocking Prairie View ...ver drew a single penalty while A. & M. was penalized only ... times. Typical of the comments: " . . . best game I've seen in ...rs."

...he rough contest, watched by nearly 6,000 people, including FSU ...sident Doak S. Campbell, was the first time the Negro institu... has used Campbell stadium.

IN THE TAMPA-McNEESE game Friday night in the Cigar City, ...e Tarpons were awarded a touchdown when a McNeese sub ran ...o the bench and tackled ball carrier Vince Chicko. Chicko, who ...ot beat FSU last year, was speeding down the sidelines behind a ...e of blockers; not an opponent within tackling distance when the ...ensive lad on the McNeese bench brought him down from be...

Basketball Drills Begin

Kennedy Welcomes 40 Cage Hopefuls

Florida State University's 1952-53 basketball candidates—some 40 strong—answered Coach "Hank" "Bud" Kennedy's first cage-practice call here yesterday.

They'll be working in the West campus gym, officially, after two intensive weeks of running and conditioning outdoors.

Among those candidates are nine holdovers, five of them lettermen, from last season's Seminole basketball squad. And bolstering this better-than-average nucleus will be a talented array of freshman prospects which Kennedy believes will be the finest in his five years of hardwood tutoring at Florida State.

Lettermen returning from last year's Tribe are Guard Hamp Wernke, a slim Batesville, Miss., freshman who was late-season sensation that February and March; Forward Jerry Weddell, er, a sharp-shooting junior from Greensburg, Ind., and the Indiana third highest scorer last season, Richard Benson, a sophomore from Maitland, Fla., who is the squad's tallest member at 6-7; Duane Gordon, a junior from Madison, Wis., who was troubled with a shoulder separation most of last season, and Bob Petrie, a senior and three-year letter-winner from Shelbyville, Ind.

Other squadmen returning are Tom Burst of Batesville, Ind., Dick Mott of Lynnbrook, N. Y., William Warner of Tarpon Springs, Fla., and Jimlion Richardson of Jacksonville, Fla.

MISSING FROM LAST season's ranks are Tom McLaughlin, the Madison, Ind., ace who was the No. 1 point-getter for the '51-52 Seminoles; Lou Fischer, Irv Quinn and Bob Whitmer. Whitmer, captain last season, will be Kennedy's student assistant. The South Bend, Ind., native will coach the freshman cagers and assist with the varsity.

FSU will be looking for a much-improved five over last season's team which nearly five games while dropping 2. The schedule for the upcoming campaign calls for meetings with such formidable teams as the University of Kentucky, Mississippi State, Arkansas State, Loyola of New Orleans, Tampa, Miami, Stetson and Memphis State.

The highlight of the season will be the visit of Adolph Rupp's famed Kentucky Wildcats.

Delts Shutout SN

By ART KENNERLY

Already having been bowled over by SAE, SPE, and Pi KA, the twelfth place Sigma Nu touch footballers faced the harsh horrible prospect of taking their fourth straight licking of the year from Delta Tau Delta last Thursday. And the horrible prospect turned out to be the awful truth as the Delts put the whip to the Sigma Nus 13 to 0.

At the bestirring the Snakes set up an amazing pass defense and Brpr the Delt backs jumping with knife-like rushing. When it was their turn to be on the offensive, the Sigma Nus opened up a thundering passing attack with Floyd Fogle directing the flow.

But all this was short lived.

The Delts began to function. Billy Joe Leavitt started slinging passes and eventually connected with J.d. in the arms of Dell Jim Morrison. The try tor the extra point failed.

THE SIGMA NU attack for the rest of the first half, was stymied by a bad case of fumble fledgeness. The Delts, though they showed a little bit more class on defense, were equally as clumsy.

The half came with both teams hammering away somewhat aimlessly at each other.

In the last portion of the contest the Delts pushed the Sigma Nus tor loss after loss. With his club grouped in a few steps away from their own goal Sigma Nu Pinky Nowlin tried to get the Snakes out of the hole, but was halted tor four downs.

The Delta Tau Deltas took over and attempted to batter down the human barricade the Sigma Nu line offered. They got nowhere.

With their backs still against the goal line wall, the Sigma Nus came to life, opening a gap in the Delt line to send Nowlin scampering almost the length of the field to chalk up the only good run of the afternoon.

Even this spectacular feat did not aid the luckless Sigma Nus for the dreamed of score never materialized.

THE DELTS hopped behind the wheel once more. With Billy Joe Leavitt exhibiting a slingshot arm, and Gene Johnson showing his pass snarer skill, the DTDs plumped down field.

The Sigma Nu crew melted before the onslaughts of Leavitt and company to the three yard line. From that point a Leavitt to Johnny Kinsaul pass pushed the Delt drive across for the touchdown. The extra point came true, and the final score went down, DTD—13, Sigma Nu—0. First downs: DTD—8. Sigma Nu 2.

Stan Dobosz Leads FSU Ball Carriers

Stan Dobosz, a stocky second-semester freshman, is the leading ground gainer for the FSU football squad with 173 yards. Dobosz took over the lead as a result of his efforts Saturday against N. C. State. He picked up 80 yards in that contest to pass Roy Thompson who is behind him with 140 yards rushing. Thompson didn't play Saturday because of an injured shoulder.

The leading scorer is Nelson Italiano with two TDs . . . 12 points. The Tampa senior is third in rushing with 105 yards.

Dobosz is also second in scoring with 11 points, which includes one touchdown and five extra points.

Phi Delts Face Sigma Chi's for Crown

Phi Delta Theta, represented by Phil Sistrunk will clash with Sigma Chi's Tom Moran for the fraternity tennis championship tassle on the East Campus courts. The tournament is on a double elimination basis.

In a gruelling match, Thursday night, the Phi Delta defeated the SC's when the SC's Tom Moran had to forfeit the match when he developed a leg cramp in the third set. Each had taken a set before tragedy struck Moran.

Since it's a double elimination tourney the rematch between the two frats is necessary.

Caps, Gowns Remain

Some Seniors still have not picked up their caps and gowns from the University Bookstore, according to Jackie Dickerson. Gordon Wheeler, manager urges that they do so at the earliest possible moment.

Intercepted Pass, Interference Help Defeat Injury Riddled FSU

Seminoles Seek First Victory Against Stetson

Florida State University, still looking for its first victory of the 1952 football season, went to work today in preparation for Saturday's game with Stetson at Orlando.

Coach Don Veller, keenly disappointed by the 13-7 loss to North Carolina State last Saturday, planned a defensive scrimmage, but said he would let the regulars off lightly.

"We've got to plug the leaks in our defense if we're ever going to win," Veller said.

The Seminoles appeared headed for an upset 7-6 win over N. C. State until Wolfpack Halfback Ted Kilyk intercepted a pass and dashed 70 yards for the winning touchdown in the fourth period.

"It's hard to swallow a bad break like that," Veller commented, "but it was a well executed run. He got good blocking and we didn't have much of a chance to stop him."

Gregory from 34-13 besting handed out by the Parris Island Marines, Stetson's Hatters set about today to reform their football forces for their traditional game with the Seminoles in Orlando.

The Marine eleven, made up of ex-college stars and professionals found the going rough through the Hatter forward wall but scored six times by using their aerial game.

Quarterback Sam Vacanta, former Iowa and Purdue back threw five of the touchdown passes. Parris Island commanded a 26-7 half-time lead

Stetson made the game's first touchdown in the opening period after End Guido Tambur blocked a Marine punt on the Parris Island 42. A penalty put the ball on the 4 and from there Bobby Marks bucked it over in two plays.

The Hatters' other touchdown came in the third period when the Stetson passing game clicked for 43 yards. Jerry Gallagher threw to Bolly Odom for the score.

For three whole quarters an injury riddled Florida State football team held a one-point lead over N. C. ... the longest they have held a lead this fall. But the ... evaporated on the first play of the fourth quarter when N. C. State's Ted Kilyk intercepted a Frank Heinco pass and ran 76 yards for a touchdown. Kilyk's gallant feat ended a Seminole drive that had traveled 38 yards. The play, watched by a small Homecoming day crowd of 6,000, sealed the fate for the Seminoles as they went down to their fourth straight defeat by a 13 to 7 score.

THE LEAD FSU had so diligently clung to was obtained early in the second quarter after Bob Crenshaw recovered a fumble on the victors 16. Freshmen fullback Stan Dobosz went for five to the end zone but the ... but the offensive spark was not there to carry the Indians goalward. Heinco ... a total of two passes, one to Steve Kisterin, and one to Campbell, but the Indians were forced to punt on fourth down from their own 44. Brown kicked into the end zone with 1:45 left. The Wolfpack ran out the clock.

Dossy Merritt also helped to hold the winners to two touchdowns . . . the lowest score posted against the Seminoles in '52.

ONE OF THOSE TDs came after the Tribe line had reared up to hold on three downs. Tucker rammed over from the half-yard line to score. The conversion failed. FSU 7 N. C. State 6.

FSU could not so after taking the second half kickoff and Brown kicked 43 yards to the N. C. State 43. The Pack was stopped and Faires kicked to Curt Campbell at the FSU 28, who returned to the FSU 46. Unable to gain FSU kicked with Brown again setting the Wolfpack on its ears. This time punt... 41 yards dead to the Carolina one-foot line.

After Flores ... ended to Brown who returned to the North Carolina 40. Frank Heinco who had replaced the injured Fyvash, had a pass intercepted by Fraunhofer on the Wolfpack 21 returned to the 36. But the Seminoles held and took over on their own 24 on Fuiper punt.

With Heinco in the tailback for the FSU, the Tribe got to the 38 and apparently were underway. On the first play of the fourth period

Pipe Special!!

The Challenger

NOW! As long as our supply last ... these Beautiful pipes made to sell for $7.50 and 5.00. Now for

$2.49

Gleaming High Grain Finish

- Walnut
- Virgin

And FREE With Your CHALLENGER one can of these choice tobaccos

- PRINCE ALBERT
- RALEIGH
- HALF AND HALF
- BOND STREET
- REVALATION

We Have Other Weber Imported Pipes Form 98c to $2.49

THE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

At "Your Student Center"

The big bad wolf he huffed and puffed To blow the pigs' house down. 'Twas not a Lucky Strike he puffed, Or he'd have lost that frown.

Charles LaDue University of Michigan

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

They're made better to taste cleaner, fresher, smoother!

Take a Lucky from a newly opened pack and carefully remove the paper by tearing down the seam from end to end. Be sure to start on the seam. In tearing don't crush the tobacco. Then, gently lift out the cylinder. See how free Luckies are from air spaces —"hot spots" that smoke hot, harsh and dry—from loose ends that spoil the taste. Note that Luckies' long strands of fine, mild tobacco are packed firmly to draw smoothly and evenly—to give you cleaner, fresher, smoother smoke. Yes, Luckies are made better—to taste better! So, Be Happy—Go Lucky! Get a carton today.

When nothing season comes around For her coat, The girl who always gets our bid Knows L.S./M.F.T.

Leah Belle Korn Pembroke College

SPECIAL NOTE!

College students prefer Luckies in nation-wide survey!

Nation-wide survey based on actual student interviews in 80 leading colleges reveals more smokers prefer Luckies than any other cigarette—and by a wide margin. No. 1 reason given—Luckies' better taste. Survey also shows Lucky Strike gained far more smokers in these colleges than the nation's two other principal brands combined.

LUCKY STRIKE

CIGARETTES

O.A.T. Co.

L.S./M.F.T.

FOR A CLEANER, FRESHER, SMOOTHER SMOKE

Be Happy- GO LUCKY!

STUDENTS! Make $25! Send to your Lucky Strike Logies now!

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company

AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES

Oceanographic Studies Apply To Those of Other Fields

By JAYLEEN ROBERTSON

The words "Oceanographic Institute," may sound vaguely familiar to you. But, to refresh your memory, the word oceanography pertains to the study of marine sciences. The institute, located in the History Building, is directed by Dr. H. J. Humm; his assistant, Dr. Nelson Marshall, and Dr. F. C. W. Olson.

Oceanography appeals to faculty members in various departments here at Florida State, including botany, bacteriology, chemistry, economics, meteorology, physiology, and zoology.

SINCE THE institute was established in 1949 the study of underwater life and the actions of the oceans has occupied the time and interest of Dr. W. Kellner, of the department of psychology. He is doing research on the sounds beneath the surface of the water, relative to the sea's behavior.

The study of marine algae (microscopic marine life), is Dr. Humm's project, while the analysis of the amount of productivity in the water is Dr. Marshall's favorite study. Dr. Olson's chemical process to measure the amount of chlorophyll in the different sections of water—also chlorophyll fads, ads, and jokes made

DR. OLSON, who gave a lecture on inshore oceanography at a recent meteorology seminar, is making a study of the dynamics of saltier force

Although the institute is a colnere department, it also has three ocean research vessels and one field stations—Alligator Point, 42 miles south of FSU; Mayport, at the mouth of the St. John's River; and the most recent, Mullet Key near Tampa Bay. A summar course taught at Alligator Point was a new feature offered graduate students by the department this past year.

THE FACILITIES of the institute are available to all graduate students now taking marine study as well as to visiting lecturers and the faculty. Some courses are open to advanced undergraduates who have met the prerequisites.

George Grice, graduate of Clemson, is one of several graduate students working with the institute. His study deals with analysis of drifting microscopic life. Two others are Charles S. Yentsch from the University of Louisville, doing research on the distribution of fouling organisms such as barnacles, mussels, and Ed joseph from the University of Florida who is studying local marine fishes.

GRADUATE assistantships are available in each of the department connected with the institute and several are available from the institute itself. Information should be requested of a student's appropriate department head or Dr. Humm.

In addition to actual research work, the oceanography institute compiles material for scientific journals.

ETS Slates Tests For Next February

The National Teacher Examinations, prepared and administered annually by Educational Testing Service, will be given at 200 testing centers throughout the United States on Saturday, Feb. 14, 1953. The office of Vocational Guidance and Placement will have particulars on the testing.

At the one-day testing session a candidate may take the Common Examinations, which include tests in Professional Information, General Culture, English Expression, and Non-verbal Reasoning; and one or two of eight Optional Examinations designed to demonstrate mastery of subject matter to be taught. The college which a candidate is attending or the school system in which he is seeking employment, will advise him whether he should take the National Teacher Examinations and which of the Optional Examinations to select.

Application forms and a Bulletin of Information describing registration procedure and containing sample test questions may be obtained from the Office of Vocational Guidance, or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, N. J. Completed applications, accompanied by proper examination fees, will be accepted by the ETS office during November, December, and in January so long as they are received before Jan. 18, 1953.

Religious Group Meets

The Christian Science Organization at Florida State University will meet Thursday evening at 7:15 p.m. in room 218 Music building. All interested are cordially invited to attend the meetings of the organization.

Women's 'F' Club Pledges Complete 'Goating' Season

Twelve members of the "Goats," pledge group of Women's "F" Club, completed their initiation requirements and were made regular members of "F" Club recently.

Following a grueling, but traditional walk to Camp Flastacowo, an informal "goating period" was held on the Landis green marking the successful completion of "goating season" at Florida State University.

The twelve newly initiated girls are Gloria Mickler, Ruth Spenser, Dottie Jurgi, Ann Hayes, Mary Ann Batcheller, and Shirley Simpson. Also, JoAnne Austin, Norma Bolton, Jean Rohne Shirley Knight, Joan Paris and Myrtis Herndon.

Interns Leave

(Continued From Page 1)

ler, Dorothy Lee Peddie, Barbara Strode.

Leon County Schools: Marilyn Bell Hall and Jane Shepard.

FSU Demonstration School: Carla Bedlocked, Lester Bruch, Nathan Blount, Gordon A. Darby, Constance Davis, George Corradina, Linda Dasharan, Betty Ann Gaskin, Patsy Gale, James Harris, Ernestine Hunt, Nancy Johnson, Joseph Floyd Lesher, Grady Marlin, Orrin Powell, Fred Sadler, Mary Ruth Summers and James C. Talley

Also Mildred Aitchison, Ann Eran, John Jarue, Joyce Barron Lewis, Armando Messina, Charline Scott, Selen Shipman, Nellie Trawick.

Leon elementary schools: Marianel Camp, Dorothy Bachmann, Patricia Charlette, Audrey Geiser, Sarah F. Kennedy, Sara Brewer Thompson, Catherine Van Slyke, Margaret Wade

Leon High School: Mary Catherine Browder, Ann Clayton, Richard Johnson, Adrian Ketcham, Wayne L. Lochmiller, Leonard G. Moody, Peggy Ruth Paxe, Jean Gould Risher, Sammy Lee Simpson.

Bristol: J. Summer Bateman.

Madison: Mary T. McCullough, Palmetto Kay W. Henson.

Ocala: Betty Jo Jenkins and Nellie Scarbrough.

Orlando: Lois Lee Absher, Nancy Dunn Rankin, Peter Dunn Rankin, Mary An Seider ad Mary Virginia Spears.

St. Cloud: Jimmye Mikeal.

West Palm Beach: Herbert F Burden.

Zephyrhills: Patricia Lee Thomson.

Clearwater and St Petersburg: Martha Ann Aton, Phyllis Bayly, Patricia Ann Helgeson, Bette Lu Osbeare, Carolyn Elizabeth Moore, Mary C Rotherham, Mary Taylor, Mary Lou Wells, Robert Arthur Wright.

Polk County: Mary Jo Hall, Dorothy Bridges Harrison, Martha Anne Wardlaw, Henrietta Whidden, Sarah Bremenson Woods.

Ft. Pierce: James P Corry, Lurline Greene, Jo Anne Thorne.

Milton: Jane Dunn, Allen W Hanley, Betty Ann Lippke.

Perry: David McKinley and Ira Simons.

Daytona Beach: Rosemary Prime.

Crawfordville: Elwood L. Waters.

DeFuniak Springs: Mary Lind Wallace.

Chipley Rose: L Laney.

Art Rooms to be Redecorated To Accent Texure, 3-Space

By WINNIE BASS

Modern art, texture interest and three dimensional design are being accented in the redecoration of the eight art rooms in the Education building. The redesigning-space-project was instituted by Dr. Ivan Johnson, new department head and Fred Metzke, instructor in the department.

With paint and lumber faculty members and students of the Art Club plan to give the first floor rooms and display a long-needed hary face-lighting. Walls will be lightened and the previously grey tables made more colorful. The shop room will be altered and separated from its adjoining classroom by a partition and door.

ALREADY attention has been called to the two new department heads in an article by Fred Metzke for Journalistic work on the staff of Junior Arts and Activities, a monthly art publication for elementary teachers. Johnson is the author of the article Fred Metzke has contributed many articles on mural painting, paper sculpture, and planning for "big media" stencilling.

The drawing shows now include a paper sculpture display from Metzke's 101 Industrial Art class. Three-dimensional paper objects hung against a modernistic black and red background illustrate elements of form, texture, and three dimensional design.

METZKE bases many of his art theories on material from Moholy-Nagy's Vision In Motion, a modern collection of functional design. His work is exact, in that he can take a piece of paper and make a three dimensional object from it without pasting or throwing away any scraps. The object is held together by paper joints, slots and scored folds. He believes the paper exercise gives his students an insight into the possibilities of design in wood, clay, metals and other media.

UPON completion of decorations in the Education building, the Art Club will plan renovations for the Industrial Arts Lab, across from the Student Center, and the Weaving Lab, fourth floor Westcott.

State TV Debated

(Continued From Page 1)

major speaking for the negative, ripped into the discussion with a heated oratory on natural monopolies, forced monopoly in which she favored the former. "Spoon fed culture" was her description for the forced monopoly which she sees in Great Britain in the field of radio and television. "Matters that are of vital issue to the people are never heard," she argued, stressing that where monopoly begins is precisely where competition ends."

In conclusion, Arlene drew home the point that where there is state monopoly government is of the people, by the people and for the people ceases to exist.

PAT GRADUATE student Ted Clevenger joined his colleague, Evans, on the "pro" side with his statement that "You have to seek the lowest possible cultural level to sell commercial products" with the intimation that video and radio must present low-intellect, non-thought-provoking programs such as "John's Other Aunt Matilda" and various other soap operas in order to induce business to sponsor their programs. "State-owned BBC is generally recognized as giving the most impartial radio service in the world politically," he said, adding, "England had television a decade before America."

Witty Kenneth Dibben, a graduate of University College Southhampton, made the final stand for the negative by asking a number of biting questions. He refuted upon the query of "what can a monopoly system achieve that a competitive system cannot?" "Is it possible to impose higher standards from above? This last question is interpreted to mean, 'can a state, in taking over a radio-television system, force higher standards of entertainment upon that society's viewers and listeners?'

DIBBEN CONCLUDES that it is not possible and that a monopoly has a number of disadvantages. He suggested, however, that it is possible to have a government station and also to have other competition exist.

In rebuttal, Miss Amend defended the criticism of this country's news commentators. She also quoted from the charter of the British Broadcasting Company to clarify some of the issues.

IN HER REBUTTAL to her rebuttal Evans' retort was that he had been advised upon leaving home, "In America they do not hang you for murder—they kill you with electrocution." This last quip, which was obviously a play on words directed at the procedure of electrocuting our criminals, ended the oratory session with a note of humor and an alert audience then participated in a question and answer period.

Ruge Hall to Hold Communion Service

A special service of Holy Communion will be celebrated by the Rev. Roger Blanchard, National Executive to College Work for the Protestant Episcopal Church, at 8 a.m. Thursday in the chapel of Ruge Hall, FSU's Episcopal Student Center.

The Rev. and Mrs. Blanchard will be at FSU in conjunction with the Florida Chain of Mission Planning Committee meeting Thursday at 4:30 p.m. at the Presbyterian Students House. The purpose of this will oe to help formulate plans to be observed during FSU's Religious Workers Council's February project, Religious Emphasis Week.

A coffee and doughnut hour will follow the service at which time Rev. Blanchard will meet informally with the students.

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

CAMERON'S TEXACO SERVICE STATION

566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

Formerly Meats Service Station

Turner's

Featuring . . . Velveteen Dresses

By Jonathan Logan

As seen in SEVENTEEN

7 to 15 $22.95

1+1=3 Your arithmetic figures will be high when you wear this wonderful Crompton velveteen wardrobe-in-one. Subtract the short-stop jacket when you want to dance on through the evening . . . or add a blouse to sum up that well-schooled look.

Your first choice for comfort

ARROW UNDERWEAR

with famous contoured seat panel . . . no irritating center seam!

Arrow Shorts

Arrow T-Shirts 2.00 Arrow Athletic Shirts 2.00

You're always "at ease" in Arrow shorts. They're plenty roomy. And—please note—there is no irritating, chafing center seam. We have sprinters, and models with Gripper fasteners, plain and patterned . . . all in fine "Sanforized"® fabrics that won't shrink more than 1%. Stop in for some today.

Mendelson's

FOR ARROW UNIVERSITY STYLES

Meet The Champs!

Arrow Underwear can't be beat for comfort

Arrow Shorts 1.45 up

Arrow Undershirts 1.00 up

ARROW

SHIRTS • TIES • UNDERWEAS • HANDKERCHIEFS • SPORTS SHIRTS

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!

Whatever the formal occasion—wear fashionable corner clothes, at reasonable rental prices!

$6.50

Nic's Joggery

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

NOW SHOWING

"Untamed Frontier"

With Joseph Cotten and Shelley Winters

WEDS. thru SATURDAY

"Somebody Loves Me"

With Betty Hutton

STATE

LAST TIMES TODAY

"Because You're Mine"

with Mario Lanza

STARTS TOMORROW

"Monkey Business"

With Cary Grant and Ginger Rogers

RITZ

NOW PLAYING

"Kiss Tomorrow Goodbye"

With James Cagney

THURSDAY thru SAT.

"Thundering Trail"

Also

"Yukon Gold"

DRIVE-IN

NOW SHOWING

"The Dalton's Women"

With Tom Neal

THURSDAY thru SAT.

Dick Powell in

"The Tall Target"

Also

"Captive of Billy the Kid"

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT

SEE A MOVIE NOW!

TUESDAY SPECIAL

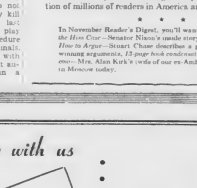
Filet Mignon

$1.00

WEDS. SPECIAL

Fried Shrimp

.75



"Helps people of many nations understand each other,"

says ANDRE MAUROIS

Author lecturer, Member of the French Academy

"I congratulate you on excellent international work. You have helped people of many languages and nations to understand each other. You also gave them good reasons to believe in mankind, in freedom and in themselves."

Each month, Reader's Digest editors comb through more publications than any one person could read in two years, and select whatever seems of outstanding interest.

Each article is carefully condensed to preserve both its content and flavor. The wide range of subjects stimulates new interests, encourages a further search for knowledge.

In a real way, Reader's Digest helps continue the education of millions of readers in America and all over the world.

• • •

In November Reader's Digest, you'll want to read Message of the Hon Cour—Senator Nixon's inside story of the famous case; How to Argue—Stuart Chase describes a proven technique for winning arguments; 13-page book condensation, Postmarked Moscow—Mrs. Alan Kirk's tells of our ex-Ambassador's story of life in Moscow today.

Dine with us . . . in the Amber House

"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

Tired, Worn Out, Come in Clean! Come in and Pep Up With One of Our Country Fried Steak Oysters Fried Chicken Roast Pork

Alec Templeton
To Appear Here.
See Page One

Florida Flambeau

Orlando Alums Stage
Semniole Pep Rally
Tomorrow Night

Vol. XXXI, No. 12 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1952

Templeton to Solo With Music Series

First Concert Is Scheduled Nov. 24; Series Tickets Offered for Sale Now

An outstanding symphonic season, with a stellar list of guest artists, has been promised for music lovers on the campus and in town by the State Symphony of Florida, opening this year's orchestra series, Dr. Karl Kuerschner, conductor of the State Symphony, announced it as the finest ever offered by the symphony to local music lovers.

Alec Templeton, who has amused and delighted audiences of all musical tastes with his professional musicianship and sparkling wit, will be soloist for the first concert on Monday evening, Nov. 24. Templeton will play a piano concerto with the orchestra during the first half of the program. After intermission, he will take the spotlight to sing and play his witty burlesques on music and musicians, and will improvise several pieces of music on notes furnished by the audience.

ALBERT SPALDING and Ernst von Dohnanyi will appear in the second concert, which will be played Feb. 9. Spalding will play the great Concerto for Violin and Orchestra" by Beethoven, with Maestro Dohnanyi as guest conductor. The combination of these two musicians will provide a musical occasion which no lover of fine music will want to miss.

Three local artists will be featured in the "pop" concert which will conclude the series on Tuesday, March 24. Patsy Gilliam, noted dancer, will perform the

(Continued on Page 4)

Students Select Court to Reign At Soph's Hop

A Sophomore king, queen and court will be chosen today as two students cast their ballots at Westcott. The queen royalty will reign at the annual Sophomore Hop in the Student Union Saturday, Nov. 1.

Today the nominees of Tuesday and Wednesday were announced.

NOMINEES for the candidacy for queen are Phebe Jackson, Jeannie Parker, Jean Eymard, Ann Yates, Joan Edwards, Peggy Ann Devore Dourud, Carolyn Mosley, Jean Doe, Ann Adams, Bette Anne Ardizonn, Miller, Puddin Mc Mullin, Wynne Barnard, Dee Wells.

Candidates Ann Joan Mitwell, Gloria Gay, Ann Russell Ward, Chinn Betty Bullock, Shirley Hoban, Eugenia Gail Buttress, Lillian Smith, Betty Jane Hosac and Rae Miller.

Nominees for king were Tom Ball, Bill Parker, Don Van Hise, Jimmy Cook, Jack Cook, Clark, Joe Harris, Bobby Lamb, Beasy, Bob Canada, Jerry Cates, Gene Griffin, Tom Cundy, Charlie Jeanne Hollis, John Hunter, Alan Sundgers, Woody Reed and Al Stringer.

Homecoming Queen Qualifying Deadline Is Set for Today

Today is the deadline for qualifying Homecoming Queen candidates, announced Muriel Shannon of the selection

Members of the candidates' committee are the Office of Student Welfare today. They will be served for display Monday and will vote for five girls in Westcott on Tuesday. Every girl who votes will be on the list of finalists.

Ballots should be eachi by number and white lead and typewritten on double weight paper. Any organization sponsoring organization-sponsored contestant should be notified.

Anyone wishing further information may contact Seminola Chi House.

Tarpon Honorary Picks Swimmers

Tarpon—one new Tarpon member has been announced by the honorary swim

Tuesday night.

The candidate tapped for the club include Sue Young, Nancy Parker, Boo's Paris, Jo Ann Bowden, Jane Brown, Jo Dee Mary Lois Thornhill, Dorothy Ashmore, Ginny Sweatman, Ann Cornell, Sylvia Closter, Ann Herold, Joy Crouch, Joyce Fuss, Mary Martin Benton, Barbara Bunner, Iola Arnold, Janet Bowden, Sue McCormick, Sheri Ann and Sue Brasseur.

Another theme was revealed today for the annual Queen Prom which will be presented March 2-7. Swimmers in this spectacular will present a program typical of each of the twelve months of the year, demonstrating various swimming techniques.

Dance Planned Tonite

The Regents five piece combo will play tonight at the Student Union from 8:30 to 11:30 for informal dancing. Phyllis Pittman is chairman.

Students may come with dates or stag. There will be no charge.

Congratulations In Order

NEWLY TAPPED—Gold Key recently tapped seven men for their campus honorary. Ted Steinmeyer, president of Gold Key is shown above on the extreme left congratulating the new members. They are from left to right: Donald Waters, W. T. Edwards, Mac Huey, Robert Ducker, Paul Scarpazza, Milton Caruthers and James Lamfers.

Gold Key Taps Eight Members

Eight men were tapped into the Gold Key honorary Sunday, for their leadership, scholarship and service to the University.

Those are Tom Edwards, Milton Caruthers, Jim Harris, Bob Ducker, Jim Landry, Mac Huey, Don Waters and Paul Scarpazza.

University Vice-President A. B. Martin spoke to the group on leadership. The tapping period will last for six weeks. During that time, the men must complete projects performed as services to the University and to the organization.

President of Gold Key is Ted Steinmeyer. Bill Skipper is vice-president. Bill Hess, secretary; Jim Evans, treasurer, and Bill Skipper, pledge trainer.

Programs Published For Guests Visiting '52 Homecoming

More than 20,000 brightly colored Homecoming programs will be made available to alumni and friends of Florida State for the Nov. 14-15 celebration at FSU.

Robert Leigh, publications chairman, said the programs were donated by friends of the University. They are Tallahassee, Jacksonville and Birmingham, Ala. The booklet was illustrated by Miss Peg Rice.

It contains 24 pages of copy and sketches about Homecoming time. Costumes may be used but must not exceed the cost of four dollars each.

Ten minutes will be allotted to each group in which they must present the skits, present the skit and clear the stage. There is no limit to the number of participants in each skit.

Judges will choose the winners on the basis of originality, clarity of expression and presentation. The final judging will be held in the Amphitheatre and everyone is invited. Deadline for deadline has been set.

H'coming Elections Slated for Tuesday

"Today is the deadline for the submitting of Homecoming Queen candidates' photographs," emphasized Milton Caruthers, student chairman of the queen selection contest committee.

The pictures will be identified by numbers and placed on a bulletin board in Westcott Monday. All members of the student body will be eligible to vote in the primaries Tuesday. Polling hours are from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The five highest girls in the voting will constitute the queen's court. The final voting will take place on Friday, Nov. 7, at which time students will choose one of the five finalists as Homecoming Queen.

A preview sale of Homecoming Dance tickets will be held on Monday and Tuesday of next week in the new Student Union, in the Seminole Dinnie Hall, and behind Westcott at the bus stop. Sophomore Council will be in charge of the sale.

The second annual Homecoming Skit Contest, sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta and Sigma Nu, is open for entry by all residence halls and sorority and fraternity houses, reports announced.

A separate gold trophy will be awarded to the winning men's and women's organized groups. Last year's winners of the two trophies were Alpha Delta Pi and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

No outsiders will be permitted in the Lonesome Auditorium at the time of the preliminary tryouts for the skits on Nov. 5 and 6. Each competing group will be notified as to the time of tryouts.

The theme of each skit must be in some way to Homecoming. Costumes may be used but must not exceed the cost of four dollars each.

Ten minutes will be allotted to each group in which they must present the skits, present the skit and clear the stage. There is no limit to the number of participants in each skit.

Judges will choose the winners on the basis of originality, clarity of expression and presentation. The final judging will be held in the Amphitheatre and everyone is invited. Deadline for deadline has been set.

Third Frosh Play Set for Rehearsal; Eighteen Selected

"Stardust," the third annual freshman play production, is on its way according to Roger M. Busfield, faculty director. The play, a satirical comedy in three acts has as its setting a drama school in New Hampshire. Walter Kerr wrote the script.

Eighteen freshmen of a field of forty-five trying out were selected to a part in the play. They are Marion McDaniels, Starr Harvey, Polly Abel, Juliana Hodges, Irene Russell, Rose Bickel, Daryl Grace, Barabara Yost, Elin Johnson, June Mizell, Harry Elsison, Sara Holland, Barbara Rynskie, June Rogers, Beverly Brown, Jared Kay and David Waste.

"We just got started, but I think that it will be pretty good," comments Busfield. He remarked that all the freshmen selected were putting in a lot of time and effort.

"The purpose of the play," he stated, "is intended to display abilities and they have it.

Theater Dance Group Has 18 New Members

The Theater Dance Group recently took 18 women into their membership.

The annual performance will be Jan. 14-15.

New members are Lynn Price, Beth Jacob, Jo Anne Brooks, Susan Ball, Betty Ann Ray, Barbara Tribble, Irene Vamvaka, Carol Menbert, Alicia Petrakis, Linby Ferguson, Susan Lucas, Maisie Grice, Betty Gooch, Lou Rene Vaser, Joanne Breed, Faith Williams, Marion Weaver and Ginger Sparks.

President's Announcement Names Dr. Neel as 1st F.S.U. Chaplain

Dr. Samuel R. Neel Jr. of the philosophy department has been appointed Coordinator of Religious Activities, Chaplain of the University and professor of religion, according to an announcement by University Pres. Doak S. Campbell.

The appointment, effective tomorrow, will not mean a substantial new religious program now on campus, but rather will take care of additional needs. Dr. Neel will continue to teach religion courses and help in the development of a curriculum of religion. It will be the first time FSU has had an official chaplain.

DR NEEL says he is "quite happy" about his new duties. "I hope to work with the faculty, administration and religious leaders in the community in providing an adequate program of religion," he said, adding that he expects the liturgical development

First Infantry Regiment in Korea a unit that has won distinction in recent military battles for possession of Triangle Hill.

VOLUNTEERING FRONT in line of religious services in the battle zone areas. He was also on new experience for him as he also served as a combat chaplain with the Third Infantry Divis. During European Theater. He was taken prisoner by the German during the Battle of the Bulge and held in a German prisoner of war camp until liberated by the advancing allied forces.

Dr. Neel has been active in religious emphasis programs of the various student religious centers adjacent to the FSU campus. He has given numerous talks and sermons in churches over the state and on Georgia.

HE IS THE author of several

(Continued on Page 4)

Gymkana Show Set For Six Night Stand

Students Give Armed Services 126 Pints Blood

Staton Lauds Donors On Fine Cooperation In Third Annual Drive

Florida State contributed 126 pints of blood to the armed forces through the Red Cross Tuesday, Roy Staton, president of the Junior Class in charge, announced.

The men of Senior Hall contributed the most, with 25 pints. Gilchrist Hall followed with 19 pints. A Red Cross official termed the drive a success.

WINNERS OF the award have not yet been announced, however, as this is being determined by ratio basis. This will be set by taking the number of those in a group who actually gave and dividing them by the total number in the dormitory or house. Greek students living in dormitories who contributed will be credited to their sorority or fraternity totals.

"I am very proud of the students who gave," said Staton, "and I enjoyed working with people who put the lives of the men overseas ahead of their own personal comforts. I'd like to say thanks to all the blood captains. Sophomore Council, Alpha Phi Omega, Red Cross and all those students who helped make this drive possible."

Other organizations contributing were: Kappa Alpha Theta and Kappa Kappa Gamma, 19 pints each; Landis, 11; Kappa Delta, 7; Alpha Delta Pi, 6; Jennie Murphree, 5; Delta Zeta, 4; Gamma Phi Epsilon, 4; Kappa Alpha, Infirmary, faculty, Delta Zeta, Pi Beta Phi and day students, 2, and Sigma Chi, Gamma Phi Beta, Sigma Kappa, Pi Kappa Phi, Alpha Tau Omega, Zeta Tau Alpha, Lodge, each one pint.

Orlando FSU Alumni Plan Pre-Game Rally

A pep rally will precede the Florida State University-Stetson football game tomorrow night in Orlando.

Arranged by the FSU Alumni Association, sponsored by FSU's own Marching Chiefs and Cheerleaders, will begin in Cola Park in Orlando by the band shell at 6:30 p.m. and last till 7:30.

It is hoped that many FSU students will attend the game as the Homecoming festivities will be there in full force cheering their side. Game time is 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the Tangerine Bowl.

Picture Deadline Set by Tally-Ho

This coming Wednesday will be the last day to have pictures taken for the Tally Ho.

Students may have pictures taken at any time between 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon and 2:30 to 5:00 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Those students who have not picked up their proofs should do so during the above hours. All proofs now out are also due on Wednesday. If these are not returned the staff will chose the pictures to go in.

Organizations who wish to have their pictures made for the Tally Ho, should call or come by the Tally Ho office in the Student Union Building, from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Exemption Exams Set For Gen. Ed. Courses

The exemption examinations for General Education courses with the exception of communications and mathematics have been set for Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 12 and 13.

Students interested in taking these examinations should consult their convisors, deans or academic matters to such a recommendation which must be presented at the Test Service Bureau. These recommendations must be in the Test Service Bureau by noon, Monday, Nov. 10.

Student Activity Book Number To Gauge Nightly Ticket Sale

"Swift wings of fun and fantasy carry us over the moon beyond the stars to a magic playground OUT OF THIS WORLD where gravity is "non-existent", and where anything may happen."

This appropriate bit of nostalgia wraps up pretty well the atmosphere and expectation every spectator will experience when Gymkana 1952 sends out its legions of performers decked out in all their splendid array to present "Out of This World" beginning Monday night, Nov. 3, in the East Campus Gymnasium.

Pilot Dick Gunning and Co-Pilot Bob Martin blast off their rocket ship and lead their load of funseeking space-traveling passengers into a land of fun and frolic on other worlds.

The rocket launching will be an interpretation of Tiger Leaping. Following the rocket launching are a number of thrilling acts including "Solar Ray", "Celestial Parade," "Space Tots," "Mercury Cycle", an interpretation on the bicycle, a comedy "Flying Saucers"; "Royal Children of the Sun," a double balancing act and "Astral Beam," feats on the balancing beam.

Next comes "Cosmic Calisthenics", "Stardust," an acrobatic number, a solo vocal, "How High the Moon," "Stairway to the

(Continued on Page 4)

Recent Ceremonies Pledge Forty-five To Social Sororities

Thirteen of Florida State's 16 social sororities took their pledges into their groups recently.

New pledges and their sororities are:

ALPHA CHI OMEGA: Barbara Bachman and Evelyn Simmons.

Alpha Omicron Pi: Sarah Pitcher, Patsy Halberstadt, Jane Ellen Jones, Carolyn Landis, Linda Prostov and Rose Ellen Riles.

Alpha Xi Delta LaDonie Akinmon, Wilma Bryant, Mary Wild Davis, June E. McGill, Patricia Ann Robinson and Sylvia White.

Chi Omega Sarah Elizabeth Hambley and Shirley Shull.

Delta Delta Delta: Jane Putnam and Louanne Self.

Delta Gamma: Susy Cook and Carolyn Hall.

Delta Zeta: Joan Mabry and Hettie Jane Williams.

Gamma Phi Beta: Jayne Owen, Barbara Roberson, Patricia Shapiron and Betty Sue Williams.

Kappa Alpha Theta: Mary Ann Matthews, Carolyn Williams and Sue Young.

PHI MU: Alice Henley and Pauline Saunders.

Pi Beta Phi: Virian Matthews, Rose Ellen Moore and Helen Whitemore.

Sigma Kappa: Patricia Cooper, Ann Gish, Charlotte Hall, Nancy Cants, Julia Ann Tullos and Jerry Turner.

Zeta Tau Alpha: Margaret Barr, Virginia Ann Cook, Nancy Lou Pazan, Sue Humphrys, Pat Lauf and June Winters.

Freshmen Initiated By Home Ec Club

Twenty Freshmen were initiated into the Home Economics Club recently in a candle light service.

They are Elizabeth McClendon, Marie Cooper, Ann Murray, Donna Rider, Edna Johnson, Marilyn Nichols, Mary Alice Claypool, Carol DeVore, June Murray, Louise Johnson, Carol Fulkerson, Jean McFarland, Carol MacCoy, Jean Northrop, Gerry Ferry, Jo Blanton, Dorothy Hordusky, Marian Stephenson, Joanne Brooks and Joan Braswell.

The Home Economics Club activities began with the annual tea in the Home Management House for the freshmen. The tea was held in cooperation with Omicron Nu, Home Economics Honorary. All home economics majors are invited to the next meeting Nov. 5, according to Dot Douglas, president.

Friends Meet Sunday

There will be a "Friends" meeting Sunday at 6:45 p.m. at the W. Lafayette St. The Friends is a religious organization of Quakers.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

Chest Results Still Unknown

Money Keeps Coming As Total Hits $1600

Donations for Campus Chest are being counted to determine who will get the University Government Cup for turning in the most money, announced the Campus Chest Committee.

To date, approximately $1 600 has been turned in. Official returns will not be revealed until the final count is in.

THE ORGANIZATION turning in the most money will be awarded this cup in recognition of their service," said Marjorie Thompson, chairman.

All organizations are urged to turn in their money in the locked Hour Lonsmire by noon tomorrow Saturday. This deadline was moved up from last Tuesday after so many organizations failed to turn in their respective donations.

THE ALPHA XI DELTAS reported to the Campus Chest committee that they would make up whatever the committee decided on the bonus. This bonus was intended for the organization best represented at the Forum which Wednesday night. The committee failed to announce a minimum, and when only a total of thirteen showed up, there was some discussion as to whether it should be awarded. The Campus Chest committee reported at their weekly meeting that they had received only one $10 bonus to the Alpha Xi Delta's.

Flynn, de Haviland Star in Free Movie Depicting Old Poem

The Freshman Men's Dormitory will be the theater for a free movie at 8 o'clock performance of "The Charge of the Eight Brigade," starring Errol Flynn and Olivia de Haviland.

The movie is based on the famous Tennyson poem of the same name.

Monday night a technicolor picture, "The Black Rose," will begin. The movie stars Tyrone Power, Orson Welles, Cecile Aubry and Jack Hawkins.

It depicts the adventure of a young baron, played by Power, in Dormitory. All week night showings begin at 7:30 and those on Friday start at 8.

Ruge Hall Celebrates All Saints' Day Nov. 1

The Rev. Walter K. Morely, resident chaplain at Ruge Hall, will officiate at a special All Saints' Day celebration of Holy Communion Saturday, Nov. 1, at 7:05 a.m., in Ruge Hall.

Sunday evening, at 6 p.m., the Rev. Robert R. Parks, former Florida State University Episcopal chaplain, presently rector of St. Pauls Episcopal Church, Quincy, will present an informal talk, "Protestant and Catholic Aspects of the Episcopal Church." A supper prepared by Phyllis Keith and Harry Gaines will precede the talk which is the closer of the Ruge Hall Halloween activities.

French Club To Meet

The French Club will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Student Union. All members are urged to be present. Plans for a social meeting and officers will be elected.

Shores Opens Conference

Nine Florida State students and four faculty members of the School of Library Science and Training attended the Southeastern Library Association's Fifteenth Biennial Conference in Atlanta, Ga. yesterday.

Students attending were Helen Black, Dewey Glass, Barbara Hendry, Lucretia Mackey, Bo Roehrig, John F. Murray, Richard Newman, Ruth Phillips and Mary Ten Eick. Faculty are Dr. Louis Shores, dean, and Miss Mary Edna Anders, Miss Agnes Gregory and Dr. John W. Mitchell.

DR. SHORES is outgoing president of the organization which is to promote library interests and services, to cooperate with regional and national agencies with related interests, and to stimulate research in library and related problems in the region.

The FSU dean opened the general session yesterday with a speech in which he said, somehow we in the Southeast can demonstrate effective mobilization of the research and dissemination forces of our 3,000 academic, community, schools of specialized libraries through our professional association, we may well create the greatest single weapon of World War III."

APPROXIMATELY 5,000 librarians in the nine Southeastern states are represented in the association. Members attending heard special sections on cataloguing, audio-visual specialties, public library work, school library work and college and university library work.

Among the outstanding speakers were Amy Winslow, director of the Enoch Pratt Free Library of Baltimore, George D. Garner, vice-president of the Southern Bell Telephone Co. of Atlanta, and Ralph Shaw, librarian of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

DR. SHORES also presided over a session called "Book Evening." Music was provided by the Georgia Tech Glee Club. Two addresses were given, "The Fine Art of Book Collecting," by James Barton Childers, associate editor of the Atlanta Journal and "Regionalism in Literature" by William T. Couch, editor of Collier's Encyclopedia.

Dr. John Mitchell of FSU spoke on "Audio-Visual Ways and Means," showing a display of materials. Edna E. Van Syoc of the FSU library was in charge of the cataloger's section.

Little Man on Campus

"Oh, she has a pretty mouth all right, Worthal—it's just that most Freshman girls are a little bashful on blind dates."

Receipts Show State's Growth In Fiscal Year

The growth and progress of Florida during the past year was reflected in the rise of total revenue receipts of $300,718,325 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1951, to $330,360,778 for the fiscal year which ended this June.

Lewis H. Tribble, head of the legal department and general counsel for the State Comptroller's office, told a class here last Tuesday night studying public administration problems of Florida some of this increase was reflected in the revenues from the sales and use tax which rose from $47,624,938 in 1951 to $54,114,589 this year. Also in racing tax which increased from $13,516,318 last year to $15,251,211 in 1952.

THE SPEAKER expressed the belief that the law enforcement effort toward curbing activities of illegal racing bookies was responsible, at least in part, for the increase in the racing tax to the state.

A former dean of the law school at Stetson University before becoming associated with the State Comptroller's office in 1941, Tribble explained that he was formerly one of the many duties of the comptroller and his services on numerous state boards.

HE SAID the state comptroller is the largest tax collector in Florida, collecting the various funds such as gasoline, sales and use, beverage, cigarette, racing, unemployment taxes, motor vehicle licenses and other funds and making disbursements of state funds as required by law.

He said where formerly there were many funds handled by the state comptroller, the State Legislature in recent years consolidated these into five major state funds. These are the General Fund, State Agency Fund, General Inspection Fund, State Road Fund and Trust Fund.

THE STATE official explained that under Florida law no deficit financing is permitted by the state. Only in an extreme emergency of repelling and invasion or suppressing an insurrection can the state borrow money against state credit.

Placement Office Helps Seniors Wishing Jobs

A large number of seniors have already taken advantage of the services offered by the Placement Office, according to Glover E. Tully, Director of Vocational Guidance and Placement.

For the benefit of those seniors who haven't yet availed themselves of placement services, Tully points out the simplicity of the process.

WE WANT to know each senior's specialization and the type of degree he plans to get. We'd like to know the kind of position he's looking for and his location preferences. In that way—and in no other—can we help him find the job he's most nearly four years preparing for."

Seniors who are going into the service after graduation have been especially urged to stop by the Placement Office, located in the Westcott, to file this information so that it will be on record when they return to civilian life. Mr. Tully reports that within the past few months the Placement Office has helped find employment for several returning veterans who had signed up for placement before leaving the University. During the years these graduates were in the service they had lost touch with many prospective employers and found it necessary to call upon the Placement Office for assistance.

"IT'S A different story for the returning veterans who did not sign up for placement before graduation," Mr. Tully says. "We're doing everything we can to help them, but they feel that their failure to sign up during their Senior year now handicaps them in finding a job."

Even among graduating seniors who have definite plans or "job promises" there seems to be a trend toward filing for placement services. This trend, Tully says, is a good one inasmuch as quite often a graduating Senior's plans will change at the last minute and he will find it necessary to call upon the Placement Office for assistance. Such assistance is most easily provided if the graduating Senior has already listed his name with the placement office as a candidate for a position.

FSU Newman Group Initiates Forty-Three Into Membership

Newman Club, the Catholic organization at Florida State University, recently initiated 43 new members, announces Bert Hollander, president.

The officers of the organization: Bert Hollander, president; Jim Friend, vice-president; Betty Palermo, recording secretary; Betty Christ, treasurer; Mary Rotherham, freshman advisor; Ginny Sandy, corresponding secretary and Vic Ruseaitis, parliamentarian, performed the initiation ceremonies. After the ceremony and explanation of the ideals, Jim Friend, vice-president, read the names of the new members.

INITIATES ARE Orchid Alonso, Donna Ridge, Malinda Ulina, John Sweeney, Frank Bertoni, Donald White, Mike Sheridan, John Straub, Paula Inez Jones, Mary Louise Brevelle, Betty Gooch and Murray Durack.

Also Sue Thomas, Ann Yeoman, Bert Watson, Sheldon Musgrove, Carole MacCory, Ruth Reed, Mary Louise Dee, Pat Allen, Rita Lecler, Shirley Johnson, Irma Allou, Mary Rhat, Jan Courturo, Anne Cory, Bebee Bubee, Irma Simpson and Isabel Sullivan.

OTHERS ARE Alice Petruska, Lorna Mapes, Jean Weikert, Sonya Marvelino, Nancy Nelson, Beverly Dupercrouel, Yvette Wonnet, Dick Corriveau, Charlie Jacobs, Vence Bhasr, Joe Mottobese, Alicia McCarthy, Les Collins and Charlene Nelson.

The Newman organization has as their faculty sponsor, Dr. James J. O'Donnell of the University Hospital. Mrs. Murray Sharkey is housemother. Honorary members voted in to the Newman Club are Miss Lena Beck from the parish, and Cornhill Murray. Newest honorary members voted in were Dr. and Mrs. Paul Courlin, who for many years were sponsors for the organization.

Music School Elects

Ed Carroll has been elected treasurer of the student group majoring in the School of Music.

Student officers previously elected include James Harris, president; Marv Ann Bohlayer, vice-president, and Calvin D. Hasbrouck, secretary.

State Budget Director Addresses F.S.U. Class

THE STATE BUDGET director said that with the exception of intangible taxes, state ad valorem taxes on real property have been eliminated by the State Legislature in Florida in favor of other measures.

The operations and intricities of the State Budget Commission and the function of the state budget director were explained to a Florida State University class in public administration Tuesday night by Homer Graham, state budget director.

Graham explained to the class that while in some states the governor can exert considerable power over various state budgets, the State Budget Commission in Florida functions as a seven member board in which the governor and all board members have an equal vote.

THE SPEAKER explained that many factors are involved in making up the various budgets of the state department and institutions, including estimate of revenues as one of the most important things to be considered.

After the general appropriations bill containing the various budgets has been adopted by the State Legislature and is sent to the governor for approval, the Governor has the power to veto any particular item or provision in the budget not acceptable to him.

Pre-Medical Honorary To Meet November 3

Alpha Epsilon Delta, the pre-medical honorary, will meet Monday, Nov. 3 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 406 of the Longmire Building.

At a previous meeting this year Dr. J. Paul Reynolds was elected faculty advisor. Officers chosen were Henry Redd Jr., president; Gould Garcia, vice-president; Hiram Stephens, treasurer and Patricia Crum secretary.

FSU Music Instructor Ta Fill Vacant Office

C. M. Carroll, faculty member of the School of Music, is second vice-president pro-tem of the Florida State Music Teachers Association, the state-wide organization for all teachers of music.

Carroll was elected to the office at the state convention of the association, held in Miami Oct. 26-28. He will fill the unexpired term of office of Prof. Gwen Sellers, FSU music professor currently on leave of absence while studying for his doctor's degree.

Texas Party Planned By Methodist Students

The Methodist students are planning a Texas Hoe-Down for Friday night at the Student House. The party, including a square dance, will start at 8 p.m.

Bill Petty will call the dances, with Chuck Clark leading a game of truth and consequences. Woody Parker and his group of Delta Tau Delta's will sing, and refreshments will be served.

Fremac's
302 S. MONROE

CORDUROY Sport Coats 12.95
Gives a fellow that dashing he-man look. Fine pinwale corduroy. Fully rayon lined. Charcoal, rust, green, tan, maroon. Shorts, longs, regulars. All sizes.

CORDUROY Sport Shirts 4.98
Washable, fine pinwale corduroy. Wears and wears. 2-way collar... Pleated back for extra comfort. Extra well tailored. Maroon, Forest green, gold, tan, grey, scarlet, maize. All sizes

We took out all our windows; Our door fell down last night; Our garbage can is out of sight; We've taken to the swing.

"Everything for the Shoe"
• Expert Shoe Repairing
• Dye Shoes All Color
• Shoe Shine Kits
PALACE SHOE SHOP
"THE HOUSE THAT SERVICE BUILT"
121 EAST PARK AVENUE

Superb Service
Keeps Your Car In Tip-Top Shape
CALHOUN AMOCO SERVICE STATION
131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

Dine with us
Tired, Worn Out, Sick, or Classes Come at and Pep Up With One of Our Milk Shakes Country Fried Chicken Roast Pork and Dressing Fried Fish in the
Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

NYLON HOSIERY SPECIAL
ALL DAY SATURDAY
Flatterit
MEASURED-TO-FIT HOSIERY

Beautiful 60 Gauge Ladies' Nylon Hosiery, New Fall Shades
$1.00 pair
Turner's

There's lots of excitement around the dance floor—greeting old friends, making new ones. Part of the fun of campus parties is the pause to enjoy a Coke. It's delicious... refreshing, too.

Campus capers call for Coke

DRINK Coca-Cola

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

...But only Time will Tell . . . . . .

CAMEL leads all other brands by billions of cigarettes per year!

Test CAMELS for 30 days for Mildness and Flavor

CAMELS are America's most popular cigarette. To find out why, test them as your steady smoke. Smoke only Camels for thirty days. See how rich and flavorful they are — pack after pack! See how mild CAMELS are — week after week!

ICE CREAM SCOOP

VOTERS TO MAKE IMPORTANT DECISION

By EARL HENRY

... ...ion's voters will ... ...s to make one of the ... ...t decisions ever ... ...ce the people of America. ... ...ue but the main ... ...ll centralize ... ...ecurity, not only ... ...t four distinct ... ...s a much greater ...

...ting merely for the sake ... ...publican, if ever, ge... But there are many ex... reasons behind the needed ... parties at this time. We ... ...ve the two party sys... ...when your government ... and we must seek from ... source a remedy for the ... in which our govern... now finds itself. The Demo... have not found such a rem... as it is not logical that we let Republican party try their ... finding a solution?

The two party system pre... ...ses that no one party ... remain in control for such ... period as to endanger the ... of the system. It is a ... rule of government ... a faction which enjoys un... ...leadership year after ... eventually becomes bogged ... in internal corruption and ... Such is the case ... the Democratic party ... has been in power for the ... 20 years.

The Democrats have betrayed ... of the American people ... fostered a distrust of ... ...rnment in the hearts of ... A nation which has no ... government is a rest... and unhealthy nation.

... Democrats are quick to ... that the present administra... leaves much to be desired, ... hasten to add that their ... Adlai Stevenson, will be ... to right the wrongs which ... ...ch has created in the gov... ...

SEE THE CUFF

COLUMNIST LAUGHS AT NEWS MAGAZINES

By BRUCE GALPHIN

... political campaign gets ... toucher and nastier, it ... to be more something to get ... of. I can relax and ... a healthy laugh every time I ... one of the big national news ...

... week I wrote a column ... the timidity of public opin... polls. But no matter how ... the polls been and how ... seeming anywhere in par... they can't hold a candle ... Newsweek, U. S. News ... also by weekend. Right now ... publications are funnier ... the professional humor mag... .

... way to see where their ... interest lies. Some of them ... honestly come out with an ... dorsement of Eisenhower; the ... more unquestionably play up ... in a more favorable manner ... Adlai Stevenson.

... naturally, these magazines ... their circulation depends in ... part upon their validity in ana... and predicting the election. ... they are torn between an at... to favor the Ike and the vague ...

...OMINOLF SCENES

HIGHER EDUCATION HAS RUINED HALOWEEN

By FRANCES CAWTHON

... allow mentioned word ... to Halloween, that time ... year when you take the ... of a mask and the water ice ... and bob for bobbins for ... apples (probably has a ... ...ance).

Halloween is a jolly section of the season. Ghosts, spirits from the dead, reign supreme and orange and black candy is 25 cents a pound. The only ... you need about Halloween is ... Higher education won't, if it is celebrated it; i.e., be excused from classes.

... so near before we learned, ... and nothing didn't exist ... the only use for a broom is to ... the living room floor. There ... every evening in Halloween now ... Trade Fair; nobody makes ... anybody. Seances are ... ... of style and fortune tell... are having to use their cards ... for poker to make a living. Sad, sad, sad . . .

In these chrome and stainless steel days, Machine seems to be the master of Man. We might as well face the fact. A Seminole had his fascinated eyes glued to ... things the other day, though, and almost got hurt in the process of ... ...ving her superiority.

She was in one of these little miniature sized cars—both familiar with it, either—when it began to roll downhill. A little frightened, she forgot to apply the brake, but instead jumped outside, grabbed the back end of the car and yelled for help.

The car, naturally, outfoxed her, and went bouncing down a hill with the Seminole wildly trying to pull it back in place and yelling for help. The car finally crashed into a fence, and the girl took home a scratched hand and fear that Stevenson may pull through and make any prediction of a Republican victory an unfortunate one, to say the least.

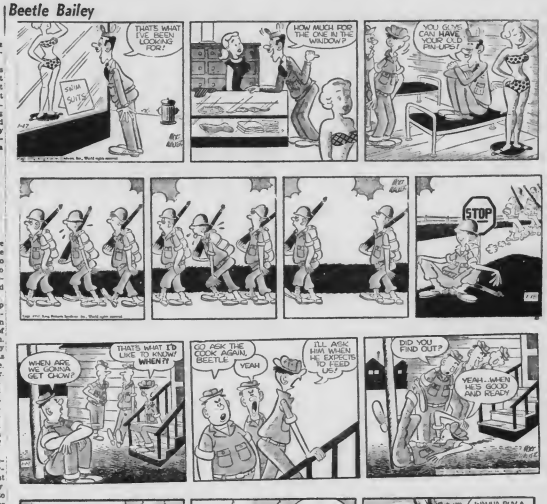
The result is some sort of statement alone this line: "If he seems assured of carrying this state, unless large numbers of people vote for Stevenson." "Polls show Eisenhower to be "way out front in this state and he surely will carry it unless last minute shifting and hard work by city precinct workers change the picture."

In short, they are saying, "Eisenhower will win if Stevenson doesn't." Pardon me while I go into the news weekly business. I can make predictions that astute myself.

. . .

And speaking of predictions, I am ready to go out on a limb. Political prediction is a risky and unrewarding that I swear off it periodically, but so interesting that I swear back on just as often.

Prediction: Adlai Stevenson will win the presidency with at least 276 electoral votes (10 more than are needed) and possibly as many as 383. Eisenhower sentiment is probably overrated in the South, so 120 Southern electoral votes seem pretty safely Democratic.



The border states, with the exception of Maryland and Delaware, seem safe, too, contributing 47 more votes. The other states which make the remainder of the 276 minimum are Arizona, Illinois, Massachusetts, New Mexico, New York, Rhode Island and Washington.

New York is the key to the election. Presidents can and do, even without it, but in this election it seems crucial. I believe Stevenson will carry it because Governor Dewey carried the state by only a few votes in 1948. At least 300,000 of the half million Wallace votes from 1948 can be counted on to vote Democratic in 1952. The Negro vote, which is no real preference among Dewey, Truman and Wallace (all strong civil rights men) is now behind Governor Stevenson.

Faulty predictions are the stuff with which post-election crow pies are made, so if next week I write about the horrible effects of a Dali painting, you'll know why.

Beetle Bailey

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BABS HENRY—Managing Editor — FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors . . . Marcia Morris, Bruce Galphin
Sports Editors . . . Jim Couch, Jim Early
Copy Editor . . . Dorothy Barnes
Feature Editor . . . June Morgan
Assistant News Editor . . . Al Pierce
Circulation Editor . . . John Hornsby

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York
Telephone 2-3001, Extension 6621 — Second Floor Annex Bldg

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Danforth Foundation Offers Fellowships To Seniors, Grads

Florida State Seniors and recent graduates may apply for Graduate Fellowships for their first year of graduate study through the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Mo. These awards will go to those preparing for a career of college teaching.

The Foundation welcomes applicants from the fields of natural sciences, social sciences, humanities and others found in the undergraduate college.

FRES. BOAK S. Campbell has named Glover E. Tully, director of vocational guidance and placement here as the Liaison Officer to work with the Foundation on the selection of candidates. These appointments are primarily "a relationship of encouragement," carrying a promise of financial aid within prescribed conditions as there may be need. Students with or without financial need may apply.

All Danforth Fellows will participate in the annual Danforth Foundation Conference on Teaching, to be at Camp Minwanca in Michigan next September.

THE QUALIFICATIONS of the candidates are: "Personal traits of superior intellectual ability in the college record; good health and emotional stability; good personality, desire to go into teaching, and deep religious convictions."

Florida State will be limited to the nomination of two or three candidates. Any student wishing further information may contact Glover E. Tully, 203 Westcott.

Press Is Essential In Free Democracy

In a free democracy newspapers are essential to acquaint voters with governmental problems and to keep them informed about the condition of their democracy, according to J. Lewis Hall, attorney for Leon County.

Mr. Hall spoke before a class in the reporting of public affairs at the School of Journalism recently. Introduced by Dr. Sidney Kobre, professor of journalism, the attorney pointed out that it is essential that newspapers not only inform readers about what is going on in government on every level, but also to stimulate their interest in public affairs.

"It is a well-known fact that no people get any better government than they deserve," he asserted. "The press has a responsibility to give the public adequate information about national, state and local government. It must arouse their interest so that they will take part in public affairs and vote."

The attorney outlined the road, health, drainage, zoning and other problems being created now as a result of the population expansion of Leon county. The advanced reporting class is studying the methods of covering county news, and Hall provided background. The class also attended a meeting of the Leon County Commission on Thursday and reported the news. Student-reporters also wrote features and newsarticles on county departments and interviewed Zoning Director Huell Wheeler.

Board Authorizes CPA Examination

A semi-annual examination for candidates seeking to become certified public accountants has been authorized by the State Board of Accountancy for Tuesday through Friday, Nov. 5-7, in the Longmire Auditorium of Florida State University at Tallahassee.

Charles C. Colley, Jr., recently appointed member of the board, will supervise the examinations which will be confined to candidates who have made their applications in advance to the board and had them approved. Arrangements for taking the examination at FSU were made through William Basford, president of the Tallahassee Chapter, Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Bryan Wilks, state auditor, and Edward Tremley, professor of accounting in the FSU School of Business.

Aid To Disabled Vets Given By Gamma Phi's

The American Legion Auxiliary will have assistance from the Beta Mu Chapter of Gamma Phi Beta social sorority in the annual sale of poppies Nov. 11 and 12 to disabled American Veterans and their families.

The Gamma Phi Betas are helping up now at their chapter house to participate according to Jo Douglas, sorority president, and Margaret Valero, chairman of the committee in charge.

The group also participates every year in the sale of the poppies made by hospitalized veterans.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Science Fellowships Available In Medicine and Other Fields

Students may apply for the National Science Foundation Fellowships in the biological, mathematical, engineering, medical and physical sciences through the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, 203 Westcott.

Basic stipends range from $1,400 to $3,400 per year. The fellowships will also provide payment of tuition and fees, dependency allowances for married fellows and limited travel allowances.

APPOINTMENTS are for one year. Deadline for applying is Jan. 5, 1953, with awards being made in April. Applicants for predoctoral fellowships will be required to take an examination designed to test scientific aptitude and achievement.

Applications will be evaluated by committees of scientists appointed by the National Research Council, with final selection by the Foundation.

FELLOWSHIPS will be awarded in four categories: first year, for those entering graduate study or those having completed less than one year of graduate study; intermediate, for those who have completed at least a year of graduate work, but need more than one additional year for a PhD; terminal, to those who expect to receive a PhD within one calendar year, and postdoctoral, to those who have a PhD in science or the equivalent in scientific training.

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!

Wherever the formal occasion—wear fashionably correct clothes, at reasonable rental prices!

$6.50

Nic's Joggery

Tallahassee People With Autos Sought

The Willmark Service System, Inc., has a representative in Tallahassee looking for people who have automobiles and are able to travel within a 300-mile radius of Tallahassee.

The work involves no soliciting, no door to door canvassing, but does require a responsible person. People are paid on a fee basis plus expenses which includes mileage on your automobile and accommodations for overnight trips.

The employment is designed to supplement incomes and does not require ovenight trips frequently.

Anyone interested should contact the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement to make an appointment to talk to the representative of the Willmark Service System.

Classified Ads

LOST: Green leather billfold in library or Seminole dining hall. Please return contents to Betty Lou Wharton, Pi Phi House Ph. 2-2462.

Bill Swiacki, veteran end on the Detroit Lions in the NFL, owns an insurance agency in his home town of Southbridge, Mass.

President Announces Newman Club Events

A busy weekend for Newman Club members has been scheduled by Bert Hollander, president.

Tonight, there will be a Halloween Party at the Newman House. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments are planned.

Tomorrow, is Holy Day of Obligation. Mass will be said at the Newman House at 7 p.m.

Sunday afternoon at 5:30, there will be a wiener roast at the Newman House Yard. Girls are to wear dungarees. Following the wiener roast, there will be movies, starting at 7:30.

Dean to Give Talks

Miss Katherine Warren, Dean of Women, will travel to Knoxville, Tennessee this weekend, to attend a meeting of the East Tennessee Teacher's Association.

She will speak to the Division of Deans and Counselors at a luncheon meeting Friday, October 31, and also to the Negro Division of Deans and Counselors.

Templeton to Solo

(Continued From Page 1)

"Symphonic Scenario" from the smash Broadway hit, "South Pacific." Robert Sedore, concert-master of the orchestra, will be violin soloist, playing the brilliant "Rondo Capricciosc" by Saint-Saens. J. Dayton Smith, tenor, will be the third soloist on this program; he will sing two tenor arias, one of these being the famous "Celeste Aida" of Verdi.

TICKETS FOR the symphony series will go on sale today, according to C. M. Carroll, manager of the State Symphony of Florida. All seats will be reserved, and ticket sales will be by mail only. Ticket application forms, with a seating chart of the auditorium, are available at the School of Music office today, Carroll said. All concerts will be played in Leon High School Auditorium this year.

Due to the limited seating capacity of Leon High Auditorium, only 1,216 seats can be sold for the season. All ticket orders will be filled in the order received, Mr. Carroll announced, with "first come, first served" the method of operation. Season book price this year for the three concerts is $5, tax exempt.

Gymkana Show Set

(Continued From Page 1)

Stars" done on tables and chairs and "Stellar Side Horse."

THEN THE PROGRAM launches into "Shooting Stars," a fast moving tumbling act; "Interstellar Olympics," an interpretation on the parallel bars between two planets; a tap dance, "Empyrial Rhythm" and "Flying Comets" on the rings.

Final acts include "Stratosphere Table," or trampoline, that popular feature on Gymkana; "Birds of the Elements" featuring wind and fire interpretations; the "Startling Sebastian," a closely guarded secret act and finally the "Lunar-dics," a comedy routine on the trampolette.

"The production this year promises to be an action-packed, well-coordinated piece of showmanship calculated to entertain both young and old alike," stated several members of the production committee in commenting on the show's progress.

"SPECIAL PLANS for ticket-allotment have been made by the community ticket sales to cope with the large crowds expected to attend this year's "Gift of This World," stated Mr. Ralph E. Mayberry, Business Manager of Athletics at Florida State University.

Dr. William Tait Is Granted Degree By N. Y. University

By NT UNIVERSITY

William J. Tait, assistant professor of education and director of recreation curriculum at Florida State University has been awarded a Doctor of Education degree at New York University's School of Education, department of health, physical education and recreation according to an announcement of the school's faculty.

Dr. Tait completed studies and extensive research on training of recreation specialists and wrote his thesis on "An Evaluation Device for the Professional Preparation of Recreation Personnel."

Formulating a pattern of 108 criteria, the thesis sets down an evaluation system to help schools identify their strengths and weaknesses in undergraduate programs for preparation of recreational leaders. According to Dr. Tait's findings, while there are no national set standards by which a school can measure its competence in this area, professional preparation in recreation is gradually assuming a definite pattern.

THE AUTHOR also stresses Florida's work toward filling its many residents' recreational needs. "I feel that one of the greatest problems facing Florida today," states Dr. Tait, "is the development of the tourist recreation program and facilities and the lack of year-round community recreational program to fill the needs of Florida's citizens."

"RECOGNITIONS of year-round residents' needs is gradually developing, but we have a long way to go," the authority continues, "and at Florida State we are trying to help solve this problem by short courses in recreation, field consultation, the organization of "skeleton" leagues and demonstration programs in recreation."

Tully Urges FSU Grads Take Their Placement Interviews Soon

"All Seniors who expect to graduate, and candidates for degrees, even though they are not interested in finding employment should sign up for their placement interviews," stated Glover E. Tully, Director of the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement.

Students may sign up at any time either by signing the bulletin on the Vocational Guidance bulletin board on the lower floor of Westcott or by dropping by the office on 2nd floor Westcott.

IT APPEARS that there has been some misunderstanding concerning registering for the placement interviews. Many students think that registering for an interview signifies their interest in finding a job. This is not correct. Even though he is not interested in the placement services now, the senior should register at the office in January to recruit prospective employers from the January graduates and in March, April and May they will recruit from the June class. If the seniors don't register, the office has no way of contacting them to be interviewed for these positions.

Dr. Neel, Chaplain

(Continued From Page 1)

religious articles which have been published in such publications as "Religion in Life," the "Christian Advocate" and the "Adult Student." He is one of the contributors to a book, "General Education, A University Program In Action," and author of a book, "Personal Development," dealing with philosophy, psychology and religion as they apply to personal development. The latter book is being used at FSU as a textbook.

Dr. Neel has his AB degree from Emory and Henry College and his Ph.D. in Philosophy of Religion from Duke University. He is a member of the American Philosophical Association, the Southern Society of Philosophy and Psychology, the National Association of Biblical Instructors and the American Association of University Professors. He is also a member of the Blue Key and of the Omicron Delta Kappa honorary fraternities.

PRIOR TO COMING to FSU, Dr. Neel worked in student religious activities on the campuses of Kalamazoo College and Western Michigan College. Previous to that he served as Professor of Religion at Lambuth College in Jackson, Tennessee.

He is married and has two children, Helen Virginia, 10, and Samuel Neel III, 6. The Neels live at 1805 Lenora Drive in Tallahassee.

Classified Ads

LOST: Square-linked silver bracelet with blue stones in each link. Reward offered for return. Call Miss Disterhaft, extension 3261.

PERSONAL: Dear P. D.—I would like to apologize publicly for letting you down. I hope that my subsequent actions have made up for any inconvenience I may have been caused.—Sincerely, B. D.

LOST:—Pair of glasses, clear plastic half rims with gold rimmed bottoms. J. Henry Carter, Rm. 892 or Room 626 Prashner Hall.

LOST: Will person finding billfold in Choral Union room Tuesday night please return papers to Music Bldg office.

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

CAMERON'S TEXACO SERVICE STATION

566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

Formerly Moats Service Station

Friday Special

WHOLE BROILED

FLORIDA LOBSTER

With French Fries and Drawn Butter, Chef Salad

97c

Seven Seas

WASHABLE FOAM RUBBER BOOTEES

by BARRY

The Flat Foam with ¾" foam sole

Red-Black Check Flannel

Green-Black Check Flannel

White/Black Check Flannel

1.98

both in sizes

S — M — L

4 to 3½ . . . 6-7½ . . . 8-10

The Angel Tread Bootee with ½" foam sole

★ Red Corduroy

★ Blue Corduroy

★ Green Corduroy

all with oak leaf design

1.98

1.98

Barry . . . the originator of the washable foam rubber bootee now brings you new improvements, a new long wearing, non-skid sole, new elastic gripper for better fit and in new exclusive patterns . . . all for 1.98 and no tax.

Ours Alone

MILLER'S Cootery

College Ave.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

The Motion Picture Headquarters IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA

Today and Saturday

"Somebody Loves Me"

with Betty Hutton and Ralph Meeker

STATE

Today Thru Tuesday

"Monkey Business"

with Cary Grant, Ginger Rogers, Marilyn Monroe and Charles Coburn

RITZ

Today and Saturday

AL "LASH" LaRUE

in

"Thundering Trail"

also

"Yukon Gold"

with Kirby Grant

DRIVE-IN

Dick Powell in

'The Tall Target'

also

"Captive of Billy the Kid"

with Allan "Rocky" Lane

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT

SEE A MOVIE NOW!

See Us for FSU FOOTBALL TICKETS

Jarman SHOES FOR MEN

Jarman Royal Grains

8.95 to 12.95

Luxury leather for winter weather

Jarman's handsome new plain toe blucher in durable lustrous pebble grain leather is unmistakably crafted for men accustomed to compliments. And it is just as practical as it's smart—the winter favorite of style-wise, comfort-wise men everywhere. Try a pair today.

Alford Brothers

212 SO. MONROE

"Everything for the Student"

- Sundries, Pipes
- FSU, Fraternity and Sorority Decals
- Whitman's Candy
- Felt Goods
- Magazines, "I Go Pogo"

"WE HAVE USED BOOKS"

MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE

107 South Copeland

There are no fires on our car. The rake is out of reach. And—oh yes, hungry Fido Was taken off his leash.

Vote Today
For Homecoming Queen.
See Page One Story.

Florida

SEMINOLES

Homecoming Dance
Tickets on Sale
Today.

VOL. XXXIX, No. 13 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4 1952

Gymkana Presents Out of This World

Show Premiered Last Night in Gym; Contest Winner Announced Saturday

"Out of This World" goes into its second showing tonight at 8 in the Women's Gymnasium. The Gymkana production will last through Saturday, at which time the winner of the Miss Gymkana Contest will be announced.

The prologue of the show is given by Radio Man Howie Gould, with the children of Outer Space, the Tallahassee Tumbling Tots.

DICK GETSINGER and Bob Marvin open the program with "Pilot and Co-Pilot," followed by "Robot" with Carol Ann Stevens. "Crewmen" will be acted out by Dick Kurtsteiner and Gene Abrahamson.

Some of the other acts of the program will consist of acrobatics on the ladder and chairs, fast tumbling, parallel bars, tap dances, workouts on the rings, trampoline, adagios, ballets, high bars and comedy sketches.

Tickets for the shows are on sale at the Bookstore, FSU students will be admitted for a special price upon presentation of their ID cards.

MEN PERFORMERS in the troupe will be Carmine Regna and Joe Regna Co-Captains, Gymnastic Team; Gene Abrahamson, Bob Bollinger, Edson Evans, Jim Fadjian, Bill Marshall, Dick Gunning, Kent Heberling, Don Holder, Dick Ireland, Al Jurus, William Kosloff, Jerry Lee, Donnie Hollis, Jack Miles, Al Ruda, Pat Sigmon, Jack Sharp, Jim Tatsas, Ben Wallace, Harmel Weaver, Lawrence Weston.

Henry Bass, Daniel Bozeman, Byron Campbell, Bud Chandler, Jack Chesser, Thomas Conkling, Humberto Cuesta, Jerry Edwards, Robert Elliott, Grant Hibbard, Herb Hoeffner, Jerry Jones, R. C. Johnson, James Kyle, W. Osterhoudt, W. R. Neulett, Louis Nuedo, Teodoro Pallas, Dick Quisling, Kent Rehberling, Don Holder, Dick Ireland, Al Jurus, William Kosloff, Jerry Lee, Donnie Hollis, Jack Miles, Al Ruda, Pat Sigmon, Jack Sharp, Jim Tatsas, Ben Wallace, Harmel Weaver, Lawrence Weston.

TUMBLING TOTS—This year's Gymkana show again features the Tallahassee Tumbling Tots who have proved in the past to be one of the most popular acts in the show. The 1952 production opened last night in the East Campus Gymnasium.

Look At Me, Mom!

Vote Scheduled On Court Peers For Soph Hop

Voting will take place today in Westcott for the King and Queen of the Sophomore Hop, to be in the Student Center this coming Saturday.

The runoffs were not Friday as stated in that day's Flambeau.

Music for the annual dance will be provided by the Regents. The theme is centered on "Shine on Harvest Moon." Formal dress will be required, and the dance is open to the student body.

Girls in the runoff are Wilma Belmore, Dot Cooke, DeDe Dulaney, Lisa Haas, Shirley Hosea, Jo Ann Hutto, Dot Johnson, Bette Jo Mathew, Jean Sherouse and Ann Yates.

Men on today's ballot are Larry Bass, Bob Berto, Bob Canada, Gene Cannon, Donnie Hollis, Kenny Kirby, Woody Parker, Shorn Smith, Dan van Hise and Bill Wainwright.

Officers' Program In Marine Training To Be Discussed

Six Marines will land on the Florida State University Campus with plans to discuss leatherneck officer training possibilities for college men with the Tallahassee Detachment of the Marine Corps Reserve Officers Candidate Course if they are between the ages of 20 and 27 and are physically qualified.

Upon graduation from college students are sent to Quantico, Va., for 10 weeks of basic training before receiving commissions as second lieutenants. After that, they are assigned to the specialized officer schooling.

Qualified undergraduates 17 to 27 years of age may enroll in the Platoon Leader Class. They will spend two summer training periods of six weeks each in successive summers and receive commissions upon graduation and completion College students are eligible for this class. No training is required during the academic year.

The programs offer deferment from selective service.

Dr. Fox Featured In PTA Discussion

Vernon Fox, associate professor of social work at Florida State University will talk on parent-child relations tonight at a meeting of the Demonstration School Parent-Teacher Association in the School band room, from 311 at 8 p.m.

A feature of the meeting will be a musical period during which Carol Sue Hall of the FSU School of Music faculty will present a musical period with the parents playing to play musical instruments in group harmony in much the same manner as the children in the band.

Following the meeting, refreshments will be served by the PTA for school luncheon.

Special Services Held At Episcopal Center

Rev. Walter K. Morley, chaplain and Director of the Episcopal Student Center, has announced special services for the remainder of this week, being the service of All Saints.

The Service of Holy Communion will be celebrated tomorrow and Saturday at 7:35 a.m. and on Thursday at 6 a.m.

Town Stores Reduce Prices

A Student Appreciation Day will be held Thursday in Tallahassee stores in cooperation with the Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce and the University Government Association.

Banners will be placed on all stores participating. During the day reduced prices will be offered students on regular items, with special merchandising values also being given.

Advertisements appearing in today's Flambeau announce some of the bargains that will be offered. The Tallahassee Daily Democrat, local newspaper, will also carry advertisements Wednesday pertaining to Student Appreciation Day.

Men's Senate had previously worked on a Student Discount Day earlier this year, but the plans could not be carried through. (ish)::fw

Pre-Sale Continues For Dance Tickets

A pre-sale ticket sale of Homecoming dance tickets will continue today. Tickets may be purchased at the booths behind Aesteott and in the Student Center, Sophomore Council in charge announces.

The purpose of the previous sale, according to Bill Silpert, is so that students may be sure of getting tickets since they will be limited. The regular ticket sale will go on Monday, Nov. 9 through Saturday, Nov. 15, the night of the dance. Tickets are $1.50 each.

Debates Continue On FEPC Topic

The second round of the Fourth Annual Intramural Debate Tournament, sponsored by the department of speech, will begin tonight at 7.

The first round was completed last week. Tonight the participants will again present the pro's and con's of the proposition: Resolved, that the Congress of the United States should enact a compulsory fair employment practices law.

THE PAIRINGS for the second round are as follows: Ronald Morgan and Helen Lawler, Seniors, versus Bob Quicker and Sam Skoglund, Sigma Chi, 411 H.; Corrie Simmons and Harriet Davis, Senior Murphrees, versus Jennings Rhodes and Tommy Lewis, Delta Sigma Omega; 325 H.; Harold Levay and Carol Brannon, Phi Mu, versus Eunice Taylor and Joyce Langley, JLZ, 323 H.; Beverly Duperrouzel and Marjorie Jackson, Rev-Mac, versus George Gnann and Juanita Lawrence, Independent, Library.

Other debate matches are; Bill Chambers and Jane Gardner, Thespians, versus Frank Shaw and Bill Stancik, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 201 H.; Lou Rae Vines and David Preis, Sophomores, versus George Arrants and Ronald Brasswell, Phi-Delt 219 H.; Nancy Dickenson and Dorothy Womble, Presbyterians, versus Thomas Woods and Betty Lecroy Jr., Theta Chi, 208 H.; Amos Cobbey and Bill Twyford, AEPi's versus Coyle Moore and Charles Curtis, Kappa Alpha. 10 9H.; Gene Lavyer and Phil Springer, Young Democrats, versus Frank Birt and Richard Jackson, Sigma Nu, 124 History.

Famed Architect Is Second on Artists Series Event List

Artist Series will present Richard Neutra, world famed architect, in a lecture in Westcott at 8 p.m. 19, at 8:15 p.m. in Conradi Theater.

Because of the limited seating capacity, students will be asked to pick up tickets at the Public Relations Office, first floor Lonnie Murre Building, starting tomorrow.

Students must show their ID cards in order to get tickets. Although no activity coupons will be taken. If any tickets are still left on Monday, Nov. 17, they will be made available to the townspeople.

Neutra is an expert on city planning, public buildings, home planning and houses. His architectural is modern with function, beauty, simplicity, and furniture, and has written two books.

Ruge Hall Night-Cap Will Feature Dr. Neel

The second in a series of Night-Cap Hours will be Thursday night at 11 at Ruge Hall Episcopal student center.

This informal gathering of men will be highlighted by a discussion of topics of vital interest. Refreshments will be served and many men have been invited. Dr. Neel, newly appointed Coordinator of Religious Research Projects will be the special guest. Transportation to West Campus will be provided all students wishing it.

Alumnus Given Rank

H. Jefferson Davis Jr., 1952 graduate of Florida State, was among the 880 men receiving reserve commissions from the Navy's only Officer Candidate School in Newport, R. I. recently.

Davis graduated with top BS degrees in mathematics.

Contest to Highlight Homecoming Dance

'So You Want to Lead a Band' Regular Feature of Kaye's

'So You Want to Lead a Band", the popular featured attraction with which thousands associate the name of Sammy Kaye will highlight the 1952 Homecoming dance Saturday night, Nov. 15 in the Suwannee Room.

THE DANCE will climax this year's gala homecoming week-end with a solid four hours of Kaye's danceable, swing and sway music, well known to most people from his many hit recordings and his radio and television broadcasting fame.

The "So You Want to Lead a Band" feature provides hilarious fun for all by taking amateurs would be-conductors and putting a baton in their hands with the simple instructions to lead the Kaye ensemble. Since this was introduced into the Kaye format more than 10,000 amateur bandleaders have waved batons in front of the Boys and Gwayers and the urge never seems to let up.

NOT ONLY the college student or "the man in the street" have a desire to lead the band. Among Kaye's most ambitious leaders have been Milton Berle, Tyrone Power, Perry Como and Red Skelton.

Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. will find Florida States seeking Homecoming fun flinin a the Gym-Campus Theater for the festive Homecoming parade.

SPIRITED BY at least three bands, Kaye's band is musically and novelly touched up by a multitude of floats by the campus clubs, by clowns and the usual campus cut-ups and jokers, the procession will terminate in the usual several school dignitaries, during Call St. east to Copeland, south to College and west to Stadium Adams, south on Adams to Pensacola and on Pensacola to Monroe and North on Monroe past the reviewing stand at the Florida Hotel.

Continuing the festivities Friday night, spectators will be treated to a "bang-up" Pow Wow celebration in Doak S Campbell Stadium.

COMPLETE WITH "Cleopatra's Fans," and "Niagara Falls" displays done by the Seminoles and in fireworks, and the annual skit contest which will feature talent from all over State campus in hilarious bits of nonsense filled by the Homecoming spirit. The 1952 Pow Wow will feature the crowning of Florida State's Homecoming Queen by last week's celebrated beauty, Sally Kennedy.

OTHER ACTIVITIES for the week-end not minor ones scheduled are excerpts from Gymkana, and Circus acts from FSU's famous array of nationally acclaimed gymnasts and high-flyers.

Following will be a salute to the Seminoles and their coaches and

(Continued on Page 4)

Belles Contend For Queen Title At Festivities

Students Select Five From Posted Pictures In Voting Booths

Forty-one Florida State beauties will vie for the Homecoming Queen title today, as students vote in lower Westcott from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

The numbered photographs of these contestants were posted yesterday. Today students will vote for five. Friday the runoffs will be held, during which students will vote for only one.

CONTESTANTS and their sponsors on the ballot today are Ann Adams, Alpha Delta Pi; Kathryn Dobson, Sigma Nu; Barbara Brewton, Sigma Nu; Sandy Carter, Reynolds Hall; Jane Conyers, Sigma Pi Omega; Elizabeth Cooke, Alpha Xi Delta; Sara David, Alpha Tau Omega; Pedrian Ferris, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Woodly Ann Grimard, Pi Beta Phi; Shirley Hogan, Delta Sigma Omega; Marie Price, Delta Tau; Ernestine Hunt, Alpha Delta Pi; Ann Richardson, Alpha Omicron Pi; Betty Ann Queen, Jennie Murphree Hall; Ruth Raney, Chi Omega; Alpha Theta; Betty Lou Straub, East Landis Hall.

Also Mary Ruth Summers, Florida Flambeau; Lenora Woodward, Delta Zeta; Mary Woodward, Broward Hall and Anne Yates, Zeta Tau Alpha.

State Merit System Needs Nurses Now

Public health nurses, stenographers and transcriber operators are needed in several parts of the state's sectional merit system, it was announced at New York University.

Nine openings, most of them in South Florida, are seeking public health nurses at salaries ranging from $2,700 to $3,300 depending upon training, experience and location of the position.

Vacancies for stenographers and transcriber operators exist in this area's sectional merit system, also at salaries ranging from $165 to $225 per month. Qualified persons are requested to apply at local offices of the State Employment Service, State Department of Public Welfare, and County Health Units, or write directly to the State Merit System Office in Tallahassee.

Weale Represents Area At Meeting

Dr. A. Bruce Weale, Florida State University associate professor on the leave of absence, has been elected by the President of Teachers College, Columbia University to represent the area of business education at a national conference, Nov. 6-7 at Columbia University in New York City.

Dr. Weale, who has conducted numerous business research projects while at FSU, is a graduate of Columbia. He will serve as a participant in the business discussions of the conference as a representative o fthe area of business of FSU.

Barrows Will Speak

"Zeeman Spectroscops" will be discussed by Prof. W. M. Barrows of the department of physics in the seminar Thursday at 4:30 p.m. in Room 124 Science Building. Refreshments will be served.

Five Students Represent FSU

Discussion Conference Held at U of Alabama

Five students will represent the Florida State University at the Seventh Annual Alabama Discussion Conference being held on the campus of the University of Alabama this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Nov. 6-8.

This discussion conference as the largest held annually in the Southeastern and Mid-South area and is usually attended by twenty or thirty colleges and universities in this area. Florida State has been represented at this conference for the past three years and has won several certificates of excellence in discussion. Win the fall of 1949 Paul Curtis ranked first among all participants.

THE CONFERENCE will consist of five rounds of discussion as follows: analysis of the problem, formulation of goals, possible solutions, further discussion of possible solutions and resolution stage. The effectiveness of each participant will be evaluated in each round, and these with the necessary point system will receive certificates at the final assembly on Saturday morning. The question for discussion is: Should the federal government enact a compulsory fair employment practices law?

Florida State University discussers are Peter Nimkoff, Katherine Olmsted, Carol Brannon, Beverly Duperouzel, and Phil Springer. Discussion leading is Bert Bradley, graduate assistant in the Department of Speech.

New York U. Grants Legal Scholarships; Seniors to Apply

Florida State seniors may apply for the $6,600 three-year Root -Tilden Scholarship for the 1953-54 term.

Designed to help train and keep public leaders active in public affairs, the scholarship program was inaugurated at New York University Law School as at present has 42 young men under training in the Foundation.

Candidates must be nonmarried have a superior scholastic record and be not more than 25 and not over 28.

The scholarships carry an annual stipend of $2,300 to cover tuition, books and living expenses, which is the same amount paid for one year, it is renewed for the second and third years when the student has met the standard required in legal and general scholarship.

College seniors who wish to apply for one of the 20 scholarships should apply immediately to Dean of the Law School, NYU Law Center, New York 3, N. Y. Applications must be made by March 1, 1953. Announcements of successes will be late in the following month.

Survey Class Hears Employment Director

Thomas Hardy, local supervisor of the State Employment service specialist in job analysis and community surveys as a means of determining needs for vocational and industrial education, pointed out how his organization assists in the survey.

He explained how the occupational analyses and labor market surveys are conducted and their relationship to determining the needs for vocational education in a community.

The class taught by Dr. Victor Schmitt, head of the trade and industrial education division of the School of Education, meets each Wednesday afternoon at Lively Vocational School.

Civil Service Exam Offered Engineers

The U. S. Civil Service Commission is now accepting applications for a Student Aid Trainee examination in the fields of physics, chemistry, engineering, mathematics and engineering.

Those employed in Navy and Army establishments in Washington, D. C. and nearby Maryland and Virginia will be paid range from $2,750 to $3,175 a year.

This examination is open only to persons who have completed one-fourth, one-half or three-fourths of a college four-year course or who expect to complete one of these levels within two months of filing application. A written test will be given.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from the U. S. Civil Service Commission aided from first and second class post offices. Applications should be sen to the Executive Secretary Examiners for Scientific and Technical Personnel of the Potomac River Naval Command, Building 213, Naval Research Laboratory, Washington 25, D. C.

ACE Meets Tomarrow

The Association for Childhood Education will meet tomorrow night at 7 in Room 107 Science Building. A film, demonstration and discussions will be held on the subject of play materials.

BOY SCOUTS MIGHT MAKE WISER CHOICE

By FRANCES CAWTHON

I am all for giving the Boy Scouts a vote in today's election. Maybe they could make a wiser choice than the over-21's can.

The other day I came into contact with the first Boy Scout to which I have ever addressed since I was a Tenderfoot Girl Scout (basically in love with a fellow who had six badge sashes —definitely far, far above me.

Anyway, this fellow comes around with his hands stuffed full of paper liberty bells to stick on doorknows. "Hello," he said. "Are you going to vote?"

"No, 'frald not, exerpt for a queen."

His eyes widened. "Queen? Don't you know this is America? There ain't no kings and queens here."

"I'm don't understand." I said, "I mean a queen for our Homecoming out at the college."

"Oh, but you're not going to vote for president? You'd ruth-er vote for a silly sic girl than president of the United States!"

"No. I'm not old enough."

"Aw, you don't mean a great big girl like you isn't old enough to vote . . ." he said passing my comment off as a joke.

"Now see here, boy, let's have no remarks about my figger." I frowned.

"Are you for Amendment Number One?"

"You mean about the schools?" I asked, thanking Heaven I knew what he was talking about.

"Yeah. I'm not in favor of it myself," he offered.

"Why not?"

"Earmarkin' that money for 40 years!" he screamed at me. "Are you kiddin', lady?!"

Who are you for, for president?" I asked, afraid he'd challenge me to debate on whether or not Amendment One should pass.

"Don't rightly know," he mused professionally. "Stevenson is connected up with a city bon and Ike is the soldier type . . . but I think I lean toward Taft."

"Do you know what a city boss is?" I peered at him from beneath a crooked eyebrow.

"Sure. He's a man who rules a city but doesn't really think about the people. Corruption."

"Ummm . . ."

I talked politics with him a little more, wondering why he was so interested in what ordinary adults knew little if nothing of. It wasn't even going to become a politician or lawyer; that was the amazing thing. He was going to be a veterinarian. Furthermore he wished he was 21 so he could get out and vote.

Everybody ought to get out and vote, he said. It was a privilege "ole Joe Stalin" didn't let his people have. Americans are mighty lucky, he told me.

After leaving me a liberty bell, he said, "Now don't you forget to vote Tuesday!"

I'll tell you I'm too young," I said.

"Ever don't go tell me a great big sir . . ."

"ALL RIGHT!! Go next door. Vote for Amendment Number One . . ."

PLAYBITS

FIRST SPEECH PRODUCTION OPENS FRIDAY

By GEORGE SPELVIN

Since the first production of the 1952 theatrical seasons opens this week, we thought we would devote all of Playbits to it and give you a little behind the scenes information.

By now you probably have guessed that we are referring to the play being produced by the department of speech. "The Torchbearers" written by George Kelly. The opening night is set for Friday and the curtain will be going up at 8:15.

If there are any tickets left you will be able to get them at the box office in the lobby of the History building on the night of performance. But the best idea would be to get something this week before Friday and either make your reservations for one of the four nights (Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday) or pick up your tickets right then.

The box office opened yesterday morning at 8:00 and will remain open during the run of the show, with the exception of from 11:00 to 1:00 each afternoon.

It would like to call and make your reservations you may do so by phoning 3051 during the hours mentioned above. The tickets will be 75 cents for all faculty members and townspeople and 40 cents for all students upon the presentation of their identification cards. Curtain! Theatre won't seat all the student body at once so get your reservations in now.

"The Torchbearers" is a satire on amateur dramatics and from the information gleaned from the cast, crew and director, Mr. Frank Hansen, is one of the funniest plays ever to be done by the department of speech. They all mentioned the second act as being partiularly hilarious.

Mr. Hansen when asked about the show and the characters said that he was sure the people in the play never lived but he certainly wished that they had, because it would have been slightly mad knowing them. It seems that all these characters are a bit insane and their antics are what make the play so humorous.

The time of the show is the 1920's so you can get an idea of some of the zany goings on in mother's day.

The 1920's period has brought some costuming problems along with a lot of fun and a great many laughs. Mr. Doug Russell, costumer for the production, says that the main trouble as far as the girls are concerned has been teaching them to walk in the narrow pointed shoes of the times and to use their fans correctly. The shoes have been very hard to locate and according to some of the actresses even harder to step around the stage in.

Finding men's tuxedos, single-breasted variety, and men's hats that would be appropriate has been another stumbling block. Seems people around Tallahassee just don't have any lying around.

There have been some very fine and greatly appreciated donations from residents of the town, but more have been in the millinery line unfortunately.

Among the contributions have been some of the flowerly beaded dresses of the period, and fitting them with the costumes that have been made has been a job.

The make-up for the show will be interesting to see, too. The exaggerated hair styles, and the "flapper" costumes are only two features of make-up that will help add authenticity.

So find yourself a racoon coat, leave your hip flask at home and come on to the show! Twenty-three skidoo, you all!

SITTIN' ON THE SIDELINES

TODAY ENDS MONTHS OF CAMPAIGNING

By MARCIA MORRIS

Today is the great day! Weeks and months of rabid campaigning, arm chair tactics, and homefire predictions, must needs end today—and what a pity, for the campus intelligencias shall be forced to find a new topic for crusade to take to the Amber House, the Alum soda shop, and to the form porches of the various dormitories.

Today the politicos are politicking, the belters are digging up heavy odds, government majors are hastily writing term papers and hating election day for it, and all youngsters under twenty-one are fanatical because they aren't old enough to vote—and on their humble opinions no one else is intelligent enough!

Indeed, the situation is a unique one. The parties according to their faithful supporters can do no wrong; the parties according to their rabid opponents can do no right; and every one is being called a blockhead by someone.

The Republicans cry with great fervor that Washington needs a change—and call upon Ike to clean up the mess; the Democrats say we have never fared better—and call upon Adlai to clean up the mess; and most voters bounce from one headquarters to another with the alacrity of the proverbial ping pong ball while their opportanists shout,—"Jellyfish."

All the while the question of the day seems to be what am I— Democrat, Republican, Socialist, Communist, half and half, or twenty-one flavor?

There are Democrats for Adlai, Democrats for Ike, Democrats called socialists, Democrats called Communist, Republicans called crooks, Republicans called rabble rousers, and, by ginger, Republicans being called Democrats. Wonder if the candidates know which party they belong to? Many people have a sneaking suspicion that both candidates are running on the same label.

Perhaps the most amusing aspect of the whole election is encountered upon tuning in on the various reasons for voting choices. Some vote for a certain party because the fathers, grandfathers, aunts, uncles, cousins, and step branches of the family have always voted the same way; some vote because there is only ONE candidate in the crowd; some because they live in a solid section of the country; some because the buttons, earrings, and literature reeked by one party are bigger and better looking; and, Praise Allah, some because they think, argue, and question!

At any rate, no matter what the reasons may be, there seems to be a tremendous amount of interest and energy expounding on the campus in regards to the issues of this election. And, as elsewhere in the nation, there is no certainty of outcome.

At this writing the Democrat supporters on the campus are moaning because the Elephant is on the road to Washington; while the Republicans are quaking in their voices and chewing stories to the tune of "Donkey Serenade."

This particular race is not only exceptional in the fact that neither side is sure of winning; but the fact that the man that are running have both vehemently voted at one time or another, that they did not want the job of President and would not run—one admitted that he was not a politician; the other shouted that he wanted to be governor. And yet, those are two of the best qualified and most evenly matched candidates ever to run.

Yep, tonight will be a great night in old Tally town. The strategists are already firing away—bumming cigarettes, borrowing quarters, and downing cokes by the case to ease throats gunky with political raving.

Tonight, quite a number of us will pull up the most comfortable chairs to be found, take a whack at the no-doze, and maintain the vigil until the last vote has been counted—praying all the while that, among other things, whoever gets in will make one dollar rather than fifty-two cents!

Meantime an whoever, wherever, whatever you want—and the best af luck to you. As for me—I is Fagn!

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BARS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors ..... Marcia Morris, Bruce Caldwell
Sports Editor ..... Jim Crouch, Jim Eddy
Copy Editor ..... Judy Bivins
Feature Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant News Editor ..... Al Pierce
Rewrite Editor ..... John Mannepon

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York
Telephone 3-2000, Extension 4581 Second Floor Alumni Bldg.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"I wana buy one book—'Forever Amber'; and how's about throwin' in Book-Jackets of Economics 201, Newspaper Law an' Psychology?"

MOVIE NEWS

Burt Lancaster Stars In Crimson Pirate

By JUNE MORGAN
Feature Editor

Once again in The Crimson Pirate, next feature film at the Florida, which runs Wednesday, Nov. 5 through Saturday, Nov. 8, Burt Lancaster and Nick Cravat match and often outdo the incredible feats they introduced in "The Flame and the Arrow."

The new film was photographed on location at Ischia near the Bay of Naples and presents Lancaster and Cravat as a colorful buccaneer chieftain and this loyal mate who pit their wits against Baron Ocrula, evil Spanish nobleman of the eighteenth century era.

IN THE course of the film, the team is called upon to vault from the housetop into open windows, get caught in a giant fish-net, and float through the skies in a huge balloon.

Eva Bartok, Hungarian stage and screen beauty, plays her first American film role as the feminine lead in the pirate picture. She was discovered by Lancaster while performing as the star of a musical stage production in Rome, and promptly named for the trip to the Island of Ischia.

BEFORE selecting the island site, a group of studio experts surveyed several Italian locations as possible settings. Sorrento and the Italian coast and the Isle of Capri were also considered, but Ischia won the contest because of its extreme primitivity. Its bleak rocks and rugged coves bear no evidence of man's more modern activities and thus provide excellent background for the buccaneer saga.

Director of the film is Robert Siodmak, who has long been famous for his action work

CURRENTLY showing at the Florida is another technicolor action film, "Cripple Creek," a tale of gold rush robbery starring George Montgomery, Karen Booth, Jerome Courtland and William Bishop make up the supporting cast.

When the story of "Cripple Creek" takes place, the town is the center of the Pike's Peak gold rush, which rivaled the earlier California rush in intensity, if not in magnitude.

KIRBY SILVER, the owner of the Silver Palace, the dance-hall and gambling casino of the town, is the leader of a gang that loots the rich Colorado mines. When gorgeous Lorna Grant, Bret Ivars and Larry Galland ride into town, they make the Silver Palace their base of operations.

Of course the lawmen quickly discover the only way to smash the outlaws is by joining them. They learn how the stolen gold is disguised as lead and shipped to the Orient, but before their case is complete their identity is discovered and a fight for life is the climax of the action tale.

CRIPPLE CREEK was written by Richard Schayer and directed by Ray Nazarro.

Direct from triumphs as the dance team in "Showboat" and "Lovely to Look At," Marge and Gower Champion leave Kathryn Grayson and Howard Keel to star in their own first as-himself production, Everything I Have Is Yours.

Dennis O'Keefe makes up the other star part of the latest MGM musical which opens today at the State Theatre and runs through Saturday, Nov. 8. Monica Lewis and Dean Miller are in the supporting cast.

Counseling Assistant

George M. Spencer, assistant to the Coordinator of Counselors, is author of an article in "Research Notes" in the October issue of the Personnel-O-Gram, publication of the American College Personnel Association.

It is an evaluation of the orientation program for entering students at Florida State, conducted last year in the hopes of improving this year's orientation program for new students.

The Office of Coordinator of Counseling has expressed appreciation to all FSU entering students last year who gave their time and suggestions to the evaluation.

Bushing Gets Degree

Dr. Howard Bushing has just received his doctorate at Columbia in the field of social welfare, according to the social welfare department here at Florida State University.

Movie To Be Shown In Cawthon Tonight

The technicolor movie, "The Black Rose," plays tonight at 7:30 in South Cawthon.

Starring Tyrone Power, Orson Welles, Cecile Aubry and Jack Hawkins, it is the story of a Saxon's adventures in the courts of the East.

Tomorrow night it will be shown in Magnolia: Thursday, Senior Hall; and Friday, at 8 p.m. in the Freshman Men's Dormitory.

Methodists Will Give

The Wesley Foundation, Methodist student group, will present a program of the doctrines and beliefs of its church tomorrow night at 9:30 over WFSU.

This is the third in a series of religious programs sponsored by the University Religious Council and the University Inter-church Fellowship.

ACE To Baby Sit

The Association for Childhood Education baby sitting committee will function during the PTA meeting tonight.

Girls participating are Jennie Ciccarello, chairman; Anice Spencer, Jacqueline Skipper, Gloria Turner, Margaret Ann Nash, Jean Williams, Ann Blitch, Ann Cave, Sylvia Marini, Betty Jean Cromartie, Babs Ruth, Jeannette Cox, Bootie Kennedy and Joan Cunningham.

Our
STUDENT APPRECIATION DAY
Specials just for you!
Reduced Prices on . . .

- ALL SKIRTS
- WESKITS
- JACKETS

Just Our Way of Saying Thanks to Students and Faculty!

The French Shop

Student Appreciation Day
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 6
To Show Our Appreciation We Offer
SUPER STUDENT SPECIALS
For Terrific Savings Especially for You
Nic's Toggery

Pipe Special

Continues as Long as Our Supply Lasts.
Beautiful Pipes Made to Sell for $7.50 and $5.00 Now for $2.49
And FREE with your Challenger one can of Choice Tobacco.
- Walnut
- Virgin
Gleaming High Grain Finish

THE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE
at your "STUDENT CENTER"

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.
FLORIDA
Last Time Today
'Cripple Creek'
with George Montgomery and Karin Booth
Wed. Thru Friday
Burt Lancaster in the 'Crimson Pirate'
STATE
Today thru Saturday
'Everything I Have Is Yours'
in Technicolor with Marge and Gower Champion
RITZ
Today and Wed.
'The Girl in White'
with June Allyson
Thursday thru Sat.
'Whiphand'
also
'The Last Musketeer'
with Rex Allen
DRIVE-IN
Today and Wed.
'I Want You'
with Dorothy McGuire
Thursday thru Sat.
'A Lady Without a Passport'
also
'The Plunderers'
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

The Sports Line

BY JIM EADY

The Royal football fans of Florida State who journeyed to Orlando, Saturday, were rewarded for their loyalty by a performance on the part of the Seminole gridders. Although there was no decision in the hard fought contest between Stetson, the Seminoles undoubtedly played their best game of the year. With a few breaks the contest might have been the season's first victory for Dr. Veller's eleven. The tie, by the way, was only the fourth in which Coach Veller-coached team has been involved. And three of them happened when he was running football at Elkart Central High School (IND.)

Probably the most heartwarming factor of the contest was the fact that the Seminole line, It kept the Hatters hotted up most of the evening and it was the line which prevented the Stetsonites from using any dangers via the air-lanes. Their passer, Ron Dellila, was thrown for a loss nearly every time he tried to pass and on three occasions was smeared for large losses. In the first quarter big George Boyer let him ten yards behind the line of scrimmage. . . . Boyer, who did not play before drew a five yard off-side penalty when he hurtled Stetson center and crashed the quarterback before the ball was snapped.

AGAIN IN THE FIRST half Boyer smeared passer Stan Marks for a 14 yard defeat, and this manoever was followed by Sacrepanik when Marks for 10 yard loss. This all helps to prove that a good charging line is the best pass defense.

Speaking of the stocky Indianian, showed why he is the Seminoles' best ground-gainer as he frequently ripped through the inside of the Stetson line a spot which proved to be the most vulnerable spot in the Seminole running attack. A credit to Dobosz's rushing is the fact that almost all his yardage was picked-up in plays going between the tackles. He try for extra-point which proved to be the deciding factor of the game, was the second out of seven attempts he has missed. Of course a five-yard penalty made the kick more of a physical attempt than anything.

ALL in all the Florida Staters who filled one section of the Tangerine bowl saw some football which kept them in their seats till the game end. No previous game, on the Campbell stadium green has been able to do that so far this season.

* * *

AFTER TWO straight engagements away from home, the gridders and the fans will heartily welcome this week's home game. Of course the opposition namely Southern Mississippi probably will be the feller and his charges to look forward to the contest with nothing but anticipation. For the Southerners will be a team definitely as strong or stronger than Louisville or VMI, depending on which way they feel this Saturday. They'll be coming into the tilt, with only one defeat on their record and that was a 20-6 decision over Alabama. It was a hard-fought battle in which 'Bama had to call on all of the fire in the last half.

* * *

SIGMA CHI'S TRIUMPH

The first First Intramural crown—tennis—was taken by Sigma Chi last Tuesday when their boy, Tom Morgan, beat Bob Sistrunk of Phi Delta Theta, 1-6 6-0, 6-1. Morgan, who'll probably be a candidate for the FSU varsity tennis squad this spring got revenge on Sistrunk for an earlier defeat. Sistrunk won on default when Morgan got a leg cramp in their first meeting two weeks ago.

The Phi Delts, for the last three years have been running a monopoly on the tennis title . . . They, in fact, have permanent possession of it since they won three straight years. So a new boy is on the way for the victorious Sigma Chi's

Seminoles Battle Stetson to Tie In Hard Fought Game at Orlando

Dobosz Scores Lone TD for FSU; Stetson Score Comes on 47-yd. Run

The Florida State Seminoles, in one of their best performances of the year, fought a 6-6 decision with the Stetson Hatters, in Orlando's Tangerine Bowl. The deadlock, the first ever played by an FSU football team, brought to a halt the Seminoles four game losing streak.

Both of the game's touchdowns were scored by freshmen: Stan Dobosz countering for FSU on a 4 yard smash and Bill Odom dashing 47 yards for Stetson's six-pointer.

AS IN THE previous State contest, fumbles and intercepted passes played a big part in the game's outcome. It was a Stetson fumble which set up the lone touchdown for FSU in the second quarter. And a Stetson interception of Roy Thompson's fumble had an earlier Seminole drive which had carried to the Hatter's 20 yard line. Another Stetson fumble initiated a Florida State drive which got down to the five where the Seminoles were held for four downs by the Stetson defenders.

There were only two minutes remaining in the FSU dominated first half when they recovered a Stetson fumble at the 44 yard stripe. In seven plays the Seminoles were ahead 6-0 The drive was sparked by a deadly-accurate pass from Thompson to end Curt Campbell which covered 25 yards to the 14.

AFTER JIMMY Lee Taylor gained two, Frosh Stan Dobosz took over and went the remaining ing 12 yards in four plays, scoring on a four-yard plunge. The all-important try for the extra point was missed by Dobosz after an off-side penalty moved the ball five yards back.

The Hatters got their game tying score early in the second half after a third down punt by Tommy Brown had given them the ball on their own 16. After Bobby Marks had picked up 8 yards, Odom took a hand-off, cut back, and outraced three Seminole defensive backs to the goal. The sudden play covered 47 yards.

JERRY PROCTOR muffed the chance to put the Hatters ahead when his try for the extra point was wide. Proctor also missed another opportunity to be a hero when he was inches wide on a field goal attempt in the fourth

(Continued on Page 4)

Entry List Open For FLTA Meet

District Tournaments Planned November 8-9

The entry list is open for the District I qualifying tournaments of the Florida Lawn Tennis association to be held at the Florida State University varsity courts, November 8th and 9th.

Play will be held in men's singles and doubles, women's singles and doubles, and junior veterans singles and doubles.

COACH DONALD Loucks, member of the executive committee of the Florida tennis body and director of District I, recently attended a committee meeting held at St. Petersburg at which time these and many other tournaments were sanctioned.

Two players in each singles division and two doubles teams will qualify to play in the State Championships to be held during the Thanksgiving holidays in Orlando.

All players must have an FLTA registration card, one dollar, to play in an FLTA sanctioned tourney. Players from as far away as Pensacola have indicted an interest in these tournments.

ENTRY FEES will be $1.00 per singles and $2.00 per doubles team. Deadline for entry is set at November 4th. Entry blanks may be obtained from Carter's Sporting Goods Company or directly from Coach Donald Loucks, at the West Campus Physical Education offices.

Former Seminole Gymnast Star Now Photographs FSU Sports

Bill Vrettos, head photographer for Florida State University's sports publicity, is pointed to by the various Seminole coaches as one of the tops in his profession.

Vretos, a 26-year old Army veteran of World War II, has been in the business chiefly as a sports photographer for the past five years.

BILL ENTERED the University of Chicago directly after the war and transferred to FSU in 1950. He received his A. B. in Physical Education this past Summer and is currently enrolled in graduate school.

However, Bill isn't always behind the camerma. As an established gymnast Vrettos was a member of the 1951 Seminole National Collegiate and National AAU Champion Gymnastic team.

BEFORE COMING to Florida State University he lettered three years as a gymnast on the University of Chicago squad. As one of the greatest gymnasts in the university's history, Bill twice won the famous Daniel L. Hoffer Trophy, awarded annually to the outstanding gymnast in the Big Ten.

Before an injury lessened his capabilities in 1950, Vrettos finished second in the long horse event of the 1948 NCAA meet. At his best Bill has headed the great Bill Roetzheim, FSU's four time all-around national champion and veteran of two Olympic Games.

CURRENTLY EMPLOYED by the University's Audio-Visual Department, Bill is married and the father of a 14-months old son, William John Vrettos, Jr. Bill and his wife, the former Mary Lou Lambert, were formerly the top-billed adagio team in the nationally famous Chicago Aroo-Theatre.

At the present, Bill is chief photographer as well as a performer in the coming FSU Gymkana presentation, "Out of this World" which will be presented nightly from November third through the eighth in the East Campus Gymnasium.

Ex-Gymnast

Bill Vrettos

Former Grid Star Is Guest Speaker At Georgia Dinner

An old nemisis of University of Georgia football teams of the mid-forties returned to the "Peach State" last night but on this occasion he went as an entertaining after dinner speaker.

The old nemisis is Vaughn Mancha, former All-America center at the Universit yof Alabama, who now serves as assistant football coach at Florida State University. Mancha was guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Albany Touchdown club.

Mancha was accompanied to Albany by Al Woodham, regular wingback on the FSU team, and a native of Albany.

Intramurals

LCA Defeats KA's By a 7-0 Margin

BY ART KENNERLY

In wishful moments, Kappa Alpha's Southern Gentlemen could look down the touch football schedule and imagine their team stretching the winning streak to five or six straight. But in the way growled several fraternity monsters—among them was Lambda Chi Alpha.

With the Lambda Chi record at three won plus one protest, the KA's glanced at their own record of four straight victories and decided that they might squeak by.

THURSDAY the hopeful squeak of KA turned into a gravelish grumble as the gray-clad gang was toppled from the unbeaten ranks 7-6 by the lambasting Lambda Chis.

The early minutes of the contest saw two teams with equal power and attack ramming head-on and getting nowhere.

Then, with eagle eye passer Bill Suttlemyre masterminding the offense, the Lambda Chis poured on the pressure. The blitz-krieg was on.

BUT THE KA troops had other plans and counterattacked, pulled the blitzkrieg to a standstill.

Lambda Chi saw the light arain though, when Suttlemyre catapulted the pigskin downfield to lean mate Jack Kerzan, who made the catch and scratched off toward goal line glory. Bill Palsone saved the day for KA. tarsine Kerzan just shy of a t.d.

LAMBDA CHI got set for the final push for the six points, but time ran out and the first half closed down.

Kappa Alpha came back strong in the second half. However, the opposing team had strength too.

Pass slinger Suttlemyre went to work, flipping to end Bob Davis for 18 yards, to Kerzan for 12 yards, then to Davis again.

The KAs, praying for fate to bless them, regrouped and stalled the enemy momentarily.

THEN SUTTLEMYRE shot again—this time to Kerzan for 17 yards.

The ungentle Southern Gentlemen got mad. With rifle-armed Donnie Hollis whiplashing the Fraternity League	W	L

PDT	5	0
LCA	3	1
KA	4	1
SC	4	1
SPE	4	2
DTD	4	2
ATO	3	3
PKT	3	3
PiKP	2	3
TC	2	4
SAE	2	4
PKA	1	5
KS	1	4
SN	1	5
Dormitory League	W	L
Trojans	7	0
Magnolia	5	1
Senior Hall	4	2
Moccasins	4	3
Air Force	3	4
Confederates	2	4
Cats	2	5
[illegible]	2	5
Newman Club	1	6
Flu	0	7

Intramural Standings: Through October 29.

STUDENT APPRECIATION DAY

Thursday, Nov. 6

This is our way of saying Thanks for your past loyalty and patronage. We will offer on APPRECIATION DAY the following items for sale.

- Nylon Hose
- Nylon Panties
- Dresses
- Formals
- Sweaters
- Suits
- Coats
- Jackets

College Corner

MAYERON'S

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 6th

SCHOOL APPRECIATION DAY

SPECIALS

"DEXDALE"
66 Gauge Nylon Hose
First Quality 1.69 Three Proportions
Regular Price 1.95
Choice of black, brown, navy or regular heel, in three beautiful new fall shades. 3 perfectly matched, perfumed pair . . 4.95.

NO SEAM HOSIERY
100% NYLON
a 1.35 Value .79¢ 3 pair 2.25
Seamless 15 Denier
Nylons in New Fall Shades

MILLER'S Cootery

Imported
- PEARLS -
2 - 3 and 4-Strand
1.98
Values to 5.95

BILLFOLDS
● GENUINE LEATHER OR ● PLASTIC
1.00

SEE OUR SPECIAL TABLE
Many, Many Items Too Numerous to List
Greatly Reduced for Student Saving

MILLER'S Cootery
College Ave.

Contest to Highlight

(Continued From Page 1)

a spirited pep rally led by FSU cheerleaders and the Marching Chiefs under the direction of Bob Braunagel and emceed by Al McCall. The planners have prepared a rousing reception for the gridders and plan to really raise the roof off the stadium in cheering our men to victory in the forthcoming game.

SATURDAY will find all good Seminoles, alumni and everybody as a matter of fact, in the stands of Campbell stadium at 2:30 in the afternoon to see what they hope will be a victorious FSU team beat Furman in this Homecoming game.

Pre-game activities, according to Robert Braunagel, director of pre-game and half-time shows, will include the F. O. T. C. band and Drill Team, color guard and the long-awaited presentation of the Queen. Band, color guard and drill team will march onto the field from the north end, and separate. Colors will be presented, drill teams will perform and the queen, accompanied by her court and others, will appear on the field.

President Doak S. Campbell will open the half-time ceremonies with a welcome to the alumni of Florida State who travel, every year, from near and far to participate in their alma mater's festivities.

AT ONE TIME during the half-time show, winners of the float and residence decorations will be announced and prizes awarded. This will be followed by an Indian Show featuring the Marching Chiefs and majorettes in their familiar headdresses and bright costumes.

Seminoles Battle

(Continued From Page 3)

quarter. He kicked about 25 yards out and from a sharp angle after the Indians had halted a Stetson drive.

Although the Seminoles scored only once they threatened twice in the first half. The first time they got the ball—on the FSU 20—they moved 60 yards, the biggest chunk coming on pass from Thompson to wingback Harry Bringger behind the Hatter's defense to the 27. Bringger, on the next play skirted end for 7 yards to the Stetson 20. Here the drive was stopped when D. MacLennan intercepted a fourth down pass by Thompson.

THE OTHER THREAT carried within 3 yards of becoming a score. It started when Campbell, hurrying under Tommy Brown's punt, recovered a fumble on the Stetson 37. From here, Bringger, who very capably subbed for the injured Al Woodham, ran around end for 25 yards, putting the ball on the 8.

Big Ron King came in at fullback and hit the center of the line three plays in row but could only dent the Stetson eight man line of 11 yards. On fourth down Thompson was thrown for a three yard loss and Stetson took over.

Outside of Odom's touchdown dash through Indian territory, the Seminole defense kept the Hatters in check most of the game. In fact, they got inside of the FSU 30 yard line only once. This penetration in the last quarter was due to the passing combination of Ron Delilla and end Jim Yoner. Two successive throws to Yoner netted 29 yards and put the ball in position for the successful Stetson field goal attempt by Proctor.

Mostly responsible for containing the Stetson offense, were George Boyer, a frosh from Jacksonville, three-backed Bill Whaley from Ocala and Co-captain Vic Scarpanis and Leon Leonhardt, a frosh from Louisville, Ky. Coach Don Veller also praised Billy Rabon and Harry Bringger for their fine work.

The game was watched by 10,000 fans, is the second one against a state rival for the Hatters. Two weeks ago they tied Tampa, 6-6.

State Department Announces Trainee Program for Colleges

The Department of State has recently announced its 1953 trainee program to colleges and universities throughout the country. Seniors and graduate students with good backgrounds in political science, economics, public administration, international relations or related fields and who are interested in a career in foreign affairs management may be considered for the program.

The foreign affairs management trainee program is designed to secure a limited number of carefully selected trainees who possess outstanding potential for eventual promotion to top level executive and managerial positions.

BEGINNING SALARIES for the program, which begins in the summer of 1953, are $3410 and $4205 per annum, depending on individual qualification and requirements of the department.

The department is again planning to use the Civil Service Commission's Junior Management assistant examination as part of the selection process for its 1953 program. This examination opened Oct. 14, and will close Nov. 11. It is important that students who wish to be appointed in the department compete successfully in this examination.

Nominating boards, composed of faculty members, will assist the department on each campus by screening qualified students from among JMA competitors and nominating the most outstanding candidates for consideration by the Department of State. Nominating board selections must be received in the Department of State not later than Feb. 16, 1953.

TRAINEES WILL generally be assigned to administrative and managerial activities in Washington in keeping, where practical, with the interests and background of the individual trainee. About 90% of the trainee's time is spent in regular work assignments under guidance of a trained counselor; the remaining time being allotted to orientation, counseling and seminars. After successful completion of the program, a trainee progresses to position of greater responsibility as he demonstrates capacity for advancement.

These assignments which are in Washington, should not be confused with positions in the foreign service.

Students interested should contact their nominating board chairman or office of Vocational Guidance and Placement.

BE SURE TO VOTE

Dine with us ... in the ... Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"
SPECIAL — SPECIAL TONIGHT ONLY
Turkey & Dressing, Liver & Onions, B-B-Q Ribs, Chops, Chicken Pie

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!
Whatever the formal occasion—wear fashionably correct clothes, at reasonable rental prices!
$6.50
Nic's Toggery

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY
CAMERON'S TEXACO SERVICE STATION
566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619
Formerly Meats Service Station

Mendelson's
School Appreciation Day Specials
MENDELSON'S APPRECIATE THE PRESENCE OF FSU STUDENTS AND FACULTY 365 DAYS EACH YEAR, BUT HERE ARE A FEW SPECIAL PRICES TO SHOW OUR APPRECIATION IN A MORE TANGIBLE FORM.

Famous "Stardust" Nylon Tricot Slips — Lavishly lace trimmed at top, back and bottom — 3.99 each Regular $1.98 yd. Barker Nylonized Cotton Jersey — 139 yard
Regular 1.39 yd. Corduroy Prints — 1.00 yd.
Special Purchase! 34" square All Pure Silk Printed Scarfs — 95c each
One Group Ladies' BLOUSES — $1.99 each — Values to $5.95 — Includes Some Ship 'N 'Shore
Regular $1.19 White & Pastel Colored ANGORA SOCKS — 99c pair
One special group of 100% All Wool Pullover SWEATERS — Long Sleeves, in Fancy Patterns — 1/3 OFF
Elastic and Suede BELTS — Regular Price is $1.50 — each 1.00
BOW TIES — your choice — 88c
The Famous "Cubaverra" SHIRTS — Regular Price Is $9.95 — 5.98 — Styled by "Airman" . . . in maroon or navy
Gabardine Leisure JACKETS — Belted Model, Navy or Green — Regular Price Is $15.95 — 9.95
EXTRA SPECIAL "AFTER SIX" TUXEDOS by Rudofker — Regular Price Is $42.50 to $50.00 — $29.95 — PANTS ALTERATION FREE

SPORT SHIRT & POLO SHIRT Specials
. . All Long Sleeves . . Four Big Groups
Group No. 1 — Regular Price 2.95 — School Appreciation Sale Price $1.88
Group No. 2 — Regular Price 3.95 — School Appreciation Sale Price $2.88
Group No. 3 — Regular Price 4.95 — School Appreciation Sale Price $3.33
Group No. 4 — Regular Price 5.95 — School Appreciation Sale Price $3.88
Mendelson's

Holland's Restaurant — Complete Soda Fountain & Restaurant Service — Facing the Capitol at 106 East Pensacola St. Tallahassee, Florida — Excellent Food at All Hours — Air Conditioned

Paul Turner — JEWELER - WATCHMAKER — KEEPSAKE DIAMONDS — 102 S. Monroe Ph. 3-1442

BE SURE TO VOTE

GILBERG'S
ON STUDENT APPRECIATION DAY, NOV. 6
Come Gather Your Woolens While You May STUPENDOUS
100% WOOL SALE
Group I — Values to $3.95 yd. — Including Tweeds - Crepes - Flannels - Checks - Plaids - Novelty Heather Tones and Coatings. All 54 Inches Wide — Now Only 1.98
Group II — Values to $5.95 — Fine tweeds, worsted plaids, irridescent tweeds, coatings, checks and plaids, nubby coatings, poodle coatings, fine flannels, worsted crepes, novelties, Imported sheer plaids, fleeces, stripes, flannel stripes, washable nylon and wool. — Now Only 2.98
Group III — Values to $10.00 — Imported English tweeds, fleece coatings, gabardines, tweeds. Only the finest quality available in this group. Orlon and wool, washable Lorette, 100% all wool flannals. — Now Only 3.98
Gilberg's
"The House Of 1000 Fabrics"

TUESDAY SPECIAL — Filet Mignon — $1.00
WED. SPECIAL — Fried Shrimp — .75
Seven Seas

Presidential Election Gives Eisenhower Overwhelming Victory

Florida Flambeau

Republicans Receive First Florida Majority Since 1928

VOL. XXXIX, No. 14 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1952

'Torchbearers' Opens Tonite In Augusta Conradi Theatre

Tickets on Sale 8-5 Thru Tuesday For Sparkling Satire of Early 1920's

George Kelley's "The Torchbearers," a three act satire, opens tonight at 8:15 for a three night stand in the Conradi Theater. The play, directed by Frank Hansen, is a department of speech production.

Tickets will be available at the box office in the History building from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. through Tuesday, as well as before curtain time. Student tickets are 40 cents. Tickets for townspeople are 75 cents.

THE SATIRE will be on amateur theater selling in the early 1920's, while the characters take the part of the ladies and gentlemen of the "Oh, you kid" era.

The flat, sack-like liners of the dresses of that period make them easily interchangeable among the girls of the cast when costume changes have to be made," says Costumer Douglas Russell. Charles Reimer's technical crew has been busy up until today building the livingroom set used in acts one and three and the backstage set used in act two. More than 2,000 artificial flowers and a cuckoo clock have been created to meet the property requirements of the play.

Members of the cast are Libby Marsh, Don Remington, Lee Hickman, Charles Bogdahn, Lee Odom, Winnie Alman, Jean Bell, Trainer, Francis Louise Wise, Ken Hurley, Joanne Williams, Frankie Adams and June Morsan.

Cramer Gives Faculty Recital

Soloist Presents Horns, Trombones in Program

William F Cramer, trombonist, will be featured artist in the fourth program of the Faculty Recital Series to be presented tonight in Opperman Music Hall. Mr. Cramer, instructor in brass instruments in the Florida State University School of Music, will be assisted at the piano by Robert Gutsch.

The program, open to the public, will begin at 8:15 p.m. and will include a trombone choir composed of 12 FSU music students directed by Mr. Cramer. The choir includes Cliffrd Fales, John Cooper, Anita Woods, Dana Jane Bishop and Wayne Wells.

Also Bruce Whitener, Dan Elijah Lopez and John T. Hurst, Jr., Howard Augustine and Bob Wilde will accompany on baritone horns and James Bourington on the tuba.

Mr. Cramer, soloist, is a former faculty member of Otterbein College Westerville, Ohio. He was a member of the Columbus, Ohio, Philharmonic for five years before come to Florida State.

Solos will include a sonata by Johann Ernest Galliard and a sonata by Paul Hindemith, the Romanza Appassionata" by Von Weber, a "Fantasie" by August Dorn k and the "Ballade" by Eugene Bozza.

'Black Rose' Ends Week-Long Show

The Black Rose," an epic starring Tyrone Power, Orson Welles and Cecile Aubury plays for the last time tonight in Freshman Men's Hall at 8. The story of the young Saxon adventurer in the courts of Asia and his romance with an action-packed two hours of entertainment in technicolor.

Monday the movie, "South of St. Louis," will begin a weekend run with its first showing at West Campus "O" Club Monday night at 7:30. The story deals with the amazing of arms on the Texas-Mexican border during the Civil War. Highlighting the performance will be Randolph Scott, Alexa Smith, Zachery Scott and Dorothy Malone.

Language Teachers Elected to Office

Two instructors from Florida State University were recently elected as officers of the Florida Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese.

They are Dr. Dorothy Hoffman, acting head of the FSU modern language department, president, and Mrs. Marie Antoinette Lanoue French instructor, secretary.

During the session a resolution was passed urging the teaching of Spanish to all elementary and junior high school students in Florida. It also asked the Teacher Education Advisory Council to consider drawing up special qualifications for elementary teachers in order that this program of teaching Spanish be as effective as possible.

The chapter unanimously voted to foster programs of offering Spanish in Adult Education Classes throughout the state.

Armistice Day Brings Morning Class Break

In observance of Armistice Day all classes will be dismissed for the full day on Tuesday morning, November 11, Mr. Charles H. Wright, Registrar, has announced.

Each campus classes will be resumed at 1 p.m. whereas those on West Campus will resume at 1:30 p.m. All University offices will be closed from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Armistice Day

Sophomore Hop Annual Formal To Be Saturday

The Class of 1955 will play host to the entire student body at the annual Sophomore Hop tomorrow night from 9 to 12 p. m. at the Student Center ballroom. With the theme, "Shine on Harvest Moon," the dance is formal with music supplied by the 11 piece Regents orchestra.

REFRESHMENTS for the party will be something new and unique for following the usual pattern of punch and cookies. The menu is a top secret item among Sophomore officials.

Top event of the evening will be the crowning of the King and Queen of the 1952 Sophomore Hop by Mr. A. B. Martin, Florida State University Vice-President. Also presented as the court will be the four boys and four girls chosen by the sophomore class. The coronation will take place at approximately 10:30.

DUE TO A typographical error in Tuesday's ballot, there will be a re-vote today in Westcott with the Sophomore Council again in charge. All of Tuesday's votes have been destroyed and there will be a complete re-casting of all ballots. Westcott has been named as the only polling station and all Sophomores are urged to turn out and vote for their favorites.

Contestants in the run-off remain the same as last Tuesday. Girls include Wynne Barmore, Doi Cooke, DeDe Duguid, Joyce Haag, Shirley Hogan and Jo Ann Hutto. Also, Dot Johnson, Bette Ann Munroe, Jean Sherouse and Nan Yates.

MEN COMPETING for King are Larry Beatty, Bob Serio, Bob Canada, George Carnes and Donald Hollis. Also George Kirby, Woody Parker, Graeon Smith, Don Vanhise and Bill Wagner.

Co-chairman are Sophomores Lo Vang and Mary Grace Shoemaker. Committee chairmen include Bob Harris, decorations; Shirley Trusler, king and queen court; Isis Arnold, voting; Judy Ash, refreshments; Jo Ann Setzer, invitations; Tom Vashlo, concessions; Shirley Hogan, publicity. Miss Mary P. Dutcher, Social Director at FSU, is lending faculty aid to the project.

Carothers Hold Tea Sunday Afternoon; Honors FSU Wives

Dean and Mrs. Millon Carothers will have an informal tea for the wives of graduate students Sunday from 3:30 until 5:30 p.m. at their home at 542 Miccosukee Rd.

At this time they will have an opportunity to sign up for interest groups such as bridge, ballroom and square dancing and art and homemaking.

A LARGE, volunteer committee of wives of students has been operating much time planning for the organization of a Florida State University Dames Club, according to Mrs. Elio Dantzler, acting chairman of the committee.

All wives of students and all faculty members' wives over 21 years are eligible for membership, The national pattern for this group and the interest groups is sets up to have sponsors chosen from the faculty wives Club. A first general meeting is planned at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Don H. Eaton, 1000 Stanley Rd. Tuesday, Dec. 4, at 8 p.m. Mrs. Harold Richards, faculty wife, will discuss "Tallahassee Confidential."

OTHER FUNCTIONS planned mainly with the Graduate Club for both husbands and wives are a Thanksgiving party Friday night, Nov. 21 and a Christmas party, Friday night, Dec. 12.

Many wives of students or married women students are not receiving information about Dames Club unless they or their should contact Mrs. Madeline Lenhard, 3-1117.

Nixons at Home

VEEP AND FAMILY—The new Vice President is ..no United States, Richard M. Nixon, poses at home with his family. Seated, left to right, are Nixon, daughter Julia, 4, Mrs. Nixon and Patricia Nixon, 6.

Election Today Chooses Queen From Finalists

Final Elections Today; Polls Open 8:30 a.m. to 6 On 1st Floor Westcott

Students will vote today for a Homecoming Queen from five finalists which were chosen Tuesday. The ballot box, located in lower Westcott, will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 6 p. m.

The five finalists on today's ballot are Barbara Sanders, sponsored by Sigma Nu; June Conyers, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Judy Ellis, Kappa Alpha; Marties Gensler, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Dorothy Johnson, Phi Delta Theta.

VOTING WAS done by numbered photographs rather than by names Tuesday. Pictures may be picked up now in the office of Dean of Students Welfare by the candidate or an appointed member of her sponsoring organization.

The candidate receiving the most voter in today's election will be crowned queen at the Homecoming Pow Wow, Friday, Nov. 14. The four contestants will be members of her court.

THE FINALISTS were selected from among 41 candidates, among who were Ann Adams, Kathryn DeBoer, Carolyn Calhoun, Sandy Carter, Elizabeth Cooke, Sara David, DeDe Duguid, Judy Ellis, Diane Fortin, Mary Hope Fuller, Betty Ann Gaskins, Marties Gensler.

Eleanor Green, Margie Grice, Woody Ann Hall, Sandra Hall, Jean Pat Powell, Ernestine Hunt, Dorothy Johnson, Suzi Jones, Nancy Kelly, Jackie Kerlin, Ann Leinbach, Lynn McNab, Adrehn Miller, Betty Jo Mitchell, Jeanne Nance, Nancy Munt, Jo Ann Owens, Lula Panazis.

FRAN ANN Richardson, Betty Ann Pierce, Joann Queen, Ruth Register, Betty Lou Straub, Mary Ruth Summers, Lenora Windham, Mary Woodward and Anne Yates.

FSU Grad Appears With Philharmonic

Elouise Truett, 1951 graduate of the Florida State University School of Music, will have a solo role in the weekly broadcast of the New York Philharmonic Symphony Sunday afternoon. This announcement has been made by Dr. Kurtzsteiner of the School of Music.

Miss Truett will be a member of the chorus in the first American performance of Arthur Honegger's "Christopher Columbus." by the French composer Darius Milhaud. The opera will be given in concert form at the regular Carnegie Hall broadcast of the Philharmonic and will be conducted by Dmitri Mitropoulos.

She will sing several solo roles within the chorus including the part of Ines de Torres, Newman Nonse on Sunday, Nov 9. Ann Yeoman, social chairman of the Newman Club has announced.

Participating in the debate are Vic Russell and Rick Cervitto for the affirmative and Orchid Alonzo and Chrile Jacobs.

"There are 315 Catholics on campus, and they should all be present at this most enlightening debate," said Ann. All students, whether Catholics or not are urged to attend.

FSU Student Center Will Sponsor Dance

An informal dance will be held at the Student Center Friday evening, announced Mrs. Grace Bateman, social director.

"There will be no admission charge and the dance will last from continuously from 8:30 to 11:30," said Mrs. Bateman.

The Student Center has been the site of dancing parties for the past few weeks. Besides this series of Friday night dances, the Game and Coutllion are holding dancing lessons every Tuesday and Thursday.

Post Office Supplies Wrapping Materials

For convenience of the students, wrapping paper will soon be provided in the post office at the student center The wrappings, complete with gummed strip will be the east door.

Says FSU Postmaster W. H. Mar, "With paper and string so handy, there is no reason why the students shouldn't wrap their packages securely so that they will not fall apart during handling."

Postmaster May requests that students use the supplies carefully.

Eisenhower Sweeps Nation Returning GOP To Office

State Supports GOP Nominee Second Time

Florida has gone Republican for the first time since 1928 and for the second time since Reconstruction days. The citizens of this state cast their 10 electoral votes for President to Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Eisenhower victory was brought about by the combined efforts of many old line Republicans and a large group of Democrats who rebelled against each party candidate and national health insurance. FEPC, federal control of tidelands oil and the Administration's attitude toward states' rights in general. Many people were angered at the opinion that a change in parties was needed.

WITH 1,400 of the state's 1,684 precincts reported, Eisenhower had 481,799 popular votes to Stevenson's 382,607. The Florida trend away from the Democratic fold began in 1948 when the state's voters cast their ballots for Dewey without a majority of the popular vote. In that year, 98,000 Democrat turned their backs on their party and voted for States Righter J. Strom Thurmond.

Although Eisenhower's 55 per cent of the vote does not match Herbert Hoover's 56.6 per cent in 1928, it was a different kind of a victory for the Republicans. This time there were no such issues as Catholicism and prohibition which defeated Al Smith.

TWO OF THE biggest upsets was Hillsborough county where Eisenhower carried through with 51 per cent of the vote. Only two out of Florida's ten largest counties went to Stevenson—Duval and Escambia. Dade county alone, which gave 56 per cent of its votes to the Republican candidate, cast more votes than the total number of registered voters west of the Suwannee River.

Stevenson carried North and West Florida decisively, whereas Eisenhower amassed impressive totals in Central Florida and West Coast surroundings Tampa Bay and in Central Florida.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS called the Eisenhower victory "the real thing" of a two-party system in the South."

Gls Given Loans By Private Citizens

More than 28,000 United States veterans have received private home loans from private lenders during the month of September 1952.

H. F. Dickenbarth, manager of the Jacksonville Regional Office, stated that, although many veterans are still not able to secure GI loans because of Section 4 of the Guaranty Division of the Pasa-a-Grilla Regional Office, has approved some slights increase in applications for the past month.

Veterans may borrow before June 27, 1950, the beginnins of the Korean campaign, are eligible for a VA guaranteed loan at the same basis as World War II veterans.

The GI loans are small although figures are not available, the number of post-Korean veterans who have applied for loans is small because the GI loan program just recently got underway

H'Caming Skit Finals Slated Far Tuesday

The finals for the Homecoming skit will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Amphitheater.

The organizations who will compete in the finals are Alpha Delta Pi whose chairman is Annie Moore; Alpha Chi Delta, Nancy Erickson; Phi Beta Phi, Patsy Peter; Sigma Phi Epsilon, Bill Rider; Delta Tau Delta, John Pate and Kappa Sigma, Malcolm MacMullan. The Homecoming Skit Program is being co-sponsored by the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority and the Sigma Nu Fraternity

Seniors Plan Meeting

There will be a Senior Class meeting Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 7 p.m. in the Longmire Auditorium.

Subjects on the agenda include the Senior Class project, Pres. Conner's party and a Seminole booster section.

New Whitehouse Tenants

NEW FIRST COUPLE—Dwight and Mamie Eisenhower were happily after his sweeping victory as President of the United States. Eisenhower will assume his duties in January.

Gymkana Nailed 'Best Performance'

BY MARY IRWIN

"Out of this World" is by far an understatement in attempting to describe the 1952 Gymkana production which continues tonight and Saturday at 8 in the Women's Gymnasium.

Students who hold coupons entitling them to tonight and tomorrow night's performances should buy their tickets at the bookstore. These students must be seated in the Gymnasium by 7:45 p. m., as which time reservations made by previous holds will be admitted. Some students could not make their appointed slots because of classes or other reasons.

FROM THE moment you are seated in the vast room with flying saucers, grotesque robots, glittering planets, and other extravaganzas composing the galaxy of the universe, unimaginable excitement and creations fill you with the actuality of being out of this world, viewing the spectacular adventures and intrigue of the outer atmosphere.

Spotlights flash on and drum thunder with the opening number as sleek forms shoot on stage, appearing as passing streaks of green, bodies twirling, draped in emerald trunks with star appliques. The famed Silver Lespine number begins, with five gymnasts bouncing and leaping gracefully over a gym apparatus called a "long horse."

THIS OBJECT resembles a table having four legs and a surface forming an oval of leather. Four bodies hurl into the air and pile one upon the other on the long horse as Jack Miles, leaps high into the air and completely over the column of bods. Comedian Gene Abrahamson receives a roar of laughter from the audience as he enters, attempts to perform as Jack, and instead lands stomach down on the four boys, scattering them to the floor.

One of the most outstanding, original scenes and beautiful numbers of the production is the Bronze Act, with Barbara Vickers as the Sun Goddess, pinch hitting for Francis Sloakes. Francis broke her ankle the night before the opening production and Barbara stepped right in, whipped up a costume and is doing a splendid job.

THE NUMBER beains with a blackened room with lights spot-

(Continued on Page 4)

Vets Face $10 Million Loss In Biggest GI Insurance Lapse

More than $10 billion in lapsed, term life insurance with no cash left forever under present laws unless the 1,200,000 veterans who have permitted their policies to lapse reinstate them before the terms expire during the next 14 months.

THE POLICIES involved, says Veterans Administration, are issued term National Service Life Insurance that were issued to two groups of World War II and post-World War II veterans. The first group were World War II veterans who took out their policies while they were in service during the last two months of 1944 and all of 1945.

The second group of vets and post-war vets took out policies while in the service during the last two months of 1947 and all of 1948. Both groups' policies will expire sometime during the last two months of this year or sometime next year, depending on the anniversary date of each policy.

VETERANS MUST reinstate their policies before the last term on it expires if they wish to continue this coverage.

Largest Vote Ever Recorded Goes to Ike

Ike, the soldier with the famous grin, will act up housekeeping in the White House for the next four years, after Tuesday's popular vote shut that same door to Adlai.

The general who gained his fame in World War II received a landslide support from all over the nation. The number of votes cast for Eisenhower surged past the previous record set by Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936.

ROOSEVELT had 27,751,-597 votes against Landon in that year, whereas Eisenhower had piled up a popular vote of 27,-542 as of Wednesday night with 11,907 precincts yet to be reported. The Democratic candidate, Adlai Stevenson had a popular vote of 25,501,684 at the Wednesday night.

The total vote cast for Eisenhower and Stevenson seemed certain to reach the 60 million mark which far surpasses previous record of votes cast in United States presidential election.

EISENHOWER'S landslide victory was even more impressive in the electoral vote compared to the popular vote. Stevenson carried only nine states with 89 votes. Only 266 electoral votes are necessary to elect a president.

The general carried every party in state after state, signifying that his sweeping victory was a personal one. In the race where The Republican party old win a slim majority in both houses of Congress however, scoring a net gain of 17 seats in the House and a gain of two seats in the Senate, if Oregon's Wayne Morse can be counted.

OF COURSE, WHO bolted the Republican party during the recent campaign to back and vote for him himself a Republican independent, could throw the Senate into the hands of Democrats with the Democrats. However, Richard Nixon, as vice-president and presiding officer of the Senate, could break any deadlocks which should develop.

Stevenson lost all of the big states, including the home state of Illinois. Eisenhower even managed to crack the solid South by winning Virginia and Florida.

Stevenson, who conceded victory to Eisenhower at 1:45 a. m. Wednesday morning from Springfield, Ill., asked all Americans to close ranks behind him and lend support to the new President-elect.

EISENHOWER accepted the presidency in a New Yorker Hotel Commodore ballroom. There the nominated arose to hear the messages of congratulations from the opponent. After that he told the cheering crowd, "It is to be sorry that this is a day of dedication rather than triumph for I recognize clearly the weight of the responsibilities that you have placed on me. And I promise you that I shall never in my service in Washington ever short weight to those responsibilities . . ."

After Eisenhower's winning, Pres. Harry S. Truman said he would help all he could. The president's home precinct in Independence, Mo., gave Eisenhower 197 votes to 124 for Stevenson.

Library Will Close Half Day Armistice

The library will be closed on Armistice Day, Tuesday until 1 p. m. From then, it will stay open until 10 p. m., the regular closing time. Reserved books borrowed on Monday night will be due by 2:30 p. m. on Tuesday, Nov. 11.

Library hours for the Homecoming weekend have been announced by Asst. Librarian Frances Rogers as follows: Friday, Nov. 14, 8 a. m. to 1 p. m., closed afternoon and evening; reserve books may be borrowed 12 until 12:45 p. m., due Saturday by 9:30 a. m.

Saturday, Nov. 15, 8 30 to 12:30 p. m., reserve books may be borrowed 11 a. m. to 12:15 p m. and Monday by 9:30 a m.

Sunday, 2 until 5 p. m., periodical and reference room only.

DEPRESSION EXPECTED BY STEVENSON BACKERS

BY FRANCES CAWTHON

I am going to the bank immediately and draw out my twenty-four dollars and thirty-two cents.

Furthermore I am going around campus asking up to the pecans I can find and stuffing them under the mattress. Haven't you heard? We are going to have a great big monsterous depression. A nasty ole Republican got elected Tuesday and you know what Hoover did to the nation . . .

I had been trying to die of quardruple pneumonia all day Tuesday, when news floated in during the p.m. that Ike was winning. After that, I drug myself downstairs to an election party (coffee and sandwiches), knowing that if a Republican won I wouldn't afford to die, because I wouldn't be able to pay the mortician.

Stretching a couple of extra tuna fish on whole wheat—things are getting that desperate around—I came back to bed, where I had nightmares of grinning elephants.

Thursday, when I got back into commission, I was riding an FSU bus, and listening to the conversations of some pre-yo-pro-Pro-Stevensoners, whose wallets were getting thin because of lost bets.

"I'm getting broke. I need a loan," said one.

"Better get it before this week ends," warned the other. "The banks will probably close."

"Wonder if I could get a floating loan."

"Gee, I hate to think of my little ole mammy and pappy on the street corners selling apples."

"Me too. They live in Miami, and apples don't grow very near. The overhead is going to be terrific."

"Hey! Whatta you mean 'overhead'? That's an old word under the free enterprise system. Them days are gone forever."

"Yeh . . . wonder when Ike's gonna to Korea? Ha, ha, ha!!!"

"Don't kid yourself. We'll be in Korea, while our families are starving to death."

"I guess. An Economics guy over there told me, though, that Hoover didn't cause the depression. He said it was something like an economic cycle that would have happened even if it were a Democrat . . ."

"Don't let him kid you . . ."

Judging from the conversation, all you people with pin money in the bank better scurry down to the first national, pound on the teller's cage and demand your do-re-mi. And, as soon as the bread lines start to form, I'll let you know . . .

Today is Friday, the day a lot of people eat fish instead of flamingon (ha, joke). At this time the press would like to pass on an important bit of information to all fish-eating Seminoles from some sort of U. S. or state health service:

Be sure and look for an identification mark on your oyster. George W. Gehres, shellfish sanitarian, says they should have a certification number. Also, be sure that is a boodlegeef oyster you are chompings on. (?)

Education Professor Is Added to Staff

Dr. Willie Hugh Hinely has been appointed Associate Professor of Education at F ida State University and will serve as director of industrial arts in the art education department, according to an announcement by Dr. Doak S. Campbell, president.

Dr. Hinely received his B.S. degree from Georgia Techers' College and his M.A. degree from Columbia University where he also received his degree of Doctor of Education in August of 1952.

Before joining the FSU faculty, Dr. Hinely was a member of the Staff of Teachers College at Columbia where he organized a crafts program for faculty and staff of the college. A similar program has been conducted at FSU for several years and will continue under his direction.

He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa and Kappa Delta Pi and an active member of the American Industrial Arts Association and the American Council on Industrial Arts Teacher Education.

Shores Tells Librarians Of Place In Cold War

Dr. Louis Shores, was principal speaker at a meeting held Nov. 3 in the Lonsmire Auditorium of the Library School.

A group discussion on the South Eastern Library Association Convention held in Atlanta and represented by four Florida State University faculty members and eleven students was led by Miss Mary Edna Anders. The following students participated: Dewey Glass, FSU dinner; Ruth Phillips, outstanding people present; Mrs. Margaret Strasser, book exhibits and Barbara Hendry, recreational opportunities.

Dr. Shores spoke on his trip to England on a Fulbright Fellowship. He described the English misconception of Americans as rich, materialistic, and "trigger happy," and the American conception of Englishmen as exponents of bad food, bad health, and formality.

Dr. Shores continued his talk with a discussion of the place of libraries in World War III, which as he put it, "is a war that may never be fought physically." There is now in Europe a "battle for men's minds' which is being fought by our overseas Information Centers. The United States Foreign Service is busy combating the Russian "Big Lie" campaign with good information about American way of life. This is a war in which librarians are the principal combatants and in which psychological warfare is proving far more effective than the threat of atomic warfare," he concluded.

Because of student interest in Foreign Service Librarianship, the Library School has invited Dr. Dan Lacey, Head of the United States Information service of the Department of State, which is in charge of the "Voice of America," to speak in the Science Lecture hall on Tuesday, Nov. 18 at 7:30 P. M. Students can obtain admission slips by applying to Cockerell Hall, Library School office.

Fla. State Students Will Give Concerts

Two musical programs will be furnished audiences in North Florida this week-end by the Florida State University School of Music.

Betty Jane Grimm, contralto, and Mary Esther Winslow, pianist, will appear on the series sponsored by the Jacksonville Friday Musicale. Their joint recital will be presented in the Friday Musicale Auditorium on Nov. 7 at 8:15 p.m. Both performers are members of the FSU music faculty.

Jonathan Bowers, concert pianist and student of Dr. Ernst von Dohnanyi of the FSU School of Music, will be presented in recital on Sunday, Nov. 9, in Madison. The program is sponsored by the Woman's Club.

Mr. Bowers is a former pupil of Harold Bauer and Mieczyslaw Horszowski. He has concertized extensively throughout the Southeast and has been listed in "Who's Who in the South" since 1947.

Friends Meet Sunday

The Friends will meet at 9:45 a.m. Sunday at 419 West Lafayette. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Victory Smiles

THE WINNERS—Sharing the spotlight of GOP victory are the new President and Vice President. Left to right are Mrs. Nixon, Vice President Nixon, President Eisenhower and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Meet The Eisenhowers

NOT FAMILIAR POLITICIANS—Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates and family are, left to right, Dwight D. Eisenhower, grandson Dwight D., 4; Daughter-in-law Mrs. John Eisenhower, holding Susan Elaine, 8 months; Anna 3, and Mrs. Eisenhower.

COLUMNIST SWEARS OFF PREDICTIONS

By BRUCE GALPHIN

This is supposed to be a column on the electoral thrill of a Dall politician. I objected to writing on the subject because I know as much of Dall. It is possible that I don't know much about predicting elections, either.

The point is well taken, but I feel that I should not drop the subject of the presidential election with all a few more comments.

I was surprised and pleasedto say I appointed at the results of the election. I was not one of the se who felt that there wouldn't be much difference in the two candidates.

But the election is over, the people have made their choice and life and government will go on. Perhaps anyone not acquainted with American politics would expect the people to be hopelessly divided after such a campaign as was waged. But it is one of the basic principles of democracy that the majority rules, and in America we have proved the power of it over.

This doesn't not mean that there will be con ists unanimity for the next four years. Certainly there people still ardently dedicated to various points of view and philosophies of government will not overnight give up their beliefs, but together will, in common cause, under the leadership of their conflict.

Eisenhower, furthermore, deserves more than just the support of his party. His victory was not a minor one, but an overwhelming endorsement by the American people. For better or for worse, the voting public has registered a great swing of sentiment, and expressed a desire for a change.

As the general tries to put through the reasonable proposals which helped to elect him, people should listen to him with nonpartisan ears. That is to say without sacrificing principle they should some the less take into consideration the voice of the voters.

It is fortunate that Ike carries the Republican congress. For if the opposition were in control of the legislature, there would undoubtedly be less cooperation than now seems likely, and it would be hard to say who was and who didn't.

wasn't responsible for the gains and errors which will be made in the next few years. Certainly the Republicans have their first opportunity in 20 years to put their best foot forward. The American public will have a chance to evaluate the change they approved. There will undoubtedly be a realignment of leadership within the Democratic party, also, so that the "change" will be all around.

* * *

I must now eat my crow pie. That is. I must apologize for having dignified what was obviously wishful thinking with the title "prediction." After having criticized the public opinion polls for their lack of validity, I got a certain amount of ironic pleasure out of the fact that they were just about as much off percentage-wise as they were in 1948, but at least they indicated the correct direction of the results.

So, trying hard to remember when I have made a correct prediction since I started writing a column, I again flanfare please, Miss Cawthon, swear off predicting.

Dr. Hunter to Speak With Zoology Panel

Dr. F. P. Hunter, head of the Physiology Department, has been invited by the Society of Systematic Zoology to participate in a panel discussion covering on elementary Zoology texts.

The discussion will take place at a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in St. Louis, Mo Dec. 29.

Dr. Hunter and his brother, George W. Hunter, III, are co-authors of a college textbook titled, "College Zoology."

Chilean Is Honored By Library Exhibit

An exhibit honoring Jose Toribo Medina will be displayed in the foyer of the Florida State University Library Nov. 4 through 20.

The exhibit includes original editions of Medina's bibliographical and historical works, many printed on his own press, as well as Chilean Indian handicraft and views of Chile lent by Dr. Manuel Campbell of the modern language department.

The Pan American Union, who with the cooperation of the Library of Congress, the Embassy of Chile, and many other organizations, is sponsoring a Centennial Celebration in memory of Medina, asked the FSU Library to participate in this exhibit.

Medina, a Chilean, became known throughout the world as bibliographer, historian, printer, incunabulist and scientist. He died in 1930 at the age of 78.

Baptist Revival Ends

Service Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church will bring to a close the revival which is being conducted under the leadership of Dr. Lee Nichols and song leader Norman Lauch.

The last weekday morning service was held this morning at the church on College Avenue. There will be no services held tomorrow.

Meteorology Dept. Gets Naval Grant

The Office of Naval Research has granted $29,376 to the department of meteorology at Florida State University. This contract will provide for continuation of studies which have been in progress at FSU under a previous contract.

The research contract extends from Jan. 1, 1953 to June 30, 1954, provides that the studies shall not be limited to theoretical climatology, but shall include research in numerical forecasting and general circulation of the earth's atmosphere

Dr. Don S. Campbell, FSU president, has announced that the research project will b conducted primarily by Dr. Werner A. Baum, head of the meteorology department, Dr. Leon Sherman, assistant professor, and Dr. Seymour Hess, associate professor.

Education Problems Are Discussed

Problems of education in the state of Florida will be discussed by Dr. Doak S. Campbell, president of Florida State University, at a meeting of the Florida Education Association in Miami Beach on Nov. 13.

Dr. Campbell will speak on the subject, "Education Problems in Florida" at the meeting which will be attended by 1,500 delegates.

French Conversation Urged During Dinner

The Modern Lanuages section of the French Department of Florida State University is sponsoring a special table in the Seminole Dining Hall for those interested in French conversation.

Under the supervision of Miss Yvette Monnet, a native of France and a graduate student at Florida State University, the project is designed for the purpose of furthering the use and interest of conversational French at FSU.

Patronize Our Advertisers

PLACE YOUR ORDER NOW

For HOMECOMING FORMALS

SMART STUDENTS RENT THEIR FORMAL WEAR!

Be the fastidiously attired escort in clothes that are immaculately cleaned, precision pressed and fitted to you, to perfection. Our dress charts provide authentic guidance to proper attire and accessories.

Complete outfit for as little as

$6.50

Handsomely Packaged For Gift Giving

"Everything for the Shoe"

- Expert Shoe Repairing
- Dye Shoes All Color
- Shoe Shine Kits

PALACE SHOE SHOP

"THE MOUSE THAT SERVICE BUILT"

121 EAST PARK AVENUE

Superb Service

Keeps Your Car In Tip-Top Shape

CALHOUN AMOCO SERVICE STATION

131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

Nic's Joggery

rest . . . it's wonderful in our CLUB LOUNGE pajamas by WELDON

Wear them when watching T.V. when reading or catching much needed shut eye! Wear them whenever the occasion calls for good looking pajamas styled with Sleepform® tailoring for maximum comfort. Long sleeved leisure shirt in gay patterns, deep tone solid color slack-tailored trousers complete with cuffs, pleats, pockets and Lastex Waistband Wonderbelt. Sizes A, B, C, D, E and Mr. Long.

ALFORD BROTHERS

212 S. MONROE

Dine with us . . . in the Amber House

"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

WATCH FOR OUR SPECIALS

Fried Chicken
Liver & Onions
Broiled Fish
Roast Pork

SIDELIGHTS ON THE SIDELINES

HAMMER AND NAIL TIME!!

By NANCIA MORRIS

It's hammer and nail time! In other words it's time for club initiation time, nail polish stuffing, gooey paper mache, paint streaked jeans, and frustrated enthusiasms. It's Homecoming time, and clocks tick away the minutes 'til November 15.

Sororities and frats, dormitories and organizations have buckled down. The trophy gleam shines in every eye. Each group has its masterminds burning the midnight oil, tearing the hair, gnashing the teeth, laughing hysterically and groaning intermittently thinking up ingenious schemes—sure-fire winners.

The first indications that our biggest weekend is looming just around the corner came last week when various skit chairmen were observed taking the slum building dress tux at a time, skidding through the waxed lobby and triumphantly placing upon the reception desk three minutes before deadline time, a brief case full of expenditure and vivid description of skits that were yet to be written. What woes of intellect assail us when in the hour of inspiration! And what powers of premonition!

Ah, but the fun was only beginning. Back to the boxes for paper and pen, needle and thread, and dried-up jars of tempera — the scramble was on. Such lindes have never before been penned; such props have never before been seen; and I'll warrant the judges present for tryouts could add a few choice tidbits about the final products!

All in all—with love, or draw—it matters not To heck with the judges decision. Each pantomime actor is secure in the supreme satisfaction that his pals really deserved an academy award of some sort. And, if no one minded—what difference? The groups that staggered up the hills Tuesday and Wednesday nights, wobbling in complete hilarities under giant cardboard cans, and cut-up props — were amused and amusing enough to snare any old Loving Cup! The window streets of Florida State revveled for some hours into a replica of Ringling Brothers Famous parade.

Now the skits are all over except the final big nurse. The Alpha Gam's and Sigma Nu's, as well as all the entrees are to be cannibalized for an entertaining skit connected. Even the judges deserve a word of praise for being such agreeable judges they laughed!

But away with the after dinner diatribes and on with basement work parties and front lawn hubbub—decoration frenzy has set in. On any chosen afternoon, take a stroll around the campus and see girls hurrying from balconys and trees; girls standing tip-toe on skinny tree ladders; girls carrying huge chunks of cardboard newspapers, and great buckets of paint; in general, girls doing everything except actine like girls, the helpless branch of the family. However, should you occasion upon some asinine wite, in pigtails and bows chuseing down grade in a potential suicide tractor, horseless variety, the advice of the Fool is jump out of the way, for most girl drivers will be girl drivers.

Ah, yes, Homecoming time is here—with sad tales, sleepy eyes aching backs, and thrice cut classes. Judging from the plots and planning thus far accomplished, this will be our biggest and best—comparable to that of any rival from across the Florida tracks—well, almost.

All we need now is a little co-operation from the prof in those re-um cut clauses—this is education, ya know—a temporary abscence, sleep heavily —then, bring on Homecoming. 1952 edition, we're ready for it. —At least we will be — three minutes before deadline time next Friday afternoon!

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BABS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors ..... Marcia Morris, Bruce Galphin
Sports Editor ..... George Bunn, Jim Sady
Copy Editor ..... Judy Simkins
Feature Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant News Editor ..... Al Pierce
Rewrite Editor ..... John Haroscoe
Morgue Editor ..... Lila Yung

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University Tallahassee, Florida. The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York.

Telephone 5-9000, Extension 6621

Second Floor Alumni Bldg.

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

On The Warpath

By GEORGE BUNN

Let me introduce myself. I am now sports editor for the duration of this issue of the Flambeau. Now that you have met me let's move into the real reason for this page.

Tomorrow afternoon the Mississippi Southerners will move into Campbell Stadium there to remain until they have successfully or possibly not-so-successfully battled with the Florida State Seminoles.

The Southerners come to us boasting a very impressive record for this 1952 season. After dropping a well fought 20-6 verdict to the Alabama Crimson Tide in their opener the Southerners marched on through five consecutive wins. There is one bet you can make and do so thought of losing and it is, the Mississippi squad will be all set to make FSU their sixth victim.

A POINT NOT TO BE overlooked is that the Mississippians are coming in fourth best ground gaining team among smaller colleges in the nation. This team has two outstanding men in the already star studded backfield. McElroy and Pepper, who have rolled up a grand total of 1,380 yards. McElroy has claim to 700 yards in this outstanding figure.

Statistics show that the Mississippi Southern team could win by seven touchdowns. However, the Stetson game proved that the Seminoles have the right spirit and that they can work together quite concisely.

We are not without standouts as you have probably already noticed. One lad I might mention is our punting star, Tommy Brown. Brown is rated as one of the top 20 kickers in the nation. You may be noticed a boy named Stan Dobson. Stan is a freshman and he is also the joy of Coach Veller. There are of course other boys who deserve mention but you can see their abilities for yourselves on Saturday 1ith.

A HEARTENING FACTOR for this week-end's game is that the Seminole defense is coming into its own, as witnessed in the Stetson game. Our defensive boys certainly have picked a better time to start up when we realize that the Southern squad is a powerful ground team.

Nelson Italiano, Florida State's "Old Reliable," will be in the talking position this Saturday. Nelson is an outstanding player before any powerful and fast. Italiano has not seen much action this season due to several injuries. Even with this working against him the hard running senior star has piled up a record of six out of eight passes completed and two touchdowns scored. Not bad for a sick man.

* * *

THERE IS MUCH SPECULATION as to why FSU is losing. We shall mention several factors which may contribute to the situation. There is an over abundance of freshmen, true. We are playing much too difficult teams now than we have in the past. We have made many mistakes in the games. All these and possibly many more are the reasons. However, it must be realized that we are in the middle of the recovery new period of growth. We are attempting to move into a higher bracket. It is up to we students to remember this and to give all the support which we can muster to the team. I'm not going to waste idle words in order to fill up space.

When we shout Sic'em we've got to mean it and show by our actions that we can do it. Football at Florida State does not have to stand for some stunt to be feared by the student body lest it wreck the school. Believe me, when I feel that it is becoming such a giant, if it ever does, I will consider it an honor to be the first to speak out against it. I do not feel that this is how it's going to be but I ask you to show by your actions that you believe in the team.

* * *

TO LEAVE FOOTBALL for a second, I wish to bring to the attention of the intramural managers that if mistakes are made in the final listings as recorded in the Flambeau it will be greatly appreciated if the involved managers will drop a note in the campus box addressed to the sports department of this paper and advise us of the mistake.

* * *

As a parting thought I wish to return to football and say that I make a prediction about this Saturday's game. It is this: The game will be played at 2 p.m. and the best team won't necessarily win.

Friday Special

WHOLE BROILED

FLORIDA LOBSTER

With French Fries and Drawn Butter, Chef Salad

97c

Seven Seas

Campus capers call for Coke

Win or lose, you'll get different opinions when the gang gathers to rehash the game. But on the question of refreshment, everyone agrees— you can't beat ice-cold Coca-Cola.

DRINK Coca-Cola

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark.

© 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

FSU To Try For First Win At Southerners' Expense

Hard-Fought Battle Expected To Top Mississippi's 5 Wins

Florida State University's improving Seminoles take the field here tomorrow afternoon in hopes of getting their first win of the season at the expense of Mississippi Southern's high-flying Southerners.

Kickoff time is 2 p. m. in Doak S. Campbell stadium. The Seminoles are rated as the underdog for this fracas by two touchdowns. Bennett Land, sports publicity man for the Seminoles, stated that around 7,000 fans are expected to turn out for the game.

THE SOUTHERNERS are no big time in the football world and their past record indicates that they will be a mighty tough team to beat. Mississippi has played six games this season and they have won the last five.

The Southern backfield is made very strong primarily by the efforts of Hugh Pepper and Dicky McElroy. McElroy, a workhorse fullback, has averaged 116.6 yards for each of the six tilts this far engaged in by the Southerners.

McELROY'S team mate, Hugh Pepper, is making a name for himself as indicated by his record of 113.3 yards for the six outings. He and McElroy have made a total gain of 1,349 yards for the total times played this season.

To combat this highly explosive offensive opponent, FSU's Head Coach Don Veller has sent his Seminoles through heavy scrimmage sessions all this week.

"OUR DEFENSE will again be called upon this week to stop one of the nation's most thunderous ground games," Veller stated. "Mississippi Southern is the type of team that can go all the way on any play. They have in McElroy and Pepper two great backs. Our boys will be outmanned but they'll be in there fighting."

FSU's defense showed last week in the Stetson game that they could operate well in the powerful onslaughts. Twice when the Hatters were within the 20 yard line the Seminole defensive host, not only held them but threw them for a loss.

THE PERFORMANCES of wingback Harry Bringer and halfback Billy Raboin were definite bright spots in the game with the Hatters last week. Along the forward line it was Co-Captain Vic Szczepanik, guard Jerry Jacobs, Buddy Bryant, John Karlewicz, and George Boyer who made the Stetsonites don extpressions of worry as they actually moved against the Stetson team. Backing the line were Bill Whaley and Louie Leonhardt who gave a very fine exhibition.

No one can be cornered to state exactly how they think the game will turn out. After the Seminoles' having enjoyed four straight(!) game and tying the fifth it could be expected that discouragement we have turned into desire and this Saturday's contest will be a well fought one by both sides.

VELLER HAS indicated that he will give Nelson Italiano a shot at the tailback post this week. He will be replacing Roy Thompson. Thompson was a disappointment at the deep slot in the Stetson game, Coach Veller stated.

Probable starting offensive lineups for Saturday's game follow:

M'Lik	...	P.E.U.
McKellar	le	Campbell
Lehman	lt	Rovin
Lacey	lg	Wodrich
Mann	c	Boyer
Hermann	rg	Jacobs
Ray	rt	O'Neil
Long	re	Karlevich
Jarrell	qb	Taylor
Bourbon	rh	Bringer
		or Massimore
Pepper	lh	Raboin
McElroy	fb	Dobson

Winners of Dorm, Fraternity Games Clash in Stadium

The Florida State Intramural sports program got a boost yesterday when it was announced that the winners of the fraternity and dormitory touch football leagues will clash on a football game, in Campbell stadium. The game is slated for 10 o'clock, Nov. 16 and it is the first time that a fraternity and dorm team have met in any sport.

The participants in the contest won't be known until next week after the two leagues complete play-offs. In the frat division, four squads will take part in the play-offs: Phi Delta Theta, currently in first place, Sigma Chi (4-1); Kappa Sig (4-2), Kappa Alpha (3-1) and Alpha Tau Omega (3-1). The winner will receive a trophy and the right to face the dorm league champions.

The Trojans of the Freshmen dorm and Marmolla hall, in first and second place respectively, will clash November 12 for the title in their league.

The announcement of the independent - fraternity battle was made by Gunn Gunn, sports director after being OK'ed by Athletic Director Howard Danford.

Women's Intramurals

Women's intramurals, dormitories and sororities, are at the climax of the first sport season, volleyball. There are four leagues consisting of six teams each. The winner of each league will have a play-off and this winner will be the volleyball champ.

In the past there have been seperate leagues for the sororities and dormitories each producing a winner of their league. These two winners played for the over all championship. This is being eliminated by combining the sororities and dormitories, thus producing only one winner.

Standings for each league are as follows:

League I

	W	L
AXD	4	0
Bryan	4	0
KAT	1	3
ACO	1	3
KD	1	3
DZ	0	4

League II

	W	L
ZTA	4	0
ADP	3	1
Reynolds	2	2
AOPi	2	2
PBP	1	3
DDD	1	3

League III

	W	L
CO	4	0
DDD	3	1
SK	2	1
AXD	1	3
AOD	0	3

League IV

	W	L
Jennie Murphree	4	0
PM	3	0
DO	2	2
GPB	1	3
PXP	0	3
DZ	0	4

Dr. Hardee Speaks At 4-H Club Meet

Dr. Melvene D. Hardee, coordinator of guidance at Florida State University, was the principal speaker at 4-H meeting held Nov. 4 at 9 p. m. in the Longmire Building.

Dr. Hardee spoke on "Making The Best Better at College," stressing the main "H" of the 4-H pledge.

Dr. Hardee was introduced by Jackie Dupont after a short business meeting presided over by Evelyn Henley.

All members were urged to help decorate the 4-H float for the Homecoming parade. They are to meet on West Campus across the street from the Home Demonstration office after the football game Saturday, Nov. 8.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Tailback

Nelson Italiano

Italiano to Fill Backfield Post

Nelson Italiano will be filling the tailback position in this Saturday's tilt with the Mississippi Southerners.

Nelson, who has been hit by old man hard luck in that he has injured his knees several times this season, has piled up a very enviable record. In the 1950 season he averaged 5.6 yards per carry. Also, he made eight touchdowns in the 1951 season and picked up a total of 240 yards. In this same season he tossed for a total record of 405 yards and put the ball into the hands of the scorers six times.

A record of six out of eight passes completed, along with an "around average of 49 yards per men-

Daily Workouts Held by Cagers

Intensive Drill Begins For 20-Game Season

With the opening game for the Florida State basketball squad scheduled for December 5 Coach Bud Kennedy has his team working out in the west campus gym nearly every day. At the present time there are 31 men on the roster with five of these being returning lettermen.

Since practices are still in the shaping-up period Kennedy declined to make a statement as to his expectations for the coming season. The Coach did say that of the large number of freshmen on the team he has been particularly impressed with the showing made by the following: B. H. Marcum, height 5'11"; Gene Wagner, height 6'3"; Hick Hinzimbaham, height 6'2½"; Dick Armsterr, height 6'4½"; Mot Dellahan, height 6'1" and Jim Orr, height 5'11".

The returning lettermen Pence Wernke, Benson, Gordon and Weelhafer will have their hands full in a dual job of getting themselves in shape and at the same time of trying to set good examples for new members of the squad.

"Practices are conducted on an objective basis," Coach Kennedy stated, "and accurate scrimmage records are kept so that we can keep an eye on each boy and can correct his mistakes immediately as they occur."

The Seminole basketball team will engage in a 20-game schedule this season. The names of teams on the schedule will not be released until next week as they have not yet been given final approval.

try has been rolled up by Italiano this season even though he has seen very little action due to injuries.

Italiano or "Old Reliable" as he is known by Veller, will be sorely needed as the Seminoles have had several injuries to key

Intramurals

Mural Footballers To Begin Finals

Football leagues have drawn to a close except for the play-offs and the bowling and tennis tournaments are well over half way finished.

In the Dormitory Bowling Tournament the following teams are participating and have piled up the records indicated: Winner's Bracket: Trojans, two wins; Mocasins, two wins; Magnolia, one win; Senior Hall, one win; Newman Club, four wins. Loser's Bracket: Cats, two wins; Confederates, one win; Panthers, two wins; A.A.F., no wins.

NOW FOR A look at the tennis records. Fourteen Fraternities are participating in the murals Doubles Tennis Tournament.

In the first round played on October 20, the ATO's-Litles and KA's got a bye as they were last year's winner and runner-up, respectively.

Of the matches played on this date the following records were made: SAE vs. LCA, SAE won; PKA vs. PDT, PDT won; PKT vs. KS, KS won by forfeit; SPE vs. SN, SPE won by forfeit; DTD vs. TC, DTD won; SC vs. KA, SC won by forfeit.

WINNERS OF the second bracket were: ATO vs. SAE, SAE won; PDT vs. KS, KS won; SPE vs. DTD, DTD won; SC vs. KA, SC won.

The third set of matches, which mark the last records we have of the matches so far yield the following scores: SAE vs. KS, SAE won; DTD vs. SC, DTD won.

The semi-finals bracket, completed matches show that in the ATO vs. PKP, ATO won; in TC vs. SN TC won: PKT vs. PKA, PKT won by forfeit; LCA vs. KA, KA won. Second round results were: TC vs. PDT, PDT won; JKT vs. SPE, PKP won by forfeit. Fourth round shows in KS ATO vs. PDT, ATO won; PKT vs. KA, KA won.

THE MURAL touch football leagues are in the last throes of action. In the Dormitory league Monday's results are as follows: Marmolla won over the Cats by forfeit; AAF whipped the Moccasins on first downs, 5-3; Rebels defeated the Confederates 14-13; the mighty Trojan team trounced the Newman Club 76-0; and Senior Hall won by forfeit and from the Panthers. Wednesday's tally shows Senior Hall losing to AAF 6-0; the Trojans again won this time against the Confederates by first downs, 2-0; the Panthers forfeited to the Newman Club; the unlucky Mocasins bowed to Magnolia 6-0, the Cats gave up a forfeit to the Rebels.

Results of the games played in the Fraternity leagues show that on Tuesday LC ran over KS 18-0. Mighty KA beat the FKP's 12-6 and the PDT vs. SC game ended in a tie.

The following standings for the league are final with the exception of the Fraternity number two league which will not be final until certain protests are played off.

Dorm League

	Wins	Losses
Trojans	6	0
Magnolia*	7	1
A A F.	5	4
Senior Hall	4	3
Moccasins	4	5
Rebels	3	5
Confederates*	3	5
Newman Club	1	6
Cats	1	8
Panthers	1	9

Frat League I

	Wins	Losses
PDT	6	0
SC	4	3
SPE	3	3
DTD	3	4
SAE	3	4
PKA	1	5
SN	1	5

Frat League II

	Wins	Losses
KA	6	1
"	4	1
LCA	4	2
"	3	3
"	2	4
PKP	2	5
PKT	1	6

*Indicates protests to be played.

Standings in this league are not definite as a final result.

Winners in each group will be determined as follows: In the Dorm group the first two teams will be in the play-offs which will be held November 12. The winner will be determined by single elimination. Fraternity play-offs will take place between SC's who will play the winners of league two and the PDT's who will play the runner up of league two. Single elimination will determine the winner and the final game will take place on Thursday Nov. 13.

Some of us like history— And some of us like psych, But we all like the better kinds Of good old Lucky Strike!

Marguerite Ullmann City College of New York

BULLETIN!

College students prefer Luckies in nation-wide survey!

A nation-wide survey based on actual student interviews in 80 leading colleges reveals that more smokers in these colleges prefer Luckies than any other cigarette—and by a wide margin. The No. 1 reason given for smoking Luckies? Luckies' better taste. What's more, this same survey shows that Lucky Strike gained far more smokers in these colleges than the nation's two other principal brands combined.

Yes... LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

STUDENTS! Make $25! Send in your Lucky Strike jingles now

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company

AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES

When you've a date and stay out late Her father may appear But offer him a Lucky Strike And you need have no fear.

David L. Norton Washington University '52

Brave Caesar had a thrilling life Was cheered and feared alike— But Caesar never had the thrill Of tasting Lucky Strike!

Anthony R. Black Notre Dame

A.T.C.

LUCKY STRIKE "IT'S TOASTED"

CIGARETTES

L.S./M.F.T.

FOR A CLEANER, FRESHER, SMOOTHER SMOKE

Be Happy- GO LUCKY!

Von Brunt Addresses Alpha Kappa Psi Meet

Harry Van Brunt, In-Service Training Officer with the Florida Industrial Commission, addressed members and alumni members at the first Alpha Kappa Psi dinner meeting of the semester, held last night at Garcia's Restaurant.

Alpha Kappa Psi, national business fraternity, sponsors monthly banquet meetings featuring speeches by prominent businessmen and state or government officials.

Classified Ads

WANTED—Two rides to Miami leaving Nov. 26. Call Bill Dunn at the Flambeau office or Babe Henry at the Pi Phi House.

LOST: Man's maroon zipper jacket lost in Music Bldg. If found please return to Music Office. Reward.

SALE

CORDUROY SPORT COATS $10

SAVE DOLLARS! Gives a fellow that dashing he-man look. Fine grade corduroy. Fully rayon lined. Charcoal, rust, green, tan maroon Shorts, longs, regulars. All sizes.

Fremac's

302 S. MONROE Phone 2-1776

Gymkana Nailed

(Continued From Page 1)

ting five human figures painted bronze, gracefully posed as the planets. With the words, "Sun Wrshippers there always have been sume time beam." There, suspended momentarily, the planets stand still to gaze on the shining splendor of a golden sun goddess, as Barbara Vickers, glittering and beaming, begins a dramatic ballet.

Suddenly the spot is aimed high to the beams of the room where Bob Martin does a take off on the famed Sebastian of "The Greatest Show on Earth," performing the famous stratosphere hand stand. "Direct from the Wild Milky Way comes the Startling, the superb Sebastian! The highest paid artist in the Universe. He will attempt the most famous stratosphere hand stand for which a net is an absolute essential! Bring on the safety net!" With these words, two tots enter holding a handkerchief as a net for the great Sebastian, who shouts, "Away with the net, Sebastian needs no net," and goes into the difficult and perilous handstand.

CLIMAXING THIS elaborate production are The Lunar-tics, who "caper and cavort, skip, trip, and jump, bounce, flounce, and leap; and always come up smiling!" This intricate comedy balancing act demands perfect body control as they bounce from a table to each other's shoulders in timed unison.

Joan Meador provides the music with a rendition of "How High the Moon."

In viewing such a show, few realize what goes on behind the back drops, and the hours of labor, organizing and planning, that are compiled in the show. The entire Gymkana is directed by Dr. Hartley Price with the assistance of his wife.

"EACH MEMBER competes with each other so the students strive hard with these competitive performances. The entire thing, costumes, dance organization and planning is dreamed up by the cast. We have tried to encourage them to think and create what they want," explained Dr. Price. Marilyn Cobb designed the entire array of back drops for the show and supervised their construction. Mariaold Goodlett designed the tap number costumes, while Francis Stokes dreamed up the graceful and beautiful fire ballet costumes and Gladys Tinkler originated the wind costumes for the Dance of the Elements.

Spacking and adding a different touch to the show are the Tallahassee Tumbling Tots. These children, under the supervision of Mary McNatt and Dick Gulling, range from 6 to 13 years and perform unbelievable acrobatics and tumbling acts.

"Boolin brie, but I truthfully feel sure that this year's Gymkana production, by far, is the best ever at FSU," were the words of Dr. Price, "father" to the entire Gymkana cast.

Dr. Sara B. Campbell will crown the winning contestant for the Miss Gymkana title Saturday night. These contestants have designed their costumes to fit the production title.

Home Economics Scholar

STUDENT WINS AWARD—Shirley Ann Allen, Florida State University student majoring in home economics, is shown receiving a $300 check from Dr. Richard Morse of the student body committee. She was selected as the winner of the Borden Scholastic Award, given by the Borden Company to the senior in the School of Home Economics having the highest scholastic average during her first three years at the University.

Light Study Made At Wakulla Springs

A submarine photometer which is extremely sensitive to small amounts of light is being employed in experiments to determine the light transmitting properties of water.

The experiments in limnology, which is the equivalent of oceanography in fresh water, is being conducted by Dr. F. C. W. Olson, physical oceanographer at Florida State University and two graduate assistants, Charles Yentsch and George Grice, at Wakulla Springs, which is the clearest water of any previously studied in this manner.

Dr. Harold J. Humm, director of FSU oceanographic Institute, explained that the experiment is conducted by lowering the photometer into the water and taking readings at various depth intervals until the bottom has been reached.

THE RESEARCH team is also using a bathythermograph, an instrument that simultaneously and accurately records water depth and temperature.

Dr. Humm said the researchers are seeking to determine if there is any temperature change in the water from its source at the bottom to the top. In this part of the work Dr. Olson and his assistants are using a specially built boat, designed and built by Yentsch to properly control use of their instruments.

The management of Wakulla Springs is co-operating with the project, providing the researchers with a boat and giving other assistance.

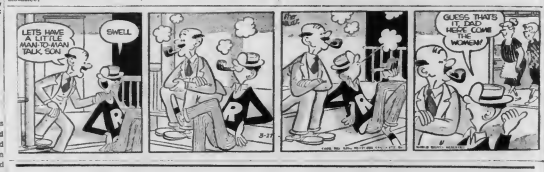
Dr. Richard Morse Speaks In St. Pete

Dr. Richard L. D. Morse, professor of family economics in the School of Home Economics at Florida State University, summarized the results of his recent research in consumer preference for canned orange juice at the 56th annual meeting of the Florida State Horticultural Society yesterday in St. Petersburg.

Dr. Morse read a paper on "Selected Studies of Consumer Preferences." His research work was conducted in cooperation with the Florida Citrus Commission at Lakeland and the Florida Citrus Experiment Station at Lake Alfred.

Buy Your Homecoming Dance Tickets Now

Ruge Holds Service



Special memorial services in observance of Armistice Day will be held at 11 a.m. Sunday at Ruge Hall, student Episcopal center, according to the Rev. W. K. Morley.

That time will be set aside for the remembrance of those of the armed services who are deceased or now in service.

Fish Biologist Speaks

Jack Dequine, chief fisheries biologist of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission will be speaker at a Biological Science Seminar at 4 p.m. Tuesday in Room 411 History Building. He will discuss "The Ecological Basis for the Controlled Seining Program."

OUT OF THIS WORLD

Gymkana Costumes Add Color To Show

By JUNE MORGAN

Saturday night the sky-soaring styles that have added so much color to the nightly performances of "Out of this World" will come down to earth when the Judges announce the name of the girl who rules over the 1952 edition of Gymkana.

The group of 16 original finalists have been pared down to 11, from which a queen and her attendants will be named at the final show.

EACH NIGHT Saturn, Venus, Sun, Moonbeams, Rainbow and other "heavenly" creations promenade in the fourth act of "Out of This World." Materials from sheer gauzy weaves to rich velvet and a wealth of sequins dominate the costume spotlight.

Miss North Star wears a shimmering skirt of Christmas tinsel with a heavy blue star-trimmed bodice.

LOOKING LIKE a page from Vogue, Moonbeam is clad in a soft blue satin leotard with blue and silver net overskirt. Another interpretation of moonglow is given by Lady of the Moon who appears in a silver-cloth suit with crescent decolletage, a crown of stars, net veil and crescent scepter.

In the planet realm, Venus wears a silver sequin-trimmed strapless suit, with blue belt and caury blue drape. Saturn is an extreme contrast of vibrant red velvet encircled by a gleaming golden rims.

SUN WEARS a net ballerina costume with matching sequins and a gold sequined Juliet cap, while Sunrise appears in red satin and net.

Perhaps one of the most unusual interpretations is Miss Northern Light's lilac costume with a skirt of multi-colored layers of net.

RAINBOW IS dressed in a sequined suit draped with pastel net and carries a miniature pot of gold.

Miss Gymkana will be chosen on the basis of beauty, poise and costume design and the lucky girl will receive a giantic trophy, similar to those won by the gym team.

ALL THROUGH the week the glamorously-clad court provides interesting scenery in the second floor reviewing stand backdropped by billowing parachutes. Each member of the court will receive an honor certificate for her part in the performance.

NOSE, THROAT, and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR CHESTERFIELD—EITHER WAY YOU LIKE 'EM

★ CONTAINS TOBACCOS OF BETTER QUALITY & HIGHER PRICE THAN ANY OTHER KING-SIZE CIGARETTE

Buy CHESTERFIELD—Much Milder

Copyright 1952, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Styled extra-smart . . . the way you like them ARROW GORDON OXFORDS

America's Campus Favorites

Nothing like an Arrow Oxford to keep a fellow looking his best. Wall-styled. Perfect-fitting (the Mitoga trade-mark tells you that). And you can count on Arrow Oxfords to stay fresh and neat looking all day long. "Sanforized"-® (fabric shrinkage not more than 1%). See our smart selection of collar styles today!

Mendelson's

The most dashing men on campus wear Arrow Gordon Oxfords

Arrow Gordon Dover: button-down classic, $4.50.

ARROW

SHIRTS • TIES • UNDERWEAR • HANDKERCHIEFS • SPORTS SHIRTS

Buy Your Homecoming Dance Tickets Now

Florida Flambeau

SEMINOLES

No Classes 'Til 1:00
Have Lots of Fun
Happy Armistice Day!

VOL. XXXIX, No. 15 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1952

Warpath Sponsors New Card Section

Roped-Off Booster Section Sets Aside 600 Seats; Rehearsal To Be 5 Wed.

A card section sponsored by the Warpath Club will be inaugurated this year in the booster section at the homecoming game. Anyone interested may sit in this roped-off section containing 600 seats.

There will be members of the Warpath Club sitting in each row, and the cards will be passed out with numbered instructions.

A MINIATURE demonstration of the card designs will be presented at Doak S. Campbell Stadium on the night of the Pow Wow. Rehearsal for this demonstration has been called for Wednesday at the stadium at 5 o'clock.

The Warpath Club was founded last year by Jett Munroe, former Homecoming Queen, for the purpose of stimulating school spirit at games. Official duties of members include compulsory attendance at all athletic events and pep rallies, as well as working on committees, ushering and in decorating the goal posts.

Pledges, who are called "papooses," must accumulate 50 points by working at various jobs before they become "full blooded squaws."

ALL MEMBERS of the Warpath Club are pyred to meet in the Longmire Auditorium at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. Also they are asked to meet in the Longmire Auditorium tomorrow with the Senior Class. Non-active members are also asked to attend.

Persons who received the first two mentions were automatically made members. Now, applications must be made for membership.

LEADING the organization at this present time is Bill Dandy, vice-president, in absence of a Big Chief, president. Other officers include Mel Mallosh, Keeper of Signals, recording secretary and Pat Filson, Sender of the Smoke, corresponding secretary.

The Warpath Club plans Pep Rallies and schedules pre-game parades "Papooses" were a solid factor in recognition of their service, while "braves" and "squaws" are awarded Gold Tomahawk Keys.

Martin Crowns Sophomore Hop King and Queen

Ann Yates and Donald Van Zandt reigned as King and Queen of the Sophomore Hop Saturday night when they were crowned in the open patio of the Student Center at a setting of palms and four pedestaled baskets of white gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums.

The Queen carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums, with sprays of the same flowers. The trains of the court carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. The color scheme was carried out in Nile Green and White.

Miss Yates is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Van Zandt is a Sigma Nu fraternity man. He was treasurer of the Freshman Class, King of the Freshman Revue, Pledge Co-Chairman and a member of the varsity swimming team and Gold Tomahawk fraternity.

Attendant members were Dorothy Lou Groover, Carrie Mae Mallory, Betty Bruns, Ann Shirley Shaw, Bill Barnes, Fran Shirley, Bow and Donnie Hollis.

Mary Moore and Jamie Farquhar, two children, served as crown bearers.

Weekly Luncheons For Grad Students Sponsored by Club

The Graduate Club is sponsoring a weekly luncheon for graduate students every Thursday from 1 until 1:30 p.m. in the Dutch Kids, of the Cafeteria. The management has reserved this room for the luncheons so as to keep the cafeteria line in the Dutch treat cafeteria.

A short program is planned for each meeting and Dean Milton Ray Nuhfer of the Graduate School will be the speaker for the next meeting this Thursday.

All graduate students and faculty members are invited to participate in this luncheon hour set aside. Officers of the Graduate Club expressed the hope that there will be a good turnout as an opportunity for meeting students and faculty, especially of other departments, and learning of the work being done in graduate work in the entire University.

UGA Cabinet Plans Open House Saturday

The University Government Association will hold an open house Saturday morning to better acquaint students with the University with the workings of the student government, publications and clubs on the campus. Many changes have occurred during the years.

The open house is being sponsored directly by the Cabinet. Those members along with representatives of the various other organizations concerned will conduct tours of the UGA. Flambeau Room Signals, Tally Ho and WFSU offices, from 9 a.m. until 12 noon. Refreshments will be served.

Queens To Claim Pics

Students who were candidates for Homecoming Queen are urged to go by the Office of Dean of Students Welfare and pick up their photographs, as arrangements have been made for their sponsoring organization.

"Photographs should be picked up immediately," Milton Carothers said.

Morley Holds Service

Special Holy Communion in observance of Armistice Day will be celebrated at the Episcopal Student House, Rose Hall, Tuesday at 11 a.m.

All student veterans are especially invited. The Rev. Walter K. Morley will officiate.

Swing And Sway

SAMMY KAYE—The Sentimental Gentleman of Swing and his band will provide the music at FSU's Homecoming dance Saturday night. Tickets for the dance will remain on sale until Friday afternoon and may be bought at any of the three different locations on campus. They are priced at $1.50 each.

Dance Ticket Sale To End on Friday

Tickets for the Homecoming dance featuring the popular dance music of Sammy Kaye and his orchestra will remain on sale until Friday afternoon until 2 p. m., the committee has announced.

SELLING FOR $1.50 each, tickets are being sold at three places on campus; the lobby of the Seminole Club, the Bookstore lobby in the Student Center and at the box stop directly behind Westcott. Booths will be open every day this week from 8 a.m. till 5 p.m., and Friday until 2 p.m., due to the parade scheduled for 3 that afternoon.

Students are urged to purchase their tickets as early as possible to avoid being turned away from this most looked-forward-to social event of the Homecoming season.

DANCE DECORATIONS this year are to be something special according to Tom Edwards, Chairman of the committee. Gold tinsel will be used in large amounts and hangings in the entrances and hallways are to be at a minimum to afford easy access to the main dance. Immediately following the Garnet Gold Key Banquet on Friday, crowns will start erecting the bandstand and decorations and are expected to complete the job by Saturday afternoon.

The spotlight will, of course, be on Sammy Kaye and his celebrated dance band who, for years, has been polled as the nation's Number One Sweet band. Presentation of the program will be vocalists Peggy Powers, pretty, sweet singer, a graduate of Barry College in Miami, and Jeffrey Clay, handsome young baritone who has appeared over NBC network for several months before joining the Kaye outfit.

HIGHLIGHTING the evening will be the "So You Want To Lead A Band" feature. Kaye takes any would-be bandleaders from the dance floor and places a baton in their hands and a hilarious bit of nonsense begins with the band ets away from the customary and again urges all students to purchase tickets as soon as possible.

UGA To Present Election Analysis In Weekly Forum

The University Government Association Forum, to be aired over WFSU tomorrow night at 8, will be on "What Next, Mr. President?"

This week's forum consists of an analysis of why Eisenhower won the election and of what his platform consists. The forum will also include a discussion of Truman's policies and why he left office of President will be in the next four years.

Jan Arbogast, Forums Chairman, called a meeting of the Forums Committee recently. Future plans and publicity were discussed, and the program for the first semester was outlined.

The topics for the remainder of November will be "Should FSU join the National Student Association?" and "My Experience with Communism," an account by students from Poland, Germany, France and Norway.

Attending the Forums Committee meeting were the faculty sponsor, Dr. Mildred Morgan, home and family life; Miss Mary Magginis, English and Dr. Wesley Hartley, business law.

Pianist To Play Grieg Concerto November 24

Kuersteiner Explains Many Requests Made For This Selection

The Concerto for Piano and Orchestra by Edvard Grieg has been selected by Alec Templeton for his appearance in Tallahassee with the State Symphony of Florida on Nov. 24, symphony conductor Karl Kuersteiner has announced.

"We have received several requests that Mr. Templeton play this work in his performance here," Dr. Kuersteiner said, "and we are happy that we can include this musical masterpiece on the opening concert. The Grieg concerto is probably the most popular piano concerto in the repertoire." Dr. Kuersteiner added, "receiving more performances annually than any other concerto."

IN ADDITION to his performance with the orchestra, Templeton will take the stage for a solo group of his witty burlesques of music and musicians, and his improvise complete compositions on notes called out by members of the audience.

Tickets for the symphony series are still available, but are going fast, Mrs. Lucy Worley Wilson, chairman of the Jaycee Symphony Series Performances will be held in Leon High Auditorium, with all seats reserved this year. Ticket information and seating plans of the auditorium are available at local music stores, the FSU School of Music and from members of the Jaycee Club.

The Symphony Series will consist of three programs this season, with Templeton on Nov. 24 Albert Morrill, violinist and Ernst von Dohnanyi, guest conductor on Feb. 3, and Harry Kaufman, dancer Robert Sedore, violinist, and J. Dayton Smith, tenor, on March 24.

Students, Faculty Attend ACE Meet At Daytona Beach

Students and faculty members attended the Association for Childhood Education of Florida, Saturday at the Sheraton Beach Hotel in Daytona Beach.

After a general meeting, at which Miss Frances Hamilton, association president, and Miss Alice Dent presided, who was unable to be present, Saturday morning, a report on the baby-sitting and children's artist series projects was given by Miss Dent.

Miss Sara Lou Hammond, Mrs. Margaret Casson and Dr. Mildred Boyer's classes attended the meeting as ACE student sponsors and student members of the Leon County ACE. Other students attending the convention from FSU were Carol Lantz, Nancy Lamb and Yvonne Russ, Tallahassee Tumbling Tots, along with Dick Cutting, Bob Bollinger, and Edson Evans, gymnasts.

"Interstellar Olympics" will also be given. "Empyreal Rhythm," a tap dance, will feature Marshall Goodlet, Edna Shoemaker, Barbara Vickers, Kent Heberling and Jim Fadrian. "The Lunatics" will also be presented.

On Friday the trampoline act will be given at a luncheon at the Country Club. The group will return in time to be in the Homecoming Parade. In the evening a trampoline act will also take place at the Pow Wow. Performers Fadrian, Pat Farrell, Dick Ireland and Bob Bollinger.

Classes End Friday Noon For Homecoming Weekend

Alumni Meets, Parade, Displays Precede FSU-Furman Game

Homecoming 1952 preparations are going into the last stages of completion as Florida State University prepares to welcome its hundreds of alumni and students to the annual festivities.

ALL CLASSES will be dismissed at noon Friday. Nov. 14 to mark the beginning of the gala weekend.

Alumni registration will begin at noon Friday in the Longmire Building where alumni will pick up their tickets and badges till 7:30 p.m.

THE HOMECOMING parade will form just outside campus on Call Street at 3 Friday afternoon and will move down College Avenue through the streets of Tallahassee past the reviewing stand at the Florida Hotel where floats will be judged.

Daytime judging of men's and women's residence halls and fraternity and sorority decorations will begin at 5 p.m. and continue till 6. Final selection of the prize winning decorations in each group will be made after night judging from 9 to 10 p.m. Friday night and winners will be announced at half-time during the football game Saturday afternoon.

The traditional Garnet and Gold Key Banquet will be held in the Suwannee Room of the Union at 6:30 p.m. Dr. Earl J. McGrath will be guest speaker at the affair at which all Alumni, Garnet and Gold Key members and their wives and invited guests will attend.

FRIDAY NIGHT at 8:15 Dook S. Campbell Stadium will be the scene of the traditional Pow Wow pep rally and display including fireworks and crowning of the 1952 Homecoming Queen. There will be a reserved section for Alumni who have registered.

Saturday morning will find the Alumni at breakfasts from 8 to 9:30 at the home of President and Mrs. Campbell. Registration of Alumni will continue on through Saturday morning at Longmire.

DEDICATION of new buildings on the FSU campus will follow from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. with school officials and dignitaries present. The first Alumni meeting will begin with a business session in Longmire at 10:30 a.m. till 12 noon Saturday. At that time, Alumni will move out to Camp

(Continued on Page 4)

Suzi Jones Is Miss Gymkana

Receives Crown, Title At Final Performance

Suzi Jones received the crown and title of Miss Gymkana at the final performance of the Gymkana production "Out of This World" Saturday night. Her first attendant is Marilyn Goble, with the second, Barbara Vickers.

All contestants received certificates, with the cup going to Suzi and medals to her attendants. Dr. Doak S. Campbell, University president, made the award during the first act of the show.

Miss Gymkana was dressed as a moonbeam, in keeping with the production title. She wore a light blue sequined gown with a strapless satin top, three layers of organza trimmed in silver starting at the waist line, and a matching satin braid across her head.

Marilyn Goble, representing the universe, a strapless, light-filled costume of all silver sequins, with a train in back of light blue material on which were silver shooting stars. She also had a wide sparkling blue belt and silver sparkle high heels.

Barbara Vickers, who was also a performer in the show, chose the sun as the motif for her yellow and red costume, decorated with gold spangles. The costume had long net sleeves.

Armistice Celebrated

In observance of Armistice Day no classes will be held until 1 p.m. today.

The library will also be closed until 1. From then it will stay open until the regular closing time at 11 p.m. Reserved books borrowed on Monday night are due today by 2:30 p.m.

Curtain Falls Tonight On 'Torchbearers' Play

BY IGNACIO SVED

Continuing "to lift the cloak of essential culture," the speech department presented two hours of laugh-filled entertainment in their production of George Kelly's satire on amateur theatricals, "Torchbearers." The play, which began at 8:15 p. m. in Conrad Theater, ends a four night run tonight.

The humorous scenes of the 20's are made more hilarious under the capable direction of Frank B. Hanson, director of "You Can't Take It With You" and "Ah, Wilderness." It is only under his careful control that the play escapes the danger of becoming frantic slapstick. Also adding to the integration of the production is the fact that there are no leading roles or supporting roles. Success or failure depends upon equally good performances by the entire cast, and the play would have been a show overflowing with zest but tempered by acid-restraint.

SPECIAL PRAISE goes to Dean Russell, director of costumes who found, altered, or completely made the weird feminine apparel so essential to the plays authenticity. Depending on the models of Isadora Duncan and the Monsieur Academy in Salzburg, Austria.

The program by Silberet including "Gavotte Varee" by Rameau and the "Gymkana Polka" by Opus 11" by Robert Schumann. Other selections were "The Steamer of Old in the Moonlight Lake" and the "Polanaise in E Major" by Liszt.

Candidate For Ph.D. Gives Piano Recital

Howard Silberet, pianist, gave a graduate recital at 8:30 p.m. in the Opperman Music Hall, as a part of his work toward a PhD degree in piano.

Florida State and the University of Southern California are the only institutions of higher learning authorized to grant a doctoral degree in this particular field. It had before been an honorary degree.

A student of Dr. Ernst von Dohnanyi, Silberet holds his bachelor's degree from Baldwin College and a master's degree from the American Conservatory. He has studied in Fontainebleau, France and the Mozarteum Academy in Salzburg, Austria.

The program by Silberet including "Gavotte Varee" by Rameau and the "Gymkana Polka" by Opus 11" by Robert Schumann. Other selections were "The Steamer of Old in the Moonlight Lake" and the "Polanaise in E Major" by Liszt.

Foreign Club To Meet

The Parisian Students Club will hold its next meeting Thursday at 7 p.m. in Room 222, Music Building. Important business will be discussed at this meeting and all members are urged to be present.

ODK Will Tap New Members On Wednesday

Public May Watch Official Tap Ceremony At Student Center

Omicron Delta Kappa will tap new members tomorrow in what is officially designated as ODK Day. The tapping will take place at 12 noon in front of the new Student Union. The ceremony is open to the public.

OMICRON DELTA Kappa, or ODKas it is commonly called, is the only official men's leadership honorary in American colleges and universities. The first circle was organized at Washington and Lee in 1914. The Florida State Circle was installed in the spring of 1949 through the efforts of Del Albritton and Ed Kinsey, students, and Dr. Jerry Keirn, faculty member.

ODK recognizes outstanding achievements in the following phases of college life: scholarship; athletics; publications; social and religious affairs; and music, dramatics, and the speech arts. Besides the scholastic requirement, a member must possess outstanding moral character. Membership is limited to junior and senior men who have met these requirements and who have been unanimously approved by vote of the active circle membership.

WILLIS TYRELL is President of the Florida State Circle. Other officers include Dick Bradley, Vice-President; Dan Boda, Treasurer; and Dr. Wm. Poteat, Secretary. Faculty advisors include Dr. Paul Reynolds, Dean Charles Davis, and Colleen Hollands. Jim Ball immediate past president; Walter Dyer, Sigi Sid Steinmeyer are the other student members while President Campbell, Dean Bell, Dean Doner, Dr. Vahe James Norton, Jerry Kelly, Roland Hinton, and Bert Bradley are local associate members.

Summers Presents Loving Cup Award For F Club Work

Mary Ruth Summers, University Government President of Florida State University presented a loving cup last night to Betty Holland, president of the F Club, women's athletic honorary, in recognition of the hatband donation given to Campus Chest from any one organization. The presentation was made mainly by the F Club Box Supper, which netted $4.75 per member in the organization.

In all, the Campus Chest Committee has collected $50 so far. This does not include a pledge of $50 by Mortar Board, $35 by Alpha Lambda Delta and $50 each from Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Alpha Theta. These last are to be raised through the annual "Mortar Puff Bowl" game, a football game among girls.

Final decision by the Campus Chest Committee has the World Student Service Fund receiving seventy percent of the amount collected, the Heart, Cancer and American Red Cross funds will receive ten percent each, according to Margaret Krassenmain, chairman.

"I want to thank everyone," said Marzaret, "for the fine cooperation, enthusiasm and generosity for the work and time contributed."

Bus Will Go To Tech

All students wishing to ride in the chartered bus to Atlanta for the FSU-Tech game Nov. 22 should sign the posters in Westcott, the Student Center or contact Tommy Owen, Kappa Alpha House.

The bus will leave Tallahassee at 4:30 p.m. Friday and will leave Atlanta at 4:30 p.m. Sunday. Round trip will be $7.85.

Bradley Announces Tournament's End

The intramural debate tournament sponsored by the department of speech will be concluded tonight with the completion of the third and fourth rounds of debate, according to the tournament director, Bert Bradley.

The last round will begin at 7 p.m., and the fourth round will follow at 8:30 p.m. in various rooms of the Student Center. The Winners will be announced at the end of the fourth round unless additional rounds are necessary to determine a winner. If this occurs, they will be broken at a later date.

Friends of the participants and those interested in debate activity and FEPC legislation are invited to attend the debates, Bradley said. Go to Room 112 History to find out where the various debates are being held.

Service Club Meets

The men's service committee part of Sophomore Council met yesterday to discuss plans for help in homecoming activities. It was the first organizational meeting of the group.

OTHER WORLDLINESS CONTINUES:

Gymnasts Play Turkey Bowl

Gymkana has another week of performance, following last week's production of "Out of This World." This afternoon two gymnastic acts will be featured at the Turkey Bowl in Campbell Stadium.

"Interstellar Olympics," on parade at 2:30 will feature Brother Wallace, Jack Miles and Gene Abrahamson. Jim Daniel, Verginia Ellis, Ruth Roetheim, Don Holder and Pat Wainorelli. Earth, Judges and Bob Martin.

THE OTHER act will be "The Lunatics," on trampolette, with Dick Cutting, Jack Ireland and Harmer Welchel.

By special request Gymkana will perform at the Florida League of Municipalities for its convention here, Nov. 13-15. City officials from all towns in the state are represented in this group.

The Gymkana troupe will be their guests at the Suwannee Room and will present a 40 minute program. Officials have asked for the "Celestial Parade," featuring the finalists in the Miss Gymkana Contest, including Suzi Jones, Miss Gymkana, Marilyn Goble, Barbara Vickers, Gladys Turbeville, Ann Lee Hays, Anderson Miller, June Morgan, Pat O'Brien, Vonnie Roeder, Mary Belle Tuttle, Jeanne Hamilton, Pat Daniel, Verginia Ellis Sellars.

Other numbers to be presented are "Ballet Dance," Barbara Ann Vickers; "Bronze," Harry Norviel, Ted Pabst, Bud Bowers; "Mercury Cycle," on the unicycle, by Ann Tucker and Edson Evans; "Bardust," acrobatic dance, Barbara Vickers; "Stairway to the Stars" tables and chairs, Joe Regns, Bill Goslow and Bob Martin; and ladders, Bill Roetheim, Don Holder, Pat Sumorelli, Bennie Wallace and Jim Fadrian.

"HONGING STARS," a fast tumbline act will also be presented, featuring Marty Cummins, Brent Pichard, Jack Caswell, Jimmie Sue Williams, Evelyn Laing, Barbara Beesley, Lynn Prank, Karol Ann Kuersteiner, Carol Lantz, Nancy Lamb and Yvonne Russ, Tallahassee Tumbling Tots, along with Dick Cutting, Bob Bollinger, and Edson Evans, gymnasts.

Senior Class To Meet Tonight In Longmire

The Senior Class will meet tonight at 7 in the Longmire Auditorium for the presentation of the Senior project, President's birthday party and the booster section.

Seniors are also urged to get their tickets for the birthday party at the Information Desk of the Suwannee Building. Price is $1.50 per ticket. It will be held Thursday, Nov. 18 at 6 p.m. in the Suwannee Room.

PHILANTHROPIC WORK IS FOR THE BIRDS

By FRANCES CAWTHON

Philanthropic work is for the birds, especially when it turns the around and philanthropics you.

My roommate got this "good ole humanity" feeling Sunday and decided to go out to the Tallahassee Memorial Hospital to read to a little girl she knew who was sick. The love of fellowman bites, so I tassed along, too. What could I lose? Besides, there wasn't anything else to do. . . .

In the children's ward, a couple of nurses were sitting by a miniature juke box with a few wheel chairs of kids with scrubbed faces and sick heads. While roommate went into one room and was reading "The Emperor Who Loved New Clothes (or something)" to a sweet little girl with a plaster-of-paris arm hanging over her head, I was rifling the juke box for Johnny Ray's version of "Faith Can Move Mountains."

Giving up in disgust because all I could find was "Here Comes Peter Cottontail" and some opera about a train that went "toot, toot," I tried to talk to the wheelchair cases. That proved too boring. At the age of five they had gone more operations than my Great-aunt Tillie Belle. And I didn't like the patronizing looks in their baby blue eyes when I told them how much I suffered the last time a cold germ stomped me.

I lingered at the door where my roommate was going on, but roommate still hadn't gotten the emperor dressed. Finally I asked, then I felt something crawl over my feet. It was a bandaged head, one bandaged arm and a clapper.

It crawled away and I spent a few more moments trying to keep myself from feeling out of place. The thing that crawled over me was not crawled back up in the door and looked at me.

"Hey, I'm down there," I asked, thinking maybe it would invite me to have a crawl. It said, "urah," and crawled back out.

About that time, a nurse came scurrying down the hall. "Mary, what have I told you about crawling on the floor. Now set up and behave or no more trips."

Nurse picked up Mary, who began to scream, and put her into the crib "until you can walk and not crawl." She left. The baby, now behind bars, looked at me and screamed harder.

"Uh, her," . . . me.

"WAHHH!!!!!" . . . Mary.

"Don't cry . . . I'll read you a story. Would you like that?"

The "WAHHH" toned down to a wahhh." I ran pell-mell for a book, coming back to the crib with a story about a Doctor Squash who made dolls well.

I read the story, pointing the pictures, making like an ill toy soldier and screaming with emotion when some doll had a tummy ache and was calling for mamma.

Suddenly a small hand reached out and grabbed the book, opening it while looking at me with a firm eye.

"Bullshit sleshsoz fleidrr." Mary said, pointing to the pictures. She continued. She said, "Mary, fif, sla," she continued, as I oohed and ahed enthusiastically. This kicked off the 8-ALL racing down the alley.

Finally Roommate got all the clothes on the emperor and came over to me.

"Ready to go?" she asked me. "Bltigh," I said.

Co-Ed Is Injured As Train Collides With Parked Auto

Diane Fortin, 19-year-old Florida State student, and Raymond M. Simmons, 22, recently discharged from the Air Force at Moody Field, Ga., escaped serious injury when their car in which they were parked on a private rail siding west of Tallahassee was hit by a slow moving train.

The FSU students received emergency treatment for head cuts at Tallahassee Memorial Hospital where she was taken after the accident. Simmons did not require medical treatment. The 1952 sedan owned by Theophil Oravets of Moody Air Force base, was totally demolished.

A WITNESS told investigating officers that the car was parked on the siding about 8:15 p.m. and the driver apparently didn't notice the train. Engr. P. Eugene Ward of Tallahassee was at the throttle of the 8-ALL engine pulling freight cars and said he was traveling about 15 miles an hour along McCormick Dr. He said he had rounded the curve and was almost on top of the car before he saw it.

He rushed to the other crewmen to "get back," he said, and then sounded the whistle. The engine pushed the car for about 1/4 mile before the vehicle slid into a ditch. The train was backed leaving south and the train was moving east. The right side of the car, front and rear, was badly crushed.

Simmons was charged by the patrol for driving without a license.

Delta Sigs Pledge Six At Wednesday Meet

Six members of the School of Business were pledged to Delta Sigma Pi, professional business fraternity, last Wednesday night in Fall pledging ceremonies for the fraternity.

Those pledged were Ronald McConnell, Tom Sista, Wallace Smith, Mack Murray, Fran Sherlock and Jim Cooper.

The fraternity was founded to foster the study of business in universities and to promote a closer affiliation between students and business and the business world. The new neophytes are pledged to uphold these principles.

Dr. Lacy Will Lecture On Foreign Libraries

Next Tuesday Mr. Dan Lacy, Director of the D. B. Department of State Foreign Libraries, will lecture on "Foreign Library Service."

This is one of a series of lectures which will be sponsored through the Library School. Each of the lectures will cover one current issue in librarianship. Other lecturers who will be included in the series are D. Lubber Evans, the Librarians of Congress; Dr. Fremont Rider, authority on and founder of Micro-cards and Dr. Louis R. Wilson, dean of Southern Librarians.

Twenty One Women Tapped For Tarpon

Twenty-one women swimmers were recently taken into the Tarpon Club, women's swimming honorary.

The "minnows", who will appear in the first show, are Lois Arnold, Delilah Ashmore, Barbara Bellinger, Jenny Bevington, Mary Lois Thornhill, Joanne Young, Sue Young, Boots Pate, Spanky Parker, Eta Marie Benson, Anne Brown, Janet Burroughs, Bets Closier, Sherry King, Sue McCormick, Ann Cozell, Ann Crane, Joy Crouch, Joyce Grooms, Susie Reasoner and Nancy Harold.

Baptists Hold Vespers

Vespers service will be held at the Baptist Student House, from 7 to 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Gwynder devotional vice-president of the Baptist Student Union, will be in charge on the special Armistice Day service, "God and Country." Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

thank you for your wonderful work, spirit and co-operation you have shown us.

Let us make next year's drive still better. If you have any suggestions for improving and planning the work of the Committee, or if you would like to work with the Committee next year. Please, do contact Shirley Trazier, next year's Chairman or me We surely will need your co-operation and your suggestions for the most important ask, since we know that important task, since we know that connected with the drive.

Once more, many thinks.

Margaret F. Richardson,
Campus Chest Chairman.

Holland's Restaurant
Complete Soda Fountain
& Restaurant Service Facing the Capitol
at 106 East Pensacola St
Tallahassee, Florida
Excellent Food at All Hours
Air Conditioned

MOVIE REVIEW

"Ivanhoe" to Play During Homecoming

BY JANE MORGAN
Feature Editor

In keeping with the holiday spirit of the Florida State University Homecoming, the Florida chose Nov. 12 through 16 for the showing of the year's most spectacular film-version of Sir Walter Scott's immortal novel, Ivanhoe.

Robert Taylor, Elizabeth Taylor, Joan Fontaine, George Sanders and Emlyn Williams star in the knighthood pageant. Prices for the special pre-release showing are matinee, 75 cents and evening, $1.

COMPLETE WITH castle storms, dungeons escapes, and colorful jousts, the film unfolds the rescue of King Richard the Lion Hearted by his loyal followers as well as the ultimate downfall of the Iron-tyrant King John who attempted to steal his brother's throne.

Taylor turns in one of the outstanding performances of his career as the courageous and mysterious Ivanhoe who champions the common people, and leads the movement to free Richard from and restore his throne. His lovely, but somewhat inspired, Rowena is played by Elizabeth Taylor.

REBECCA, the Jewess who loves Ivanhoe secretly and is one of the outstanding factors to his success, is dynamically portrayed by Elizabeth Taylor who this time eclipses all previous performances. Surely no other Hollywood actress could have been more suited for the role.

Many will remember, the story from high school literature classes, but will find it more interesting in the film version. Ivanhoe while riding in a foreign land discovers the castle where Richard is held and decides to make an inspiration to his subjects, charge of the rescue and will introduce the two visiting state officials.

SPRINGFIELD RIFLE, the story of a girl and a gun that made Cary Cooper the equal of five men, is the Warner color film that begins a seven-day run at the State Theater today thru Monday.

THE supporting cast includes Phyllis Thaxter, David Brian and Paul Kelly.

FSU Class Hears Talk On Retirement

The operations of both the State Teachers Retirement System and the State and County Employes Retirement System will be explained by the directors in a class in public administration tonight.

Kermit Parris, head of the Teachers Retirement System since 1946, will tell the class studying administrative problems of Florida the benefits of the system and its fiscal operations. He is a former school teacher and has worked for two years in the State Auditors Office.

D.W. Mawhinney, director of the State and County Retirement System since 1948, will outline the fiscal makeup of this system and how it operates for the benefit of state and county employes in Florida.

Angus Laird, director of the Florida Merit System and part time faculty member in the School of Public Administration, has charge of the class and will introduce the two visiting state officials.

Passing Records Set In MS Game

Two new passing records were set here Saturday by Florida State University in its 50-21 defeat by Mississippi Southern.

The Seminoles threw the ball 28 times, bettering the previous mark of 27 set against Troy State in 1951. The Indians also set a new single game pass completion record, connecting on 13. The previous high was 11, also established against Troy last year.

It was all part of Head Coach Don Veller's statement that "we shall throw the ball more."

Wesley Players Hold Final Meet Thursday

The fourth and last meeting of Wesley Players will be held Thursday night at 8:30. It is necessary for those who have not attended their three required meetings to be present at this meeting.

A selection from "John Doe" will be presented to demonstrate the importance of make-up in a production. During the last three meetings, lighting, staging and costuming were stressed.

Work will begin soon on "A Child is Born" the Christmas play for this year.

Education Conference To Hold Meeting Here

The next Southeast Regional Conference of the Philosophy of Education Society will be held at Florida State University.

At the Southeast Regional Conference of the Philosophy Education Society in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, held last Friday and Saturday, it was agreed to have the next Conference at FSU. FSU representatives at the Conference were Dr. Herman Frick, Dr. Marian Hay who was elected secretary-treasurer for 1952-53 and Jane Guinanne and Godfrey Kent, both doctoral students at FSU.

Methodists Elect Pres.

Mary Catherine Freeman was elected president of the Freshman class of the Methodist Student House Sunday and is expected to take office immediately. Other newly-elected officials are: Al Holderbach, vice-president. Dolores Keiper secretary and Sidney Sweeting, treasurer.

Decorations for Homecoming is the first assignment for the freshman group.

Paul Turner
JEWLER - WATCHMAKER
KEEPSAKE
DIAMONDS
102 S. Monroe Ph. 2-1442

PLAYBITS

LAST CHANCE TONIGHT TO SEE 'TORCHBEARERS'

By GEORGE SPELVIN

We're still carrying the torch for "The Torchbearers" and perhaps it's being carried a bit higher than it was previously. Those who attended opening night last Friday, We're still laughing. So remembering certain scenes, lines, and performances we saw.

Attendance for the show has been very good. If you haven't had a chance to see it yet, take our advice and go over this evening.

Tonight is the final performance and the curtain will go up promptly at 8:15. Tickets are still on sale at the box office in the Union building and the prices are certainly reasonable-70 cents for faculty members and non-students and 50 cents for students with identification cards. Seats will be in the best of nightly low," but you'll be in high spirits by the end of the first act.

One thing that happened during Friday night's performance rather confused the audience but also elicited several hearty laughs.

In the show, there is a play within-a-play and the second act takes place in the theater in the auditorium where this play is being given. At the curtain falls the script calls for a rope to break and the consequent inability of the stage manager to raise the curtain so that the cast can take their bows.

This situation since was quite embarrassing for the performer bowing as the second act ended. But what caused the laughs was the signals of the first-nighters was that as the intermission ended and the third act began, the curtain an Conradi stage refused to go up (you see, it hasn't had way; giving an excellent view of the backstage area as well as leaving their upper limbs in absentia.

The situation was finally remedied and the last act proceeded. Dr. Conradi therefore couldn't decide whether the "stuck curtain" was a special touch intentionally added by the director or not.

After the play Friday night, a reception was given by the department of speech in the theatre lobby for speech majors, graduate students in speech, the cast and crew of the play and speech faculty. The lobby was beautifully decorated with displays of past productions and bouquets of flowers.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served with Miss Mary Louise Thorpe presiding over the attractive table. Everyone enjoyed the party and is hoping for a "return engagement" in the near future.

Tonight and Tomorrow, November 13, the cast of a one-act play, "The Man in the Bowler Hat" by A. A. Milne will go to Thomasville, Georgia to give a performance for the veterans at the Veterans Administration Domiciliary. The play has all-female cast and is directed by Mr. Roger Rasfield. The cast is a suire en a melodrama. If you can figure that out. (And we can't!) We're hoping that it will be presented to an F.S.U. audience so that we can see just what they mean.

With the closing of the season's first play tonight, a number of the community series shows will start refreshments. Tomorrow night the cast of "Taming of the Shrew" will get their curtain call and meet with the director Mr. Carl Zerke, to discuss various aspects of the production that will be described in January.

We hear that production has already already started on this show with Mr. Doug Russell's costume department. Costumes are quite something but look as though they are going to require a lot of hard work. If anyone is handy with a needle or other dressmaking equipment, Mr. Russell will be glad to enlist his aid in the costuming of the show.

You can also sign up now for any of the other crews that you might like to work on. See Mr. Russell, Mr. Reimer or Mr. Zerke in the office. 115 Huntzy.

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BABS BENEY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors ..... Merle Morris, Erica Catsos
Sports Editors ..... George Bunn, Jim Eady
Society Editor ..... Judy Jenkins
Feature Editor ..... Jane Morgan
Assistant News Editor ..... Al Pyers
Photo Editor ..... John Harrocopos
Morgue Editor ..... Liz Vary

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida. The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York.
Telephone 2-3000, Extension 4621
Second Floor Alumni Bldg

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Dear Editor . . .

Help Alumni

"Welcome, Alumni. May I Help You?" This is the $64.00 question for this Homecoming weekend.

A great deal of thought and planning has been given to making this the best Homecoming we have ever had. This is particularly the Homecoming program will include every way possible to give the alumni a big "welcome home."

The Alums are not coming back merely to take part in a number of activities and planned programs. They want to renew old acquaintances and see once again the "towering pines and cathedrals" that symbolize many happy years.

Today's where we come in. By being ourselves. We can re-create that friendly hospitable atmosphere that they knew when they attended F. S. U. The casual relationship existing between the students and faculty has given our campus a "homey" atmosphere. If a true spirit of student hospitality permeates the planned activities of the weekend, we can have the best Homecoming we have ever had!

Let's show our alums that we are still a friendly campus—that we like each other as we like them —and truly give our alums a warm, heartfelt WELCOME HOME!

The Hospitality Committee is asking that you wear the "Welcome, alumni, May I Help You?" tags that will be provided you in the dorms and fraternity houses and that you do everything that you can to make the Alums and guests feel at home

Jane Cowden - Chairman.
Hospitality Committee.

Missed Goal

Dear Students, Faculty and Staff Members.

The Campus Chest Drive just came a close second to the goal set for the Campus Chest Committee I would like to thank each and everyone of you for your fullest co-operation. Though we have not reached any point near to our goal, we have received more money than ever before from this University.

We know that it is very hard for each person, connected with this University, to give the same amount of money as maybe his neighbor. Many of the students are attending F.S.U. on a scholarship and thus are not able to spend any money for something that is not connected with their school work. Nevertheless, I am a little disappointed as to the results we received from the University as a whole, by cheering various members on this campus. Many of you have given more than your share and we deeply thank you for it, while others have not even given one nickel to this important drive. This was very discouraging to realize.

We recognize the faculty's view and respect their decision to give their contributions to the Community Drive in town, which will be held later on the year. In spite of this we would like to urge each and every faculty and staff member to think about the following fact. As the committee had announced earlier in the year, most of our contribution, in fact, 70% is going to the World Student Service Fund, an organization, which is helping Asiatic and European students, as well as foreign students in this country, which is entirely dependdns on the contributions of American Universities. To this cause you will only contribute through your Campus Chest Drive and thus helping others less fortunate to a better life namely a life free of medical, housing, dressing and study worries.

The Campus Chest Committee was thrilled to see the co-operation of our Flambeau, the radio station WFSU and of all the various organizations. Though we did not get the amount we had hoped for, the drive certainly had been worth the effort and work of each organization. In our opinion, there is no other event on the campus in which the students show their spirit and their concern for others in this world, as much as they do during our Campus Chest Drive

We are very proud of each and everyone of you and certainly thank you for your co-operation.

● The University Pep Club Invites You to Join in Boosting the SEMINOLES.

● The Booster Section and Card Section,, to be introduced at the Homecoming Game, are Sponsored by the Warpath Club, in Cooperation with the Senior Class.

The Sports Line

BY JIM EADY

Southwest Louisiana did FSU a favor last week. For they played Mississippi Southern and although they were trounced, one Bucky McElroy emerged from the contest with a slightly sprained ankle. This injury prevented the 195 pound fullback from making an appearance in the Seminole debacle. Saturday. His presence wasn't really missed as with him in the line-up the Southerner's probably would have posted a higher score than they did.

McElroy, who has averaged 190 yards rushing in seven games, is missed for the game and could have been used if the situation was desperate enough. But the situation never was desperate for the Southerners so he was kept on the bench to preserve his health and well being for the future games. Injury also kept four other ballplayers out of the contest.

But even without McElroy, the squad from the Delta state showed a fine, explosive backfield. It'll certainly be the toughest the Seminoles have to face this year . . . probably with the exception of Texas Tech. In Leon Hardeman, Billy Teas, Glen Turner and Morrison Cash has one of the best quartets of runners in the country.

To get back to Pepper and crowd. . . . Pepper averaged a phenomenal 12 yards each time he carried the ball against FSU Saturday. His effort put him ahead of teammate McElroy in the rushing department. Before the game McElroy and Pepper ranked 7 and 10 respectively in NAIA rushing statistics.

But Pepper wasn't a one man show, by any means. . . . He got plenty of help from Tony Rouchon who "only" averaged nine yards per tender snatching Pepper with two touchdowns. Rouchon who performs the off-season, was just out to impress his home state when he is from Pensacola.

Of course their success can in part be attributed to the fine blocking and tackling they received, one of the most important functions for a successful T formation. It's certainly true that many of Alonso's and Pepper's long runs could not have been possible if it hadn't been for some timely blocking. And neither of them used their powers of interference to the fullest extent as they frequently ran into the secondary before breaking into the open. Particularly outstanding in the blocking department was guard Fred Lasley, who, on three different occasions cut down FSU defensemen to allow the Southern backs to go on to substantial gains and in one case a touchdown.

ONE OF THE spectators at the game was Joe Livingston, sports editor of the Jacksonville Journal. He was scouting Mississippi Southern for the New Year's day Gator Bowl game. He was non-committal about the chances for a bowl bid but said he was impressed by the fine speed of the Hattiesburg, Miss. team. They probably have a better chance since other teams which are being considered include Georgia, Alabama and a dozen others. The top choice of the bowl committee now is the University of Florida.

Georgia Tech, another FSU opponent, has already agreed to perform in Miami's Orange Bowl, New Years.

* * *

ONE OF THE BEST things that could happen to the Intramural program here, is the game scheduled between Fraternity and Dormitory football champs. They'll play in Campbell stadium, Nov. 18 and the game will certainly add interest to the Intramurals.

The contest is the idea of Jim Guasa, Intramural director, and is based on having this kind of competition in all the sports. Instead of having two champions (first and dorm) in each sport, there would be just one. And this game in Campbell stadium is a step in the right direction.

POOR KENTUCKY . . . after the Southeastern Conference banned them out of league competition for a year, they have now dropped out of basketball competition altogether. This action of course cancelled the game FSU had scheduled with the Wildcats for the West Campus gym in December. Now there is rumor that the Kentucky case will be investigated by a congressional committee.

The blame for all the trouble is the bribing scandals which hit more than a year ago. Following this Kentucky was ousted for the subsidization of its basketball team by the SEC. It looks like Kentucky is being used as a scapegoat, since there are many other teams in the country practising the same "evils" Kentucky was accused of . . . and no action has been taken against them.

Sell Your Books At

MALONE'S BOOK STORE

No Bus to Take Just Walk On Over

MALONE'S

107 S. Copeland

BETWEEN THE MECCA AND THE AMBER HOUSE

Campus capers call for Coke

The hour hand moves fast the night before exams—lots of ground to cover and panic setting in. To relax and refresh?

That's easy. Have a Coke . . . it's delicious.

DRINK Coca-Cola

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark.

© 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

FSU Gridders Prepare For Homecoming Contest

Seminoles Meet Furman After Losing to Mississippi Southern

The Florida State football team, still without a victory in six games, prepare this week to meet Furman University in the annual Homecoming engagement. The Purple Hurricanes are a member of the Southern Conference. Coach Don Veller chose the day than Homecoming to end the disastrous losing streak and add a little lustre to the otherwise drab, winless season.

THE LATEST SETBACK, administered by Mississippi Southern Saturday, is the worst licking an FSU team has ever absorbed. Scoring 43 points in the first half, the Southerners triumphed 80-21; the 21 point is the highest score for the Seminoles this year. This and the passing of Nelson Hallano and Bobby Fivesah and Stan Dobosz' running were the game's only consolation for FSU.

Leading the way for the victors was a 115-pound speedster by the name of Hush Pepper. The Vaugh, Mississippi, sophomore gained 96 yards in nine attempts and scored two touchdowns on runs of 30 and 2 yards. He also went for 82 yards on one boot on an off side penalty cancelled it. Bill Alonso starred for the pups in the Southerner's offensive arsenal. Among the others was Tony Rouchon from Pensacola who also scored twice and made 91 yards in 10 tries and Billy Jarrell who threw for touchdown passes. Add to this the Southerners suffered few first downs and you have the reason for the lopsided score.

The contest, watched by 5,520 fans was only two minutes old when the Purple Hurricanes drew first blood. It came four plays after Tim Kick-off had been run back to the 35 by Jarrell. The run was done by Billy Jarrell on a two-yard smash through the middle.

FSU got back in the contest momentarily as Italiano passed 4 yards for a touchdown to Ron King capping a 45-yard march after the Mississippi Southern kickoff. The point was tied with Stan Dobosz' successful conversion; but the Southerners took the lead again as Southern went on to score 16 more points in the first quarter and 22 in the second to make the game into a rout.

THE MISCUES after the first quarter touchdown, didn't score again until the last minute when Italiano passed 6 yards to Curt Campbell. And a couple minutes later Bengal got his second touchdown on a one-handed, fallinto catch of Bobby Fivesah's four yard pass. Besides the three touchdowns, all gotten by pass plays, the Seminole hunters threw the ball 27 times, with 12 completions. This was the most times Italiano passed in any game and bore out coach Don Veller's pre-game prediction that the Indians would do plenty of passing against the Mississippians.

The only bright spot in the tie in the first period was posted by Pepper on a 31-yard scoring jaunt. The victors tallied again minutes later after a bad snap from center got by punter Tommy Brown. the ball finally being recovered by Shepard on the FSU 6. Two plays later Pepper went over the goal line from two yards out.

THE VISITORS THEN got a safety when Italiano was tackled in the end zone as he was looking for somebody to throw to. The Seminoles had been put in this hole when the kick-off bounced over Roy Thompson's head and was finally downed on the FSU 2.

The Southerners continued to roll in the second quarter with three touchdowns. The first was chalked up on a pass to Tony Rouchon from quarterback Jarrell. Rouchon took the pass 41 alone on the 12 and trotted into the end zone from there.

An interception of freshman Billy Bahon's pass by Alonso set up the fourth six-pointer for the victors. Alonso stole the pass and ran it down to the FSU 10. From here it took Rouchon two attempts to get his second touchdown of the afternoon. All this scoring occupied only 2:32 minutes of the second quarter.

Before Mississippi Southern closed their first scoring orgy Billy Montgomery's 12 yard run, the Seminoles had moved down to the visitor's 5, but an interception ended the threat. The ill-fated drive, starting on the FSU 31, was sparked by Stan Dobosz' running and the passing of Fivesah. The first quarter drama was chewed up by King after taking a Fivesah pass at the 35. Although seemingly hemmed in when he caught it, he bulled his way to the 15. On the next play, White interrupted Fivesah's first down throw.

ACTION SLOW with the scoring done in the third quarter which was dominated by the Seminoles. They took the kick-off and marched to the Southern 19 where the drive died and Alonso's game with Presbyterian. The Purple has defeated Newberry (47-6-. War on Virginia (32-14), Davidson (14-13, Wofford (20-6), and the Citadel, 7-7. The losses were to South Carolina and Stetson.

Observing from the split-T formation, the Hurricane has one of the South's top aerial artist in quarterback Geo Fedrick. As a sophomore in '51, he placed second in the south Southern Conference in passing and rushing He threw for 1,001 yards.

Aiding Fedrick in making the attack go is slippery Russell Sutton, a hard-running halfback who averaged 5.4 yards per try in '51. Sutton is also a favorite target for Fedrick's passes, gobbling up 22 strikes last season. But the Indians have been fourth on Homecoming. They have lost only one such affair since the grid event returned to campus in '47. That year the Tribe dropped a 14-6 decision to Stetson, but since then the Indians have racked four straight Homecoming openers. In '48 they beat Texas, 33-12; beat Millsaps in '49, 40-0; defeated Sewanee in '50, 14-8, and downed Stetson last year, 19-16.

Roy Thompson Good On Kickoff Returns

Florida State University's ace tailback — Roy Thompson of Wrightsville Ga.—has taken a liking to kickoff returns. The 180-pound speedster has raced 283 yards on 19 kickoffs this season for a 28.3-yard average.

Stan Dobosz, the Seminoles leading scorer, converted three for three for the Seminoles.

FSU Battles SC Eleven On Saturday

Currently enjoying a fine season ,the colorful Furman University Purple Hurricane makes its second Florida appearance this season Saturday afternoon when it descends on Tallahassee hoping to spoil the Florida State University Homecoming tea party.

The Purple Hurricane, no stranger to Florida Gators fans either, was rudely handled on its first visit to the "Sunshine State" this season, absorbing a 25-14 defeat on Oct. 11 in DeLand by Stetson. FSU tied the Hatters, 6-6, in Orlando last week. The Hurricane played in the state in 1947, '48, '49, and '50, losing on every occasion. Ink always delighted the fans with colorful football.

And, from all indications, a record number of alumni, old grads, friends and students of FSU will present themselves in Doak S. Campbell stadium along about 2:30 p.m. Saturday for the kick-off. The record crowd for a Homecoming game stands at 13,-701, established in '51 with Stetson. That mark may fall Saturday and advance sales are any barometer.

The Hurricane is blowing strong into town, looking for trouble for the ambitious young Seminoles. The Greenville, S. C. sieven had a 6-2-1 mark to include Saturday's game with Presbyterian. The Purple has defeated Newberry (47-6-. War on Virginia (32-14), Davidson (14-13, Wofford (20-6), and the Citadel, 7-7. The losses were to South Carolina and Stetson.

Observing from the split-T formation, the Hurricane has one of the South's top aerial artist in quarterback Geo Fedrick. As a sophomore in '51, he placed second in the south Southern Conference in passing and rushing He threw for 1,001 yards.

Aiding Fedrick in making the attack go is slippery Russell Sutton, a hard-running halfback who averaged 5.4 yards per try in '51. Sutton is also a favorite target for Fedrick's passes, gobbling up 22 strikes last season. But the Indians have been fourth on Homecoming. They have lost only one such affair since the grid event returned to campus in '47. That year the Tribe dropped a 14-6 decision to Stetson, but since then the Indians have racked four straight Homecoming openers. In '48 they beat Texas, 33-12; beat Millsaps in '49, 40-0; defeated Sewanee in '50, 14-8, and downed Stetson last year, 19-16.

Freshmen Cage Crop Shows Up

Basketball Drills Start Third Week; Squad In Top Shape

J. E. "Bud" Kennedy, Florida State University's amiable basketball coach, isn't bubbling over with optimism about the 1952-53 Seminole cage outlook, but the bespectacled mentor is convinced he's glancing at the most formidable freshman hardwood contingent he's had the pleasure of viewing as he enters his fifth campaign at FSU.

After putting the lid on the first two weeks of practice here yesterday, Kennedy went from one extreme to the other in summing up how the picture appears today.

"We're going to be lacking considerably in height and overall strength this season and you couldn't say I am optimistic about that changed," Kennedy remarked.

Then he retaliated with:

"I'm certainly pleased with our freshmen. We have the best yearling potential since I've been at Florida State. Seven of the eight of them, maybe more, will be playing a lot of ball for us this year."

Kennedy and his assistant, Bob Wimberly, have had last season's Seminoles, have been drilling nine holdovers—including five lettermen—and the freshmen for the past two weeks.

The coaches reported in excellent condition, physically and mentally, according to Kennedy. The Tribe will meet the winners of the loser's bracket to decide the dorm bowling champ, Nov. 16. The winner of the losers bracket will be decided tonight on the East Campus gym alleys.

* * *

Sigma Chi Spollies and Delta Tau Delta meet tonight to decide the winner in the winners bracket in the Fraternity tenpin doubles tourney. SEA fought their way into the finals with victories over ATO, LCA, and Kappa Sigma, while their opponent defeated Theta Chi, SPE and Sigma Chi.

Also playing tonight is ATO and Kappa Sigma who are winner going into the finals of the loser's bracket against loser in the DTD, SAE match.

Be of the slow or fast variety.

"I'm hoping we have the material to employ the fast break but we'll probably settle on a mixture of both," Kennedy said.

A full dress rehearsal, pitting the freshmen vs. the varsity will be staged here Wednesday.

Intramurals

ATO Beats LCA By 13-12 Margin

Alpha Tau Omega came from behind in the last half to edge previously unbeaten Lambda Chi, yesterday, by a close 13-12 margin. The victory, achieved on the extra point mark by Tom Scarritt, threw the league two fraternity race into a three way tie between LCA, ATO and Kappa Alpha. The tie will be played off today when ATO and LCA will clash again and the winner is slated to meet KA, who drew a bye.

In yesterday's game, a replay of a protested tilt, the ATOs scored first on a pass from Walt Baldwin to Tom Scarritt. Scarritt then scored the game deciding extra point.

LCA came right back and countered twice to go ahead. The first six pointer coming on a pass from Suttlemyre to Bob Davis; the second, which put the losers ahead, coming on a runback of an intercepted pass by Bob Crashan. The second tally was chalked up in the second half.

But the ATO's were not to be denied as they came from behind near the end of the game on a pass from Baldwin to John Witt. The winning score capped a long ATO march.

In the dormitory league bowling competition, The Newman Club has battled their way to the finals by taking the winners bracket of the tournament. The Newmanites defeated A&P, Senior Hall Magnolia Hall and the Moccasins (in that order) to reach the finals. They will meet the winners of the loser's bracket to decide the dorm bowling champ, Nov. 16. The winner of the losers bracket will be decided tonight on the East Campus gym alleys.

* * *

Sigma Chi Spollies and Delta Tau Delta meet tonight to decide the winner in the winners bracket in the Fraternity tenpin doubles tourney. SEA fought their way into the finals with victories over ATO, LCA, and Kappa Sigma, while their opponent defeated Theta Chi, SPE and Sigma Chi.

Also playing tonight is ATO and Kappa Sigma who are winner going into the finals of the loser's bracket against loser in the DTD, SAE match.

FSU Nears Attendance Mark For '52

Although Florida State University is experiencing its worst season ever in the won-loss column, the Seminoles are only 233 points short of establishing an all-time home attendance football state mark.

In four home games the Tribe has drawn 29,746. The season record is 30,085 established in 1951 when the Indians enjoyed a 6-2 won-loss record. The Seminoles have played before an average turnout of 7,436, not bad for a team that has yet to win a game.

And with the Homecoming game with Furman University this week, there's every indication for a large turnout. In fact the largest crowd ever to witness an FSU home game was presenl last year when 13,701 turned out for the tilt with Stetson.

Brown Sixteenth Among Punters In The Nation

BROWN 16th AMONG PUNTERS

Tommy Brown, Florida State University's lightweight punting specialist, ranks 16th in the nation in the booting department among the country's small colleges, according to the latest NCAA statistics.

Brown, on 25 punts, has a healthy 38.8 average. The diminutive Brown weighs only 150 pounds. His best performance of the season was against North Carolina State when he kicked out within the 10-yard stripe three times while averaging 47.4 yards on eight kicks.

* * *

Annual Takes Photos

The last chance to have pictures made for the Tally Ho will be tomorrow. Appointments should be made today in the Tally Ho office from 2 until 5 p.m.

Pictures will be taken at L'Arent Studio, 207 W. Park Ave., between the hours of 9:30 and 12 noon, and 2:30 and 5 p.m.

Photography by Glenn

FLASH!! A CHRISTMAS . . . . SPECIAL

Amazingly Low Prices on Our Expert Portrait Photographs . . . Such Bargins as

- 8 x 10 Black and White With 6 Wallet Sizes — $7.50
- 5 x 7 Gold Tone With 6 Wallet Sizes — $7.50
- 8 x 10 OIL — $8.95

Call Us Now to Arrange for an Appointment . . . And Try Our New Lay-A-Way Plan

Photography by Glenn

Phone 3-0115 — Across From the Florida Theater

PLACE YOUR ORDER NOW

For HOMECOMING FORMALS

SMART STUDENTS RENT THEIR FORMAL WEAR!

Be the fastidiously attired escort in clothes that are immaculately cleaned, precision pressed and fitted to you, to perfection. Our dress charts provide authentic guidance to proper attire and accessories.

Complete outfit for as little as

$6.50

Nic's Toggery

Tallahassee Jr. Chorus To Present Program

The Tallahassee Junior Chorus, 60-strong and representatives of all local elementary schools under direction of Miss Lois L. Schnoor, music faculty member, will present the second program in the ACE Junior Series for children at 3:30 p.m. Thursday in the Opperman Music Hall.

Invitation is extended to all children in grades 4, 5 and 6 of FSU Demonstration, Kate Sullivan, Bealey Memorial, Carolyn Brevard and South City schools to attend the concert. Parents may accompany the children.

DOROTHY JEAN Smith is student chairman of the Association for Childhood Education group preparing the children for full musical appreciation of the choral concert. Frances Lee, general chairman of the series, will act as chairman of the ushers this time. They will be assisted by the following university students:

Jo Ann Glass, Bobbie Peiry, Jeanne Wester, Helen England, Linda Carman, Justine Robinson, Bea Bock, Ann Coro, Ida Callan, Marion Grossman and Libby Sullenberger.

THE PROGRAM will include "The Home Road" by John Alden Carpenter; "Brother James' Air," arranged by Gordon Jacob; "Old King Cole" and "The Golden Vanity," English Folk Songs"; "There Go the Boats" by Peter W. Dykema; "Ah Lovely Meadows," Czech Folk Song"; Little Ola, the Sandman" by O. Jacobsen and "Shoo Fly." American Folk Song.

"Mexican Hat Dance, The Jarabe," will be given as a grand finale by a dancing chorus—Mary Helen Pope, Sam Pasco, Judy Saunders, David Barr, Harriet Armstrong, Lyman Fletcher, Anne Hooks and Avery Freeman.

Mrs. Margaret Casson and Mrs. Martha Willson are the FSU faculty sponsors for this concert which will be repeated by the same children singers for an adult audience in enlarged form at 8.15 p.m. Monday Nov. 17 in Opperman Music Hall. This adult concert will be open to the general public.

Bakers Hold Meet On FSU Campus

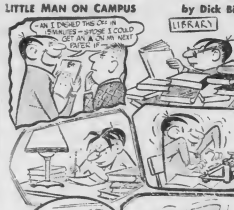
The Board of Governors of the Southern Bakers Association, Inc., which had an important part in the establishment of Baking Science and Management at Florida State, held its quarterly board meeting yesterday on this campus.

The board meeting according to Dr. L. A. Rumsey, head of the FSU department, was headed by Raymond Streb, Raleigh, N. C., association president. E. P. Cline, association secretary - manager, and other officials attended.

After a tour of the major points of interest on campus and the facilities of the FSU department, the 20 members of the board had a luncheon in the Suwannee Room. Pres. Doak S. Campbell and other University officials, including Dr. J. Frank Dame, dean of Student Business, attended and discussed the operations of the department at the luncheon.

Seminor To Be Held

A discussion of "The Influence of American Visa Policy on Science" will be Thursday at 4:30 p.m. in Room 124 Science Building as part of the Physics Seminar series.



Participating departments are economics, political science, sociology and physics. Refreshments will be served.

Dr. Kensholo To Talk

Dr. Daniel Kenshalo, acting assistant professor of psychology will discuss "Pre-Natal Influences and Mental Deficiency." at a Psychology Seminary at 4 p.m. tomorrow in Room 407 Education Building.

Classified Ads

LOST — Man's maroon zipper jacket lost in Music building. If found please return to Music office or call 2-0587. Reward.

"South of St. Louis" Showing In S Cowthon

"South of St. Louis." an adventure dealing with the smuggling of arms over the Texas-Mexican border durmng the War Between the States shows tonight at 7:30 in South Cawthon Hall.

The movie, starring Zachery Scott, Alexis Smith and Dorothy Malone, will be in Magnolia Hall, Wednesday, and Senator Hall, Thursday. The movie will not be shown Friday night due to Homecoming activities.

WFSU Will Feature Los Picaros And KA's

The "Los Picaros show," presented by the Spanish students, is all be featured today over WFSU at 7:30 p.m.

Other programs for this week will include the "UGA Forum at 8 p.m., the "Faith For Today" program at 9:30 p.m. on Wednesday, the "Sigma Alpha Iota" program at 8 p.m. and the "Meet the Greeks" program, featuring the Kappa Alpha fraternity at 9:30 on Thursday.

Fitzgibbon To Speak

A talk by James W. Fitzgibbon, a Buckminister Fellow, on "Problems in Contemporary Building," will be at 11 a.m. Friday in Room 317 Westcott.

Curtain Falls

(Continued From Page 1)

clamor to teh stage o help Mrs. P. in her direcion of the play within a play.

PAULA PLAYED by Libby Mauch, is the star of the little play who highlights her role by stumbling each time she goes on stage. Mr. Twiller, Franklin Adams, was most o fhis laughs on a bit of unusual stage-business while Mr. Hosseftone, Ken Hurley, blusters his way into a more than usual share of the laughs.

Also in the cast of the make-believe play is Florence, played by Joanne Williams and Don Remington in the role of the high-voiced office boy, Teddy.

SOMETIMES THE second act reaches a stage of hysterio slapstick, but the third act provides a damper effect that gives the play an element of control. Here Lew Odom, as the very practical Mr. Ritter, provides a sharp contrast to the otherwise crazy cast.

Because the TorchBearers is a satire on amateur theatrics, the cast must take extreme pains not to commit too many of the foibles they criticize. Though these occur "semi-occasionlly" the play as a whole is worthwhile seeing.

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!

Whatever the formal occasion—wear fashionably correct clothes, at reasonable rental prices!

$6.50

Nic's Toggery

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA
LAST TIMES TODAY
"Rainbow 'Round My Shoulder" with Frankie Lain
Starting Weds. thru Tuesday
"Ivanhoe"
with Liz Taylor and Robert Taylor

STATE
LAST TIMES TODAY
"The Light Touch"
with Stewart Granger
Also
"Glory Alley"
With Ralph Meeker and Leslie Caron
WEDS. THRU TUESDAY
"Springfield Rifle"
with Gary Cooper

RITZ
TODAY AND WEDS.
"The Hasty Heart"
With Ronald Reagan
THURSDAY THRU SAT.
"Fort Osage"
Also
"Man Bait"

DRIVE-IN
TODAY AND WEDS.
"A Place In the Sun"
With Liz Taylor
THURSDAY thru SAT.
"The Golden Horde"
also
"Waco"

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Superb Service

Keeps Your Car In Tip-Top Shape

CALHOUN AMOCO SERVICE STATION

131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

TUESDAY SPECIAL
Filet Mignon
$1.00

WEDS. SPECIAL
Fried Shrimp
.75

Seven Seas

What happened to the old rah rah spirit?

IT WENT OUT WITH RACCOON COATS and rumble seats. And we say good riddance.

Today's college man doesn't the a thousand dearhs when the school loses the big game. And his clothes are no longer flashy, fancy and gaudy.

For his apparel, he looks to Manhattan's toreliect lnsquer, well-assured manner. . his inveterate quality, comfort and casualness.

Like this button-down Oxford with just the peicee roll to the collar. Or this fine white pique with an eyelet tab collar with just the right degree of difference.

We understand the modern college man. We concentrate our efforts, not on fads, but on making a better shirt. Ask for Manhattan and you'll see how true this is on the Voice of the Seminoles

Manhattan

Shirts, neckwear, underwear, pajamas, sportshirts, beachwear and handkerchiefs

Sound OFF!!

WFSU

Join the Staff

- announcers
- technicians
- scrip writers
- disc jockeys

There's a Place for You!

WFSU 660 on Your Dial

FLORIDA'S FIRST ENTRY

The Gator state's first entrant in the 1952 Miss of Cotton contest is lovely green-eyed, blonde-haired Ruthie Gurul, 20, a senior at Florida State University. Ruthie, whose home is at Bradenton, Fla., is 5 6", 118 and is the winner of many honors both in and out of school. The winner of the 1952 Maid of Cotton title will take an exciting six-month tour beginning in January as the fashion and goodwill ambassadress for King Cotton. An girl born in a cotton-producing state, who is between the ages of 18-25 years, who never been married and is at least 5 5" tall is eligible to enter. Entry forms are available from the National Cotton Council, Box 18, Memphis 1, Tenn.

Classes End

(Continued From Page 1)

Plastacowo where the annual Homecoming barocue will be held until 2 p.m.

THE REGISTRATION desk at Longmire Building will close at 1 Saturday Afternoon marking the last chance for the Alumni to register.

Kickoff time for the FSU-Furman Homecoming football game will be 2 p.m. Saturday. Pre-game and half-time shows will feature awards to the winners of float and residence decorations.

OPEN HOUSES will follow the game from 5:30 to 6:30 in student residences and fraternity and sorority houses. An informal coffee will be held for all alumni in the Bowens Longmire Building at the same time.

Rounding out the events will be the Homecoming Dance in the Suwannee room beginning at 9 Saturday night with dancing to the music of Sammy Kaye and his orchestra. An overflow dance will be held in the Women's gymnasium simultaneously with music furnished by the Resents, campus dance band. Dances will end at 1 a.m.

HOMECOMING DANCE tickets will be on sale all this week until Friday in the Bookstore, at the bus stop behind Westcott and in the Seminole Club from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday the sale will close at 2 in view of the parade scheduled to begin at 3.

Pre-Medical Students To Hear Dr. Watson

Dr. Robert Watson of Washington University School of Medicine will speak here at 7:30 tonight in the first floor lounge of the Longmire Building.

All interested pre-medical students Freshmen through Graduate students, are urged to attend There will be a meeting of Alpha Epsilon Delta, pre-medical honorary, after Dr. Watson's talk.

Buy Your Homecoming Dance Tickets Now

Espadrilles

Men's and Women's Sizes

Rope Solid Mexican Sandals

• Red • Navy • Black • White

$2.25

The Gift Box

108 SOUTH ADAMS

Spend Your Weekends At

HOTEL QUINCY, QUINCY FLORIDA

Only 18 Miles From Campus

Special Room Rates Friday, Saturday, and Sunday
Doubls Occupancy at Single Rate

Air Conditioned, Automatic Elevator
Circulating Ice Water, Free Parking

Excellent Cuisine Every Day. Lunch from 65c Dinner from $1.00

Call For Reservations Phone 678 Quincy, Florida

HOTEL QUINCY, QUINCY FLORIDA

"Everything for the Shoe"

- Expert Shoe Repairing
- Dye Shoes All Color
- Shoe Shine Kits

PALACE SHOE SHOP

"THE HOUSE THAT SERVICE BUILT"
121 EAST PARK AVENUE

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

CAMERON'S TEXACO SERVICE STATION

566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

Formerly Maatts Service Station

Friends Up For Homecoming

Bring Them to the Students Favorite

Seafood Restaurant

Complete Seafood Menu

- Oysters on Half Shell
- Imported Lobster Tails
- Friday and Saturday Special Broiled Pompano

SHELL POINT

Managed by FSU Student and Grad

Bob Webb . . . . . Herb Gehres

Corner Pensacola and Duval Phone 2-2199

Dine with us . . . in the . . . Amber House

WATCH FOR OUR SPECIALS

Chicken Pie, Roast Beef, Fried Ham, Shrimp

"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

DO NOT REMOVE

HOMECOMING EDITION

Florida Flambeau

WELCOME ALUMNI

WELCOME ALUMNI

VOL. XXXIX No. 16 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1952

1952 HOMECOMING STARTS TODAY

Homecoming Preparation

PEGGY GILES—Annee Spencer, left, and Betty Joe Miller are shown posting pics of the Homecoming decorations donated by friends of FSU. These decorations are on display in the store windows of local merchants and elsewhere around town.

Annual Dinner Draws Ex-Gold, Garnet Keyers

Approximately 600 Guests Expected At Suwannee Banquet

Tonight at 5:15 in the Suwannee Room, approximately 600 alumni, faculty, prominent Floridians and former members of Garnet and Gold Key will be guests at the annual Garnet and Gold Key Banquet.

Dr. Earl James McGrath, United States Commissioner of Education, will be an honor guest and speaker at the banquet. Dr. McGrath has degrees from the University of Chicago and University of Buffalo and was formerly dean of the Liberal Arts College at the University of Iowa. Besides having served as Commissioner of Education since 1949, he also headed the Department of State's Educational Mission to the

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Cotillion, Cavaliers Judge Candidates At Annual Tryouts

At the Student Union beginning at 8 p.m., the Cotillion and Cavalier dancing honoraries held tryouts from 7 to 9 p.m. The Cotillion Club plans to present its annual formal in January.

Cotillion Club officers elected last February include Dee following: Carolyn Gola, president; Barbara Thomas, vice-president and Martha Sue Beckley, secretary-treasurer.

Members of Cotillion are Carolyn Gola, Dunah Asse, Pat Costello, Shirley Bradner, Marion Sue Beckley, Rosamay Smith, Jo Fabian, Joy Crouch, Ann Robidoux, Lauren Traxler and Lyda Yashorouh.

ALSO PATTI ANGEL, Patsy Gates, Gaynelle Gainer, E. O. Hollon, Mary Dougherty, Katherine Mason, Nancy Mayer, Mary Ann Williams, Jan Crommiller, Iris Stokes, Fay Morris and Glenda Futch.

Lote Bus To Run Sat.

A late bus will leave from Woodward Hall at 6:00 p.m. for the Campus following the Homecoming Dance Saturday. This will be the last bus leaving the campus.

Returning Alumni See New FSU in Review

Florida State University passes in review before its returning hundreds of alumni when Homecoming 1952 officially opens today at 12 noon.

DR. J. BROWARD Culpepper, general chairman of the two-day celebration, and FSU officials announced recently that they are looking forward to seeing the largest and best program in the University's history.

Today will culminate three weeks of intensive, large-scale preparations by all factions on the FSU campus. Students, faculty and staff, working in well-coordinated groups, have combined their efforts to produce what many have termed, "The greatest, full-scale production yet seen at Florida State."

ALL CLASSES will be dismissed today at noon at which time official Alumni registration begins in the Alumni Building. Alumni registration will continue until 7:30 p.m. Friday night. A special welcoming committee will be on hand at the gate to greet alumni who will receive special identification tags and reservation tickets for their special events.

The Homecoming parade, including 40 some units in all with 30 floats and bands, starts at 3 p.m. this afternoon at the corner of Call and Woodward streets and will make its way through Tallahassee's streets to the campus and before the judging stands at the Florida Relay. Here the floats will be judged for originality and beauty.

DAYTIME JUDGING of house decorations will follow the parade

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Students Polled In All Phases Of School Life

One of the largest projects undertaken by the University Government Association this year will be terminated Wednesday, as all students are excused from classes, in two hour shifts, to take a poll that represents the combined efforts of two committees—faculty and student.

The poll, which covers every phase of campus life, personal, social, student activities, organization, university policies, rules and regulations, is required of all students.

IT WAS CREATED for the benefit of the University Study committee in order that they might pursue an extensive evaluation and self study of the entire university. The committee hopes to use student opinion as a means of improving various campus organizations, policies, and group activities.

Approximately seventy-five interested students assisted in mailing announcements and cards designating the hour and place of the poll, and notices explaining the purpose and the importance which the student body will receive through the mail on Monday, after Homecoming.

LOCATIONS FOR administration of the poll are: Council Theater, Longmire Auditorium, Opperman Music Hall, and the old building at the new Science Lecture room. Times for testing will be from 9:00 to 10:00, 11:00 to 1:00, and 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

Mary Ruth Summers served as chairman of the student committee, whose other members were Jon Drake, Bill Dunn, Marcia Morris, Margaret Jean Parham, Bob Rivals, and Ted Hemmerer.

The faculty committee is headed by Dr. Ralph L. Witherspoon. Other members are Dr. W. H. Stricker, Miss Grace Fox, Dr. S. R. Neel, Coach O. A. Hankins, Miss Dorothy Cummings, Dr. Linda Tinney, Lt. Col. C. D. Booth, Dr. W. T. Bodiford, Mr. Planf Jr. and Dr. H. L. Frick.

Chorus to Present Fall Concert Mon.

The Tallahassee Junior Chorus, a 60-voice group representing all the city elementary schools, will present their Fall concert in the Opperman Music Hall Monday, November 17 at 7:30. The chorus is directed by Prof. Lois Lavern Schnoor, of the FSU School of Music.

The Junior Chorus was formed last year with the co-operation of music teachers in the city schools of Tallahassee. It includes fifth and sixth grade students from Demonstration, Kate Sullivan, Sealey Memorial Carolyn Brevard and South City Schools. The choristers rehearse after school and meet in the Music Building and present two concerts each year.

Anna Margarita Maldrander graduate student in the School of Music from Bergen, Norway, will be accompanist for the program. She is a graduate student in piano and is the student in the School of Music will assist as violin soloist.

Mortar Board To Sell Cokes At Dances Sat.

Cokes will be sold by members of Mortar Board women's honorary at both the dance in the Suwannee Room and the one at the Women's Gymnasium Saturday.

Proceeds will go to Campus Chest.

Which One Will Be Queen?

QUEEN CANDIDATES—Somewhere amongst the beauties shown above is FSU's 1952 Homecoming Queen. The crowned queen, in which one is she? The name of the lucky lady will be revealed tonight at the Pow Wow in Campbell Stadium. At that time, Sally Kennedy, last year's Queen, will crown the new Queen who will reign over this weekend's festivities.

Homecoming Queen Revealed In 'Pow Wow's' Main Event

The main event of the Pow Wow tonight in Campbell Stadium will be the revelation of the winning candidate in the Homecoming Queen Contest.

The winner, who was chosen by student body balloting recently, will be crowned with the Indian headdress by 1951 Homecoming Queen Sally Kennedy.

THE CONTESTANTS this year are Barbara Breston, sponsored by Sigma Nu; June Conyers, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Jane Ellis, Kappa Alpha; Marlies Gessler, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Dorothy Johnson, Phi Delta Theta.

After the winner is announced, the other four contestants will accompose her court.

LAST YEAR'S court was composed of June Conyers, Lands; Ruthie Garst, Theta Chi; Ellen Avis, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Elizabeth Cooke, Alpha Xi Delta.

The year before Jeri Monroe won the title, with Betty Ann Holland, Kappa Delta; Sally Kennedy, Broward; Bunny Banks, Pi Kappa Alpha and Joanne Vaughn, Phi Kappa Tau, in her court.

THE POW WOW show, emceed by Allen (Mac) McCall, will open with a salute to Gov. Fuller Warren. This will be followed by music by the Marching Chiefs, directed by Robert Braunagel.

The Circus, "Flying High," will present two of its acts in the annual show, while Gymkana performers will also give a show. Coach Jack Mann is in charge of the circus, while Dr. Hartley Price supervises Gymkana.

ALPHA XI DELTA and Delta Tau Delta will both give their skits in quest of the Sigma Nu-Alpha Gamma Delta trophy. Alpha Xi's skit, complete with colored lighting effects is based on modern music, while the Delts have combined politics with an automobile wreck for theirs.

After the show, the 1952 Homecoming Queen and her court will be presented in the Seminole body. This will be followed by a display of fireworks.

The pep rally is next with a salute to the coaching staff and team. All will be introduced to the audience. Cheerleaders will then lead the crowd in yells and songs. The pep rally will end with the first demonstration by the new FSU card section.

Alum Registration Will Open at Noon

[illegible] of alumni will start at noon today and continue [illegible] midnight at the big table in the center of hall [illegible] Union Building. The Alumni Association has decorated [illegible] and flowers will be placed inside the lounges.

[illegible] Government Association [illegible] activities will [illegible] Saturday morning [illegible] the offices of Flam[illegible] Smoke Signals, Lady-He[illegible] Florida State student [illegible] Coffee and doughnuts [illegible] served afterwards in the [illegible] A business meeting of [illegible] association will be held [illegible] also.

SEVERAL hundred are expected [illegible] many more not reserved to show up, according to Mr. Mildred Parrish [illegible] columns from all over [illegible] and neighboring states [illegible] expected to come from [illegible]

Dessicants who will be [illegible] to Omera Holloway '11, [illegible] N. E. Parker Cornett '27, now Miss Hugh [illegible] Blackburn '29, [illegible] Brown '46, now Mrs. [illegible] Samford, Sarah Lewis '47, [illegible] Russell '52 [illegible] will be represented by [illegible] Tennessee by Lewis [illegible] Charlestown, [illegible] Ft. Worth and Huntsville, Alabama are also North [illegible] as by Greenville and [illegible] both East Point and [illegible]

UPON THE ALUMNI'S arrival [illegible] registry they will be [illegible] at the gate by a special [illegible] committee, and a receipt [illegible] be provided with identification card [illegible] morning from 8 until [illegible] and Mrs. Doak S. [illegible] will hold a breakfast at [illegible] Governor St. home for [illegible]

From 3:15 until 7:30 [illegible] will be invited to the Garnet [illegible] Key banquet in the [illegible] Room, where they will [illegible] by Dr. Earl J. [illegible] U. S. Commissioner of [illegible]

WFSU Plans Program Of H'Coming Dance

A student radio station will broadcast the annual Homecoming Dance over 660 on the air from 9 until 11 p.m. Saturday.

Included in the two-hour program will be the Sammy Kaye's Dance Band's broadcast of "So You Want To Be a Band," presentation of the Queen and interviews of alumni and students.

Children's Program To Begin Saturday

The West Campus Student Union, under the direction of Miss Hilda Tunes, director of the Student Union, will hold a series of Saturday morning Children's Hours starting tomorrow and continuing every Saturday morning until Christmas holidays start.

It is open to the children of students living on West Campus or even the children of faculty members or students living in town. The session will provide an opportunity for children to make friends and keep happy and busy under the supervision of several trained people.

Time for the sessions is from 9:30 until 12. Interested parents may call 2-7566 for information.

DANCE OFFERS CHANCE OF LIFETIME

Amateurs Set to Lead Kaye Band At Homecoming Dance 'Contest'

Band Leader

Sammy Kaye

Sammy Kaye's band will appear as vocalist with the Swing and Sway band, replacing Barbara Benson, who married recently. Peggy's parents still live in West Palm Beach, where her father is Professor of Languages at Palm Beach Junior College, and her mother is Music Supervisor of Schools.

PEGGY'S SUCCESS is not an overnight Cinderella story, but is based on a long, hard-learned and diligent study. At Barry College in Miami, she majored in violin and music, later turning down a music scholarship at Miami University to study voice at the famous Juliard School of Music in New York. Before joining Sammy Kaye's band, Peggy appeared on the Television show "Holiday Hotel" starring Edward Everett Horton and later Don Ameche.

Jeffery Clay, the handsome young baritone singing star, who is also a member of the band's entertaining team to Sammy Kaye with

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Minnesota.

Peggy Powers a native of West Palm Beach, will appear as vocalist with the Swing and Sway band, replacing Barbara Benson, who married recently. Peggy's parents still live in West Palm Beach, where her father is Professor of Languages at Palm Beach Junior College, and her mother is Music Supervisor of Schools.

PEGGY'S SUCCESS is not an overnight Cinderella story, but is based on a long, hard-learned and diligent study. At Barry College in Miami, she majored in violin and music, later turning down a music scholarship at Miami University to study voice at the famous Juliard School of Music in New York. Before joining Sammy Kaye's band, Peggy appeared on the Television show "Holiday Hotel" starring Edward Everett Horton and later Don Ameche.

Jeffery Clay, the handsome young baritone singing star, who is also a member of the band's entertaining team to Sammy Kaye with

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

"Smoke Signals" Has Much Variety

The first issue of Smoke Signals, Florida State student magazine, came out yesterday. The 24 page magazine, edited by Boots Hasnic, features Pat Reuter, with a picture of her on the publications on the cover.

The issue contains The Temple of the Three Days', a short story by Pete Dunn Rankin; "Here Counts the Days" an article by the Marchina Chiefs by Mary Corn, "Totem Topics," by John Howard concerning fraternities and "What Would You Do," a discussion of the Honor System by John Harscopos.

Also 'Fashion Tips for Pat,' by Juanita Hamilton; Mary Ann Corn, "Let's Look at Their Record," an article on the new Freshman officials by Janet Kelley "And There Shall be a Cabinet," by Mary Ruth Summers, "Shakespears Through the Eyes of a Freshman," by David Wade; "So You Want to Come to Campus" by Jim Jindra, and "I.F.C. TAU TAU TAU" by Nancy Seavey, as well as picture display.

Programs Available In Longmire Bldg.

Homecoming programs can be obtained in the Alumni Office in the Lonmsure building. The programs, done in garnet and gold, list the activities of the weekend, their times and places.

Also included contain letters of welcome from University Pres. Doak S. Campbell and Alumni President Jim T. Wynn. It also contains location information, a calendar and brief [illegible]

[illegible] Pow Wow [illegible] Campbell Stadium [illegible] Mac Pow Wow [illegible] a welcoming [illegible] Pow Wow [illegible] Mary Ruth Summers.

The program will [illegible] Florida Flambeau [illegible] Florida Alumnus [illegible] Chairman [illegible] Committee and [illegible] Parker Rea.

Support Given by Senior Class Aids Booster and Card Section

The Senior Class gave its support to a booster and card section for Florida State football games at a meeting Tuesday night in the Longmire Building.

Chairman of the Booster Section, Ted Sierminsky, called the 21 Seniors attending the three cards records present. They will provide for tricks in the colors of garnet, gold, white, black, green and blue.

STEINMEYER also explained how the tricks would work and urged students to attend the meeting Wednesday at which the Christmas Oratorio by J. S. Bach and section will be used especially counts, at the Pow Wow tonight and at the game Saturday. Leaders will be provided at the end of each row to take up the cards immediately after their use.

Paul Scarpacci, social chairman gave a report on the November birthday party, which was to be Tuesday, Nov. 18 at 6 p.m. in the Suwannee Room.

"WE HAVE 500 tickets to sell and 396 Seniors," he said. "This means that we may have a ticket shortage so I suggest that all of you buy your tickets as soon as possible. Tickets, which sell for one dollar each are being sold by individual contact. Deadline for buying tickets is Monday at 5 p.m. Ticket sellers in Lands are

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Choral Union Sing Will Be Presented In Opperman Hall

The Choral Union, directed by Prof. Herman Gunter, Jr., will present Parts I and II of The Christmas Oratorio' by J. S. Bach in Opperman Music Hall next Tuesday evening. This will be the final concert appearance by the Choral Union this year.

Soloists for the program will be Joan Dee James, soprano; Betty Jane Grimm, contralto; Walter James, Tenor, and Edgar Evans, bass. Instrumental soloists will be Joyce Bryant, flute; Bernice Bauer, flute; Robert Forman, oboe, and Robert Braunagel, trumpet. Prof. Ramona C. Beard will assist at the organ and Mr. Howard Sillerer will assist at the harpsichord.

The Christmas Oratorio by Bach is a collection of six cantatas which were composed to be sung during the Christmas season. The first two cantatas will be included in the Choral Union program next Tuesday evening. These deal with the events of Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, as related in the Bible. This will be the first presentation of this great choral work on the campus, according to Prof Gunter, who will direct the performance. The concert will be open to the general public.

Friends To Meet Sun.

The Friends, a Quaker organization will meet Sunday at 9:45 a.m. at 614 W. Lafayette.

Week-End Schedules Announced By Library

The library will be open today from 8:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. Library service books being borrowed from 11 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. Tom will be due Monday by 9:30 a.m.

Sunday the periodical and [illegible] room will be open from 3 until 5 p.m.

1952 Homecoming Starts

(Continued From Page 1)

from 5 to 6 p.m. this afternoon. Decorations will also be judged from 9 to 10 tonight and final selection will be made by the committee. Winners will be announced tomorrow at the half-time show at the game and trophies will be awarded at that time.

The traditional Garnet and Gold Key Banquet will start at 5:15 this afternoon in the Suwannee Room dining hall. Guest speaker will be Dr. Earl J. McGrath, U. S Commissioner of Education. Dr. McGrath holds degrees from the University of Chicago, and University of Buffalo. He was formerly Dean of the Liberal Arts College at University of Iowa and [illegible] of Commissioner of Education since 1949.

GUESTS OF THE banquet include alumni, Garnet and Gold Key members, and honored guests to include members of 12 classes from 1902 to 1952.

Tonight at 8:15 Doak S. Campbell Stadium will set the scene for the annual Pow Wow, the celebration that honors football players and alumni and provides a rousing "kick-off" note for the two-day Homecoming ceremony.

THE ALL-OUT spectacle will include skit competition between the two finalists Delta Tau Delta and Alpha Xi Delta sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and Sigma Nu fraternity. Also bonfire lighting the program will be fireworks displays, cheerleading, a circus novelty act, a pep rally and music supplied by the FSU Marching Chiefs. Coach Jack Haskins is overall chairman of Pow Wow.

A specially looked-forward-to event will be theannouncement and crowning of the 1952 Homecoming Queen by last year's queen, Sally Kennedy. The identity of the "Queen" remains a well-guarded secret until she is crowned.

TOMORROW an alumni breakfast will start the day at 8 a.m. at President and Mrs. Campbell's home. Alumni registration resumes at this time and continues until 1 p.m.

Special dedication ceremonies of new buildings on FSU campus will take place at 9:30 tomorrow morning with Dr. Campbell officiating. The ceremony will feature an address by Governor Fuller Warren.

THE ANNUAL Alumni business meeting will take place at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Bowens Longmire building and alumni will then proceed to Camp Flastacowo for the annual barbecue in their honor. Many alumni and friends of the University are expected to attend.

"Let the wind out of the Purple Hurricane" is the appropriate theme for the Homecoming football game. Scheduled to start at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon, the Seminoles will vie with Furman University's Purple Hurricanes from Greenville, South Carolina.

HALF-TIME and pre-game shows will feature the Marching Chiefs, novelty acts and announcements of the winners of the house and float decoration contests.

Open houses at fraternities, sororities and student residences will follow the game from 5:30 to 8. An informal Faculty-Alumni coffee will take place at the time in the Alumni Building.

CLIMAXING the fun celebration will be the annual Homecoming formal dance to the music of nationally-famous Sammy Kaye and his orchestra. An overflow dance will be held simultaneously in the Women's gymnasium with music furnished by the Regents campus dance band. Both dances will begin at 9 tomorrow night and entertainment will continue until 1 a.m.

Fla. State to Have Photography Dept.

Florida State University will have a new photographic program next semester under the direction of Prof. Zell Maher, assisted by Mr. Robert Steel of the School of Journalism faculty. At present no photography classes are being taught because of the lack of an adequate dark-room.

The lab and equipment, which will be the newest and latest, will provide facilities for teaching sixteen to eighteen students. There will be courses taught in basic photography which will be open to any FSU students. At present it is contemplated that the courses will consist of two hours of lecture and four hours' lab.

This course should prove helpful to students majoring in courses other than journalism, commented Steel.

Amateurs Set

(Continued From Page 1)

the sons of nothing one of his own tunes, but Kaye, being more impressed by his lyrical voice than by the song, offered Jeff a job as vocalist for his band.

JEFFERY was born and brought up in Buffalo, N Y. He went to the University of Michigan and the University of Buffalo, and majored in journalism. An advertisement for fellows he did not settle down directly, but joined the U. S. Mexican Border Patrol tracking down illegal immigrants and dope runners, and working here and over along our Southern Boundary.

During this war he joined the merchant marines as a pharmacist's mate. Afterwards, he came to New York to begin a career as a singer. Jeff's first break came when he was understudy in the Broadway show "Follow The Girls." From there, he appeared at the Copacabana.

BESIDES THE vocalist additions, Kaye's band has recently been fortified with younger, more aggressive musicians to replace the few who left his swing and sway aggregation; however, his key men, Joe De Rosa, key sax man, and Andy Fase, Russo trumpet, are still with the band.

"So You Want To Lead A Band" is the catalog in which Kaye gives the ambitious amateur a chance to try and put the swing and sway through the paces. This provides hilarious fun for everyone and the boons awarded the would-be band leaders are cherished souvenirs. Since this popular feature was introduced, over 10,000 amateur bandleaders have waved batons in front of Sammy's band. Not only has the "man on the street" a desire to lead a band, but celebreties are equally eager.

"SOME OF MY most ambitious amateur bandleaders," says Kaye "have been Milton Berle, Tyrone Power, Perry Como and Red Skelton.

Besides his musical talent, and knack for poetry, Sammy has developed a great adeptness in coping with problems that confront the band. For instance, when it comes to traveling by plane, the bass fiddle not only the bulkiest, but also the most delicate instrument always presented a difficulty until Sammy came up with the idea of reserving an extra seat for it. Now the band makers reservations for 19 and the bass fiddle rides safely in its own seat.

Sammy's band is now at the peak of its popularity and it looks like they'll be holding the Blue ribbon place among the country's favorite bands for a long time to come.

Annual Dinner

(Continued From Page 1)

Israeli Government in 1950 and was adviser to the U. S delegation at the fourth general session of UNESCO in Paris. Dr. McGrath also held forth as chairman of the American delegation to the 14th Conference of International Education in Geneva in 1951.

Dr. Doak S. Campbell is to introduce the honor guests at the banquet. President of the Alumni Mrs. Ellen Whiteside of Miami will recognize the different classes and Jo Nell Proctor and Ted Steinmeyer will pay the honors to the Garnet and Gold Key alumni. Bob Dunker, UOA's Secretary of Education, will preside over the banquet as toastmaster.

PRESIDENT OF the Gold Key organization is Ted Steinmeyer. Bill Skipper, vice-president. Bill Hess, secretary. Jimmy Evans, treasurer. Dr. Claude F. Fiory professor of English, is faculty advisor.

Jo Nell Proctor is president of Garnet Key, with Elizabeth Rose as vice-president, Barbara Thomas, recording secretary, Eleanor Green, corresponding secretary and Sue Saxon, treasurer. Dr. Wayne C. Minnick, assistant professor of speech is faculty advisor.

Gymkana Coronation

MISS GYMKANA CROWNED—Suzi Janes, 21, senior, of Jacksonville, a Florida State University junior, majoring in speech, is shown being crowned as "Miss Gymkana" Saturday night by FSU President Doak S. Campbell following her selection as queen of the annual Gymkana production, directed by Coach Hartley Price. The pretty brunet appeared as the performance's "Miss Moonlight". The two runners-up shown with the "queen" are Barbara Vickers, 18, left, Ft. Pierce, freshman, who appeared as "Miss San Gredelus," and Marilyn Goble, 19 St. Petersburg, a sophomore, majoring in home economics, who appeared as "Miss Yanus."

Support Given

(Continued From Page 1)

Dorothy Smith, Bar Sklarin and Jennie Ciccarello; Gilchrist, Barbara Thomas, Nooth Cawthon, Ann Caro; South Cawthon, Evelyn Manitzanis, Magnolia, William Broadway, Jo Nell Dean Connerly and Paul Sorapuru.

SORORITIES and fraternities have been given tickets to sell within their own chapters, while Day Students may buy their tickets at the Information Desk of the Longmire Building.

The menu will be fruit juice cocktail, tossed green salad, veal cutlet, parsleyed potato, green beans, dinner rolls, margarine, hot coffee or hot tea. No dessert will be served for the dinners will then go to the President's home for the cutting of the birthday cake, where Mrs. Campbell, assisted by Mortar Board, will serve refreshments. Sorapuru said if the number of Seniors attending exceeds 300 the buffoon passe will be held in the Suwannee instead.

PROJECTS Chairman, Tommy Bowen, gave a report on the various projects that have been given for a Senior Class project. They included sending CARE packages to Korea, a scholarship fund, donation to WSSP or buying caps and gowns for the Seniors to use in the future.

Margaret Krasemann, chairman of Campus Chest, asked that the money not be used for WSSP as it was included in the consolidated campus drive.

Pres. Bob Rials said a vote on the matter could not then be taken as there was not near a quorum. He said the executive council worked out some details about a scholarship, but not enough to present.

Classified Ads

FOR RENT Double room for two women students at 661 W. Pensacola. Call 2-1548 or room 8 person after 5 p.m. Mrs. Lucille Wood.

LOST. Small notebook and music book in big classroom in Music Bldg. Needed desperately. Call Dell sticker on front. Lillian Ava S. Cawthon.

SEMINOLE CLUB and SEMINOLE SOUTH

HOMECOMING SPECIALS

Friday Dinner

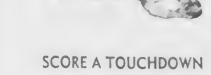
Fried Chicken 75c
Deviled Crab 70c

Choice of Vegetables
Choice of Salads
Rolls, Beverage & Dessert

Saturday Lunch

Chili Con Carne 50c
Italian Spaghetti 55c

Choice of Salads
Choice of Vegetables
Bread and Beverage



Saturday Dinner

Seminole Beef & Vegetable Stew 70c
Smothered Salisbury Steak . . . 65c
Grilled Ham Steak 75c

Choice of Vegetables
Choice of Salads
Rolls, Beverage & Dessert

! All Baked Goods From Our Own Bakery

Welcome Grads and Friends!

SCORE A TOUCHDOWN

MUMS FOR HER SHOULDER

CORSAGE FOR HER GOWN!

Pasco's Flowers

Phone 2-0895

210 South Calhoun

Campus capers call for Coke

No matter if this year's team is the underdog, spirits soar at the homecoming rally. There are bonfires, pep talks, cheers—and for refreshment, delicious Coca-Cola.

DRINK Coca-Cola

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Rowena Longmire Building Becomes Center of Activity

...spotlighted in the whirl ...ndergoing activities is the ...ena Longmire Building busy ...ll-day reunions headquarters ...ronic for many returning ...ni.

...interest this year ...numerous additions and ...to the building's ... Where once a lounge ...ed now three separate rooms, ...furnished in modern ...ional pieces. The new ...quarters of the Alpha ...Omega Book Exchange and ...Student Christian Association ...ated.

The Longmire basement also ...the soda shop, this year ...ed by a mural on life at ...the Men's lounge and Day ...Women's Lounge.

...rvator of the five floors of ...keeper of the keys and ...manager of reservations ...Jane Adams. Her central- ...desk handles informa- ...and found, reservations ...rooms and reception ...rooms and all other activities of the building.

The Public Relations Office, with its many files of information on students and faculty, turns out releases that bring publicity to FSU in Florida and out of state newspapers from its first floor office.

Another center of activity is the Publications organization which has a finger in every bulletin, ticket, program and advertisment produced on campus.

Adjacent to the main desk is the Alumni Association itself, probably the biggest organization in every function of Homecoming planning, the strongest link between the University and alums and the one agency that keeps graduates constantly informed of news of their alma mater.

Two sumptious reception rooms located in the first floor are reserved for formal and informal functions of clubs and must be obtained by reservation from the main desk. These are the only areas that are restricted from casual use by passing students. They also have a kitchenette that is complete with all necessary equipment.

The auditorium with its seating-capacity of 300 makes the second floor valuable for lectures, programs and meetings. Opposite it are two conference rooms for faculty and student gatherings and wedged between the two is an oversized closet where all the art work of FSU's publications is turned out under the direction of Alum. Pez Rizg.

UDA's home and the Smoke Signals and Flambeau Offices make the second floor a continuous clatter of typewriters and copy pencils.

Longmire's third floor houses six guest rooms that are available to alumni or close relatives of students by reservation. The rooms are similar to those of modern hotels with their maple furnishings, drapes and linen. One corner room has an adjoining tub and shower while the other five are conveniently located to the floor bath.

Though the self-operated elevator stops at the third floor many students and visitors have occasion to frequent the offices on four. Here WFSU's headquarters include script rooms, executive office, workroom, studios and control room.

Across the hall the Greeks Inter Fraternity and Pan Hellenic office is the localization point of sorority and fraternity regulation and cooperation.

Also located on the fourth floor is the Tally Ho workroom and picture studio and meeting room for the honoraries Garnet Key, Gold Key, Mortar Board, and Omicron Delta Kappa.

Dedicated April, 1944 in memory of the Alumnae to service the Rowea Longmire Building has been an integral part of campus activities since its opening in the days of Florida State College for Women.

Yell Louder, Florida State!

HERE'S HOW IT'S DONE—Fresh cheerleaders take a tip from the older members of the squad for tonight's the time for their first appearance as full-fledged gridiron peppers. But that's not all! The new hand-woven Seminole costumes will make their debut at the Pow Wow this evening. Modeling those for you are, from left to right, Dot Johnson, Ann Yates, Shirley Knight, Ruth Spencer, Shirley Harper, Betty Ann Monroe, Martha Williamson, Patsy Gates, Ann Adams and, sitting on the sidelines are the freshmen in the same order: Sally Hammer, June Yates, Carol Ellmer, Sarah Hambley and Joey Bell.

Suzi Jones Reigns At Gymkana Show

Members of the Florida League of Municipalities attending their annual convention in Tallahassee Thursday were entertained by Florida State University's Coach Hartley Price's "Gymkana" show in the Suwannee Room of the University.

In addition to the acrobatic stunts, unicycle riding, ballet and acrobatic dancing, the performance included presentation of the "Celestial Parade" featuring Suzi Jones as "Miss Gymkana" and the other finalists in the annual competition for "queen" of the promotion. Each of the finalists wore a costume designed to represent the celestial theme of the show, "Out of This World."

Cheerleaders Rehearse Every Day on Green

By BETTY LEE HERRON

Each day at 5:00 p.m. on Landis Green, our FSU cheerleaders vigorously rehearse familiar and sometimes unfamiliar whoops or chants. They appear as "Johnny on the spot," because not only are they seen on the Landis Green, but on the football sidelines of our campus and of our opponents' campuses. This season the girls cheered at the Stetson game in Orlando, and on Nov. 22, they will clear the warpath for the Seminoles in Atlanta.

THE CHEERLEADERS, who are honorary members of the Warpath Club, are awarded for their spirit contagious to FSU spectators. The Sophomores are to receive white pullovers bearing the gold numerals of their class. The sweaters also include, as a background for the gold letters "FSU," a small garnet megaphone. Similarly the junior pep squad members will be rewarded white jacket-sweaters revealing a gold F. The seniors will claim a garnet and gold blanket which also displays a gold F.

The girls will reign at the Pow Wow tonight—during which time they plan to introduce their new uniforms, handmade by the Seminole Indians. Modeling their latest fashions, the fifteen leaders will introduce three new yells:

No. 1
S-E
S-E
S-E-M-I
N-O
N-O
O-L-E-S
Fight Seminoles!
No. 2
TEAM
+3 Counts
RAH
No. 3
Yea Garnet, Yea Gold
Yea Garnet
Yea Gold
Yea Seminoles
Knock 'Em cold!

The latter yell is loudly expressed through the acrobatics of Shirley Knight and Shirly Harper.

NEW YELLS! New faces! The freshmen cheerleaders will make their debut. Upon introducing the recruits, the old-timers will also take a bow. When the Pow Wow fire burns low, their names will still glow bright—everyone will remember the cheerleaders of FSU!

Seniors: Patsy Gates and Martha Williamson co-captains, Juniors: Ruthie Spencer, Shirley Knight; Sophomores Ann Adams, Ann Yates, Betty Ann Munroe, Shirley Harper, Dot Johnson and Nancy Black. Freshmen: Nancy Warner, Sally Hammer, Sarah Hambley, Joey Bell, June Yates, and Carol Ellmer.

Seniors Will Buy Breakfast Tickets

Tickets for President Dusk S... Campbell's birthday dinner, the annual affair attended by the Seniors, are now on sale, according to Paul Sorapuru, Senior Class Social Chairman.

The dinner will be at the Suwannee Tuesday at 6 p.m. Five hundred tickets will be sold at the Cash...

Welcome
Back For Homecoming
F. S. U.
Alumni and Friends
From Mack, Al and Gene
at
Alford Brothers
212 S. Monroe

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY
CAMERON'S TEXACO SERVICE STATION
366 W. TENNESSEE Formerly Moats Service Station DIAL 3-0619

Welcome Alumni

Man's best friend for town or country—a watch of precision accuracy that shrugs off shock and laughs to water like a duck. Contains the world famous Omega automatic movement that winds itself.

In capped stainless steel $85 ... or 14 kt. top stainless also back with sweep, second hand $145, both Fed. Tax incl.

Moon's
REGISTERED JEWELERS
American Gem Society

What's This? HOMECOMING SALE Yep!!

F. S. U.

- Stuffed Animals
- Trash Cans
- Banners
- Note Books
- Plates

F. S. U.

- Fight Song Records
- Drinking Glasses
- Pennants
- Bookends and Plaques
- Tags

Beat Furman

Take Home a Souvenir

Scalp 'Em Seminoles

University Bookstore

Books – School Supplies

Stationery – Novelties – Art

Old Friends, New Buildings Welcome Alumni to FSU

Today marks "finis" to weeks of long range planning and frantic preparation, of skyrocketing enthusiasms and frenzied excitement on the part of students and administrations alike for today is another milestone in the road of progress traveled by Florida State University—our fifth annual Homecoming—biggest and best yet . . . Homecoming 1952.

As all faces turn toward the future, and some memories flicker to the past, the campus echoes "WELCOME ALUMNI"; and to this growing crescendo, the Flambeau wishes to add its small voice.

Each planned event carries with it another invitation to enjoy with us a growing pride in the accomplishments of our Alma Mater—the university you helped build when you, too, were students here, and for which we work now.

One look through Westcott's traditional gates will reveal leaps and strides taken in the development of our campus—now a combination of the very new and the very old.

The skyscraper Freshmen men's dorm, $25,000 Campbell Stadium which will house tomorrow's football game, modernistic university owned fraternity houses, enlarged and remodeled sorority houses, and final achievement—the new student center—long needed and surpassing any hopes or fondest dreams.

The campus is spreading, changing; and with it, the traditions. FSU is no longer a girls school, nor a fledging university—it is a proud institution and it stands on its own two feet.

Homecoming receives the place of honor among the year's planned events—the weekend most anticipated by all students and alumni.

It brings with it a parade of floats, a gigantic formal, lavish decorations, barbecues and open houses, the crowning of "Miss FSU"—fun and festivities for all. But even more, it means class reunions, old friends, reminisciences—a meeting of past, present, and future.

As you pass through these gates, today you share one common tie with the student body—pride in the growth of Florida State University. We hope that this weekend will be a commerable one for all friends, alumni, and honored guests of Florida State. Again, we extend our sincere welcome.

● FACULTY WELCOME

The faculty, students, and staff of the Florida State University and the citizena of Tallahassee extend a most cordial welcome to returning alumni and other friends of the University. We sincerely hope that everyone who has attended this University at any time will, indeed, feel that you have come back home.

We especially hope that you will have opportunity to visit with teachers and students whom you came to know during your own college days.

Through the years, some whom you once knew here are gone; hallowed spots dear in your memory will not appear as you remember them. However, we hope you will find the same fine spirit that has characterized the campus through the years.

Especial thanks are due to the hundreds of friends who have done the hard work necessary to make possible this 1952 Annual Florida State University Homecoming. On behalf of the entire University I express thanks and appreciation.

Sincerely yours,
Doak S. Campbell
President

● UGA WELCOME

It is a high honor and privilege to welcome yon to our campus for the 195t Homecoming celebration. We expect this year's Homecoming to be the best yet! On behalf of the student body I extend to you a cordial greeting.

We hope you will take part in the many activities we have planned around the clock for you: the parade, the Garnet and Gold Key Banquet, the Pow Wow, the football game, and the hig Homecoming Dance.

The campus is yours and we want you to feel at home. Be sure to inapect the new buildings. We are proud of Florida State University, and we hope you will be with us as we go forward each year. Visit us often, not just on a hig weekend.

If there is anything we can do to help you in any way, please let us know. We want you to enjoy this weekend and to go home knowing you were graduated from a great university.

I hope to meet each of you, but if I don't happen to see you I still want to thank you for helping to build such a wonderful university. The best of everything to you.

Mary Ruth Summers
U G A President

● ALUMNI WELCOME

Alumni join with me in extending a special welcome at our Homecoming to the Governor, the Governor-elect, the State Cabinet, members of the Legislature and all friends of our University. We are glad to have you share Homecoming with us.

Our Alma Mater is Florida's oldest state-supported institution of higher learning on its original site. It has long enjoyed an enviable reputation of progres and high scholastic standards. We take pride in saluting those men and women of the past who laid the ground work for this fine University. We gratefully acclaim President Campbell, his faculty and staff, and all those who joined with him in placing our three torches o nan even higher plane to light the way to an education for more boys and girls in Florida and the nation.

Enrollment this year exceeded all expectations. Comprising 16 major divisions, Florida State University has not lost aight of the development of the student.

It is with pride that I greet you on this occasion and express sincere thanks to the students and others who have made this a real Homecoming for all of us.

Ellen K Whiteside
Alumni President

SEMINOLE SCENES

CARDS ADD ANOTHER ISM TO CAMPUS

By FRANCES CAWTHON

Tonight part of the student body will peek through holes in cardboard as the first card section of Florida State comes into being.

It's great that somebody jogged this thing into reality, but take a few hundred words of warning from an old card flipper who knows the evils of colored squares in a bleacher. Watch it, or it will have the whole student body a collected bundle of psychosis for the rest of the football season.

Below are listed some of the card section cases which will be enconntered. At all times beware, guard against and prevent such things if possible:

CASE No 1 — Smortszell just LOVED football. He atten[ded] every home game, and had a reputation among his classmates of being one of the best team supporters in the country.

One day Smortszell's alma mammy announced with pride that it had worked out a card section with oodles of good tricks. Everybody was enthusiastic including Smortsy. Game night came and he like the rest, was given his colored cards. The leader yelled up with yellow and Smortsy gave purple. The leadrr asked for green! Smortsy gave him orange. Smortszell poor fellow is color-blind.

Now none of the students think highly of Smortzy as they once did, and he has to sit on the very edge of the section, where only one or possibly two colors are used. Smortzell will never be the same.

CASE No. 2—As card sectionalism exists in certain universities, so it did at the University of Alachuawack where George went. George had a girl, Jane, but they didn't get to see very much of each other. Jane went to a college in another state, so the only loving they got was second hand through the mailman.

Finally Jane wrote and said she'd be able to make it up to Georges homecoming. After months and months they would be close to each other again. She telegraphed she would meet him just before kick-off time.

But if they thought they were going to see much of each other they were mistaken. George was a member of the BAPC 'Boost Alachuawack Pep Club', which handled an extensive card section.

George and Jane spent 24 of their 36 hours together with a piece of cardboard between them . . . at least if they were lucky. Usually she was sitting across the stadium while he was forming part of the left ear of the Alachuawack bulldog.

Jane went tearfully back to college accusing George of liking to play paper dolls in six colors more than being with her.

CASE No. 3—Tau Tau Tau fraternity usually turned out en masse to football games. Of course by the time it ended, Tau Tau Tau fraternity WAS out, alcoholically speaking. One night they brought along their usual spiked Cokes, when they were told the students were going to try a card section. This was great fun.

When the home team made a touchdown, Triple Tau was the first to celebrate. Everybody took another drink and threw the cards up into the air. "They looked so purty sailing along," as one put it.

As the game progressed, a Delta Phi Gamma was suspected of saying a dirty remark about the grand old fraternity of TTT. A loyal brother firmly made the hole in the middle of a card big enough for the DPG's head. A battle ensued, costing approximately 165 colored cards.

CASE No 4—This is the case of the over enthusiastic section leader. Every time the home team was about to make a first down, he got patriotic and yelled, "One, two, three, UP!" As a result the students watched the most exciting parts of the game through holes of one-half inch in diameter, and had to use Murine for three weeks.

The card leader no longer is about. A rumor has it he provided bonfire fuel for the last pep rally.

These are just a few examples of what can happen. I ain't pessimistic, though I've already got my spot picked out. I will be the third garnet card to the left in the letter F . . .

See you there. . .

OFF THE CUFF

'STUDENT DIRECTED' PROGRAM CAUSES INTEREST

By BRUCE GALPHIN

A few weeks ago a comment I made in a column on the general education program caused a little comment, including some from the faculty. I was pleased both to know that someone was reading my column and to learn that the idea of a "student directed" program had caused interest in the proper quarters.

The idea of a student directed curricula is certainly not unique, either nationwide or on this campus, but I would like to amplify some of my earlier remarks and perhaps cast a slightly different light on the problem.

First of all, by student directed, I did not mean run by students. Perhaps in a small group under ideal conditions such a program would be possible, but for the majority, educational facilities will remain crowded for a long time to come, and the goal should be to make the present system as fruitful as possible.

By student directed I mean directed toward the student instead of at him.

The idea is particularly important at the elementary, or general education, level. When a student goes more deeply into a subject, he will naturally be taking courses which to an outsider might seem overly intricate and advanced. This is to be expected and not bemoaned, for by the time the student is far enough along in a subject to study its details, he should be interested enough in the field that these details be meaningful and important to him.

Before there is the catch: be should be interested enough by then. It takes iron determination and extreme virtue, however, to remain interested in some subjects after wading through a mass of unorganized information at the freshman level. Not only are prospective majors turned away in disappointment by uninspiring first courses, but an astounding amount of potentiality among undecided students is automatically spoiled.

Furthermore, general education is the only chance a student has to get a real education while he is in college. That is, general education should help prepare him for life, whereas more ordinarily his major study prepares him for a living. If he goes on to specialize without first having gotten at least a partial picture of how his specialization fits into civilizaton as a whole, then his educavtion is sadly neglected.

There are so many fields of knowledge to be explored that every one of them should be interesting to each student; he should find it extremely difficult to choose a major after his first year. Having taken general education courses for three years at this university, I know that such widely separated fields as journalism and physics, sociology and English can be equally vital and appealing—not so much for what the subject matter covered, but because of the way it was presented.

Instead of jumping right into facts and concepts, an instructor should first try to convince the student that there is a problem which exists and then try to relate that problem with the course he is going a teach.

As the course proceeds, the teacher should explain the historical development of the knowledge and tie it in with contemporary events and discoveries, so as not to leave his particular field "isolated" in time and space.

Finally, and perhaps above all, the teacher should at all times strive to remind the student that one subject, no matter how large, is but an insignificant part of knowledge as a whole. He should make the student aware that each field of study must be viewed from the point of view of all subjects before it has any real meaning to the progress of mankind.

These suggestions have been necessarily brief and at best general, but I hope they express at least one students' fervent hope for a line of thought to be followed in preparing courses to further education.

SITTIN' ON THE SIDELINES

HALLELUJAH! HOMECOMING IS FINALLY HERE

By MARCIA MORRIS

Hallelujah and Hip hip hooray—Homecoming 1952 edition, is here! Finally and thank goodness. Now maybe we can see what all the fuss adds up to.

Just taking a peep about the rolling hills and towering pine territory, we note that with great clamor the campus is buried in the throes of last minute preparations. Feudin' and fussin' is going strong and the battle of the trophies is on!

Professors are delivering entertaining lectures to blank rows of seats; frantic committee chairmen are scouring the campus for enterprising souls that haven't already been snagged for umpteen projects, house mothers are snoozing at night to the "bam, bam" of hammers and the "sc-r-r-atch" of buzz saws; classmates are saying "good morning" to smudged little faces and painted little hands, the merchants and townspeople are riding a wave of prosperity from the sales of liniment and turpentine; and the scalpers should be in their heyday.

Cardboard boxes are at a premium in Tallahassee they will probably be rationed for the next six months—and anyone with an extra cot corner, or front porch can earn a quick buck or two.

The revenue pouring into hotel cash drawers reserving rooms for relatives, old grads, and current visiting dreamboats would be sufficient to pay off the national debt.

At the bottom of all this hullabaloo are Suzie and Sammy Seminole—Miss and Mr. Fix It—or as the case may be—un-fix it. Today is their day. The day that motors clunk, napkins flomp, tempers flare, and nerves crunch.

This day every person, great and small, is praying that the rains don't come to make mache ooze, and paints run. This is the day of ironing dresses, and being late, of cutting classes and meeting dates; of pushing trucks and climbing ladders, of spilling paint and stuffing napkins; of saying hello, putting on smiles, beaming welcome, and propping open eyes.

Today Tallahassee is a liberal arts college—and that's for sure. An education is important — but Homecoming is more so. The festivities march on and books are shoved to the nearest and most convenient corner. Whoever heard of chemistry labs? This week the campus is busy learning how to weather forecast, drive trucks, cut chicken wire, and stage skits. Us Seminoles have become a versatile bunch!

What do you suppose started all this business anyway? Well, have a chat with some of the alums jaunting over for the week end—yeah, go ahead—and no doubt you'll receive many pearls of wisdom about days gone by—and the thrill of the first celebration.

"Huh" you say again, "the past weeks have been a horror." So you're half asleep, and flunking out of class—your hair won't curl—and what's with a silly football game anyway.

Well, forget it Seminoles. The campus is reverberating welcome alumni! Florida State is a mayhem, a madhouse, a scene of complete bedlam — and we love it because it's Homecoming 1952. It's aue brain trust, our genius — practically our life's blood!

ODK Leadership Honorary Taps Ducker, Huey, Ryals at Center

Bob Ducker, Mac Huey and Bob Ryals were tapped Tuesday night into Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership honorary, in front of the Student Center where a replica of the ODK key was set up.

A coffee was held Wednesday night in the Longmire Lounge in honor of the new taps.

Ducker, a Sigma Chi, is secretary of elections, assistant manager and program director of WFSU, chairman of Homecoming float decorations committee; Vestry member of the Canterbury Club, Alpha Phi Omega, Pi Kappa Delta national forensics honorary; Gold Key tap, Choral Union members, in intercollegiate speech competition, Speakers Bureau and was in the Speech production play of "You Can't Take It With You."

Huey, also a Sigma Chi, is a tackle on the first squad football team, vice-president of Circle K, service honorary, president of Men's F Club and Gold Key tap. He was also pledge trainer for his fraternity.

Ryals is president of the Senior Class. A Lambda Chi Alpha, he was secretary of his fraternity from 1949-50 and was president last year. He was also Junior Senator and was re-elected the next year, but did not serve due to the Senior Class presidency. He was very instrumental in starting and promoting the present booster section. He is a member of Gold Key and Circle K.

Membership in ODK is one of the highest honors that can come to a University man. It signifies leadership qualities, scholastic achievement and service to the school.

Soltas Formed in 1947:

Librarians Print Own Paper

The SOLTAS club of the School of Library Training and Service was formed in the Fall of 1947. The name was designated as a result of a contest won by Miss Betty Woodall. The name is composed of the initial letters of the name of the school.

The club was originally for undergraduate majors only, but graduates are now admitted.

THE CLUB membership has grown with the Library School and now has almost sixty members. Membership is open primarily to people enrolled in the Library School, but anyone taking a Library Science course is eligible for membership.

SOLTAS has its own newspaper. This newspaper, also named SOLTAS, was first published in December, 1947. Edith Grider was the first editor and contributors have been Betty Woodall, Dean Louis Shores, Lynn Walker, Alma Warren, Ardath Danford, and Marjorie Jordan.

The present staff is Barbara Hendry, editor, Jo Ann Nelson, Terry Garrett and Helen Black. Those people who wish to help typewrite or staple will be welcomed. Just see Barbara and she will give you a job.

THE PRESENT officers are Jo Ann Nelson, president; Evelyn Frederickson, vice-president; Ma[rt]h Sanders, secretary and Helen Black, treasurer.

SOLTAS sponsors many parties during the year. The main one is the Christmas Party at which the faculty provides the entertainment. We are looking forward to [ou]r party at Dean Shores new home. And of course we will have many coffees and picnics.

SOLTAS is based on promoting friendship between the faculty and [students]. We believe the close friendships in our library family are but one re[sul]t of our informal meetings and many parties.

We always look forward to meeting our friends at SELA, ALA, and FLA. Our former members are now in Tennessee, Indiana, Atlanta, United Nations Headquarters and North Carolina. As we graduate and enter the many and varied fields of Library Service among our fondest memories of [FSU] will always be the SOLTAS C[lub] and the many friends we have made.

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager
BABS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors — Marcia Morris, Bruce Galphin
Sports Editors — George Dunn, Jim Eady
Copy Editor — Judy Simkins
Feature Editor — June Morgan
Assistant News Editor — A. Pierre
Rewrite Editor — John Ha[...]
Morgue Editors — Bob Harris, Liz Vane
National Ad Manager — Pat Robinson
Local Ad Manager — Flo Walton
Assistant Managers — Nancy Lowe, Julie Norton, Marilyn Searight

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida. The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York.
Telephone 2-8000, Extension 481 — Second Floor Alumni Bldg.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegite Press Association

Cavaliers Sole Organization On Campus Open to Little Guy

By JIM JINDRA

Question: Do you know what student organization at FSU has for its main purpose the improvement and wider dissemination of social activities, privileges and opportunities among the students?

. . . Sounds like propaganda? Well, that's not all. What same organization doesn't care whether its members are A students or just average like you and me; doesn't care whether they like sports, music or physics, doesn't care whether they own convertibles or just one pair of shoes?

IT SOUNDS LIKE a riddle, but don't say, "There ain't no such animal." It's been on campus longer than you have and it's the Beta chapter in this state. Outside of being able to fulfill the purpose of the group, it's members have to be male students. The constitution sets a fixed membership ratio of non-fraternity men to fraternity men so as to make it as nearly representative of the student body as possible.

Do you get it now? You don't? Well, do you remember the first Saturday night back at school this semester? Registration was over and a lot of students went out to the "O" Club and danced to the music of two orchestras. It was the Play Night Dance which is traditionally given by the entire male student body to welcome everyone back and help them get acquainted with one another. The hosts at that dance were members of this organiztaion.

JUST THIS WEEK dancing lessons at the Student Ce[nter] concluded. It is men f[rom] [this] group, in conjunction w[ith] [...] from Cotillion, who g[ive] dancing lessons every year. [...] do you remember the Tal[ent] [Show] last year? Same fellows. O[ne] hundred dollars worth of [...] were given to the best talent. They're already m[aking] plans for this year's Talent [Show] scheduled for next March.

These men acted as h[osts] [at] many university sponsored d[ances] as well as the Tea Dances [which] have been discontinued [...]. And many of you probab[ly] [re]member seeing some of the[m] in the Sandspur musical. Members of this group appear in a scene in the show each year.

ANNUAL TRYOUTS for new members will begin next w[eek]. With the expanding student enrollment each year at FSU [the] group will have to take in m[ore] members than ever befor[e] [in] order to successfully fulf[ill] [its] purpose. In case you hav[en't] guessed it, the organization is The Cavaliers, and these new memb[ers] must be good dancers. They [will] be chosen on the basis of ability and smoothness in [slow] and fast dancing.

If a man's style has a [lot of] showy and intracate steps [which] make it difficult for his part[ner] to follow him, chances are tha[t he] won't be a Cavalier. In addition the men tapped must have a pleasing personality and a sincere interest in furthering the aims [of] the organization.

Grad of Many Fields Returns For Masters in Physical Ed.

Homecoming, November 14 and 15 will have special meaning to Mrs. H R. MacMillan who is back after five year's absence to work for a master's degree in physical education.

One of several women students enrolled here under the GI Bill, Mrs MacMillan, the former Nancy Cleaton, received her BS degree from Florida State University in 1947, taught school in Madison, Florida two years and enlisted in the Waves January 1949.

HER LIFE IN the Navy consisted of two weeks Boot Camp at Great Lakes, Illinois, three months at a California Naval Air Station and an ensign commission awarded July 12 1949.

As an ensign she had to study hard such subjects as Foundations of National Power Logistics and Naval Law. But there was more social life for an officer and in December she married an Air Intelligence Officer Lieutenant H R. MacMillan.

MRS. MacMILLAN now has one son and is studying at FSU while her husband is off on a year's cruise aboard the U S S Orisk[...]any. She plans to join her hu[s]band this summer in Califo[rnia].

Attending daily classes, she [says] she can't help noting the con[trast] between the present FSU and [the] one she remembers. It was dur[ing] her senior year that the first m[en] appeared on campus, about [...] extension students from the Uni[]versity of Florida. Men on [the] faculty were in minority also [re]calls Mrs. MacMillan, and [of] course the faculty was consi[der]ably smaller then.

THE NEW MUSIC building [...] amphitheater, the recently com[]pleted eight-story dormitory [and] 11-story dormitory now under [con]struction, and the student cen[ter] are outstanding additions since her undergraduate days.

She mentioned that the cam[pus] changes weren't complete [sur]prises because her parents [kept] her informed in their letters [and] copies of the Alumni Bull[etin] gave her the rest of the news. [She] just had to see all the changes [her]self though, to appreciate [the] campus expansion," she [con]cluded.

Alumnae Will Be Able to See Much Change in FSU Library

By JAYLEEN ROBERTSON

Visiting alumni will be interested in seeing the new additions an[d] improvements to the Florida State library. The many valuable g[ifts] from Alumni include memory books, programs, pictures, old co[pies] of the Flambeau and handbooks of other years now filed in [the] archives collection.

During the years 1951-1952, a new annex was added to the south side of the building; its dimensions being 40 feet by 60 feet. The new annex houses the Department of Acquisitions, the Cataloging Department, and also the division which prepares material for the bindery.

LAST SUMMER two new floors of stacks, circulating books were added. This completed the stacks as originally planned, and provided room for material which has been in storage for the past two and three years.

An official count made June 30, 1952, showed the library to have a collection of 306,601 books. The library subscribes also to 1,541 magazines many of which are bound for permanent use. Other features are the collection of pamphlets numbering 28,495 and the collection of 43,653 pictures. Many of the 48,891 maps that the library has are very old and rare.

IN ADDITION to books, maps etc. the library now has 4,121 reels of microfilm. The films include complete files of the New York Times, London Times, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Tampa Tribune, and the Jacksonville Times-Union. These films are used primarily by graduate students and those doing research.

The eff[icie]nt work in keeping our excellent library up to date is co-ordinated by Mrs. Lou[is]e R. [Ric]hardson, head librarian, and her assistant Miss Florence Bethea. The staff includes 34 professional and 16 non-professional librarians.

"THE HALF of knowledge is to know [where] to find it," [is a] quotation familiar to alumni and present students alike. The inscription over the entrance to the library has impressed most all [of] us at one time or another.

The library is constantly [ex]panding in the knowledge it [con]tains and should by now con[tain] more than half the knowl[edge] anyone would care to look [for]. Finding what you are looking [for] is no hard task doe to the d[if]ferent divisions of the library: the Reference Room, Stacks, [Re]serve Room, Periodical Room, [and] Newspaper Room—all of w[hich] have card catalogs to make the quest for knowledge as simple as a, b, c.

4-H Club Observes Achievement Day

Pr[esident] Doak S. Campbell rece[iv]ed a desk set of the American [and] 4-H flags recently from the [...]ty 4-H Club in a ceremony [ob]serving National 4-H Achievement Day held in the President's office.

Evelyn Henley, Jackie Dupont, Peggy Johnson and Billie Ann Folsom participated in the presentation.

Included was a short talk on National Achievement Day by Evelyn Henley, a 4-H poem [by] Jackie Dupont and the presentation of the flags on whose bases were inscribed the American pledge of allegiance and the 4-H pledge. Billie Ann Folsom presented the American flag, with P[eggy] Johnson giving the 4-H flag.

President Campbell thanked the 4-H members for their gift and extended an invitation for them to come back and visit."

Homecoming Features Await Today's Arrival of FSU Alumni for Celebration

By ORCHID ALONSO

The welcome sign is ready to be hung over the gates of Florida State University's Wescott building and all over the campus there is plenty of merriment activity in preparation to welcome back hundreds of alumni and friends of FSU for two-day Homecoming festivities Friday and Saturday, November 14-15.

The carnival of classes at noon today will formally begin the two-day Homecoming program following Alumni Registration, parade and judging of lawn decorations today and tonight.

IN GARAGES, driveways, and open areas around the campus fraternity and sorority organizations are making last minute preparations for the entering of floats for the Homecoming parade at 3 p.m. Friday through downtown Tallahassee. Awards will be made for the best entered floats.

The Pow Wow tonight at 8:15 o'clock in Campbell Stadium is expected to draw a big crowd and, as in other years, will be free to the public.

THE MAIN EVENT of the night will be the FSU Contest sponsored by the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority and Sigma Nu Fraternity. The new contest has been held in the past with little or no response, but last year when these two organizations took over, the plan has grown and even includes dormitories as well as the sorority and fraternity houses.

This year, there were over 20 entrances in the skit contest. Judging by faculty and staff members broke down this group until all but three sororities and three fraternities were eliminated. The Alpha Delta Pi's, Pi Beta Phi's, Alpha Xi Delta's, Delta Tau Delta's, Sigma Phi Epsilon's and Kappa Sigma's. Last Tuesday night, the final eliminations left one fraternity and one sorority, the Alpha Xi Delta's and Delta Tau Delta's.

The skit presented by the Delta Tau Delta's will include real cars and their real fire engine centering around the theme of women drivers. During the skit a football player is run down by a woman driver and the officer at the scene turns out to be a women police-woman. The plot is developed through an acrobatic speech of a politician who is elaborating on the world and what it is coming to, especially with women on the college campuses.

The Alpha Xi Delta skit is closer to the homecoming theme and deals with a Gypsy fortune teller who is predicting the outcome of the homecoming game. Rythmic modern dancers will portray the Hurricanes accompanied by constant beating of a Tom Tom.

NANCY MATHEW, Alpha Gamma Delta, and James Pilcher, Sigma Nu, were in charge of the skit details for their respective organizations.

The trophy will be awarded tonight to the winning skit. The organization who wins the trophy three times gets to keep it. Last year, the Alpha Delta Pi's and Sigma Phi Epsilon's won the trophy.

ALSO APPEARING on the Pow Wow program will be a combination of several special events according to Coach Jack Haskins, general Pow Wow chairman.

This will include a program by the FSU Marching Chiefs under the direction of Robert T. Brazeel.

AN FSU CIRCUS novelty act, "Study in Florescence," a comedy act from Gymkana, and "The Flying DeCosmos" will be presented also.

Highlighting the program will be the revelation of the 1952 Homecoming Queen, selected by secret ballot from a field of 41 entries and 5 finalists who will represent the court.

FINALISTS IN the queen contest, any of who might be the queen are Barbara Brewton, June Conyers, Judy Ellis, Marlies Giesler, and Dorothy Johnson.

The evening will be ended by the presentation of a spectacular fireworks display, introduction of the FSU football team and coaches, and a pep rally in which everyone present will take part.

DR. EARL J. McGRATH, U. S. Commissioner of Education, will be principal speaker at the traditional Homecoming Garnet and Gold banquet at 5:15 p.m. Friday. Over 500 persons are expected at the banquet.

Reservations from alumni in all parts of the country for the many events are being received daily by the FSU Alumni Association office. The classes having their reunions this year and class presidents are: 1952, Will Pennell, Miami; 1949, Mrs. J. J. Palumbo, Columbia, South Carolina; 1948, Mrs. Ted Pulling, New York; 1947, Sarah Lewis, Tallahassee; and 1946, Mrs. J. E. Rutland, Jr., Ruskin, Florida.

There will also be reunions this year for the classes of 1939 with Edna Mattox, Decatur, Ga., president; class of 1929, Emilie Blackburn, president; 1928, Mrs. R. H. Powell, Jr., Tuskegee, Alabama; 1927, Mrs. Hugh Cox, Miami; 1926, Sarah Lewis, Tallahassee; and 1925, Mrs. J. E. Rutland, Jr., Ruskin, Florida.

Shaw Reveals H'coming Cost To Be $6,000

Budget for the '53 Homecoming has been set approximately at $6,000 according to R. K. Shaw, finance chairman and co-chairman of the Homecoming committee. This is the amount which was allotted to cover the expense of the various activities during the week-end.

Items included in the budget are the dance, Garnet and Gold banquet, barbecue, Pow Wow, floats and decorations, and special university guests.

Although $3000 has been allotted for expenses on the formal dance which include decorations and the orchestra, the dance is expected to pay for itself in the sale of tickets. The Garnet and Gold Banquet will also replace its allotted $900 in the sale of tickets.

One thousand dollars has been allotted from the budget to cover the cost of the barbecue.

The City of Tallahassee, Leon County, and the Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce have each given $100 which combined will defray the cost of the Pow Wow and cover expense of special guests of the university. This donation will also meet expenses of the floats for the parade and decorations of the dormitories.

"In addition to the sum already given, the merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce has spent $1500 more for additional store decorations in the downtown stores," said Mr. Shaw. He went on to say that the City of Tallahassee purchased Homecoming inserts to replace the Santa Clauses in the Christmas decorations on the downtown street lights. this, he said, may have cost about $200. The art department painted the panels in Homecoming motif.

Mr. Shaw added that the downtown section alone will probably have spent about $10,000 on the '52 Homecoming when the final report of expenditures is in.

Wesley Students Plan H'Coming Week-End

Tonight the Wesley Foundation will have open house following the Pow Wow. Students may bring their dates and alumni are also expected.

After the game Saturday will be another open house, during which the alumni will serve. The Freshman officers are in charge of exterior and interior decorations for the event.

Refugee Finds Haven Here

The human holidays of the Russian "Iron Curtain" no longer holds any terror for Dr. John J. Spitzer, Florida State University assistant professor of psychology, and his pretty bride of 15 months.

Today the couple is happy in a new life together in Florida. The haunting memories of a Nazi concentration camp and uncertainty of life under the Communists in their native Hungary are becoming dimmer with time.

THE full impact of living in Budapest when the Communists took over and slowly began their strangle hold upon the people was not long in reaching the young medical graduate and his then sweetheart, Judy.

When the Russian troops liberated him from a Nazi concentration camp in 1945 in Austria, Dr. Spitzer hurried back to his native Hungary. His parents had been taken from Budapest by the Germans and sent to another camp. He never heard from them again.

FOR THE first several years, he recalls life in Hungary under the Communists was not too bad. He became engaged to marry Judy while he continued his education in the University of Budapest, teaching, doing medical research, becoming a Latin scholar.

As the Communists tightened their grip on the people, Judy, now an FSU undergraduate student, majoring in chemistry, migrated to America to live with her mother and sister in Philadelphia.

WAYTHING his opportunity and being extremely careful not to arouse the slightest suspicion, Dr. Spitzer, who speaks German, French, English and Hungarian, slipped from behind the "Iron curtain" and made his way to Vienna, Austria.

In the American Zone of Austria he attended the University of Vienna. He had a teaching position and continued his medical research. He lived only one block from the Russian occupied zone —entirely too close for comfort. At the American Embassy in Austria he enlisted aid in being placed on the immigrant quota list for entrance to the United States, but was told there would be a long wait ahead.

AFTER ARRIVING Vienna, Dr. Spitzer obtained a teaching and medical research job at the University of Munich in Germany where he earned his M. D. degree. He kept up regular correspondence with his intended bride in Philadelphia.

Fired with ambition for more medical knowledge through research he next went to Dalhousie University in Halifax, Canada as a teacher and medical research man. His work attracted attention, and he was granted a Canada National Research Council grant. Judy joined him in Canada in June, 1951, and they were married there.

LAST January Dr. Spitzer was finally admitted to this country under the quota system, and took a teacher and medical research position on the faculty of Temple University in Philadelphia. He left there to join the FSU faculty last month.

AT FSU Dr. Spitzer i, ateaching human anatomy and physiology. He is planning to expand his teaching duties to include courses in other related fields of medicine. Much of his research has been in the fields of blood coagulation and problems related to [illegible] medicine.

"HERE in this country we are free to live in Florida's tremendous climate," he says. "We can have a reasonable degree of security, and know the dignity of man. In Budapest, as long as the Communists are in control no one is free. There is no certainty of life only the daily fear of the secret police with their spies everywhere."

Professors Receive Votes by Write-In

Florida State professors are mixing book larnin' with politics these days, or rather their publics think "highly enough" of them to have given them a vote in the recent tie election.

Dr. James Prothro, assistant professor of political science, received a write-in vote for U. S. Senate, while Dr. James Norton got the support of one person for County Commissioner. Dr. Victor Mamstey, of the History Department, also received a vote, for a school board position.

Just See That Girl! She's Doing IT, Too

Einstein could probably tell you the exact total, and it's our guess IT would really add up. You see IT every day, every where, but do you ever notice IT? What is IT? We'll tell you!

"IT" is the gesture, peculiar to women.

IT'S a very casual gesture, taken much for granted. IT is not particular as to whom it affects, nor is it a respector of time and place. You may see IT in soda shops, classes, around the campus, on the corner of Monroe and College. IT is everywhere.

There is a great deal of history behind IT. Centuries of progress, both moral and political are reflected in the freedom and abandon of IT. Years ago IT wasn't known. IT had no cause, no effect. IT wasn't. But after the turn of the century women invaded the man's world, and in the process adopted IT. Coed's caught on to IT, modified IT, and IT is here to stay.

Have you ever seen a coed stop, sit stand or kneel, and pull up a bobby sock that's been walked down in loafers or sandles?

You'g seen IT!

Welcome Back Alums:

Come See Us While You're Here for

★ FRIED CHICKEN
★ STEAKS
★ HAMBURGERS ★ SANDWICHES

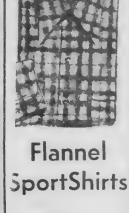
And Still at the Same Low Prices

The Sweet Shop

701 West Jefferson Street

Welcome HOMECOMING VISITORS AND ALUMNI !



Fighting Seminoles Just WIN!

HOLLAND'S RESTAURANT

JUST GOOD FOOD

106 E. Pensacola St. Facing Capitol

Warm! Sanforized! Colorful Patterns!

Flannel SportShirts

2.98

Like 'em neat! Like 'em bold? A variety of patterns to please every man. Square bottoms, wear 'em in or out of trousers. 2 roomy pockets with flaps. All sizes.

Fremac's

302 S. MONROE

Make No Mistakes!...

Come in . . . check our prices and these exclusive Chevrolet advantages before you buy!

Be Sure You Get the Deal You Deserve!

Today's no time to take chances. You want to be certain of top value for your hard-earned dollars. So come in and check the deal we offer you. See how much more you get in Chevrolet . . . and how much less you need to pay. See us now for the deal you deserve!

THERE'S NO VALUE LIKE CHEVROLET VALUE!

CHEVROLET

The Styleline De Luxe 4-Door Sedan (Continental kit optional at extra cost) illustrates an excellent choice of material.

SEE WHAT YOU GAIN WITH THESE EXCLUSIVE CHEVROLET FEATURES

More Powerful Valve-in-Head Engine with Powerglide Automatic Transmission (optional on De Luxe models at extra cost) • Body by Fisher • Center-pointe Power • Safety Plate Glass all around, with E-Z-Eye plate glass (optional at extra cost) • Largest Brakes in its field • Unitized Knee-Action Ride.

SEE WHAT YOU SAVE WITH THE

Lowest-Priced Line in its Field!

SEE YOUR CHEVROLET DEALER FOR ALL YOUR AUTOMOTIVE NEEDS!

Conveniently listed under "Automobiles" in your local classified telephone directory

Welcome Back Alumni

"Serving Tallahassee"

LEWIS STATE BANK

INDUSTRIAL BANK OF TALLAHASSEE

CAPITAL CITY NATIONAL BANK

TALLAHASSEE STATE BANK & TRUST COMPANY

ALL BANKS ARE MEMBERS OF THE FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

FSU Seminoles Meet Furman's Purple Hurricanes In Doak S. Campbell Stadium Tomorrow at 2:30

Ticket Sales and Attendance Increase Indicate Record Crowd for '52 Homecoming Grid Tilt

The highlight of the Cuming weekend begins tomorrow at 2:30 in Doak Campbell Stadium, when the Florida State football team clashes with Furman University.

If advance ticket-sales and a general attendance increase all year are any indications, a record crowd should be on hand. 13,701 people in the Homecoming record, now 1952 TEAM PORTRAIT—The Florida State University Seminoles hope to break into the win column for the first time this year against the powerful Furman Purple Hurricanes in Doak S. Campbell Stadium tomorrow. Game time is scheduled for 2:30.

On The Warpath

By GEORGE BUNN

Last week I said hello, this week I say goodbye. I'm not fired I just quit. Got too much to do. Well that's enough mush.

Maybe you will consider this a mean old column after you read what I have to say but then maybe you will do a little bit of thinking, which might not hurt any of us.

Sports? Where to? Well, you are as well qualified to answer that as I, so do not rend this as a authoratative article. It is merely a speculation.

It might be possible to make one glittering generality and that is: As the school goes so go sports. This school has no plans of remaining as it is. The administrators want it to grow and justly so. I certainly could not venture a guess as to how far it will go in this program of growth but I don't see a halt in the next twenty years. Sports are a very integral part of a university.

With classes and sports a person has a pretty good opportunity to develop a good mind in a healthy body.

Right now this school has one of the finest and most complete programs in the South.

There are at least ten different athletic events which even the smallest lad could or does may participate in. I attended a school in Nashville, Tenn. which had an inter-collegiate sports activities and which put all the emphasis on intramurals and I can honestly say that I think we have a better program.

This column is not meant to appease anybody but hy the same token it is not meant to pacify any hard-heads.

In the years to come the football program will be growing by leaps and bounds. Is this good or not? Anyone who would attempt to give a yes or no answer to this question must be an applicant to the nut house. There is no one definite aide which a person can take.

In the past you have no doubt read of the lowered educational standards which have existed in many of our fine colleges throughout the nation because the sports department had so much invested in a boy that the school could not afford to flunk him.

Let me ease your pain hy bluntly stating that I went for one year to George Peabody College for Teachers and this happens to be the same one that Dr. Doak Campbell attended and was a graduate of. I know from experience that this school catered to no one. If you deserved to go you went. I am fully confident that Dr. Campbell would not allow the educational standards to lower here even if it meant the total abolition of sports.

This is not the main issue now however. Football wants to grow and I for one should like to see it happen. Also I wish to see the other inter-collegiate sports grow. If we are to grow however, we must have a certain caliber players. Now you don't have to buy these you can have such a wonderful school that they will want to come here.

This is the approach which I feel that the school is making. We are building standards and consequently a finer school.

We students have got some growing to do also. We must build a good spirit. I know you have heard this story many times before but it is nevertheless true.

We need to back the volleyball team as well as the basketball team and we need to know what is going on in this school.

Many men have attempted to define that strange character, Mr. School Spirit, but few have succeeded. One man ironically stated that it consists of tearing up school property and raiding dorms. He missed the boat somewhat.

Now don't look for me to define it. I can only give some hints. It is something which you can't just turn on. It must grow. First off there must be a sincere interest in that object for which you are attempting to create the spirit. This is the hig job of the individual.

Tomorrow marks the peak of the Homecoming activities. The game in the afternoon will be an excellent opportunity for us as students to get into the swing of that grand old thing called school spirit. Let's not miss the opportunity.

In closing I say: "Here's to sports and here's to the school. May they both have a happy and intelligent growth together."

Volleyballers Plays Dec. 6

Invitation Tournament Planned at Pensacola

The Florida State Volleyball Seminoles, under the leadership of Coach Bill Odeneal, will take to the hardwood on December 6. On this date the team will participate in an invitation tournament at Pensacola.

Both tournaments are being held on the same day, and Odeneal has not yet decided which one he will attend.

THE SEASON does not actually begin until January 17, when the squad journies to Knoxville, Tennessee to engage in a contest with the University of Tennessee. Indiana. The Seminole Host has entered its name in the Dixie tourney squad for the past three years and they have a record of 6 wins in the arena in the Big National Collegiate Tournament. This past season in the same tournament FSU's Volleyballers wound up in the fourth slot. Of 4 matches played last season Odeneal's team won 23, lost 15, and tied 3.

THIS SEASON'S squad will be greatly hampered by the fact that only three lettermen are returning. These being. Jim Couch, Donald Hambrock, and Howard Gould, all of which, according to Coach Odeneal, were outstanding in their past performances.

Odeneal went on to add that although the team may not be up to the par of last year's standard he will definitely hold its own in the Seminole sports world. Emphasis for the above statement is aided by 235 pounds of flesh and talent named Dick Beazie. Beazie is a standout who has built school in Providence, Rhode Island.

LAST YEAR the squad conducted a tournament and saves demonstrations in volleyball at the Naione Florida High School. The tournament was a county affair and about 1,000 spectators turned out to welcome the FSU squad.

Bill Odeneal's squad also conducted a volleyball clinic at the high school at Port St. Joe Florida.

TRY OUTS for the team will
(Continued on Page 8)

1952 Florida State Roster

RETURNING LETTERMEN—1952

BACKS—Ray Thomason, Mac Hoey, Buddy Fiveash, Dick Turk, Nelson Italiano, Harry Bringger.

ENDS—Curt Cameron (Co-captain), Jimmy Lee Taylor.

TACKLES—Vic Scarpone (Co-captain), Bob Wodrich.

GUARDS—Charlie Beeh, Charlie Brown, John Karlowicz, Earl O'Neal.

CENTERS—Steve Kalenich.

No.	NAME	Pos.	Age	Height	Wt.	HOMETOWN	Class
10	Cassidy, Joe Ben	Back	18	5—10	170	Statesboro, Ga.	Fr.
11	Hoey, Mac	Back	20	5—10	165	Tampa, Fla.	So.
12	Bryant, Buddy	Center	19	6—1	185	Perry, Fla.	Fr.
13	Carnes, George	Back	18	5—11	171	Tampa, Fla.	Fr.
14	Thomas, Robert L.	Back	20	5—11	175	Jacksonville, Fla.	So.
15	Hall, James	Center	19	6	183	Orlando, Fla.	Fr.
16	Brooks, Lee	Back	19	5—9½	165	Bainbridge, Ga.	Fr.
17	Bringger, Harry	Back	20	6	187	Tallahassee, Fla.	So.
18	Green, Charlie	Guard	20	5—11	185	Tampa, Fla.	So.
19	Lauricella, Louis	Guard	20	5—11	190	Lakeworth, Fla.	So.
21	Debesa, Sam	Back	19	5—9	178	E. Chicago, Ind.	Fr.
22	Cameron, Fred	End	17	6	195	Thomasville, Ga.	Fr.
23	Martinez, Jose	Back	18	5—10	162	Miami, Fla.	Fr.
24	Turk, Richard	Back	20	6	190	Miami Springs, Fla.	So.
25	Kelley, Billy	Back	17	5—9	160	Tallahassee, Fla.	Fr.
27	Smith, Don	Back	18	5—10	162	Vero Beach, Fla.	Fr.
28	Hunt, Buddy	Back	18	5—10	170	Tampa, Fla.	Fr.
29	Taylor, Bob	Tackle	19	6—1	192	Quitman, Ga.	So.
30	Davis, Ed	Back	19	5—9	160	Tampa, Fla.	So.
31	Dennis, Eddie	Back	21	5—10	170	Wrightsville, Ga.	So.
32	Fiveash, Buddy	Back	19	5—8½	160	Bainbridge, Ga.	So.
33	Bennett, Bob	Back	18	5—9	160	Bainbridge, Ga.	Fr.
34	Mann, Ed	End	18	5—10	165	Asheville, N.C.	Fr.
35	Italiano, Nelson	Back	19	5—10	182	Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.	So.
36	Cluster, Ed	Guard	19	5—11	190	Largo, Fla.	So.
37	Taylor, Jimmy Lee	End	19	6—1½	181	Jacksonville, Fla.	So.
38	Kendall, Fred	Back	18	5—10	165	Pharos, Fla.	Fr.
39	Wodrich, Bob	Tackle	21	5—2	203	Miami, Fla.	So.
40	Turk, Nick	Back	18	5—10	165	Miami Springs, Fla.	Fr.
41	Hamilton, Wayne	Center	21	5—11	188	Aspen, Colo.	So.
42	Kalenich, Steve	Center	20	6	195	Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.	So.
43	Garrett, B. F.	Back	18	5—11	185	Tamarac, Ga.	Fr.
44	Woodham, Al	Back	22	5—10	173	Bainbridge, Ga.	So.
45	Hamilton, Jimmy	Back	18	5—10	170	Miami, Fla.	Fr.
46	Hall, Jimmy	Back	18	5—11	175	Birmingham, Ala.	Fr.
47	Italiano, Nelson	Back	19	5—11	185	Tampa, Fla.	Fr.
48	Garrett, B. F.	Back	18	5—11	185	Tamarac, Ga.	Fr.
49	Ivanow, Ray	Back	20	5—10	175	Bainbridge, Ga.	So.
50	Mann, Roland	Back	20	5—10	170	Tampa, Fla.	So.
51	Duckworth, Robert	Tackle	22	6	229	Daytona Beach, Fla.	So.
52	Hall, Jimmy	Tackle	18	6	205	Orlando, Fla.	Fr.
53	Campbell, Curt	End	18	6	175	Pensacola, Fla.	Fr.
54	McDonald, Jimmy	Back	18	5—11	192	Chattahoochee, Fla.	Fr.
55	Powell, Jerry	Back	18	5—11	175	Miami, Fla.	Fr.
57	Hancock, Frank	Back	18	5—11	175	Lyons, Ga.	Fr.
58	Ellis, Bobby	Back	18	5—10	165	Tampa, Fla.	Fr.
59	King, Rodney	Guard	19	5—11	185	Daytona Beach, Fla.	So.
60	Barwick, Irvin	Guard	19	5—11	188	Groveland, Fla.	So.
61	Schlegel, Harry	Guard	20	5—11	190	Miami Springs, Fla.	So.
62	Pelak, Nat	Guard	20	5—10	190	Miami, Fla.	So.
63	Hamilton, Bob	Guard	18	5—10	175	Miami, Fla.	Fr.
64	Green, Charlie	Guard	20	5—11	190	Bainbridge, Ga.	So.
65	Hodges, Wayne	Center	21	5—11	201	Dade City, Fla.	So.
66	Hill, Jerome	Center	18	6	195	Daytona Beach, Fla.	Fr.
67	Kalfrich, Gene	Guard	19	5—11	217	High Springs, Fla.	So.
68	Hall, Jim	Guard	18	6	205	Orlando, Fla.	Fr.
69	Johnson, Edd	Guard	20	5—11	205	Charleston, W. Va.	So.
70	Karlowicz, John	Guard	20	5—11	200	Miami, Fla.	So.
71	Skidmore, Don	Guard	18	5—11	190	Redwood, Fla.	Fr.
72	Powell, Don	Tackle	19	5—11	190	Birmingham, Ala.	So.
73	Sterry, Bill	Tackle	18	6—1	195	Daytona Beach, Fla.	Fr.
74	Brown, Ted	Tackle	19	6	210	E. Chicago, Ind.	So.
75	Jones, Jerry	Tackle	18	6—1	195	Miami, Fla.	Fr.
76	Marin, Tom	Tackle	18	6—1	205	Miami, Fla.	Fr.
84	Dean, James	Tackle	18	6	195	Montgomery, Ala.	Fr.
85	Landes, Lowell	End	18	6—1	185	Pittsburgh, Pa.	Fr.
86	Newsom, Buddy	Back	18	6	195	Jax Beach, Fla.	Fr.
87	Morton, Wes	Back	18	6—1	195	Point City, Fla.	Fr.

Intramural Football Features No Blocking or Rough Stuff

After two months of beating each other's brains out and calling each other the vilest names possible, FSU fraternities have found a way to settle brotherly love between one another.

On October 7 the Greeks started playing football—but with a soft touch: no blocking, no rough stuff. They spent most of their gridiron time throwing the pigskin all over the field. Every once in a while someone would execute a long run—an amazing phenomena in this almost rimless type of football.

In this manner the frats tossed their way through the season.

Phi Delta Theta, Kappa Alpha, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, Omega, and Lambda Chi Alpha led the pack in the scramble for the championship. Only the first three sporting the best records.

Last Wednesday the frats went into the playoffs for keeps. This time it was in the crucial semi-finals, with Kappa Alpha upsetting offensive Sigma Chi and Phi Delt meeting ATO. Previously the ATO club had defeated Lambda Chi Alpha soundly out of the race 12-12.

Sigma Nu and KA, both with a 5-1 record, met in each other's tooth and toenail, and the Southern boys proved to have more teeth and toenails than the Sigs. With radar-armed Donnie Hollis continually completing passes into the arms of Bill Falsone nad Max Long, and with Max Carpenter pulling the unheard of stunt of running the ball some 40 yards or more, along with the acrobatic achievements of Kinsman Brittain the KA crew bowled over the Sigs 12-0.

Meanwhile the ATOs and the Phi Delts were battling to what was almost a stalemate. But the Phi Delts finally broke the passing of ATO Walt Baldwin four downs to three downs. The final score: Phi Delt 13—ATO—0. This occurred when the ATOs relinquished a safety.

RED HOT

GAINESVILLE — Florida fullback Rick Casares scored nine six points in the Gators' first five games, all on extra point conversions. In the next two games against Georgia and Auburn he scored 31 on three touchdowns, two field goals and seven conversions.

PDT Noses Out KA For Football Crown

Intramurals

In the finals of the interfraternity touch football competition Phi Delta Theta turned Jack the giant killer yesterday when they defeated Kappa Alpha by the slim margin of 6-0.

It was a storybook finish. It all started with whip passer Ken Edwards of Phi Delt. His combination passing to Charlie Johnson, Tom Overstreet, and teammates in the first half paid off with six points. This followed on the heels of a rollicking KA drive that was halted just short of a TD.

THE EARLY moments of the game was a seesawing affair that saw KA and then Phi Delt on top. Later Edwards pass connected for the points. KA came back, shouting downfield. Then Phi Delt again.

The second half opened with the KAs putting the skids under the Phi Delts. Donnie Hollis directing the attack with stabbing passes to Bill Falsone, Max Foster and Max Long.

Phi Delt pushed back down the field, but "Pud" McKenzie ruined their hopes by interception at his own goal line. Donnie Hollis took over and tossed to the jackrabbiting KAs, showing the passing artistry that earned him All-American honors. Phi Delt stopped the drive there.

RICOCHETING ACROSS the turf the Phi Delts almost went all the way. Edwards to Ellis crowd had other plans and grabbed the ball and began a landslide the other way.

The game was back on the seesaw.

The closing minutes of the contest presented two well matched teams smashing head-on, slashing and scalping.

The Beher hollering KAs shook up the Phi Delt attack momentarily, but the Phi Delt bunch stiffened and made a comeback.

KEN EDWARDS passed to Bob O'Connell a few steps away from the vital second goal marker. Kappa Alpha flexed its muscles and held "fewer." Phi Delt bogged down.

The battle raged on and the time ran out. The game went in favor of Phi Delt. First downs: KA 4 Phi Delt 6

In the Dormitory League the final standings were announced on Thursday afternoon at five bells with the Trojans playing the championship.

Lest you bite your fingernails to the quick I will announce that the Trojans won.

IN A VERY fast 30 minutes the Trojans defeated the Vets in a 19 to 0 event. At the end of the first half the score was Trojans 12, Mazmolla 0 respectively. The teams held the first downs a five to record

Now for a running play of the second half, Mazmolla kicked to the Trojans who took over on the 20 yard line. Then Jim Perkins passed to Brown and it was complete on the 28 in Trojan territory. Second and 11 as Perkins pass to Stone was blocked by Farmer. Then on the next play Perkins' pass to Roy Ray was incomplete.

Following this the Trojan center muffed and Mazmolla took over. For Mazmolla Farmer passed to Cuttler and he made a first down on the play. Farmer passed again only to have it intercepted by Brown who carried to the 30 in his own territory.

CROSS WAS injured on the play but he recovered and play resumed with the Trojans having the ball first and ten. On this play Perkins passed to Guest who carried for a first. Guest next passed to Curry but it was incomplete.

Second and 10 for the Trojans and a trio made the third touchdown. Perkins' pass to Guest and Perkins' pass to Ray made the extra point was made good by Perkins' pass to Guest and the Trojans were on the long end of a nine to 0

THE TROJANS KICK to Mazmolla was by Brown with Schuchman receiving. On the next play Mazmolla lost a first and one foot. They gained nine inches on the next play, but still lacked three inches for a first.

Farmer's pass to Wilson was incomplete and Mazmolla had a first and fifteen. On the next play Farmer passed but it was intercepted by Guest.

A VERY FINE trio work-out by Guest passing to Brown and then Brown passing to Ray ends was made as the Trojans did not have enough time to score. However, before the very next play the same thing was attempted and completed with Brown taking the ball 35 yards.

The next three passes were no good and on the last play of the game Perkins' pass was blocked by Schuchman ending the game with the Trojans winning.

POINT OF NO RETURN

GAINESVILLE — Larry Scott, Florida Gator halfback, against Georgia has intercepted three passes this season but has yet to run them back a yard. His longest trip with the ball was a 36-yard punt return one side of the field to the mirror as he tried to leave tacklers Bob Wodrich and Jerry Jacobs, right behind. Scott finally was forced out of bounds on the safety position. John Karlowicz, who's not fully recovered from operations on both knees, may see a little action at the guard spot.

THE SEMINOLES were put through some mean tackling practice Thursday since Veller was thoroughly dissatisfied with the tackling in the Mississippi Southern contest. The tackling he said "looked more like tag than football"

After tomorrow's tilt, there will be one more home appearance for the Seminoles. That is the season final on Dec. 6 against Tampa.

Fred Wyant, West Virginia U. freshman quarterback, tossed a forward interception to win the first intercollegiate game this season.

FSU Music Group To Meet Thursday

The Florida State Student Chapter of the Music Educators National Conference will meet Thursday at 5 p.m. in room 222, Music building.

This group, organized for the current year, has a total membership of 50, exceeding that of any other Florida student chapter.

Officers elected for this school year are Donna Byl, president; John Cooper, vice-president; Margaret Powell, secretary; Jean Wixon, treasurer, and Jean Anderson, program chairman.

Miss Hilda Hamilton, club sponsor, now teaching at Elizabeth Cobb Junior High School here, was guest speaker at the first club meeting. She led a discussion on problems a new music teacher faces.

Americans have increased their average per capita food consumption from the year 12 pre-1941 about pre-World War II levels.

CURTIS CAMPBELL, A comer from Pensacola, Curt is now co-captain of the Seminole Host. He is a member of the ATO fraternity and is majoring in business education. Campbell weighs 175 pounds and towers 6'1" in the air. He is an end and was picked by Collier's Magazine last season to the pre-season Little All-America team.

EARL O'NEAL: Earl is from Valdosta, Georgia, and can be seen in the tackle slot on the FSU team. He is a 205-pounder and is new in his senior year. O'Neal is a two-year letterman and in high school he was an all-state and all-conference performer.

BOBBY FIVEASH: Standing 5'9½" and weighing 190 pounds, Bobby holds down the halfback position in many of the Seminole games. His home is from Bainbridge, Georgia, and is a physical education major. Fiveash started four times in high school and was voted to the Georgia all-state team.

ROY THOMPSON: Roy is from Wrightsville, Georgia and is a transfer student from Georgia Tech. He weighs 170 pounds and stands 5' 10" and is on the junior class. Thompson is a physical education major. On the FSU squad he is a halfback.

The Sports Line

BY JIM BADY

Nothing brings out hidden coaching talent like a losing season . . . and the term talent is used loosely. When the entire team begins to make a habit of getting beat, all loyal supporters come out with an explanation, and, of course a theory on how to correct the situation.

This is one of the phenomenas of the sporting world . . . when a team is losing, everybody knows what's wrong, and what can be done to assist it, except the coach. It's this losing environment from which the armchair coaches emerge . . . usually by the thousands. The followers of the Florida State football are no exception. All this past season, particularly on Saturday followers a game they have been busy expounding their favorite theories. If the Seminole coaching staff is interested in putting their team back into the win column they'd just have to listen to some of these theories. They could be heard in any of the local hang-outs.

THE LAST SATURDAY for instance, after FSU had been badly trounced by Mississippi Southern. In one of the above mentioned places, the conversation went something like this:

"Man, that Pepper was great . . . must be a 10 flat man in the 'g' one fellow began.

"Yeah, he wasn't bad . . . the lousy tackling made him look super, though."

"Bull!" . . . was the reply. "Look at Red Grange, he made the best players look lousy . . . this Pepper was the same way. I'll tell you what's wrong with them . . . no spirit . . . they quit in the first half and . . . "

"You're nuts," someone cut him off, "they were trying like mad . . . but about the second half. Naw, it ain't spirit," he authoritatively said and went on.

"They're too light . . . no weight on the line. They're always outweighed. They could to get some big guys . . . then they'd have a team . . . " He was about to add to this when he was interrupted

"They're not too light . . . just using the wrong formation, that's what and the one responsible for the interruption. They should be using the T . . . just about everybody does. We've got real T-formation backs. Thompson, for instance. Put Piveski at quarterback and put . . .

"Nuts, I say use the I-formation . . . that's what they need."

"I like the A-formation . . . like the Giants use."

Someone put a halt to this run through the alphabet by saying something that "anything works if you got the blocking . . . and the ain't got no blocking. If I was coach I'd have them just block against all day. In a book I read, it said that tackling comes second. It's the blocking that should be practiced."

THE DISCUSSION continued, after comments were exchanged on passing co-ed:

"The trouble is . . . some of the players aren't in shape. They ain't up too late. Why, do you know I saw ——— downtown at 8 o'clock before the game? That's what's wrong."

"You're crazy."

"Yeah"

Yeah" was the heated reply. "Ya want 'em to stay in bed all day."

At this point, one of the fellows who had just been listening and watching, raised a word, stood up and said:

"You guys are all crazy. You know what's really wrong?" Before anyone had a chance to answer, he continued: ". . . the coaching's good . . . ought to get all new coaches . . . "

Frosh was the retort. "They won 'em all but two, last year. Get some coaches."

So reply.

The fellow who just defended the coaches then said "It's just that we're too green. Give 'em a few years. Just look at all the freshmen we've got."

(Continued on Page 8)

Seminole Biographies Reveal Ambitions

'52 FSU Football Players Migrated From Many States

STEVE KALFNICH. "Pops" is a 190-pound end from Akron, Ohio. His one ambition is to graduate with a physical education. Steve is 5'11" and is in the junior class. In high school he lettered seven times.

Coach Den Veller: This season marks the fifth year that FSU's colorful coach has been at the helm of the Seminole Host. Dr. Veller has led the Florida State squad to many victories in the past and it is expected from all sides that he will push them on to many victories in the future. Veller piled up a very enviable record for himself in that his entire coaching career boasts the following record: for twelve years coaching 88 wins; 18 loses; 3 ties.

Bobby Ammons: Bobby is a 190 pound center from Columbus, Georgia. He is 6' 3" in height and a blue eyed lad of 19. He is a freshman and has the ambition of becoming a coach.

Troy Barnes: Troy is a freshman tackle who hails from Chickasaw, Alabama. He is 5' 4" and weighs in at 196 pounds. Three high school letters accompany Troy and his major is Business.

Charlie Beeth: Number 18 on the team, Charlie weighs 190 pounds and is a 5' 11" guard. He transferred from the University of Florida and is now a junior majoring in Insurance. Booth lettered for three years in high school and then in college one year at U. of F. and one year at FSU.

George Boyer: 235 pound center from Jacksonville. George is a freshman with a 6' 2" body and a 17 year old life span. He lettered in high school in football for three years. Boyer is now a Physical Education major and hopes to be a coach.

Preston Bradley: Bradley, a blue eyed 190 pound guard, is from Lake Wales, Fla. He holds four high school letters and has lettered here at FSU for two seasons. Preston, now a junior, is majoring in mathematics.

Harry Beringer: Beringer is from Winter Haven. He plays in the backfield and his record shows that he lettered in high school four times and in college three times. Harry is a senior majoring in physical education. He is a married man.

Ronald Breger: A freshman from East Chicago, Indiana, Ronald is a 8 footer weighing 253 pounds and is 17 years of in this world. He is a tackle whose ambition is to be a coach.

Leo Brooks: Leo is 20 years of age and has 178 pounds on his 5' 9" frame. He hails from Bainbridge, Georgia and plays in the backfield. Brooks lettered three times in high school and his plans include that of being a coach.

Charlie Brown: Little boy Brown is a 5' 11" tackle from Monongahela, Pennsylvania. Charlie carries around his 200 pounds on a sophomore body of 20. His major is physical education and he is a transfer student from Indiana University. Brown lettered twice in high school and once in college.

Tommy Brown: Tommy is a backfield man having blue eyes, 150 pounds, on a 5' 11" frame which has been aged for 24 years. Brown hails from Tallahassee and he is now a senior. He is a transfer student from West Point. A record of three high school letters and two college letters marks the path of this fine back.

Buddy Bryant: This young man is 24 years of 190 pound grey eyed flesh on a 5' 3" football machine. He is a junior and his record is quite impressive with three letters earned in high school and one here. Also Bryant was voted the most valuable player in 1947 here at FSU.

George Carnes: George is a guard who comes to us from Tampa. He is 5' 10½" tall and can be seen at any time walking around the campus with 180 pounds of good old American A-1 beef on those ribs. He is a sophomore and is majoring in business. In high school Carnes lettered three times. He has been on the FSU squad for one season.

Joe Ben Cassedy: Joe Ben is a freshman who, though no relation of Hop-A-Long, can move himself in the backfield. Cassedy is 19 educated years old and he weighs 170 pounds. This is not just weight as it is on a 5' 10" bone structure. The lad is from Statesboro, Georgia and he is majoring in physical education.

Bob Crenshaw: Bob plays in the center and linebacker slots. He weighs 162 pounds when wet and stands 5' 8½". Crenshaw, who is 18 years old, is from Miami. He lettered two years in high school and was captain of the team for one year. Bob is majoring in liberal arts and he is a freshman. The green eyed lad is a member of the ATO fraternity.

James Deans: Jimmy is 18 years of worldliness and hits the scales at a cool 204 pounds. He is a six footer and hails from Montgomery, Alabama. Dean is a freshman and holds the tackle slot as his best position. His major is business education. Mr. Dean lettered for two years in his high school career.

Stan Deboes: Mr. Freshman Discovery, Stan is a fullback from East Chicago, Indiana. He is a small package of 5' 8" pig iron who weighs about 173. I say about because they never have been able to hold him still long enough to get his actual poundage. Deboss is a freshman aged by 18 years. He lettered twice in high school and has plans of becoming a coach.

Robert Duckworth: Bob is a junior weighing 228 pounds and standing six feet in the air, from the ground that is. He is a tackle and comes from Daytona Beach. Duckworth lettered for three years in high school football and he has been on the FSU squad for two years lettering once.

Fred Greene: A Thomasion, Georgia boy, Fred is six foot and weighs 185 pounds. He is 18 and a freshman. Greene plays end and has a high school record of four letters in football.

John Griner: John is a green eyed brown haired lad who is playing pretty regularly for the Seminoles as the quarter back slot. He is 170 pounds of muscle with 5' 10" of sturdy bones to hold his fast and nimble abilities together. Griner hails from Jacksonville and is an ATO.

Frank Henkel: This 175 pound boy is 18 years in age and stands at 5' 11" in his baby blue eyes. His position is tailback and he hails from Linton, Indiana. Frank is a freshman and is majoring in physical education. He lettered in high school for three years.

Charles Jacobs: Charles is a freshman who is majoring in physical education. He plays guard and is a 5' 8" lad weighing 182 pounds. Jacobs is a Miami boy and he lettered one year in that city while in high school.

Eddie Jones: This 240 pound tackle is from Charleston, W. Va. He stands 5' 11" and is 18 years of age. Jones is a freshman and is majoring in business education. He piled up a total of six letters in his high school career.

Gene Kahlich: Gene is 18 and weighs 217 pounds. He stands 5' 11" and is a fullback. Kahlich is from Ruth Springs and he is a business major. In high school he earned a total of six letters. Also, in high school, he received all-conference honors for three years.

Jerry Jacobs: Jerry is from South Bend, Indiana and he is a 17 year old freshman weighing 185 pounds and standing six feet up. He is a guard and is majoring in physical education. In high school Jacobs lettered two times. He was captain of the football team for one year.

John Karlavicz: John is a 200 pound guard from Fairbank, Pennsylvania. He is now a junior and has lettered one time here at FSU. Karlavicz transferred to us from Indiana University where he also played varsity football. He lettered four times while in high school. John is a Phi Delta Thetes.

Billy Kelley: Weighing 175 pounds and standing six feet from tip to tip, Billy hails from Tallahassee. He is a halfback and is a freshman who desires to be a coach. Kelley lettered three times at Leon HI and is now a member of the KA fraternity.

Ronnie King: Ronnie is a senior from Tulsa University and his hometown is Daytona Beach. He stands 5' 1½" and weighs 208 pounds. King is a sophomore and is 20 years old. He played freshman ball at Tulsa and in high school was voted all-conference and all-state material. Ronnie's major is physical education and he is an end.

Louis Leonhardt: Louis is 5' 10½" tall and carries 185 pounds of fighting man. He is 19 years of age and a second semester freshman. In high school Leonhardt lettered three times and received many honors. His major here is liberal arts and he hopes to be an engineer. Louis is from Louisville, Kentucky and he is a very aggressive guard for the FSU host.

Bill McLellan: Bill is a Miami boy who is studying pre-law. He is 5' 10½" tall and weighs 190 pounds. McLellan is a freshman and a quarter back on the Seminole squad. In high school he received letters in football and track.

Dossey Merritt: Dossey is a big 235 pound tackle who stands 6'3". He hails from Lakeland and is a 19 year old sophomore. Merritt is majoring in mathematics and is in the ATO fraternity. He lettered two years in high school.

Jimmy Messinese: Jimmy is from Jacksonville and stands 5'10" weighing 170 pounds. He is 20 years old and a junior. Messinese is majoring in physical education and plans to be a coach. He attended Southwest Junior College in Mississippi and transferred here just this year. Jimmy won seven high school letters. He is a wing back and is a member of the ATO fraternity.

Tom Moore: Tom weighs 200 pounds and is 6' 2" tall. He plays end and is 17 years of age. Moore is a freshman and is a pre-dental student. He received nine high school letters. Tom hails from Thomasville, Georgia.

Ted Mortill: Ted is a tackle from Miami where he earned two high school letters. His major is music and Ted has a desire to be a singer. Mortill is a sophomore and has the following dimensions: height 5'11", weight 187 pounds. He is 18.

Buddy Newsome: A tackle from Plant City, Buddy is 18 and a freshman. He weighs 188 pounds and is 20 years old. In high school he lettered three times and was captain of the football

(Continued on Page 8)

Shoot Your Friends and Bring Your Films to Us for Developing and Printing

TALLAHASSEE CAMERA CENTER

"TALLAHASSEE'S ONLY CAMERA SHOP"

123 N .MONROE PHONE 2-8771

"Across From the Florida Theatre"

Friends Up For Homecoming

Bring Them to the Students Favorite

Seafood Restaurant

Complete Seafood Menu

• Oysters on Half Shell • Friday and Saturday

• Imported Lobster Tails Special Broiled Pompano

SHELL POINT

Managed by FSU Student and Grad

Bob Webb . . . . . Herb Gehres

Corner Pensacola and Duval Phone 2-2199

Welcome Alumni

After the Game Visit

Bennett's Soda Fountain and Lunchette Counter.

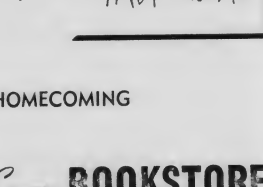
Bennett's Student Headquarters

for Kodak Supplies

BENNETT'S DRUG STORE

Corner of Monroe and College 2-4450

WELCOME ALUMNI



To Homecoming Seminole Style!

Color, Excitement, Old Friends and a Fighting Football Team

All Add to the

Thrills of FSU's

101st HOMECOMING

MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE

125 FSU Football

(Continued From Page 7)

team one year. Newsome is majoring in physical education.

Nat Polak: Nat is a sophomore and is majoring in accounting. He is from Miami and a 195 pounder standing 5' 10½". Polak is a tackle, is 20 years old. In high school he won two letters. Nat aspires to be a sports writer and commentator.

Billy Rabon: This 170 pound freshman comes from Fitzgerald, Georgia, and he stands 6' 1". Billy is a liberal arts major and is 18 years of age. He plays in the backfield and in high school lettered twice.

Dan Simatavich: He is from East Chicago, Indiana and also a freshman lad of 17. Dan weighs 195 pounds and stands 6' 3" high. His major is business and he is an end. In high school Dan lettered twice.

Don Smith: Don is a 170 pound guard from Vero Besch. He is 5' 10" tall and ages in at 18. Smith is a freshman and is majoring in baking science. He states that his desire is to be a success. In high school he earned four letters and was voted to the all-conference team.

Dan Strickland: A freshman. Dan is 18 and weighs 220 pounds. He stands 6' 1½" tall and is a tackle. Strickland's major is physical education and he hopes to be a coach. In high school Dan lettered four times. He was on the Little All-State team. His hometown is Sopchoppy.

Harold Powell: Hal is a 19 year old freshman. He plays end and weighs 175 pounds. Hal is a 19 year old freshman. Hal is an ΔΤΩ and his hometown is Miami. He lettered three times in high school and is a physical education major.

VIC SZCZEPANIK: Vic is co-captain of the 1952 squad and comes to us from East Rochester, Pennsylvania. He is now a senior and is majoring in physical education. Szczepanik has lettered three previous yers at this school in football. He is a member of PIT fraternity.

Jimmy Lee Taylor: Taylor is a quarterback on the Seminole squad and he has seen a lot of action this season. He is a business major and hails from Tampa. Jimmy Lee is a sophomore and he has lettered one time on the FSU team. In high school Taylor lettered eight times. He is a member of the ATO fraternity.

Dick Turk: Dick is a Junior and he is a management major. He weighs 185 pounds and is 5' 10" tall. Turk, a 23 year old lad, has lettered twice while here at FSU. His hometown is South Bend, Indiana. Dick was the number four man in the rushing department for the 1951 FSU season.

Don Powell: Don is a freshman of 18. He weighs 190 pounds and stands 5' 11". Powell is thinking of entering the ministry. He is a guard. Birmingham, Alabama claims this lad and he made a record of two letters earned in high school. Also, Don was the captain of the football team.

Bill Whaley: Wild Bill is a 185 pound guard. He is 5' 10" in height. Whaley is a sophomore and he is majoring in physical education. Bill is from Ocala. In the Ocala high school he earned four letters. Whaley lettered in his freshman year here at FSU.

Ted Williams: Ted is a freshman and is 18 years of age. He weighs 195 pounds and stands 5' 10" high. He is a business major and he comes from right here in Tallahassee. Williams lettered two years in football at Leon High and was voted the most outstanding player.

Lindy Willis: Lindy is from Savannah, Georgia. He weighs 165 pounds and is 5' 10" halfback. Willis lettered two times in his high school career. He is a member of the ATO fraternity.

Bob Wodrich: Bob is a tackle from Miami. He is 6' 2" tall and weighs 198 pounds. Wodrich is an economics major. He is a junior and has lettered in the FSU squad for two years. Bob is a member of the KA fraternity.

Norman Wride: Norm is a freshman of 19. He is a business major and plays guard. Wride weighs 190 pounds and stands 5' 6". He hails from Birmingham, Alabama where he lettered in football two times. Norm is an ATO pledge.

Volleyballers

(Continued From Page 5)

be held on December first in the West Campus gym. Coach Odenea emphasized the fact that no one has actually got a position "in the bag" and he is very hopeful that a good many students will seize the opportunity of trying out for this inter-collegiate activity. The Coach pointed out that you may not be quite big enough to play football but that you will find volleyball to be a very fast and exacting game.

The official practice season will begin in the early part of January.

AL WOODHAM: A 175-pound 22-year-old junior from Albany, Georgia. Al is a halfback on the Florida State squad. In high school he earned five letters and is now majoring in physical education.

NELSON ITALIANO: Nelson is a fullback weighing 195 pounds and standing 5'11". He is from Tampa and transferred here from the University of Florida. Italiano, a business major, is a 24-year-old senior. In high school Nelson lettered five times and was captain of the team for one year.

Program Marking Progress Included in Celebrations

BY AL PIERCE

A building dedication program marking a new era of progress in the physical expansion of Florida State University will be held at 8:30 a. m. Saturday, Nov. 15 as a part of the annual Homecoming celebration of 1952.

Dr. Doak S. Campbell, President of the University, will preside over the ceremonies to be held in front of the new men's & story dormitory on East Campus.

GOVERNOR FULLER Warren will present an address of dedication after accepting the buildings on behalf of the State from Chairman of the State Board of Control Frank M. Harris during the ceremony.

The program, a part of the two-day Homecoming celebration a FSU, will give recognition to staf officials and others who hav taken an important part in help ing the University to meet part ally the housing needs of it rapidly growing student body.

HONORED GUESTS invited t take part in the dedication cere monies include members of the State Cabinet, and State Board of Control

Also present will be Mrs. Thurman Whiteside, president of the FSU Alumni Association, Wallace F. Sturgis and Charley F. Jones, president and president-designate respectively of the State Senate. B. Elliot and C. Farris Bryant, speaker and speaker-designate respectively of the House and Guy Fulton, Board of Control Architect.

BUILDINGS to be dedicated include eight small dormitories now occupied by fraternities, an eight-story dormitory building for women, temporarily occupied by freshman men students at present, and the new FSU Student Center, containing the postoffice, bookstore, cafeteria and student recreation rooms.

With the inception of the 50-year plan at Florida State, many changes have been evidenced in the physical appearance of the campus. Figures show that hundreds of men who would have been living on West Campus have been moved to new buildings on East Campus built under the 50-year plan.

UNTIL JANUARY of last year, 25 men were in residence on East Campus with approximately 900 remaining on West Campus. With the opening of the eight fraternity houses in mid-January, the future at West Campus was reduced to approximately 150 to 175 still on West Campus.

Originally intended for women, the new eight-story building across from Landis on East Campus has been designated temporarily for Freshmen men. Housing some 240, Freshman Hall brings the number of men residing on West Campus this year down to 60, making a total of almost 900 men in residence on East Campus.

THE NEW 11 STORY building going up near the Student Center is expected to be completed by next Fall and will house between 542 and 576 men students. This will probably mark the complete housing of all FSU men students, with the exception of married students, on East Campus, a milestone in the story of Florida State University.

All buildings, according to the 50-year plan, are being financed through self-liquidating certificates.

Sigma Chi to Sell Corsages at Game

FSU's Campus Chest fund drive got another shot-in-the-arm after Sigma Chi fraternity has completed its Homecoming Chest project.

The Sig pledge class is selling gold and white "mums" — chrysanthemums, as corsages for the Florida game, with all profits going to the Campus Chest. Larry Hill is president of the pledge class, and Ray Eddy is project chairman.

"I want to thank all the fraternities and sororitys who have co-operated with us," Eddy said yesterday, "especially the Sigma Nu's who have given us so many orders."

The white mums may be specially ordered by calling the Sig house today. The gold ones will be sold Saturday morning at the fraternity house and on campus, and in the afternoon at the game.

Soliciting for the project are pledges Sandy Sanderson, Jimmy Jonnns, Al Schisler, Sam Skoglund, Cecil Bowers, Dave Boggs and Marvin Haynes.

Student Congress Will Meet Today In Florida Capitol

The annual Florida State High School Student Congress will be held for the fourth successive year in Florida Capitol Building today and tomorrow.

High school students from all over the state will take part in legislative debate on bills introduced on problems such as these; Boon High School of Orlando, an act to establish a program of Universal Military Training; Edgewater High School of Orlando, an act to provide uniform divorce laws throughout thu nation and an act against food adulteration.

THE CONGRESS is sponsored by FSU's department of speech Dr. C. W. Ritzey, head, and with the cooperation of Leon High School. Arrangements for the Congress are in charge of Dr. Gregg Phifer, assistant profesor of speech and Malcolm Longdon and June Davis Ellingsworth, National Forensic League sponsors at Leon High School.

Any Florida High School with a National Forensic League chapter is entitled to send representatives to this congress. The following schools are expected to attend: Edison, Miami Jackson, Miami Senior High, Miami Beach High, Seminole High School, Sarasota High School, Leon High School, Tampa-Plant, Tarpon Springs High School, Winter Park High School and all four Jacksonville High Schools: Robert E. Lee, Landon, Duncan U. Fletcher and Andrew Jackson High School.

Five British sovereigns have spent holidays at Balmoral Castle in Scotland: Edward VIII, George V, Edward VIII, George VI and Elizabeth II.

Winter's Schedule Begins for Camp

Ruth M. DeKalb, acting director of Camp Flaccavou, has announced the Winter season, going into effect December 1 through February of 1953.

No bus service will be offered during the week. Saturdays and Sundays busses will leave the Women's Gymnasium at 1, 2, 3 and 5 p.m. and return to camp at 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30 and 5:30 p.m.

During the Camp Director's office hours on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from 1:30 until 2 p.m., people requesting reservations for special parties and weekend housing will be issued permits.

On The Warpath

(Continued From Page 7)

men that are playing like Boyer, Jacobs, Griner Rabon, Durhworth . . ."

The group silently thought the last statement over. Then the silence was broken by someone obviously not from the south.

"There's just not enough Yankees out there . . ." he said.

"There's too durn many!!!!" a true southerner snapped back.

Since the discussion was now drifting into politics it's not for this column to follow along anymore.

THE GROUP above was just one of many, all with their own different ideas, who were engaged in theorizing on this losing season.

But, from here it looks as if there won't be any of this, after tomorrow's game . . . since I see a victory for the Seminoles.

The score: FSU 21; Furman 13.

"Everything for the Shoe"

- Expert Shoe Repairing
- Dye Shoes All Color
- Shoe Shine Kits

PALACE SHOE SHOP

"THE HOUSE THAT SERVICE BUILT"
121 EAST PARK AVENUE

Ward's

Student Paint Headquarters, Devoe Paints

Olin Hutto Proprietor

WARD'S PAINT STORE

Eurdine's Is Next Door

FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE

OR

FOOD THAT'S FINE

"Welcome Home Seminole Grads"

. . . and the place you'll feel at home will be the Amber House.

All Moms, Dads Grads and friends will soon know that Tallahassee's finest foods are found right next to Campus.

Homecoming Menus

- Friday Menu
  Fried Chicken
  Roast Pork and Dressing
  Liver and Onions
  Broiled Fish
- Saturday Menu
  Shrimp and Tartar Sauce
  Roast Beef (10c off on special!)
  Ham and Raisin Sauce
  Chicken Pie
- Sunday Menu
  Turkey and Dressing
  Roast Pork and Dressing
  Smothered Hamburger Steak

"For Food That's Fine"

THE AMBER HOUSE

1951 Homecoming Queen

Sally Kennedy

Kappa Alpha

Judy Ellis

Sigma Phi Epsilon

June Conyers

Who Will Be Queen?

Monarch's Identity Is Revealed During Big Pow Wow Tonight

By JUNE MORGAN
Feature Editor

What will Homecoming Queen of '52 be like?—tall, short, thin or plump—will she have the vivacious sparkle of Bobbie Pettit, '49; the boundless enthusiasm of Jeti Munroe, '50, or the dark sophistication of Sally Kennedy, '51?

This year, according to the results of preliminary voting, the girls chosen to vie for the coveted honor are all fraternity sponsored and measure between five foot, two and five foot, five.

Barbara Brewton, June Conyers, Judy Ellis, Marilea Gessler and Dorothy Johnson were selected for the Homecoming Court from a field of 41 nominees of sororities, fraternities, clubs, and dormitories.

Perhaps the greatest single honor to come to any Florida State University coed is election to the Homecoming Court and a chance at the crown of feathers, traditional queen headdress. All other popularity and beauty contests of the year look unimportant beside the selection of the coed who will rule over FSU's biggest weekend.

Without a doubt such an honor will always remain among the Queen's most precious memories of her college life. The colorful pageantry of Pow Wow with its procession of queen-laden convertibles and coronation ceremony, accompanied by much publicity makes the winner a famous name on campus throughout the rest of her undergraduate days.

Which one of the five finalists will receive the coveted honor is a question that will be answered tonight at Campbell Stadium.

BARBARA BREWTON, senior from Orlando rates high as a representative in campus politics as she served as secretary of both her junior and senior classes. The role of queen is a natural one for this smiling brown-eyed beauty who reigned as Queen of the Military Ball and "Sweetheart of Sigma Nu," the same fraternity sponsoring her now. Her high school career followed the same popularity pattern. She was vice president of student government at Orlando High School, captain of cheerleaders, member of National Honor Society and on the yearbook staff.

JUNE CONYERS, honey blonde-blue eyed junior from Gainesville

(Continued on Page 16)

Phi Delta Theta

Dorothy Johnson

Sigma Nu

Barbara Brewton

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Marilea Gessler

(COPYRIGHT 1952 L'VANT STUDIOS)

FSU's Homecoming Weekend Furnishes Social Fun to Fraternities, Sororities

By MARGARET HORROX

Homecoming for sororities and fraternities means open houses, coffees, dances and dinners. All are held amid the usual hustle and bustle of the week end. The various houses are decorated and ready to be judged today.

Alpha Chi Omega's are unable to enter the house-decorating contest as they are in the building process. As their float theme they have "We'll String Along With You" featuring a lyre and seven Grecian girls. They are driven by a chariot with the charioteers!

A big Indian is busily licking a candy cane in front of the Alpha Delta Pi house. It is a "lick the cane" theme. Their float is a showboat with a water-wheel, pretty girls and all. The A D Pi's are in the finals for their calendar theme skit, which reviews FSU in the past and present.

Alpha Gamma Delta's are also unable to enter the house decorating contest because of remodeling. A South Seas Island scene with Hawaiian girls is their float idea, with the title, "Hurricanes Are Just a Breeze for Seminoles."

In front of the Alpha Omicron Pi house is a Seminole and a Hurricane cheering section. A big Indian is there forecasting the weather. The A O Pi's have their flower, the red rose, for the main feature on the float, with a pretty girls to add to the effect. They have won first on their house decorations for the past two years.

Alpha Xi Delta's are showing two large masonite hands in front of their house with a "Let's Polish Them Off" sloan. One hand is busy painting the other with Seminole war paint. Their float will display "Every Girl's Queen May Be". theme. Chris dressed as bumble bees are sitting in yellow sunflowers and centered on the float is the bee hive. The Alpha Xi's are in the finals for their homecoming skit, which is centered on a gypsy fortune teller forecasting the future. Last year they were awarded third place in the float decorating, and Lis Cooke, their homecoming candidate, served in the Queen's Court.

The Chi Omega house has been transformed into a big tepee and weather bureau. Two huge Indians hold newspapers which make the weather forecasts. A snow-house is the idea used in float-decorating.

Pogo and his comic strip characters may be seen chasing the Hurricanes through a swamp if you go by the Delta Zeta Delta house. A Chinese garden scene is portrayed on their float.

One side of the Delta Gamma house illustrates a sunny day—the other side, a hurricane. A tepee covers their front door, and an Indian is sending smoke signals which say "You Can't Blow Us Down."

A beautiful night, stars, clouds and girls in Hellenic costumes is shown on the Delta Zeta float. "We See It in the Stars, Victory" is the idea shown. Last year the Delta Zeta's won second on their float decorating. In front of their house, is an airplane, plus a weather map which is audible anyway.

In front of the Gamma Phi Beta house we see a Seminole girl squeezing out a big purple cloud. Their float theme is "Don't Let Our Fans Down Boys," illustrated by girls wearing—of all things, fans.

The Kappa Alpha Theta house has been transformed into a honey-comb. "Bee It Ever So Bumble, There's No Place Like Comb," say the Theta's.

"Gone With the Wind" is the float theme used by the Kappa Delta's. Rhett Butler and Scarlett O'Hara are each dressed. In front of their house we see—"Before I'm not—Rhemont issuing a hurricane warning flag!

The front page of a newspaper covers the Phi Mu house, with a banner reading "Hurricane Hits, No Damage Done." Cartoon characters lead up to the house, yelling "rain-extra!" Their float shows a snow scene and is titled, "Freeze Those Fur Men Out." It must be cold for the blonde, brunette and redhead standing on cakes of ice on the float! They are wearing cute little bunny fur jackets over bathing suits.

A spider-web theme is chosen by the Pi Beta Phi's for their house decoration. Two Furman players are trying hard to get away from the garnet colored spider on the cold web. The Pi Phi float is "Pinnacles of Progress" which shows the stages of FSU. Their homecoming skit, "Sammy Seminole in Slumberland" was them a place in the finals. For the past two years the Pi Phi's have taken honors with homecoming queens—Sally Kennedy, last year, and Jeri Munyon in 1951.

"Aryples Will Sock 'Em" on the Sigma Kappa float shows girls shaking and a hurricane falling during a Hurricane. "Seminoles aren't knitwits," say the Sigma Kappa's. Their house is decorated in funeral theme, with casket, floral bouquet, pall-bearers and all.

Zeta Tau Alpha's are bubbling over with a soap theme used both for their float and house decorations. Four large soap bokers flank the front door. A big sign says: Velter I guess, the Tide will turn if Lux with us. On the Zeta float a beautiful girl—Miss Yatsko—takes a bubble bath (yes, she has clothes on!). More girls on the corners are busy blowing more bubbles!

Along fraternity row is the Alpha Tau Omega house where a big "Hurricane" is transformed into a vacuum cleaner. He is busy cleaning up the Hurricanes!

The Delta Tau Delta's say "Furman Builds Hopes too High." represented by the cute little Tweedle bird and the terrible Sylvester the puss cat. The Delt float is a river boat with their queen, Betty Ann Gaskin on it. It's a typical "paddling boat!

A southern colonial home with a southern lady and gentleman is the theme chosen by the Kappa Alpha's. Judy Ellis, their homecoming candidate is in the run-offs for this year's queen.

The Kappa Sigma's float is "When the Deep Purple Falls" shown by two purple Hurricanes in a canoe going over a waterfall. And—oh, what a tragedy—they are going to fall on rocks! Last year the Kappa Sigma's won the cup for the most original float.

In front of the Lambda Chi Alpha house is an Indian Village! On the 11 tepees are names of the first string football players—it's a "Scalp 'Em Seminoles" theme.

"Sweep 'Em Up Seminoles" the Phi Delta Theta's say on their float. A big Seminole is carrying a vacuum cleaner and girls are busy sweeping to promote the effect. The Phi Delt house is almost covered with a huge tepee which serves as the Phi Delt Weather Bureau! Dot Johnson, their homecoming candidate is in the finals for queen this year.

The Phi Kappa Tau's are displaying a "Hurricane Machine." Two Seminoles are of course busy showing the Hurricanes made it! Their float theme is "Hurricanes are now Just a Mild Breeze."

"Welcome Hurricanes" greets one in front of the Pi Kappa Alpha house. One player is in his purple underwear, with Don Yelton politely handing him his football suit. On their float it's "For Men who Know Football Best— It's FSU Two to One!" It is of course a Lucky Strike theme.

Pi Kappa Phi's house shows the scene of a storm. Furman man ass slowly sinking in a canoe. But ah, the Seminoles come to their rescue!

Real rain, say the Sigma Alpha Epsilons, will be used in their float decorations. Their theme will be a sun shining through a hurricane on two beautiful girls. As house decorations we are red lights, signifying fire, with Indians seated around it.

The Sigma Chi's have "Three Little Pigs" in front of their house. They carry out the story-book tale with all events—a house of straw, of wood and a house of brick. A weather bureau is the Sigma Chi float theme.

Sigma Phi Epsilon's are using a "play on words" to greet the Purple Hurricanes.

"This game is a good bet," say the Theta Chi's, illustrated by a large deck of cards on their float. Sammy Kaye, who is a Theta Chi, will be one of the welcome guests. Theta Chi house and an extra big week end is planned in his honor.

Seminar Features Employment Expert

Dr. Beatrice J. Dvorak, chief of the Testing Branch of the Bureau of Employment Security and Diplomat in Industrial Psychology, will speak at the Psychology Seminar to be held in the Langmuir building elubroom on Monday at 8 p.m.

Dr. Dvorak participated in the development of the General Aptitude Test Battery which measures 10 aptitudes significant in approximately 2,000 occupations in the U. S. She recently she directed the development of a new machine scorable form of this test battery which has just been published.

Dr. Dvorak is prominent in the field of psychological aptitude testing and has contributed significantly to the literature in this field, particularly with technical articles on the GATB and the USES program.

She is visiting this University in connnection with co-operative test research work which is being carried on by aradual students and faculty at a number of universities. At the meetings she will discuss the nature and potentialities of the GATB and will discuss possible co-operative research problems both with the group and with individual students and faculty members who may be interested.

Councils Seek Better Relation

Striving to promote goodwill and helping to improve relations of sororities and fraternities in the school are two organizations that act as go-betweens.

The Inter-Fraternity Council, better known as IFC, headed by Donald Waters, and the Pan-Hellenic Association headed by Jeanne Alberta Large, have meetings in their offices on fourth floor Longmire regularly. At these meetings a representative from each sorority meets with the Pan-Hell officers, or fraternities with the IFC officers as the case may be.

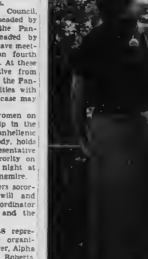
ALL FRATERNITY women on campus hold membership in the Panhell, but the Panhellenic council, its legislative body, holds meetings with one representative from each National Sorority on campus, every Tuesday night at 7:15 on fourth floor Lonsmire.

This orwhination fosters sorority cooperation, good will and spirit, and serves as coordinator between the sororities and the University.

THE SIXTEEN GIRLS representing the sorority organizations are Betty Sue Fryer, Alpha Chi Omega; Betty Ann Roberts, Alpha Delta Pi; Mary Belle Tweety, Alpha Gamma Delta; Alpha Delta Pi, Betty Ann Roberta, Alpha Gamma Delta; Edith Salpper, Alpha Omicron Pi; Patricia Potts, Alpha Xi Delta; Nellie Lawrence Chi Omega; Fe Pittman, Delta Delta Delta; Harriet Smith, Delta Zeta; Patti Martin, Delta Gamma; Yvonne Warren, Gamma Phi Beta; Jackie Morris, Kappa Alpha Theta; Kathryn Tooly, Kappa Delta; Dot Dean, Pi Beta Phi; Kay Kuhn, Phi Mu; Ruthie Garst, Sigma Kappa; and Nancy Wilson, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Acting president is Alberta Large, former secretary, in the absence of Phoebe Ryerson, who is interning. Acting secretary in place of Alberta is Shirley Wilson.

BOTH ORGANIZATIONS are planning a very busy year. The Panhell Dance is going to be held on Dec 13 while a workshop featuring national Panhell officers and other speakers and panel discussions will take place on Jan 17.



An IFC queen will be crowned at the IFC dance held yearly during the IFC weekend festivities. During the year the interfraternity self-governing body will have a Greek Week, sponsor high school senior boys up for Circus.

Ruge Hall Enters Homecoming Fun

Ruge Hall and the Episcopal students of Florida State University will join in the Homecoming festivities with many features of entertainment.

The annual reception for Episcopal Sutdents of FSU will be held Saturday, November 15 Alums will be received at Ruge Hall from this

Just Right for Autumn

CAMPUS FASHIONS are complete as Joan Morgan and June Yates relax in the all-favorite sweater and skirt. Joan's maroon short-sleeved slip-on sweater is worn with a matching plaid-line skirt of fine gray and maroon checks. Her accessories give a touch of boldness with a gold medallion and black low heels. June is dressed in the "new from the old fashion"—the cardigan-and-skirt ensemble with a wearing black and white saddle oxfords which are good for almost every costume. Practicality plus!

'Parade Time Shows Weary Seminoles 'Finishing' Floats

Greeks and Independents alike are rushing through everything today laden with paint, paper and crepe paper—all in the hope that have you, getting ready for that most hecessary of all functions—homecoming. As parade time draws near the paint is still drying, more napkins are needed here and there and those easy-beasers who do all the work are just about at their wits' end but that Seminole spirit keeps pushing until every detail is finished.

MANY IDEAS for floats have been tossed back and forth; while some decided on snowboats and cheering sections, the more romantic ones chose flower gardens and bubblebaths. After all the ideas finally took shape, those women who worked on it say what they had so enthusiastically started.

Mass confusion takes over at the last minute and the floats seem to merge into a maze of napkins, crepe paper, and chicken wire. Anyone witnessing these dismayed-clad figures among mountains of wire, paper nails and what have you, thinks of a Mad Hatter's Tea Party. But anyway, it does conclude the maintenance department for letting students use their trucks.

Time through the day until after the football game

ARRANGEMENTS for the open house are under the direction of Bert Miller. Other members of the committee are Cissy Ream, Millie Cruckenberger, Nancy Wakefield and Chris Young.

Also Lillian Ellis, Barbara Delgado and Phyllis Wesner.

Special Homecoming services will be held in the chapel this Sunday with Holy Communion at 8:00 a. m. and Morning Prayer with choir and sermon at 11 a m.

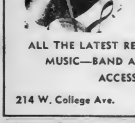
What those other poor souls do without their help is beyond the imagination. They built the wooden frames and then student crews look over to bend, tear, and push chicken wire into shape.

AT THIS POINT everyone wonders if it's worth the effort. There are endless holes which must be stuffed with crepe paper and napkins. You've missed one here . . . there're too many in the back . . . , we need more crepe paper . . . on into the night, and nothing but a comedy of errors.

BUT EVENTUALLY all of this has a happy ending. That battered truck which no doubt has seen better days, is transformed into something never dreamed of. The last napkin is folded, the last nail is hammered in and we

Who Will Be Queen?

(Continued from Page 9)



is the daughter of a Presbyterian minister. Always a big name around election time, June has served as president of her sophomore class last year, and as vice president in charge of women's affairs. Her friendly personality undoubtedly was the biggest contributing factor to her second election to the Homecoming Court. Sigma Phi Epsilon sponsored her this year. An active in Villiam Vamps and Minister Fellowship, June is a major in the College of Arts and Sciences. In high school she was "May Queen," cheerleader and member of National Honor Society.

JUDY ELLIS, blonde senior from Orlando is the daughter of William N. Ellis an attorney. Throughout high school and college she has played a large part in swimming activities. Her queen history is highlighted by her selection an sponsor for the Clemson Football team in the 1951 Orange Bowl. She was also crowned golf girl for Smoke Signals last year, as winner of the Smoke Signals' calendar girl contest. She has served as president of the Villiam Vamps and is a member of Tarpon club. She is an elementary education major. Kappa Sigma sponsored her in the Homecoming contest.

MARLIES GESSLER, blonde Tallahassee freshman, has probably the most colorful past in Homecoming Court line-up in many years. Born in Poland, she represents the terror of the last war when she was in a Nazi prison camp. Shortly after the close of the war she miraculously was reunited with her mother and they came to this country last year. During her brief career at Jefferson High School, Monticello she was elected Homecoming Queen, of her senior class, undoubtedly. It was Marlies' waltz smile of timidity that netted her so many votes in the popularity petition. At FSU she's very much interested in Circus and her name is an air major. Outdoor sports and fashion designing are her favorite hobbies. Alpha Omicron Epsilon was her sponsor.

DOROTHY JOHNSON from Orlando is an exciting looking brunette with brown eyes. A graduate of Orlando High School she was captain of cheerleaders, president of the Tri-Hi-Y and secretary of Thespians dramatic society. At FSU she's a cheerleader, treasurer of her class, and a member of Villiam Vamps and Sophomore Council. She majors in elementary education and her hobbies include water skiing and horseback riding. Phi Delta Theta sponsors her.

add the final touch—a score of pretty girls. Battered knees, blisters on backs and sore fingers are all forgotten and everyone hurries to the parade to cheer the big, last parade float—their own.

Romulus Thompson's Music House

ALL THE LATEST RECORDS AND SHEET MUSIC—BAND AND ORCHESTRA ACCESSORIES

214 W. College Ave. Shaw Bldg.

CHRISTMAS SPECIAL

To The One You Love

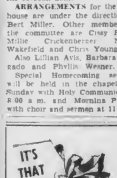
Keep Memories Alive Forever With a Portrait Photograph of Yourself . . . a Most Welcome Gift to the One You Love.

GLENN'S CHRISTMAS SPECIAL

8x10 Black and White With 6 Wallet Sizes 7.50

5 x 7 Gold Tone 7.50

8 x 10 Oil 8.95



Use Our New Lay-a-Way Plan

Call Us Today for a Sitting

Photography by Glenn

Across From the Florida Theater

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN

Time to order your Christmas cards . . . Christmas seals paper . . . and Christmas gift wrappings. See our complete collection of beautiful Hallmark Christmas designs.

HOUSE of GIFTS

209 S. ADAMS

Bertha Cooke

All curves, all compliments—this Gilbert Original for the young figure of any age. Smooth fine wool tweed shaped to a turn with velvet-petaled tulip collar poised above the pocketed jacket. Skirt is slim and back flared for shape retention. Tweed mixtures of brown, gray or deep green.

69.95

Gilbert's

TULIP SUIT IN TWEED

Style No. 3208

Away Hammers; Bring on Dates And Cosmetics

Look at your nails! Look at your eyes! Dirty? Bloodshot from lack of sleep? You really are a sight!

So you have been working on those morning glory decorations. You got up at night tryine to get your clothes ready and first one pin, and then another. Well, it never noon on Friday now, the eleventh hour, and it is time to have finished all that and to be thinking about yourself and the impression you are going to make.

GET BACK to your room, sailor. The parade starts in three hours. Stop for something to eat if chances are you haven't taken time out for that lately, and the classroom will do you good. Relax a minute, now just calm down. The relaxed effect is what we offer.

Not that you're in the room, wait to do first? Is it neat and clean? Now? Well, start hanging up last Monday's skirt and while you're at it plan your wardrobe to be weekend. Now that you've made through the room, make a strong resolution to keep things way during the weekend. Or you'll save yourself a lot of time and trouble. Besides, your roommate might be expecting her brother and then wouldn't you be embarrassed!

THE NEXT THING to do is get to the tub. While you're taking your turn, stick a few bobby pins in those loose curls—everybody but will do wonders for your hair. Now press the clothes you're going to the parade, dinner, and the POW-WOW, and then hang them where they won't get wrinkled. Check on all the little unmentionable items. All fresh and clean? Hope. If not, time to do some 'em. If the answer is no, then decide what you're wearing when, and from hose to hat, get them all put out in a convenient place.

Time to take your shower? Yes. That is the really important part. You're still plenty of time to wash your hair if you want to, but remember is what is going to pep you up, or calm you down, depending on the need. Back in the room, all fresh and clean, spread some good hand lotion or cream all over your hands, elbows, those chapped ankles, and on your face

NOW FOR THE best part of all. Soak your wash cloth, or two balls of cotton in some cool water. Relax on the bed. RELAX. I said—don't think about the chores you haven't done. Put the cold compresses over your eyes, and just drift away. If you think you might go to sleep, be sure to set the alarm for about 2:30.

When the time comes, do your make up, add a dash of something especially sweet, and as the ball phone rings, you are all ready to decend the stairs and meet "Prince Charming." You should be rested, so that you can put your best foot forward through the many activities of the day.

NOW IT'S Friday night, 12 midnight, and you're just said goodbye with the plan to meet him at ten o'clock for breakfast. Best thing to do is to go straight to bed, taking time out only to cleanse your face, apply cream, and roll your hair if necessary. Remember, sleep is a precious and necessary item, and tomorrow's a L-O-N-G day.

That business about the "early gal getting the ironing board" is more true than ever Saturday morning, so set up in plenty of time get things pressed. If you have a nylon net formal, you are lucky, for they require no ironing. If not, and you haven't pressed it before, now is the time to do it. Please don't keep your date waiting for breakfast. This is the worst of all errors a gal can make. As true as time itself, is the adage that "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach," especially when he hasn't had his morning coffee

If you make these primary preparations, the rest of the day and weekend will take care of itself. You can have all the fun and enjoyment of HOMECOMING with all its festivities. Carefree and happy you'll be your sparkling self!

FREE MOVIE

No free movie will be shown tonight due to the Homecoming activities Starting Monday at 7:30 in the O Club will be "The Jackpot," starring James Stewart, Barbara Hale and James Gleason.

For Homecoming or Anytime . . .

meet your fashion future

At

Nelly's Shop

102 E. College 2-4463

For FSU Homecoming Events

Turner's featuring . . . . . Jonathan Logan DRESSES!

The Dazzle belonging to glistening evening is dramatized by famous Jonathan Logan Dresses featured here.

$17.95

Turner's

Campus Fashions

Co-eds Preview Latest Styles in Weekend Wardrobes

Time Out for Tea

COMPARING DATE NOTES are Joan Tevall and Jan Vanouse. Joan is dressed for "after five" in a steel and silver gray striped taffeta dress with a rolled collar under a jaunty black velvet bolero. She complements her outfit with black suede heels and drop rhinestone earrings. Also shown is Fall's latest fashion in navy blue taffeta trimmed in winter white. A white rose adds to the feminine look of the scoop neckline. Pearl earrings and blue suede pumps are her accessories. Charm, for any occasion . . .

By WOODLEY GRIZZARD
Fashion Editor

Chances are that for the last few days you've been putting blood, sweat and tears into homecoming decorations, skits and floats, in addition to making a vain attempt at keeping up your studies. But your thoughts strayed from these to the big event—your date, and of course what you'd wear on the many all important occasions.

Relax now, scrub your broken nails and paint smeared face. Let's get down to swatches and stitches —WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO WEAR?

POINT NUMBER one—remember Florida State is an extremely casual campus, and it is mighty easy to worry yourself until you're prone to overdress. And since it's from Gainesville, you'll want to achieve, let's start out on the right foot, and keep it simple. Remember, there are many saucy decorations around—you won't in the competition.

YOU are the second and most important point. All kidding aside, none of us are million-aires, and what pops packed us off to college with one, two, or three years in wear you're wearing this year too. But don't be discouraged. A touch here and there, within keeping of YOUR character and personality, will do much to stimulate not only your fashion but your personality as well.

IF YOU ARE one of the chosen Indian Princesses whose Brave is arriving via alligator, that is—from aGonerville, you'll want to look your best to greet the fuzzfire from Boys' town. But gals, you who are dating your steady should also want to get off on the right foot, so let's start with Friday afternoon—A. C. rafer classes.

Choose a lightweight gaberdine or one of your newer avatar number, with dinner and the crowds there might not be time to change for the POW-WOW, and any of these outfits will be appropriate for all three occasions.

ANXIOM NUMBER ONE for the weekend should be neatness. The campus will be crowded and the air festive. We squaws should use the right amount of reserva-tion in our dress. When the last minute work details fall to you at the same moment your date shows —don't fret, hand him the hammer and run for the shower. He is the understanding type. Isn't he?

There will be various functions all over the campus after the parade Friday afternoon. Neat Miss FSU will be appropriate in the original outfit—add a jacket or gaberdine raincoat if the chill might air catches you without ammunitoing heater.

SATURDAY MORNING: Now, Beaver, no sleep when you get home. No striking new outfit, no foolin' will help hide those baggy eyes if you talk the night away instead of getting your rest. Save those late comparing sessions for when HE'S not around to notice your lack of shut-eye. Remember, this is the BIG DAY.

Meet him for breakfast and please be on time—it's the least he can expect. In your plaid dress or suit you'll look mighty good to him. Show him around the campus and don't despair if he doesn't have a 'four wheel personality —You get a much better view on foot.

CHOOSE A SUIT for the game, with contrasting or matching accessories. You'll have to judge the weather for yourself in accordance with your wardrobe. Remember, it's a football game—a sports occasion—not a fashion show. Your conscience should be your guide when deciding whether or not to do hat or gloves—you'll look equally well-dressed with or without them.

Open hooses and dinney follow the game. Stay put in your football outfit; your change for the dance is the climax of the week-end, and you don't want to clutter the act.

FOR THE "swingin' and sway-in" to Sammy Kaye's music you'll want to bring stays to his eyes. Give yourself plenty of time—remember he has to change too. and he might want to attend one of the FSU fraternity parties." Your formal should have been pressed before so you won't spend half of the night that way. Relax a little, but do be ready when he calls. The myth of keeping a man waiting went out with the hoop-skirts.

It's all is Tallahassee, so the calendar tells us. Discard the cardigans in favor of satin, net, or something in the theme. White and black are excellent colors this fall. Don't forget his favorite cologne or perfume and also that too much of anything will leave him cold.

SURE YOU'LL BE fagged out by the intermission. With 1:30 permission you've still an some time to keep your chin up. You can do it and still be a proper FSU coed. Remember, it's your sweet this weekend.

And so to bed and dreams. Sunday morning is always anti-climatic, but if you're careful you won't disturb his impression of you and your Homecoming.

If you're dressing for church choose a simple, well-cut dress or some of your dressy crepes and taffetas. Hat and gloves are a must!

Ready for the Game

SPECTATORS WILL HAVE difficulty watching football with Shirley Kelley and Pat Haas in the stands. Shirley wears a suit of gray flannel trimmed with dark gray accentuating the collar and pockets. Bright red gloves, hat, and a perky red flower contrast with her dark grey purse and matching heels as accessories giving that "in-at tailored look." A bit of sparkle is added with rhinestone and silver buttons on a white nylon blouse. Pat dons a smart navy and white checked suit with nylon blouse. The diagonal high pockets accentuates the tailored lines of the suit. To go with this outfit she is wearing a velveteen hat, gloves and heels of navy blue.

No Quiet Seen on Social Front With VV, Pan-Hell Planning

Now that Homecoming, 1952 certs. In the past the Vamps have version, has finally arrived, all undertaken service projects also—eyes look to plans for future the most recent of which was held events and the activities of cam-in conjunction with the Campus pus organizations. The next big Chest drive.

attraction will be Pan Hellenic Officers of Village Vamps this weekend, bringing with it the annual formal dance, on Dec. 13. At this time the Village Vamps will climax their rush season with the presentation of 30 new taps, chosen from the freshman class.

VILLAGE VAMPS, the gals usually seen appearing in black, is a social honorary, its members being chosen on the basis of poise, personality and attractiveness. However the Vamps are an active group as well functioning on campus in fostering for various organizations and ushering for Speech Department productions. Sandsour, and Artist Series Conyear are Judy Rilis, Chief Heartbreaker (President); Anice Spencer, Chief Two Timer; Carolyn Calhoun, Keeper of the Dates; Joyce Whidden, Chief Gold Digger; Charis Coulter, Key Hole Peeper and Patsy Charlette, Project Chairman. Dr. Frederick Holschuh and Dr. Steven Winters serve as sponsors for the group.

INELIGIBLE in Village Vamps membership age' Ardis Bourland, Jo Ann Hutto, Kathleen Veal, Joan Edwards, Betty Jo Miller, Kay de Haven, Eleanor Greene, Gail Tomlinson, Kathleen Toole, Joyce Whidden, Pat Turnley, Charlotte, Bootie Kennedy, Judy Elia, Sally Kennedy, Betty Ann Munroe

Charlotte Oldham, Judy Bitch, Mary Ann Fields, Sue Jones, Anice Soenser, Jane Addkey, Shirley Hogan, Janet Burrouns, Nola Coulter, Ann Yates, Nola Lawrence, Suzy Simonton, Nancy Sweetman, Ruthie Spencer, Barbara Brewton, Carolyn Calhoun, June Conyers, Ernestine Hunt, Jeanne Shaw, Ann Adams, Lou McNabb, Dot Johnson, Nancy Munt, Jane Cornwell, Ann Crelins, Ann McKay and Janet Stark.

Tarpon Represents Much More Than Mere Swimming Honorary

Tarpon is not merely the name of a swimming honorary, but it represents the highest of all swimming standards. In order to uphold the standard, and to increase skill and interest in synchronized swimming, Tarpon members set to accomplishing these goals by presenting water shows. Until the present year, two shows had been produced annually. In 1952 however, only one show is to be organized. This is a result of the members' desire to attain perfection by putting forth all efforts on a single production.

THE NAME of the 1952 Tarpon show is as yet unknown, but the theme concerns a calendar depicting months and holidays of various seasons. Such music as "Sleigh Ride" "September Song" and "Summer Time" will set the scenes for the dancing months.

TARPON MEMBERS have no been confined merely to the water theater of FSU. Last year the show traveled to Atlanta to appear at a National Athletic Convention and to Moultrie for the opening of the pool.

The presiding officers of Tarpon are Betty Lou Wharton, president; Sandra Chance, vice-president; Pat Viner, secretary; Marian Mead, treasurer, and Mary Hope Fuller, publicity chairman. The club sponsor is Miss Frances Hall.

We Salute the Seminoles on Their 101st HOMECOMING

Strickland's on College Ave.

IF You WANT

RECORDS SHEET MUSIC
Musical Instruments
SHOP AT

JENKINS' Music Co.
123 S. MONROE
Phone 2-3067

Personal Touch Brightens Suits At Homecoming

Maybe you're a philosophy major; perhaps not, but it is the wise woman who knows that the individualistic approach to good grooming wins the most votes.

Somewhere in "no man's land" last spring the fashion dictators decided what Miss Coed of 1952-1953 would be wearing. Necklines, patterns, mass production and high pressure advertising and sales campaigns—all these were fundamental in producing "the Stylish YOU." That's all fine and dinner, of course, but let's face it now, nor your wardrobe have stashed much since last year just because you've read the latest fashion news?

NOW THAT we've realized this, the rest is easy as ABC (and to think we are college students). A—yourself. B—your wardrobe, and C—a little imagination; and well, try and post a new effect.

For example: everyone knows the old scarf routine, knotted on the side or in front. Try adding a small matching flower to the knot. If your hair is that of the more sophisticated or you can't find the flower—tie the scarf in the back. Did you make your plaid skirt? Take a long three inch seam piece of the material for a use around the neckline of a solid matching sweater. There, you have the smart tailored effect.

SO YOU'RE wearing last year's suit to the game—so what? There are a number of things you can accomplish to feel different in it. If the budget won't stand a new blouse or sweater, try new buttons on the suit coat. Now really, it doesn't take that long to sew on em. What about a monogram for one of your tailored blouses? This one can be done with a minimum of effort. The ingenious sal myself even sew a scarf in the pattern of an exaggerated man's tie, perhaps even coverins a small hat to match. In contrasting colors of taffeta, this will really perk up a plain suit.

THE PERSONAL touch can't be stressed too much in relation to make up. Don't overdo it. Your date wants to be with you, not a counterfeit of a lotion on the war path. As for perfume, save it until Saturday night. A touch of cologne is fine for football games, parades and parties but preferably a clean fresh scent rather than the heavy stuff. Save that to WOW him when you're dancing.

Welcome Home Alumni

Charles of the Ritz

reveals Un-hidden treasures for your tree...

Why give gifts the ordinary way when you can turn it into a treasure hunt? These sparkling tree trims conceal precious beauty aids that make delightful discoveries! Best of all—no waiting—no extra charge for these already Christmas-wrapped gifts.

Linden's

VISIT TALLAHASSEE'S MOST COMPLETE COSMETIC DEPT.

Anyone Care to Dance?

CATCHING HER LEGAL . . . a right handed whirl is petite Ann Yates in sparkling scarlet nylon tulle. The shirred ruffle over the hipline accentuates her tiny waist and wispy straps add a touch of sophistication to this ankle length dream. Ann chooses brilliant rhinestones to bring out the gleam of her ankle strap silver slippers.

School PTA Meeting Features Vernon Fox

A musical participation program and talk by Dr. Vernon Fox, associate professor of social work, was featured at a meeting of the Demonstration School PTA recently.

Dr. Fox discussed "Parent-Pupil Relationships." Lloyd Slind, FSU instructor in music education, directed the parents in a demonstration of how musical harmony can be achieved through use of a variety of instruments.

Homecoming Parade to Sparkle With Floats, Bands, Flags, Color

Cymbals clang and drums roll as a sparkling array of floats, bands, flags and general fanfare converges from the inner sanctums of Florida State University this afternoon at 3 p.m.

THE HOMECOMING parade is about to start and spectators eagerly line the streets of Tallytown to view the stupendous display of spirit and ingenuity that culminates long, hard weeks of plannings and organization by students and faculty of FSU.

Some 40-odd units are scheduled to make up the dazzling parade which features 30 floats, three bands, color guards and ROTC marching units.

ALL UNITS are scheduled to form in their designated places in the parade lineup at the corner of Call and Woodward streets outside campus at 2:30. At 2 the procession starts down on Call-Fast to Copeland, south on Copeland to College Ave. down College Ave to Adams south on Adams to Pensacola. Then the procession swings east on Pensacola to Monroe and north on Monroe past the reviewing stand at the Floridan Hotel to Carolina, where they will disband.

Entries in the Homecoming parade include, in order: Color Guard, FSU Band and majorettes, FSU Cheerleaders, Queen's float, official car, Delta Tau Delta, Alpha Chi Omega and Day Students.

FOLLOWING will be Kappa Alpha, Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Sigma, Alpha Gamma and Sandspur; next comes Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Xi Delta, ROTC Band, Pi Kappa Alpha and Chi Omega.

Behind the Chi O's come the Tarpon Club, Pi Kappa Phi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Zeta, Sigma Chi and Pershing Rifles.

Following close on their heels will come Gamma Phi Beta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Kappa Delta, Law Club Band, University 4-H Club, Phi Mu and Sigma Nu.

NEXT IN LINE are the Theta Chis, Pi Beta Phi, Sigma Kappa, Delta Zeta, Sigma Chi and Pershing Rifles.

Following these will be Zeta Tau Alpha, Alpha Omicron Pi, Pi Kappa Tau, Kappa Alpha Theta, and lastly, Gymkana.

Women's "P" Club reports that the queen's float is a fluffy ball of white and blue material with

Thirteen Class Reunions Held

Debate Here Concerns Alma Mater, Hymn

Everything's" new in '52! More alumni than ever before are expected to attend this gala weekend of class reunions, banquets, breakfasts — there is no end of things to do and places to go, once inside these college gates!

Official registration begins today at 12 noon and is continued through 7:30 p.m. Over 250 alumni have written for reservations and after the count tonight, the number is expected to scar upward.

THIRTEEN CLASS reunions are being held this year with the Class of 1908 the oldest to join in the celebration. Reunions will be held by classes from 1908 through 1911, 1927 through '30, 1946 through '48 and the Class of 1952.

A royal treat—the annual Garnet and Gold Key banquet—is in store for the class reuniunites at 8:15 this evening. Special tables have been reserved for these alumni. Then there's the Pow Wow and show, with a special reserved section for reunioned alumni, also this evening.

SATURDAY MORNING FSU alumni will be off to a good start with a breakfast given by President and Mrs. Campbell at their home. This is the one function at which only alumni will be present. Alumni business meetings begin following the breakfast and will be held in the Tennessee auditorium. (Did someone say something about being tired?—You can't slow down!) The Homecoming barbecue for alumni and honor guests begins at noon Saturday at Camp Flastacoco. Then there is the big game—followed by the Faculty-Alumni informal coffee at which points will be present to greet the alumni back home.

Six class presidents of former years are expected to attend this year. Mrs. Milton Parker of the Class of 1911, Mrs. Hugh Chaverfonda Dorner, Class of 1927, Mrs. Emelie Blackburn '29, Mrs. P. F. Rutland, the former Mary Jane Breen, graduate of the class of 1946, Miss Sara Lewis '47, and Will Pennell '52 graduate.

MRS. MILTON PARKER and Mrs. Idella Parker will be a mother-daughter team of distinction here this weekend. Both are graduates of the University and both of their classes, 1911 and 1949 will receive reunion awards. Mrs. Parker has remained on campus since graduation in 1949 as secretary in the School of Education.

Mrs. Parker recalls her days quite different from those of her daughter. Back in the "Hobble skirt" days of 1911, there were no sorority houses on campus and only two dormitories. The enrollment was considerably small as there were only about 300 students and morning chapel with a Bible reading was a daily practice. And something else—only upperclass-women were allowed dates—which were all properly chaperoned by a faculty member. We of this day and age don't know how lucky we are!

Through the years FSU has progressed and developed. It has changed but it is still "home" to the FSU alumni. We welcome you all to FSU! Homecoming '52 will be bigger and better than ever —thanks to you, alumni!

Organization Meet Scheduled Tonight

An organizational meeting of the Advertising club will be held tonight in room 405 Lemoine from 7 to 9 p.m.

Dr. Boyd H. Ray, head of the advertising department here and chairman of the advertising club recently formed in Tallahassee, will be present to explain the aims of the club and the advantages of belonging to an organization of this kind.

Officers will be elected, and a regular meeting schedule will be established.

Dr. Ray made it a point that membership is not limited to advertising majors but is open to any and all persons interested in advertising.

Whistle While You Work

BEGIN HO, HEIGH HO, it's off to work we go. How many hundreds of hours of work, Pat? It looks like another winner. Pat Rausch, the top lady on the ladder, has already walked off with top honors on two ingenious creations for dorm decorations. The ashes and washing gals pictured are, from left to right, bottom, Joyce eCarns, Mary Ellen Fabal, Betty Ann Monroe and top, Dot Kannon, Betta Weeks and Shan Shannon.

HOPEFUL DECORATIONS

Seminole's Triumph Forecast

Forecasting the defeat over the purple hurricanes of Furman, all Seminole dormitories and Greek houses are striving to bring to life, in their homecoming house decorations, the themes, FSU in Review" and "Let the Wind Out of the Purple Hurricane."

Residence halls, sororities and fraternities are competing for the four trophies that will be given for the most imaginative and original creations of each group.

LAST YEAR only two halls trophies were awarded. Of the Greeks, Alpha Omicron Pi was first, Sigma Chi placed second and third place went to Alpha Delta Pi. Osceola won first place among the men's and women's dorms, while Reynolds and South Castilion were second and third respectively.

Following out their slogan, "Seminoles Sickim Canes," the ADPi's are transforming the large white columns in front of their house into ominous candy canes. Lacking a candy cane will be a sad sight for FSU Homecoming.

AROUND THE THEME of Were Simmin in the Rain," the men of Senior Hall are displaying an abstraction of Campbell Stadium. To carry out the idea, a purple cloud is hovering over one end of the field, while at the opposite end, a Seminole player is kicking the purples hurricanes, that fell from the clouds, into a special hurricane shelter.

The Theta Chi's are employing a home made Swami with a crystal ball to predict the result of the game. The predictor will be stallone don the lawn in front of the Greek's residence.

ON THE LANDS green, appears a bare structure of unique-ness. Upon this formation, seven dwarfs who represent Seminole football players are pursuing a Furman "witch." The witch's only alternative is to jump from the cliff into the depths of despair.

Judges for the decorations include Dr. Edmund Lewandowski, chairman, Mrs. Rainey Cavalho, Mrs. W. H. Covington and Dr. Louis Shores. There will be/no one night judging and ons day judging to determine the winners.

Future CPA's Take Semi-Annual Exam

Candidates seeking to become certified public accountants and the semi-annual examination conducted by the State Board of Accountancy recently in the Lemoine Auditorium.

Arrangements for holding the examination were made through the School of Business by Edward Trembley, professor of accounting, and William Hosford, president of the Tallahassee Chapter of the Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants and Bryan Willis, state auditor.

Charles C. Colley Jr., member of the state board from Orlando supervised the testing

Friday Special
WHOLE BROILED
FLORIDA LOBSTER
With French Fries and Drawn Butter, Chef Salad
97c
Seven Seas
RESTAURANT
318 S MONROE

They're Warner-Wonderful! They're New! They're The Talk Of The Campus!
Only $5.00 to $8.50
They're Angels!
Warner's new and exciting Angels . . . designed to give you a heavenly figure whether you're on the Campus or off the Campus, whether you're trim or tall. Never before have girdles given you such wonderful stretch. Never before such elegant elastics . . . and they're exclusively Warner's.
Here's just one. Come in and see all of them.
Come in Soon for Figure Analysis and Professional Fitting Free, to You With the Purchase of Any Foundation Garment
Mae Wells
REGISTERED CORSETIERE
106 E. Pensacola St (Across From North Side of Capitol)

For That Casual Look

LOOKING VERY COLLEGIATE and dressed for almost anything—game, show, and parade—are Nesbie Dorner and Mary Chambers. Nesbie's darling color is navy blue which is carried through the full jersey skirt, cummerbund and high heels. To go with this skirt is a wool jersey gray and red striped blouse with raglaned sleeves. Nesbie is wearing a scarlet scarf, gold bracelet and earrings to go with this cute outfit. Mary really looks sharp in a chartreuse and gray wool flannel dress, which is smartly dressed up with matching medallion, shoulder buttons and earrings, a concher belt and black pumps. Both outfits couldn't be beat—you bet!
MILLER'S Cootery
Welcome Alums!
MILLER'S Cootery

For Loafin' Lassies
by Moxees
Genuine Hand-Sewns
The sweetest sport shoe for fall . . . designed to complement your trim fall suits, your neat sleek slacks, your gay tartan plaids
7.95
Vanity Boot Shops
SOUTH'S SMARTEST SHOES

Welcome To Homecoming

TALLAHASSEE SOUVENIR PLATE
BLUE OR MAROON . . . $1.75
FRATERNITY OR SORORITY PLAQUES
$3.50
F. S. U. FOOTBALL MUGS $2.95
Putnam Jewelers
REGISTERED JEWELERS
AMERICAN GEM SOCIETY
208 SOUTH MONROE STREET

President Summers Leads Executive Through Change

By JUDY SIMKINS

Under the 1951 leadership of Miss Ruth Summers, first woman president of the University Government Association, the executive branch of Florida State University's student government has undergone vast structural changes this year.

Upon the ratification of an amendment introduced by the Senate Constitutional committee in May of last year, the old executive council was abolished and replaced by a seven member cabinet system. Already this change has resulted in a more efficient organization, better able to serve the wants and needs of the student body. Some of the more notable evidences of this growth in accomplishment are the lowering of dining hall prices, student "Smoker Day," more clearly defined election procedure and more effective forums.

JAN ARROGAST as Forums Chairman has brought to the students current topics of vital interest. Every week over WFSU, a panel discussion has been held on subjects such as "Campus Clubs," "Who Should be Our Next President," "Should We Join NSA," "Should We Subsidize Athletics" and "Is the Honor System Effective." "Fun and Functions," a weekly calendar of campus events and a project of the Forums Committee, keeps close tabs on student affairs and creates a much needed reminder to the "activity-conscious." Future plans concern the addition of a "Town Crier" to the campus.

June McMillan, Honor Committee Chairman, is industriously organizing "Honor Day" to stress the need for a better honor system. Copies of the Honor Code are being printed and slogans are ready to be posted on all corners of the campus. Speakers have been called upon to emphasize the importance of the honor system to the various dormitories, sorority and fraternity houses, and classes. Provision is also being made for the Honor Code to be incorporated into the Constitution.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE, under the chairmanship of Secretary of Finance Bill Skipper, is divided into two committees, the Funds and the Budget Committees. The Funds Committee is assigned the duty of approving all campus projects, such as the projects for Campus Chest; while the Budget Committee sets up the budgets for the organizations that receive money from the Student Activity Fund.

Jo Nell Proctor, Secretary of Organizations, supervises the official approval of the constitutions of all organizations. Now under consideration are the Student Nurses' Association, Sophomore Men's Service Organization, Psi Chi, a psychology honorary, and the National Society of Pershing Rifles. In order to eliminate superfluous and out-dated organizations and to determine organizational standing, the committee is sending evaluation blanks to every club, honorary and society on campus.

THE DUTY OF the Secretary of Elections is to set up the procedure for Florida State University student elections. Bob Ducker, who fills this position, has carried through on the Freshman elections, the Sophomore Hop Court, and the Homecoming Queen elections.

Tom Simmons, Attorney General, carries along with his office the chairmanship of the "Who's Who" Committee on Selection. Since now he is also in the process of seeing that revised copies of the Constitution are printed.

Secretary of Recreation Tom Owen is the connecting link between the University Recreation Association, the student social program and the Intra-mural Sports program. One of the projects this year has been to charter buses to Atlanta for the F S U-Ga Tech game, which will save those taking the buses about $7 on their fare.

THE WHOLE CABINET and the president convene every week to discuss student problems and needs. At this time the various projects are planned and put into action.

This branch of UGA went into action the first week of the fall term when they sponsored Freshman Convocation at which President Campbell spoke to the first year students, and the faculty formed an academic procession. The executive group also formulated the freshman orientation program, comprised of weekly meetings concerning the various aspects of university life.

Over 6,000 letters have been sent out by the Executive branch to all Florida State students. These letters concern the Student Life and Activity Test which is to be given Wednesday, Nov. 19 by a student committee. This student committee, in conjunction with a faculty committee, are polling the students for the benefit of the Faculty Committee on Study. They also have hopes of obtaining valuable data on all phases of student activity, which will produce new ideas for campus improvement.

IN ADDITION TO helping the Public Relations Office with Career Days by planning programs and acting as guides to the high school students, the steering committee of UGA is formulating plans for promoting more interest and a stronger feeling of belonging on the part of foreign and transfer students.

Progress and effectiveness have already marked the revamped executive department. With such strides in advancement, the fulfillment of highest goals should not be too far from sight.

Madame President

PRESIDENT SUMMERS—University Government Association President Mary Ruth Summers makes one of her many telephone calls as part of her work as administrative head of the student government.

Students' Voice Highly Valued In FSU Courts

Individuals Considered Before Rules; Human Element Ever-Present

One place where the students have a big voice is in the Judicial System of the University Government Association. Under this system there are three separate courts with appeal from one court to the other.

The highest court is the University Honor Court, which tries infractions of the Honor System—lying, cheating, and stealing. The Honor System is one of the traditions of which we are the proudest here at the University, and we are always striving to improve it. The University Court is made up of a chairman and eight members—four boys and four girls. This year the Chief Justice of the Court is June Tate. The members are Juniors, Nannette McClain, Pat Slater, Richard Jackson, Bob Wodrich and Seniors, Ellen Avis, Frankie Brownlee, Tommy Bowen, and Jim Smith.

THE JUDICIARY, the highest court, is made up of Jen's Judiciary and Women's Judiciary. The two courts meet separately unless the case involves both men and women. This court tries such cases as drunking among women or women not signing out to leave town. The Chairman of Judiciary this year is Perry Moore. The Court is made up of eighteen members—half boys and half girls. The members are sophomores, Lilian Avis, Dorothy Cooke, Carolyn Johnson, Ray Rogers, Bob Foley, and Bill Stancik; Juniors, Yvonne McCarthy, Patty Martin, James Crowther, Kirkman Britain; Senior, Salbe Grant. Dot Douglas, Joan Webb, David Hamlin, James Chatham, and Charles DeWitt Jones. The Chairman of Men's Judiciary is James Chatham.

The lower courts are the house councils in the women's dormitories which try infractions of house rules. The House Councils are made up of president, two vice presidents, floor chairmen, and social chairman of the dormitory; each dormitory has a house council.

In all your courts from the lowest to the highest the individual is always considered before the rule. The most important thing to the court is to help the individual. This is where we have one advantage over the courts of law. Being such a small community we can consider the person as a human being.

Meeting Will Come to Order

UNIVERSITY SENATE—Florida State lawmakers are shown in one of their regular Tuesday afternoon sessions, enacting the legislation which will govern the lives of the students who elected them.

UGA Senate Rolls Along To Mark FSU's Progress

By PHOEBE JACKSON

The wheels of the University Government Association Senate have been set in motion, and from the work accomplished since the first meeting on Oct. 21, it would seem that this 1952 legislative branch is a well-oiled machine.

OF VITAL IMPORTANCE to the students are the functions of this body, for the Senators, as representatives of the clients, pass rules, regulations and other measures affecting the welfare of the student body of this campus. In structure the legislature is divided into three branches: Men's Senate, which deals with rules and regulations affecting men only, is presided over by the Vice-President of Men's Affairs, Jim Dye; Women's Senate, dealing with problems affecting solely women students, is presided over by the Vice-President of Women's Affairs, June Conyers, and University Senate, which is the over-all governing body incorporating the two smaller branches, handles legislation affecting the student body as a whole. Milton Carruthers, Vice-President of Legislative Affairs, is the presiding officer of University Senate, and Marcia Morris, Secretary of UGA, serves as Senate secretary.

University Senate is sub-divided into various standing committees, with each Senator serving on one committee. The Rules Committee has already functioned this year by drawing up and presenting the Senate House Rules for 1952, which were adopted by the whole body. The Absentee Committee delegates regulations governing Senators' absences. For an excused absence a Senator must submit a previous written excuse.

MISS DAISY PARKER of the political science department is assisting the Constitutional Committee in its first responsibility of the year, which is to revise the present constitution including changes that were passed last year. The new document is soon to be printed for the use of the Senate.

Investigating and attempting to improve present regulations is the Regulations Committee. The group met recently with the courts in trying to restore certain cases to student jurisdiction and in clarification of rules concerning the whole student body.

THE SERVICES COMMITTEE investigates inadequate situations in student services and attempts to correct problems. A recent assignment was investigating the cafeteria prices and conditions.

Working with the heads of University Recreation Association are members of Senate Recreation Committee, who are attempting to subordinate URA under the jurisdiction of UGA.

The Committee on Education is formulating an idea to coordinate the Educational, Recreational, Services and Regulations Committees under one chairman.

A VERY IMPORTANT committee is that on Election Laws. It has put forth several suggestions for more effective election procedure, of which is to define to the study body the duties of each elected officer.

Senate also has the power of approving presidential appointments to fill vacancies in UGA offices. This year they have approved appointments for Tom Owen as Secretary of Recreation in the Cabinet; Merrill Moore Senior Men's Senator; Phoebe Jackson, Sophomore Women's Senator; James Chatham, Chair-

(Continued on Page 14)

Superb Service
Keeps Your Car In Tip-Top Shape
CALHOUN AMOCO SERVICE STATION
131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

"We Don't Know What To Say! (Believe it or not)
You've token the wind out of us, just like we hope you'll do the same out of the Purple Hurricanes.
So! You Come! We Come! Everybody Wel-come!
MAYERON'S
Gaines Ave. at Adams

SHOWING SUNDAY
2—6 P.M.
Beautiful Restricted Residential Lots
City Lights — Water — Available
FOREST HEIGHTS
SOUTH DIVISION
—Directions—
Go West on Tennessee Street, Then Turn North at the Cactus Motel Sign, Just West of Billups Service Station; Follow High Road to Tharpe Street.
GEORGE P. CROY, Agent

we salute F.S.U. on its continued progress .... and its alumni, assembled here this week end....
The Vogue

UGA Senate

(Continued From Page 13)

man of Men's Judiciary; Gene Nabi, Senior Member of Judiciary; June McGill, Junior Member of Judiciary; Jim Couch, Editor of the Pow Wow and Elizabeth Hill, Honorary Senior Representative to Honor Court. Bob Drake has been appointed to act as resident Pro-Tem of Senate, and Senate Chaplain is to be appointed soon.

SENATE IS sending two delegates to the National Student Association Convention in Miami over the Thanksgiving holidays to observe and report on this organization. On Nov. 15 Homecoming nuts will have an opportunity to meet the Senators when they act as hostesses at the UGA open house in the Longmire Building.

Senior members of Senate include Anice Spencer, Terry Stein, Barbara Thomas, Bob Drake, Jim Evans and Merrell Moore. Juniors are Jackie Keaton, Pat Renick, Judy Stanton, Connie English, Charles McDaniel and Charlie Wilford.

Sophomore Senators are Charlie Coulter, Joan Deiner, Phoebe Jackson, Donnie Hollis, Gene Lawler and Wayne Terry. The five recently elected freshmen Senators include Nancy Graham, Joan Halford, Harriet Lowe, Dick Bittner, Graham Carothers and Corie Moore.

Dance Tickets On Sale Today Until 2 P.M.

Tickets for the Homecoming Dance, presenting the swing and sway music of Sammy Kaye, will be on sale until 2 p.m. this afternoon," according to Bill Skipper. The tickets, which are $1.50 each, are being sold at the following places on campus: the Seminole Club lobby, the lobby of the Bookstore in the Student Center, and at the Bus stop directly behind Wescott.

Although there will be a limited number of tickets sold at the dance, students should buy their's now and eliminate any chance of being unable to attend the big affair. The maximum number of tickets to be sold is 2,000

THE COMMITTEE announced that there has been an increase in ticket sales over those of past years and from all indications this year's Homecoming Dance is going to be the biggest and best that F.S.U. has ever had.

An overflow dance will also be held in the Women's Gymnasium to accomodate the large crowd which is expected. Music will be provided by the Regent's Orchestra. All couples attending the regular dance will be stamped and be entitled to attend the dance at Gymnasium upon presenting their stamp. Admission to the overflow dance is 50 cents.

Mother and Daughter

ALUMNI RELATIONS—Mrs. Milton Parker, class of 1911, and her daughter, Miss Idella Parker, class of 1949, meet together in the Alumni Office to talk over old college memories, one of FSCW, and the other of FSU.

Homecoming to Feature Reunion Of Family as Well as Classes

Homecoming 1952 at Florida State University will turn into a small family reunion for the Parkers of Tallahassee.

MRS. MILTON PARKER and Miss Idella Parker, both graduates of the University were members of the classes of 1911 and 1949 respectively. Both their classes will hold reunions at Homecoming this year. Mrs. Parker, who will be remembered by her classmates as Omeres Holloway was president of her senior class.

Another member of the family tree, Mary Emily nee Mrs. H. G. Hutchinson of Falls Church, Va., will be unable to attend the reunion of her class of 1939. She also claims the distinction of having been the president of her class.

ADDING TO THE "Ripley-ish" "Believe It or Not" proportions of the occasion, a third daughter, Dorothy nee Mrs. Ed Farrel of Jacksonville was a member of the class of 1940.

Idella is the only member of the family who attended FSU as a co-ed. She joined the ranks of the "Suite Seminoles" during her last two years at school when Florida State College for Women became Florida State University by legislative act.

MOTHER AND ALL three daughters followed a similar pattern by earning degrees on the same campus and as members of the same sorority Alpha Delta Pi. Mrs. Parker became an ADPi in 1910 a year after the local chapter was organized. Meetings were held in the Tower Room of East Hall as there were no sorority houses in those "dark days" and only two dormitories, East Hall and Bryan Hall.

In addition to AD Pi the three other interests on campus included Kappa Delta, Chi Omega and Alpha Kappa Psi, later absorbed by Delta Delta.

BACK IN THE days when Mrs. Parker was a college girl there were 200 students. Morning chapel with a Bible reading was a daily practice. Not so like the co-eds of today whose morning service consists of a mad dash out of bed, a quick run of the comb through tangled hair and ten minutes for a cup of coffee and a cigarette.

Physical Education, called Gym then was compulsory as now, but for four full years. Now days a gal is lucky if she can pull through two years without losing a couple of teeth. (We're only kidding, Dr. Mondtomery) Those were the days!

CLASSES in what then corresponded to our Speech courses, called expression afforded the student who excelled an automatic membership in the Dramatic Club.

"Dates," and we use the term loosely, were a student-faculty affair. Only upperclassmen, juniors and seniors, were allowed out with men, and the evening was properly spent with a member of the faculty chaperoning. It's hard to imagine a girl, in the back seat of a fellow's car discussiblt. sap, geology and rock formations with her professor in the front seat inspecting newly acquired samples from the local rock quarry. Fascinating, what?

W. M. HOLLOWAY, Mrs. Parker's father, was state superintendent of education from 1905-1913. He was instrumental in passage of the Buckman Bill in 1905. In that year, Miss Omeres Holloway entered FSCW prep school and had Miss Roberta Lansdale for an English teacher. Miss Lonsmire was to become a member of FSCW faculty and her name still lives on the campus of Florida State in Lonsmire Building a living memorial in her honor.

IN 1941, a year that marked an absence of Parkers from college, Mrs. Parker came to the front and saved the day by enrolling in and completing 30 hours of graduate work in Child Psychology for obvious reasons. She also took grad work in Botany because of Garden Club interests and had to see how much she retained after thirty years. took mathematics. The result: she knew more than when she started those years before.

Idella, unwilling to leave her alma mater has remained on FSU campus since receiving her BS in Commerce as a secretary in the School of Education.

BOTH MOTHER and daughter are looking forward to the many events of Homecoming. 1952 with experience and plan to make the Alumni Breakfast a highlight in their unique "private" celebration.

Demonstration Club Committee Officers Plan Council Meet

The executive committee of the State Council of Senior Home Demonstration Work conducted meetings recently at Florida State University.

REPRESENTING 38 counties and extending home demonstration work in 51 of the state's 67 counties, the State Council officers and members met with advisors for the first time together since the inception of the organization.

The group met in closed sessions in the Faculty lounge of Longmire building and in the State Home Demonstration Office on West Campus attending performances of Gymkana in the evenings.

MISS ANNE MAE SIKES, State Home Demonstration Agent, feted the group with a party at her home Friday evening.

Plans were made for the annual State Home Demonstration Council meeting July 13-17 at the University of Florida. Also formulated were plans for a state-wide program of work for the Council.

The home demonstration work is supervised by the U. S. Department of Agriculture the State Agriculture Extension Service and the land grant universities at Tallahassee and Gainesville.

Women's F Club Lays RR Tracks For Decorations

This year's Westcott decorations, traditionally handled by the Women's F Club, are designed for all the alumni coming back who want another look at the famous Westcott fountain, which in previous years has been covered by copious decorations.

The women of the club, who built the decorations under the leadership of Frances Pulley, constructed a train around the fountain, leaving the water on and the alumni the chance to say hello in the goldfish exam.

THE TRAIN that circles the fountain is headed by an engine labeled the "Campbell Special," Pres. Doak S. Campbell runs the special as engineer.

On the coal car ride Dean of Women Katherine Warren, Dean of Men Otis McBride and Dean of Student Welfare J. Broward Culpepper, and another can loaded FSCW has alumni inside, while FSU smoker has two Indians on top sending smoke signals of purple hurricanes.

LIONS 12 FELLOWS ride on one carload of books, which range from the topic of sex to more erudite subjects. A male FSU student chases a pretty Seminole on the top of another car, loaded

The state decorations, also handled by Women's F Club, was done under the chairmanship of Kye Starbard. A Sammy and Susie Seminole flank the gate with a sign of welcome bridging the two. The words of the sign are spelled out by the smoke of the peace pipes of two football players.

In the past 26 years the amount of money spent for agricultural extension service work among Negroes in 17 Southern states have more than tripled.

Lecturer

Richard Neutra

FSU Artist Series Presents Architect in Second Program

The second attraction of the Florida State University Artist Series will be held Wednesday Nov. 19 at 8:15 p.m. in the Augusta Conradi Theater, with the presentation of Mr. Richard Neutra, architect.

Born 40 years ago in Vienna, Neutra was educated in the Universities of Vienna and Zurich, coming to the United States in 1923 to work under the American architect Frank Lloyd Wright.

Since that time, Neutra, building with originality and success, has won esteem and awards in the United States and many other countries. He has contributed to contemporary planning and design with his school plants, housing developments, hospitals residences and projects.

According to experts, Neutra's international reputation has resied mainly on useful, progressive service to the people.

Tickets tio the lecture are currently beine distributed to students on presentation of their ID cards in the PRO office in the Longmire Building. Monday, the remaining tickets will be distributed to the general public free of charge.

The architect has lectured at Princeton, Columbia, Harvard, Yale and other universities as well as in museums in Europe, Asia, and South America. Neutra served as chairman of the California State Planning Board, national consultant to several departments of the Federal Government, and delegate to national and international architectural congresses.

BAPTIST OPEN HOUSE

The Baptist Student House will be the scene of an open house after the Homecoming Game tomorrow according to Jo Ann Setzer, who is in charge. There will also be a hay ride that evening.

Spend Your Weekends At
HOTEL QUINCY, QUINCY FLORIDA
Only 18 Miles From Campus
Special Room Rates Friday, Saturday, and Sunday
Air Conditioned, Automatic Elevator
Double Occupancy at Single Rate
Circulating Ice Water, Free Parking
Excellent Cuisine Every Day
Lunch from 65c Dinner from $1 00
Call For Reservations
Phone 678 Quincy, Florida
HOTEL QUINCY, QUINCY FLORIDA

Welcome Home Alumni
Best of Wishes
For a Great
HOMECOMING
Martin's Rx Drugs
210 & 212 S. Adams 3-1210

WELCOME ALUMNI
FLORIDA
SPECIAL PRE-RELEASE ENGAGEMENT
NOW SHOWING
On the Screen in Lost... MIGHTIEST of SPECTACLES!
IVANHOE
TAYLOR - TAYLOR
FONTAINE
SANDERS - WILLIAMS
MAT.—60c EVE.—74c CHILDREN ALL DAY—25c
Feature Starts at: 1:30—3:20—5:25—7:30—9:30
AIR CONDITIONED
STATE Theatre
NOW SHOWING THRU TUESDAY
ADULTS—44c CHILD—14c
GARY COOPER
SPRINGFIELD RIFLE
WarnerColor
with PHYLLIS THAXTER - DAVID BRIAN DRIVE-IN Theatre
TONITE & SAT.
WILD BILL ELLIOT
in
"WACO"
—SECOND FEATURE—
ANN BLYTH
in
"GOLDEN HORDE"
RITZ
TODAY & SAT.
ROD CAMERON
in
"FORT OSAGE"
—SECOND FEATURE—
GEORGE BRENT
in
"MAN BAIT"

Welcome Home Alumni!
After the Game
Come in and Enjoy
• CHICKEN DINNERS
• FILET MIGNON
• STEAKS & CHOPS
• SPAGHETTI & MEAT BALLS
• FRIED JUMBO SHRIMP
You'll Like 'Em
M and N CAFE
119 EAST JEFFERSON ST.

Welcome Home Grads!
SHAW'S SHAWS

Meet You at Homecoming in..
The finest of food, expertly prepared at prices specially aimed to fit the students budget . . .
For free delivery phone 3-0659.
THE MECCA

Association Board Praises Baking Science and M'gmt

The programs and development in the Department of Baking Science and Management, now in its second year of operation at Sally State, drew praise from the Board of Governors of the Southern Bakers Association during the board's quarterly meeting in Panama recently.

Dr. Dan S. Campbell, FSU president, in discussing with the board members proposed further development of the University's program to provide college trained bakery executives for the baking industry said some new baking equipment would soon be installed to replace the present obsolete equipment.

He said installation of the new equipment would serve the dual purpose of providing the Sally Hall with their bakery equipment needs and also as a practical training laboratory in baking science and management.

Explanation of academic and laboratory training, he pointed out, provides the students with a highly effective program of instruction.

The President assured the baking executives, representing the entire Southern baking industry, that the University would do its part toward meeting the needs of the industry for college trained personnel.

RAYMOND B. STREB, Raleigh, N. C., association president, termed the collegiate program of future baking industry executives at FSU the "fulfillment of a dream come true." He expressed appreciation to President Campbell and other University officials for their interest in providing the opportunities for young men and women to major in bakery science and management. He said the opportunity to visit the campus and see first hand the progress being made has been of much inspiration to board members.

Dr. A. B. Martin, FSU vice-president, Dr. J. Frank Dame, dean of the School of Business, and Dr. L. A. Rumsey, head of the department of baking science and management, joined in the welcome to the visiting baking executives. Dr. Rumsey presided at the luncheon meeting.

Prior to the luncheon, the board members were taken for an inspection tour of the classroom and laboratory facilities provided for students majoring in baking science and management. After their afternoon business meeting in the Suwannee room, the board members met the students personally during an informal reception in the Student Center.

Campbell Receives Flags From 4-H

As another of its many campus services, the Florida State branch of the Association for Childhood Education, is sponsoring a "Baby-Sitting Project" in co-operation with the PTA of the Demonstration School.

Each month a student chairman, along with a faculty sponsor, plans a program in the classrooms of the Demonstration School for the children of parents attending the PTA meeting. On November 4, Jennie Ciccarello, Student Chairman, and Mrs Finck, Faculty Sponsor, prepared a full hour of entertainment for three age groups: three to five; six to seven; and eight to 11 years of age.

The following ACE members participated in the project for this month: Jacqueline Skipper, Margaret Ann Nash, Jean D. Williams, Ann Blitch, Anne Caro, Sylvia Marini, Betty Jean Cromartie, Babs Ruth, Anice Spencer, Jeannette Cox and Joan Cunningham.

Fla. State Represented By William Guy Davis

William Guy Davis, Florida State senior, will be one of the Seniors to appear on the program of the 36th annual meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce in Jacksonville Nov. 16-18.

Rollins, University of Tampa, University of Florida, University of Miami, Florida Southern and Stetson will also be represented in the discussion of what college Seniors think of certain aspects of the economic world.

Maid Entrant

Ruthie Garst

Former Grad Plays In 'Character' Parts In Motion Pictures

Quite a number of FSU and FSCW graduates have made names for themselves in "hard, cold" world and FSCW grad Nancy Kulp is no exception. Miss Kulp is now under contract to Twentieth Century Fox film corporation but admits she's "just in the character ranks."

Early this year, Miss Kulp appeared in the magic city of Miami for the world premiere of "The Witch starred Jeanne Crain, Celia Ritter and Scott Bardy. The story concerned a marriage broker getting mates for her clients. Nancy Kulp played a client.

TO DESCRIBE her to you would require a vivid imagination for besides a vibrant and humorous personality Miss Kulp is not on to be called "pretty" . . . she won't let you.

"My job," she said "is not to be pretty . . . it's to be a sort of man-chaser."

THE OLDEST PART of the "one-to-fame" story of Nancy Kulp is that she didn't want to be an actress. She majored in journalism in FSCW and had a career going in that field working in Miami at the Miami Daily News . . . then under Michael Wolfson of the Wometco theater chain which releases Fox films in that vicinity.

"I didn't want to be in the movies . . . I just went to Hollywood to deliver some contracts to the Fox corporation . . . when I saw it to the man . . . he said . . . 'You're just right for the part of the tall-attractive girl looking for a suitor. After seeing the make-up man, who didn't have much to do to make me homely, I was cast."

Asked if she's going to give up motion pictures and return to Miami Nancy replied, Although I think Florida has it all over California. I'm going to stay there . . . where my husband is!"

RUTHIE GARST ENTERED

Cotton Maid to Tour Europe

Friday, November 14, 1952 THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU 15

If Ruthie Garst, Florida State's 20-year-old Senior, wins the Maid of Cotton contest in which she is entered, she will have the most extensive European visit in the history of the Maid of Cotton tour. She stops at three Canadian cities, and appearances in at least 27 major U. S. cities.

The girl who is chosen to serve King Cotton as his fashion and goodwill ambassadress will fly to Paris on a swift Air France luxury flight. She will spend six days there and then will visit three other European capitals to be announced later by the Cotton Council.

THE CANADIAN journey will include visits to Montreal, Toronto and Hamilton. The 1953 Maid will be the second to visit Canada in behalf of the U. S. cotton industry. Pretty Pat Mullarkey, 1952 Maid of Cotton, spent two weeks in Canada last June.

The lucky girl who is selected to carry the cotton industry's colors in 1953 will travel from coast to coast across the United States. The U. S. cities she will visit include New York, Miami, Birmingham, New Orleans, Houston, Dallas, El Paso, Phoenix, Los Angeles, San Francisco, major cities in the San Joaquin Valley, Omaha and Cleveland.

ALSO WASHINGTON, Philadelphia, Boston, Charlotte, Columbus, Ga., Atlanta, Jackson, Miss., Memphis, Denver, Des Moines, St. Paul, Chicago and Detroit.

The girl who will make this thrilling journey for the American cotton industry will be chosen at Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 20-30. Entries are still being received.

THE CONTEST is open to any girl born in a cotton-producing state, who is between the ages of 19 and 25, has never been married, and is at least five feet, five inches tall. Information and contest entry forms can be obtained from the National Cotton Council, Box 12, Memphis, Tenn. All entries must be postmarked no later than midnight, Dec. 1, to be eligible.

Contest officials point out that applicants will be judged on the basis of personality, poise, intelligence and background, as well as beauty. They stress that the Maid of Cotton competition is not a beauty contest, but that other qualifications will be given equal consideration.

THE 1953 MAID will be the 10th to make the breathtaking cotton tour. The Maid of Cotton and overseas contest and tour are sponsored annually by the National Cotton Council, the Cotton Exchanges of Memphis, New York and New Orleans and the Memphis Cotton Carnival Association.

During the course of her six-month tour, 1952 Maid of Cotton Pat Mullarkey traveled more than 65,000 miles to show the smartest cottons of the season in all-cotton fashion shows and to deliver the cotton industry's greetings to government and civic leaders at home.

University Bank Open

The University Bank will be open this morning from 8 10 until 11:30, but will not be open during the afternoon due to Homecoming celebrations.

Sherwin-Williams & Co.

Salutes...

FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY ON THEIR 101st Homecoming

Scalp 'Em Seminoles

Sherwin - Williams Co.
304 S. Monroe 2-5614

Welcome To

FSU's Homecoming

If You Are Interested in Sports You Want to Visit Us

BUDDY'S

Hardware and Sporting Goods

203 S. Monroe 2-8357

9 Tappa Keg

Cordially Invites You to Join Them at the Game

1st Quarter
2nd Quarter
Half
3rd Quarter
4th Quarter
5th

AFTER EFFECTS !!

STUDENTS!

Make $25.00 189 AWARDS LAST YEAR!

Write a Lucky Strike jingle!

No box tops! NO ENTRY BLANKS! It's easy!

Just write a 4-line jingle based on the fact that

LUCKIES ARE MADE BETTER TO TASTE BETTER!*

Here's your chance to make yourself $25. Just write a 4-line Lucky Strike jingle, based on the fact that Luckies are *made better to taste better. Then, if we select your jingle, we'll pay you for the right to use it, together with your name, in Lucky Strike advertising . . . probably in this paper.

Read the sample jingles on this page. Then get the gang together, break out the rhyming dictionary, and start writing. It's fun! And we're buying jingles by the bushel!

Hint—if you can sing your jingle, it's a good one!

Hint—the more jingles you write, the more money you have a chance of making.

Hint—be sure to read all the instructions!

I've heard the same in every class— in history, psych, and economics. For cleaner, fresher, smoother smokes, it's Lucky Strike, by heck!

I like a better-tasting smoke. And mildness counts with me. So when I buy, I keep in mind that L.S./M.F.T.

HERE ARE THE INSTRUCTIONS

1. Write your Lucky Strike jingle on a plain piece of paper or post card and send it to Happy-Go-Lucky, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y. Be sure that your name, address, college and class are included—and that they are legible.

2. Base your jingle on any qualities of Luckies. "Luckies are made better to taste better," is only one. (See "Tips to money-makers.")

3. Every student of any college, university or post-graduate school may submit jingles.

4. You may submit as many jingles as you like. Remember, you are eligible to win more than one $25 award.

TIPS TO MONEY-MAKERS

To write a winning Lucky Strike jingle, you're not limited to "Luckies are made better to taste better." Use any other sales points on Lucky Strike such as the following:

L.S./M.F.T.
Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco
Luckies' cigarette-tearing demonstration
Luckies taste cleaner, fresher, smoother
Be Happy—Go Lucky
So round, so firm, so fully packed
So free and easy on the draw
Buy Luckies by the carton
Luckies give you deep-down smoking enjoyment

COPR., THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

WELCOME TO HOMECOMING

SINCE 1837 . . . we have been growing with Tallahassee and FLORIDA State University . . . it is with great pride that we watch the university forge to the front in the educational field on this their 101st birthday.

P. W. Wilson Co.

Since 1837

Pre-Game, Half Time Shows Schedule Varied Entertainment for Tomorrow

Pre-game and half-time shows will feature novel and varied entertainment at the Florida State University-Furman Homecoming football game tomorrow afternoon.

The Air ROTC band will lead the pre-game ceremonies onto the field immediately followed by the Color Guard. Flag-raising will be accompanied by the band and the spectators singing the "Star Spangled Banner" which will officially mark the opening of the game.

Close order drill by the Army Ordnance drill team will present unusual formations.

Following the close-order drill, the queen's float, including the queen and her escort, will appear on the field and will make a complete circle of the gridiron, following close to the stands while the band accompanies with appropriate music. This will mark the end of the pre-game exhibitions and the game will commence.

Sometime during the first half of the game, Coach Jack Haskins will announce the winners of the float and decorations contests over the loudspeaker.

Half-time show will blast onto the field in a rousing array of "whooping-it-up" with the FSU Marching Chiefs and Majorettes leading the procession.

The majorettes will then present a sun-vored-jupers scene in a colorful showing of new costumes and brightly decorated props.

The Marching Chiefs will then form a huge "HOW" and play a selection in welcome for the returning FSU Alumni.

An Indian head is featured in the next formation which will be followed by a welcome to the Alumni and honored guests by Dr. Doak S. Campbell from his box in the stands.

After the welcome, the performers will form a teepee on the field and accompany it with a rendition of "By the Waters of Minnetonka." This will be followed by the formation of a huge tomahawk with a version of the FSU Fight Song done in "Tom Tom" tempo.

The Band and majorettes then do a quick-stepping war dance to the tune of their own music. This will be followed by a Victory dance solo by Gail Tomlinson, acrobatic majorette, to the tune of "Pale Moon".

The final formation takes the shape of an Indian canoe which "floats" down the field to the tune of "Indian Love Call."

Final musical selection will be the FSU Alma Mater which will close the program.

Welcome To

Homecoming

WELCOME HOME ALUMNI

While You're in Town Be Sure and Visit Your Favorite Eating Place

Busy Bee Cafe

106 South Monroe

Oil Paint Exhibit Will Be Featured At FS Art Gallery

An art exhibit of 26 oil paintings by 21 contemporary American artists, known as a Southern Tour and sponsored by Contemporary Arts, Inc., New York City, opened in the Florida State University Art Gallery recently.

The Saturday hours are 12:30 to 5 p. m. The exhibition will be open to the public through Sunday, Nov. 30, with the exception of Mondays, and is expected to attract Homecoming visitors this coming weekend.

A versatile mosaic is offered, truly American in the wide range of techniques, country and city influences, both primitive and sophisticated accents, realism along with expressionism. On the whole great attention has been given to texture, color and relationship of forms.

Two paintings by Miss Florence Kawa of the FSU Art faculty make a strong appeal. "City Shapes" is a striking lineal study in design with clean cut color appeal. Her "Violet Patch", an earlier painting also has that quality of meticulous design.

Joseph Gushlee's "Rooftops" is outstanding for its texture qualities and nice planes. Perhaps the boldest painting is George Peter's "Table Top Still Life." It is very modern with its vivid yellows and purples, impressionistic, definitely personal.

Young Democrats, Theta Chi's Team Win Annual Debate

The winning affirmative team in the Fourth Annual Intramural Debate Tournament was the Young Democrats composed of Phil Sprunger and Eugene Lawler. Theta Chi, represented by Tom Woods and Herbert Lacaya, Jr., was the best negative team with a record of three wins and one loss.

Sprunger and Lawler achieved the honor of being the only undefeated team in the tournament with a record of four wins and no losses. Theta Chi was ranked as the best fraternity team in the tournament.

THE PROPOSITION for this year's debate tournament, which came to a close on Tuesday night, Nov. 11, was: Resolved, That the federal government should enact a compulsory fair employment practice law.

Other teams with a record of three wins and one defeat were: Phi-Kay, Carol Brannon and Harold LaVay; Sophomores, Lou Rene Voges and David Dreis; and AB's, Amos Cobbey and Bill Twyford. Each of these teams debated the affirmative side of the question.

Lou Rene Voges received the highest individual speaker's rating among the thirty-six participants of the tournament. Her composite rating was 4.25 out of a possible 5 points a mark achieved earlier only by Arlene Amend in 1949.

The championship of the entire tournament will be decided on Thursday evening, Nov. 20, when the Young Democrats debate the Theta Chi's over WFSU. Three judges will be present to render a verdict at the conclusion of the debate.

Professor to Hold Seminar on Friday

Mr. James W. Fitzgibbon, Associate Professor in the North Carolina State College School of Design, for many years a close associate of Buckminster Fuller whose dramatic experiments in plastic "sky breaks" were reported in New York Times Magazine recently, will meet all interested students in an informal seminar in Room 312 Westcott, today at 11:00 a. m.

Professor Fitzgibbon, who is coming to Tallahassee to address the Florida Association of Architects, will visit the campus at the invitation of Dr. Charles S. Davis, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

THE CAREER of Professor Fitzgibbon includes many avant garde assignments in architecture and its related engineering problems. He holds a graduate degree in architecture from the University of Pennsylvania and is a member of outstanding national and regional associations of architects.

The subject of discussion on Friday morning is shen announced as "Problems in Contemporary Building." Mr. Fitzgibbon will illustrate the study period with slides of experimental work with which he has been associated.

State Official Addresses Class On Retirement System's Merits

State operated retirement systems for teachers and state officers and employees were outlined recently to a class at Florida State University studying public administration problems of Florida by the retirement system's directors.

KERMIT FARRIS, executive secretary of the Teachers' Retirement System of Florida, explained the provisions provided by law for retirement. He said there are about 23,000 participating in the 12-year-old retirement plan which now has accumulated assets totaling $28,922,591 as of last June.

The primary function of his office, according to the speaker, is that of accounting in keeping a current and accurate record of each of the participating members. Administration of this system is vested by state law in the State Board of Education and two teacher members appointed by the Governor.

THE STATE OFFICIAL said the system operates on a cash disbursements basis with funds appropriated bi-annually by the Legislature.

The speaker further explained that the monthly retirement compensation derived by the years of service, multiplied by two percent, multiplied by the employees' average salary for the last ten years, and divided by 12 was computed in a complicated manner.

BOTH SPEAKERS were introduced by Angus Laird, director of the state merit system and part time faculty member of FSU in the School of Public Administration.

Tallahassee Wears Festive Wardrobe

Downtown Tallahassee has put on a festive garnet and gold dress for Florida State's Homecoming. Stores have decorated their windows with banners welcoming alumni and the opposing team.

Streetlamps have been bound in translucent panels which were bought by the City, and painted in Homecoming designs and sayings by the art department under the head of Dr. Edmund Lewandowski. These panels feature slogans welcoming alumni, with footballs, Seminoles, football players and other college themes.

ONE OF THE MOST outstanding window displays is at Mayron's, a shop of women's apparel. The window has a large teepee, with a manequin dressed in Indian attire. Behind the teepee is a male dummy busily mixing up a concoction to kill Furman players. On the other side, lying on the ground with the end of an FSU pennant on top of him, is a Furman football player, who has made the mistake of taking FSU's medicine. The recipe for the potent stuff consists of 11 football players and "a town full of Homecoming spirit."

Another unique display is at the Lewis State Bank, where totem poles are on the door. Inside the lobby there is a goal post decorated in Florida State colors, from which bank officials plan to hang an Indian headdress and football.

Station WFSU Works Hard

By MARGARET PARHAM
WFSU Station Manager

Throughout the planning, the work, and the putting-heads-together that finally emerges a full-fledged Homecoming at FSU, WFSU, the campus radio station, has taken part. Its coverage will continue throughout Friday and Saturday, with its special Homecoming feature contribution, the broadcast of the Homecoming Dance Saturday night, with Sammy Kaye and his orchestra.

A particular service of WFSU along with the Flambeau has been its use as a central clearing ground for announcements about Homecoming. Through it any number of details such as time and place of committee meetings or change of date or personnel in this or that have been handled. The general enthusiasm, the color and excitement this week-end deserves has gotten full play in some of the coverage given Homecoming over the radio station.

Staff members are frequently in dual capacities, carrying on their regular work at the station and doubling as members of committees, as MC's toastmasters, as members of decoration crews. Mac McCall, Production Manager, is serving on the Dance and hospitality committees as well as MC for the Pow Wow. Bob Duke is Program Director, is serving as chairman of the Float committee and Toastmaster for the Game and Gold Key Banquet. Margaret Parham, Manager, is on publicity committee. Other staff members have been busy working on decorations all over the campus.

"The BIG Game"

WELCOME

ALUMNI

FSU - Furman

2:00 P. M.—Doak S. Campbell Stadium

LEON HARDWARE CO.

110 East Pensacola

Telephone 2-4440 Opposite Capitol

Are the Folks Coming Over For the Weekend?

GET THEM A RESERVATION AT THE UNIVERSITY MOTEL

It's Brand New and Convenient

Only Four Blocks From the Campus and Seven Blocks From Downtown

431 WEST TENNESSEE

On U.S. 90 and Fla. 20 Phone 2-2081

Owned and Managed by John and Norma Marr

Cheer With The WARPATH CLUB

● The University Pep Club Invites You to Join in Boosting the SEMINOLES.

● The Booster Section and Card Section,, to be introduced at the Homecoming Game, are Sponsored by the Warpath Club, in Cooperation with the Senior Class.

Join The WARPATH CLUB

Meeting Thursday Night 8:30

Longmire Auditorium

Student Activity Poll Offered Tomorrow
See Page One

Florida Flambeau

NSA Regional Head Speaks Here Tomorrow
See Lead Story

VOL. XXXIX, No. 17 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1952

Students Released For Exam Tomorrow

UGA Poll Largest Project Undertaken, To Cover Every Phase of Campus Life

Tomorrow students will be excused in two-hour shifts from classes to take a Student Information Questionnaire undertaken this year by the University Government Association.

ONE OF THE largest projects undertaken by the UGA this year is the results of the combined efforts of faculty and student committees.

Created by the University Study Committees need for an accurate conclusion covering every phase of campus life, the poll touches on such subjects as social and personal life, student activities, organizations, university policies and rules and regulations. The poll results will provide the Study Committee with an extensive evaluation and self-study of the entire university, giving a picture of student participation and opinion in all campus organizations and university rules and policies.

LETTERS OF EXPLANATION are appointment cards, informing us the time and place for the individual body and notices have been sended each member of the selected body and notices have been mail on all classes.

Locations for administration of the poll include Conradi Theatre, Seminole Auditorium, Opperman Music Hall and the old and new science lecture halls. Students know names include those from A to Gore have been assigned the hours 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. tomorrow morning. Names from Gosnell to James Oliver will take the test from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and those by James from Katherine Oliver to Z will take their poll from 2 until 4 tomorrow afternoon.

MARY RUTH SUMMERS, president of UGA, serves as chairman of the steering committee assisted by Bob Drake, Marcia Morris, Bill Sims, Margaret Jean Parham, Bob Ryals and Ted Steinmeyer.

The faculty committee is headed by Dr. Ralph L. Witherspoon. Other members include Dr. W. P. Bixler, Miss Grace Fox, Dr. Paul E. Nevi, Coach O. M. Haskins, Miss Elisabeth Lynn, and Miss Rita Thomas. Dr. Ralph C. Smith, Dr. W. C. Harter, Dr. J.M. Fass Jr., and Dr. H. L. Frick.

ROTC Officers Are Announced

Fourth Year Cadets Receive Appointments

Cadet officers for the year 1952-53 have been appointed, announced the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps at Florida State University recently.

THE NEWLY-APPOINTED officers were selected from a large group of fourth year ROTC students who had completed successfully two years of basic and one year of advanced training.

Wing officers include Commander, Cadet Colonel Walter A. Baldwin; Executive, Cadet Lt. Colonel James L. Brady; Operations, Cadet Lt. Colonel Fred Baxter; Materiel, Cadet Lt. Colonel William V. Holloway and Adjutant, Cadet Lt. Colonel Benson L. Skelton.

GROUP 1 INCLUDES Commander, Cadet Merrill Moore; Executive, Cadet Lt. Colonel Fred W. Hoover; Operations, Cadet Lt. Colonel Robert B. Wynne; Materiel, Cadet Major Jimmie L. Patronis and Adjutant, Cadet Major Ted Steinmeyer.

Group 2 includes Commander, Cadet Colonel Kent W. Hehering; Executive, Cadet Lt. Colonel Duane A. Gordon; Operations, Cadet Lt. Colonel Robert P. O'Connell; Materiel, Cadet Lt. Colonel Joseph B. Bachmann and Adjutant, Cadet Major Angus C. Craft.

HEADQUARTERS Squadron officers are Commander, Cadet Lt. Colonel Ronald D. McConnell; Deputy Commander, Cadet Major John D. Sharp; Flight Leader, Cadet Captain William P. Cox.

Squadron A through G include Commanders Cadet Lt. Colonel Glenn T. Allen, Jr.; Cadet Lt. Colonel Bill Wilhemsen; Cadet Lt. Colonel John H. Quinn; Cadet Lt. Colonel William T. Edwards; Cadet Lt. Colonel Edward E. Seagram; Cadet Lt. Colonel William H. Petry and Cadet Lt. Colonel William B. Fletcher.

FLIGHT LEADERS in Squadron A through G include Cadet Captain Frank H. Hirt, Cadet Captain Ashley M. Coatin, Cadet Captain Donald R. Hutchison, Cadet Captain John K. Brown.

CADET CAPTAIN Finley M. McCullough, Cadet Captain Gene G. Jones, Cadet Captain Bobby Drake, Cadet Captain Robert P. Drake and Cadet Captain Ralph W. Hanks.

Cadet Captain Warren P. Dolan, Cadet Captain Ronald F. Pickett, Cadet Captain Robert C. Hughes, Cadet Captain Robert L. McCollister and Cadet Captain Lewis L. Wessels.

Assistant Flight Leaders include Cadet First Lt. Michael S. Vredenburgh, Cadet First Lt. Gary O. McKenzie, Cadet First Lt. William D. Dunn, Cadet First Lt. Donald G. Boudreaux and Cadet First Lt. Roy L. Thompson.

CADET FIRST LT. John C. Burnett, Cadet First Lt. Richard Turk, Cadet First Lt. Victor J. Szczepanik, Cadet First Lt. Raymond Iver and Cadet First Lt. Charles B. Hennessey.

Also, Cadet First Lt. Hugh B. Weaver, Cadet First Lt. Charles R. Carey, Cadet First Lt. James M. Yadon and Cadet First Lt. Travis J. Barnes.

Famed Lecturers Supplement FSU Library School

Internationally important lecturers will supplement the school of library service at Florida State University this quarter, Dr. Louis Round Wilson, dean of the school announced.

RECENTLY RETURNED to the Florida State campus after many months of study and research in Europe, Dr. Wilson, a Fulbright Grant, Dr. Shores is impressed with the place of libraries in the World War I which he thinks may never be fought physically. To Europe he says libraries are the "arm's mind" which is being controlled by our Information Centers. Dr. Shores is also interested in the widespread student interest here in library service Library Leadership. Hence the lecture series.

First on the series will be Dan Lacy, director of the Information Center Service, U. S. Department of State, Washington, D. C. who will speak on Foreign Library Service at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 18, in the Science Lecture Hall.

LACY HAS a vitally important job as head of the Department of State's International Information Center Service, the organization of America's Campaign of Truth which maintains 186 Information Centers in 61 foreign countries. The Centers, patterned after American public libraries, are carrying the story of the United States, its people and its brand of democracy to millions of people overseas in the fight against Communism.

A native Virginian, Lacy served for years with the Library of Congress where many of his duties were in the international field. Recently he has been with ECA which has been especially concerned with international relations, including the procurement of materials from abroad, establishment of informational exchanges and the exchange of persons for training and research purposes.

THE FIRST CHAIRMAN of the board of directors of the United States Book Exchange to be now (Continued on Page 6)

We Proudly Present

HOMECOMING QUEEN—Marlies Gessler, FSU freshman, was crowned Queen of the 1952 Homecoming festivities at the traditional Pow Wow Friday night in Conradi Theatre. Queen and court were presented again between halves at the football game Saturday afternoon.

Freshman Crowned '52 Queen Of FSU Homecoming Weekend

Marlies Gessler, native of Poland, won Florida State's Homecoming Queen title this weekend, and with it a lot of state publicity on a "shining example" of the American way of life in which a former inmate of a Nazi children's camp can become the elected queen of an American University.

Marlies, a freshman, had been Homecoming Queen during her first year in the states, when she became a Senior at Jefferson High School in Monticello. She is an art major and also a circus worker. Sponsored by Sigma Alpha Epsilon, her escort was Neville Malloy.

Other members of the royal court were Barbara Brewton, Sigma Nu candidate escorted by Floyd Poor; June Conyers, Sigma Phi Epsilon, with escort, Tommy Bowen; Judy Ellis, Kappa Alpha, with escort L. Bruce Smith and Dot Johnson, Phi Delta, escorted by Steve Bailey.

The Homecoming queen received her crown from 1951 Homecoming Queen Sally Kennedy.

'The Jackpot' Showing Tonight In S Cowthan

"The Jackpot," a free movie starring James Stewart, Barbara Hale and the late James Gleason, sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. in South Cawthon Hall. The movie is the story of what happens to the winner of a $24,000 jackpot prize on a nation-wide radio quiz program.

The movie shows Wednesday at Magnolia; Thursday at Senior Hall, and Friday at 6 p.m. in the Freshman Men's Dormitory.

SPIDER TAKES FIRST PLACE

Richard Neutra Speaks at FSU Tomorrow Nite

Artist Series Sponsors Well Known Architect; Ticket Issue Limited

Richard Neutra, internationally prominent architect, will present an illustrated lecture tomorrow night at 8:15 in the Augusta Conradi Theater. The lecture is the second in a series of programs under the auspices of the Florida State University Artists Series of 1952-53.

NEUTRA, in a class with Frank Lloyd Wright and Le Corbusier, recently published a book entitled "The Mutations and Realities of the Site." In it, he outlines his views on the multitude of problems involved in selecting the place on a lot where a house should be built. It believes that primitive man knew more about landscape and respected it more than many modern architects.

"Everything within me," explains Neutra, "is against an abstract approach to land and nature and for the profound assets rooted in every site." He sees the modern problems growing out of the failure of man to understand nature and says that man fights that nature.

THE SPEAKER explains that nature is his goal; that he may have an abstract, functional, rational means, but the natural setting finally emerges, His own house, at which he has worked for done, illustrates this objective. Built on a small 60x70 lot on heavy Silverlake Boulevard in Los Angeles, it is usually unseen by passing motorists. A man-made is blend in with nature's elements around it.

A limited number of tickets will be made available to the lecture. Distribution will be made through the Public Relations Office, Longmire Building.

Warpath Sponsors FSU-Tech Game Pep-Rally Thurs.

A pre-game pep rally to send the Seminoles on their way to Atlanta and the Georgia Tech game will be held in the Leon Amphitheatre Thursday night at 7.

Sponsored by the Warpath Club, the rally will feature the Sigma Alpha Epsilon sorority's skit which they entered in the Homecoming Skit contest. The fraternity also presents a parody on men's ROTC programs and provides much hilarity at the skit tryouts.

The FSU band will play and cheerleaders will lead all cheers.

Immediately following the pep-rally, the Warpath Club will hold a meeting at the Gamma Phi Beta sorority house.

The club president will be elected at this meeting and everyone is invited to attend," announced Patsy Gates, head cheerleader.

Genuine Square Dance Planned In Girls' Gym

Square dance, complete with cornco and hay bale decorations, will be given at the Women's Gymnasium Friday night from 8 until 11.

Hank Ament and his string band will provide music for the dancing, which is open to not only the girls but their escorts or couples. Dr. William Tate, physical education, will call the dances.

Richard Neutra To Speak Tonight

The Florida State University Choral Union will present parts I and II of the "Christmas Oratorio" by Bach in Opperman Music Hall tonight at 8:15, in their first concert appearances this year.

The performance, open to the public, will be under the direction of Herman Gunter, FSU professor of music. Associate Annalee Whitmire, the accompaniment will be Ramona Cruikshank, organist, and Howard Bibbert at the harpsichord.

THE "CHRISTMAS Oratorio" is a collection of six cantatas composed to be sung during the Yuletide season. The first two of these cantatas will be included in the program tonight and deal with the events of the Christ Child—the Eve and Christmas Day as related in the Bible. It was written by Bach for the Lutheran service, and will be presented at FSU for the first time.

Soloists for the program include Miss Daye James, soprano; Betty Jane Grimm, contralto; Walter James, tenor; and Edgar Evans, Silverlake Boulevard soloist will be Joyce Bryant, flute; Bertie Boer, flute; Ronald Freeman, violin and Robert Braunagel, trumpet.

THE CHORAL UNION, an outgrowth of the University Singers, which was the first mixed group on FSU campus, is the largest mixed group on the campus today, and have had two programs since their early fall concert, including the "Messiah" last Christmas and the "Hors Novissima" in the spring.

Further plans for this year revealed by Director Gunter include "Messiah" to be sung Dec. 12-13 and an opera early in the spring. "The opera will be given if definite to merit comment at the present," said Gunter.

Advertising Group Will Hold Meeting

An organizational meeting of the advertising club will be held tonight from 7 until 8 in Room 405, Longmire Building.

Dr. Royal H. Ray, head of the advertising department here and chairman of the advertising club recently formed in Tallahassee, will be present to explain the aims of such an organization and the advantages of belonging to a group of this type.

Officers will be elected and a regular meeting schedule established.

Dr. Ray made it a point that membership is limited to advertising majors, but is open to any and all persons interested in advertising.

Groups Notify Staff

All organizations wishing to be included in the 1953 Seminole in the Tally Ho should go by the Tally Ho office by Thursday before Christmas holidays. Dr. Ray or contact Joanne Moore or Patsy Petre at the Pi Beta Phi House, at 2-2662.

Alumni Elect Directors H'Coming Weekend

The Alumni Association in a meeting during the homecoming weekend elected directors for five of the state alumni districts.

The new directors and the districts they will serve are Marjorie Morrison, Jacksonville, District 2; Lee Rose Zetterower, Jr., Tallahassee, District 3; Louis B. Wevelle, Vero Beach, District 4, John W. Harbeson, Winter Haven, District 7 and Donald Grant, Taylor County, District 6.

Wilkinson Will Speak On Magnetic Structure

"Magnetic Structure Studies by Neutron Diffraction" will be discussed by Dr. M. K. Wilkinson of the Physics Division of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory Thursday at 4:30 p.m. in Room 124 Science Building.

Refreshments will be served after the program, which is part of the Physics Seminar.

Bach's Oratorio Staged Tonight In Music Hall

The Florida State University Choral Union will present parts I and II of the "Christmas Oratorio" by Bach in Opperman Music Hall tonight at 8:15, in their first concert appearances this year.

The performance, open to the public, will be under the direction of Herman Gunter, FSU professor of music. Associate Annalee Whitmire, the accompaniment will be Ramona Cruikshank, organist, and Howard Bibbert at the harpsichord.

THE "CHRISTMAS Oratorio" is a collection of six cantatas composed to be sung during the Yuletide season. The first two of these cantatas will be included in the program tonight and deal with the events of the Christ Child—the Eve and Christmas Day as related in the Bible. It was written by Bach for the Lutheran service, and will be presented at FSU for the first time.

Soloists for the program include Miss Daye James, soprano; Betty Jane Grimm, contralto; Walter James, tenor; and Edgar Evans, Silverlake Boulevard soloist will be Joyce Bryant, flute; Bertie Boer, flute; Ronald Freeman, violin and Robert Braunagel, trumpet.

THE CHORAL UNION, an outgrowth of the University Singers, which was the first mixed group on FSU campus, is the largest mixed group on the campus today, and have had two programs since their early fall concert, including the "Messiah" last Christmas and the "Hors Novissima" in the spring.

Further plans for this year revealed by Director Gunter include "Messiah" to be sung Dec. 12-13 and an opera early in the spring. "The opera will be given if definite to merit comment at the present," said Gunter.

NSA Regional Head To Speak Tomorrow

Radio Forum Gives Pros, Cons On Proposed FSU-NSA Link

Roger Walker, Southern Region Chairman of the National Student Association, will be on the Florida State campus tomorrow to speak to the students at 4:30 p. m. in the Senate Room on second floor Longmire Building.

The purpose of this meeting is, that students here may learn more about NSA, which has come up for discussion several times during the past. NSA membership for FSU will probably come up for consideration this year, says UGA Pres. Mary Ruth Summers.

WALKER IS regional director for the states of Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma and Tennessee. He was elected to that position this August at the national congress at Indiana University. UGA Pres. Summers attended in order to see how NSA works.

The Weekly U.G.A. forum will be held as a symposium at 8 p.m. D. Bailey, state superintendent of public instruction; R. A. Gray, secretary of state; Mrs. Ellen Whitesule, Alumni Association president; Hollis Rhinehart, vice-chairman of the State Board of Control; Earl James McGrath, U. S. commissioner of education, and Guy Fulton, Board of Control architect, were among the dignitaries present.

Rhinehart gave a brief history of the building program at the University and then presented the new buildings to the Governor.

WARREN, IN his acceptance speech, expressed his interest in the growing institute of higher education. He thanked all those state officials and board members who had taken a part in "overcoming the seemingly insurmountable road" toward the accomplishment of the 50-Year Plan.

A recent budget, he said, showed that about 25 million dollars had been spent during the past four years toward construction for the state universities. He assured his audience that the Board of Control had not been a "rubber-stamp" agency for all that it passed by them, saying much credit was due to the taxpayers.

The FSU buildings were financed by bonds and proceeds of revenue certificates which will be self-liquidated through the years to come. The eight state dormitories used by fraternities were built at a cost of $130,000 each. The eight story dormitory now used by Freshmen men, cost about $726,000. The two Student Center, housing the campus post office, bookstore and cafeteria came to a total of about $400,000.

Florida Accepts New Buildings

The State of Florida officially accepted ten new University buildings here this weekend in dedication ceremonies.

The eight small men's dormitories, Freshman Men's Dormitory and the Student Center were accepted on the state's behalf by Gov. Fuller Warren.

WALLACE STURGIS, president of Florida's Senate; Richard Ervin, attorney general; Thomas D. Bailey, state superintendent of public instruction; R. A. Gray, secretary of state; Mrs. Ellen Whitesule, Alumni Association president; Hollis Rhinehart, vice-chairman of the State Board of Control; Earl James McGrath, U. S. commissioner of education, and Guy Fulton, Board of Control architect, were among the dignitaries present.

Rhinehart gave a brief history of the building program at the University and then presented the new buildings to the Governor.

WARREN, IN his acceptance speech, expressed his interest in the growing institute of higher education. He thanked all those state officials and board members who had taken a part in "overcoming the seemingly insurmountable road" toward the accomplishment of the 50-Year Plan.

A recent budget, he said, showed that about 25 million dollars had been spent during the past four years toward construction for the state universities. He assured his audience that the Board of Control had not been a "rubber-stamp" agency for all that it passed by them, saying much credit was due to the taxpayers.

The FSU buildings were financed by bonds and proceeds of revenue certificates which will be self-liquidated through the years to come. The eight small dormitories used by fraternities were built at a cost of $130,000 each. The eight story dormitory now used by Freshmen men, cost about $726,000. The two Student Center, housing the campus post office, bookstore and cafeteria came to a total of about $400,000.

Deadline Extended Until Midnight Sat. For 1953 Entries

Deadline for entries in the 1953 Maid of Cotton contest will be extended until midnight Saturday, Dec. 6, the National Cotton Council announced.

ORIGINAL DEADLINE was midnight, Dec. 1, but at the request of many girls who needed additional time for obtaining photographs, the deadline extension was made by the Cotton Council.

The 1953 Maid of Cotton contest is open to any girl born in a cotton state who has never been married and who is 21 years of age by through 25, and at least 5 feet 5 inches tall. All entries must be accompanied by a photograph, one a head and shoulders portrait and the other a full-length view.

Contest Firsts will be judged on beauty and on who is selected Maid of Cotton will make a six month interview tour of the U.S. textile and with fashion representative of the American cotton industry.

THE CHAIRMAN of the board of judges Carolyn Conover is a prominent leadership in the realm of fashion and has received many awards for her leadership. She holds the 1945 American Fashion Critics Award for creative contribution in the field of American fashion and the 1952 Modern Screen Award for excellence in design, craftsmanship and fabric. She represented the New York Fashion Industry as a judge in 1950 and the Prix de Paris international fashion award, in 1951.

Decoration Winners Rewarded

Pi Beta Phi sorority was the winner of the house decorations in the sorority league this Homecoming, their eerie spider and web design bringing them a trophy that had been won the two previous years by Alpha Gamma Pi. Kappa Sigma got the first trophy to be given solely in the fraternity league, while Landis and Men's Senior Hall won first place in their league.

Kappa Sigma decorations featured a large phonograph labeled "His Master's Voice," with the old-time earphone reading "FSU Victor." A sad looking dog, named Furman, rocked one ear to listen.

LANDIS'S DECORATIONS, featuring the seven dwarfs as football players climbing up a mountain after a witch, Furman, was designed by Pat Renick. Men's Senior Hall had a miniature stadium, from which purple hurricanes were launched out and pretended into hurricane shelters.

In past years, only one trophy had been offered for all the Greek houses, and one for the dormitories. This year, Gamma Phi Pi won with a movie theme, while Gilchrist won for the dormitories with a backyard motif.

ZETA TAU ALPHA and Alpha Phi Delta received second and third place respectively, while Sigma Chi and Sigma Nu placed second and third for the fraternities. Second place for women's dormitories went to Gilchrist, while Magnolia got the second place position for Men's dormitories.

Jurging was on a basis of originality, initiative, cleverness and artistic effectiveness.

ALPHA PHI DELTA'S float of the "Every Girl a Queen May Bee," with girls dressed as queen bees, got first place for the most beautiful float in the parade Friday.

Tau Delta fraternity and Chi Omega sorority received second and third.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, with their laughable, "What, a Float? We're Still Thinking," brought the most original title. Fraternity men on it were wildly in the process of thinking, with some trailing along in wagons stuffing in napkins while others tended an idea machine consisting of beer boxes. Phi Mu and Gamma Phi Beta sororities came in second and third.

At the Pow Wow, Alpha Xi Delta's modern dance version of conflict on the football field gave them first place in the skits, while Delta Tau Delta fraternity placed second.

STIRRING SPACE DRAMA THRILLS COLUMNIST

By FRANCES CAWTHON

I was listening to a radio program a couple of weeks back, and it proved so entertainin and informative that I feel duty bound to pass it along in the written medium.

From now on, boy, I'm going to listen to it every Saturday morning. It took only a few bars to whet my appetite so many fingernails since it had the first rollercoaster ride years ago.

Produced by a soap company, the story all started when Super Noodle, an earshiing, was called into the Coordinator General's office. The Coordinator General adjusted the suspenders on his space suit and gravely told Super Noodle to pull up a chrome rod and sit down.

"Super Noodle," he barked, "I have a mission for you. The Robot Men have invaded our outpost on Serius. Nothing has been able to stop them. They are operated by a mastermind, which must be destroyed if the universe is going to have peace. I want you to go to Serius and find the mastermind."

"Yes sir!" snapped Super Noodle. Pausing a dash to the space ship.

"Oh, uh, Super . . ." the Coordinator General called "There's only one thing. This mission is dangerous." You probably won't come back."

"I understand, sir," said Super Noodle, "But it has to be done." Outside Super Noodle's sidekick, Billy, and his girl, Rita, met him. Briefly he told them the situation.

"If you are going, I am too," Billy said.

"Well, you're not leaving me," screamed Rita. They stood there jumping up and down and she was getting S. N. could do but look from Billy to Rita and back again.

After whizzing off in space as long as it took the announcer to tell you how good cream of mushroom soup is, the space ship landed on Serius. The trio got out and peeked cautiously around. Nothing seemed in sight except way over a patch of Robot Men coming over the hill or whatever. They were coming. Since they had forgotten to bring their can openers with them, they hid behind a rock and headed for a nearby cave.

But the robots, metal clanking and 50 watt bulb eyes flashing, her-rumped into the cave, too. After radaring around the place they didn't see the heroes.

"They must have gone in other way," said one, speaking each word like a first grader newly introduced to phonics. "They must not come this way, be-cause the mast-ermind is in the cave."

They ker-lumped back out.

After this revelation, of course, Super Noodle knew what to do. He said, "Goodie, goodie:" and Rita said, "I'm scared." They made their way back into the dark, dank cave, opened a mammoth squeaky door and there it was. 16 sparkplugs and all. The mastermind!

But things weren't going too smoothly. The tin men had discovered they hadn't gone in the other way and were screeching in for the kill. While the robots were snarling, "This is the end, earthling!," Super Noodle cautiously approached the machine. "Help me, Noodle, be careful," his gal yelled. "You may get electrocuted."

"Chance I gotta take . . ."

Fiercely Super smashed at the machine, oblivious of the approaching Robot Men or the sparks from the mastermind which could possibly send him to his death.

Just as the Robot Men were about to grab them all, he hit a vital spot in the machine and the Robot Men fell apart like so many Model T's.

"Super, you've done gone and saved us!" Rita shouted. (Surmech).

Back on earth, S. N. gets a raise in uranium by the Coordinator General.

By the way, for only 25 cents, you can get your very own space ship and launching gun" from this soup company, which is the best Super Noodle chicken noodle soup in the universe.)

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

UNUSUAL SPEECH TESTS MADE

Fish Get Chance To Speak Piece

By JAYLEEN ROBERTSON

The purposeful, penetrating purposes at Alligator Harbor 43 miles south of Florida State University, will get a chance to speak their piece when Dr. W. N. Kellogg, professor of psychology, and his assistant, Robert Kohler, electronic engineer complete their study of porpoise voice and ultrasonic sounds which effect them.

Pens have been constructed to accommodate the unique marine mammals during their unusual speech tests, and Dr. Kellogg attempts to explain the strange phenomenon which comes with his theory of ultrasonic sound.

ULTRASONIC vibrations are sounds which range beyond the limit of man's ability to hear. It is known that dogs and bats are able to hear ultrasonic sounds but Dr. Kellogg has his upon the conclusion that either porpoises have ultrasonic hearing ability, or that they have an organism, unknown as of now to science, which responds to the vibrations produced in the water.

At the request of Mario Stadius at Marineland, Florida, Dr. Kellogg was able to prove that porpoises' ultrasonic hearing ability is true.

His EXPERIMENTS were conducted upon the propoises kept in the large oceanarium by lowering a submarine transducer (electric equipment which produces ultrasonic sounds) into the tank. In order that the animals would not be slapped by the apparatus during the experiment, an exact wooden replica of the transducer was made by the Carpentry Shop of the University and kept in the tank for two weeks before Dr. Kellog began his experiments. The dummy transducer made them quite substituted for the real thing and the porpoises were not disturbed in the least with the insertion.

FIRST, if the underwater frequencies which were presented affected the acoustic receptor (hearing organism) if the porpoises, the animals possessing an exceptionally high upper range of hearing extending approximately 30,000 cps beyond that of man.

Secondly, he believes that if the auditory ability did not affect the ear, the porpoise must possess some unidentified mechanism for reacting to these stimulating vibrations in water. And last but not least, if his first assumptions proved to be right, it can be assumed as a unique possibility that porpoises may use only hear frequencies but also produce ultrasonic vibrations.

IT IS known that porpoises swim at an exceptionally rapid pace, visiting muddy and shallow waters at night as well as day. In both places, the eye of the porpoise would do little good m locating obstacles such as pilings, boats, or schools of fish on which to fede. Dr. Kellogg believes that the porpoise may more about in its environment regardless of obstructive objects by means of echolocation—the reflection of boomerang-like action of its own sound waves.

In order to study the sounds emitted by this extraordinary mammal, Dr. Kellogg and Mr. Kohler arranged to visit the Lerner Marine Laboratory at Bimini in the Bahamas. There, with equipment furnished by the Navy, he recorded the sounds made by the porpoises and played them back recording their reactions. He also proved that the range of auditory sensibility of the porpoise included 80,000 cps. This was due to the more favorable conditions, which enabled them to judge and measure more accurately.

THE NAVY is very interested in Dr. Kellog's research for several reasons. They want to know and to be able to distinguish natural sounds from unnatural underwater sounds.

They will be able to recognise at once the nature of all the sounds and what each represents. This will be useful in that mines which are exploded by sounds, will not be set off by natural underwater sounds or by passing schools of porpoises.

THE Office of Naval Research has issued a Loan of Equipment contract to Dr. Kellog and he needs only ask for any equipment that he may need. Recently he has shipped a 24 ft. plain personnel boat for his use at Alligator Harbor. Similarly electronic equipment has been supplied for him to use in recording and studying the sounds made by the animals and their reactions to the ultrasonic vibrations.

Ships have been using the sonor system (sending out frequency vibrations and receiving the patern) with an electric needle on graphs as the frequency waves bounce back) to chart and learn the character of the different sections of the ocean floor, whether it is muddy, rocky, full of reefs, etc. Also, schools of fish have been one of the targets for sonar-equipped ships.

DR. KELLOGG will continue his research at Alligator Harbor with obstacle-constructed pens in which he will use porpoises to test whether or not they can emit as well as hear ultra-sonic vibrations and move as the bat does with a built-in sonar system. Within time the obstacles will be thrown unable to see.

In Science, Dr. Kellogg's and Robert Kohler's article states that these possibilities are no more than interesting questions to be investigated in the future; however, their research goes on, the results will be of value to the Navy, oceanographic institute on a most interesting and important study.

Tallahassee Chorus Gives Fall Concert

The Tallahassee Junior Chorus presented its Fall concert in the Opperman Music Hall at 8:15 Monday night.

The 60-voice group, representing all the elementary city schools, is directed by Mrs. Lois Lamon Schooner, member of the Florida State University faculty.

The Junior chorus was formed last year with the cooperation of music teachers in the city school of Tallahassee. It includes: fifth and sixth grade students from FSU Demonstration, Kate Sullivan, Sealey Memorial, Carolyn Brevard and South City schools. The Choristers rehearse after school hours in the FSU School of Music building and are sent two concerts annually.

Anna Margaret's Maurander, graduate student in the School of Music from Brem, Norway accompanied at the program. Thomas Wickstrom also an FSU Music School graduate assisted as violinist.

ADVERTISING CLUB ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING WILL BE HELD TONIGHT IN ROOM 405 OF THE LONGMIRE BLDG. FROM 7 TO 8 P. M. ALL INTERESTED STUDENTS ARE INVITED TO ATTEND.

Lunchroom Prices, Discount Day Cited As UGA Projects

Mary Ruth Summers, president of University Government, led the Cabinet in a discussion as to what UGA is doing for the students at a meeting recently.

Progress includes the lowering of the dining hall prices and sponsoring of discount days.

THE PRESIDENT'S Cabinet is working on many other projects, and in order to allow students to become more familiar with the projects which are being carried on, the following suggestions were brought out at the meeting: a reporter from the radio station could sit in on the Cabinet meetings and then include UGA news in the news broadcasts; a notice could be put in the Flambeau as to when the Cabinet and different committees meet and could include news from UGA.

Other items which arose at the meeting was that Dean Mcfadin should be invited as not as hosts and hostesses for honored guests at Homecoming. Jan Arbogast reported the Forums program for November has been set up and will include the forum on "What Next, Mr. President?", "Should We Join NSA?" and "My Experiences With Communism." Tommy Simmons was appointed publicity chairman for UGA.

Furman Game Draws Big Press Turnout

The largest turnout of press representatives ever assigned to cover a Florida State home football game is slated for the game Saturday for the FSU-Furman game.

Representatives of nine newspapers were present. They were Welly Pritchett, sports writer, Jacksonville Journal; Bobby Hilton, sports writer, Tampa Morning Tribune; Ray Charlesson, sports writer, Florida Times Union; Fred Pendlton, Sports Editor, Tallahassee Democrat; Jamie Bell, sports editor, St. Petersburg Times; Scoop Latimer, sports editor, Greenville, (S. C.) News; Jim Eady, sports editor, Florida Flambeau; Anlie Bell, sports editor, Greenville, (S.C.) Piedmont; Arthur Cobb, Playground News; Bill Cox, Harold Parr, Associated Press Tallahassee Bureau; Jack Murphy of the Star Sentinel.

Popularity Raises Alma Mater Debate

One of the biggest debates at FSU these days concerns the Alma Mater. While "High Ole the Garnet and Gold" is the standard song of Florida State, the "Hymn to the Garnet and the Gold" has been sung almost the same amount of popularity.

According to Mr. J. Dayton Smith, director of the men's glee club, "The Collegians," the song has been sung at the Spring Sing. Civic organizations all over Tallahassee and through many parts of the state.

The song is sung as a serenade in the Student Union Room in front of the women's dorms annually.

Sammy Kaye Contest Wan By John Adams

John Adams won the Sammy Kaye "So You Want to Lead a Band Contest" here in the Student Union Room directing the orchestra in "Jambalaya."

Prizes he received included a Sammy Kaye baton, a Sammy cigaret lighter and a case, baton, record album and a carton of cigaretes.

Other participants in the national radio show were LaVerne Jennines, Sue Free and Ralph Blinn.

ADVERTISING CLUB ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING WILL BE HELD TONIGHT IN ROOM 405 OF THE LONGMIRE BLDG. FROM 7 TO 8 P. M. ALL INTERESTED STUDENTS ARE INVITED TO ATTEND.

MOVIE NEWS

Adventurous Film Will Be Premiered

By JUNE MORGAN

Amid much dueling and quilling of royal blood, Stewart Granger stars in Prisoner of Zenda, his first produce since his adventure technicolor film triumph, "Scaramouche."

Deborah Kerr, the flaming redhead from "Quo Vadis," heads the supporting cast which includes such famous names as Louis Calhern, Jane Greer, James Mason and Lewis Stone.

"Prisoner of Zenda" has a weekend run beginning tomorrow at the State Theatre. It is one of those situations involving a commoner who looks more like the king than the "royal boy" does himself, and revolves around their changing places and confusing everyone including the king's betrothed.

Stewart Granger in the dual role of king and imposter gives a dashing and spirited performance. Perhaps not as clever as the one in "Scaramouche" but certainly as darling.

THE CAST of "Prisoner" seems set to lean toward English-born actors, for Stewart Granger, Deborah Kerr and James Mason are all imports from that country who have stepped into the American film spotlight.

Formerly Beatrix Lehmann

villainous role of the king's half-brother who attempts to steal the throne during the abduction, while Deborah Kerr is the Princess Flavia, the King's betrothed who falls in love with the English man, masquerading as the monarch.

RICHARD THORPE and Pandro S. Berman, respective director and producer of "Ivanhoe" are teamed again in this new medieval adventure film.

Two previous productions were made of the famous Anthony Hope novel, a silent film in 1922 and a black-and-white film in 1937. Among the extras in the new film, twenty-five are veterans of earlier productions. Lewis Stone, Stuart Holmes, Louis Calhern and Jane Greer played roles in the 1937 former "Prisoner of Zenda" films.

THE GUYS and dolls of Delta Nu Romyon's Bloodhounds of Broadway come to the Florida screen tomorrow through Saturday for a colorful, musical, laugh-filled starring Mitzi Gaynor.

All of Runyon's famous characters are recalled to the screen in his unique story of life clons the great white way.

SUPPORTING the cast includes Scott Brady and Mitzi Green.

Dear Editor...

Tips Wanted

Dear Editor:

Most of the waiters and waitresses who work in the restaurants in town receive little or no salary and are dependent upon their tips for their income. I would appear that many FSU students are not aware of this when they eat at a table and be waited upon and then be should also have enough money to leave a tip.

NAME WITHHELD

dents, and therefore of limited finances, they are not expected to tip in restaurants.

However, this attitude is not shared by those who wait on tables in our local restaurants. They feel that if a person has enough money to afford to eat at a table and be waited upon they should also have enough money to leave a tip.

Spend Your Weekends At

HOTEL QUINCY, QUINCY FLORIDA

Only 18 Miles From Campus

Special Room Rates — Air Conditioned, Automatic
Friday, Saturday and Sunday — Heat
Double Occupancy at Single Rate — Circulating Ice Water, Free Parking

Excellent Cuisine Every Day — Call For Reservations
Lunch From 65c Dinner From $1.00 — Phone 67 Quincy, Florida

HOTEL QUINCY, QUINCY FLORIDA

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

CAMERON'S TEXACO SERVICE STATION

566 W. TENNESSEE — DIAL 3-0619

Formerly Meats Service Station

TUESDAY SPECIAL — WEDS. SPECIAL

Filet Mignon — Fried Shrimp

$1.00 — .75

Seven Seas

316 S. MONROE — RESTAURANT

"Everything for the Student"

- Sundries, Pipes
- FSU, Fraternity and Sorority Decals
- Whitman's Candy
- Felt Goods
- Magazines, "I Go Pogo"

"WE HAVE USED BOOKS"

MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE

107 South Copeland

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

GAINESVILLE VA HOSPITAL SOUGHT BY SENATOR

By SEN. GEORGE SMATHERS
(Written exclusively for Florida's weekly press)

WASHINGTON: Here we go again in behalf of that VA hospital at Gainesville. Most Floridians by this time are aware of that for the past several years, the congressional delegation pushed vigorously for the erection of a long-envisioned thousand bed hospital for neuro-psychiatric patients. Victory had been achieved, with even appropriations available for construction, until the President by Executive Order directed a reduction in such facilities.

Last wete the VA took steps to sell the land secured for this hospital. Senator Holland, Congressman Bennett and I have urged personal delay. Veterans Affairs Administrator, to withdraw this site from the surplus list. It should be retained, we believe, because we are convinced the new administration as well as Congress will recognize the need for this institution.

VA medical men have told me that this location, near the state university which is soon to have a medical school, is most favorable and that, politics aside, it should be done.

This matter has statewide interest, for two principal reasons. Most of our citizens believe that our veterans, particularly those suffering what used to be called "shellshock," are entitled to the best available treatment. Many of them, in all parts of the state, have been put in jail to restrain them for lack of hospital facilities.

NOTES FROM HERE AND THERE: Fish and Wildlife Service, quickly on the job during the new outbreak of "red tide" in the Gulf of Mexico off Florida's shores, believe they may be near a soultion to the problem of the slaughter of millions of fish. We stayed so close behind this problem several years ago that we know the wildlife service needed no prompting when the outbreak first occurred.

Thousands in the Jacksonville and Miami trading areas will be benefitted by the authorization last week of the Post Office Department's new fast air service between Jacksonville and Miami. Even in residential areas it will mean a first-class delivery of mail. With Senator Holland, Courrswoman Lantaff and Bennett, we shall be closely working for sometime on centralization of businesses-like mail service between the two cities.

PLAYBITS

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR HOMECOMING TALENT

BY GEORGE SPELVIN

If there seems to be a more-than-usual lull in this column it is only because of the lull between acts as well as prop has been stored in the properties closet and the last flat has been removed from the set. "Curtain bears" is over.

Soon work starts on "Taming of the Shrew." Rehearsals under the direction of Mr. Carl Sirkle started last Wednesday night, which means that it won't be long before the bulletin board outside of 115 History will be covered with "sign your name below" signs. They'll be needing help on the stage, properties, lighting crews, and all the rest.

We know you have the talent We saw it exhibited on those homecoming floats. We don't want you to lose them through neglect so come on over and put them to good use.

Costumiers will be a particularly busy crew job on this production. Mr. Doug Russell has already drawn up the sketches for the costumes, but as there are over 25 people in the cast, he's going to need lots of help in executing his designs. Get your needle and thread and go see him. The costuming room is 122 History and Mr. Russell can nearly always be found there.

And if any of you prefer to work with saws instead of scissors, you can talk to Mr. Reimer about construction crew work by coming by the office in 115 History. Experience isn't necessary but of course if you have done this type of work before it would not be a hinderance.

Les Jongleurs, dramatic honorary, will meet this week on Thursday evening at 7:30 in room 208 History. There are several very important matters to be discussed at this time and all members and prospective members are reminded that their presence at the meeting is very important. Don't forget the when and where.

As part of the lecture series being sponsored by Les Jonsleurs this semester, Dr. Janet K. Smith will speak Friday night, November 21 at 8:15 in the second floor lounge of the Alumni Building on "Shakespearean Productions in University and Community Theatres." She has some very interesting slides which she will use to illustrate her talk.

This series of talks is being sponsored by the dramatic honorary in preparation and as background material for the Shakespearean show to be produced in January by the department of speech. We've heard Dr. Smith speak before and are certain he can promise you a fascinating evening if you attend.

The cast of "The Man in the Bowler Hat" by A. A. Milne returned Thursday night from Thomasville, Ga., where they played at the Veterans Administration Domiciliary for a most appreciative audience.

The cast of nine with a minimum of scenery and costumes. However this did not detract from the production as Judd Rether It pointed up some of the fine performances given by the cast. We're still hoping to have the opportunity of seeing this play done at FSU. Any chance, Director Busfield?

Going back to the Les Jongleurs lecture series, we mentioned that the talks for this semester are all on Shakespeare, but the topics for the lectures next semester have not been decided as yet. They'd like to know what you'd like to hear so that plans can be made accordingly. If you have any suggestions, write them on a card and mail them to Lee Hildman or Jayne Gardner, Campus Mail.

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager
BABS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors..... Marcia Morris, Bruce Galphin
Morris Editors..... George Dunn, Jon Kelly
Copy Editor..... Judy Sinkule
Feature Editor..... Judy Morgan
Assistant News Editor..... Jack Wright
Reporters Editor..... Pat Higginbotham
Morgue Editors..... Bob Harris, Liz Vann
National Ad Manager..... Pat Richmond
Local Ad Manager..... Flo Walton
Assistant Managers..... Nancy Lowe, Julie Norton, Marilyn Sargent

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida. The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, N. Y. Second Floor Alumni Bldg.
Telephone 3-2894, Extension 261

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

FSU Faces Mighty Ga. Tech After Weekend Defeat

eminole Offense Paced y Thompson and Dobosz

mmy fullback from East Ind., Stan (Tarzan) Do- the Seminoles' leading ounter after seven games a total of 42.7 yards. second semester freshman the team's top scorer with ssing garnered on two touch- and 6 extra points. s two hundred yards ahead Thompson who has 227 s. He has picked up his yard- 3 attempts and his average s 4.3. His best day of the was Saturday's Furman nce which he ran for 109 s in 22 attempts. over-all offensive yardage Thompson is shared with a of 471 through running ts and pass receiving. The ndoro junior has passed 30 yards—one for 5 touch- and his completion aver-

SCORING:	TD's	PAT	FG	EPM	TP's
Thompson, FB	5	3	0	30	33
Dobosz, QB	5	0	0	0	30
Hall, LE	1	0	0	0	6
Hall, FB	1	0	0	0	6
Johnson, LH	1	0	0	0	6
Williams, RH	1	0	0	0	6
Totals	18	10	0		66

VICTORY RETURNS	No.	Yards	Average	TD's
Dobosz, LH	17	420	24.9	3
Hall, LE	7	150	21.4	1
Hall, QB	4	54	13.5	0
Hall, RH	3	41	13.6	0
Thompson, FB	1	31	31.0	1
Johnson, RH	1	14	14.0	1
Totals	33	710	21.5	6

PUNTING:	No.	Yards	Average	Blocked
Dobosz, QB	27	1170	43.3	0
Thompson, FB	1	50	50.0	0
Totals	28	1220	43.6	0

PASSING:	Att.	Com	Int.	Yards	Pct.	TD's
Dobosz, QB	84	43	5	627	51.2	3
Williams, LH	19	10	0	227	52.6	2
Hall, LE	36	16	1	172	44.4	1
Hall, QB	13	6	0	80	46.1	0
Johnson, RH	20	10	2	86	50.0	1
Hall, RH-LE	6	3	0	43	50.0	0
Hall, LE	34	13	2	30	38.2	0
Hall, QB	7	2	0	30	28.6	0
Hall, RH	2	2	0	27	100.0	0
Hall, QB	9	2	1	24	22.2	0
Hall, RH	2	1	0	11	50.0	0
Hall, FB	4	1	0	11	25.0	0
Hall, LE	1	1	0	10	100.0	0
Johnson, LE	1	0	0	0	0.0	0
Johnson, RH	1	0	0	0	0.0	0
Hall, LE	1	0	0	0	0.0	0
Hall, QB	1	0	0	0	0.0	0
Williams, LH	1	0	1	-20	-20.0	0
Totals	262	110	12	1158	42.0	7

RECEIVING:	Caught	Yards	Average	TD's
Hall, LE	19	323	17.0	1
Hall, RH	7	104	14.9	1
Hall, QB	5	47	7.9	0
Johnson, RH	2	63	31.5	2
Williams, LH	3	46	15.3	0
Hall, RH	3	39	8.7	0
Hall, FB	1	10	20.0	0
Thompson, FB	1	8	8.0	0
Johnson, LH	1	8	8.0	0
Hall, LE	1	4	4.0	0
Totals	41	330	12.9	4

PUNT RETURNS	No.	Yards	Average	TD's
Hall, QB	13	96	7.5	0
Johnson, RH-LE	5	61	10.1	0
Totals	19	150	8.4	0

Results of six games played to date.

FSU 13 Louisiana Tech 32
FSU 14 Louisville 41
FSU 7 VMI 26
FSU 7 North Carolina State 13
FSU 8 Stetson 8 (Tie)
FSU 21 Mississippi Southern 36
FSU 7 Furman 9

age is 40.5 Dobosz is second in total offense with 464 yards.

Nelson Italiano has the best past completion percentage with a respectable 54.7. The Tampa sensor, who hasn't seen as much action as has Dobosz or Thompson due to injuries, completed 16 of 27 throws and has had only one intercepted. In rushing, he has averaged 4.9 a try.

The Seminole's ace punter, Tommy Brown, raised his kicking average for the year by 3.3 yards per punt with his fine performance against Furman. His four punts Saturday went for 44, 40, 44, and 42 yards.

Behind Dobosz in scoring is big Ron King who has racked up 16 points on three touchdowns, all on passes. King, from Daytona Beach, Fla., is the team's leading touchdown maker.

Tech Rated Second In Nation; Furman Shutout First for FSU

The winless Seminoles of Florida State face the unpleasant task of meeting mighty bowl-bound Georgia Tech, this Saturday in Atlanta. The Engineers are ranked number two in the nation by the Associated press and number one by the United Press. They haven't been beaten in 23 games and in their latest outing, edged Alabama, 7-3. The only smar on the Tech record is last year's tie against Duke.

Florida State will be entering the contest without a victory to show for themselves and the understatement of the century would be to say they will be rated as definite underdogs. The Engineers will be celebrating Homecoming.

In the Saturday defeat fumbles, intercepted passes and an overabundance of penalties proved too much to overcome for Florida State's Seminoles as they were edged by Furman, 9-0. Playing before an unimpressive crowd of 8,000 Homecoming fans, FSU dominated first half action but failed to reach scoring opportunity they had. In the second half Furman came to life with a touchdown and quarter field goal, holding the Seminoles scoreless for the first time in 41 games under coach Don Veller.

A fumble on the FSU 25 set up the Furman touchdown, an interception on the FSU 6 gave them the ball for their successful field goal and an offside penalty nullified a 2nd second quartertouchdown for the Seminoles. All told, some 21 penalties called during the contest.

Florida State started the game with indications that they were on their way to the season's first win. They got only two minutes old when Buddy Bryant intercepted a Furman pass and initiated a Seminole drive which carried to the winner's 8 where it stalled. The push started at the Furman 46 and most of the yardage was made by fullback Stan Dobosz on bucks through the centre. A six yard pass from Nelson Italiano to Curt Campbell was the only pass hon made by Dobosz.

AFTER THIS FAILURE to score, the Seminoles marched right back down to the Furman goal after Furman punted. Again, Dobosz, who lead both teams' ball carriers with a 109 yard rushing, sparked the drive. He was aided by Italiano's three completions for gains of 7, 5, and 13 yards. Between the two they got the ball to the Furman 3. From here Dobosz bulled over on second down but an off side penalty nullified the play and put the Seminoles back five yards. Three plays later the winners took over on the FSU last scoring threat in the first half.

But Furman also proved incapable of taking advantage of scoring opportunities. Three times they had drives halted by fumbles and stolen passes. They got down to the FSU 15 where Preston Tory Sasser recovered a Gene Pedrick fumble. Then a couple of minutes later, they pushed all the way to the FSU 2 but again fumbled with FSU's Joe Ben Cassedy falling on the ball on the 1 foot line. Tommy Brown, who averaged 41 yards a punt, booted out; but again the persistent Furman pushed to within scoring distance only to have the drive ended on alert Cassedy's interception of Pedrick's pass at the FSU 2.

However, in the second half, Furman was not to be denied and they scored in four plays after they had recovered Roy Thompson's fumble at the FSU 25. From ten yards out Pedrick went over although he fur.hled on the goal line. Pringle missed the extra point try.

The touchdown still did not dampen the Seminole spirit and they drove down to the Furman 9 after taking the kick-off. But, in the first half, the penetration collapsed when Furman's Charlie West intercepted Roy Thompson's fourth down pass. On the play, Furman was penalized fifty yards for clipping putting them on the FSU 1 so Pringles punted.

The Furman field goal which put the game out of reach for Florida State came after Paul Stewart intercepted Bobby Firstash's pass and returned it to the FSU 8. On fourth down, Pringle split the goal posts from 17 yards out.

From then on, Furman had complete control of the contest. The Seminoles tried desperately to

(Continued on Page 4)

Five Freshmen Get Varsity Cage Promotion

Only 19 days remain before the curtain rises on the 1952-53 Florida State University basketball producio nand Head Coach J. K. 'Bud' Kennedy is pondering today if the Seminoles will be properly primed for the first act.

After three weeks of preliminary workouts, Kennedy says:

"I don't believe we're near ready for our opening game with Mercer at Macon, Ga., December 5. We're showing up very good in spots, but just as bad in others. We have a lot of work ahead."

With December's mad speed ahead" ullimatum, there also came the announcement that five freshmen who have been laboring on the yearling squad thus far have displayed enough merit to reward them with a promotion to the varsity.

This promising quintet is comprised of H. B. Marcum, a crackerjack point-maker from Somerset, Ky.; Gary Wold, a skyscraping, 6-6 pivot man from Madison, Wis.; Tom Dellahan, an ambidextrous dandy from East Chicago, Ind., Jimmy Coe, a play-making guard from Economy, Ind., and Dick Artmeier, a hustling sixfooter from Clarksburg, W. Va.

The Tribe—with nine holdovers and five letternen in its camp—has staged three mass rehearsals to date, with the varsity grabbing two of three games from an ambitious freshman contingent.

Phi Delts and Trojans Battle

THEY PLAYED GEORGIA TECH IN '03

The above group is the Florida State football team of 1903 which played Georgia Tech and got beat 17-0 Tech winning 35-0. Both games were played in Atlanta. Note the thick hair, parted down the middle . . . this was a style for football players then and since they didn't wear head gears it afforded some protection.

Tech; FSU First Played in '03

It's been nearly half a century, 48 years to be exact, since Florida State University and Georgia Tech met on the gridiron. But the two old rivals get together Saturday afternoon on Tech's Grant Field in Atlanta.

Saturday's meeting will be the third between the schools. The series was inaugurated way back in 1903. That year the Rambling Wreck won by a 17-0 count. The teams met south in 1904 with Tech again the winner, that time by 35-0. So Saturday's meeting is the 46th actually. Florida State University then was Florida State College. It became FSU in 1947, and this season marks the sixth year of football at the Tallahassee institution in modern times. From 1905 - 1946 the school did not field football teams.

THE 1903 TECH TEAM posted a 2-5-0 record and was captained by Jesse Thrash. In 1904 the Florida State team lost only to Tech while posting a 4-1 mark to retain state champions. Captain of the '04 FSU team was Don Williams, now a practising physician in Chattanooga. The Tech '04 eleven was captained by Louie Clark.

Both the 1903 and '04 games between FSU and Tech were played in Atlanta.

"We just got up there and got out stage frightened both times," is the way Guy McCord of Tallahassee, who head down the right tackle berth on the '03 and '04 Florida State teams, puts it. McCord is a lifelong resident of Tallahassee and is Chief Clerk of the Florida Supreme Court.

This year the Seminoles are having their worst season ever on the gridiron while mighty Tech is enjoying its greatest and basking in the No. 2 position among the nation's grid teams.

But, to say the least, one of the South's oldest grid rivalries will be renewed Saturday in Atlanta.

Intramural Champ Will Be Decided Tonight in Stadium

The championship of Intramural touch football at Florida State will be decided tonight when the Trojans of the dorm league battle the fraternity champions, Phi Delta Theta. The game, the first of its kind ever played at FSU, is scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight under the lights of Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

The Trojans will be bringing a very impressive record of 10 wins and losses besides never having been scored upon. They have made 117 points in the ten games.

The Phi Delts have a 8-0-2 mark and have scored 74 points to their oppositions' none. They qualified for the Independent-Greek clash by edging out Kappa Alpha by a 6-0 mark Thursday. Meanwhile the Trojans smashed Magnolia Hall, 19-0, to get into the contest.

CONSIDERING the past records the Trojans will rate as a favorite although a tight battle is expected.

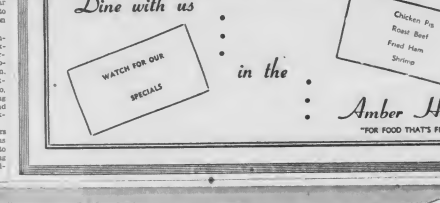
In the past, each league has a champion and the inter-league competition to decide a single champ.

THE LINE-UP for the Phi Delts: O'Connell, center; Charley Johnson, left end; Tom Overstreet right end; Dean Pohl, left half; Bill Gallups right half; Ken Edward, fullback and Bob Berta, quarterback.

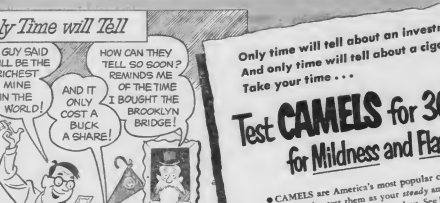
ITHE TROJANS haven't decided on a starting line-up, but the following will see action: Roy Ray, Hiders' Club, will have a mixed party Friday night at the O Club.

Committee members for the club, which held its organizational meeting recently, are Betty Hendricks, chairman, Sandra Lee and Mary McLeod, refreshments; Louanne Self, chairman, and Kathleen Crutchfield, publicity; Nancy Watkins, chairman, Beatrice Cruce, Irell Smothers and Lynn Shuler, entertainment; and Audrey McCall, chairman, and Ronald Morgan, decorations and arrangements.

Scholarship Recipients Form New FSU Club



A new club to Florida State, the State Educational Scholarship Holders' Club, will have a mixed party Friday night at the O Club.



Committee members for the club, which held its organizational meeting recently, are Betty Hendricks, chairman, Sandra Lee and Mary McLeod, refreshments; Louanne Self, chairman, and Kathleen Crutchfield, publicity; Nancy Watkins, chairman, Beatrice Cruce, Irell Smothers and Lynn Shuler, entertainment; and Audrey McCall, chairman, and Ronald Morgan, decorations and arrangements.

Phs. Ed. Majors Meet

The Men's Major Club in physical education, will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the student lounge of the Women's Gymnasium, according to Hal Leddy, president.

Dr. H. G. Danford, director of athletics, will speak on the "Mark of Physical Education" Movies of the Stetson-FSU game will also be shown.

Only time will tell about an investment!
And only time will tell about a cigarette!
Take your time . . .

Test CAMELS for 30 days for Mildness and Flavor

● CAMELS are America's most popular cigarette. To find out why, test them as your steady smoke. Smoke only Camels for thirty days. See how rich and flavorful they are—pack after pack! See how mild CAMELS are—week after week!

CAMEL LEADS ALL OTHER BRANDS by billions of cigarettes per year!
There must be a reason why!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Campus capers call for Coke

When grades are posted, get hold of yourself—maybe the news is good. Anyway, there'll always be problems ahead, so start now and face them refreshed. Have a Coke.

DRINK Coca-Cola

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

HIGH STEPPING SEMINOLES—For several students at the Homecoming Dance Saturday night, leading a band was a novelty, but for these young ladies, leading a band is quite commonplace. They are the Florida State University majorettes who are a familiar sight to FSU students at football games and on parades where they precede the Marching Chiefs. Left to right are Mary Frances Joiner, Sue Humphrys, Janet McGraff, Susan Ezell, Anice Spencer, Nancy Fagan, Selma Morgan, Della Albert and Juanita DuBerry.

Morgan J. Davis Will Address Scientists on Oil Subject Wed.

Morgan J. Davis, vice-president pirts. Davis represents the largest and member of the Board of Directors of the Humble Oil and Refining Company, will address a joint meeting of Sigma Xi, science honorary, and the parliment, he represents the oil Southeastern Geological Society in company which has conducted the Science Lecture Hall at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

As president of the American Association of Petroleum Geolo- ducing company now in Florida.

THE JOINT meeting of the Southeastern Geological Society and the Society of Sigma Xi is being held to further the policy of bringing outstanding scientific speakers to Tallahassee, which is of primary interest to both organizations.

Davis was educated at Texas Christian University and the University of Texas. He has seen service as a geologist in Roswell, New Mexico, Java and Sumatra where he was resident geologist and led expeditions in various rooms on several islands of the Archipelago. He became division geologist for the Humble Oil Co. in 1936. He served as acting chief geologist from August, 1940, to February, 1941, at which time he became chief geologist for the company. In 1948 he was elected to the Board of Directors, and in 1951 he was named a vice-president.

ADVERTISING CLUB ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING WILL BE HELD TONIGHT IN ROOM 105 OF THE LONGMIRE BLDG. FROM 7 TO 9 P. M. ALL INTERESTED STUDENTS ARE INVITED TO ATTEND.

Business Leaders Schedule Meeting

The Future Business Leaders of America will meet tomorrow night at 7:30 in Room 408 Longmire Building.

A business meeting will take place during the first of the meeting, followed by a social featurine Mrs. Alice Chambers, secretary to Pres. Dook S. Campbell. Prizes and refreshments will be given.

Club pictures for the Tally Ho will be taken previous to the meeting at 7 p.m. in the small lounge on the first floor of Longmire. Girls should wear suits, if possible, and boys should wear coats and ties.

First semester dues of $1.25 should be paid to club Treasurer John Pate in order to have the be picture taken. They can be paid at the regular meeting.

FSU Faces

(Continued From Page 3)

score with Fiveash doing the passing but he only completed one of six attempts and had one intercepted. On the whole, FSU's passing attack proved inadequate, particularly in the second half. They completed only six passes of 17 attempts, although Italiano personally completed 3 of 10.

Noteworthy performances were contributed by defensive halfback Cassedy, Mac Hoey, freshman Troy Barnes and George Carnes, who played his first game at guard.

The game was played on even terms, both squads getting 14 first downs. Twenty yards separated them in the total offense department with Furman having the advantage

Two German Doctors Visit Campus Grounds

Two visitors from Germany, Frau Dr. Ingeborg Jensen and Frau Dr. Annelies Spies are being conducted on a good-will tour of Florida State University this week by members of the FSU Home Economics Department.

SPONSORED BY Miss Frances Champion, State Supervisor of Home Economics, the visitors' trip to this country is being endorsed by their own federal government.

On tour of the Colleges and Universities of the United States, the visitors first inspected schools in the Northeast where they found Cornell University at Ithaca, New York, much like their own country's terrain and climate.

MIAMI AND ITS university introduced them to Florida. Never having seen palm trees, strange birds, blue water and white sands, the ladies found these features of the South remarkable. While in Miami, they attended a League of Women's Voters meeting and were pleased to find American women keenly interested in government.

Both government workers, one with the Department of Housing and the other with the Department of Agriculture, the visitors say more women seem to hold political offices in their western Germany than in the Unite." States. They are enthusiastic about American women, however whom they find admirable. In a dual role of housekepers and civic workers while German women make housekeeping a full-time job.

THE AMERICAN WAY of life as it functions in neighborhoods and communities, is making a lasting impression on the German women. Although their country is more crowded, they say it "lacks the small units of give-and-take so prevalent here." They are surprised to find small children being taught citizenship because similar children in Bonn are mainly taught obedience.

Primarily interested in public housing and consumer problems, the visitors figure that the average income in their country is about one fourth of what it is here. They speak only for western Germany, figuring further that 80 percent of their people spend about 50 per cent of their income for food.

THE LADIES PLAN to go on to New Orleans from here, then on to Los Angeles, stopping enroute to see the Grand Canyon. Miss Rosa B. Burton, head of the education division in the FSU School of Home Economics has been in charge of the good-will tour.

Alpha Kappa Phi's To Meet With Club

Members of Alpha Kappa Psi will meet with the Insurance and Real Estate Club tonight at 7:30 in the Longmire Building. The meeting will be featured by a talk on "Real Estate Appraising" by John Neely, local real estate appraiser.

Bill McDonald, president of Alpha Kappa Psi announced that an Alpha Kappa Psi business meeting will be held following the joint meeting with the Insurance and Real Estate Club. Pictures will also be taken for the Tally Ho.

Plans will be discussed for the Alpha Kappa Psi Southeast Dist-Athens, Ga., this week. Delegate Ictic Conference to be held in Fred Brinkman, alternate delegate Doyle Hutto and othe. members of the fraternity, plan to attend the Conference on Friday and Saturday mornings and then proceed to Atlanta to witness the FSU-Georgia Tech football game.

Yentsch Speaks At Graduate Luncheon

Charles S. Yentsch, graduate assistant at the Oceanographic Institute, will be the speaker for the Graduate Luncheon Thursday. His subject will deal with Marine Biology which should be of interest at this time because of the reported recurrence of the "red tide" off the coast of Florida.

The Graduate Luncheon program is a new activity sponsored by the Graduate Club. It meets in the South Seminole room each Thursday 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. for Dutch treat lunch and a twenty minute program. All faculty members and graduate students are invited.

Dr. Milton Carothers, Dean of the Graduate School, was speaker last week, which was the first meeting. Approximately ninety faculty members and graduate students attended.

Four Players See Double Action

Four double-duty performers, including two freshmen, grace the Florida State University front-line platoon alignment. They are two freshmen George Boyer, offensive center-defensive guard; freshman Jerry Jacobs, guard-linebacker; sophomore Jimmy Lee Taylor, quarterback-end, and senior Harry Brimmer, right half-left half

Famed Lecturers

(Continued From Page 1)

a member of the International Relations Board of the American Library Association. A graduate of the University of North Carolina, he was once a member of its history department faculty.

Others who will definitely appear on the FSU lecture series arranged by Dr. Shores are Dr. Lidtler Evans, Librarian of Congress, Washington, D. C., who will speak Feb. 12 on some phase of censorship in literature; Dr. Fremont Rider, Wesleran University, Middletown, Conn., who is an authority on Microphotography and will lecture Feb. 26 on that subject and Dean Wayne Shirley of Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y., whose subject will be "Heritage of America Program."

DR. SHORES is contacting a number of other distinguished librarians, and expects to announce about four more speakers for this series soon. Attendance will be by invitation. All librarians in the state and FSU students, faculty members and alumni will be given cards of admission on request.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.

FLORIDA
LAST TIME TODAY
"Ivanhoe"
With Liz Taylor and Robert Taylor
WEDS. THRU SAT.
"Bloodhounds of Broadway"
With Scott Brady

STATE
LAST TIME TODAY
"Springfield Rifle"
With Gary Cooper
WEDS. thru TUESDAY
"The Prisoner of Zenda"
With Stewart Granger

RITZ
TODAY and WEDS.
"Love Is Better Than Ever"
With Liz Taylor
THURSDAY thru SAT.
"Smokey Canyon"
Also
"Kid Monk Baroni"

DRIVE-IN
TODAY and WEDS.
Esther Williams in "Skirts Ahoy"
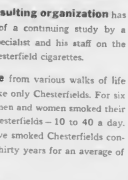
THURSDAY thru SAT.
"Heldorado"
Also
"Calling Bulldog Drummond"

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

NOSE, THROAT,
and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields



FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields – 10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR CHESTERFIELD—EITHER WAY YOU LIKE 'EM

★ CONTAINS TOBACCOS OF BETTER QUALITY & HIGHER PRICE THAN ANY OTHER KING-SIZE CIGARETTE

Buy CHESTERFIELD—Much Milder

Copyright 1952, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Handsome, Rugged, Really Comfortable
ARROW SPORTS SHIRTS
with phenomenal new Arafold collar

Leisure's a pleasure in these Arrow sports champs! Made with the famous Arafold collar that brings you extra comfort worn open or closed . . . with or without a tie. We have your favorite fabrics in plaids and solid colors . . . all washable. Come in, and take your pick!

Mendelson's

FSU-Georgia Tech Clash Tomorrow In Atlanta

Florida Flambeau

NSA Explained By Regional Head See Front Page

VOL. XXXIX, No. 18 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1952

Proposed FSU-NSA Tie Up Discussed Here at Length

Region Chairman Visits FSU; UGA President Advocates Link

The meaning of NSA, National Student Association, and the merits of affiliating Florida State's University Government with it were discussed Wednesday in the UGA offices and over Station WFSU Wednesday in the regular UGA Forums of the Air.

Roger Walker, regional chairman of the NSA spoke to a large assembly of campus leaders and members of UGA in the afternoon, explaining the functions of NSA and how it benefits student bodies.

INTRODUCED BY Mary Ruth Summers, President of UGA, who is openly advocating the link, the young senior, a major in economics at the University of Miami, presented a detailed account of the functions of NSA using several actual cases to illustrate his point.

The speaker first explained what NSA is. The National Student Association, he explained, is a service organization for individual student governments. It sets the example for such services as local student government bodies can bring to their students. One of these, the Student Discount Service, permits students of the college carrying such a service to get discounts on almost everything bought in the area or town

(Continued on Page 2)

Traffic Court To Be Opened

McMullen Appointed New Court Chairman

[illegible] McMullen has been [illegible]d by University Gov. [illegible] Association Pres. Mary Ruth Summers as Chairman of the Traffic Court, which has not been operating this school year.

The Senate approved the appointment of McMullen, a Kappa Sigma who is a Senior in the field of public administration. The Traffic Court was organized last year at which time George B. [illegible] Jr. was appointed Chairman.

AS THE SYSTEM was set up [illegible] all cases of violations [illegible] Traffic Code, reported to [illegible] by the Business Manager of the University, were considered as official violations. The [illegible] the Court then notified [illegible] when to appear. The [illegible] could have a counsel and [illegible]

[illegible] of the Code at first [illegible] a warning notice [illegible] ranged from one dollar [illegible] dollars. Students [illegible] up for trial also had the [illegible] of appeal.

ANY STUDENT in temporary [illegible] of a car for a period [illegible] 48 hours had to register [illegible] presence on campus with [illegible] Business Manager, [illegible] given an official sticker [illegible] windshield.

[illegible] Code consisted of [illegible] violations: parking [illegible] bus parking across [illegible] entrances where mark- [illegible] obstructing traffic [illegible] "U" turns, improper [illegible] parking in no park- [illegible] parking in loading [illegible] double parking, failure to [illegible] through streets, careless [illegible] negligent driving, reck- [illegible] driving wrong way on [illegible] street and failing to [illegible] school bus when signaled.

As [illegible] the Traffic Court has [illegible] organized fuly for ope- [illegible] year.

'Smoke Signals' To Begin Cover Girl Competition Today

The deadline for the annual Smoke Signals Cover Girl Contest was announced today by John Howard, chairman of the Contest. December 1 will be the last day that organizations may submit candidates. There is no limit as to the number which they may sponsor.

A picture or pictures of the candidate must be turned in to the Smoke Signals letter box in the Longmire Building or organizations must contact Howard at the Sigma Nu House, 2-1091, by that date.

Preliminary judging will take place December 4 by the senior staff, with the basis of selection as photogenic beauty. Final judging, December 11, will be by three faculty judges who will choose the winner for beauty and cover suitability.

In addition to the cover girl, selections for each month of the year will be made, with the girls chosen representing the months with an inside article of the next issue of Smoke Signals.

Pictures should be submitted as soon as possible, Howard said, adding that the more photographs turned in from a particular organization, the better chances of winning. Pictures need not be full length.

'O' Club to Show New Free Movie

[illegible] a movie starring [illegible] will be shown for [illegible] at the Freshman Dormitory at 8 [illegible]

[illegible] of Emile Zola" starts [illegible] 30 in the O Club. It [illegible] of the famed French [illegible] his one-man [illegible] justice, honesty and [illegible] The culmination was [illegible] effort when he [illegible] name of Captain Dreyfus [illegible] when worldly success [illegible] made Zola forget [illegible] The Warner Brothers [illegible] Paul Muni and [illegible]

The movie will show Tuesday at [illegible] in South Cawthon. It [illegible] shown the remainder [illegible] due to Thanksgiving [illegible]

Greeks on Radio Every Thurs. Night

[illegible] Greek" every Thursday [illegible] at 9 30 over WFSU when [illegible] and sororities present [illegible] 15 minute program.

Every week a fraternity or sorority is called upon to present a program over WFSU. The program consists of a brief resume' of [illegible] and national chapters' [illegible] local chapter's progress [illegible] campus, and if the fraternity or sorority desires, they [illegible] a skit or some other [illegible] talent.

B[illegible] Duperouzel is sponsor [illegible] program. Each week the [illegible] and sororities alternate [illegible] the Alpha Omicron [illegible] on a program and [illegible] the Kappa Sigma's [illegible] on the air.

Richard Neutra Lecture Series Packs Conradi

Richard Neutra spoke Wednesday night in Conradi Theatre as the second notable artistic presentation of the 1952-53 Artist Series program.

MR. NEUTRA, a lucid, forceful speaker, began his lecture with the question, "Have you ever visited Mystery House on Confusion Hill?" With this query, he launched into a discussion which, from the start, had listeners on his side.

The speaker commented that Florida has immense possibilities due to its rapid growth in population and development of its natural resources.

ON ARCHITECTURE, the lecturer said that it is always new and rejuvenating, and almost in the same breath, "It must have some safe and lasting ideas."

He advanced the theory that all humans are tinkerers who tinker with environment, and change it till it drives them crazy. In proving his point, he cited the number of mental patients in hospitals, many of them supposedly environment tinkerers. These people disintegrate natural settings, he said.

The architect has a great responsibility in switching on and off all kinds of stimuli the speaker continued. The daily life of the people living in a house is a major concern of an architect.

HE STRESSED the importance of physical planning, saying the entire physical environment of a house, its proposed neighborhood and comunity as well as its site must be considered.

The speaker illustrated the latter half of his lecture with color slides of the houses he has planned and designed. Many were modest many were elaborate, but all were attractive.

The eminent American architect was introduced by Professor Edmund Lewandowski, head of the Florida State University Department of Art.

Don Knowles To Play For Informal Dance

There will be an informal dance at the Student Union building tonight from 8:30 to 11:30. Music will be furnished by Danny Knowles and his Basin Street Five.

Members of Kappa Delta sorority and Sigma Chi fraternity will be co-hosts at the dance. All university students are invited to attend.

FSU Artist Named Awards Chairman

Professor Edmund Lewandowski, Head of the Florida State University department of art, has been named as chairman of the Jury of Awards for the Twenty-sixth Annual Exhibition of the Florida Federation of Art at St. Petersburg Nov. 20, 21 and 22. Dr. Lewandowski is also vice-president of F. F. A.

The Florida Federation of Art is a coordinator of the activities of over twenty local Florida art clubs including the Tallahassee Art League. These organizations are dedicated to the furtherance of arts in any and all ways in the state. They are also affiliated with the American Federation of Art, a national group.

With Dr. Lewandowski on the jury will be Helen Sawyer, wife of the well-known artist, Jerry Farnsworth and a nationally known artist in her own right, and William Pachner, artist in residence at the Clearwater Art Foundation.

International Vespers Planned By Baptists

The Baptist Student Union will be the scene of an International Vespers program Tuesday, during which the members of the International Students Club will be guests. A supper will precede Vespers at 5 30 p.m.

Those wishing to attend must sign up at the Student House or at the University Department of the First Baptist Church by Sunday. There will be a charge of 50 cents.

Herbert Show Nears Opening; Plays 3 Nights

Rehearsals Increased To Insure Successful Debut of "Sweethearts"

With the dates of proruction nearing rapidly, rehearsals for the Fall presentation by the Light Opera Guild of Victor Herbert's operetta, "Sweethearts" have been stepped up to a rapid pace in order to insure a successful opening on Thursday evening, Dec. 4.

The musical will play three nights in the Opperman Music Hall, Thursday, Friday and Saturday Dec. 4, 5 and 6.

THE COMBINATION of many elements must be successfully achieved in order to accomplish this particular medium of entertainment, according to Dr. Robert L. Briggs, musical director for the show. While the principals have been rehearsing for several weeks on their roles, a chorus of forty voices, under the direction of Miss Betty Jane Grimm, has been working separately on their part in their production. The addition of the orchestra to the rehearsal schedule is an indication of tiheh intensive activity which has now begun in these last weeks of practice.

Scenery and costumes for "Sweethearts", both of which must be colorful and elaborate, are being rented from a Boston firm and are scheduled to arrive

(Continued on Page 2)

Faculty Sponsors Elections Slated For Frosh Class

President of the Freshman Class Jimmy Joanos has issued an announcement to the Freshman Class that they will soon be electing two faculty members as sponsors of the Class of 1956.

The faculty members, as follows custom, will be in the advisory capacity to the Freshmen all through their four years at Florida State University.

"The choice will take some thinking," states Joanos who urges all Frosh to give the matter a lot of thought. "Look over the faculty," he continues, "and decide whom you think would be most interested in and helpful to your class."

The next meeting of the Freshman class will be scheduled sometime during the next four weeks before Christmas.

Freshmen have a reputation to live up to, according to Joanos; having shown true class spirit and cooperation through the football season, elections, and having a Homecoming Queen, recently-elected Marlies Gessler to their credit the frosh now have the responsibility of turning out to elect their sponsors.

Where's the Cake?

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—President Campbell was given a birthday party by the senior class Tuesday night. The party, an annual tradition at FSU, was held at Dr. and Mrs. Campbell's house following a banquet in the Suwannee Room.

Seminoles Invade Atlanta To Meet Rambling Wreck

Marching Through Georgia

TOMORROW IS THE DAY—And Coach Veller is probably wondering if he and his boys will get out of their game with Georgia Tech in one piece. The Rambling Wreck is rated as the number two team in the nation, while the FSU Seminoles have an impressive number of losses this year.

FSU-Tech Clash Marks Third Meeting Between Two Schools

By PAT HOGAN

Florida State University's infinitesimal gridiron history soars to all-time heights and swings boldly into King Football's national spotlight when Coach Don Veller's Seminoles collide with the fearless, fabulous Rambling Wreck of Georgia Tech in Atlanta's tradition-wealthy Grant Field tomorrow afternoon.

Upwards of 20,000 fans, including a godoly number of Seminole supporters, are expected to have ringside seats for the 2:30 p. m. kickoff.

IT WILL BE the third meeting—the first in 48 years—between the Georgia Tech and Florida Stiae teams and needless to say, even the most uninformed coed on campus knows the contest is billed as a walkaway for Coach Bobby Dodd's undefeated, Sugar Bowl-bound Yellow Jackets.

Unless you believe in miracles, two streaks will be extended tomorrow. The Engineers, if the cards read right, will make it 24 conquests since their last upheaval while the Seminoles, for the ninth straight time, will be restrained from drinking from the victor's cup.

EVEN SO, the game stacks up as a Christmas, a three-ring circus and a World Series all rolled into one for Florida State.

Win or lose, with prospects for the former as remote as hair on a bald man's head, the current edition of Seminoles, in years hence, will be telling their grandchildren of the day they played against America's No. 2 college football eleven, a coaches' dream team if there ever was one.

STARTLED BY Alabama before taking a 7-3 victory as 40,000 Grand Field fans and millions of television viewers gasped in surprise last Saturday, the Engineers will be somewhat touchdown-happy tomorrow afternoon. Not in 15 games had the Wreck been held to a single six-pointer.

And, as the Yellow Jackets' Dodd openly stated this week, the Seminoles will be cavorting against Tech's front-line shock troops, even if only for a prolonged jiffy. Dodd says he hopes to rack up a few early touchdowns so he can retire the regulars for the day.

THREE OF THE Engineers the Tribe must face are more than tepid candidates for All-America honors. They are Senior Co-captain George Morris, a linebacking wizard considered the best in the business today. Senior End Buck Martin, who owns a fantastic record as a pass-catcher, and Junior Back Leon Hardeman, a stumpy, 5-6 wonder who charges down

(Continued on Page 3)

Templeton Appears At Leon Monday

Alec Templeton, acclaimed as one of the most outstanding of modern concert artists, will be the featured soloist in the opening concert of the 1952-53 season of the State Symphony of Florida. The concert will be presented in Leon High Auditorium next Monday evening, Nov. 24, at 8:15 p.m.

Dr. Karl Kuersteiner, Dean of the School of Music, is conductor of the State Symphony, which is composed of students, faculty and townspeople. The State Symphony is now in its fifth season of sponsorship by the Tallahassee Junior Chamber of Commerce.

SEASON TICKETS for the Symphony Series, which will include three concerts, are on sale in the School of Music office for $5.00. Besides the concert featuring Alec Templeton next Monday, the series will present Albert Spalding, violinist, and Ernest von Dohnanyi, guest conductor on Feb. 9, and a pop concert on March 24 which will feature Patsy Gilliam dancer, Robert Sed[illegible] violinist and J. Dayton Smith, tenor.

Templeton, featured artist on the first concert this season, is a unique [illegible] in the world of music, a man who through his love of music has been able to speak with knowledge, warmth and clarity to those who like classical music and to those who prefer popular music.

TEMPLETON THINKS that

(Continued on Page 2)

Pres. Campbell's Birthday Features Gala Celebration

University Pres. Doak S. Campbell celebrated his birthday Tuesday night while the Senior Class provided all the trimmings.

Approximately 100 Seniors attended the annual banquet given in the Suwannee Room. Senior Class Pres. Bob Ryals introduced the guests of honor.

Among those seated at the honored table besides Dr. and Mrs. Campbell were Chaplain and Mrs. Sam Neel Vice-Pres. and Mrs. A. B. Ma[illegible] Dean and Mrs. J. Broward Culpepper, Dean Katherine Warren, Dr. and Mrs. Hudson Rogers, Bob Ryals, Senior Class Pres. Paul Sorapuru, social chairman; Barbara Brewton, secretary, and Jane Shepard, treasurer.

Ryals presented President Campbell with a rod and reel as the Senior Class present to him. The president thanked the class and told them jokingly to prepare for a "fish fry soon."

After the banquet, the Seniors went to the president's home where he cut a three-tiered cake reading, "Happy Birthday, from the Senior Class." Punch and the cake were served by Mrs. Campbell with the assistance of Mortar Board. The Seniors and the FSU officials then talked informally.

KD's Have Reception

The Kappa Delta House was the scene of a formal reception Wednesday [illegible] Mrs. Flo[illegible] president of Beta [illegible] of Kappa Delta social [illegible]

Faculty [illegible] presidents and house mothers were present.

Poems Are Accepted For Nat'l Publication

Ronald Morgan and Jane Putnam, students of Florida State, have had poetry accepted for publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry, sponsored by the National Poetry Association.

Morgan's contribution is "Reminiscence," while Jane Putnam's is entitled "Dilemma."

The Anthology is a compilation of the finest poetry written by college men and women of America [illegible]

Baptists Plan Party

[illegible] people [illegible] to attend the Georgia Tech game. Refreshments will be served.

Program Given On Three Arts

Staff members of three separate but interrelated departments of the arts at Florida State University will present a program at Opperman Hall Monday night, Nov. 24 at 8:15.

The program, entitled "Theme and Variation in Three Arts," will place stress on the similarity of artistic organizations in painting, dance and music. Members of tha Tallahassee Art League and their guests, as well as students not attending the Florida State Symphony concert in Leon High School, are cordially invited to attend.

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR Adolph Karl of the department of art will open the program with a discussion of three basic linear themes in a painting by Seurat,

(Continued on Page 2)

Five FSU Entrants Compete in Finals For Fulbright Award

Florida State University [illegible] five students in one of the final stages of the Fulbright awards competition, according to Dr. Alfred LeDuc of the department of modern languages and chairman of tha FSU institution committee which approved the Florida Staters.

The FSU students are Mr. and Mrs. Alan Downes, Nancy Lee Day, Helen Lawler and Peg Rigg.

THEIR APPLICATIONS, after having been approved in a statewide meeting in Gainesville, are now in New York for consideration by the International Institute of Education for comparison with other applications in the nation. After going through this channel, they must still be approved by the United States Department and the country and institution in which they desire to study.

The famed Fulbright Fellowships are federal grants for graduate study in foreign countries. They provide for full living expenses, fees and transportation for one academic year. The FSU candidates will learn by Spring if they have been successful, Dr. LeDuc says, adding he thinks they "have a good chance."

JUDGING IS based on the student's past record, the project for proposed study and whether he is a good representative of the American people and [illegible] a good citizen [illegible]

(Continued on Page 2)

Theatrics Reviewed At Second Lecture Of Jongleur Series

The second in a series of programs sponsored by LES JONGLEURS, dramatic honorary, entitled "The Globe on Campus" will be presented this evening November 21 at 8 15 in the second floor lounge of the Longmire building.

THE GUEST SPEAKER for the program will be Dr. Janet K. Smith of the Home and Family Life Department. Her topic will be "University and Community Theatre Productions of Shakespeare."

Dr. [illegible] had extensive experience in the theatre and especially in Shakespearean acting and production. At the University at Bloomington, Illinois, she worked in three plays—The Merchant of Venice, As You Like It, and Macbeth.

SHE DESIGNED and made the costumes and also played the [illegible] At Illinois State Normal University, near Bloomington, she costumed Romeo and Juliet and [illegible] similar work at the University of Iowa [illegible]

[illegible] the programs [illegible] Shakespeare [illegible] introduction to [illegible] department's production of TAMING OF THE SHREW, to be given in January.

ACE Artist Series Features Jr. Chorus

The second in [illegible] of Junior Artist Series [illegible] the Association [illegible] see Junior [illegible] Opperman [illegible] is made up [illegible] the Tallahassee [illegible] schools. The [illegible] for their [illegible] required to take a [illegible] are accepted.

[illegible]

(Continued on Page [illegible])

N. Cawthon Awarded

[illegible]

David and Goliath

OFF THE CUFF

QUESTIONNAIRES STEP IN RIGHT DIRECTION

By BRUCE GALPHIN

The campus-wide student questionnaire administered last Wednesday certainly gave signs of being a step in the right direction of putting an ear to the student stamping ground.

I haven't had such enjoyment in many a week as I did getting a load off my chest by filling out the opinion blanks. Actually, I hope that people did not treat the questionnaires as mere targets for misplaced aggressions. Although some came away from the question and answer session with the feeling that it was all rather silly, the answers obtained might be of considerable significance.

The fact that students were asked on a large scale to air their griefs is a hopeful sign. "Maybe what we think does make a difference to them, after all," was the attitude many carried away. It was equally common to hear, however, "Now that we've given our opinions, what are they going to do about it?"

It is to be hoped that the questionnaire was not a mere attitude tester and really will be studied, interpreted and taken into consideration when plans for the university are being made.

* * *

Yet in another way the questionnaire was rather disappointing. One didn't realize immediately just what the trouble was, but after a time it began to sink in that the trouble lay in what was not included. Many interesting questions were put to the students, and if pieced together they should delineate a revealing picture of student and campus opinion.

Yet an important part, perhaps the keystone itself, was missing from the structure. What of the political and economic beliefs of the students?

As it is now, we know whether father owns a car less than five years old, a house worth so much, a washing machine, a TV set, etc. We know whether his son or daughter likes the infirmary, the administration, the library, the drinking rules, the book store, the faculty, etc. But we know virtually nothing of the pattern of thinking behind these isolated facts and tastes.

If dear old Dad were born and raised in Charleston, South Carolina, owns a couple of Cadillacs, a $40,000 winter home and a $10,000 beach cottage; while Junior thinks capitalism is a necessary part of democracy, despises the national health plan, believes in segregation and distrusts "reformers," then you begin to get a fuller, more meaningful picture.

If Pop (may he rest in peace) was a coal miner in East Smogsville, Pensylvania, died of malnutrition in the depression, leaving his wife and seven kids penniless; while Junior (who is here on the GI bill) believes in social security, government protection of the public, abhors segregation and admires Hubert Humphrey, then again you have something significant.

In short, without probing student beliefs in political science it is hard to establish any pattern about his thinking on campus topics. It seems to me it would have been much more enlightening to the planners of the future of the University to establish such a basis for their findings.

It also seems unfortunate one particular question was not asked. In polls it has been asked before, but even the best of polls are notoriously inaccurate, depending as they do on samples rather than the whole population of a group. Considering the continued controversy on the subject and the impending Supreme Court decision which may focus everyone's attention on the subject, it's too bad student opinion on the subject was not solicited.

Probably these suggestions are in the "sorry, too late" category, and they aren't made to detract any from the achievement of months of work on the questionnaire.

Again I think the questionnaire was an admirable step, and I compliment the authors.

Richey to Receive Alpha Kappa Psi's Business 'Award'

Miss Luella Richey, professor in the business college at Florida State University has been selected by the members of Alpha Kappa Psi, business fraternity on campus, as the winner of that organization's faculty award to be presented annually from now on.

Presented as a token of appreciation, the certificate award recognizes Miss Richey's 37 years of service to FSU.

Before coming to FSU, Miss Richey received her B. A. Degree from Ohio Wesleyan University and her MA from Ohio State University. While at Florida State, she has had many accomplishments in the furtherance of business subjects put to her credit.

She holds the distinction of being the first woman Certified Public Accountant in the State of Florida, which honor she held solely for 18 years. Miss Richey now teaches several of the advanced accounting courses and directs the work of a number of graduate students.

Library Announces Holiday Schedule

Assistant Librarian Florence Bethea has announced the library hours for the Thanksgiving Holidays.

They are as follows:

Wednesday, Nov. 26: 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. (regular hours). Reserve books may be borrowed from 9 until 9.45 p. m.

Thursday, Nov. 27, Thanksgiving Day: Closed.

Friday, Nov. 28: 8.30 a m. until 4.30 p m. Reserve books may be borrowed from 3 until 4.15 p. m. Due Satuday, Nov. 29, by 9.30 a. m.

Saturday, Nov 29: 8 30 a m. until 12:30 p. m. Reserve books may be borrowed from 11 a m. until 12.15 p m Due Monday Nov. 31 by 9.30 a. m.

Sunday, Nov. 30: Closed.

Overdue charges on all books will run as usual.

Veterans May Change G I Insurance Plans

World War II veterans who hold 5-year or 8-year GI term insurance still may convert to permanent plans of GI insurance with guaranteed values that term policies do not have, H. P Dickensheets VA Regional Manager said today.

Numerous inquiries have been received concerning this right to convert National Service Life Insurance.

No law has been passed by the Congress which takes away or otherwise limits the right to convert from term to permanent plans of NSLI, he added.

The only GI life insurance which may not be converted under present laws is the special 5-year nonconvertible term policy that is issuable to veterans with service since June 27 1950 the start of the Korean hostilities.

Wesley Foundation Entertains Guest

Miss Ruth Smith of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church, will be a special guest at the Wesley Foundation this weekend. She will speak at Sunday School and stay for the evening activities.

A native of North Carolina, graduate of George Peabody College for Teachers and a student of Scarrit College and Garret Biblical Institute she was commissioned a deaconess in the Methodist Church in 1948.

Miss Smith will be available for interviews with students interested in the mission field by appointment. Arrangements may be made for an interview through Bette Barnes, director of the Student House.

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager
BABS HENRY—Managing Editor
FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors	Marcia Morris, Bruce Galphin
Sports Editors	Jim Eady, Pat Hogan
Copy Editor	Judy Simkins
Feature Editor	June Morgan
Assistant News Editor	Al Pierce
Rewrite Editor	John Harcopes
Morgue Editors	Bob Herr's Liz Vang
National Ad Manager	Pat Robinson
Local Ad Manager	Flo Walton
Assistant Managers	Nancy Lewe, Julie Norton, Marilyn Searight

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York
Telephone 2-8000, Extension 4621
Second Floor Alumni Bldg

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegite Press Association

Allowance Checks Cover Full Period From Class Start

Veterans in Florida training under the Korean GI Bill will get their GI allowance checks from the date they started class, even though there's been an unavoidable delay by the States in approving schools.

H. P. Dickensheets, Regional Manager, said the Veterans Administration has authorized its regional offices to back-date school approvals, when they are finally received from the State Agencies responsible for making them.

THE RETROACTIVE approvals may go back either to Aug. 20, 1952, the date the new GI training program became effective, or to the date when the veterans enrolled in class—whichever came later.

In that way, veteran - students may be paid for all the time they spent in the classroom—so long as it was after Aug. 20—and not just from the date the State approved their school, Dickensheets explained.

STATE APPROVAL of a school is a "must" under the Korean GI Bill. The law states that veterans may not receive GI education and training allowances for any period during which the school was not approved.

In many instances throughout the nation, however, the flood of fall enrollments came about before the State agencies had a chance to act. The result was that large numbers of veterans started classes in schools that had not been approved.

BY AUTHORIZING retroactive approvals, VA has wiped out the threat of payless periods of training for these veterans.

VA emphasized that even though a veteran may be entitled to retroactive payments, he can't get his money until after the State has approved his school. But when he does get it, the check will cover all the time he's been in training after Aug. 20.

There are two provisos in VA's action. First, the State Agency must check on the school no later than Dec. 1 And second, the Agency must determine whether the school met all the standards of training set up in the law, and must certify this fact to the VA.

Mixer Party Given Scholarship Holders

A Mixer party will be held tonight at the O Club by the newly organized State Educational Scholarship Holders' Club.

All such scholarship holders are invited to attend.

Committee members for the club, which held its organizational meeting recently, are Betty Beoecke, chairman, Sandra Lee and Mary McLeod, refreshments, Louanne Self, chairman, and Kathleen Crutchfield, publicity; Nancy Watkins, chairman, Beatrice Cruce, Irell Smothers and Lynn Shuler, entertainment and Audrey McCa., chairman, and Ronald Morgan, decorations and arrangements.

Letters to the Editor

Crowded Dance

Dear Editor:

Students and alumni of Florida State were subjected to one of the biggest hoaxes of the year Saturday night at the annual Homecoming "dance." The so-called "dance" was supposed to be the climax of the weekend and leave everyone happy and satisfied with the weekend. If anything, it turned my stomach.

For three bucks a couple could stand jam-packed against another couple, who had also paid the $3.00 and listen to Sammy Kaye for four hours. Frankly, you can feed the juke box for a nickel a throw and do the same thing. Dancing was impossible. When two or three thousand people are jammed into the dining hall, anything outside of standing still is nearly impossible.

Personally, I feel that anyone who bought a ticket should be allowed to get his money back. Ticket buyers paid to DANCE not to stand around listening and getting pushed, kicked and stepped on.

I would suggest that next year's dance committee AND the administration look into this problem. Agree to sell only a limited number of tickets and stick to that agreement.

This year's "dance" pretty nearly made Homecoming a flop. Let's not have it happen again.

Ralph Hager

Mixer Party Planned

The State Educational Scholarship Holders' Club, a newly formed organization will have a mixer [illegible] at the O Club, on West Campus.

Majors in Home Ec. Propose Improvements

The building needs of the School of Home Economics have been pictured in a large exhibit by students of that major, now on show in the Science Building, where it decorates an entire midsection of the wall.

"Home Economics Home Now Heap Leaky—In 50 Years Quite a Tepee" is the theme. The exhibit shows tepee before and after proposed improvements. A leaky, tattered tepee is joined to a beautiful, improved one by a large diagram showing the confusing locations of present home economics building scattered over the East and West campuses.

A SENIOR CLASS in Home Economics education taught by Miss Susan Burson, department head, is responsible for the display. Jan Arbogast, who thought up the idea, was chairman of the work committee composed of Shirley Allen, Mary Louise Archibald Elizabeth Cooke, Dorothy Douglas, Sarah Howard, Dagmar Johnson and Anna Marie Erdman.

All of these Seniors, with the exception of Miss Erdman, who is a scholarship graduate student will be in the intern field next semester. The exhibit work was a special class assignment, designed to give the future school teachers practical experience in the bulletin board work which will be part of their job.

BEVERLY LACAYO, Senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, was the artist. She made the overall sketch, and then the rest of the committee carried out the detail work.

A Tribe directory labels Dr. Margaret Sandels, dean of the school, as Great White Chief. All department heads are listed as Head Squaws: Blanket Weavers (clothing and textiles) Medicine Men (food and nutrition); Squaw, Brave and Papoose live happy together (home and family life); Heap Big Stew Makers (institution administration); Papoose Learn Tepee Making (home economics education); Away Hunting (Miss Ruth Dales and Miss Grace Trumbo, faculty members on leave of absence.)

"Follow 'Um Susie Seminole" is the slogan directed at an Indian girl shown in the Home Economics Reservation, taking off from the old tepee and destined for the new.

Quakers Observe Silent Worships

The Friends, a Quaker organization, will have silent worship at 9:45 a m. Sunday at 674 W. Lafayette St.

Afterwards there will be a social get-together at the farm home of Mrs. Steven Sterk, five miles out on the Perry Hwy. Cars will leave the college gate at 2:30 for a recreational program. This will leave the college gate at 2 30 for a recreational program. This will ered dish supper. An informal discussion on Quaker beliefs and practices will be led by Forrest Altman.

Those wishing to learn about the Quaker religion are cordially invited to attend. Further information can be obtained by calling Mrs. George Fink at 2-5197.

Herbert Show

(Continued From Page 1)

during the Thanksgiving vacation. After that time, a stage crew will be added to the company roster and the final week of rehearsals will find the principals, the chorus, the orchestra and the production staff all combining efforts to achieve the ultimate success of the presentation.

MEMBERS OF the orchestra, which is a select group of university musicians, are as follows First Violins: Buell Agey, concertmaster, Thomas Wikstrom Virginia Jackson, Ernest Jones; Second Violins: Lois Schnoor Mary Anne Bohlayer; Violas, John Venetozzi, Sharon Lane; Violoncellos: Marysue Barnes, Mildred Aitchison String Bass: James Yelvington; Flutes: Joyce Bryant Susan Lucas Oboe Robert Forman; Clarinets: Lloyd Fish Connie Davis. Bassoon, Lewis Danfelt; French Horns, Terry Shuler, Pat Johnson; Trumpets Sonny Hasbrouck Vic Mickunas; Trombone: Brice Whitener Percussion: Louanne Self, Harry Holmberg.

Tickets are now on sale at the University Bookstore and the School of Music Office. This year's production of the Light Opera Guild is sponsored by Sigma Alpha Iota, women's professional music fraternity.

Templeton Appears

(Continued From Page 1)

above all, music should be fun. One of the reasons why so many people enjoy his playing is that he himself enjoys music and performance. Although blind since birth, he has reaced the top of the music ladder, and is today recognized as one of te greatest modern pianists.

Besides being a great performer, Templeton is a composer. His take-offs of the classics in jazz idiom have become the record collector's rarest items. His "Bach Goes to Town," "Mozart Matriculates," and burlesques such as the opera, "South of the Border" have made radio and concert audiences from coast to coast chuckle.

FOR HIS PERFORMANCE with the State Symphony Templeton will play the Grieg "Piano Concerto" with the orchestra, and in addition will present several of his musical impressions and will improvize complete pieces on notes called out by audience.

The orchestra part of the program, as announced by Dr. Kuersteiner, will consist of the Brahms "Symphony No. 1, in C Minor," and the tone-poem by George Gershwin, "An American in Paris." This is the musical work which was the basis for the recent movie of the same name, starring Gena Kelly.

Librarian Addresses Interested Audience In Opening Series

"Anarchy cannot be endured. Anarchy will not be tolerated," Director Dan Lacy of the Information Center Service, U. S. Department of Sttae, said Tuesday night in giving a Florida State University audience of librarians, faculty members, students and alumni a comprehensive resume of Western civilization.

HE THINKS that world order and unity will be restored and that the United States is the main strength of Western civilization in its struggle for survival. He classified World War I and World War II as "civil wars in the history of Western civilizations."

'Books and Libraries in International Communication' was Lacy's subject. He concentrated on Asia and the Near East in reporting on the recent headway made by our government in establishing Information Cneters (patterned on American librabries). Believing that books play a major role as the only practical means in attaining this communication, he explained complications arising from barriers of language, illiteracy, differences in currency values and international copyright problems.

LACY TOLD of a new Center experiment whereby 4 500 sets of an "Expendable Library" have been sent to India. The library consists of 100 books—reprints of classic books of the self-help type (infant care), a thesaurus and Shakespearean plays. Lacy spoke highly of cooperation given by big American publishers to the Information Center Service but he warned that books shipped abroad are only important as they can be translated in terms of everyday life in foreign countries.

Dr Louis Shores, dean of the FSU School of Library Training and Service, introduced the speaker who is the first in a series of internationally important librarians Dr. Shores is inviting to the FSU campus.

Program Given

(Continued From Page 1)

French Post-Impressionist. Miss Nellie Bond Dickinson, associate professor of dance, women's physical education, will be assisted by Nancy Smith in her discussion and demonstration of the use of bodily movements as themes in choreograaphy.

Mr. Carlisle, Floyd, composer and pianist in the FSU School of Music, will deal with the same subject as Miss Dickinson's from the point of view of musical composition, playing his own composion, "Theme and Variations." Miss Lew McSwain will assist at the piano.

As a finale to the program, Miss Dickinson and Miss Smith will join Mr. Floyd and Miss McSwain in a performance of 'Theme and Variations."

Dean of Seminory To Interview Students

Miss Helen Falls, dean of women of the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, arrived on the Florida State campus yesterday and will be at the Baptist Student House until tonight.

She is interested in interviewing all students who plan to attend a seminary following their college graduation. Students may sign for appointments.

Miss Falls will also be the guest speaker at the Life Service Band tonight at 6 in the BSU house. All those interested are asked to come.

MENU

Hank Amen Will Play At URA Square Dance

Students are invited to a University Recreation Association square dance tonight from 8 until 11 in the Women's Gymnasium. They may come stag, women as well as men, and may dress in jeans or other clothes for square dancing.

ACE Artist Series

(Continued From Page 1)

ity" with Christine Martin, Avery Freeman, Dickie Caspari, Mary Ann Jennings, Sam Pasco, and Mary Page Andrews as soloists "The Mexican Hat Dance" featured Mary Helen Pope, Sam Pasco, Judy Saunders, David Barr, Harriet Armstrong, Lyman Fletcher, Anne Hooks and Avery Freeman as dancers.

The chorus is under the direction of Miss Lois Schnoor and is accompanied by Miss Anna Margareta Marstrander, a teaching graduate assistant in the School of Music from Norway.

Five FSU

(Continued From Page 1)

to 20 nations participate in the program, which is limited to no field of study except that it be appropriate to the institution which will be attended. France, Belgium, Italy and England have the most openings, and it is essential for the candidate to know the language of the country.

Students must apply for the fellowship through this University and be supported by the professors of their major studies. Applications for the next competition will be accepted sometime in the Spring, said Dr. LeDuc. Announcement will be made as to when.

The FSU committee to consider the candidates was appointed by Pres. Doak S. Campbell, and this year is composed of Dr. LeDuc as chairman, Dr Charles S Da[illegible] dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; Dr Milton Caroth[illegible] dean of the Graduate School and Glover E Tully, head of the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement.

Proposed FSU-NSA Tie-up

(Continued From Page 1)

where the college is located. Students are issued a card which they may present when making a purchase, entitling them to a substantial discount on the article.

ANOTHER DIRECTED effort of NSA is an attempt to coordinate blood donor programs in all its member schools. The plan is to set up a week during the year in which all blood donations will be given simultaneously at the member campuses. This, according to the speaker, should serve to generate a greater national student interest in blood drives.

Acting as a national sounding board of student opinion, the speaker said, NSA brings to such factions in the national government as Universal Military Training the opinion of the students and their feelings on the matters of state. Recently the governmental bureaus came to NSA and asked them to get the students' opinions on the McCarran Act which deals with the study in foreign countries by American students. In this service, the NSA represents 300 schools across the country and voices the feelings of some 800,000 students.

WALKER LISTED three valuable services of NSA. First, he said, NSA operates an exchange service between member schools to collect the various problems of their governments which are usually similar, and work out a set of solutions that have worked in other schools. Second, they maintain a bulletin of these solutions and problems which is regularly sent to member schools in synopsis form. Third, the NSA has devoted a large part of their time so far to working out more successful orientation programs for its members.

Asked about NSA's international affiliations, the speaker explained that NSA is one of four members making up the policy-determining board of advisors for the National Student Service Fund, and is also one of 90 members on the board of advisors of UNESCO.

OPERATIONS IN the international field include the arranging of a student travel service offering members working tours through any section of the world at nominal expenses with the jobs arranged by the travel service. In commenting on the functions of NSA in the international field Walker said, "If we are to show the world the right path toward peace through democracy we've got to be able to show them where we are leading them. This is accomplished by making NSA the sounding board for every American student."

Asked about how much it would cost Florida State University to be a member Walker stated the membership is paid in yearly dues probably amounting to around $150 per annum for FSU.

THE QUESTION was raised about what NSA does when a question of regional concern possibly stemming from the differences in opinion between Northern and Southern schools arises. He explained that regional controversies are left to the decisions of the sec[illegible] organizations and policy on the issue at hand is not determined by the national organization.

The UGA Forum Wednesday night served as a question and answered period to help clear any questions FSU students may have had.

OTHER SPEAKERS on the forum were Mary Ruth Sum[illegible] who is openly advocating the proposed link of FSU's UGA with NSA and Bill Dunn, Flambeau editor, who is neutral.

A query by Dunn brought the remark that a college or university need not abide by NSA policies if that particular student body did not agree. Roger [illegible] went on to explain that a university also did not have to abide by their supplementary to student government constitutions if a majority of the students [illegible] against ratifying it, but [illegible] would still be considered members of the organization.

A PRESENT NSA policy [illegible] extending of the votes to 18 year olds on the argument that if they are old enough to fight, they are old enough to vote for their president. It was explained that NSA is not a lobbying group, and their only say-so comes [illegible] their reputation for sound student opinions caused them to be called to testify whenever a bill is brought up in Congress.

Roger defended NSA on several popular counts that seem as [illegible] put it, "to come up all the time." He insisted that NSA had been cleared by the House UnAmerican Hearings against the much popular story that they were not. He also defended NSA from attacks by sororities and fraternities because there were rumors that NSA was crusading to strike discriminatory clauses from fraternity charters. "We are not doing any such thing," announced R[illegible] even though one of the main themes of the NSA program is 'Democracy is Colorblind.'

THE FORUM ended on the note that it was the opinion of R[illegible] Walker that FSU would benefit from the union.

...eading All-America Way?

...RGIA TECH'S sensational backfield ace, Leon "Hardrock" Hardeman, is ...ently mentioned on football circles as definite All-America timber. Hardeman ...mics are expected to see plenty of Hardeman, the Southeastern Con...ence's No 2 rusher, when they clash with the Engineers in Atlanta ...day.

Tom-A-Hawk Tales

By PAT HOGAN

...were sitting in the press box high up in Atlanta's ...lanta Stadium on a bright autumn day in mid-October, watching ...Auburn founder against mighty Georgia Tech and you ...ssing there is not a better team anywhere than the ...Yankees.

...man steamrollers named Leon Hardeman and Billy ... and make mincemeat of the giant crew of carnivorous ...Auburn defense.

WATCH THE TECH defensive platoon spearheaded by All-... candidate George Morris, rear up like the great ...s whenever Auburn threatened its dearest possession— ...the

...yself "Here at last, is a team you've always longed ... but like the Yankees, good field, good hit, good ...

...across the battlefield below to a specific section in ... horseshoe-shaped stadium where 4,000 students ...Auburn institution, a one, roar approval to ...first down.

BUT THE AUBURN captain requesting a time out calling ... in an effort to bolster their morale for the big ... inevitable

...something that makes you freeze and sends a ... up and down your spine. You listen closer and ...field comes a familiar refrain, growing louder as ... For some unknown reason, you get a strange ...words are now drummunizable. You watch thou... feet and listen to half-shu, half yell.

...Oh! If I had a daughter sir,
I'd dress her in White and Gold
And put her on the campus
To cheer the Blue and Bold.
But if I had a son, sir
I'll tell you what he'd do
He would yell TO HECK WITH GEORGIA.'
Like his daddy used to do

...a rambling wreck from Georgia Tech
And a heck of an engineer—
A heckuva, heckuva, heckuva, heckuva,
Hook of an engineer.

...hundredth cheer so up as the people settle back in ... referee calls for play to resume and the Yellow ...om their huddle and dash up over the ball

BEGIN TALKING to yourself again, saying "You've heard ...school. Well, boy, this is it."

...Tech went on to crush Auburn, 32-0, for its fifth ...season and since that time has turned back Vander..., Army and Alabama, has a skein of 23 consecutive con... a defeat, and is ranked No 2 in the national grid ...

...ll down as a traitor but Georgia Tech will make it ...ation they lick our Florida State Seminoles tomorrow in ...one national writer put it.

...believe in miracles, scratch this one off as a walkaway ...ow the only way Florida State University can match ...is enrollment. All similarity ceases after that."

THAT'S PUTTING IT BLUNTLY, but nevertheless, on a com...ball basis, it is the bitter truth. But, oh, if we could ...words. What joy, what bliss would abound if we could ...ing like FSU 14, Georgia Tech 13!

...ll hallucinations and delusion of grandeur behind us, we ... Tech prattle with a reverent request

"GOOD HAVE MERCY."

THE SPORTSWRITING fraternity is calling Jimmy Cannon, the ... Post, talented, popular hunt-'n-pecker, a second Damon ...ost of the game's greatest stories ...

...has brought to life a new character, whom he affec...tes to as "Two-head Charlie," a horseplayer deluxe who ...ks what of a gollooopher. One of Two-Head Charlie's ...nizations is, to wit:

...a real ugly bum ... with a face a monkey would be ... Let him get a shave and a haircut and meet a broad ...ists thing the dame says to him? She says you look ...

...I admit I look like a kangaroo ... But every broad ...he I'm ... Soon as a dame says that I know I ...

...ontinue

No Typographical Error

'We'll Moider 'Em'--Veller

Nope, kiddies, you're mistaken if you think the above headline is the fruetful work of some typesetting joker. And you're even deader wrong if you believe Florida State Coach Don Veller has gone goofier than a $1.98 wrist watch.

Those were the honest-to-goodness words of Dr. Don on the eve of the Seminoles' departure for Atlanta's Grant Field, where the Indians and a team named Georgia Tech are scheduled for a little extra-curricular activity tomorrow afternoon.

BUT DON'T GET the wrong idea when Veller says, in the most articulate Brooklynite fashion: "We'll moider 'em."

It's just Coach Veller's way of saying that it would be downright preposterous, keeping in mind that his team is about to face perhaps the nation's mightiest football team, to make a statement somewhat like the following:

"We're in excellent physical condition for the big game. If we get our share of the breaks, I believe we've a good chance to win on Saturday."

IT'S A REAL pleasure to hear a football coach, who knows his team has about as much a chance to beat Georgia Tech as it does to leap over the moon, with the wit to say: "We'll moider 'em."

Veller really summed up his feelings in an appearance before the Jacksonville, Fla., Quarterback Club last Monday night, when he told them:

"Will you all stand for a minute of silent prayer for me and my Seminoles."

BENNETT LAND, erstwhile Flambeau sports editor and now official Seminole drum-beater as director of Florida State's Sports Publicity Office, wouldn't comment last night on tomorrow's game except to opine:

"Think of the publicity . . . coast to coast."

The Seminoles, 39 strong, left for Atlanta at 8 a.m. this morning. An afternoon workout is scheduled for Grant Field today.

Tech's Teacher

BOBBY DODD—Has cream and sugar, too . . .

Seminoles Invade

(Continued From Page 1)

field like an elephant suddenly gone mad.

That trio is just a delicate sample of the vaunted power of the Engineers. There are plenty more where those come from as the hackneyed expression goes.

FLORIDA STATE, victims of Georgia Tech by 47-0 in 1950 and by 35-0 in 1904 when State could almost marshal its total enrollment into one kate-slated classroom, will offer Roy Thompson, Bobby Fiveash, Nelson Italiano and Stan Dobosz as its principal scoring threats.

Most FSU partisans would settle for just one lone score, which isn't much by football standards but quite a feat when you consider that such grid names as Taylor, Auburn and Vanderbilt failed to darken the Tech goal posts on pass Saturday's this season.

THE SEMINOLES, who loosed some all rough contact work this week, may be without the services of Senior Co-Captain Curtis Campbell and tackle Charley Booth. Campbell is troubled with a painful back injury and Booth was rapped severely on the shoulder early in the Homecoming battle with Furman last week. Otherwise, the Tribe shapes up in the best of condition—before the game, that is.

The Florida State student circus features a troupe of 28 assorted acrobats, clowns and trapeze artists, and the Seminole band the "Marching Chiefs, will stage a colorful, between-halves show.

The lightest man on the University of Miami football squad this fall is home-fried Wally Piper, 150-pound speed kike.

Tribe Working Hard for First Basketball Date

Benson, Burst Show Marked Improvement Over 1951-52 Season

Slowly and inexorably the Tallahassee town crowd is private ear rides a cool the 1952 football season is ing an end. Within a night, almost, the p will be packed away in balls and Prince Basketball will come out of hibernation to make its December debut.

The bounce-bounce magic in round ball already ran headlong in the West Campus gymnasium where Florida State's basketball coach J. K. "Bud" Brownfield and 26 Seminole candidates feverously preparing for the 1952-53 debut against Mister a Georgia engagement just two weeks from today.

AT PRESENT, Kennedy is cutting 16 varsity candidates to where inclusive nine 51-52 holdovers. Two of the nineteenmen—in the absence of the vaunted power of the Engineers. There are plenty more where those come from as the hackneyed expression goes.

FLORIDA STATE, victims of Georgia Tech by 47-0 in 1950 and by 35-0 in 1904 when State could almost marshal its total enrollment into one kate-slated classroom, will offer Roy Thompson, Bobby Fiveash, Nelson Italiano and Stan Dobosz as its principal scoring threats.

Most FSU partisans would settle for just one lone score, which isn't much by football standards but quite a feat when you consider that such grid names as Taylor, Auburn and Vanderbilt failed to darken the Tech goal posts on pass Saturday's this season.

THE SEMINOLES, who loosed some all rough contact work this week, may be without the services of Senior Co-Captain Curtis Campbell and tackle Charley Booth. Campbell is troubled with a painful back injury and Booth was rapped severely on the shoulder early in the Homecoming battle with Furman last week. Otherwise, the Tribe shapes up in the best of condition—before the game, that is.

The Florida State student circus features a troupe of 28 assorted acrobats, clowns and trapeze artists, and the Seminole band the "Marching Chiefs, will stage a colorful, between-halves show.

The lightest man on the University of Miami football squad this fall is home-fried Wally Piper, 150-pound speed kike.

Intramurals

Phi Delts Capture 'Mural Grid Title

The first Florida State intramural champion of football—of any sport in fact was crowned Tuesday night when the seven man team of Phi Delta Theta defeated the Trojans of Freshman Hall in a hard fought 12-0 game.

Playing in Campbell Stadium before a good crowd of 200 fans, —probably the largest to watch an intramural contest—the Phi Delts turned on the steam in the second half to push across both touchdowns.

IT MARKED the first time this season that the Trojans had been scored upon. The Phi Delts have gone through their schedule without having a touchdown scored against. But the Trojans, dominating the first half, almost were the first to accomplish this.

They pushed down to the Delts seven-yard line but here bogged down. It was the closest the Trojans came to scoring during the contest.

After that the Phi Delts' defense bulwarked by ends Keen and Fewell, kept the Freshmen Hallers out of scoring territory.

IN THE SECOND half the fraternity boys took control of the contest and got their two touchdowns. Following an pass from Ken Edwards to end Tom Overstreet, and the second was knocked through the Trojan ends to end Charley Johnson. Both tries for the extra point were unsuccessful.

The Trojans entered the game as favorites, a conclusion reached on their impressive record of 10 wins and no losses and the 117 points they had scored. The Phi Delts also entered the game undefeated, but with two ties. Their record was 7-0-2.

THE CONTEST marked the first time that an independent team competed against a Fraternity team in any sport. And, probably, from now on there will be an overall champion decided in all the sports. Instead of one in each league as was done last year.

SCORING RECORDS

FSU

Tech 54, Citadel 6.
Tech 17, Florida 14.
Tech 20, Sou. Methodist 7
Tech 14, Tulane 0.
Tech 32, Auburn 0.
Tech 30, Vanderbilt 0.
Tech 28, Duke 7.
Tech 45, Army 6
Tech 7, Alabama 3.
Tech ?, FSU ?.

FSU

FSU 13, Louisiana Tech 32.
FSU 14, Louisville 41.
FSU ?, VMI 28.
FSU ?, N. C. State 13.
FSU 6, Stetson 0. (tie).
FSU 21, Mississippi Sou. 50
FSU 0, Furman 9
FSU ?, Georgia Tech ?.

DOTS AND DASHES

Scoreboard Pace Lags Behind Gate

The Florida State Seminoles are down on the scoreboard but up on attendance. In fact a new home attendance mark has already been established and one home game remains.

In five home games this season the Indians have played before 37,842 fans, bettering the previous high for a season of 29,025 set in 1951. That's an average turnout of 7,568—not bad for a team that has yet to win in seven outings.

FSU closes its season at home on December 7 against Tampa.

* * *

GEORGIA HOMECOMING

At least one Georgia team will see heavy duty for the Seminoles tomorrow when the Tribe meets Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

Backs Roy Thompson of Wrightsville, Bobby Fiveash of Bainbridge, and Al Woodham of Albany are key men in the Tribe's single-wing guided attack. Offensive tackle Earl O'Neil will see heavy duty too. O'Neal is from Valdosta.

On defense, End Fred Greene and Defensive Halfback Joe Ben Cassedy will be in the thick of action. Greene is from Thomaston, while Cassedy hails from Statesboro.

* * *

ITALIANO NEARS 2,000 YARDS

If Florida State University's senior tailback Nelson Italiano can gain just 53 yards Saturday against Georgia Tech in Atlanta, he will crash into the 2,000 yard total offense department.

Italiano is a talented runner and passer. The hard-running Tampan has amassed 1,947 yards via the ser-gerous route during his three-year career here

* * *

NO PUNTING PROBLEMS

When the Seminoles take the field against Georgia Tech tomorrow, they should have no punting worries. The Indians' Tommy Brown ranks ninth among the nation's small colleges in punting.

Latest NAIA statistics show

Probable Lineups

FSU		Tech
OFFENSE
192 Jimmy McDonald	LE	Jeff Knox	194
230 Stan Huey	LT	Matt Lavoia	204
203 Bob Wodrich	LG	Ed Gossage	206
188 Steve Kalenich	C	Pete Brown	196
185 Jerry Jacobs	RG	Jake Shoemaker	190
205 Earl O'Neal	RT	Hal Miller	226
205 Homie King	RE	Buck Martin	192
185 Jimmy Lee Taylor	QB	Bill Brigman	168
185 Nelson Italiano	LH	Leon Hardeman	172
180 Roy Thompson or	RH	Billy Teas	161
170 Al Woodham
175 Bobby Fiveash	FB	Glenn Turner	196
DEFENSE
180 Buddy Bryant	LE	Sam Hensley	194
184 Troy Barnes	LT	Bill Thaden	193
175 George Carnes	LG	Orville Varner	187
190 Phil Cline	RG	Roger Frey	216
190 Mac Huey	RT	Bob Sherman	205
175 Jack Szczepanik	RE	Cecil Trahne	164
185 Jerry Jacobs	LB	Larry Morris	200
185 Louis Leonhardt	LB	George Morris	210
170 Joe Ben Cassedy	HB	Bobby Moorehead	167
170 Billy Rahon	HB	Charlie Brannon	167
185 Fred Greene	S	Jake Rudolph	158

FSU Freshmen In Cage Debut

J. K. "Bud" Kennedy, Florida State's head basketball coach, and 16 FSU freshmen will get an early look at the 1952-53 cage campaign by participating in Chipola Junior College's Basketball Coaches' Clinic in Marianna tomorrow.

The all-day session will be highlighted by a night double-header, starting at 7:30 p.m., Eastside freshmen will meet Chipola JC in the Marianna High School gym with the second set for 8:30.

Kennedy will lead a discussion on offensive basketball at 1:30 and will be followed by Dr. Don Loucks, FSU tennis coach.

Brown with a healthy 38.9 average on 33 kicks, and Brown, in his third year with the Seminoles, has yet to have a punt blocked over the span. He has kicked 91 times.

* * *

For a player who weighs only 150 pounds soaking wet, Brown gets a lot of toe into the ball, as the statistics indicate.

* * *

FEATHERWEIGHTS

Coach Don Veller believes his 1952 Seminole defensive team is the lightest college eleven in the nation.

Last week against Furman, Veller started he had only one man who plays on defense that weighed 200 or more. He was Danny Merrill, a tackle from Lakeland.

Elsewhere along the line Veller fielded backs on defense that weighed 180, 175, 190, 165, 172, and 185

* * *

The Brooklyn Dodgers' widest margin in the '52 race was 10½ games. The Brooks were never further than 2½ games off the pace. They trailed the Giants by that margin on May 28.

who will head a basketball rules interpretation session at 2.

The Seminole yearling cagers making the trip are:

Dick Artmeier of Clarksburg, Ind., Tom Delahan of East Chicago, Ind. James Oler of Economy, Ind., H. B. Marcum of Somerset, Ky., Gary Wold of Madison, Wis., Wallace Hieginbotham of Woodbine, Ga., Wayne Hudson of St. Louis, Mo., Gene Warner of Dearborn, Mich., Jerry Wailes of Cincinnati, O., and Gary Ashley of Greenville, S. C.

The FSU men's trampoline team will stage a between-games performance.

VALUABLE PERFORMER

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—The value of Paul Gladu of the Providence Reds of the American Hockey League to his team is best shown by his almost equal ability to set up teammates for goals as in tallying himself. At the start of this season, Gladu's lifetime AHL record was 206 goals and 201 assists.

Superb Service
Keeps Your Car
In Tip-Top Shape
CALHOUN AMOCO
SERVICE STATION
131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

Welcome to CAPITAL
CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Cor. Park & Bronough
Sunday, November 23
Church School 9:45
Morning Worship 11:00
Parker Rossman, National Student Worker, Preaching
Student Supper 5:30
Disciple Fellowship 6:30
Evening Worship 7:30
Sermon "The Music of a Grateful Heart"
(4th in a series on Paul)
Rev. W. S. Noble
Minister

TUESDAY SPECIAL
Filet Mignon
$1.00
WEDS. SPECIAL
Fried Shrimp
.75
Seven Seas
318 S. MONROE RESTAURANT

"Everything for the Student"
- Sundries, Pipes
- FSU, Fraternity and Sorority Decals
- Whitman's Candy
- Felt Goods
- Magazines, "I Go Pogo"

"WE HAVE USED BOOKS"
MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE
107 South Copeland

Announcing DUGGAN WHIDDON'S NEW WHIDDON'S JEWELRY
209 S. MONROE PH. 2-4713
Formerly Owned by H. L. Strong, Jeweler
Whiddon's Will Feature
- Quality Lines of Jewelry
- Including Hamilton, Elgin and Bulova Watches
- Art-Carved Diamond Rings and Bulova Bridals

SPECIALIZING IN FINE WATCH REPAIRING

HITS LOW BOWLING GAME

DETROIT (AP)—Gordie ... scored the same game with a ... total of nine in his ... Office League here. He ... consolation, however, ... that he now holds an AIC... record. It is likely ... al ever reported in the AIC... her didn't bowl last year ... previous year he established ... average of 137. Following ... nine count, Gordie rolled ... 115 and 131 for a 255 total.

First Lecture to Open Series At Ruge Hall Sunday Evening

A series of lectures and discussions on the theme, "Tossing Out Your Religion?" will begin with a talk Sunday at 6:30 p.m. at Ruge Hall, Episcopal Student Center.

The speaker, Dr. Julius Krawetz, Rabbi of Temple Israel, Tallahassee, will lecture on "The first step in understanding America's Hebraic-Christian tradition." Following this lecture on Thursday evenings thereafter and beginning on December 4, other leading Florida State University faculty members and department head will present discussions on Christianity in relation to various concepts of life.

BERT MILLER, FSU Junior, is incharge of all arrangements and organization of the lecture series.

C. B. Young, publicity director for Ruge Hall has announced that students of philosophy and humanities as well as related subjects will find these lectures a parallel complement to their courses.

A coffee and refreshment hour will follow each lecture and all students and faculty are invited to attend.

THANKSGIVING DAY will be observed Sunday at Ruge Hall with a celebration of Holy Communion at 8 a.m. The regular 11 O'clock service will have a special choral program with a Thanksgiving theme under the direction of Dr. Edwin Cooper, Florida State University professor of music.

The Rev. Walter K. Morely, Ruge Hall Chaplain, will give a sermon entitled, "We Thank Thee". During the service a special organ prelude of Thanksgiving music will be given by Robert Veloy, chapel organist.

Following the service, an informal coffee hour and mixer will be held.

Catholics Announce Talent Show Plans

Plans for a talent show for the Newman Club Sunday has been announced by Ann Yeoman, program chairman for the group.

The talent show is to be held Sunday at the Newman House after the regular business meeting. Master of ceremonies will be Rick Webber.

Students taking part in the show are Frank Simari, Betty Palermo, Jim Friend, Betty Gooch, Eduard del Risso, Sheldon Mutchler, John Sweeny, Ginny Lundy, Irma Allen and Vince Shaw.

President Bert Hollander announces that a new associate member has been voted in. She is Carol Overcash.

Committee Head

Joseph C. McGarraghy

McGarraghy Picked As Inaugural Head

The man who will head the Inaugural Committee for Pres.-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower is Joseph C. McGarraghy, chairman of the Republican State Committee in and for the District of Columbia.

Arthur E. Summerfield, Republican National Committee Chairman who named McGarraghy to the position, said, "The President-elect has expressed to me personally his desire for the inaugural ceremony and celebration to be as plain and simple as they can be made. In the selection of Mr. McGarraghy as chairman, we are fortunate in having the services of one of the most able and outstanding men in the District of Columbia."

Summerfield also announced the appointments of four maximum vice-chairmen, Clyde D. Garrett and Mrs. Howard A. Coffin, members of the Republican National Committee for the District of Columbia, and L. Corwin Strong and Mrs. Montgomery Blair, co-chairmen of the District Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon.

FSU Questionnaire Sponsored By UGA Taken Wednesday

Almost 100 percent of Florida State University students completed the Student Information Questionnaire Wednesday, Dr. Ralph Witherspoon, faculty member said today.

The University Government Association sponsors the project, with Dr. Witherspoon head faculty representative and Mary Ruth Summers UGA president chairman of the student committee. Organized by the Blade Group, the test shows student opinion and participation of campus activities, rules and policies.

"IT WAS a very successful test and students are to be commended on their attitude," Dr. Witherspoon said. The test was accepted remarkably well and we believe it will be a report of how the students feel," Mary Ruth Summers added.

Summaries of the poll will be made in terms of groups rather than individuals Dr. Witherspoon said. Final evaluation and recommendation will not be made available until late Jan.

THE FEW STUDENTS who may not have taken the exam are asked to report to Dr. Witherspoon at 301 Education Building in order that the poll will be complete.

Members of the student committee taking the test were Bill Dunn assisted by Jan Arbogast, June Cowart, Merrill Moore Master Hall, Jan Vanouse, Joan Trigo, Bettie Lee Herron, Marcus Mack, Assisted by Penny Mitchell Carothers, Phoebe Jackson, Lucy Stroud, Ann Bouldin, Frances Hohn, Ann Wiles, Watts Tevis, Jean Hewett, Mortimer Putnam assisted by Peggy Pruitt, Doris Folsom, Betty Hopkins, John Kasper, Bill Palmer assisted by Sandy Sandersoni, Bert Rowell, John Bowers, Jack Reddish, Fred Hoover, Bill Perry, Ken MacPhee, Clinton Thomas, Bob Dunker, Charles McDaniel, George Valentine, Ray Kickliter, Dick Bittner assisted by Joan Simms, Bobby Drake and Bob Ryals.

Director to Speak On Missions Sunday At Christian Church

Parker Rossman director of Student Work of the United Christian Missionary Society, Indianapolis, Ind. will be guest speaker at the morning worship service at the Capital Christian Church Sunday at 11 a.m.

A party honoring Rossman and his wife will be held tomorrow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Wright Houtsworth, 217 Read. Rd. All students of the Christian Church and any others who are interested, are requested to meet in the Lamar lounge of Lonemire at 7:30 p.m. for transportation.

ROSSMAN IS well known in student work in student work in his own denomination as well as interdenominationally.

Before taking his present position he was director executive secretary of the national United Student Christian Council, and previous to that served as an associate secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement.

Graduated from the University of Oklahoma Rossman has a BD degree from the Divinity School of the University of Chicago. He has completed residence requirements for his PhD from Yale University.

IN 1948, he observed the World Council of Churches Assembly in Amsterdam Holland, and visited student centers and religious projects in France, Germany, Switzerland, Great Britain and Holland. In his work with the United Student Christian Council, he was affiliated with the program of the first nationally delegated ecumenical student conference at Luwerne, Italy, during the Christmas holidays of 1948 with 1,200 delegates attending. He is the author of the widely read "Journey to Student Workbook" and has contributed to numerous religious emphasis weeks in universities.

All students irrespective of denomination, are invited to hear Rossman and to attend the Capital Christian Church.

Track and Field Stars Needed

Amateur Athletic Union Pleas For Girls to Enter Olympics

Girls' schools and co-ed colleges today were urged to cooperate in the development of more girl athletes in track and field events so that Uncle Sam's chances in the 1956 Olympic Games will be strengthened.

The plea came from Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union. Ferris has been at his post for forty years and has seen the sons and daughters of the Uncle take a lot of hurdles in his time.

"AS FAR BACK as thirty years ago, Director Colonel Bryan Mawr, University of California, Florida State College for Women and others had good women track teams and this effort paid off as late as 1936 when the U.S. women dominated the dekaff events at Olympics." Ferris says.

"We have to build up our strength in the women's events and encourage women's track and field athletics like they have in the French and the English do. Just recently I was in Europe where over the map women may race up to half a mile and even longer. Here in the States the longest event is the 800 meter race."

THE PROWESS of the Russian women athletes gave the Soviets a big lead in the recent Olympic Games at Helsinki, a lead that the American men barely managed to overcome in the eleventh hour.

"There is no secret about the way other countries develop more good women athletes in track and field events" Ferris recently said in an article fr 'Parade' Magazine. The Olympics are not intended to pit nation against nation. The purpose of the Olympics is to find great athletes and it is a shame America doesn't use her girls more of a chance to be great."

FERRIS SAID that the 1952 Olympics featured him one women's sports project, however, did not produce marvels women of Participation in track and field events will enhance rather than dilute femininity, Ferris contends.

Commenting upon the possibility of fitting seven-day spare of the U.S. women's relay team at Helsinki, the national official of AAU said: "Sports there made American girls stronger, not only physically but mentally. Dec. 6 Sis-Boom-Ruthie Gaines has entered from Florida State.

The 1953 contest is open to any girl born in a nation state who has never been married, is between the ages of 18 through 25, and at least five feet five inches tall. All entries must be accompanied by two photographs, one a head and shoulders portrait and the other a full-length picture.

Contest finals will be at Memphis Dec. 29 and 30. The girl who is selected Maid of Cotton for this year will make a six month international tour.

Mental Illnesses Cited as Causes For Many Crimes

Miss Anna T. Lownie, assistant professor of psychiatric nursing School of Nursing, discussed the backgrounds of mental illness before a group of Journalism students who are currently studying the relationship of psychology to reporting and interpreting the news.

Newspaper reporters must seek to explain why crimes are committed Prof. Lownie asserted. "A newspaper story might give an account of a shooting or wife beating, but unless the reader can recognize the underlying factors impelling the person responsible for the event, the story will have little or no significance." The paper can be an effective educational medium of enlightened interest.

PROFESSOR LOWNIE was introduced to the class by Sidney Kopre, professor of nursing, pointed out the importance of knowing the techniques behind the news. Miss Lownie who make psychiatric something violent, such as murder or fantasy, their own lives, are mentally ill they are studied by the psychologist and the psychiatrist.

Drawing upon her experience with patients in mental institutions, Prof. Lownie, who has her BS and MS degrees from Columbia University, described some of the general types of people with disordered minds. Her photographs were a head and shoulders portrait and the other a full-length picture.

Content finals will be at Memphis Dec. 29 and 30. The girl who is selected Maid of Cotton for this year will make a six month international tour.

Entry Deadline Is Saturday Midnight

Entries for the annual Maid of Cotton Contest sponsored by the National Cotton Council are still being taken. Final deadline is announced midnight Dec. 6. Sis-Boom-Ruthie Gaines has entered from Florida State.

The 1953 contest is open to any girl born in a nation state who has never been married, is between the ages of 18 through 25, and at least five feet five inches tall. All entries must be accompanied by two photographs, one a head and shoulders portrait and the other a full-length picture.

Contest finals will be at Memphis Dec. 29 and 30. The girl who is selected Maid of Cotton for this year will make a six month international tour.

Spend Your Weekends At
HOTEL QUINCY, QUINCY FLORIDA
Only 18 Miles From Campus
Special Room Rates for Week-ends
Friday, Saturday, and Sunday
Double Occupancy at Single Rate
Circulating Ice Water, Free Parking
Excellent Cuisine Every Day
Lunch from 65c Dinner from $1.00
Air-Conditioned Automatic Elevator
Call For Reservations
Phone 678 Quincy, Florida
HOTEL QUINCY, QUINCY FLORIDA

Deb Flats.....
IN WHITE BUCK
ARE SWEEPING THE CAMPUS...
Girls See Them at Turner's Immediately...
• White Buck Loafers with Red Rubber Soles
All Sizes $9.95
Turner's
Your Doorway to Fashions...

Sans Souci
Permanently Pleated
NYLON TRICOT SLIP
Supple permanent pleating cued to a slim silhouette in never-need-iron nylon tricot accented with dainty nylon lace.
Pink or White
Sizes 32-38
$14.95
Bertha Cooke

Dine with us ... in the Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"
WATCH FOR OUR SPECIALS
Chicken Pie
Roast Beef
Fried Ham
Russian

I tell the Frosh whom I advise
That they will make the grade
If shag how Luckies taste so good
Because they're better made!
Lou Berman
Brooklyn College

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!
They're made better to taste cleaner, fresher, smoother!
Ask yourself this question: Why do I smoke?
You know, yourself, you smoke for enjoyment. And you get enjoyment only from the taste of a cigarette.
Luckies taste better—cleaner, fresher, smoother! Why? Because Luckies are made better to taste better. And, what's more, Luckies are made of fine tobacco. L.S.M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco.
So, for the thing you want most in a cigarette . . . for better taste—cleaner, fresher, smoother taste . . . Be Happy—Go Lucky!
L.S./M.F.T.'s the code
To keep in mind today
So for a cleaner, fresher smoke
It's Luckies all the way.
Carol Overcash
University of Michigan

I'm always glad when Mom comes up
She brings me things I like —
Not only food and candy,
But good ol' Lucky Strike!
Sidney Fagan
University of Connecticut

COLLEGE STUDENTS PREFER LUCKIES IN NATION-WIDE SURVEY!
Nation-wide survey based on actual student interviews in 80 leading colleges reveals more smokers prefer Luckies than any other cigarette by a wide margin. No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better. Survey also shows Lucky Strike gained far more smokers in these colleges than the nation's two other principal brands combined.
LUCKY STRIKE
CIGARETTES
L.S./M.F.T.
STUDENT ADVISO.
FOR A CLEANER, FRESHER, SMOOTHER SMOKE... Be Happy-GO LUCKY!
PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY
CAMERON'S TEXACO SERVICE STATION
566 W. TENNESSEE Formerly Meats Service Station DIAL 3-0619

Advertisers Patronize Our

Queen of Military Ball Will Be Crowned Tonite in Suwannee Room

Florida Flambeau

Marlies Gessler To Appear on Cover Of Life Magazine

VOL. XXXIX, No. 19 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Friday, December 5, 1952

Military Ball Brings Dunham Band Here

Popular Bandleader Plays at Formal Tonight in Suwannee Room at Eight

Sonny Dunham, nationally famous bandleader, and his orchestra will provide the music for the annual Military Ball from 8 to 12 in the Suwannee Room.

Dunham and his orchestra stars of motion pictures, radio, and recordings have recently been on tour filling many outstanding engagements over the country. He has appeared in New York, Chicago, Hollywood, Miami, Atlanta and many other principal cities of the country.

IN THE YEARS preceding the formation of his own outfit, Dunham played with such well-known bands as Paul Tremaine and Glen Gray. In 1940, his newly-formed orchestra had its first big date in the Hollywood Palladium. Since that time, the Sonny Dunham orchestra has become a stellar attraction in theatres and ballrooms from coast to coast.

In addition to the music of the orchestra and Sonny Dunham's generally regarded remarkable feat of mastering both the trumpet and trombone which proves to be a high point in the progress, there will be other entertainment

(Continued on Page 4)

Mr. Music Maker

Sonny Dunnam, nationally known bandleader, and his orchestra will play from 8 till 12 tonight at the R.O.T.C. Military Ball in the Suwannee Room at Florida State University.

Singers Present Xmas Program

Concert to Be Given Monday in Opperman

The University Singers of Florida State University, directed by Dr. [illegible] Housewright, will present a Christmas concert in the [illegible] Music Hall on Monday [illegible] 8, at 8:15 p.m. The [illegible] will be open to the public [illegible] charge.

[illegible] University Singers will be [illegible] their first formal appearance [illegible] the campus this semester. [illegible] presented a concert in [illegible] two weeks ago and will [illegible] program for the Tallahassee [illegible] Club next week. A tour [illegible] the central and southern [illegible] the state is planned for [illegible] February.

[illegible] program on Monday evening [illegible] feature the music of [illegible] including traditional [illegible] selections from an [illegible] Hector Berlioz, "The [illegible] of Christ." A motet [illegible] "Come, Jesu, Come" [illegible] the Singers. The [illegible] are considered among [illegible] difficult choral works in [illegible], according to Dr. [illegible] this is the first [illegible] that the University [illegible] have programmed since [illegible] was formed several [illegible]

Marlies Gessler Is Life's Cover Girl For December 15

[illegible] State Freshman who [illegible] this year's Home[illegible], blonde Marlies [illegible] be featured on the [illegible] Dec. 15 issue of Life [illegible] according to photographer Robert W. Kelley, of [illegible] Bureau.

[illegible] photographer [illegible] spent over two [illegible] FSU campus [illegible] story of the 18 [illegible] former inmate of [illegible] camp when she [illegible] Florida State queen. The [illegible] will appear on the newsstands several days before the [illegible]

[illegible] an art student pays [illegible] through school by working [illegible] waitress in a downtown [illegible]. She was born in [illegible] separated from her [illegible] the Nazi terror [illegible] two years in the [illegible] she was reunited with [illegible]. They lived for five [illegible] [illegible]berg, Germany and [illegible] where Mar[illegible] chosen Homecoming [illegible] the high school she [illegible]

Dept. of Sociology To Offer Course On War Sociology

A new course on the Sociology of War will be offered next semester by the Florida State University department of sociology, announced Professor M. F. Nimkoff recently.

The timely and significant course has been advocated by Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire in recent articles as a necessity in studying the role of war in sociology.

Senator Bridges points out in his article in the American Mercury that we are at present in the third World War and reminds readers that about 75 per cent of our total federal budget is devoted to defense expenditures.

Sociology, 318, the Sociology of War will consider the bases of conflict between groups, the role of invention in the evolution of war, the social effects of war and social factors in peace. The course will be open to all students.

Lutheran Services Moved to Parish

Beginning this Sunday Lutheran services will be held at the Parish House located at Martin and Washington Sts.

A chartered bus for University students will appear at the Seminole Cafeteria at 10:30 a.m. to take the students to church. The bus will also return the students to campus. The students do not pay the fares but the congregation will be billed.

Any student, Lutheran or not, as well as faculty members, who wish to come to church may ride the buses. Families of these people may also ride.

Since space will be limited it will not be possible to conduct an Adult Bible Class Sunday mornings. At 9:45 there will be Sunday School for children; 11, worship and Holy Communion; 6 p.m. Gamma Delta supper and 7 Gamma Delta meeting.

Dr. Meyer Nimkoff Is Principal Speaker

[illegible] Meyer Francis Nimkoff, [illegible] FSU Department of [illegible] the principal [illegible] at the Founders' Day [illegible] of Alpha of Florida [illegible] Phi Beta Kappa, scheduled [illegible] 7:30 p.m. tonight in [illegible] Hall Presbyterian [illegible]

[illegible] originally announced [illegible] that Dr. Warren [illegible] professor of music [illegible] principal [illegible]

Eventful Topping For VV Freshmen Is Set

[illegible] Village Vamps will tap [illegible] at the Pan Hellenic [illegible] Dec. 13.

[illegible] were invited to parties [illegible] the Village Vamps [illegible] this week in order [illegible] may get to meet members [illegible] the organization. The [illegible] were held in the Longmire [illegible] and refreshments were [illegible]

University Bookstore Will Order '53 Rings

[illegible] may order class rings at the Florida State University Bookstore any time during the [illegible] few months, announced the [illegible] bookstore recently.

[illegible] information and details as to [illegible] styles and time required may be obtained at the bookstore.

Title for Sandspur Is "Heaven Forbid"

"Heaven Forbid!" will be the title of the 1953 all student Sandspur production Feb. 18-20, Jim Harris, Sandspur chairman, announced.

The script was written by William Chavers who will direct the production with lyrics by Beatrice Lambert. The plot is based on an idea submitted by Carol McGimboney and Donald Heckman. It was one of the scripts [illegible] during October which was the reading month for [illegible] them. The cash award [illegible] to the McGimboney-[illegible] team.

"HEAVEN FORBID!" [illegible] two-act 10 [illegible] musical comedy dealing with a [illegible] of a wife for [illegible] Garnished with a science fiction atmosphere, the [illegible] problems in the form of [illegible] women wishing to [illegible]

The main theme of the [illegible] however [illegible] the [illegible] lows and the [illegible] with women [illegible] into the [illegible] of [illegible] marriage. Ten [illegible] numbers were choreographed by Frances Stokes and eight songs will be included.

THE LAST DAY of tryouts for the principal roles will be [illegible] in the Longmire Auditorium. Hours will be posted on the bulletin boards. Tryouts started Dec. 3.

Persons trying for roles involving singing must sing a song of their own choice plus an unfamiliar one. All persons trying [illegible]

(Continued on Page 4)

University Students Now Eligible For Henry Scholarships

Florida State University students may apply now for the Henry Fellowship for the year 1953-54 according to Dr. Albert Leduc of the Modern Language Department.

The Fellowships offer a year's study at either Oxford or Cambridge. Men and women are both eligible. Preference will be given to recent college graduates of distinction or to students who will receive the bachelor's degree with distinction before July 1, 1953—a master's degree eliminates a student from the running since a Fellowship offers first level graduate work.

Applicants must present a definite scheme of study or research and be prepared to devote their whole time to the objects of the Fellowship. They must be unmarried, the Fellowship is vacated on marriage.

The Charles and Julia Henry Fund was founded by the will of the late Lady Julia Henry "in the earnest hope and desire of cemmenting the bonds of friendship between the British Empire and the United States."

Dr. Leduc said all applications must be in his hands by Dec. 31.

Tallahassee Landmarks Featured in Show

New Art Show Opens Soon

The oil paintings of Tallahassee landmarks will be featured by Artemis Skevakis Jegart in her one-man show opening Sunday and running through the month of December at the University Art Gallery.

Mrs. Jegartbased her selection on representative examples of architectural periods, finally deciding to paint 13 Tallahassee buildings as an important group in the 33 oils for her exhibit.

SEVERAL FAMILIAR landmarks included will be the Governor's Mansion, The Grove and the Presbyterian Church. Less familiar subjects are Bloxham House on North Calhoun, Miss Mary D. Lewis House, East Park Gvt Winthrop House, Convent House and two views of the Chaires Mansion, North Monroe.

Mrs. Jegart said her front door painting of the Chaires Mansion was done with a alette knife technique to attain more surface texture, a rough surface. Her side view of the same residence was done encaustic to best show "nature overcoming a building."

SHE POINTED OUT that The Grove and Bloxham House have state historical significance because they have both served as Governor's Executive Mansions when their owners were Florida's chief executives—the former when Richard Keith Call was twice territorial governor of Florida, and the latter during the two state terms of William D. Bloxham.

A carpenter's shop (back of L'Avant Studios between Park and College) and the residence at 117 West Park, both builtby F. C. Gilmore were chosen as good illustrative examples of her theme by Mrs. Jegart. She found the stable at Goodwood built in 1913 on the site of the old carriage house another appropriate subject for her purpose.

FINALLY, THE artist brought her local landmark theme up-to-the-present by making an oil painting of the FSU 11-story dormitory on West Tennessee, still in [illegible] with mere [illegible]

An [illegible] different group of oils in the [illegible] exhibit [illegible] cross-section of [illegible] vegetables as tomatoes, squash and cucumbers. A recent bride, the artist explained she has been fascinated in preparing vegetable [illegible] to paint the vegetable before cooking them—result is [illegible]

OTHER OILS to be shown are an expression of everyday subjects Mrs. Jegart happens to contact, like modern chairs and quaint baskets made of split bamboo.

Her eight serigraphs (color prints made by the silk screen process and printed by the artist herself) present such local subjects as Mustard House on Duval, Large Oak on College Avenue, Carpenter Shop, Water Patterns at Wakulla Springs, Cypress Forest of Central Florida and scenes done in New Orleans and Nassau.

Senate Defeats Proposed Bill Adding Senator

Law Makers Study Post Office, Infirmary And Class Dismissal

The possibility of class dismissal at 12 noon on days preceeding vacation periods has been referred to the Schedule Committee for reconsideration, according to a report by Senator Joan Halford during the last meeting of the University Senate.

The pros and cons of this have already been discussed in Executive Council. Dean of Women Katherine Warren suggested that Senate send a letter recommending earlier dismissal to Charles Walker, committee chairman.

SENATOR BOBBY Drake, head of the Services Committee, told the Senators that there is no limit to the number of notices which may be mailed campus-wide at the post office, but that certain other requirements must be followed. Notices will not be accepted unless they are enclosed in envelopes or written on cards no smaller than three by five inches, he said.

Senator Charles McDaniel, head of the Educational Committee, reported that he has met with fraternities to prepare a letter to Mr. Rod K. Shaw, FSU Business Manager, concerning the problem of unpaved roads. He reported that no further action will take place until a conference has been arranged with the road department.

McDANIEL ALSO said, in commenting on studying in the infirmary and visiting hours, that he has conferred with Dr. McConnell on the subject and was told that books may be permitted only after a patient has been in the infirmary 48 hours. The Doctor said according to McDaniel that an old rule still in existence restricts visiting regulations today and that a change would be agreeable.

Senator McDaniel also moved that the senate resume consideration of his bill to increase the number of U. G. A. Senators which will involve an amendment to the U. G. A. Constitution. The bill was discussed but failed passage by a 7-15 vote.

BILLS WERE introduced during the session by Senator Thomas, representing the Constitutional Revision Committee, dealing with changing the name of University Government Association to University Government. The bill also stated the purpose of the Government: to Provide for the election of WFSU station manager.

Senator Lawyer introduced a bill "To provide for court reporter." It was decided that there would be only a first reading of the bills with no discussion.

Pre-Law Students Given Scholarships

Pre-law students at Florida State University are being given an opportunity to apply for scholarships to two outstanding law schools according to G. E. F[illegible], Director of Vocational Guidance and Placement.

An FSU Senior may be the recipient of one of the 20 E[illegible] Root-Samuel J. Tilden Scholarships valued at $6,600 each, to study at the New York University School of Law. These scholarships will be awarded on a competitive basis two from each of the ten Federal Judicial Circuit on the basis of potential capacity for public leadership, academic record and extracurricular activities.

One $1,350 scholarship has been allocated for presentation to a Florida State University pre-law student who wishes to study at the College of Law at Tulane University in New Orleans.

Further information concerning these scholarships may be obtained in the Placement Office 203 Westcott.

Skogstad, Springer Given High Ratings

The speech department students, Katherine Skogstad and Phil Springer, made [illegible] at the Alabama Discussion Conference held before the holidays at the University of Alabama.

Miss Skogstad was ranked in the top five percent of the participants and was awarded a Superior certificate. Springer received a Certificate of Excellence for his point total which placed him in the top 15 per cent of all participants.

Opera Guild Presents 'Sweethearts' Show

Tickets for Tonite's Production At 8:15 Can Still Be Purchased

The Opperman Music Hall curtain rose last night at 8:15 on the opening performance of "Sweethearts," Victor Herbert's sparkling musical comedy operetta.

PRODUCED BY the Florida State University Light Opera Guild, "Sweethearts" is under the direction of Dr. Robert L. Briggs of the School of Music. Miss Betty Jane Grimm directs stage operations.

Tickets may still be purchased for tonight's and tomorrow night's performances from any member of Sigma Alpha Iota, women's professional musical fraternity which is also sponsoring the show, or at the School of Music offices in the music building or at the University Bookstore.

THE PLOT revolves around Sylvia (Alice Peacock), Princess of Zilania and Prince Franz (Kenneth Nelson) heir presumptive to the Zilanian throne. As a baby, Sylvia had been abducted and left with Dame Paula (Beverly Bennett), proprietress of the Laundry of the White Geese.

Sylvia knows nothing of her claim to the throne, however, and works in the laundry with Dame Paula's six daughters (Sandy Darling, Donna Lou Harper, Lynn Longbottom, Claire Kenyon, Evelyn Amundson and Mickey Kendall) where all she does is "Iron! Iron! Iron!"

PRINCE FRANZ meets Sylvia, whom he believes to be merely a village girl, and falls in love with her. Eventually it is disclosed, that Sylvia is entitled to be queen of Zilania. The tables are turned, but their love is not affected for Sylvia assures her prince that though she is queen, her heart and throne are still his own.

Before the happy ending is affected there are many charming and tuneful songs that have become well established in popular-

(Continued on Page 4)

Gymkana Show Is Presented at Turner Base

The Gymkana Troupe will leave today at 2 p.m. for Turner Air Force Base in Albany, Ga., where it will present a program for the men there at 7:30 p.m.

The program will be opened with a recording of the Alma Mater, followed by a short salutary speech by Dick Gulling. The program will consist of various acts from this year's production of "Out of This World."

Benny Wallace and Cindy Faneuf will be managers in charge, while Jay Schwarzman, Frances Stokes, Buck Stuckey, Hank Baker and Bill Neblett will be managers also. Frances Stokes and Kent Herberling will serve as general chairman.

Dickensheets Says GI Loan Guaranty Given Korean Vets

Veterans with service since the outbreak of the Korean conflict June 27, 1950, who have sold the property they purchased with guaranteed loans under the World War II GI Bill, may now have new and full loan guarantee rights under the Korean GI Bill, H. F. Dickensheets, manager of Pass-A-Grille VA Regional Office, said today.

Mr. Dickensheets said renewal of rights applies to veterans who have disposed of real property purchased for business, farm or home with loans which were guaranteed or insured under the World War II GI Bill.

The Korean GI Bill, signed by the President on July 16, 1952, extends the loan [illegible] of the World War II GI Bill [illegible] veterans who served anywhere [illegible] since June 27, 1950 [illegible] of the Korean campaign.

Deadline for [illegible] the World War II GI Bill for most veterans who have not served since June 27, 1950, is July 25, 1957.

World War II veterans who also served since the beginning of the Korean campaign, like all post-Korean veterans, have until 10 years from the end of the present emergency—a date to be determined by either concurrent resolution of the Congress or by Presidential proclamation—to use their loan guaranty benefits.

Meditation Planned

A Quaker meeting for silent meditation will be held in the East Lounge of the Methodist Student House [illegible] morning at 9:45. Everybody is invited to attend.

Music Professors Attend Convention

Dean K. O. Kuersteiner and [illegible] Wright represented [illegible] Florida State University School of Music at the annual convention of the National Association of Schools of Music meeting in Chicago Nov. 28-30.

Prof. Wright read a paper before the convention on "The Applied Music Seminars at Florida State University." The paper presented the history, objectives, organization and administration of the seminar program at FSU. The School of Music is the only school in the country which maintains a program of this kind in the undergraduate and graduate curricula.

Dr. Kuersteiner addressed the convention on the "Junior College Transfer Student." Dr. Kuersteiner is a member of the Commission on Curricula of the national association.

Summer Study Offered By British Universities

Summer [illegible] British universities next year and will open a few weeks after [illegible] Coronation according to an announcement by the British Universities Summer Course Committee.

The Schools will be at Stratford, Oxford, London, and Edinburgh and many Americans are expected to attend as they have in past years. Since 1948, when British Universities organized their joint summer program a total of [illegible],700 Americans have enrolled in these summer sessions.

While they and other English-speaking students make up the majority, three are usually representatives from 15 to [illegible] countries at each course. Teachers, postgraduate students, college juniors and seniors [illegible] able qualifications are [illegible]. The courses may be [illegible] at U. S. [illegible] under the G. I. B[illegible] of R[illegible]

The [illegible] At Stratford, the University of Birmingham will present "Shakespeare and Elizabethan Drama"; Oxford will [illegible] "Literature and Politics in the Twentieth Century"; the University of London [illegible] 'British Economy in the Atlantic Community' at the London School of Economics and [illegible] Science while at the University of Edinburgh the Scottish [illegible] will present "The Development of Modern Western C[illegible]"

OPPORTUNITIES TO visit places of interest will be part of each course. Also special efforts will be made to help visitors meet British people and to become acquainted with the British environment.

If students are accepted for enrolment they will have ship passage reserved for them a special [illegible] in 1953 when [illegible] Atlantic [illegible] be particularly heavy.

FULLS AT THE FOUR [illegible] for the 6-week [illegible] [illegible] tained from British Information Services, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York 20, N. Y. or from the Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th Street, New York 21, N. Y.

Students Asked To Give Books

The big cardboard boxes marked "Books for the Orient" in the campus buildings represent Florida State's step toward bettering East-West relations. Students are asked to contribute books of all kinds so that they may be sent to the University of Dacca in East Pakistan.

Stanley Maron, former FSU faculty member now teaching there started the drive when he wrote his former associates at FSU of the desperate need of books there.

THE DIVISION of humanities backed the idea, with the International Students' Club's 42 members from many countries helping. These students collect the books daily and pack them.

Dr. Laura Jepsen, English department chairman of the book

(Continued on Page 4)

Frat Men to Play Football Saturday For Campus Chest

"Charity Bowl," the second annual contest between Theta Chi and Lambda Chi Alpha fraternities will be played in Doak S. Campbell Stadium Saturday, Dec. 13th at 2 p.m.

With proceeds going to Campus Chest as the two fraternities' contribution to that charitable drive this year, the game will provide unique entertainment.

The game will be coached and referreed by Florida State University Varsity football members.

The contest is similar to last year's efforts of the two fraternities toward the Campus Chest Drive. Last year's [illegible] was won by Lambda Chi with a score of 13 to 8.

Admission will be 50 cents for students and one dollar for adults. The committee urges all students to attend to make this additional contribution to Campus Chest a success.

Dorm Shows Film Last Time Tonight

"I'd Climb the Highest Mountain," an inspiring movie of a Methodist minister called to small north Georgia hill community in the early 1900's, will show tonight for the last time at 8 at the Freshman Men's Dormitory.

William Lundigan plays the minister, with Susan Hayward as his young bride.

Starting Monday [illegible] at the O[illegible] will be "God is My Co-Pilot," the biographical screen play of [illegible] Robert Lee Scott from his boyhood days on a Georgia farm [illegible] West Point [illegible] as a combat pilot with Gen. Chennault's Flying Tigers. The movie stars Dennis Morgan and Raymond Massey.

Theaters will be at South Cawthon Hall Tuesday, Magnolia Hall Wednesday, Senior Hall Thursday, all at 7:30 p.m. and Freshman Men's Dormitory at 8 p.m. Friday.

Cover Girl Contest Deadline Extended

The deadline for [illegible] Cover Girl Contest [illegible] been extended until 5 p.m. [illegible] Bo[illegible]

[illegible] a faculty member and one student.

IKE'S KOREA TRIP ANXIOUSLY AWAITED

By BRUCE GALPHIN

When the president of the United States sent a congratulatory telegram to Dwight D. Eisenhower the day after the election, he managed to sandwich in a characteristic Truman dig. After the formalities of best wishes, Truman informed Eisenhower that the presidential airplane, the Independence, was at Ike's disposal for a Korean trip . . . if he still wanted to go.

It soon became clear that the president-elect was adamant in his plan to go to Korea, however despite protests from members of his own party that the trip was too dangerous. First of all, he couldn't very well let the electorate down on such a definite promise. Secondly, I believe he was 100 per cent sincere in making the promise, just as I believe he was sincere in the other things he said in the campaign . . . even the contradictory things.

At any rate the elaborate plans began to be made for Ike's departure. With great speed the president-elect picked a cabinet and administrative officials, while others carried out the plans for making the flight to Korea at least semi-secret.

But now the reality is almost upon the president-elect. He is going to try to translate a pretty pre-election promise into something substantial. The whole Western world, particularly the United States, wishes the general well and hopes he can accomplish what he sets out to do, but his chances at this point do not seem overly bright.

The courses he can choose fall into two categories. The first is to continue the present, dreary course of a limited war with the hope that the Communists will realize they face the same determined opposition no matter where they strike. Our chances for peace in this direction lie either in United Nations negotiations which seem rather futile just now or in the hope that eventually a deadlock similar to that met in the Berlin airlift will lead to a sort of "truce by mutual consent."

But the American people are naturally tired of waiting, whether or not waiting is the wise course, and they are expecting something more spectacular from Eisenhower, Psychologically it would not be good for the president-elect to let them down.

The other set of choices must be classified as a definite break with the policies we have laid down so far, and they have only dubious potentialities.

We could pull completely out of Korea as some extremists have demanded, but doing so would mean loss of the war, capitulation to further Communist aggression and saying in effect that the thousands who have been killed or wounded thus far have been spent in vain. Such a course is unthinkable.

We could push [illegible] to the Manchurian border, but then our lines would be four times as long as at present, and there is the vague possibility that Russia might enter the war under these conditions.

We could use Chinese Nationalist troops from Formosa, as General MacArthur wanted, but there are many objections to this. First, Formosa would not be left very well defended. Second, we would have to feed, clothe, arm and give air support to the Chinese, because they have none of these. Worst of all, we would be fighting the Chinese Civil War over again, and we could not expect an end to hostilities until the government at either Peiping or Taipeh changed hands. There would be virtually no chance for UN settlement or a standoff end.

Finally we cannot replace our troops with South Koreans for a long time to come, simply because they are not prepared.

It is said that Eisenhower is a man who sets lucky breaks and knows how to take advantage of them, so perhaps by luck or stroke of genius he will be able to end the war. All the Western world certainly hopes so, but it looks as though the president-elect is headed for some tough decisions and stern realities.

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager
BARS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editor ..... Marcia Morris
Sports Editors ..... Jim Sealy, Pat Hagan
Copy Editor ..... Judy Simkins
Feature Editor ..... Julia Hardin
Assistant News Editor ..... Al Pierce
Reporter Editor ..... Jelks Hargrove
Margue Editors ..... Bob Harris, Lia Vang
Chief Photographer ..... Bill Mayo
Local Ad Manager ..... Pat Wynn
Assistant Managers ..... Nancy Lowe, Juris Norton, Marilyn Seawright

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the Florida Publishing Co., Gainesville, Florida, Telephone 2-3601.
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York
Telephone 2-3601, Extension 661
Second Class Allowed Mail.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

SITTIN' ON THE SIDELINES

SENATE MARCHES ON THROUGH HISTORY

By MARCIA MORRIS

Now that Ole Man Christmas is just around the corner and second semester is right on his heels, it might be well to review the current situation and see what has been accomplished since the first week of school.

The University Government Association has been jumping ahead by leaps and bounds—and especially interesting and vital are the workings of the University Senate.

In Senate Sessions thus far seven bills have been introduced. Three passed, one failed, and three have been presented for the first of two required readings. In context, two of the bills passed pertain to Senate alone, for they provide for house rules and for a system regarding the revision, compilation and filing of bills, statutes, and resolutions.

However, the other bills shall affect the entire student body, and their presence, or exit as the case may be, should be made known. Under this article fails a piece of legislation which was passed on November 18 after much discussion and more battle, providing for the appointment of, instead of election of class parliamentarians.

This bill was prompted by the clumsiness of our last overcrowded election ballots and by the idea that the duties assumed to and exercised by the parliamentarians other than in general duties of the various class functions. Hereafter, appointment of the parliamentarian shall be made by the other elective officers of the class, though this decree shall not affect those already holding office.

While discussing the matter of class officers, a bill presented by Senators McDaniel and Billue, providing for an increase in the number of UGA senators, was voted down in the last meeting after hot arguments pro and con and well accepted ballyhoo. Some senators felt that the steady increase in enrollment necessitated an increase in senate representation, however, these definitely proved to be in the minority as the vote shows. The bill, had it passed, would have provided for an increase of two senators per class. Who knows—in a few years this same idea may be brought forth again, and accepted.

Generally speaking, this week's meeting was intriguing as well as prolific. The senators well made use of energy stored up during the holidays, and on hand to watch were a goodly number of spectators—which is indeed, a thing gratifying to see.

The Constitutional Revision Committee came forth Tuesday with a bill providing for an amendment to the constitution, changing the name of the University Government Association to University Government—seems as though the initials UGA are used all to frequently and many times are accompanied by all too blank expressions, and thereby promote understanding, should the bill pass with its second reading next meeting. The committee also brought forth, for the first reading a bill providing for election of the WPSU station manager.

Perhaps the most drastic of the bills, and probably the most disputed of the new batch, presented for first reading last Tuesday, is one introduced by Senator Lawler providing for court reports. Although there has been no discussion on the bill in Senate as yet, there has been talk on the campus, down through the years concerning various cases and various penalties. Students never know the extenuating circumstances, or even in some cases, the original offense being considered and thus unfairly criticize the courts when punishment seems too severe.

The bill, providing for the posting of reports regarding cases which have been judged, should tend to eliminate much of this speculation which is hard on court members, faculty members, and students, alike. No names shall be included—nor any other identifying marks which might make their publishing embarrassing to the individuals—just a brief outline of the situation and the penalty levied. At any rate we shall see what the senators do in their next meetings. There no doubt will be volumes of arguments on both sides.

There you have a brief insight, a small view, of work in Senate thus far. In addition to legislature presented the committees are working steadily on various and sundry gripes, complaints, and ideas for improvement. One student Questionnaire taken a short while ago should be of great value to Senate as well as other organizations.

Just a reminder, Senate meetings are open to the entire student body. Anyone interested in hearing the news and views first hand will be welcome any Tuesday afternoon in the U.G.A. room at 3:15 p. m. After all it's our government. We should help it work!

French Club Grows

New members of the Florida State University French Honorary, Pi Delta Phi, have been announced by Robert DeVeste, president.

Letters To Editor

Best Ever

Dear Editor:

I think that your Friday, November 21, 1952, [illegible] was the best I have ever read.

That Pat Hoban has really got it! His style and [illegible] originality are unusual.

Maybe I should thank "Mr. Publicity" Bennett Land for bringing him to us.

Thanks—again!

Keep up the good work!

Sincerely,
"Cooter" Mills

Congratulations

Dear Editor:

Congratulations to you and our new Friday sports editor Pat Hogan for his pre-Tech sports sheet last Friday. The Flambeau may proudly compare it with that of any other college paper. Don't let the "Arkansas Traveler" get away!

Yours truly,
A demanding sports fan

Poems to be Read By Dr. Blackstock

Dr. Walter Blackstock of the English Department will read from his poems at the English Coffee Hour at 4 p. m. today in the Trophy Room at the Student Center.

Students, faculty members and townspeople are invited to attend.

Dr. Blackstock earned his PhD at Yale University with a dissertation on Theodore Dreiser. One of his poems was recently printed in the New York Times, and one is in the current issue of the Florida Magazine of Verse. He had several volumes of poetry already published.

Saturday Special
½ Fried Chicken
$1.00

Sunday Special
ROAST TURKEY
With Dressing,
Cranberry Sauce

Seven Seas
318 S. MONROE
RESTAURANT

WHAT!?
You haven't bought your tickets to the musical hit of the FSU season
SWEETHEARTS
Music by Victor Herbert
Get Goin' Now
Advance Sale of Tickets at • SCHOOL OF MUSIC OFFICE
• UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE
Tickets at Box Office (if any left)
75c
Opperman Music Hall
DECEMBER
4 - 5 - 6
AT 8:15 p. m.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
Today and Saturday
Rita Hayworth and Glenn Ford
in
"Affair in Trinidad"
STATE
Today thru Tuesday
"The Snows of Kilimanjaro"
in Technicolor with Gregory Peck
Susan Hayward and Ava Gardner
RITZ
Today thru Saturday
Richard Ireland in "Winning the West"
also
"The Lost Continent"
DRIVE-IN
Today and Saturday
"Battle of Apache Pass"
with
John Lund and Beverly Tyler
also
"Tembo"
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

The greatest love story you have ever seen —of a man in search of his lost soul, and a woman! Filmed against the most adventurous backgrounds in the world today.
20th Century-Fox presents
GREGORY PECK · SUSAN HAYWARD · AVA GARDNER
ERNEST HEMINGWAY'S
THE SNOWS of KILIMANJARO
TECHNICOLOR
with HILDEGARDE NEFF and LEO G. CARROLL · TORIN THATCHER · AVA NORRING Produced by DARRYL F. ZANUCK · HENRY KING · CASEY ROBINSON Screen Play by NOW SHOWING THRU TUES
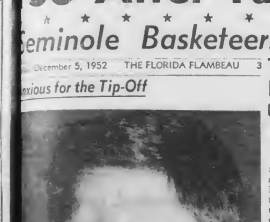
STATE
FEATURES AT—1:20 · 3:23 · 5:26 · 7:29 · 9:32
MAT. 'TIL 5—40c EVE.—74c ALL CHILD.—25c



"An introduction to learning"
says J. HILLIS MILLER
President, University of Florida
"The Reader's Digest is an introduction to learning. Its variety, brevity, intellectual stimulation, selective mental diet, and good humor whet the appetite for more of the same. It leads to larger fields for browsing and deeper cerebration."
To busy students and educators, The Reader's Digest brings each month a sweep of information which otherwise could be obtained only through days and weeks of painstaking research. Selecting and condensing the most significant material from hundreds of periodicals, The Reader's Digest provides the widest collection of facts with the greatest economy of effort.
• • •
In December Reader's Digest, you'll be interested in A Bible for the 20th Century—story of the new Revised Standard Version of the Bible; What You Should Know About Your Eyes—a report on eye care and the common eye diseases; England Prepares to Crown a Queen—the $300,000,000 preparations for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II.

We've got the Spirit of Christmas
We're Laden With Gift Suggestions and the Items You Need To Make Christmas Bright.
We'll Help You SHOP NOW So You Can FORGET IT When You're Home For Vacation.
Compacts . . . Jewelry . . . Hose . . . Lingerie . . . Blouses . . . Sweaters . . . Hosiery Cases . . . Billfolds . . . Belds and so on—and more on . . . and then more too!
College Corner
MAYERON'S

FSU After Tampa Scalps in Grid Windup Tomorrow

Seminole Basketeers Poised for '52-53 Tip-Off Against Mercer Tonight

...xious for the Tip-Off

...ST AND EARIN' for the basketball season to get under way is Rick ..., Florida State's 6-7 sophomore center from Maitland, Fla. One of ...our improved performers on the upcoming Seminole cage edition, according to Head Coach Bud Kennedy, Season will see plenty of action at the ...post where this Tribe spans its 20-game agenda against Mercer in the ...ge, tonight.

Tom-A-Hawk Tales

By PAT HOGAN
Flambeau Sports Editor

...s were trying to pick a possible star for FSU in its ...k-ending episode with Tampa in Doak Sheridan Camp...ght's game player to tomorrow, you would have to pick ...Messrs. Nelson Italiano, a tallback-fullback by trade, and ...Tarzan" Dobosz, just plain fullback.

...ou couldn't pick a lineman because the men who operate up ...front in doorbuster generally smother individual effort.

...the backs and it's relatively simple to figure that ...who will be cavorting for the last time in the garnet & Gold ...ard his home-town Tampa playmates, and Dobosz, the ...-torment runner all season, will, if anyone does, assume ...role.

THE ITALIANO STORY is a natural. Tomorrow's contest will ...ida's final chapter and, as a senior says he football farewell, ...chance of misery he can muster will be directed toward making ...final performance one to be remembered.

...e's more to it than the "die for dear ol' FSU." Nelson, ...e has to live the summer months with those guys who'll be ...Tampa jerseys tomorrow. He's taken a heap more kibitzing ...he can stand, already, and there's nothing he would treasure ...than a Seminole victory, with him contributing a roof-sized ...over Tampa.

...hat implies that we are playing that best against Tampa," Nelson ...aid earnestly told us. "I'm hoping that I can have a good ...But I would swap a carload of touchdowns if we could get a ...ole margin in our favor."

AND THEN THERE'S the Dobosz side. The freshman work-horse ...East Chicago, Ind., is scheduled to be playing fullback here ...three years to come. For Stan, tomorrow's game will provide ...gratifying off point for a vacation from the gridiron until next ...'s touching touches of a sensational yearling season, and a ...se to harass his opponents on that favorite "up-the-middle" ...

...e Dynamite Dobosz has been initiated in the Florida State ...ball fraternity. He has discovered he has the ability that makes ...ne Grod, the ability to reel off more than four yards each ...he has that leather. And he loves it.

HE DOESN'T HAVE it "in" for Tampa the way Italiano does. ...didn't be nothing his swan song tomorrow. He'll probably never ...see the Tampa players again, unless it's on a football field in ...Satan day. Even so, Stan says:

"We know how much the same means to Nelson. We're going ...our darndest to give it to him."

...Dobosz, the rookie, will be paying homage to Italiano, the old ...tomorrow. And you won't find those kind of touchdowns in ...'s book.

• • •

HEY THE CUFF—Freshman George Boyer, the Seminoles' mam...center from Jacksonville, is old enough to vote in Georgia, as ...Friday. Big George celebrated his 18th birthday and flunked ...his airplane ride on the same day. Boyer was one of several ...ner "first-timers" who flew to South Carolina for the Wofford ...

• • •

...anza be in the movies? Well, you might have your chance if ...ck close to Dr. Hartley Price's Gymnasia and gymnastic troupe ...the next two weeks. . . . Movietone News cameramen will move ...the FSU campus tomorrow to begin shooting gymnastic scenes ...ditional Rice's Sportlight. . . . The movie short will be released ...January, and with it will go more nation-wide publicity for Florida ...

• • •

DID YOU KNOW that FSU will have tangled with three bowl teams ...times down the curtain against Tampa tomorrow? . . . ...da Tech meets Ole Miss in New Orleans' Sugar Bowl, Mississippi ...tern tests College of the Pacific in the El Paso, Tex., Sun Bowl ...Tampa is pitted against undefeated Lenoir Rhyne in Tampa's ...Cast Bowl, December 13.

• • •

...n't look for Coach Bud Kennedy's 1952-53 basketeers, who ...their season in the hottest of basketball beds in March, Ga., ...to burn up any winning records this year. But the Tribe ...develop into a Southeastern power in the next four years. ...only one senior, three-time letter-winner Bob Peters, graces the ...raxes varsity cage roster, and seven of 'em are only freshmen.

• • •

TWO OF THE Look Magazine All-America football nominees, ...ame Back Gene Filipski of Villanova and defensive Back Gil ...of Kansas, are members of West Point's "lost battalion," vic...of the "Great Scarlet" in which 90 cadets, including some 40 ...ball players, were expelled from the Military Academy more than ...ago. . . . Oh, how the soldiers must be suffering.

Tribe Opens FSU Cage Year On Macon Floor

Face Georgia Teachers' Professors Tomorrow

A young, eager brigade of Seminoles prys the lid off the sixth basketball campaign in Florida State University history tonight when it invades Georgia gymnasiums for a two-game, two-day inaugural stand.

Head Coach J. K. "Bud" Kennedy's Tribe goes against Mercer College in the 1952-53 curtain-raiser at Macon, Ga., tonight and skips over to Collegeboro to meet highscoring Georgia Teachers College tomorrow night.

KENNEDY AND a 12-player FSU traveling squad clicked into Macon last night, where they watched Mercer in its season's de-but against Furman University.

Tonight's premier will be the 11th basketball meeting between Florida State and Mercer, with the Georgians sporting a 6-4 edge in the series dating back to 1946, when the cage sport became an intercollegiate activity at FSU. The teams didn't meet last season.

With a fuzzy-cheeked squad which lists seven freshmen and five juniors, sweating out the 1951-52 club that compiled a 5-20 won-lost record, the Seminoles will be decided underdogs in both contests.

COACH BEN NEJMICZ' Mercer aggression is the defending Dixie Conference champion and reportedly is improved this season.

Tomorrow night, the Professors of Georgia Teachers, the nation's most-proficient point-makers a year ago with an 88.4 per-game average, will be trying for their fourth win in five clashes with the Indians. In four previous bouts with Georgia Teachers, the Tribe has managed to win only one, an important, two-point conquest in the 1951 District 25 NAIB tournament.

It will be the third game of this infant cage campaign for Jimmy Sweatt's Tribe, who have already accepted an invitation to vie with Georgia, Georgia Tech and Florida in the Gator Bowl basketball championships in Jacksonville this month.

THE SEMINOLES, who make their first home showing against Rollins in the West Campus Field House next Friday night, will be strong at any considerable height—a hard-to-do-without asset—to both Mercer and Georgia Teachers.

Kennedy hasn't settled on a starting line-up, or at least he hadn't yesterday, but he has two fives in mind.

If he goes with the experienced hands, the opening line-up will have Duane Gordon (6-4) and Jerry Westhafer (6-4) at forwards, Roy Benson (6-7) at center and Ham Wemke and either Tom Burst (6-0), George Kallah Jr. (5-9) or Junius Richardson (6-3) at guards.

BUT IF HE goes with the all-freshman five which has been by far the most impressive group in more than a month of pre-season drills, the starting line-up will read like this: Tom Dellahan (6-1) and H. B. Marcum (5-11) at forwards, Gary Wold (6-8) at the pivot post and Jimmy Oler (5-11) and Dick Artzmeier (6-0) at guards.

A hurried glance at individual heights reveals the fact that the Seminoles don't have an abundance of long-necked, long-armed skyscrapers. But they hope to make up for the brainpole shortage with speed and sharper shooting eyes.

Here's the 1952-53 varsity cage roster, not counting this week's openers:

December 12—Rollins at Tallahassee; 13—Mercer at Tallahassee; 15—Central at Tallahassee; 20—Mississippi State at Tallahassee.

January 6—Loyola of New Orleans at Tallahassee; 8—Miami at Miami; 12—Tampa at Tampa; 13—Florida Southern at Lakeland; 16—Rollins at Winter Park, Fla.

February 5—Memphis State at Memphis; 6—Arkansas State at Jonesboro, Ark.; 10—Stetson at Tallahassee; 13—Florida Southern at Tallahassee; 14—Tampa at Tallahassee; 17—Miami at Tallahassee; 21—Stetson at DeLand, Fla.

FSU—TAMPA LINEUP

FSU		TAMPA
Player	Pos.	Player
Campbell	LE	Berkovich
Hurry	LT	Mauch
Wortrich	LG	Wetherington
Boyer	C	Gerstle
Bevan	RG	Zaleppski
O'Neal	RT	Gerhardt
Kolenich	RE	Hiers
Lee Taylor	QB	Minahan
Italiano	LH	Beaubier
Woodham	RH	Ellis
Dobosz	FB	Lenhoff
	DEFENSE
Wortrich	LE	Mclaon
Barone	LT	Mahle
Carine	LG	Mayfield
Pinak	RG	Pomeroy
Boyer	C	Gerstle
Hoogendijk	LB	Hurricane
Jacobs	LB	Bottichia
Leonhardt	LB	Orr
Cassedy	RB	Rose
Nelson	RB	Chiapp
Bridges	S	Pulcinski

Their Brothers' Keeper . . .

FOOTBALLS GO back into the mothballs at FSU after tomorrow's season finale with Tampa, but it doesn't signal the beginning of a vacation for the Seminoles' "combat medics" team, Head Trainer Ray Williams (left) and Student Assistant Fred Hawrey. Tar Heels men, who have done such a tremendous, invaluable job of repairing the Indians' gridiron wounded this fall, will simply take a deep breath, shift their medical gears and move into the warmer confines of a gymnasium, where they'll be looking after Florida State's basketeers this winter.

Headin' For The Last Roundup—

Nine Seminole Seniors Close Grid Careers Against Spartans

By BENNETT LAND
FSU Sports Publicity Director

Football's weary-worn vow, "We'll get 'em next year," runs out for nine Florida State University seniors here tomorrow afternoon when they make their final appearance for the Seminoles against the University of Tampa.

And one of the nine, Tommy Brown, the Tribe's punting specialist, will probably be watching the game's proceedings from the sidelines. Brown suffered a twisted knee in the Georgia Tech game.

THE MEN WHO will don the Garnet and Gold for the last time are Co-captains Curt Campbell and Vic Szczepanik, Fullback Dick Turk, Fullback Nelson Italiano, Tackle Earl O'Neal, Guard Preston Bradley, and Halfbacks Roy Thompson and Harry Brimager.

Campbell, a native of Pensacola, was named to the Williamson system Middle group All-America last year as an end. A fine pass receiver, he was a pre-season pick on Francis Wallace's, little All-America team which appeared in Collier's Magazine this fall. This is Curt's fourth year on the FSU squad.

Szczepanik, a 5-11 180-pounder letter that season. He earned from East Rochester, Pa., has been a fine defensive player this season. He is an old-line Seminole, having played on the 1949 Cigar Bowl team and lettered in 1950 and '51.

TURK, 165-POUND fullback from South Bend, Ind., is playing his fourth year here. He also was on the 1949 team but did not

(Continued on Page 4)

Close Battle Looms In Seminole Finale

By PAT HOGAN
Flambeau Sports Editor

With their appetite whetted by an ever-so-sweet, 27-13 conquest of the Wofford Terriers last week, Florida State University's late-blooming white kids ring down the curtain on their first venture into big-time football tomorrow when they tackle the tough, troublesome Tampa Spartans in Doak S. Campbell Stadium. The kickoff is set for 2 p.m.

It will be the fifth renewal of a bitter, intra-state rivalry and, as in the past four meetings, everything connected with this one points to a real humdinger.

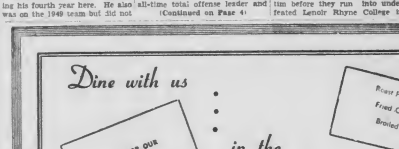
TO BEGIN WITH, the haughty Spartans tanned our boys by a 14-6 margin in a real shocker at the tail-end of last season. That means the Seminoles will have the old revenge motive for that upset to their pride and dignity.

Secondly, Florida's mythical, "Little Three" championship will be riding on this one, and even though the Indians have stepped into "big" company, they nevertheless want that "little" title to rest in Tallahassee.

Thirdly, and equally important is the fact that nine FSU seniors will make their final appearance for the Garnet and Gold, and they don't figure to make their exit in any adagio fashion.

ONE OF THE seniors, home-town product Tommy Brown, may not dress for the fray. The 150-pound punting star wrenched a knee against Georgia Tech in Atlanta three weeks back and the joint hasn't responded to treatment.

The downstate Spartans have a few incentives to offer, too. They are breezing along in one of their better seasons (6-3-1) and would like to chain FSU as another victim before they run into undefeated Lenoir Rhyne College in Tampa's own Cigar Bowl, December 13.



And, as any Tampan would hastily tell you, the Spartans would rather wallop Florida State than any school on its schedule.

FURTHERMORE, Tampa still hasn't lived down those three consecutive defeats administered by the Seminoles by 33-13 in their inaugural meeting in 1946, 34-7 in '49, and 35-19 in '50.

Don Valler's Seminoles probably want this one more than any game they've played this season. A triumph over Tampa would add quite a bit of luster to a dim campaign of losses, which finds only one tie and one win sandwiched between nine starts.

A glance at comparative scores shows tomorrow's contest should be a real classic. FSU tied Stetson, the other member of the "Little Three," 6-6, and the Tampa-Stetson contest was identical, a 6-all stalemate. Mississippi Southern's Sun-Bowl bound Southerners rolled over FSU, 50-21. The Southerners turned back Tampa in a 26-20 homemade.

THE SEMINOLES, with the exception of hooker Brown, will be fit as a fiddle tomorrow. Nelson Italiano, the grad-to-be in '53, who'll be playing his final FSU role against his home-town school, and Stan Dobosz, the freshman fullback phenom, are expected to carry a large portion of the Indian offensive load.

Military Ball

(Continued from Page 1)

including a skit by members of the Florida State University ROTC units.

HIGH POINT of the evening will fall when the spotlight hits the queen of this year's Military Ball. The three finalists in the contest are Carolyn Calhoun, Gail Tomlinson and Dottie Rhimer. The girl selected to reign will be crowned by Col. Booth of Army ROTC.

Honored guests at the Ball will include the Executive Council of the University.

COORDINATING the Joint Army-Air Force units for the Ball are Merrill Moore of Air ROTC and Bob White of Army ROTC.

and are taking charge of all arrangements.

A late bus to West Campus will leave at 12:45 from East Campus following the Military Ball.

Title for Sandspur

(Continued from Page 1)

for speaking parts will read from the script.

ROLES OPEN for tryouts are Byron, singing and acting; Church, his buddy, singing and acting; Commander Curtis, speaking; Jackson, speaking; King Vanda, acting; Lavinia, acting; Rayln, singing and acting; Roxanne, speaking; Phoebe, singing and acting; an attendant, speaking and six female non-speaking roles.

Tryouts will be announced Monday on the call boards in Westcott for seven men and seven women vocalists, able also to execute one group dance. One female and male ecstatic dancers, as well as an additional number of dancers, will also be chosen. Any student is eligible to try-out for Sandspur roles.

DIRECTOR CHAVERS, a Senior transfer from Auburn, is a speech major and has had directing and playwriting experience. Beatrice Lambert will serve as his assistant.

Members of the cast will be notified today of their selection, said Chairman Harris. Rehearsals will start immediately and set construction has already begun. The dance will be February 21, but a band has not yet been signed for the event.

Students Asked

(Continued from Page 1)

drive, said, "Whatever we send will be a gesture of friendliness from Florida to students of another country who need encouragement and help."

BOOKS AND contributions for postage will also be accepted at "Books for the Orient." History Building, Florida State University. The drive will close Saturday, Dec. 13.

Ruge Hall Announces

The Protestant students and members of the Vestry of Ruge Hall will celebrate a Corporate Communion at the 11:00 a.m. service Sunday.

Opera Guild

(Continued from Page 1)

ity since the opera was written. Mother Goose was written with the composer's very young friends in mind. The Prince and the chorus remind the audience that Every Lover Must Meet His Fate. The supporting characters of the play, Liane (Ellen Snow), Rob Percival Simaby (Bob Parrish), Arleide Canche (William Cramer) and Petrus van Tromp (Sam Frank) sing the ballad Jeanette and Her Little Wooden Shoes. Pretty as a Picture is sung by Van Tromp and the chorus.

I Might Be Your Once-in-a-While clearly expresses the attitude of Liane and Lt. Karl (William Dalrymple) toward each other.

A HIGH SPOT for comedy comes in the second act when van Tromp, Canche and Slimsby combine with Mikel (Harrison Fisher) to sing the Pizzicato of Love, a farcial ditty, interspersed with comical dance routines.

The operetta, which runs through tomorrow night is featuring, besides the fifteen principal singing roles, a cast of nearly 100 students. The show also contains an orchestra of 24 pieces and a singing chorus of 37 members.

ACCORDING TO Dr. Briggs, "Sweethearts" is recognized as one of the most colorful and tuneful of the Victor Herbert operettas. It requires a picturesque Dutch setting and elaborate costuming. Made into a movie several years ago, the popular Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald were starred. Recently it was revived on Broadway with Bobby Clark playing the leading role.

Production staff at FSU includes Jim Harris as stage manager, Lorena Smith and Patsy Potter as staff pianists and Betty Jo Armstrong and Leigrene Willennlnger is wardrobe mistress. Jean Anderson is in charge of ticket sales. Violet Mandese, box office and Bennie White, in charge of ushers.

THE OPERETTA is the fourth production of the Light Opera Guild which was organized in 1950. Previous productions have included "The Mikado," the "Pirates of Penzance," and "Roberta."

so nin charge of properties. Nancy

Nine Seminoles

(Continued from Page 3)

enters his final game Saturday with 2,074 yards gained.

O'Neal, rugged 205-pound offensive tackle, concludes his third campaign for the Tribe. A native of Valdosta, Ga., he has been a mainstay in this year's offensive line.

BRADLEY, 180-POUND native of Lake Wales, lettered on the 1950 and 1951 teams. He began his career here as a back but was shifted to guard.

Backs Thompson of Wrightsville, Ga., and Bringger of Winter Haven, are two of the fastest ball carriers FSU has had. Thompson, plagued with a bad shoulder since mid-season has not seen regular duty. He lettered on the '51 teams.

FSU Clubs Contact Tally-Ho For Pictures

All organizations, including athletic groups, honorary clubs, religious groups, social groups and clubs wishing to have their pictures included in the 1953 Tally Ho edition should go by the office or call Joanne Moore or Patsy Peter at the Pi Beta Phi House 3-2462, before Tuesday, Dec. 9

31 Indian team and averaged 6.4 yards per try on 54 tries.

Brinsger is best remembered for his great showing in 1950 when he snagged five passes, scoring after each catch. He concludes his fourth season tomorrow, having lettered on the 1949, '50, and '51 teams.

Business Leaders Hold Xmas Party

Future Business Leaders of America will hold a Christmas party Wednesday, Dec. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in South Cawthon Recreation Room, the club has announced.

Price of admission for the affair will be a toy wrapped as a Christmas gift at a recommended price of not more than 25 cents. During the party a gift exchange will take place and the toys will be given to a welfare agency for distribution to needy children in the community.

Eliza Dick and Mavis Stewart, both officers of the Club, are co-chairman of the affair and their committee extends a cordial welcome to all club members, interested students and all faculty and staff members of the School of Business.

ACE Will Baby Sit Killian Talks At MSC

The A. E. C. Baby Sitting Committee will care for children at the Demonstration School as parents attend a Christmas program this Tuesday night, Dec. from 6 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Any parent who attends the Christmas program may take advantage of these services.

Square Dance

The Social Work Club is sponsoring a square dance at the Club Tuesday from 7 until 9 p.m. Admission will be free at good old Florida State University it's sportshirts by Manhattan

What is there about custom-feature Manhattan sportshirts that makes them the favorite of smart college men? Simple! They're not a fad. They've got style, they're tailored to the fine Manhattan tradition, and above all, they give you an air of distinction. Come on in and see 'em for yourself, and let us show you the rest of our complete line of fine Manhattan apparel for men.

Alford Brothers

Bertha Cooke

A trim cinched waist looks even smaller with a full swing skirt. This one of cotton tweed that's crease resistant, pre-shrunk and uncondltionally washable. Grey or tan in sizes 10 to 18. $10.95

Nardis of Dallas

"Everything for the Shoe"

- Expert Shoe Repairing
- Dye Shoes All Colors
- Shoe Shine Kits

PALACE SHOE SHOP

"THE HOUSE THAT SERVICE BUILT"

121 EAST PARK AVENUE

Whites! Smart solid colors! With the best-styled collars in the world!

ARROW SHIRTS

a tremendous selection 3.95 up

Name your collar, name your color — we have it! You'll find button-downs, widespreads, regular collars . . . Oxfords and broadcloths (all "Sanforized"*) . . . whites and solid colors . . . in our terrific Arrow selection. All expertly tailored for smooth, neat fit. Come in while selections are at their peak!

Mendelson's

FOR ARROW UNIVERSITY STYLES

The biggest wheels on campus

wear Arrow Shirts!

Arrow White Shirts, Arrow Solid Color Shirts, Arrow Stripes . . . all in your favorite collar styles . . . $3.95 up

ARROW

SHIRTS • TIES • UNDERWEAR • HANDKERCHIEFS • SPORTS SHIRTS

Good Old Siwash is hogwash now

FOR A LONG TIME we've suspected that today's college man would no longer gladly die for dear old Swash." Neither does he play ukuleles and sing "Alma Mater" at the drop of a beanie.

We believe, too, that when it comes to sportshirts the college man is no different from his older brother in town. He doesn't go for fads and screwball styles. But he does go for smartness, good workmanship . . . and above all, value.

That is why we believe you'll like the new selection of sportshirts by Manhattan®. For they have all those qualities, plus a distinctive air that sets them above the ordinary shirt.

So ask for Manhattans . . . the college man's sportshirt.

Manhattan

Shirts, neckwear, underwear, pajamas, sportshirts, beachwear and handkerchiefs

For Holiday Enchantment Turners Features Jonathan Logan Dresses . . .

$17.95 7 to 15

The dazzle belonging to glistening evenings is evident when your favorite dress-giver, Jonathan Logan adds heavenly pearl and braid encrusted trim on collar and pockets.

Turner's

Granny is now eighty-three And yet she's spry and plucky — And yet she's single, see, Her motto is a Simple one, Be Happy and Go Lucky!

Darlene Davis Fresno State College

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

They're made better to taste cleaner, fresher, smoother!

Ask yourself this question: Why do I smoke?

You know, yourself, you smoke for enjoyment. And you get enjoyment only from the taste of a cigarette.

Luckies taste better—cleaner, fresher, smoother! Why? Because Luckies are made better to taste better. And, what's more, Luckies are made of fine tobacco. L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco.

So, for the thing you want most in a cigarette . . . for better taste—cleaner, fresher, smoother taste . . . Be Happy—Go Lucky!

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTES L.S./M.F.T.

Luckies always pace the tests; They always make the grade — They're cleaner, smoother than the rest Because they're better made!

David M. Burns Princeton University

COLLEGE STUDENTS PREFER LUCKIES IN NATION-WIDE SURVEY!

Nation-wide survey based on actual student interviews in 80 leading colleges reveals more smokers prefer Luckies than any other cigarette by a wide margin. No. 1 reason: Luckies' better taste. Survey also shows Lucky Strike gained far more smokers in these colleges than the nation's two other principal brands combined.

An apple used to do the trick, But grades dont bother me — I give my prof this one sure tip That L.S./M.F.T.

Edward Siegel University of Florida

FOR A CLEANER, FRESHER, SMOOTHER SMOKE . . .

Be Happy-GO LUCKY!

© A.T.Co.

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company — AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES

Amend and Skogstad Win Top Honors At LSU Debate Tourney

Florida Flambeau

SEMINOLES

Sandspur Chairman Names Leading Roles See Lead Story

VOL. XXXIX, No. 20 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Tuesday, December 9, 1952

FSU Debators Take Honors In Debate Tourney at LSU

Skogstad-Amend Team Argues Pros To Win 'Best Affirmative' In Region

Winning top honors at the annual regional Tau Kappa Alpha Debate Tournament held at Louisiana State University were Arlene Amend and Katherine Skogstad from Flordia State University. Bert Bradley, graduate student in the department of speech accompanied the debaters.

The affirmative team of Amend and Skogstad tied with Louisiana State University's affirmative team as the best affirmative team in the tournament. The best negative team award also went to Louisiana State University. Additional representatives from Florida State University were Tom Woods and Herbert Lacayo debating the negative.

CERTIFICATES WERE also awarded to the five best speakers in the tournament. Arlene Amend received one of these certificates.

Debaters representing nine major universities from six Southeastern states debated the national proposition: Resolved, that the Congress of the United States should enact a compulsory fair employment practice law. In addition to Florida State University, the following schools were represented: University of Alabama, University of Florida, University of Tennessee, University of Mississippi, Mercer University, Emory University, Auburn and Louisiana State University.

The coach of the debate squad is Dr. Gregg Phifer, Assistant Professor in the Department of Speech.

Dancing Clubs Announce Taps For This Year

Large tap classes for the first semester 1952-53 school year have been announced by the Cavaliers and Cotillion Dance honoraries.

FROM A LARGE try-out group of almost 100 contestants, Cotillion tapped 19 girls including Barbara Schumacher, Barbara Michael, Joan Mynihan, Joan Carson and Barbara Yost.

Joan Eichinger, Pat Popko, Sara David, Dodie Platt, Ann Hayes, Jeanie Craig, Helen Martin and Betty Ann Dees.

ALSO DE DE DUGUID, Barbara Burks, Carole Crabb, Carolyn Williams, Jerry Sellers and Sara Sealey.

Taps will go through a period of learning and study much the same as is given a pledge group for any of the Greek organizations. Cotillion expects to hold initiation for these taps the beginning of next semester. Plans are now being made for a formal dance at that time during which the taps will be formally presented.

CAVALIERS CHOSE, purely by coincidence, also 19 men from its prospective try-outs. Taps for Cavaliers will follow a similar indoctrination period, being initiated sometime early next semester.

Cavalier selections included James Riley, Bill Norris, Al Schissler, Bill Neolett and Jim Hudson.

CECIL DUNN, Dempsey Herring, Gene Belser, Bobby Guest, Tracy Harrison, Buddy Bryant, Jimmy Spell and Gene Abrahamson.

Also, Howard Hunter, Ernest Stevens, Kent Heberling, Jim Flanigan, Randy Church and Dave Donnelly.

Selection Board To Speak Here With Future Air Cadets

A Korean Jet Pilot is accompanying the Air Force Aviation Cadet Selection Team that arrived today from Moody Air Force Base for a three-day visit to the FSU campus. Major Ben Nelson, team president, stated that the team will be on campus Dec. 9, 10 and 11 to talk to students interested in the Air Force Aviation Cadet Pilot and Observer training.

The team will be divided into two parts, one group stationed on the main floor of Westcott near the Information Booth and the other team at the Student Service Center. The group is primarily interested in Seniors.

FIRST LIEUTENANT Edward Mendel, USAF, who will accompany Major Nelson and his team, returned from Korea on the first of August after completing 100 combat missions. While here, Lt. Mendel will talk to Air Force ROTC classes and interested students about his experiences flying Lockheed F-80 Shooting Stars on missions in support of front line trops and harassing enemy supply lines.

An excellent opportunity currently exists in the Air Foree for qualified young men who are interested in a career of aviation. Aviation Cadet training is available to all men who have completed 60 semester hours of college. Applicants must be unmarried, citizens of the U. S. and between the ages of 19 and 26½ at the time of application.

Dr. Robert Miller To Speak At Ruge

Dr. Robert Miller, head of the department of religion and philosophy, will speak at Ruge Hall, the Episcopal student center, Thursday night at 8 p.m.

Dr. Miller will lecture on Christianity and its Relation to Philosophical Thought at "Tossing Out Religion." This will be one of a series of lectures which are being sponsored by the Canterbury Club.

At the close of Dr. Miller's lecture a question and answer period will take place, and refreshments will be served.

Senate Meets Today

The University Government Association Senate will meet today at 5:15 p.m. in the Senate chamber.

Grads To Meet Job Prospectors Thursday Night

Job-Getting Seminar Introduces Employers To Graduating Seniors

Seniors from all schools and departments of Florida State University are invited to attend the fourth annual Job-Getting Seminar, to be held in the clubroom of the Longmire building on Thursday, Dec. 11, at 9:30 p. m.

The Job-Getting Seminar, which is designated to introduce all graduating FSU seniors to prospective employers, will be sponsored by Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, in cooperation with the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement.

REPRESENTATIVES FROM a number of business firms, industrial organizations, and other agencies interested in employing graduating seniors will participate in the seminar. The representatives include: Lewis Guthrie of the International Business Machine Corporation, W. H. McAuley of the W. H. Grant and Company, Roy McKenzie of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, A. B. Robertson of the Crawford and Company Insurance Adjusters, Hugh Mercer of Price, Waterhouse and Company Accounting Firm, W. T. Gunter of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company and William Earle of the Florida Merit System.

Graduating Seniors will have an opportunity to meet the visiting representatives at an informal reception which will begin at 7:30 on the evening of Dec. 11. Following this social gathering, the representaitves will form a panel to discuss the topic "Why Employers Seek the College Graduate." Millard Davidson, Manager of the Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce, will serve as moderator of the discussion panel.

SENIORS WHO ATTEND the Job-Getting Seminar will also have the opportunity to make appointments for interviews with the visiting representatives. Hal L. Smith, Counselor of the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, will be present to make appointments for interviews to be held on Friday, Dec. 12.

Eddie Nelson, chairman of the Alpha Kappa Psi Job-Getting Seminar Committee, will be in charge of making arrangements for the program. He will be assisted by Warren Dolan, Bob Gardner, "Boots" Horne, Fred Brinkman, Pres. McDonald, faculty advisor Dr. Herbert Vogt and other members of Alpha Kappa Psi.

Glover Tully, director of Vocational Guidance and Placement, Asst. Dir. Mrs. Margaret Blair and Counselor Smith are working with the fraternity in planning and promoting the Job-Getting Seminar.

Campus To Have Student Directories

Student directories for the year 1952-53, will be out for distribution sometime before Christmas, the office of the Registrar has announced.

The directory, listing student and faculty names, addresses at college and at home and Florida State University phone numbers, will be similar to last year's.

Places and times for distribution will be announced at a later date. Students will be required to show their ID card to obtain a directory, as last year.

Dan Knowles to Play For Christmas Dance

A formal Christmas dance will be held Friday night at the Freshman Men's Dormitory from 8 until 12. Music will be furnished by Danny Knowles and his orchestra.

Freshman men living on West Campus and their dates are also invited. Those planning the special event are Lloyd Kay, decorations, Rafield Matienzo, music and Dick Corriveau, refreshments.

Second Christmas Will Come To Maid of Cotton Finalists

It's going to be a second Christmas for the 20 girls who are selected finalists in the 1953 Maid of Cotton contest when they arrive in Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 29-30. Several Florida State girls are contestants.

The finalists will be presented a Bolsey Model A camera, a palm-size design weighing less than 12 ounces but with an F4.5 lens; an overnight case of cosmetics by Dorothy Gray; Colony cotton handbags; Dawnelle double-woven cotton gloves; a guest set of Cone cotton gloves; a guest set of designed by Gantner in Avondale Mignonne chambray, and a set of Coro jewelry.

IN ADDITION, the girl who is selected Maid of Cotton will be awarded a special Treasure Chest containing a Bolsey 35 mm. camera with an automatic flash gun and lens filter.

Although she will not actually be presented the car itself until she returns from her six-month international tour, the 1953 Maid of Cotton will receive a certificate of presentation for a 1953 Ford convertible from the Memphis District Ford dealers on the evening of the contest finals.

ANY GIRL BORN in a cotton-producing state who has never been married, is between the ages of 19 and 25 and at least five feet five inches tall is eligible to become the Maid of Cotton. Midnight Saturday was the deadline for entries.

The 1953 Maid of Cotton will make the most extensive European visit in the 15-year history of the tour. As the goodwill and fashion ambassadress of the U. S. cotton industry, she will visit Paris and three other European capitals to be announced later. In addition, she will make appearances at Toronto, Montreal, and Hamilton in Canada, as well as 30 major U. S. cities from coast to coast.

Military Monarch

...EN FOR A NIGHT—Carolyn Calhoun, junior from Tampa, was chosen to reign over the annual ROTC Military Ball Friday night. Sh was crowned by Jett Munroe Schmeltz, last year's queen. Runners-up were Gail Tomlinson and Dorothy Reimer.

Magazine Reveals Cover Girl Finalists

Finalists for the 1952 Smoke Signals Cover Girl Contest have been announced by Smoke Signals Business Manager John Howard.

Finalists in the competition include Hilda Copeland, Anne Spencer, Anice Spencer, Suzi Jones and Jane Parker of Phi Mu; Carol Members, of Alpha Omicron Pi; Shirley Hogan of Delta Delta Delta, Betty Ann Roberts, Jeanie Rutherford, Ann Munroe, Jeanie Helvey and Ann Adams of Alpha Delta Pi;

Deane Jackson, Kathleen Toole and Gail Tomlinson of Kappa Delta; Kitten Morrow of Alpha Chi Omega; Mary Belle Tuny of Alpha Gamma Delta; Mary Ann Fields, and Woodley Grizzard of Pi Beta Phi; and Ann Yates of Zeta Tau Alpha.

Also, Dot Johnson for Phi Delta Theta; Barbara Brewton for Sigma Nu; Jackie Goddard, Sara Lee David of Tri Delt; Pat Leary for Sigma Phi Epsilon and Beverly Brown and Shirley Harper of Sigma Kappa.

The final judging for the winner will take place on Dec. 11th in the Alumni Building at 7:30.

All candidates are asked to wear shorts and tee shirts. Announcement of the Cover Girl and sponsors will appear in the next issue of Smoke Signals.

University Singers Present Traditional Christmas Concert

The University Singers of Florida State University made their first formal appearance here this semester last night. A Christmas concert was presented at the Opperman Music Hall under direction of Dr. Wiley L. Housewright.

Featured on the program was the Christmas music, including traditional carols and selections from an oratorio by Hector Berlioz, "The Childhood of Christ."

"Come Jesus Come" a motet by J. S. Bach was sung by the Singers. According to Dr Housewright the Bach motets are considered among the most difficult choral works in the repertoire. This is the first motet by Bach the University Singers have presented.

Soloists for the program included Claude Rhea, tenor of Carrollton, Missouri, who sang "Repost of the Holy Family" and Jacqueline Morris, soprano of Quincy, singing "Balulalow," an English carol.

Thalia Whitehurst of Lake Wales, soloist, and Robert Forman, music instructor, playing the English horn, presented Maurice Besly's "The Shepherd Had An Angel."

The Singers will sing for the Tallahassee Women's Club next week. A tour through the central and southern parts of the state is planned for next February.

NSA Committee Meets

The National Student Association committee will meet briefly at 4 p.m. Thursday in the Senate Room.

Library Will Charge Extra Overdue Fines

An additional charge of 25 cents will be charged to all students, including graduate students, who do not return library books on or before Wednesday, Dec. 17.

During the holidays the library will be open part-time. Hours of opening will be posted well in advance of the holidays. For further details of holiday regulations consult Pow Wow or ask at the main desk of the library.

Sandspur Announces 1953 Leading Roles

Ted Morrill and Paula Bailey Awarded Leads After Audition

Ted Morrill and Paula Bailey will have the leading roles in the 1953 Sandspur production of "Heaven Forbid!", according to Chairman Jim Harris. The couple was chosen after an audition period last week.

Morrill will play Byron Donnally, who is jilted by the woman he loves in an age in which space ships are far from unusual. His comical friend, Chuck Prince, Nick Pappas, attempts to convince him that his lost love can be replaced.

BYRON AND CHUCK find occasion to investigate a new space ship, a situation which results in a meeting with Commander Curtin, played by Harrison Fisher, and Jackson, played by Charles Boghdan. A crewman, Ed Thomase, aids in a confused flight which deposits Byron and Chuck upon the colorful planet Venus.

In an atmosphere which may almost seem a dream, King Vanda, played by Ronald Martin, and Queen Lavinia, Beverly Bennett, accumulate a host of "down-to-earth" ideas, thanks to their visitors from earth. Phoebe, played by Bette Mullins, sets a rapid pace with her boisterous yen for Chuck, or any other man. Roxanne, Marian Mattair, renews Byron's love sparkle until he hears the voice of Maxine, played by Paula Bailey, the lead, who introduces her charms.

A THRONE-SPONSORED festival with its gala singing and dancing should provide one of the most glamorous and colorful scenes of the show. It is the occasion of the crowning of Prince Raylu, Fred Bennett, and his queen of the festival.

Claire Kenyon will sing transitory music for the show which opens on Feb. 18 and continues through Feb 20.

Dance tryouts will be held later this week. Interested persons should watch the Sandspur call board in Lower Westcott for the announcement of the time and place of tryouts. Choreographer for the production, written by Bill Chavers and Skipper Lambert, is Frances Bailey Stokes.

Messiah Debut Set For Friday In Music Hall

Public Admitted Free To Program Beginning At 8:15 Both Nights

Handel's oratorio masterpiece, "Messiah," will be presented in traditional Christmas style here on Friday and Saturday evenings, Dec. 12 and 13. The performances will be given in Opperman Music Hall, beginning at 8:15 p. m. both evenings, and will be open to the public without charge.

The "Messiah" will be sung by the Choral Union of 175 voices, accompanied by the 70-piece University Symphony Orchestra. Prof. Herman Gunter, Jr., director of the chorus, and Prof. Robert N. Sedore, director of the orchestra, will share the podium alternately during the performance.

ALL SOLOS will be sung this year by students in the School of Music, according to Prof. Gunter. Soloists this year, and the selections they will sing, are Hilda Hamilton, contralto, who will sing the air, "He Shall Feed His Flock," and Julia Ann Russ, contralto, who will render "O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings to Zion." Bill Kelly, bass soloist, will sing the aria, "But Who May Abide the Day of His Coming."

Soprano soloists will be Claire Kenyon, who will sing "There Were Shepherds Abiding in the Fields" and "Suddenly There Was With the Angel." Shirley Daniel, singing the soprano portion of the air "He Shall Feed His Flock," and Lynn Longbottom, who will offer "How Beautiful Are the Feet." Tenor soloists will be Kenneth Haskins, who will sing, "Comfort Ye My People," and William L. Dalrymple, singing "Behold and See."

Christmas Program Will Be Presented By Baptist Students

A demonstration "Student Night at Christmas" program will be given at the Baptist Student House, tonight at 7 p.m. During the Christmas season BSU'ers are usually called upon by the pastors of their home churches to present a program such as this for the purpose of presenting BSU to future college students and the townspeople.

The demonstration program is one of the programs suggested by the Department of Southern Baptist Student Work. It is a combination of scripture, poetry, special music, talks and a pantomime unified into the theme "Christianity is Practical".

THOSE TAKING part in the program are Jane Parkman, leading singing; Jeanette Cox and Sara Ann Barker, playing piano; Flora Harrison, Claude Rhea, Libby and Sarah Sullenberger, special music; Ernest Jones, June Rodgers, Tommy Ard, Iris Eppes, Imogene Simons, scripture recitations; Carol Ann Hill, Betty Jean Nichols, Mary Browder, poetry readings. Short talks will be given by Bill Chapman, Helen Hamrick, Barbara Ann Thomas and Carolyn Rhea.

Those taking part in the pantomime are Barbara Baredian Guddie Hetland, Jenkie Allen, Margaret White, Carol Piper, David Whipple and Janet Kelley. David Yang and Carey Woods will lead in prayer.

Marnee Harrigen and Ralph Harrison are in charge of decoration, and Virginia Norris and Mary Beth Baggett are ushers for the evening.

Panhellenic Stages Christmas Formal

The Panhellenic Association will hold its Christmas Ball [illegible] Saturday from 9 until 12 o'clock in the Suwannee Room. Music will be by the Regents.

All students, whether in Greek organizations or not, are invited by the Association to attend the formal dance.

Freshman Trio Presented For Drama Project

The Freshmen will give three one-act plays tonight and tomorrow night as their annual drama project instead of the usual three-act play. The plays will take place in Conradi Theater at 8:15 p.m.

The plays, which will be admission free, have Freshman speech students in their casts. They will be directed by Roger M Busfield, speech instructor, with costumes by Douglas Russell and lighting by Delmar Hansen.

In "Before Breakfast" by Eugene O'Neill, Diane Gottschalk plays Mrs. Rowland, with Juna Mizell as stage manager. David Wade is cast as the professor in "The Theater of the Soul" by Yevreinov. James S. Harvey is M1; Lloyd Kay, M2, Julian Hodge, M3; Marian McDaniel, first concept of singer, Sara Holland, second concept of singer; Polly Abel, first concept of wife, Helen Russell, second concept of wife and Roger Bickel, porter. Stage manager is June Mizell.

"The Man in the Bowler Hat" by A. A. Milne is the third play with David Wade as John, Diane Gottschalk, Mary; James S Harvey, hero; Derryl Grace, heroine; Lloyd Kay, villain; Julian Hodge, bad man and Roger Bickel, man in tha bowler hat. Jeanna O'Hearn is stage manager.

University Dames Club Plans Christmas Party

Mrs. Stanley Asplund was elected president at a recent meeting of the University Dames at the home of Pres. and Mrs. Doak S. Campbell on Tennessee St. Sixty members attended.

Vice-president is Mrs. Ralph Becker, with Mrs. Dean Keeley as secretary, and Mrs. Earl Gerson as treasurer.

The Dames Club, in conjunction with the Graduate Club will have a Christmas party Friday night at the O Club from 7:30 until midnight for all graduate students and their wives.

Location Of Free Movies Is Changed

The free movie being shown this week is "God Is My Co-Pilot," co-starring Dennis Morgan and Raymond Massey. It is being shown tonight in the Freshman Men's Dormitory, and will be shown at South Cawthon Hall Friday.

The change of theaters is due to conflicting social activities the two dormitories have scheduled. No women students will be allowed to attend tonight's movie, due to lack of proper chaperoning in the men's dormitory.

The movie will play Wednesday at Magnolia and Thursday at Senior Hall. All weekday movies begin at 7 30 p m with the Friday night showing starting at 8 p.m.

Fellowships Offered Students in Sciences

Florida State students in the sciences may now apply for a part in the second graduate fellowship program of the National Science Foundation.

Fellowships will be awarded for graduate study in the biological, engineering, mathematical, medical and physical sciences. All fellowships are limited to citizens of the United States.

MORE THAN 500 Fellows will be selected for a year of graduate study. Selections are made solely on the basis of ability. The majority of the awards will go to graduate students seeking masters or doctors degrees in science, although a limited number of awards will be made to postdoctoral applicants.

Graduating college seniors in the sciences who desire to enter graduate school are encouraged to apply for the awards.

THE THREE-PART rating system for predoctoral Fellowships will consist of test scores of scientific aptitude and achievement, academic records and recommendations regarding each individual's merit. Postdoctoral applicants will not be required to take the examinations.

The stipends for predoctoral Fellows range from $1400 to $1800, the stipend for postdoctoral Fellows is $3400. In addition, tuition and certain required fees will be paid by the Foundation. Limited allowances will be provided for dependents and for travel to a Fellow's graduate institution. The tenure of a fellowship is for one year and can be arranged to begin at any time after June 1, [illegible], but must not normally be later than the beginning of the academic year at the institution of the Fellow's choice.

APPLICATIONS FOR the current National Science Foundation fellowship awards may be obtained from the Fellowship Office, National Research Council, Washington 25, D. C., which is assisting the Foundation in the screening and evaluation of fellowship applicants. Completed applications must be returned by January 5, 1953. Applicants for predoctoral fellowships will be required to take certain parts of the [illegible] Examination which will be administered at selected centers in the United States on January 30-[illegible]. Applicants will be [illegible] by Fellowship Boards [illegible] National Academy of Sciences [illegible] Council. [illegible] of Fellows will be made by the National Science foundation.

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager
RABS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editor ..... Marcia Morris
Sports Editor ..... Jim Kelly, Pat Nixon
Copy Editor ..... Judy Simkins
Feature Editor ..... Betty Lou
Assistant News Editor ..... John Hamilton
Sports Editor ..... Bob Hicks, Bill York
Campus Editor ..... Ed Young
National Ad Manager ..... Pat Watson
Local Ad Manager ..... Fay Watson
Assistant News ..... Nancy Lowe, Julia Norton, Marilyn Seargent

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida. The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, N. Y.
Telephone 3-4000, Extension 481

Second Floor Alumni Bldg.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

SEMINOLE SCENES . . .

OUIJA BOARD PREDICTS COLUMNIST'S FUTURE

By FRANCES CAWTHON

I am going to get married within three years, have three kids and travel in Europe with a press association. Furthermore, I can tell you just the exact date your second grandchild is going to cut his first tooth. I, you see, am a soothsayer.

It all happened when I met a Ouija Board the other night for the first time in years. God, what an invention . . .

Having this unusual power to see into the murky clouds of the future, I will make a few predictions. (1) Eisenhower is going to make a good president. (2) McCarty will get indigestion from the barbecues at the Inauguration, and (3) Papa will have to go all the way to another County to get spice for egg nog this Christmas.

Now that I am enlighted by this two toes by one foot piece of board with the little thing-a-ma-jig sliding over the top, I have planned my life. Associated Press will probably hire me immediately upon graduation, and I'll leave on the U. S. S. United States for England the next year. After having rushed up on my Spanish, learned French, Italian, German and Portugese.

From there I plan to go on to the continent, where I shall write the features about French night life in Paris. While in Paris all my ambassador's party. I will meet a dashing, destitute Slavic count and send the guy back home a "Dear John" because, as the saying goes, "it's on the Ouija Board . . ."

After marrying this fellow, I'll put him to polishing the furniture in the banquet room while I go to get an exclusive interview with Major Ivan Petrkoski of the Russian sector of Berlin. (I shall probably expose Petrkoski for drinking American made mint Juleps instead of vodka: I don't know I haven't asked the Ouija Board yet . . .)

After making a genuine success at this, I will go back home, pack up the count and we will leave for the United States, where I will become editor of the New York Times and enroll the count in basic English at NYU. (You see, I know I learned Spanish, French, Italian, German and Portuguese. He only knows how to speak Slavic, and it would be nice if I'd learn to talk to your husband once in a while. . .)

Terrible to be able to plan your life in advance, isn't it? Some people I know aren't relying on Pearsay when it comes to buying Christmas presents this year either. Instead they are asking the Ouija what Jim wants for Christmas, first, second and third choices. They are also asking what Jim is going to give for Christmas. In that way, you will know whether to spend five bucks on him or go whole hog and blow twelve

For questions of career, love and whether or not you'll pass Humanities the Ouija Board is sure hot. Should you have to ask it find another person, sit down facing each other, put the magical piece of board across your knees and place touching fingertips gently on that smaller piece of wood and concentrate. When you ask a question, first thing you know it will be moving across to a yes, a no, a number or spelling out a word. (Only trouble it don't spell so good . . .)

If anybody wants his fortune told, come to me and I'll smack the Ouija Board. Five questions for 25 cents. And people don't give your uncle another tie this Christmas. Why not buy him one of those dolls at Woolworth's that's going on in the world. For only two dollars you can purchase an entire future.

Gee whiz Jimmidy, modern science has nothing on a Ouija Board!

PLAYBITS

ONE-ACT PLAYS TO FEATURE FSU FRESHMEN

By GEORGE SPELVIN

Tonight's another opening night at Conradi Theatre. At 8:15 the curtain rises on the first of three one-act plays being produced by the department of speech. These shows are all freshman at the cast and crews, and are directed by Mr. Roger Busfield.

The annual freshman show is now traditional at F.S.U. The series began three seasons ago in 1950 with the first show, "Clarence." "This was such a success that it was made a yearly affair.) The second season's production was "Shadow of Heaven."

This year it was decided that it would be more beneficial to both students and director to do three one-acts rather than the usual single three-acts play. These productions give a wide variety of experience in acting and directing techniques and in staging, also.

Perhaps the most unusual of the three plays from every standpoint is "Theatre of the Soul" by Yevreinov. It is entirely expressionistic and symbolic in plot, characterization, and technical aspects.

It is impossible to designate any one role as being the lead. Each of the characterizations blends with the others to give to the camera audiences something new and rather startling. No part in this play is meant to portray an actual person but rather an intangible element of the human soul—hence the title "Theatre of the Soul".

The set has been designed completely in keeping with Yevreinov's unusual drama. The importance of the plot and characterizations is emphasized by the simplicity of step and platform units, combined with dark drapes.

The most outstanding effect is achieved through the technical angle of the stirrage and complicated lighting. The various playing areas of the stage are alternately brilliantly flooded with light and in complete darkness.

"Theatre of the Soul" is certainly something new in the line of theatrical productions at F.S.U.

Each of the three two plays scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday nights has its unusual angle. The only one of the three not for children that has a leading role, is Eugene O'-Neill's realistic "Before Breakfast." It is a monologue in which there are two characters only one of which appears on the stage. The latter part is played by Diane Gottschwitz.

The other play is "Man in the Bowler Hat" by A. A. Milne which is a satire on the melo-dramatic. The surprise ending gives the unusual quality to this one-act.

Let us say once more that these productions will be offered Tuesday and Wednesday nights only and the fact that there is no admission charge should be a drawing card to you.

Les Jongleurs had a meeting Thursday night in the first floor lounge of the Alumni Building at which time pictures were taken for the Tally-Ho. A brief business meeting followed and final selections of pins were made. Orders will be placed in the near future. Also, a permanent publicity committee for all Les Jongleurs activities was appointed.

This Friday night Les Jongleurs is sponsoring the third in its series of lectures on Shakespeare in preparation for the January presentation of "Taming of the Shrew". This lecture, entitled "Shakespeare's Dramatic Art", will be given by Dr. Reavers of the F.S.U. English Department. We urge everyone to take this opportunity to "brush up" on their Shakespeare.

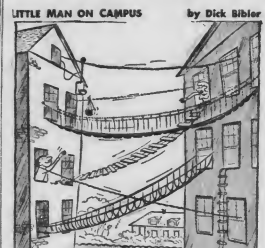
Flambeau Misleading About 'Heaven Forbid'

The article in Friday's Flambeau on Sandmpur was worded in such a way as made it appear that Bill Chavers and Skipper Lambert had re-written a script submitted by Don Heckman and Carol McGibboney, who received the cash Sandpaur award.

Sandspur Chairman Jim Harris said that "Heaven Forbidi" is still a re-write of Don Heckman-McGibboney team, but that similarities in the theme, not in the plot, are present.

"Everything for the Shoe"

- Expert Shoe Repairing
- Dye Shoes All Colors
- Shoe Shine Kits



PALACE SHOE SHOP
121 EAST PARK AVENUE
"THE HOUSE THAT SERVICE BUILT"

Find it at
The Co-op

- Norcross Xmas and Greeting Cards
- FSU Felt Goods—New and Different
- Juvenile T and Sweat Shirts for Kids
- Shaeffer and Easterbrook Pens and Pencil Sets
- Montag & White Wycroft Stationery
- Fraternity T Shirts

MALORE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"AND—If you join our frat you have the opportunity to enjoy a real unique spirit of friendliness with the merrily next door."

Restaurant Association Official Speaks During Two-Day Fete

Fred Vollman, president of the National Restaurant Association, was guest speaker Sunday morning at the "Salu Aux Restaurateurs" breakfast which highlighted a two-day fete tendered by Florida State University and the Florida Restaurant Association.

HELD IN THE new FSU Student Center, the breakfast honored distinguished restaurateurs from 11 southern states, and executive secretaries of the restaurant associations of Florida, Georgia, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Virginia, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

In charge of arrangements for the week-end conference were Homer Herndon, executive vice president of the FRA and Dr. Donald E. Lundberg of the FSU department of restaurant and hotel management.

AT THE BREAKFAST Sunday which was arranged and presented by the students of the hotel and restaurant management department in cooperation with the University, certificates of merit were awarded to outstanding southern food service operators.

The meet also included a Board of Control meeting of the FRA, the semi-annual meeting of the Southern Restaurant Association's executive council and visitors were entertained at the FSU-University of Tampa football game Saturday in Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

Ford Offers Grants For Foreign Study

The Ford Foundation is offering for the second successive year a number of foreign study and research grants, according to Mr. Glover E. Tully, Director of Vocational Guidance and Placement.

The Ford Foundation Board on Overseas Training and Research expects to make these awards to young people from a wide variety of educational and professional backgrounds. Students who will graduate from college in 1953, as well as persons who have already graduated and initiated their careers, may apply for the fellowships. Applicants should be United States citizens who have not reached their 35th birthday.

This program is intended to stimulate increased knowledge of Asia, the Near and Far East, and to help meet the urgent need for American men and women in all fields with an understanding of the cultures and current problems of the vital regions of the world.

Further information concerning these fellowships may be obtained in 203 Westcott.

Department Head To Write Articles

Henry B. Cooley, head of the department of management and finance in the School of Business, will have an article in the December issue of the magazine Southern Hostitals entitled "All Others See Us—A Patient Views Hospital Administration."

He has agreed to write a series of four articles for the same magazine in 1953 covering the subjects of administrative policies, time studies and incentive plans, inventory control and stores issue and statistical data. Its compilation, presentation, analysis and use. During the past year Cooley has had a number of articles published dealing with various phases of hospital administration.

Transfers Receive Special Guidance In Current Study

Realizing that the students who transfer to Florida State University from colleges and universities out-of-state as well as in-state have special problems, the Office of Coordinator of Counseling has launched a cooperation with other offices in the area of student welfare, a comprehensive study of individual and group problems of transfers coming to FSU in Fall, 1952.

Mrs. Sara Bone, graduate student in guidance, is carrying out the study in collaboration with Dr. Hardee, coordinator of counseling. To date, some one hundred and fifty transfer students have been interviewed by Mrs. Bone. Questions concerning their admission to the University, their educational and social activities, a more detailed knowledge about the countries represented.

BUILDING A HIGHWAY to world peace requires expert engineers, and the officers elected to add new milestones are: Presidnt, David Yang, China; Vice-Pres., Birgit Eberhardt Prytz, Norway; Secretary, Olga del Risco, Peru; Treasurer, Hildegard Wagner, Germany; Corresponding Secretary, Yvette Monnet, France; Critic, Birgir, Karlsson, Ireland.

The kind of cement that makes people of all nations stick together in a common need is being spread at the International Supper, an informal get-together every Tuesday evening from 5:30-6:30 p. m. in the South Seminole Dining Room. Any students, foreign or native, are interested in the organization or who just

Foreign Students Create Bonds Between Nations From FSU

By JAYLEEN ROBERTSON

New names and faces from the four corners of the earth make up the International Student Club on the Florida State campus. You might want to call them cosmopolitans, however, for they are inviting American students this year to join their organization in order to cement better international relationships.

Not "politying" around by any means, the 58 members of the club coming from 27 countries, are working together to reach their goals—uniting together as a group all foreign students who are studying at FSU, promoting, creating, and increasing the friendship between the foreign students and American students; giving the American students through educational and social activities, a more detailed knowledge about the countries represented.

BUILDING A HIGHWAY to world peace requires expert engineers, and the officers elected to add new milestones are: Presidnt, David Yang, China; Vice-Pres., Birgit Eberhardt Prytz, Norway; Secretary, Olga del Risco, Peru; Treasurer, Hildegard Wagner, Germany; Corresponding Secretary, Yvette Monnet, France; Critic, Birgir, Karlsson, Ireland.

The kind of cement that makes people of all nations stick together in a common need is being spread at the International Supper, an informal get-together every Tuesday evening from 5:30-6:30 p. m. in the South Seminole Dining Room. Any students, foreign or native, are interested in the organization or who just want to get acquainted, are invited to join them at supper.

THE ESTABLISHMENT of an Immigration and Naturalization Committee has been a step toward smoothing the rough spots out and getting rid of obstacles that confront foreign students. The committee will correspond with the proper immigration authorities in order to get information for the students to promote better understanding of the rules and regulations concerning immigration. Chairman of the committee is Harpak Der Hovhannissian from Iran.

A welfare committee under the chairmanship of Hildegard Wagner, from Germany, has been set up to care for any foreign students in need. Other officers and chairmen are: Program, Birgis Pryts; Refreshments, Elin Hardsdottir, Iceland; Public Relations, David Yang; Transportation, Eduardo Del Risco, Peru; Social, Kazi Ghanaudin, Egypt, and Adolph Hochaum, Germany. Welcome Committee, Olga Del Risco. The new faculty advisor this year is Dr. Albert Ledue of the Modern Language Department.

THE HIGHWAY to better world relations needs good signposts to show what lies ahead of the travelers, and, Marcia Dorn, from England, has been appointed to begin the work. She publishes a bi-monthly bulletin concerning the activities and projects of the International Student Club.

Friendship, cooperation, understanding, and the exchange of ideas and backgrounds are the four layers of the foundation of the super highway that Foreign and American students alike will travel this year at FSU.

WFSU Schedule

DECEMBER 8-11

TUESDAY—
6:00—Dinner Date
6:30—Musical Steps
7:00—Melody Hour (recd.)
7:30—Religion in American Life (recd.)
8:00—Dance Orchestra
8:30—Concert Hall (recd.)
9:00—Symphonic Hour (recd.)
9:30—Masterworks of France" (transc.)
10:00—U.N. Review
10:45—"News to Veterans" (transc.)
11:00—Night Concert
WEDNESDAY—
6:00—Dinner Date
6:30—Supper Club
7:00—Musical Steps (recd.)
7:30—Classical Kaleidoscope
8:00—Masterworks of France" (transc.)
8:30—Concert Miniature" (transc.)
9:00—Faith for Today
9:30—Meet the Press (transc.)
10:00—Late Date
11:00—Sign Off
THURSDAY—
6:00—Sign On
6:30—Supper Club
7:00—World News
7:30—Religion in Life (recd.)
7:45—Farmtime News Roundup
8:00—Dance Orchestra
8:30—"Grand Hotel" (recd.)
9:00—Sigma Alpha Iota Show
9:30—"U. S. Navy Band" (transc.)
10:00—Masterworks of France" (transc.)
10:30—Meet the Greeks (Alpha N. Delta)
10:45—"U. S. Navy Band" (transc.)
11:00—Sign Off

Four out of five polio patients in the United States receive financial help from the March of Dimes. All receipts of some kind from March of Dimes service.

Annual Party Begins

The highlighting event of the holidays at the Baptist Student House will be the annual Christmas party Saturday, Dec. 13 at 7:30 p.m.

Holiday decorations with the traditional Christmas tree will provide the setting for a visit from Santa Claus. A program of entertainment is planned and refreshments will be served. After the party everyone will go caroling.

no man should be without a

Van Winterwarm sport shirt by Van Heusen

GIBSON
CHRISTMAS CARDS
"BUY THE BOX"

Scenes from THE NATIVITY 18 for $1.00

Authentic reproductions from original oil paintings.

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE
"Student Center"

TUESDAY SPECIAL
Filet Mignon
$1.00

WEDS. SPECIAL
Fried Shrimp
.75

Seven Seas
RESTAURANT
318 S. MONROE

Dine with us

Celebrating Our 1st Anniversary 10¢ Off on All Meals

Chicken Pie
Roast Pork and Dressing
Roast Beef and Noodles

in the

Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME
IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA
TODAY AND WEDS.
"You For Me"
With Peter Lawford
and Jane Greer

Also
Gene Kelly In
"The Devil Makes Three"
COMING
"Something For The Birds"

STATE
LAST TIMES TODAY
"Snows Of Kilmanjaro"
With Gregory Peck,
Susan Hayward
Ava Gardner
STARTS WEDNESDAY
"Tales Of Hoffman"
With Moira Shearer

RITZ
TUES. and WEDS.
Dana Andrews in "Sealed Cargo"
STARTS THURSDAY
"Drift Fence"
and
"Strange Door"

Turner's

DRIVE-IN
"Has Anybody Seen My Gal"
with
Piper Laurie
And Rock Hudson

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Seminoles Finish Season With Defeat to Tampa

Basketball Team Splits Weekend Games in Georgia

...ma forward (28), in his best performance of the year, is shown here being ...ded by two Tampa tacklers. The Georgia junior accounted for ...ds of the total FSU offense. (Photo by Zoll Mabee).

Mercer Triumphs Friday; FSU Upsets Georgia Teachers

The Florida State basketball team christened the 1952-53 season over the weekend by splitting a pair of games in Georgia.

In the season opener Friday, the Mercer Bears hung a 76-61 defeat on the Seminoles in a game played at Macon. But the next night, Coach Bud Kennedy's cagers reversed form and upset a powerful Georgia Teacher College team, 68-61.

Two sophomores from Indiana, Tom Burst and Stan Wernicke, were instrumental in the victory over the tall Teachers. Wernicke put the Seminoles ahead in the closing minutes with two free throws and Burst followed with a field goal to add insurance. Wernicke dropped in 28 points to lead both teams in scoring and in the Friday tilt he rounded 16 to again take scoring honors.

Against the Teachers, the Seminoles were out-scored in the field goal department, 23-20 but their accuracy at the foul line proved the difference.

Jerry Westhaver, FSU captain from Indiana, took runner-up scoring honors with 27 points as the Seminoles gained revenge for the defeat they suffered from Georgia Teachers last year.

IN FRIDAY'S OPENING contest, Mercer took the lead and never relinquished on the heat in the second quarter with 24 points to gain victory. The victors used a fast break attack and a pressure defense to hold down the Seminole scoring. Westhaver led the Tallahassee scoring with 27 points as he was followed by Bob Woolf, Mercer forward, who dumped in 9 points. The rest of the FSU point making was evenly divided with 10 of the 12 who saw action getting at least two points.

The Florida State stage squad will be back in action Friday night against Rollins College in their first home appearance. The game will be played in the cramped quarters of the West Campus gym.

The Seminoles will be seeking revenge for a last year's loss in the Winter Park team by 69-35 mark. FSU won the first game against Rollins in Tallahassee 74-71.

Seven of Kennedy's 15-player squad are freshmen and the Seminole boss has many times indicated that he intends to use them as often as he can. Bob Pence is the only senior on the squad.

Box score:

Fla. State	G	F	Pts.	Ga. Teachers	G	F	Pts.
Westhaver, f	4	2	10	Crowley, f	3	4	10
Woolf, f	3	3	9	Wheeler, f	2	1	5
Belasher, f	0	2	2	Pitts, f	2	0	4
Burst, f	5	3	13	Hollingsworth, f	3	0	6
Wernicke, c	6	4	16	Underwood, c	3	2	8
Kaiser, g	0	0	0	Phillips, c	0	1	1
Pence, g	0	0	0	Ward, c	1	0	2
Strickland, g	1	2	4	Hadley, g	3	1	11
Gordon, g	2	1	5	Anderson, g	2	1	5
				Gerlacher, g	3	1	7
				Bryant, g	0	1	1
Totals	20	20	59	Totals	22	12	61

Score by Periods
Florida State	14	27	12	11	59
Georgia Teachers	14	12	20	14	61

More than 186,000 polio cases were reported in the five-year period 1948-52 against a total of 113,616 cases for the previous ten years. The March of Dimes gives financial aid to four out of five patients but provides services of some nature to all.

TAMPA SCORES—Tom Spack, Tampa's speedy halfback, is in the midst of his 2nd quarter touchdown run, although he is seemingly hemmed in above. The Seminole players are Karlewicz (58), Lenehart (32) on ground; Bryant (12), Boyar (55). Photo by Zoll Mabee.)

Volleyball Team Places Second in Jacksonville

By JIM COUCH

The Florida State University volleyball team placed second in the Pensacola Open tournament last Saturday, when they dropped the final match to Pensacola Navy All-Stars, losing 15-8, 11-13, and 9-15.

The Seminole team, having had only four days practice, forced the double - elimination tournament into a double finals, when they swept through the loser's bracket and then defeated the Navy team to put both teams in the loser's column.

The FSU six started the day with a win over Wilding Field, outscoring the Cadets 15-6 and 12-7. Then the Seminoles slipped into the loser's bracket when they were edged by Birmingham YMCA up scores of 10-14, 15-5, and 15-2. Once in the loser's side of the tourney, FSU bounded upward with wins over Mobile YMCA, New Orleans YMCA and Birmingham.

The Tallahassee six then faced the unbeaten Pensacola six and stopped them in three games, 15-7, 10-15, and 15-11, to force the tournament into the double final.

Florida State ripped through the Navy defense in the first contest, posting a 15-8 win and seemed headed for the title, only to have the inspired Navy team rally twice to come out on top with two victories, 13-11 and 15-9.

FSU was paced by their two All-American spikers, Ronnie Hambrock being credited with 106 spikes and Gould with 86. Dick Bagre, a newcomer to the squad this year, nailed 83 spikes during the 18 game tourney.

The Pensacola meet was a preseason tourney for the Seminoles who will not begin regular season practice until after the Christmas holidays. They journey to Knoxville, Tennessee for the Smoky Mountain tournament on January 17.

Bowling Meet Nears Finals

The finals of the intramural bowling tournament — winners bracket—will be at stake tonight when Phi Delta Theta rolls against Alpha Tau Omega in the East Campus alleys.

While the semi-finalists are in action, Sigma Chi will meet Kappa Alpha and Kappa Sigma faces Theta Chi in the losers brackets. The matches start at 7 p. m.

ATO won their way into the finals by beating SPE, KA and TC in that order while ATO won over PKT and SC. Each frat has a three-man entry and a match is decided on the best out of three games.

In the dormitory league, the Newman Club captured the bowling crown.

The finals are scheduled for Dec. 16.

Set Records

Co-Captain Curt Campbell, playing his last game for the Seminoles, is shown grabbing one of the five passes he caught in game against Tampa. His effort broke the school season record for pass receiving with 24.

39-6 Loss Worst In Tampa Series

It's over; Florida State's worst football season, that is, and it ended in the same manner that it began; with defeat.

The disastrous year, starting with the stunning loss to Louisiana Tech, and continuing with seven more setbacks, came to a close Saturday afternoon with a 39-6 loss to arch-rival Tampa. Only a victory over Wofford and a tie against Stetson can be considered any consolation to the Seminoles.

This year's 1-8-1 record marks the second losing season compiled by an FSU football team since 1947 when football returned to the campus.

THE DEFEAT SATURDAY was the worst ever administered by Tampa and it gave them their second straight victory over Florida State as their ace won last year 14-6. But the Seminoles are still ahead in the series 4-2.

From the opening kick-off, the Tampans made it clear to the painfully meager crowd of 3,500 fans that they would settle for nothing but victory. And by their play they demonstrated that they deserve their invitation to play in Tampa's Cigar Bowl, December 13.

The Spartans scored in the first quarter on Tom Cuhko's 51-yard runback of a punt, added 13 points in the second quarter and piled up 20 more points in the last half.

The lone Seminole tally came in the beginning of the third quarter on a 20-yard dash by Bobby Fiveash, who was the big wheel in the Seminole offense with 145 yards by running and passing. The touchdown followed a recovery of a Tampa fumble by Vic Sacrepanik at the Tampa 34.

THE SPARTANS in winning their seventh game as against three losses and a tie, were spurred by Chicko, quarterback Bill Minahan and halfback Tom Spack. Chicko scored twice on punt returns of 87 and 38 yards. While Minahan, only a freshman, completed 7 out of 8 passes; one for a touchdown. His passes set-up three of the Tampa scores and his clever quarterbacking kept the Seminole defense off balance most of the afternoon.

Spack, another frosh, from Johnstown, Pa., led the Tampa ball carriers with a total of 69 yards, besides scoring himself on a nifty 30 yard jaunt.

AS IN MOST of the past games, FSU opened well against the Spartans field but failed within the Tampa 20. This is what happened in the second quarter. The Seminoles drove from their own 38 to the Tampa 1 foot line, chiefly on Fiveash's running and passing. But on second down, on an end run the ball squirted out of Al Woodson as he was hit by five Seminole 6-2 inches away from their goal line.

However, two plays later the Seminoles were handed another golden opportunity when Tampa fumbled and line-backer Buddy Bryank recovered at the 49. And again the opportunity was wasted. Fiveash, in two plays got to the four, then Harry Bringgot lost a and Tampa took over after a fourth down pass by Fiveash was missed.

THESE TWO THREATS seemingly incensed the Spartans for they roared back 80 yards in 12 plays—all running—for their second TD. The yard gaining was started by Spack and Al Lenehart, with Spack going the final 24 yards on an end sweep, although pass at the Tampa 21. The big fensemen, Lenehart whose brother, A. J. Leathers, starred for Stetson this season, got 2 touchdowns for the Spartans.

Minutes later, Tampa scored again, this time with a 79 yard drive. The push started after Gene King intercepted a Fiveash pass at the Tampa 41. The big play-off grin was a 37-yard pass from Minahan to end H. L. Hiers who was finally brought down on the 1. From here, Leathers cracked over for the six points.

THE SEMINOLES got back into the game momentarily in the opening minutes of the second half. On Tampa's first running play after they received the kickoff, Harris fumbled and Sacrepanik recovered at the Tampa 38. From here Fiveash went for gains of 5 and 15 yards and then dashed around end for 18 yards and a touchdown. The play, a fake reverse, fooled the Tampa squad and was aided by a crucial block by Stan Dobosz. The conversion attempt by Dobosz was blocked.

The Florida State tally was quickly matched as he left from the Cigar City as they marched, after the kick-off, 55 yards for their fourth touchdown. Highlight of the attack was Minahan's passing, which proved to be not only way the Tampans could move. When the Seminole line stopped the running attack Minahan took to the air and completed 3 for 4. He was helped by a 15-yard toss from sub-quarterback Perk to Hiers which put the ball on the Seminole 10 (continued on Page 4)

Sports Line

BY JIM EADY

What happened Saturday afternoon in that Tampa-FSU game?

Using other things, the Seminoles were soundly trounced again that was just too fired-up. But, how come Veller's Greats weren't? After all, the game was against one of the hottest rivals and in the past the two teams always gave their best when they clash.

The Tampa team put out their best but the Seminoles looked better than their opening game performance against Louisiana Tech. Of course, everybody remembers what kind of a performance that was. It simply appeared that the majority of the squad was discouraged with the dismal season that one more loss didn't matter.

It was a most discouraging development, especially after the club had shown definite signs of improvement. In both the Georgia and Wofford contests it looked like they were beginning to click as a team. But against Tampa they went back to the same old disjointed, ragged play displayed in many of their earlier defeats.

The Seminole blocking was poor and the blocking worse. The offense was good for much less yardage than the Seminoles picked up against Louisiana Tech. And Tech at that time was the best defensive ball club in the country. Although the Seminoles did post 15 first downs to Tampa's 12.

BUT EVEN IN defeat a few players managed to distinguish themselves. Chief among these was Bobby Fiveash. His running was somewhat limited and so was his passing, although at times it was good but two of his throws intercepted, which gave him a total of nine passes intercepted this year.

There was no reason for his success was Stan Dobosz. Indirectly it seems that Tampa went into the game very much concerned with Dobosz and his up the middle running. So while they were keeping an eye on the middle for Dobosz, Fiveash found a lot of each sailing over the tacklers. The success they had in holding down Dobosz was evident in the few yards he was able to pick up.

Another co-captain, Campbell and Vic Sacrepanik also turned in fine performances. Of course they had good reasons to, since it was the last game for FSU. Their presence will be missed next season. Tampa's Minahan, Italiano saw little action as Tom Thompson didn't see any. Neither did seniors Dick Turk and Bill Worsley, which was too bad since it was the last game, and the latter didn't close out anyway.

ANOTHER INTERESTING aspect of the game was the small crowd. Only 3,500 people in the stands, even though the game is a rivalry. Of course the game was in competition with a big week-end in Gainesville . . . and it seems that a big lot of loyal fans were on hand there.

FSU-Jax Navy Swim Teams Meet Tomorrow

The swimming team [illegible] Jacksonville tomorrow [illegible] will pace the waves [illegible] Navy team.

It will be the first of [illegible] Coach Bim Stalls' [illegible] are laden with fro[illegible] and sophomores plus [illegible] of top-flight upper-[illegible]

[illegible] this 27-man crew [illegible] the first two class[illegible] Stalls will rely upon [illegible] swimmers to carry [illegible] against the Navy mer-[illegible]

Dick Wells and [illegible] plus John Baruch, [illegible] Don Blackshear, [illegible] Dan Van-Hise, [illegible] Bob Richardson [illegible] the monogram win-[illegible]

[illegible]men may also be [illegible] to perform in the [illegible] Ryan Ray, Dick [illegible] Bob Stuke.

[illegible]kley from bonnie one [illegible]swers in the nation [illegible]ols of Seabright [illegible] was called to An[illegible]ver to train for the [illegible] Although he didn't [illegible]ored in a top per[illegible] will probably ente[illegible]der on the spring-[illegible]

Troy Fencers Perform

Miss Pat Sheley and her students from Troy State Teachers College will be at the Women's Gymnasium Saturday at 2:30 p.m. for a demonstration in fencing.

Men's Club to Meet

[illegible]nis's Physical Education [illegible] will meet tomorrow [illegible] in the Student [illegible] the Women's Gymna[illegible]. The new physical [illegible] building will be discus[illegible] all members are urged to [illegible]

Photography by Glenn

FLASH!! A CHRISTMAS . . . . SPECIAL

Amazingly Low Prices on Our Expert Portrait Photographs . . . Such Bargins as

- 8 x 10 Black and White With 6 Wallet Sizes $7.50
- 5 x 7 Gold Tone With 6 Wallet Sizes $7.50
- 8 x 10 OIL $8.95

Call Us Now to Arrange for an Appointment . . . And Try Our New Lay-A-Way Plan

Photography by Glenn

Phone 3-0115 Across From the Florida Theatre

Come see for yourself!

See why you can be sure you get the deal you deserve here. See how you get more with Chevrolet...pay less with our low prices. See for yourself...

There's NO Value like CHEVROLET Value!

LOWEST PRICED IN ITS FIELD! This beautiful Bel-Air De Luxe 4-Door Sedan Hide-A-Way Model is lowest priced model in its field. (Comparison of standard equipment and prices illustrated is dependent on availability of same.)

SEE WHAT YOU GAIN WITH THESE EXCLUSIVE CHEVROLET FEATURES

More Powerful Valve-in-Head Engine with Powerglide Automatic Transmission (optional on De Luxe models at extra cost) • Body by Fisher • Center-poise Power • Safety Plate Glass all around, with E-Z-Eye plate glass (optional at extra cost) • Largest Brakes in its field • Unitized Knee-Action Ride.

SEE WHAT YOU SAVE WITH THE

Lowest-Priced Line in its Field!

WIN $25,000 FIRST PRIZE IN THE GENERAL MOTORS BETTER HIGHWAYS AWARDS

162 awards totalling $194,000. Come in for free "Facts Book" containing every blank and complete details of contest

SEE YOUR CHEVROLET DEALER FOR ALL YOUR AUTOMOTIVE NEEDS!

Conveniently listed under "Automobiles" in your local classified telephone directory

Meeting Scheduled By Future Teachers

The Future Teachers of America are planning to hold their third meeting for the year on Thursday night, Dec. 11, at 7 p. m. in the Longmire Auditorium.

John Rooney, vice-president and program chairman, has planned the program for the meeting with a fellowship period at the close of the program.

This is the second year that a Future Teachers chapter has been on the campus. Last year, the chapter was organized and named the Walker-Wescott chapter. The officers at present are Margaret Ann Nash, president; John Rooney, vice-president; June McMillian, secretary; Charles McDaniel, treasurer, with Dr. William Tait as faculty adviser.

The meetings this year have been scheduled to be held on the second Thursday of every month.

Senior Announcements

The University Bookstore has announced that seniors wishing to buy class rings may now do so by paying $10 down and the balance when the rins arrives.

Seniors graduating in February must order announcements before December 15.

We Feature Your...

GIBSON CHRISTMAS CARDS

FOR ALL SPECIAL NAMES

ON YOUR CARD LIST

MOTHER ○ FATHER
HUSBAND ○ WIFE
SISTER ○ BROTHER
SONS ○ DAUGHTERS
AUNTS ○ UNCLES
NEPHEW'S ○ NIECES
GRANDMOTHERS
GRANDFATHERS
GRANDDAUGHTERS
GRANDSONS
LITTLE BOYS and LITTLE GIRLS
○ SWEETHEART ○ DARLING
NEIGHBORS ○ SPECIAL FRIENDS
FRIENDS ACROSS THE SEAS
MINISTERS ○ PRIESTS
THE BOSS ○ EMPLOYER
... AND PLENTY OTHERS!

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

Campus Maintains Big Police Force With Many Duties

A 16-man police force offers protection to Florida State University students and faculty. It is headed by Chief Lee Chaussoux.

The main duty of the force is to spot traffic violators, enforce campus regulations, and keep a constant lookout for fires. They also are responsible for locking each classroom building at 11 at night.

Although the "campus cops" are paid by the school, they have the power to arrest any individual. All are sworn deputy sheriffs. The men use two patrol cars in the school area at all times, and after 10 p.m. another is added. One car patrols West Campus and the other East.

Officers, in addition to Chief Chaussoux, are H. M. Folds, Willie Spears, O. V. Hartsfield, Fred George, Albert Methlew, Robert Critchfield, N. Harrison, W. L. Burton, M. H. Parker, Theo Couch, Joe Sharmon, Milton Moncrief, W. R. Harrell, H. R. Raymond, and E. F. Abbott.

Tampa 39, FSU 6

(Continued From Page 3)

the FSU 2. Then Leathers crashed for his second touchdown.

Before the quarter ended another six-pointer was counted by Tampa. This time it was another punt return by Chicko—his second of the day. He took Jimmy Messinese's punt at the 38, ran parallel till his interference formed and then cut down the sidelines into the end zone. The Tampa blockers cut down about half the Seminole team to clear a path for the Youngstown, Ohio senior.

From then on the game turned into a see-saw affair as the Spartan coach Marcelino Huerto emptied his bench. The Seminoles with Fiveash and Messinese running and Campbell grabbing passes, couldn't penetrate the Tampa 30. Neither could the victors get any offense moving, although they chalked up one more touchdown before the game ended.

With 2 minutes left in the contest, Bob Hiellier intercepted a pass from Fiveash. On the next play, Minahan threw a 42-yard touchdown pass to halfback Boucher. The try for the extra point was blocked by Sacrepanik, who closed his football career at FSU with outstanding defensive play.

Resignation Submitted By Staff Managers

John Adams, business manager and Pat Smoak, publicity chairman for the 1953 Sandspur have resigned, according to Jim Harris, Sandspur chairman.

No reasons were revealed for their action.

Dr. Lewis M. Killian Speaks at Mississippi

Dr. Lewis M. Killian, associate professor of sociology has returned from Mississippi State College at Starkville, Miss., where he spoke on Monday night, Nov. 24, to the Social Science Round Table on "Southern White Workers in a Northern Industrial Center." The Social Science Round Table is a faculty seminar sponsored by the Social Science Research Center of Mississippi State College.

Reviewing studies of white migration from the South to other regions, Dr. Killian stated that "the migration constitutes a serious drain on the South's human resources." "While the evidence is inconclusive," he said, "it indicates that the majority of migrants are young adults, in their best working years, and better educated, on the average, than non-migrants." Citing his own study of Southern white workers in Chicago, Dr. Killian pointed out that many of these migrants concentrate in certain areas of northern industrial cities. Here they are stereotyped as an undesirable group, the traits of the worst individuals being ascribed to the entire group by non-Southerners.

THE POSITION of the migrants in industry in northern cities is that of a labor reserve, to be used when production is high and laid off when the need for workers declines. Employers Dr. Killian interviewed in Chicago indicated that they expected these workers to return to the South so live when they could not find work in the North. This return of southern migrants to their home communities during "hard times" could constitute a serious problem for the South in the event of a depression, Dr. Killian concluded.

While at Mississippi State College, Dr. Killian also met with sociology classes and addressed the faculty "Y" luncheon group on the subject "Community Reactions to Disaster."

Colonel H. C. Gee Addresses Students

Florida has a good beginning with its water development projects, Col. H. C. Gee, consultant civil engineer of West Palm Beach told Florida State University students recently.

The speaker said that the work of flood control and water conservation is started in the state, but it will be up to the present generation and their children to finish it.

Gee, who appeared as a representative of the Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce "Water Conservation and Flood Control Committee," and the Tallahassee Jaycees, outlined plans of water development projects in Florida and discussed the Central and South Florida Water Control Project.

The south-central project concerns the Kissimmee River water basin, Lake Okeechobee area and lower East coast area.

He said that through a system of levees, dams and canals, the water storage will be regulated to prevent floods in the rainy season and dry periods during the winter.

The speaker pointed out that the land area affected in the south-central project alone involves more land than all the irrigated land in the Western states.

Dr. J. Swain Speaks

Dr. James Swain, executive secretary of national organization of Sigma Delta Pi, Spanish honorary, from University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tennessee, addressed the FSU chapter of Sigma Delta Pi recently in the clubroom of Longmire Building.

Magazine Publishes Prof's Book Review

In a recent issue of the quarterly, "Books Abroad," Dr. Edward F. Haiich, visiting professor in Modern Languages at Florida State University, has written a book review of Ernst Zahn's 'Weis im Sperrer' (Stuttgart, Deutsche Verlars Anstalt—1951, 166 pages).

"Books Abroad" is published by University Press of University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla.

Dr. Haiich received his B.A. degree from Toronto University and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Columbia University. He came to FSU from Hamilton College in Clinton, N. Y., where he was professor of German.

He has published a "German Grammar for Beginners"; "Essential German"; and "German Grammar Review" and has contributed to numerous periodicals.

Cadets Fly To Calif.

John H. Quinn and Jesse B. Buchman Jr., both advanced cadets in Air Force ROTC, attended the annual national convention of the Arnold Air Society in Los Angeles, Calif., over the Thanksgiving holiday.

The cadets went by Air Force plane.

Dr. Hugh Stickler Appointed Director

Dr. W. Hugh Stickler was recently appointed Director of the Division of Educational Research and Service for Florida State, according to University Pres. Doak S. Campbell.

The Division has charge of various research activities of the University including internal studies relating to administration and instruction and general research in the field of education both within and outside the University. It is also concerned with professional services FSU offers both on and off campus.

Dr. Stickler for the past five years has served as Coordinator of General Education. This position has been transferred to Dean Charles Davis of the College of Arts and Sciences.

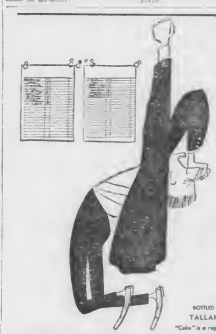
Pres. Campbell, in announcing the appointment of Dr. Stickler as Director expressed gratification over the acceptance of the appointment. "His training and experience," said the President "make him unusually well-fitted for the responsibilities of this important office."

Fencing Club to Meet

The Foil and Mask fencing club will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Women's Gymnasium.

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

CAMERON'S TEXACO SERVICE STATION



544 W. TENNESSEE OLAL 3-8619

Formerly Meats Service Station

Bertha Cooke

Invites You to Spend the Holiday Season in seamless stockings by Hanes smart caming...and going, back-beautiful sheers 1.50

Campus capers call for Coke

When grades are posted, get hold of yourself—maybe the news is good. Anyway, there'll always be problems ahead, so start now and face them refreshed. Have a Coke.

DRINK Coca-Cola

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

"Here's The Perfect Gift for That Certain Man"

McGregor

- Soft, luxurious 100% Pure Imported Cashmere wool, lightweight and Longwearing $25.00
  Sleeveless $16.95
- Soft Luxury Blend of 75% wool and 25% pure Cashmere Smartly styled for Season
  Long wear $10.95
  Sleeveless ..... $ 7.95

Other McGregor Wear

- SHIRTS
- SWEATERS $5.00
- JACKETS
- SLEEVELESS $3.95

Gift Wrapped

Alford Brothers

THEY SATISFY AND HOW!

"I always smoked Chesterfields in college just like my friends" says New York secretary, Elizabeth Lydon, "and here in New York it seems like almost everyone smokes them."

Elizabeth Lydon DUKE '51

AND NOW—CHESTERFIELD FIRST TO GIVE YOU SCIENTIFIC FACTS IN SUPPORT OF SMOKING

A responsible consulting organization reports a study by a competent medical specialist and staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfields. For six months a group of men and women smoked only Chesterfield—10 to 40 a day—their normal amount. 45 percent of the group have smoked Chesterfields from one to thirty years for an average of ten years each.

At the beginning and end of the six-months, each smoker was given a thorough examination including X-rays, and covering the sinuses, nose, ears and throat. After these examinations, the medical specialist stated . . .

"It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."

Remember this report and buy Chesterfields . . . regular or king-size.

Buy CHESTERFIELD LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE in AMERICA'S COLLEGES

Holiday Vacation Begins At Noon
See Page 1

Florida Flambeau

SEMINOLES

Vol. XXXIX No. 21 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Friday, December 12, 1952

Life Magazine Features FSU Queen
See Lead Story

Administration Surprises Students With Xmas Gift

Noon Dismissals Announced For All Regular Holidays At FSU Hereafter

Classes will be dismissed at 12 noon on East Campus and 12:30 p.m. on West Campus Friday, December 19th, it was announced Tuesday by Charlton McConnell, Chairman of the regular meeting of the University Senate.

These hours for dismissal will hold for forthcoming Christmas, Thanksgiving and Spring vacations, the notice added.

THIS ACTION was prompted by a discussion of problems encountered by Florida State University students in leaving school for the holidays. It was brought to light that many girls living in dormitories were previously forced to wait through the evening of the day of dismissal for buses and transportation which they could have started earlier in the day. Classes meeting until five forced them to miss their connections and necessitated night travel which the University is striving to avoid wherever possible.

The matter was brought before the Executive Board of the University some time ago by the University Senate's action and confirmation of the suggestions offered by the Senate Committee were forthcoming late Tuesday after a special setting of the Senate meeting.

SENATE WAS also received that classes will be cancelled Tuesday, Jan 6 to observe Inauguration Day

Continued on Page 4

Chimp Study Is Speech Topic

The story of how a chimpanzee was raised in a home by a child provided interesting subject matter for Dr. Keith J. Hayes who has done part that and told about it in a lecture at Florida State University presented by Sigma Xi, honorary scientific society.

Wednesday night at Dr. Hayes of the Yerkes Laboratories of Primate Biology at Orange Park, Fla., illustrated his talk with two films, one silent and one with sound in which Vicki, a chimpanzee he and his wife had raised in their home, spoke a few simple human words, cup and mama.

Vicki, Dr. Hayes explained, resulted from an experiment he can make progress with only on a very few.

He added that Vicki's learning of spoken words is better than his speech, but not perfect.

Dr. Hayes pointed out during the talk that training the chimp to speak his important contribution to the development of modern and its applications in clinical psychology.

Mrs. Hayes, the lecturer's wife, is one of the well-known Ape and Human" in which she described their experiences raising Vicki as they would raise a child.

Dr. Hayes concluded that chimpanzee can make progress with only a very few.

He added that Vicki's learning of spoken words is better than his speech, but not perfect.

Dr. Hayes pointed out during the talk that training the chimp to speak his important contribution to the development of modern and its applications in clinical psychology.

Mrs. Hayes, the lecturer's wife, is one of the well-known Ape and Human" in which she described their experiences raising Vicki as they would raise a child.

Short-Order Grill Will Be Installed At Student Center

Student Center will begin serving hot meals after the holidays, according to Anne M. Tracy, head dietician. A short-order grill will be set at night and will serve evening time. The service of meals during the evening meal hours may order hamburgers, sandwiches and other short orders.

Meals which were not served in the center will be removed. This has been done that students can during the rush hours. It says that this is a step to take care of more people.

The Student Center will be open during the holidays. No definite hours can be made but mail will be open to students regularly.

Co-Eds to Sing At Glee Club's Vesper Service

A program of Christmas Vespers will be offered Sunday afternoon, December 14, by the Women's Glee Club. The vesper service will be in the Opperman Music Hall, beginning at 5 p.m., and will be open to the public. Joseph M. Running, director of the Women's Glee Club, is in charge of the program.

The Christmas Vesper Service is presented each year by the Women's Glee Club on the Sunday preceding the beginning of the Christmas vacation. It is among the oldest traditions of the campus having first been given on December 13, 1914, according to the "Annuals of the School of Music" compiled by Dean Emerita Ella Scobie Opperman.

THE VESPERS will open with a Latin "Magnificat" by Palestrina, a musical setting of Mary's greeting to her cousin Elizabeth. The occasion of her visit to the latter, according to the Gospel of Saint Luke.

The other musical selections will include "As Joseph Was A-Walkin'" by George Oldroyd, "A Lovely Night" by Ben E. Pemble and five Christmas carols arranged by K. K. Davis. "The Angels and Shepherds," written by Zoltan Kodaly and based on Hungarian carols, the Hungarian hymn will be sung by the Glee Club.

THE STORY of the First Christmas as narrated in the Gospel of Saint Luke, will be read by Ray Flynn, director of Public Relations. This will be followed by a "Meditation" by Ruth Ford, pianist contrast to the opening number, the closing "Magnificat" will be by the contemporary composer Carl Parrish, and will be sung in English.

The Recessional will be "Hodie Christus natus est," from the "Ceremony of Carols" by Benjamin Britten, followed by the traditional closing hymn for the Vesper Service, Silent Night. Hostess

New Name Given To FSU School

The School of Library Training and Service is no more, according to the Board of Control of Florida State University. The name of the school has been officially changed to Library School of Florida State University.

In June of 1947 the School of Library Training and Service was established by the Board of Control. Previous to that, there had been no such field of study offered here.

Dr. Nimkoff Serves As Guest Editor Of Marriage Magazine

Dr. M F Nimkoff, professor of sociology is guest editor of the November 1952 issue of "Marriage and Family Living," which is the official publication of the National Council on Family Relations. This is a special research issue honoring Prof. Ernest W. Burgess on his retirement from the University of Chicago.

Prof. Burgess is one of the leading research authorities in the field of the family. He and his students have devised a test for measuring marital happiness and for predicting adjustment in marriage. Prof. Burgess was also co-author with Harvey Locke and developers of the National Counselor on Family Relations.

The Ernest W. Burgess Research Issue contains a dozen reports of research in the field of family life measurement and prediction of marital happiness, and studies in the factors in the interests of Happily Married Couples," "Economic Factors in Family Adjustment," "Do Religious Background Factors have Predictive Value?"

The issue also has a section on marriage counselors an inventory of research studies in marriage and family research, book reviews and abstracts as well as cumulative index for volume 14, 1952 of "Marriage and Family Living." This Research Issue will be of primary interest and value to students of the family.

Choral Union to Sing Christmas Oratorio

Students and faculty of the School of Music will participate in a total of six presentations of Handel's Messiah during the Christmas season, announced.

The traditional Christmas performance of Handel's immortal oratorio will be given in Opperman Music Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 12 and 13, at 8 15. The presentations are open to the public. A fee will offered for the benefit of worthy music students in need of financial assistance will be arranged according to K O Kuerseiner, dean of the School of Music.

THE 175-VOICE Choral Union, composed of students, faculty and townspeople will sing the oratorio, accompanied by the 70-piece University Symphony Orchestra under Herman Dossenbach, director of the chorus, and Prof. Robert N. Bedore, director of the orchestra, will alternate in directing portions of the performance. Dr Sam Nedd, chaplain of Florida State University, will give the invocation and the benediction.

Student soloists who will render the solo arias and recitatives of the Messiah are Dorothy Dunlap, Daniel and Lynn Longbottom, soprano; Dean Karl Kuersteiner has pranos, Hilda Hamilton and Julia Ann Rust, contraltos, Kenneth Jenkins and William L. Derrymple, tenors, and William Kelly, bass.

THIS YEAR will mark the seventh consecutive year of the presentation of the "Messiah" on the FSU campus. It has been performed each December since 1946. Although the Biblical text of the work tells the story of the entire life of Jesus Christ, Handel has been associated with Christmas, and the FSU Choral Union and Symphony are following a well-established tradition in presenting the oratorio during the Christmas season.

Off-campus presentations at which FSU music personnel will assist will be at Mississippi Southern College, Hattiesburg, on Sunday where Prof. Betty Jane Grimm will be the featured contralto soloist, and at the Summerlin Institute, Bartow, where Dr. Wiley L. Housewright will assist in performance on Dec. 19.

PROF. HERMAN GUNTER JR.,
(Continued on Page 4)

Annual Formal Of Panhellenic Scheduled Sat.

Dance Will Be Held From 9 Until 12 P.M.; Student Body Invited

The annual dance presented by Panhellenic Association, will be given tomorrow night in the Suwannee Room from 9 until 12 p.m. All Florida State students are invited to the formal Christmas Ball.

Music will be furnished by the Regents. Two large Christmas trees, a Christmas scene and Yuletide decorations will carry out the seasons theme. Village Vamps will tap during the dance.

Representatives of Panhellenic from the Florida State's 14 social sororities are Betty Sue Fryer, Alpha Chi Omega; Mary Belle Tevis, Alpha Gamma Delta; Betty Ann Roberts, Alpha Delta Pi; Lupie Sigmon, Chi Omega; Frances Pi; Marjorie Potter, Alpha Xi Delta; Nelle Lawrence, Chi Omega; Fe Pittman, Delta Delta Delta; Dela Gamma and Delta Zeta, have temporary representatives. Yvonne Warren, Gamma Phi Beta; Jackie Morris, Kappa Alpha Theta; Kappa Delta Polly Dot Dean, Pi Beta Phi; Kay King, Phi Mu; Ruthie Garst, Sigma Kappa; Betty Thomas, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Edna Carter Holton, Kappa Alpha Theta, is chairman of Honor Court for Panhellenic; Alberta Large, Kappa Kappa, president of Panhellenic; Shirley Wilson, Sigma Kappa, secretary and Jane McMillan, Alpha Chi Omega, treasurer.

Free Movie Shows Tonight in Cawthon

"God Is My Co-Pilot," the free movie, will be shown tonight in South Cawthon Hall at 8 instead of the usual 7:30 in the Cawthon Common Men's Dormitory. This change is due to a dance which has been planned for South Cawthon dormitory from 8 until 12 p. m. Rev. Raymond Mosser and his orchestra will provide music.

The movie with Dennis Morgan and Raymond Massey is a biographical story which goes into the war years.

Another Monday will be "Station Road," with Ronald Reagan, Zachary Scott, and Patricia Neal. It is the story of the rivalry between two friends who love one woman. The setting is the background of the Pacific and California mountain scenery. It includes a young veterinarian's efforts to combat an epidemic of cattle disease.

Ruge Hall Plans Christmas Carols

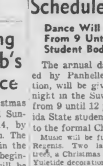
A special service of Christmas Carols will be held at the Episcopal Student Chapel at 11 a. m. Sunday.

Dr. Irwin Cooper, director of Ruge Hall Choir and professor of music, will lead the congregation in the singing of Christmas Carols. The service will be usually devoted to the sermon but Dr. Cooper will accompany the congregation on the organ.

Christopher B. Young, student for the ministry of the Methodist Church, will read the Christmas Story from the Bible.

The traditional Christmas Party sponsored by the Canterbury Club for the students of Ruge Hall and students at FSU will be held at 6 p. m. At this time students will present Christmas carols for the guests in the Ruge Hall kitchen. Following an informal supper, Canterbury Club members will tour the campus singing carols in front of dormitories and residence halls.

FSU Bookstore Will Have LIFE Magazine



The University Book Store will have extra copies of the Life Magazine bearing the picture of FSU's Homecoming Queen. It was announced today by Gordon Wheeler.

The University Bookstore will also distribute the new Student and Faculty Directories which will be out sometime before Christmas.

Interns to Coll Norton

Any public administration major who wishes to intern in a governmental office next semester should contact Dr. James Norton, assistant professor of public administration, in his office at Parkside by January 15.

FSU Homecoming Queen Featured on "Life" Cover

Cover Girl

FEATURED on the cover of the current issue of Life magazine is FSU's 1952 Homecoming Queen—Marlies Gessler.

RKO Makes Film On "Flying High"; Given Top Rating

"College Circus," an RKO-Pathe film featuring Florida State University's nationally famous "Flying High" circus has been given a four-star rating by one of the film movie review journals.

The film, directed and photographed by Howard Winner of RKO-Pathe, features several FSU students including Jeri Munroe, Betty Ann Roberts, John Mabee, Elaine Geiger and Betty Ann Jones.

Winner, who spent some time on FSU Campus last year with the film, said it is being shown in many countries around the world translated into many different languages and to troops overseas besides national distribution in the United States.

The film, a running narration backgrounded with music emphasizes the fact that a student's extra curricular activities can blend with normal college work and still be enjoyable.

"College Circus" is currently showing until Saturday at the Florida Theater as an added attraction.

Journalism Exam Set For Wednesday

A special test-to, without penalty, for Juniors on the General Culture Test, will be given at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 17, at 6 45 p. m. Room 124 Science Building, announced Dr. M. Bedford Grider, dean of the Tree Service Bureau.

This test is required of all Juniors and Seniors who have not taken it before. This is the last time on this time to take the test must stop by the Test Service Bureau in the Education Building and pay the penalty fee of five dollars before taking the test, no exceptions. If not taken it will be unable to graduate.

Results of the examination are sent to the student and to his dean.

Library Charges Extra

An additional charge of 25 cents per hour will be charged to all students, including graduate students, who do not return library books on or before Wednesday, Dec. 17.

During the holidays the library will be open part time. Hours of opening are now posted.

Collegians Plan Holiday Music

The "Collegians," directed by J. Dayton Smith, assistant professor of voice, will present a concert of Christmas music in the Opperman Music Hall next Monday evening, Dec. 17, at 8:15 p.m. The program will be open to the public without charge.

Soloists for the program will be Joyce Bryant, flutist, L. Wendell Carpenter, tenor, and Blair Delaney, tenor. The Male Quartet, composed of Jimmy Hudson, first tenor, Earl Hennessey, second tenor, George Bunn, baritone, and Howard Augustine, bass, will make its debut on the program. George S. Bunn, III, student conductor of the Collegians will direct the group in the numbers, "Two Kings," by Joseph W. Clokey.

The Collegians will celebrate their sixth year of existence with this concert. The group was organized in 1947 by Walter James, assistant professor of voice, as the FSU Male Chorus. J. Dayton Smith assumed the direction of the Glee Club in 1950, when the group voted to change its name to the Collegians.

The Collegians are noted on the campus for their singing of "Stein Song" to the student body at the 1950 Pow-Wow, accompanied by the Marching Chiefs. They have been responsible for the popularity of the "Gold" version of the "Stein Song" written for the group by the director, Prof. Smith.

Winning Essayists Will Be Awarded

The American Society for Public Administration is sponsoring an essay contest on 'Ethical Standards in Public Administration' Any student may enter for it. William E Mosher award of $100.

Essays, postmarked no later than January 15, should be from 3,000 to 6,000 words. Four copies should be sent, with a separate sheet giving the author's name, address, phone number and the school he is trying, in this case the William E Mosher award. No name should be put on the manuscript.

All manuscripts will become the property of the American Society for Public Administration. A check will be made at the annual conference of the Society in Washington, D. C., on 6-8, 1953.

Essays should be mailed to Secretary-Treasurer, American Society for Public Administration, 1313 E. 60th St, Chicago 37, Ill

Tues. Deadline Is Set For "Miss FSU" Pics

Any organization wishing to sponsor a candidate for the 'Miss FSU' Beauty contest being held before the Christmas holidays at the Tally Ho Office, fourth floor Longmire building, an eight by ten glossy photograph must be turned in by Tuesday.

The name of the girl, class address and sponsoring group should be included. These entries will be judged solely on beauty and photography. The top 20 candidates will be sent to a Hollywood judge who will select Miss FSU from that group.

Shakespeare To Be Discussed At 'Les Jongleurs' 3rd Lecture

The third in a series of programs entitled "The Globe on Campus," will be presented by Les Jongleurs, the dramatic honorary, today at 8.15 p.m. in the second floor lounge of the Longmire Building.

Speaker for the program will be Dr. J. Russell Reaver, associate professor of English. The title of his talk will be "Shakespeare's Dramatic Art."

DR. REAVER has long been interested in the world of drama While he was in Coolidge, G. C. he took active in various dramatic groups, such as the Footlights Players where he acted in "Green Grow the Widemere" and "Tomfool of the Shore." Another dramatic club of which he was a member, directed Dr. Reaver was Masque and Gavel, which produced Dear Street. This year a reproduction of an early colonial theater.

At the University of Illinois he was a member of the Faculty Players Club and he played the leading role in their production of

Margaret Parham Represents Station At IBS Meetings

Florida State radio station, WFSU, will be represented this weekend in the Southeastern regional meeting of the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System in Alabama State College at Montevallo. The group left early this morning.

Margaret Parham, station manager will conduct the meetings as director of this IBS region. The Florida State representatives are Rick Hudson, co-director of special events; Ron Martin, chief announcer; Bill Sutton, engineer and Roy Pierce, director of Relations and staff member of IBS.

The purpose of the meetings will be to coordinate exchange programs with other IBS stations and to work out other plans for dissemination of information about the IBS and its activities.

Besides FSU, the following schools in the University of Alabama, Birmingham and Howard, Georgia Tech and Duke University will send delegates.

Freshman Play Packs Conradi

Varied Program Mixes Satire With Dramatics

Members of the Freshman class presented three one-act plays before capacity audiences Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 9 and 10.

The plays consisted of a monologue entitled "Before Breakfast" with Shirley Davis of Sarasota O'Neil, "Theater of the Soul," a Russian example of impressionism, starring Jo Ann Stevens and "The Man in the Bowler Hat" a satirical farce which concluded the evening's program and lightened the hes-y dramatic afecta of the first two.

IN "BEFORE BREAKFAST" only one girl appeared on stage, freshman, Diane Goldsmith, who played the part of a nagging domineered wife who criticized her husband, off stage no music was he committed suicide, cutting his throat while shaving.

The next play, "Theater of the Soul" started off with an explanation by Sandy Wood, the soul consists of three parts: the emotional self, the rational self, and the spiritual self. Each part was illustrated by an actor and the setting was that of a human body. Lighting produced a heart in the background which with varying degrees of color of the players until the last moments when the body died.

THE FINAL play that of a man desiring in his soul about whether he have his wife or a beautiful night club dancer or to stay with his wife and endure the status quo.

The third play was a satire on a melodrama about a boy and girl almost escaping from a vampire, who, on the way, run into the homes of two strange people who crave excitement, but never have any. At the beginning of the play a man in a dinner suit walked quietly and unnoticed across the stage and at the end, while the man stands up and says "Okay that is all I will wear." But he'll shoot the scene over tomorrow. G'night."

Jeanne Busfield directed the plays Lighting engineer was Del Bowman, assisted by Bill Ross in charge of costumins and Charles Reimer, general effects.

Professor To Show Finnish Film Today

Dr William Randel of the Engineering department will show a color film on Finland today at 4 p.m. in the Longmire auditorium

This movie is part of the weekly movie hour presented by the English department.

The film and additional color slides will portray life in Finland. Dr. Randel was a visiting professor at Helsinki Finland, in the school year of 1950-51.

Dr. Randel sent by the U. S State Department as this first visiting professor of American Literature to a University in Finland His visit was made under an act of Congress to make use of the Fulbright war debt funds.

The English coffee hour usually meets in the Tropic room in the Student Center. It is meeting on a week in the Longmire auditorium in order to show the movie.

Education Clubs Fete Famed Lecturer Here

The education societies Association for Childhood Education Future Teachers of America, Scholarship Club and Kappa Delta Pi are co-sponsoring a tea to-day from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Union for Dr. Lois Meek Stolz, famous educator. Dr. Stolz will speak on the topic, "Education in the Atomic Age" at 4:30 p.m. in the Union Lounge. All students are invited to attend.

Dr. Stolz of Washington, D. C. is the author of several books on child development and parent education. She is a consultant for the Child Development Project of the Office of Education.

(Continued on Page 4)

Ruthie Garst To Enter Maid of Cotton Finals

Ruthie Garst, Florida State University junior from Orange Park, has been selected as one of 21 finalists in the Maid of Cotton" sponsored annually by the National Cotton Council.

She will go to Memphis, Tennessee, Dec. 29-30 for personal interviews with the judging panel and a public appearance at the Ellis Auditorium. Here the girls will be selected to be the American cotton industry's goodwill ambassadors on a six-month international tour. Ruthie is the only representative from Florida to make the finals.

Soltas Club Party

Soltas the Library Science Club, will hold their annual Christmas party Monday at 7:30 p.m in the Union Lounge of the Alumni Building, was announced today by Ann Nelson, president.

A gift entertainment, refreshments and a Santa Claus, all Library Science Club members will be invited to attend.

NSA CONTROVERSY RAGES OVER CAMPUS

By MARCIA MORRIS

Well, what-a-ya know—we're at it again. The campus is fruitful, fusion, fighting—and hear ye Amber House orators, this is the greatest thing since Adlai's retirement from the political potpourris.

NSA, the National Student Association, the cause of it all, is responsible for sending peds scurrying to the library and newspaper files for musty but essential bits of info with which to fight away ec-static-ee would be third degree-rs; for giving ya editor of the Flambeau sughtmares over what to print and what not to print—oh, which limb of the tree is the better to hang from; for pitting political science majors and potential four year boosters of Pan Hellenic and IFC in tooth and tone battles to stalemate after stalemate; and in general, for scoring the wits out of any self-respecting, easy-going Seminole who has the audacity to be undecided and thereby immediately becomes fair game and easy prey for aides—the pro's and the con's.

Naturally among all of this bushbaloo, emerges somewhere the inevitable "let's be above all this" crew who know not, care not, and frankly don't give a "by cracky" one way or the other. No, he cheers, better decide new whether you want to stew with your problems in our own little frying pan or jump into the national fire! But before we lean off for a second whirl on today's merry go round—exactly what is NSA and why all the fuss?

In essence, NSA is an organization with the purpose of coordinating the workings of university governments and with the aim of giving students a voice in national politics and vital issues—a continued voice which students under the voting age do not now have.

It offers the university such services as the all-student discount, European travel program with regular student rates, and a wealth of written material as well as direct help from experienced advisors on problems which we are now meeting, but which have already been encountered and suitably worked out in other schools. All of these plans have a pretty good sound, but now, what haven't NSA's opponents been doing to them!

Do we reap enough benefits from these services, argue the opponents, to maintain the costs in work, risk, an dmoney? Was NSA really formed for the purposes which it publishes—after all it is a pressure group and could easily be the American student as a tool in some wrong direction of effort.

It is argued that NSA is tainted a light or bruhtl red, as the case may be—although NSA representatives argue that they are not on the attorney general's list, were not, and are completely whitewashed of the whole business!

Some people feel that they cannot embrace all the tenets of the NSA constitution—the discriminatory clause, for instance—nor can they support the measures which it supports—such as the FEPC and Federal Aid to Education bills. And on, and on the arguments proceed straight down the road to frustrating arguments and the inevitable brick wall.

It seems from this chair on the sidelines that we are pretty well outdoing ourselves in passing the ball back and forth. Some people are vehement boosters and others are violent antiservats—but the greater part of the F. S. U.'s student body is unaware of NSA's existence—or if they are aware pass the decision on to their friends—pleading ignorance of the question.

Well, NSA is a vital campus issue at this time. It most probably will come up for a vote within the near future. Meanwhile, best we get on the stick. Seminoles—learn what this business is all about and be able to decide intelligently whether to have or to have not. This issue is much too hot to handle—to beat down or ramrod through, without thinking it through and carefully. Will NSA be good for FSU and if we have it will the students work to make it a success? Will it be a dead beat or will participation in it be paddling in muddy waters?

These are the opinions and questions frayed and worn after many a many a heated battle. This afternoon, an investigating committee will rear into action for UGA, in order to see what lies behind the workings of NSA. Here's hoping this will be just what the doctor ordered. As for now—take it away kiddies — arouse it out and bat it around—as long as all forms of violence are avoided—that is just what the campus needs!

SEMINOLE SCENES

SHOP NOW; AVOID BEING A HARRY

BY FRANCES CAWTHON

Only 11 more shopping days until Christmas, including this one, which means dinging into the pocket, mauling out the list and trotting yourself downtown quick.

The longer you put it off, brother, the sadder your case is going to be. Take, for instance, the story of Harry Quackleey Smith, a college student too busy going to classes that said studying in the library during the afternoons (HA) to get the commercial Christmas spirit.

Anyway, one night he was in the dormitory with the boys. They were talking, as usual, about alcoholic beverages, womankind and music, when suddenly something turned on the flourescent in Harry's brain (Topic No. 1 had reminded him of egg nog; Topic No. 2 of Gertrude, his gal, and Topic No. 3, "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen," the logical process that meant Christmas.)

"I gotta go Christmas shopping," he said, taking his feet off the desk.

"What for?" asked his pal.

"Poopie, acquaintance, uncle, Gertrude, you know . . ."

"Oh."

"I gotta make out a list."

"Let's draw names. Each draws for a name. Him, man gets a Miller's; the rest coffee." offered one exsey frosh.

"No. Only five more days till Christmas. Go 'way. Gotta make list out now."

After finding his notebook which was stuffed away under the dirty laundry, Harry made his list.

The next morning he rose promptly at 12 o'clock and betook himself down to the bus stop. A man in a car screeched to a halt, "Hop in!" They were up to Adams St. before Harry got the door closed.

Must hurry," breathed the man as he wedged himself into a parking space. "The wife wants a chartreuse three-quarter length robe with black trim and this is the only time she's let me out of her subt. Women are nosey palns at Christmastime . . ." He shot the door in Harry's face and galloped away.

Harry decided to go into a nearby department store. He opened the door and walked in. The door opened and he sailed out. They had a bargain table blouses and slips at half price, too near the door. He tried another entrance and came to the men's counter.

"I wanna see a tie." he said to the salesman who was furiously wrestling with a large box and ten sheets of red and green paper.

"What," he mumbled crushing a large bow between his teeth Harry followed the motion of the waving ribbon streamers, and went over to the tie rack. Just as he reached out for a striped brown job, a snarled hand jerked it away. Two sharp blue eyes in a thin face underneath a green hat glared at him.

"Just like a male shopper! Takin' advantage of a poor old lady and snatching things right beneath her nose!" The mouth underneath the eyes began to shout. Harry backed into a counter where a clerk shoved a genuine African palm wood letteropener encrusted with "Mother" in his hands along with a bill for $4.98.

As Harry moved to go, he felt something clinging to his leg. It was a little girl with a red balloon.

"Lezzo," he said.

"I'm losted. I been to see Santy Claus and he gave me a balloon and now I'm losted."

"Lezzo," Harry repeated, shaking his leg. She only held tighter. "Daddy, I want my Daddy." Her lower lip came out. "DADDY!!! Wahh . . ."

A man and his wife hurried up. "What are you doing to this child?" she asked. "Lezzo," Harry asked above the little kid's screams.

"Harrey, call the police," she said nervously. A crowd had gathered. Harry pinched the balloon and the kid let go. Harry ran.

Back that night with the boys, Harry said, "I wonder if Gertrude would like a genuine African palm wood letteropener inscribed with "Mother?"

Grads To Have Party

The Graduate Club and the University Dames will hold a Christmas party tonight at the O Club from 7:30 until midnight for all graduate students and their wives.

Fencers Will Perform

Miss Pat Shely and her students from Troy State Normal will be on campus tomorrow to present a fencing exhibition at 2:30 p. m. in the Game Room of the Women's Gymnasium.

Students and faculty from Wesleyan will also be present. All Florida State students are invited to the demonstration.

Mayeron's To Hold 'Stag Nite' Monday

Women are strictly not allowed at Mayeron's annual "stag nite" from 7 to 9 p. m. on Monday, Dec. 13.

"Stag nite" was originated at the women's apparel shop last year to enable the bashful male shopper to become better acquainted with women's merchandise. Refreshments will be served

Make it a merry and practical Christmas with

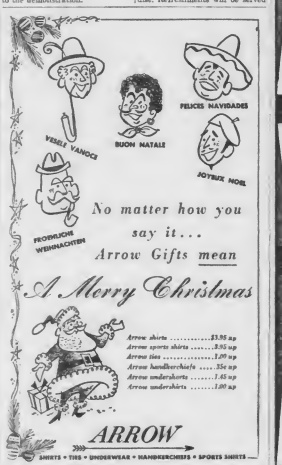
ARROW GIFT FAVORITES

Something for every guy on your list in our big Arrow selection. A tie or handkerchief . . . or a half-dozen shirts . . . the right gift carries the Arrow label.

Arrow Shirts: Whites, stripes, solid colors. "Sanforized"® fabrics. Wide selection of collar styles..... 3.95 up

Arrow Sports Shirts: Wools, cottons, rayons, blends. Checks, plaids, solid colors. All washable..... 5.95 up

Arrow Ties: Smartest colors and patterns..... 1.00 up



Arrow Handkerchiefs: All-whites and handsome colored borders. Give them by the box..... 3.5o up each

Arrow Undershorts: Choice of sprinter model or Gripper. No irritating center seam..... 1.45 up

Arrow Athletic Shirts... 1.25 Arrow T-Shirts ... 1.00

Mendelson's

. . . NOW UNIVERSITY STYLES

No matter how you say it . . .

Arrow Gifts mean

A Merry Christmas

Arrow shirts .....$3.95 up
Arrow sports shirts .....5.95 up
Arrow ties .....1.00 up
Arrow handkerchiefs .....35c up
Arrow undershorts .....1.45 up
Arrow undershirts .....1.00 up

ARROW

SHIRTS • TIES • UNDERWEAR • HANDKERCHIEFS • SPORTS SHIRTS

Dine with us . . . in the Amber House

"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

Lunch
Broiled Fish
Beef Stew
Spaghetti and Noodles (Spec.)

Dinner Menu
Liver and Onions
Fried Chicken
Broiled Fish

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A. is

FLORIDA

Today and Saturday

"Something for the Birds"

with Victor Mature and Patricia Neal

News Short

Featuring FSU

In "College Circus"

STATE

"Tales of Hoffmann"

in Technicolor

with Moira Shearer Leonide Massine and Robert Rounsevillo

COMING SOON

"FULL HOUSE"

RITZ

Today and Saturday

Buster Crabbe in

"Drift Fence"

also

"Strange Door"

with

Charles Laughton

DRIVE-IN

Today and Saturday

John Wayne in

"DAKOTA"

also

"Flesh and Fury"

With Tony Curtis and Jan Sterling

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT

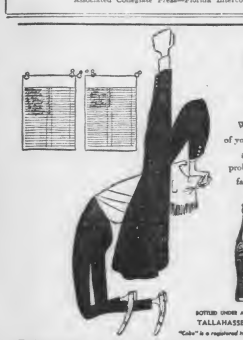
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BABS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor



Associate Editor ..... Marcia Morris
Sports Editors ..... Jim Eady, Pat Hogan
Copy Editor ..... Judy Simkins
Feature Editor ..... June Morgan
Society Editor ..... Sara Lou Mitchell
Reporter Editor ..... Jo Johns, Hunnicutt
Margue Editors ..... Bob Harris, Liz Varn
National Ad Manager ..... Pat Richmond
Local Ad Manager ..... Flo Walton
Assistant Managers ..... Nancy Lowe, Julie Nerren, Marilyn Seargent

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida. The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York.

Telephone 3-8286, Extension 4621 Second Floor Alumni Bldg

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Campus capers call for Coke

When grades are posted, get hold of yourself—maybe the news is good. Anyway, there'll always be problems ahead, so start now and face them refreshed. Have a Coke.

DRINK Coca-Cola

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Only time will tell about a budding author! And only time will tell about a cigarette! Take your time . . .

Test CAMELS for 30 days for Mildness and Flavor

• CAMELS are America's most popular cigarette. To find out why, test them as your steady smoke. Smoke only Camels for thirty days. See how rich and flavorful they are — pack after pack! See how mild CAMELS are — week after week!

CAMEL LEADS ALL OTHER BRANDS by billions of cigarettes per year!

There must be a reason why!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

They're Off and Running in West Campus Gym Tonight

Tom-A-Hawk Tales

By PAT HOGAN
Flambeau Sports Editor

Earnest, easy-going Bud Kennedy stretched his moderate frame into a hard, straight-backed folding chair in FSU's West Campus cage cracker-box one mid-afternoon this week and looked like a guy who had just won a couple of grand in the Irish Sweepstakes.

He wasn't for the tell-tale cops-coaches' whistle that dangled from his neck, a stranger probably couldn't have guessed that the genial fellow was the acting dean and professor of Florida State University's School of Basketball.

AND THIS particular afternoon, in fact, one might have mistaken Bud for an over-aged College Joe who has dropped in between classes with his cage-inclined classmates whoop it up on the hardwood.

The Professor was dressed for the campus part. He was attired in a flashing, pastel blue plaid sport shirt, a pair of freshly-pressed tan-blue slacks, and dark shoes, which, like many college students, hadn't been over-exercised by a shining-rag. And he was trained on the activity at the near end of the court where a half-dozen or so of his students were hoisting their shots from by unleashing a terrific barrage on the helpless round target 10 feet above the floor.

THE SHOOTERS were ringing the bell, so to speak, quite frequently and about a breeze-like melody each time a ball sipped through the netting, and a Kennedy comment, aimed at no one in particular.

"... I think the boys are going to do all right," the Professor mused. "They love to play basketball and are willing to work hard to get it. That's the kind of stuff I like.

Kennedy was in the best of spirits. He had just returned from Monday night officials' meeting in Tampa and was anxious to get back to his boys. He had reversed roles with charity by upsetting Tampa University's College in a 68-63 triumph at Collegeboro, Ga., Saturday night.

"DID HAD A good officials' get-together," Kennedy offered. "And who was there?" We couldn't, so Kennedy filled us in with the name—Cornelius MacGillivudy, or more simply, Connie Mack. Grand old man of baseball.

"You know Connie is still as spry as a spring chicken," Kennedy went on. "And he'll be 90 years old the 22nd of this month. I shook hands with him and I had to look afterwards to see if any of my fingers were broken. He's a wonderful old man."

Then the Professor got back to his first love—basketball.

THE BOY SHOWED me last week he can play some basketball," Kennedy continued, "We had a 12-minute lapse in the Mercer game in the Seminoles' opening game in Miami last Friday night when Mercer went on a rampage and little fellow with early-season jitters, but all in all I guess we had a fairly successful week end."

Kennedy was being modest. The Tribe team's figured to dump the Mercer Cubs in Teachers, the defending Dixie Conference champs and the nation's highest-scoring outfit a year ago, respectively. But the Indians gave Mercer all it wanted and ran Georgia Teachers' records.

This is not supposed to happen. There are seven freshmen on the Tribe varsity and you don't win too many college games loaded with green-horned rooter.

BUT THERE'S ONE thing you can be sure of, Kennedy has seven small but talented group of boys who'll be giving it their best to put in the coming weeks.

We are out to present Kennedy with a pre-holiday gift this week and every can turn back Rollins in their home-court-rain-raiser tonight and get past Mercer in a return engagement here tomorrow night. That combination would make Kennedy a winning coach again, and the fifth season at head basketball coach, Kennedy's teams have won 20 games and lost 52, just a fraction below the even-Stephen.

"I like to see us sweep a pair," the Professor smiled. "That would be nice. Christmas present I can think of."

* * *

AND IN PASSING—Want a good suggestion for an afternoon or evening repleete with all the thrills, spills and chills of an old-fashioned hunt? . . . Then stop by the outdoor physics laboratory on the East Campus one of these bright, December days and watch the sorority sisters go at it in their league cage warfare.

Bring a seat on the green slopes at court-side this week and next.

It didn't take a jiffy for us to learn these "mascara boys" weren't doing a take-off on a drop-the-hanky or ring-around-the-rosy routine . . . They play basketball and do a serious job of it.

One dainty-looking little coed for instance, who snatched the ball out of the air like a hungry monkey picks bananas, bluestreaked her way through the opponents' defense, dumping one of the bodies on the latter's posterior, and tippy-toed in for a clinch and 2 points.

THIS IS EASY," she gursled. . . . Well, not for us, sister. . . . You play too rough.

SEEKING AT THE 'MURALS

Phi Delts Going After Frat Bowling Diadem

The Delta Theta, currently in first place in the fraternity bowling, won its way into the finals of the fraternity bowling tournament Tuesday night by defeating Alpha Tau Omega. The Phi Delta, who just won the touch football championship, posted a total of 630 pins in winning the first two games in a best-of-three match.

Bowlers for the Phi Delta Theta team were Melson who rolled games of 162 and 150, and Harry Kirby who threw games of 158 and 150.

The Phi Delta were earned a bye into the finals Kirby Alpha was defeating Kappa Sig to qualify for the finals in the other bracket.

THE ALL-UNIVERSITY table tennis championship will be at 7:30 when the two finalists, Cutler and Kendall, battle in the presence of the new Freshmen champs.

The match will be vieing for the honor of beating out a field of 32 in competition which started last week.

Prizes for the winner and runner-up will be given.

Results tonight:

2nd Round

Kendall d. Scott; Pruitt d. Johnson; Blanchard d. Ridley; Cutler d. Cline, Klonsky d. Novlin; Mills d. Howie; Moore, bye; Shoulders def. Bond; Johnson; Stuke, bye.

3rd Round

Mills, bye; Blanchard d. Pruitt; Cutler d. Klonsky; Kendall d. Moore; Cutler d. del Rieo; Stuke d Boyd.

4th Round

Mills d. Blanchard

Semifinals

Kendall d. Cutrer. Cutler d Stuke.

Alpha Kappa Psi Has Job Getting Seminar

The fourth annual Job-Getting Seminar, sponsored by the Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, in cooperation with the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placements, was held yesterday in the Lonnmire building.

The seminar gave the Florida State University graduates an opportunity to meet prospective employers. Representatives from a number of business firms, industrial organizations and other agencies interested in employing graduates and seniors participated in the Seminar.

There'll Be Better Days

THE TALE OF A sad, sad Florida State football season is pretty well summed up in this picture of Bob Wadsack, snapped near the close of FSU's Season-ending scrap with Tampa here last week. It was a long, hard, nightmarish campaign, cheered only by a win over Wofford and a tie with Stetson, but Seminoles like Wadrick can look forward to better days. Bob is only a junior; a 200-pound tackle from Miami.

A 'T' Grows in Tallahassee?

Veller Maps Spring Strategy

In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love, and the T-formation.

That's humming up a beautiful phrase by Alfred Lord Tennyson, the poet, in his "Locksley Hall" masterpiece, but nevertheless the addition is needed when referring to Florida State University's football young men.

For Dr. Don Veller, the Seminole grid chieftain, said this week the Tribe would hold a giant T-party in conjunction with the usual single-winged practice session come Spring.

At that time, Veller will try to brew some straight and split-T plays with the Indians' single-wing formation and see wahh the mixture results in.

If it tastes all right to the Tribe council—Veller and his assistants—the "T" will be added to the FSU menu and the Seminoles will be operating with a three-pronged offense next season.

The logic in the possible instillation of the T' has in its fast that several players now in the Seminole Wig-wam and particularly Quarterback Billy Rabon, are more suited for the widely-used 'T' noted for its speed and deception, than for the single wing, known for its power-plus emphasis.

Rabon was an all-state as a T quarterback at Fitzgerald, Ga., High before coming to State. A tall, slender, bullet-like passer, Bitty's talents couldn't be fully utilised in this year's Seminole wins attack.

Plans 'T'-Party

DR. DON VELLER
He Roar for the Weary

Fellowship To Hold White Gift Service

Westminster Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church will have their traditional White Gift Service on Friday night at 7:30 at the Tallahassee Presbyterian Church.

The Christmas Service, arranged by Bobbie Leslie, features the Westminster Choir and Dr. W. T. Martin, pastor.

The White Gift ceremony consists of presentation of gifts wrapped and brought by all the Presbyterian students to be presented to one of the church's orphanages.

Rollins Tribe Foe In Home Basketball Debut

BY PAT HOGAN
Flambeau Sports Editor

They're off and running in the college cage derby and the Seminoles of Florida State get into the act for the first time before the home-folks tonight when they entertain the fast-breaking Rollins College Tars in State's West Campus gymnasium. The tip-off is set for 8 p.m.

It will be the beginning of a busy week end for Coach Bud Kennedy's Indians, who clash with Mercer College here tomorrow night and tackle Central (Mo) College here Monday evening.

THE TRIBE will shoot for its second victory of the newly-born cage campaign against Rollins tonight. State opened its season with a split on Georgia hardwoods last week, bowing to Mercer's Bears, 76-61, and upsetting the Professors of Georgia Teachers, 68-62.

Sporting a varsity squad of seven freshmen and five men who won their "FSU's" a year ago, the Tribe is banking on a well-balanced, fast attack this season in order to offset a height shortage.

The State-Rollins contest should be action-packed. The Seminoles employ a speedy, pass-weave offensive pattern which can be used with or without the post man. The Tars of Winter Park use a belter - skelter, hard - running brand of basketball.

THE SEMINOLES, who have copped three of four previous meetings with Rollins, have an added incentive for the fifth renewal. A Florida State triumph would give Kennedy a 52-52 record and put him even with the board as he moves into his fifth campaign here.

The starting Seminole nods tonight will go to Juniors Jerry Westhafer (6-4) and Jimtom Richardson (6-3) at forwards, sophomore Rick Benson (6-7) at center, and freshman Ham Wernke is already scheduled to meet N.C. State in Tallahassee in '53. Negotiations for games with VMI and Furman have been underway but as yet nothing definite has been arranged.

Contracts for seven games in 1953 have been stemed. Those are: Miss with Miami, Stetson, Tampa, N.C. State, Mississippi Southern, Louisville and Louisiana Tech.

ke (6-0) and Tommy Burst (6-0), a sophomore, at guards. Westhafer, Benson and Wernke are letermen. Richardson a squadman and Burst a numeral winner.

Wernke, the Indians' top scorer who hails from Batesville, Ind., the same town as his guard playmate, Burst, bucketed 41 points in the Seminoles' first two games.

Rollins, which opened with a 79-71 conquest of Tampa, but lost to Stetson on Wednesday, will floor a line-up of Bob MacHardy (6-2), the Tars' captain, Cundle Mark Butler (6-1), Jim Bocook (6-4), Nick Vancho (6-8) and Don Weber (6-4). Butler pitched in 25 points and Vancho 17 in the win over Tampa.

Going Bowling? Here's the Card

The New Year's Day football bowl line-ups, with teams' regular-season records in parentheses are:

ROSE BOWL, at Pasadena, Cal. —Southern California (9-1) vs. Wisconsin (8-2-1).

SUGAR BOWL, at New Orleans, La.—Georgia Tech (11-0) vs. Mississippi (6-0-2).

COTTON BOWL, at Dallas, Tex. —Texas (8-2) vs. Tennessee (8-1-1).

ORANGE BOWL, at Miami, Fla. —Alabama (9-1) vs. Syracuse (7-2).

GATOR BOWL at Jacksonville, Fla.—Florida (7-3) vs. Tulsa (8-1-1).

SUN BOWL, at El Paso, Tex.—Mississippi Southern (9-1) vs. College of Pacific (6-3).

SALAD BOWL, at Phoenix Ariz.—San Diego NTC (6-2) vs. 101st Airborne Division (6-3).

TANGERINE BOWL, at Orlando, Fla.—East Texas State vs Tennessee Tech.

CUFF STUFF

19 Gridders Ink Grants-in-Aid

Nineteen star prep school and junior college athletes have signed football grants-in-aid with Florida State University and have been awarded athletic scholarships.

Of the 19, seven are tackles, three are ends, three are guards, one plays center, and five are backs. Six will transfer from junior colleges in Mississippi.

The Seminoles played before 41 800 fans in their six home football games this season. The number exceeds by 11,713 the previous high for a season attendance established in 1951, when 30,085 spectators went through the turnstile.

Largest crowd of the 1952 season was present at the Louisville game, when 10 636 turned out. Average home attendance was 6,966.

* * *

Florida State is represented at two major conference meetings now in progress. Assistant football Coach Vaughn Mancha and Dr. Coyle Moore, dean of the school of social welfare, are in Atlanta for the annual Southeastern Conference confab, while Director of Athletics Howard Danford and Sports Publicity Director Bennett Lord are at the Southern Conference meeting at Clemson College in South Carolina.

Danford stated he hoped to complete the 1953 FSU football schedule while at the meeting. The Seminoles played three Southern Conference teams the past season, VMI, Furman, and North Carolina State. The Tribe

Wanna Seat? Then Be There Early Wit The Right Number

Seats for Florida State's three week-end basketball games will go on a first-come, first-served basis, the Athletic Ticket Office said last night.

Student activity books are good for the FSU home cage contests, played in the West Campus gymnasium. But because of the cramped quarters —the gym capacity is about 1,000 — only student activity books bearing the numbers 1-1500 will be good for tonight's game with Rollins. Numbers 1500-3000 are valid tomorrow night for the Mercer game and numbers 3000-4800 for the Monday night clash with Central (Mo.) College.

If the gym isn't filled by five minutes before the 8 p.m. starting times, all numbers will be good for any game, it was announced. Non-student tickets are on sale today at Alford Brothers in downtown Tallahassee and at the FSU Athletic Ticket Office.

No Ham, This Guy

HAM WERNKE, that's his moniker. But this freshman basketball dandy from Batesville, Ind., has been far from inoffective since joining the Garnet and Gold cagers. He arrived in time to spark the '51-52 Tribe to three victories late in last season and is at it again this year. The six-foot, 175-pound spcdester is State's top scorer with 41 points in two outings, and will anchor a guard post when the Seminoles open their home campaign against the Rollins College Tars at 8:15 tonight.

Meet the Seminole Cagers . . .

Name	Pos.	Class	Ht.	Wt.	Age	Hometown
Dick Artmeier	G	Fr.	6-0	170	18	Clarksburg, Ind.
*Rick Benson	C	Soph.	6-7	205	19	Maitland, Fla.
Tom Burst	G	Soph.	6-0	168	18	Batesville, Ind.
Tom Bushman	F	Fr.	6-1	195	19	E. Chicago, Ind.
*Duane Gordon	F	Jr.	6-4	180	20	Madison, Wis.
George Kellish Jr.	G	Fr.	5-9	175	22	Chicago, Ill.
H. B. Marcum	F	Fr.	5-11	160	20	Somerset, Ky.
Dick Mott	G	Jr.	6-1	180	24	Lynbrook, N. Y.
Jimmy Orr	G	Fr.	5-11	178	18	Economy, Ind.
*Bob Pence	F	Sr.	6-2	185	24	Shelbyville, Ind.
Jimtom Richardson	G	Jr.	6-3	190	20	Jacksonville, Fla.
*Ham Wernke	G	Fr.	6-0	175	19	Batesville, Ind.
*Jerry Westhafer	F	Soph.	6-4	180	19	Greensburg, Ind.
Bill Wood	C	Jr.	6-4	210	21	Tarpon Spgs., Fla.
Gary Wold	C	Fr.	6-5	210	18	Madison, Wis.

*—Indicates lettermen.

Tribe Tankers Triumph

Florida State's 27-man swimming team spotted the 1953-53 tank season by trimming Jacksonville Navy, 43-40, in a duel-meet thriller in the Gateway city Wednesday night. FSU Coach Bim Stults has eight letterman swimmers back from last year's team, which posted a 5-2 record

When shopping for a Christmas gift, Get something that be liked— For comfort, fresher, smoother smokes, Hold love some Lucky Strikes!

E. Arlene Goldford
Newark State Teachers College

Ed. E. Ca.

COLLEGE STUDENTS PREFER LUCKIES IN NATION-WIDE SURVEY

Nation-wide survey based on actual student interviews in 80 leading colleges reveals more smokers prefer Luckies than any other cigarette by a wide margin. No. 1 reason—Luckies' better taste. Survey also shows Lucky Strike gained far more smokers in these colleges than the nation's two other principal brands combined.

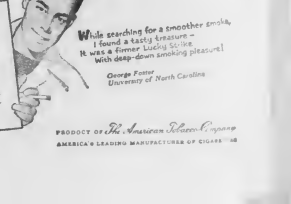
In French fin taught so many words— For instance, "my" is "mon"! But I don't go to class to learn! But I don't go to class to learn! Lucky Strike eat bon!

Dora Brost
University of Nebraska

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

They're made better to taste cleaner, fresher, smoother!

Ask yourself this question: Why do I smoke?



You know, yourself, you smoke for enjoyment. And you get enjoyment only from the taste of a cigarette.

Luckies taste better—cleaner, fresher, smoother! Why? Because Luckies are made better to taste better. And, what's more, Luckies are made of fine tobacco. L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco.

So, for the thing you want most in a cigarette . . . for taste—cleaner, fresher, smoother taste . . . Be Happy—Go Lucky!

FOR A CLEANER, FRESHER, SMOOTHER TASTE . . .

Be Happy—GO LUCKY!

While searching for a smoother smoke, I found a tasty treasure— It was a Lucky Strike. Now it's double-duty pleasure!

George Foster
University of North Carolina

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company
AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARS

Classified Ads

LOST: Silver link bracelet engraved with Oriental dancers. Lost Wednesday on East Campus. Wanda McClung, Landis Hall, Box 257.

FSU Homecoming

(Continued From Page 1)

Indians, also arrows and real wild West stories.

AFTER COMING over to America on a boat with other dispaced persons, she and her mother settled in Monticello, Florida, where Marlies was also Homecoming Queen.

The article continues that Marlies was dismayed when she discovered the poetry and quotations she had learned in Germany, where girls recite them to boyfriends, were of no use to her in the U. S., "where boys do not want poetry."

Other students in Life photographs with Marlies include Charlotte McCants, a friend, and Neville Malloy, Marlies' escort Homecoming weekend.

Choral Union

(Continued From Page 1)

will conduct a presentation of the "Messiah" in Sarasota on December 21, at which William L. Dalrymple, music student, will be tenor soloist.

Sixteen students and one faculty member from FSU will participate in a presentation of the "Messiah" in Monticello, Sunday, at the First Methodist Church. This group will include Prof. J. Dayton Smith, Jean Wilson, Ellen Campbell, Anita Woods, Joanne Malone, Jennie Swearingen, Frances Langford, Jean Ford, Mary Jo Fain and Paula Teagarden Bailey.

Also in this chorus are Bill Allan, Ed Carroll, Neil Myers, Stuart Vandivfere, Ted Morril, Bill Dalrymple and Pat Peters.

Wesley Foundation Plans Xmas Play

The Wesley Foundation will present "A Child is Born" as its annual Christmas play, at 6:30 p.m., Sunday. Beverly Berry and Margaret Hoadley will direct.

The characters are: Narrator, Ed Stripling; Innkeeper, Chuck Clark; Innkeeper's wife, Jane Scott; Leah, Kitten Morrow; Sarah, Mary Catherine Freeman; Soldier, Al Holderbeck; Joseph, Carroll White; Dismas, Bob Hall. Committee chairmen are: Stage Manager, Hatel Bryant; Make-up, Lou Wise; Costumes, Carroll English; and Sound Effects, Donn Teal.

After the play will be the Christmas tree with presents for the house and love offerings for Dee Stevens, a graduate of FSU who is now on a three-year mission term in Japan.

Baptist Students Plan For Christmas Party

The annual Christmas Party for the Baptist Student Union will be at the Baptist Student House Saturday, Dec. 13, at 7:30 p.m. There will be entertainment and refreshments will be served.

The climax of the evening will be the opening of presents which members of the student union have purchased for the 17 children who will be guests at the party.

After the party there will be caroling. The carolers will sing to Pres. and Mrs. Doak S. Campbell and other special families in Tallahassee.

Classics Dept. Plans Course In Legal Latin

A course in Legal Latin will be offered by the classics department next year in response to many requests. As it will not be given this Summer, all who wish to take it this year should plan on enrolling next semester.

FSU Represented At State Convention

Six coeds represented Florida State University at the annual state meeting of College and University Home Economics Clubs held last week end in West Palm Beach. They were Shirley Allen, Dorothy Douglas, Anna Marie Erdman, Dorothy Peaden, Joyce Sutton and Margaret Vaughn.

Dorothy Douglas, outgoing president, was succeeded by Emma Grady of Florida Southern College. Margaret Vaughn from FSU was elected the new vice president.

The student home economic meetings were held in conjunction with the joint meetings of the Florida Home Economics Association and the Florida Dietetic association. Plans were made for the students to hold district meetings in the future as well as state meetings.

Administration Surprises

(Continued From Page 1)

for the Governor of Florida, and every year of the occasion thereafter.

A bill providing for election of WFSU, campus radio station's manager annually was defeated at the session Tuesday after Margaret Jean Parham, WFSU station manager, was given the floor to talk against such a motion. The bill introduced by Senator Barbara Thomas some time ago, was withdrawn upon further consideration.

SENATOR LAWLER presented his bill advocating the providing of court reports for the second reading. This bill proposed the publication to the students, of all judicial and court proceedings. Perry Moore, Judiciary Chairman, spoke on behalf of Judiciary regarding the bill, stating that extenuating circumstances, and considerations and recommendations by the court differ in cases of a similar nature and publication of these complete facts and proceedings would involve much paper work and would provoke much dissatisfaction among the student body. The bill, as it stands, was tabled for further discussion.

Reporting for the Services Committee, Senator Bobby Drake informed Senate that although the post office has no stamp machine, one is located in the Student Union at the cashier's stand. He said that there is also the possibility of acquiring one for the post office providing the company is willing to service it.

ON REDUCTION of bowling rates, Senator McDaniel stated that the allotment from the student activity fee for bowling is too small to allow for a reduction in bowling rates and still maintain the overhead. Dean Culpepper has added, McDaniel said, that reimbursement to the bowling alleys under the category of instruction might still be a remote possibility.

McDaniel also reported that a letter concerning the unpaved roads has been sent by the fraternities involved to Mr. Shaw, FSU business manager.

DURING THE meeting, a letter from Dean Katherine Warren was read stating that the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs had approved the bill providing for the appointment instead of election of class parliamentarians. This bill, previously passed by the University Senate, now having the approval of the Faculty Committee is now legally in effect.

The bill for changing the University Government Association's name to University Government was again discussed, but was tabled for further consideration.

GIBSON CHRISTMAS GIFT WRAPPINGS

Glamorous! Glorifying!
PAPERS • TAGS
SEALS • RIBBONS
UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE
"Student Center"

Student Christmas Headquarters

OPEN EVENINGS 'TIL 7

- Norcross Xmas Cards
- FSU Felt Goods—New and Different
- Juvenile T and Sweat Shirts
- Shaeffer and Easterbrook Pen Sets
- Montag & White Wycoff Stationery
- Fraternity T Shirts

MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE
OPEN EVENINGS 'TILL

"This Way Folks To Nic's Toggery"

Where You'll Find the Finest in Gifts for That Certain Guy!

- Cashmere Sweaters
- Scarves
- Sport Shirts
- Belts
- Neck Ties
- Gloves
- Argyle Socks
- Slippers
- Wallets
- Pajamas
- Jewelry Sets
- Jackets

"For Men Who Walk in Style"

Nic's Toggery

"Everything for the Shoe"

- Expert Shoe Repairing
- Dye Shoes All Colors
- Shoe Shine Kits

PALACE SHOE SHOP
121 EAST PARK AVENUE
"THE HOUSE THAT SERVICE BUILT"

The Vogue
Our thirtieth year of Christmas Service

Here's a Fabergé gift for everyone with love and X's to all...

A Both Perfume to scent and soften her skin, gift boxed, 3.75 and 6.50
B Fabergette Ensemble purse perfume with matching cologne, gift boxed, 3.50 the set
C Perfum Extraordinaire gift boxed like precious jewels 5. 8. 15. 27. 50.
D Sachet Perfum elegantly topped in cork and gold 1¼ oz. 2.50
E Quartette Jr. four fashion fragrances in gold and white gift box, 3.00 the set
F Cologne Duette two fragrances in gold and white gift box, 2.50 the set
G Soap perfumed, exquisitely gift boxed, satin-topped, 3 cakes 1.50
H After Shave Set Men's Lotion with skin-toned talc 2.50 the set
I Men's Lotion for after shave . . . after shower too! 2. 3.50 5. 10.
J Fabergette stroke-on applicator in leather purse pouch, 2.50

APHRODISIA • WOODHUE • TIGRESS • STRAW HAT • ACT IV
plus tax

Merry Christmas

Florida Flambeau

Happy New Year

VOL. XXXIX, No. 22 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Tuesday, December 16, 1952

WFSU's 'Christmas Album' A Traditional Yuletide Gift

Carols, Poems, Music, Highlight Week As Pre-Holiday Spirit Holds Sway

Thursday evening from six until midnight WFSU, campus radio station, will present its Yuletide gift to the students and faculty in the form of the third annual "Album of Christmas."

The production, which is becoming a holiday tradition for FSU, will feature a "little bit of everything" all tied up with a bit of say ribbon and brought to you at the 460 spot on your radio dial," according to Bob Ducker, program director in charge.

THE "ALBUM" opens at 6 p.m with a special sign on, followed at 6:05 by page one, "The Musical Story." This will be a presentation of the latest pop tunes of Christmas time with Rick Rutlin "hanging the tunes on the tree."

PAGE TWO, starting at 6:30, is "Christmas Throughout the World," relating the colorful traditions and customs of the Yuletide season as celebrated in other lands and in America.

PAGE THREE, at 7 p.m. "Christmas Hour," destined especially for the children of faculty and married students, will be the next page beginning at 7 p.m. Dennis Delaney will take the editor's seat to the North Pole and also give them the story of "The Little Match Girl."

Memorable Christmas carols and traditional poems of the season are on the menu for page four, "THE LITTLEST Stork" a new Christmas fairy tale will be a feature for the listeners as will bring to the air probably the first Christmas carol ever written by Charles Tarwell's newest story, and will feature Roy Flynn, editor of the Florida Flambeau, narrator.

Page Six, at 8 p.m. will consist of "Christmas Greetings from Pres. Campbell and Mrs. Campbell," followed at 8:15 by "Choral Music by Sigma Alpha Iota," with a quarter hour of traditional carols and Christmas music by members of the music fraternity.

PAGE EIGHT, Speak," at 9:30, Page Eight, will present the religious significance of the birth of Christ with Christmas in word and prayer.

Ronald Martin will narrate "The Christmas Story," a traditional tale of the little Spanish boy whose humble gift was the most treasured when on Christmas Eve at 9:45 p.m. This will be Page Nine.

THE 10 P.M. SPOT, at 10 p.m. is "Carols of the World," produced by Gold Key and directed by Jean Harris. This will bring to the air little known but beautifully written carols from many countries and peoples.

The Methodist Student House is the center of productive Page Eleven at 10:30. It will be the dramatic production of the album, "A Child is Born," telling the story of the Nativity.

"CHRISTMAS Masterworks," Page 12 brightning at 11, will feature the University Symphony Orchestra under the direction of the "Pope Marcellus" by Palestrina. The second half hour will consist of excerpts from Handel's "Messiah," by the Huddersfield Choral Society and orchestra.

At 11:55, the staff and management of WFSU will extend Christmas greetings to the student body, and at 12 midnight, the radio station will sign off for the holidays.

Girls Take Last Leap Of Year At Formal Sat.

About 300 girls took advantage of the Leap Year season last Saturday evening and brought a date to the annual Panhellenic Ball. The dance was held at the Sewanee Room with music furnished by the Regents.

Main highlight of the evening was the tapping by the Village Vamps. Thirty-three freshman girls were honored: June Bowder, Sissy Brunson, Ann Frasier, Carol Pulkerson, Marties Gessler, Elizabeth Hall, Sarah Hambley, June Hammonds.

Sally Hannon, Claire Hatcher, Desne Jackson, Shirley Kelley, Joan Lee, Barbara Lester, Toni Lee, Charlotte McCants, Rose Ellen Moore, Jean Morgan, Jane Parkinson, Elin Quicksell, Martha Rader, Terry Secord, Jane Slason, Martha Slayden, Joan Tavel, Nancy Thomas, Margie Wilkerson, Betty Willman, June Yates, Barbara Bellmyer, Meredith Payne, Sandra Carter and Irene Yatwark.

WFSU Represented At Staff Attends Alabama Meeting

WFSU, campus radio station at the Florida State University was represented at the Southeastern meeting of the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System held last week end by several members of the staff.

MARGARET JEAN Parham, station manager of WFSU and also regional chairman of District of IBS, headed the delegation to Montevallo State College, Montevallo, Alabama.

Also representing the station were Rick Rutlin, co-director of special Events; Ron Martin, Chief Announcer; and Bill Sutton, engineer.

DURING THE course of the meetings, Margaret Parham was nominated for the office of national director of the Southeastern section of IBS.

THE BANQUET meeting was filled with panel discussions and entertainment. Rick Rutlin also spoke on behalf of FSU. The setups of the various stations represented were discussed and possibilities of new programming techniques were brought to light.

PLANS WERE also made to exchange radio shows with WRSD Alabama State College, WAPI the University of Alabama and WUSC, the University of South Carolina. The proposed shows will be in the form of poetry and jazz and will serve as models for a recording of "Littlest Angel" narrated by Dennis Delacure for each of the stations wishing to use in their Christmas programs.

The next meeting of the Southeastern Region will be held at University of South Carolina in the Spring.

Contestants To Appear

ALL CONTESTANTS in the Smoke Screen Beauty Girl Contest are asked to come to the UOA Senate Room at 7:30 Thursday night for a short meeting. The girls are to come dressed in shorts, tee shirts and high heels.

Collegians Give Annual Concert Of Yule Music

Appear In Music Hall Tomorrow Night At 8:15 For Sixth Anniversary

"The Collegians," Florida State male chorus noted for its presentation of popular songs, will present a concert of Christmas music tomorrow night at 8:15 in the Opperman Music Hall.

J. Dayton Smith of the School of Music faculty will direct the group during the program, which is open to the public without charge.

SOLOISTS FOR the program will be Joyce Bryant, flutist; L. Wendell Carpenter, tenor; and Jack Herendeen, tenor. The Male Quartet, composed of Jimmy Hudson, first tenor; Blair Hennessey, second tenor; George Bunn, baritone; and Howard Augustine, bass, will make his debut during the concert. Dunn, student conductor of the Collegians, will also direct the group in the number "Two Kings," by Joseph W. Clokey.

The male singers will celebrate their sixth year of organization with this concert. The group was organized in the Spring of 1947 by James, assistant professor of voice, as the FSU Male Chorus. Smith assumed the directorship of the Chorus in 1950, when the group changed its name to the Collegians.

The Collegians introduced the FSU Fall Festival of Music as a body that same year. They have largely been responsible for the popularity of the "Seminole Garnet and the Gold," written for the group by Smith, the director

Exhibit on Finland Given By Randel

"Exhibit in Finland" was brought to the Florida State campus by Dr. William Randel, professor of English, who gave an exhibit and an illustrated lecture of IBS, headed the delegation to Montevallo State College, Montevallo, Alabama.

Dr. Randel told how Christmas starts early in Finland, about the first weekend in December and keeps on going through Twelfth Night. The way he told of the season is impressive and is celebrated with many parties, particularly children's parties.

The exhibit which Dr. and Mrs. Randel arranged showed many beautiful, practical and decorative articles which they brought home from Finland. Among these was glassware, "Moucbe technique," aimed by the artist, Finnish architect. Also displayed was a complete collection of paper flags of all countries, used on Christmas trees.

Accompanying their two children, Dr. and Mrs. Randel spent the academic year 1949-50 in Helsinki, where Dr. Randel was the first visiting professor of American literature. Grants for this were under the auspices of the U. S. State Department.

Men's Dorms To Close During Xmas Holiday

Men's dormitories will close for the holidays Saturday, Dec. 20 at 10 a. m., says R. G. Brewer, director of housing. They will re-open Sunday, Jan. 4 at 9 a. m.

The men's dormitories will not be open on this campus during the holidays. The only men's dormitory on West Campus if there is a demand," says Mr. Brewer.

Christmas Arrives At FSU Amid Parties, Decorations

Busy Little Elves

SANTA'S WORKSHOP—Or at least that's what it appears to be. These children are busy making Christmas presents out at the West Campus Student Union for their mamas and papas who are students at Florida State University.

Court Reports Hot As Senate Meets Today

Expected to be resumed this afternoon in the regular weekly meeting of the University Senate is the hotly disputed bill introduced by Senator Gene Lawler concerning publishing of court reports by the Judiciary.

Lawler, signing the bill, said the matter axes that: making public the proceedings of the courts on all cases will help the students of the University to become informed on court happenings, thus reducing the much-needed confidence in the Judicial system at State.

ANOTHER STRONG point in favor of the bill states Lawler, lies in the fact that publishing of the court will help in individual situations that arise in the courts will help stopping rumors from traveling around the campus, degrading character and forming a suspicious nature to cover the true facts.

On the other hand, Chairman of Judiciary Percy Moore, in upholding a view stand against the passage of such a bill, has stated that, even though all names would be left off and initials put up for public notice the reports would cause more harm than good.

IN VIEW OF extenuating circumstances, Miss Moore avers, the reports would be necessary too cumbersome to include all the facts considered in the courts. Also different circumstances enter into the picture with similar cases, thus adding confusion in the minds of students who would read them. This all makes for a more misunderstanding of the facts and would cause much hard feeling and strong dislike for the Judiciary, known as Lawler states, building on of confidence in the court system.

The matter promises to be a hot one.

Gymkana Gives Show

The Gymkana Troupe made an appearance in Jasper this week-end with acts from the 1952 Gymkana production, "Out of This World."

Student Union Has Become Workshop As Working Elves Tinker on Gifts

BY JAYLEEN ROBERTSON

Christmas of '52 will be an extra-special one for a great many of the 127 married couples living on West Campus when they find out what Santa Claus and his fairy helpers have up to in the Student Union. For the past five Saturdays, two days a week, they have been working with wild excitement on Christmas presents given. Thursday, December 18, at 4:30 p.m., in Room 124, Science building. It will be led by Dr. T. of Oak Ridge National Laboratory Refreshments will be served.

Building, cutting, painting, lettering their imaginations run wild, children have been busy using their own special genius.

SANTA'S ELVES, the children of the graduate students on West Campus, range from two and a half to eleven years in age. One of the young sprites became so engrossed in painting Santa together each Saturday, that she usually wound up with her pinafore and most of her two-and-a-half year old self pasted into her construction paper creation.

Of course some of the projects are top-secret information not to be revealed under ANY circumstances, but this much can perhaps get by without the censorship of the elves.

SOME VERY lucky Moms and Dads will find sally colored hot plate mats, wastepaper baskets, crepe-paper dennish dolls, snowmen, Santa Claus apples, flower containers and braided coasters, not to mention of course, the unbelievable assortment of Christmas cards.

Being one of Santa's helpers not only included the making of Christmas gifts, but also the decorations. Every unique tree decorations. Saint Nick will have a Christmas party for the children of the married students.

SPECIAL CHRISTMAS silver berry concaves were made last Saturday as the closing project of the week's work and was followed by a party for the children. Punch and cookies for the party were donated by the Graduate Club.

Some of Santa's busy elves include: Wanda Wayne, Robert Bayliss, Bubba Bayliss, Butch Bayliss, Johnny French, Peter Finck, Rhonda Johanni, Paul Melvin, Melissa Johanni, Bobby Dunner, and Brock Stubbs.

CAPTAIN ART Hicky Baker is Karen Baker, Tina Peters, Bob Kirk, Johnathan Melvin, Mary Lou Asplund, Cathy Asplund, Skip Stubbs, Dale Wilkerson and Barbara Cline.

The staff at Student Union who brought about Santa's workshop at West Campus were Miss Hilda Tunney, Miss Ruth Peiks and Mr. Edward Olechowsky.

Front Gates Boast Yule Scene, Music Chimes From Westcott

Christmas will be complete at the 'Ol Alma Mammy this year, with the exception of one small item, snow. The gigantic white stuff that people shovel, slip on, ride sleighs on and throw at each other as the only element lacking from a campus otherwise buzzing with the exciting hum of the coming holidays.

THE CHRISTMAS spirit is in evidence everywhere, in the eyes of students at State anticipating a full two weeks of relaxation from studies and professors, in the eyes of the professors anticipating relaxation from their students, and in the sighs of relief issuing from the offices in Westcott and the administration who will be rid of both factions.

Dormitories, Greek and religious houses are decked out in the traditional red and green, with variations ranging from the simplest Christmas wreath to iron doors made to look like a navy destroyer pressed.

THE COLORFUL bulbs and shimmering tinsel of many Christmas trees light up the windows of the houses along the streets and from inside can be heard the recirted radio and phonograph, singing and general partying.

The wrapping table at the post office is covered with the fortunate litter of card, paper and blotted labels, while at the desk the line of standing-by students are busily greeting all from FSU's "front door."

THE SEASONAL motif will be carried through with the campus with three wise men, nine feet tall, all of paper mache, and a novel bit of holiday draping, never before attempted at FSU, is being accomplished by the students of the Arts Education Department.

Also issuing forth from Westcott between classes all week are the melodious strains of Christmas carols to the tune of chimes and organ. This is also in the department in the charge of the school, and will probably become a standard practice from now on.

The "giving" spirit is being emphasized all over with the various Christmas drives and appeals on students to donate toys to be distributed to needy children.

THE COLLEGIANS, Florida State University's choral group will conclude their concert series row night at 8:15 in a program of choral music. It will be the first of a family successful efforts by the organizations on campus to further the true Christmas spirit to FSU.

Classes, for the first time, will be dismissed at noon on East Campus and at 12:20 from West Campus. Many will begin long distances can reach home early. Many have already left to be with their folks and many more will leave before the official closing hour.

SUITCASES, and various other traveling paraphernalia are being hurriedly packed in preparation for the mass exodus coming in the three-hundred-and-sixty-five pecking trains, buses and planes in the usual holiday rush. While Dame Fortune is enough to be driving will be changing oil, cruising on the highways lasttminute lists of riders.

Altogether, the yuletide season promises to be a success and much credit goes to all concerned with making Christmas at FSU the State a memorable occasion.

Freshmen To Hold First Class Meeting

The first Freshman Class meeting of the year will be Thursday night, Dec. 18, at 7:30 in the Opperman Music Hall. The main business will be the election of class sponsors.

Each Freshman is asked to be on this call, considers ion as the advisors elected will be with the class for four years. The possibility of having men's honorary similar to Sophomore Council will also be discussed and a discussion on the progress of the Freshman Carnival and current class problems will follow.

Fencing Club Meets

Foil and Mask fencing club will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Women's Gymnasium.

Test Scheduled For Welfare Job

Announcements have been made of competitive examinations for the positions of District Welfare Visitor with the Florida Department of Public Welfare.

Vacancies now exist throughout the state, the announcement said, with areas in particular need entering around the lower Florida East Coast, Tampa Bay, Key West and Duval-Alachua areas.

THE POSITIONS of visitor start with a salary of $270 per month for a five-day work week, and, according to the announcement, the position of Visitor is the gateway to promotion in the Social Welfare field, in that they provide the necessary experience to qualify.

Examinations as scheduled for January 10, March 7 and May 2, 1953, at various centers throughout Florida.

Application must be made with the Florida Merit System office, County Health Units, State Employment Service and the Merit System offices in Tallahassee.

Psychology Grants Given To Projects

Grants for three psychology research projects, totaling almost $4,000, have been announced by Dr. Werner A. Baum, chairman of the Research Council for the University.

Dr. Hugh L. Watkon, head of the department of psychology and director of the psychology clinic, was awarded $1,645.75 for making intelligence tests for speech children.

DR. W. N. KELLOGG, professor of psychology, was awarded $1,000 for continuation of his study of animal sounds made by marine organisms.

Dr. Howard Baker, associate professor of psychology, and Donald Kenshalo, acting assistant professor of psychology, were awarded $1,340 for investigation of the relationships between the properties of the nervous and the properties of the nerver discharge in cutaneous sensitivity to pressure.

MEMBERS OF the FSU research Council are Dr. Bruno Degler, chairman, professor of economics; professor of psychology Dr. J. Frank Dame, dean of the School of Business; Dr. J. Paul Reddick, assistant dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; Dr. Lawrence S. Lawler, professor of education.

Robert Glenn, assistant dean of the Library School; Dr. Francis P. Weiten, head of the classical languages department, and one of the economics department, Dr. Milton Creighton; Dean of Women Dorothy C. Mae Kelly; Reviewer, Dean of the School of Music and Dr. Richard D. Challman, professor of family economics.

Programs Will Aid Exceptional Children

At a meeting of the North Florida Chapter of the International Council for Exceptional Children, Dr. Carroll Atwood is expected to have a coming draft and planned varied types of programs which could be used not in the Tallahassee area but throughout the state.

Dr. Rollin Witherspoon was elected president of the Chapter at the meeting held last week. Other officers elected were Mrs. Ruth Grubb, vice president; Mrs. Mary Lou Jones, secretary; Mrs. Jeanette Gilbert, treasurer.

Members of the chapter are planning to be active in the community.

Sandspur Chairmen Appointed By Harris

Sandspur Chairman Jim Harris has announced the appointment of committees for the 1953 production, which will take place in Opperman Music Hall Feb. 18-20.

Handling publicity will be John Rhodes, with Paul Sorapuru as business manager. Sets will be designed by Dick Turner; makeup, Valma Barnes. Costumes are under Pat Inman. Music, Lester Peck. The dance will be under the co-chairmanship of Floyd Price and Mac McCall.

Flambeau Staff Holds Annual Yuletide Party

The Flambeau staff is holding their annual Christmas party for tonight in the Flambeau office from 7 to 9:30.

All members of the staff are invited to attend and are requested to bring a funny gift not costing over 25c and also a contribution of 25c for refreshments.

Fun is about the party may be obtained from Judy Simkins at 2-9139 or Bela Phi House phone 2-9139.

"Stallion Road" Plays On Free Movie Bill

Showing tonight through Thursday will be the free movie "Stallion Road," with Ronald Reagan, Zachary Scott and Alexis Smith. The movie will be shown in South Cawthon Hall: Weidenmyer, Magnolia and Thursday, Bryan Hall, an all matinee beginning at 7:30.

"Stallion Road" depicts the rivalry of two friends in love with the same woman, and of a young veterinarian's fight with the epidemic of cattle disease. It was filmed in the Pacific mountain territory.

Seminar Announced Contestants to Appear

The Physics Seminar on "Quantum Electrodynamics" will be given Thursday, December 18, at 4:30 p.m., in Room 124, Science building. It will be led by Dr. T. of Oak Ridge National Laboratory

Refreshments will be served.

M-M-MERRY CHRISTMAS AND ACHOO-OO!

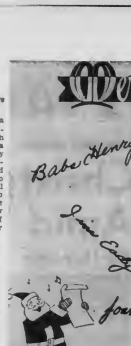
By MARCIA MORRIS

Achoo-oo! It's cold and its Christmas—for my money Florida State's most impressive season of the year, for anybody's money downtown Tallahassee's most profitable, and for the serenaders—the infirmary's—most fruitful. Br-rr and achoo-oo!

Yessir—this weekend really introduced the yuletide spirit in full force. Perhaps the magnificent production of the Messiah inspired us to new spiritual heights and that which followed was a natural sequence of events. At any rate, many people left the music hall Friday night with such a kind and good feeling that they promptly progressed downtown the next day and lost their minds and the contents of their wallets in an overwhelming surge of generosity and good neighborliness. It's really Christmas—not hard at all to tell.

In certain favorite stores Saturday, sororities and frats practically held chapter meetings. Hovered over hot chocolate in surrounding restaurants and soda fountains, dorm dwellers held regular reunions with much merry. Friends went to great pains avoiding each other in order to keep gift choices a secret, but everyone seemed to end up in the same place picking out the same presents. Afterwards a steady pilgrimage filled down College Avenue—scrinning heads and frozen ears bobbing between boxes.

But this week brings the height of it. Professors now assume a new role. Endowing us with fare-well quizzes during the day, they park the grade books at night and switch to red flannels becoming old St. Nick for the different dorms and off campus houses, adding a bit of joy to the many parties, and presenting their many students—saddened by the day's events—with all sorts of goodies and little novelties.



At this time of the year everyone has some kind of a party. In the dorms are beautiful candlelight celebrations with readings from the Nativity and, naturally, the singing of carols. In the sorority and frat houses, toys with comic sayings are exchanged and later sent to orphans and underprivileged children.

Meanwhile, 'neath all this froth of Christmas decorations, package exchanges, and last minute shopping, the regular hustle-bustle continues with added excitement. The postman is swamped with a superflow of correspondence — dates, parties and dances all being arranged for the holidays—and he must make an extra porch to accommodate the impatient feet and high pitched shrieks. Anyone possessing a ray of sympathy is besieged with phone calls and pleading voices, for suit cases are half packed, ready to go home.

This is Christmas at Florida State, two weeks early but nonetheless spirited. Naturally, with everyone wishing everyone else a Merry Christmas—I have to say Merry Christmas, too! To the Senate—may your stockings be filled with multitudes of passed bills. To the courts—perhaps Santa will make us all behave, so your job will be a little easier. To the Flambeau—here's hoping the New Year will take away a little of the criticism this poor old paper always manages to amar.

To the football team, and all other athletic squads — a very successful next year; to the administration — a well rounded student body that will raise FSU's banner in the heights; to the Faculty—full seats in every class; to all officers—a campus full of congestion and fired up students; and to the student body—a year full of leisure, good grades, and multitudes of good times.

Oh yes, to the serenaders, who entertain us so beautifully and who truly bring us the wonderful spirit of this holiday season—may Santa bring you muffs, scarves, hand-knitted socks, plenty of hot chocolate and cough drops and angels! Now a very MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR! ACHOO-OO-O!!

● MANY THANKS

Last Tuesday, there came from the Registrar's office a decree which has caused untold happiness among the students of Florida State. For it was last Tuesday that University Senate and the student body at large were notified that a change in the dismissal hour for the Christmas holidays had been effected. From this time forth classes will be curtailed at 12:00 noon (12:30 for west campus) the day of dismissal for the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and spring vacations.

The students have many sources to thank for this move that surprised the campus. It all began when certain co-ed, faculty members, and dormitory councellors complained about the late hour of dismissal, saying that it necessitated long hours of dangerous night driving for students going to far away destinations. Others were forced to miss train and plane connections through the late departure hour, and inconvenient situations resulted.

All in all an unfortunate practice—one in long need of remedy—has been corrected. On Friday at the sound of the noon whistle, all tracks, roads and airways from Tallahassee will be jammed-crammed with happy students. We should like to commend for their part in this extraordinary phenomena —the members of University Senate, who conducted inquiries into the matter; but most especially we extend our gratitude to the members of Executive Council and the Schedule Committee, for considering, and making all needed arrangements.

In a recent release, Mr. Charles Walker, Registrar and Chairman of the Schedule Committee, said, "We believe that this change will be to the best interests of the students, which is, of course, the best interest of the University." Well, said. With this statement the Flambeau heartily agrees.

Once again, many thanks to those who were concerned in promoting this gift of all Christmas gifts for the students from . . . And a Merry Christmas To You All!

● SOMBER NOTE

Friday at noon a mass exodus from Florida State will get under way. Students will board planes, trains, buses and cars while thoughts of home, Christmas trees and a two-week vacation from the toils and troubles of college life dance in their wee little heads.

At the risk of putting a damper on anyone's gay holiday spirits, a sober reminder is nevertheless forthcoming. Vacation time is traditionally accompanied by a high rate of traffic fatalities and injuries. It is not pleasant to think that some Seminole may spend his Christmas vacation in the hospital or may never reach home at all, but such may be the case unless each and every holiday driver assumes the responsibility of safe driving.

With all classes being dismissed this year at noon instead of being staggered as in the past, the highways leading out of Tallahassee will be overly crowded to a dangerous degree. This makes sensible driving precautions all the more necessary if FSU drivers hope to hold down the accident rate.

Lead-footed, speed-happy drivers are a menace to themselves, their passengers, and fellow drivers on the road. However, speed is not the only menace to be curbed. Unnecessary risks should be avoided while alertness and carefullness should be adhered to at all times.

Trite as it may sound, "Better late than never." Christmas is such a good time of the year—let's not spoil it through carelessness on the highway.

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager
BABS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editor ..... Marcia Morris
Sports Editors ..... Jim Kelly, Pat Hagen
Copy Editor ..... Judy Simkins
Feature Editor ..... Lou Ann Cody
Features Editor ..... Al Ross
Morgue Editors ..... John Maracossa
National Ad Manager ..... Bob Harris, Liz Vuna
Local Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Assistant Managers ..... Betty Walton
Nancy Lowe, Julie Norton, Marilyn Seargent

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University-Tallahassee Florida. The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Telephone 3-2050, Extension 6021 Second Floor Alumni Bldg.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

ATTENTION Faculty, Staff, and Students

Get Your 1953 Desk Calenders At The

NOW

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

Zoology Professor Elected President

Dr. Yerger, assistant professor of zoology, was elected president of the Southeastern Ichthyologist and Herpetologists Society at its second annual meeting Saturday.

Dr. Yerger, Archibald Sharer, instructor of zoology, and Edwin Joseph, graduate student in zoology, attended the second annual meeting. Each of these men presented a paper at the meeting. Dr. Yerger's subject was "The Use of Rotenone in Tidal Stream Population Studies." Sharer's, "A Preliminary Report on Special Sensitive Caves in Bexar," and Joseph's, "The Fishes of Alligator Harbor, Florida with notes on their Distribution."

This society has been formed only recently by the eleven states in the southeastern region of the United States from Virginia to Louisiana.

Graduates, Faculty Hear Indian Music

Ceremonial and religious music of the Northern Cheyenne Indians of Montana was heard by graduate students and faculty at their weekly luncheon in Seminole dining room Monday noon.

It was presented by Dr. Robert Anderson of the department of anthropology and archaeology, who tape-recorded the drumming, chanting and singing of the Indian peoples on a field trip last Summer.

The selections included chanting of medicine men to the accompaniment of rawhide rattle; singing and the sounding of bone whistles in the Sun Dance; and songs of the Omaha Dance, peyote ritual and War Mothers Ceremony.

Dr. Anderson also displayed some of the ceremonial regalia which has been added to the collections of the University Museum.

Two Movie Features Presented For Group

The Geology Club will present two movie features tomorrow evening at 8 in Room 12, Geology Department.

The first movie, "The American Harvest," is based on the mineral industries in the United States, while the second, "Measuring and Sampling Cruda Oil", deals with the vast oil industry in the country.

The Geology Club has been active in obtaining prominent speakers to address club meetings in the past.

Everyone interested in the work to be depicted in the films is cordially invited to attend tomorrow night.

Boardman Is Made Religious Educator

Dorothy Boardman of Orlando recently accepted the position of Religious Educator as the First Presbyterian Church of Tallahassee.

A graduate of Florida State College for Women in 1945, Miss Boardman was active in campus functions, served as chairman of the Social Standards Committee and was president of Westminster Fellowship, she was also a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic honorary, and Spirosira, leadership honorary.

Miss Boardman received her Master of Arts degree in Bible at the Presbyterian Assembly's Training School and has taught Bible at Lees-McRae and at Montreat College. For the past three years she has been Director of Presbyterian Student Work at Woman's College, University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Dr. Irvin Cooper Is Song Composer

Dr. Irvin Cooper, of the Florida State University School of Music is composer of two volumes of songs for children.

Recently published by the British-American Music Company, "Songs for a Happy Child" comes in two volumes and includes 24 poems by Amy Bisett England, one of Canada's leading contemporary poets, set to song by Dr. Cooper.

In commenting, Dr. Cooper said, "Young voices present a peculiar problem to the composer since the songs must not only be melodically appealing, but adapted to the limited range of a child's voice."

The composer is a recognized authority on the juvenile voice and is the author of many articles on the changing adolescent voice. He has also written and arranged music for junior high school choruses.

Future Teachers Hear State Official Speak

F. A. Rhodes of the State Department of Education spoke to the Future Teachers of America Thursday night on the Minimum Foundation Law.

Plans were also made to give a tea for the representative from the National Education Association, as well as those for a program at the chapter's next meeting, Jan. 8, 1953, when students from Leon High School will be guests.

Tally Ho pictures will be made in the near future. Those interested in joining the FTA group should attend the next meeting.

Foil Fencing Clinic Held Last Weekend

A Foil Fencing Clinic was held on the campus last weekend, when students from the State Teachers' College at Troy, Ala., and Wesleyan College at Macon, Ga., gave demonstrations.

Miss Pat Shely, faculty member from Troy, was in charge of the clinic which included demonstrations of technique, bouts and sabre. Miss Jane Tumbaugh, fencing instructor at Wesleyan, was also present.

FSU students taking part in the clinic were Bob Gibson, Connie Bassett, A. J. Bassett, Cynthia Brown, Frances Cobb, Harry Gaines, Den Remington, Dick Hesler and Elizabeth Cooke. Miss Marion S. Sanborn, of Florida State, is the only fencing teacher on this campus.

Gould, Hambrock Get All-American Volleyball Honors

Two Florida State volleyball stars were honored at the half time of the Mercer game Saturday night with All-American certificates. The pair, Howard Gould of Chicago and Ronnie Hambrock of Terre Haute, Indiana, were selected on the Volleyball All-American at the Intercollegiate tournament in Ohio, last spring.

The team includes players from Mexico and Canada.

Movie Review

Adventure, Comedy Fill Movie Billings

By JUNE MORGAN

A Christmas sockful of entertaining movies crowed into the pre-holiday week at Tallahassee's two leading theatres.

Adventure lovers will enjoy the week's selection at the Florida, while those who favor light comedy will choose the State.

OUTSTANDING film of the week is G. Henry's Full House, a compendium of five dramas, twelve top stars and five outstanding directors. It finishes tonight at the State.

O. Henry has been noted for his unusual short stories and trick endings which have made him fame in that field.

REGARDLESS of the stars you prefer, in this show, that some of your favorites will be included in the galaxy comprising Full House. Among the top ones are Fred Allen, Anne Baxter, Jeanne Crain, Farley Granger, Charles Laughton, Oscar Levant, Marilyn Monroe, Jean Peters, Gregory Ratoff, Dale Robertson, David Wayne and Richard Widmark.

Wednesday and Thursday, the State will feature Weekend Father, the unbelievable story of newly weds who take four children with them on their honeymoon. Patricia Neal and Van Johnson play the bewildered bride and groom. Leading the litter of darlings, besides is Gigi Perreau, fifteenth's current popular child star.

STUDENTS spending the holidays in Tallahassee may have a chance to see the State weekend movie, Finders Keepers, starring Tom Ewell, Julia Adams, Evelyn Varden and "Dusty" Hetley. Also bordering on the unbelievable, Finders Keepers is the hilarious story of a little boy who takes home with one hundred thousand dollars.

* * *

Nerve-shattering action and suspense characterize the feature film at the Florida today and tomorrow, The Steel Trap. Returning to the screen after some years of an absence from the cinema spotlight are Joseph Cotten and Teresa Wright in the starring roles.

* * *

ANOTHER adventure film, Operation Secret, is showing this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Florida. It is the heroic story of an undercover U. S. Marine spy. Cornel Wilde stars in the picture, with Steve Cochran and the colorful "Greatest Show on Earth" Phyllis Malden also featured. Cochran completes the star cast.

Georgia Convention Elects Mrs. Blair

Mrs. Margaret Blair, assistant director of vocational guidance and placement, was elected treasurer of the Southern College Placement Officers Association at its three-day convention recently in Savannah, Georgia.

Miss Ava Sellers of Vanderbilt was elected president; George Street, of the University of Mississippi, vice-president; and Joe Caldwell, University of North Carolina, secretary.

Although the association has about an equal membership of college placement officials and representatives of business and industry, there is a precedent for officers to be elected from the college group.

The University of Georgia and the Union Bag and Paper Company were joint hosts at the convention, which featured a tour of the company's plant and a barbecue for the 200 association members present.

Foreign Students Hold Christmas Party

Members of the International Student's Club will wear native costumes for their annual Christmas party tonight at 7 in the main lounge of the Langmuir Building, according to David Yang, club president.

A short scriptural reading on the Christmas story will be read in several languages. There will also be national dances. Members and special guests will join in singing Christmas carols accompanied by a large decorated tree.

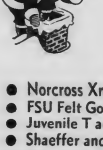
Dr. Albert Leduc of the modern languages department is faculty advisor for the club.

Magazine Sponsors Dance Band Contest

Florida State University has the chance to make another bid for fame in the nation's eye, as it has been doing of late.

Metronome, national band and orchestra leader's magazine, is sponsoring a contest, seeking from among the nation's colleges and universities the country's best college dance band.

Bands applying are asked to submit acetate recordings of their outfit, along with the official entry blank which can be picked up at the information desk in Longmire Building.



Bandleaders Ray Anthony, Stan Kenton, and Billy May, also with recording executives and Metronome editors will judge the entries and select the winning band.

Dine with us . . . in the Amber House

"Come to the Amber House for Good Country Fried Steak . . . 75c"

Dinner Menu
Fried Chicken
Oysters and Tartar Sauce
Country Fried Steak

"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

"We Have a Bagfull of Christmas Cheer for Your Friends and Family"

OPEN EVENINGS 'TIL 7

- Norcross Xmas and Greeting Cards
- FSU Felt Goods—New and Different
- Juvenile T and Sweat Shirts for Kids
- Shaeffer and Easterbrook Pen & Pencil Sets
- Montag and White Wycoff Stationery
- Fraternity T Shirts

Malone's Co-op Bookstore

FSU Gymnasts in First Home Appearance

The Sports Line

BY JIM EADY

...ida State basket ball team of Bud Kennedy is ...loomed sight on campus . . . . for two good reasons, ...e they're winning. Now this is a phenomena which has ...t walked for, patiently, after nothing but defeat in ...ball. The fans were developing a defeatism complex, so ...ple of wins is just what the doctor prescribed.

...econd, it's a crowd-pleasing ball club—hustlers, in other words ...n't what the fans want to see. And it's something they didn't ...e last year . . . or saw very much, anyway. That 1952-53 aggre- ...and the ability, but still only won five games, chiefly because ...n't really hustle.

...st of the two games Friday and Saturday week-end games are ...ncrease, things will be different this year. Two big games ...ge that this season's addition is a scrappy one as they came ...n behind in both contests to win.

...ecause what they gain in hustle, they have lost in experience ...ack of which was very noticeable in the first quarter of the ...ter spale. The visitors' pressing defense had the young Seminoles ...ed, and they were throwing' and passing all over the place. ...ner Kennedy's squad calmed down enough to salvage a victory. ...of COURSE the big gun in the Seminole attack so far has been ...ge Wernke, who has dumped in 62 points in the first four games, ...s an average of 23 per game. Wernke, a second semester fresh- ...e, has also been giving a good account of himself as a ball hawk- ...defensman.

...nother early season standout is this H. B. Marcum who packed ...m against Mercer. Marcum, from Kentucky, hit on five of his ...ts from mid all from out court, besides doing some fine rebounding. ...the worst thing of the whole evening was the refereeing. The ...officials were about their worst, amidst a constant stream of ...and cat-calls from fans, players and coaches. And they well ...erved it. Although they didn't show favoritism; they just called ...ame equally bad for both teams, and they had the same coach ...ted to a point just short of violence. Coach Kennedy certainly ...essed everybody's opinion when he informed the two officials ...You stink . . . etc.", after the game, of course.

* * *

SATURDAY'S FOOTBALL game between Theta Chi and Lambda ...i was one of the best seen this season. Campbell stadium ...ld frau though a little ragged went all out. But it looked like ...notorious Theta Chi's were just fired-up too much by their ...ch Al Wodnah for the LC's to handle.

...Everybody that saw the game would certainly like to see more ...e. However, intramural tackle football is a wee bit too expensive ...regular games. Especially so when a school is going all out ...cially to build a top rate intercollegiate team.

* * *

SPOTS SHORTS

The number of scholarships will probably be raised from the ...esent number of 55 to 75—a number very close to many SEC and ...on schools. . . . It's part of football EMPHASIS at FSU. . . . ...ed bet for "most valuable player" award is Stan Dobosz . . . ...e's a prognostication! . . . Injury number Italiano's chances. ...ard will be given tonight at football banquet. . . .

Anybody who likes gymnastics . . . and those who don't . . . couldn't miss the FSU-Syracuse meet, Thursday night. This outfit from the East, brought here at a nat-ion-small expense is one of the tops in the country . . . and certainly the best that has ever been on the campus.

LES BISHOP, a freshman basketball candidate last year, now in ...arms as on his way to Korea. . . . FSU's second-string catcher ...s year, Johnny Sheppard, joined the Air Force a few weeks ago. ...was a sophomore. Another baseballer, Ed Lockard (a 6-1 pitching ...ant last year) has a broken foot . . . from basketball. . . . Ron ...a 240-pound frosh footballer, quit school . . . weeks ago . . . ...ent home, to East Chicago. Poor marks may incapacitate a ...other gridmen for future use.

Baseball Hopefuls To Meet Wednesday At Men's Gym

Head baseball Coach Ralph ...ley has called all who are ...ested, to turn out for the baseball ...ad, next in the West Campus ...ym at 4 p.m. Wednesday, De- ...ber 17. The time when of- ...ial practice starts will be dis- ...ssed and also, Matherly would ...e to get an idea of how many ...ll be out this Spring. If weather permits, the pitch- ...rs and catchers will probably ...ld some after Christmas, while ...e infield prospects will prob- ...ly take the field at the begin- ...ng of the second semester.

Track Practice Posted by Miller

Head Track Coach Kenneth Miller has announced that varsity track practice will begin Monday, January 5, 1953. The daily sessions are scheduled for 4 p.m. at the West Campus track

"F" Club Pictures To Be Taken Thurs.

Pictures of the "F" Club are to be taken Thursday, Dec. 18, in the Annex building. All members are requested to be present and to wear their letter sweaters.

For Formal Time It's Tuxedo Time!

After Six BY KUPPENHEIMER

A tuxedo shouldn't stop at just "looking" good. Enjoy the com/ort that lighter weight fabrics, more casual lines, and "flexible" tailoring give you! See America's favorite formals—with informal comfort built in!

$45.00

Single and Double Breasted Models

Turner's

SYRACUSE STANDOUT—Pictured above is Freddie Fournier, one of the top flight gymnasts who'll perform for Syracuse against FSU, Thursday. Fourinier finished third in the flying rings in the Eastern Intercollegiate. He also performs on the side horse and rope climb.

Theta Chi's Win Campus Chest Game Over Lambda Chi; 12-6

A fired-up Theta Chi football team came from behind with two touchdowns on passes by quarterback Flip Pfifer in the second half to defeat Lambda Chi 12-6 in the second annual Campus Chest charity game. Playing in Campbell stadium before about 200 students, the Theta Chi's were sparked by the running and passing of Pfifer and end Ralph Blinn, who scored both touchdowns.

The winner's first score, which tied the contest at 6-6, came on a 70 yard run by Blinn after he had taken a pass from Pfifer. And the second came on a 45-yard pass from Pfifer to Blinn, who, this time, took it on the loser's 20 and dashed into the end-zone.

The lone score for the Lambda Chi's was made by Bill Suttlemyre on a plunge from six inches out. The touchdown, which was set-up by Pfifer's fumble, capped a forty yard drive, sparked by the running of Fred Mansfield.

Besides scoring the only touchdown for the loser's Suttlemyre also sparkled on the defense all afternoon from his quarterback spot.

The scorelees first half was clearly dominated by Theta Chi, but they bogged down each time they moved into easy scoring distance. The winner's first threat got to the 10 where the Lambda Chi's held and took over. But they fumbled and the Thetas' Ray Cooper recovered. Three plays later TC, with only 1 yard to go for a touchdown, fumbled again.

Lambda Chi, with their backs against the wall had Futtleroyce punt out and TC took over at their own 47. However, they had the ball for only a few plays before Mansfield intercepted a pass from Pfifer and ran it back to his own 25.

AS WAS THE case for the entire first half, LC was unable to muster a sustained offense, so Suttlemyre had to punt again. His kick, a low spiral, sailed 50

(Continued on Page 4)

Football Team To Be Feted With Banquet

Florida State's football team will be feted tonight at 7 at the stath annual Kiwanis Club football banquet, at the American Legion home. The featured guest will be Warren Foster of Atlanta, who represents a soft drink company, and last year furnished the Tallahassee "Quarterbacks" Club with one of their most humorous programs. He appeared before the QB's as "Coach Joe Pumkin."

Unlike the past banquets, Coach Don Veller will not select a captain for next year's team. Instead, he will appoint a different captain for each game. Veller will be returning to the system used in 1948 when game-captains were appointed.

Without the naming of a team captain, the top event of the evening will be the awarding of the Balfour Award. The honor is given to the player considered the most valuable by his teammates. Veller will also announce the names of the players to receive letters for the 1952 season.

Last year's winner of the Balfour Award was fullback Mike Sellers who was the first back to win the honor.

Harry Johns, a syndicated football columnist during the Fall, was the speaker at last night's affair. A record crowd of 260 was on hand to hear Mehre, a former coach at Mississippi and Georgia Tech.

Face Syracuse U. Thursday Night In Women's Gym

By TOM CONKLING

The 1952-53 curtain will rise Thursday night for the National Champion Florida State Gymnastics team when Syracuse University's Orange and Blue meet the Seminoles in the East Campus Gymnasium.

Syracuse, ranked second only to Army in the East, boasts a crack five man team headed by ace tumbler, "Corky" Sebbo. Sebbo finished second in last year's NCAA meet, missing the the championship by a scant margin of 1/10 of a point.

THE SEMINOLES, who have won three national titles in two years, must be considered favorites. However, in a dual meet between high calibre squads anything can happen and past accomplishments mean little once competition begins.

The Orangemen represent the strongest opponent to ever take on the Seminoles in their home gym where they have been invincible ever since Pete first set up house here in 1949.

In their only previous outing this season the Florida State Gymkana team passed by graduate student Bill "The Rocket" Rootsbeir, who won four first places, notched trophy number 13 under coach Dr. Hartley Price at the Alabama Invitational meet.

OLYMPIC PERFORMER Don Hodge heads the FSU squad which includes such veterans as Joe and Carmine Reyna, co-captains; Pat Simonelli, Jack Mills, Dick Guttine, Al Ruda, Dick Ireland, Larry Weston, "Speed" Marcus, and Jim Tanaka.

The rope climbing event, always the weak link for past Seminole teams, has been emphasized in early practice sessions. Under the tutelage of assistant coach Frank Hill, the rope climbers have shown amazing progress and against strong opposition the school record is almost a sure bet to be lowered.

JUDGING THE MEET WILL be three of the greatest names in the history of gymnastics at FSU namely, Bill Roethlisberger, four time national all-around champion and member of past Olympic teams; Joe Calvetti, former national collegiate horizontal bar champion; and Bill Weston, two time Big Ten all around champion.

Events in the meet include, side horse, parallel bars, horizontal bar, tumbling, flying rings, trampolins and rope climbs.

The Syracuse boys will be admitted free upon presentation of their ID cards. There will be tickets sold at a small fee for non-students.

An added attraction of the meet will be the presentation by Dr. Hartley Price of his all-time gymnastic team. Dr. Price has coached Illinois and Florida State teams to no less than nine national championships. Price has coached Illinois to six national crowns and has already notched three since coming to Florida State University.

Dr. Price, who is to the sport of gymnastics what Knute Rockne is to football, John McGraw to baseball and Phog Allen to basketball, will name the top performers whom he has coached on each apparatus and the best all-around performer.

Two More Victories Notched by FSU Cager

Wernke Continues Hot Scoring Spree in Mercer; Rollins Wins

BY J. EADY

The hustling, freshmen-sophomore studded basketball team of Florida State, added two more victories to their record over the weekend by first beating Rollins, 80-63, Friday night and then edging the Mercer Bears 67-66 in overtime, Saturday. The two wide-scoring victories gave the Seminoles a 3-1 record and the one lower Mercer reversed the season-opening defeat, FSU suffered against the Georgians.

The 90 points against Rollins are the most any Florida State quintet has ever scored and the combined total of 172 points are the most racked-up in a single game.

The two wins gave Coach Bud Kennedy a record of 83 wins—32 defeats while at FSU.

In the action-packed Mercer game, Ham Wernke, 6-5 junior, bulwarked the Seminoles in their overtime victory. The six-foot sophomore from Indiana, also dropped in 4 points in the overtime, while freshmen H. B. Marcum's free throw and Jim Tom Richardson's basket really clinched the contest.

JERRY WESTHAFER and Marcum were behind Wernke in scoring, each with 14 points. Mercer's high man was Veal, who counted 16 points before he fouled out. He was one of three Mercer cagers to leave the game via the foul route. Tommy Burns was the only Seminole to foul out.

The hard fought battle against Mercer, watched by almost a full house, was forced into overtime when Jerry Westhafer tied the count, 66-66 with a push shot as the regular time ran out. His game-tying bucket climaxed a Mercer surge, which saw them erase a six point lead held by FSU with only a minute remaining.

IN THE OVERTIME period Wernke scored first and then both teams matched points until the score reached 74-74. But here, Jimtom Richardson's jump shot, put the Seminoles in front for good, with Marcum's free throw being the real climax.

Mercer's pressuring defense had the Seminoles in a state of disorder for most of the first half, resulting in many miss interceptions for the Georgians. It was because of this "atrocious ball handling"—as Kennedy called it after the game—that Mercer was able to stay in the lead.

But the Seminoles gradually steadied down and resumed their poise, in the second quarter. Breaking through the Bears' pressing defense, the Seminoles finally tied the score and then went ahead to lead 40-34 at the half. The attack was led by Wernke who "assisted" in the tying bucket—a basket made by a fired-up Wernke's shot glanced down hard off the rim, bounced off Richardson and into the basket. Richardson, who got 9 points and did a fine job of rebounding, got credit for the two points.

THE SEMINOLES WERE in the lead the entire second half, although never by more than 8 points. Mercer thrusened frequently, and finally tied the score at 57-57 all, with 4 minutes remaining in the contest. But FSU pulled ahead and accomplished a 66-60 lead with a mere minute left in the game. At this point with the Seminoles refusing the pressure Mercer started their scoring drive which finally thrust the game into the five minute overtime.

The Seminoles made 26 baskets as compared to 21 for Mercer, but it was at the foul line where the contest was decided. For Kennedy's cagers hit on 25 out of a 34 foul shots, while the losers

(Continued on Page 4)

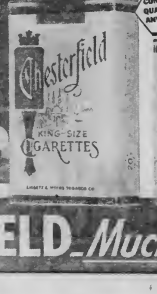
Chesterfield is Best for YOU!

"THEY SATISFY—AND HOW....In school and out, I've been a Chesterfield smoker for 5 years," says John B. Boyce, financial analyst. "They've got what it takes to give me what I want in a cigarette."

John B. Boyce

COLUMBIA UNIV. '50

—And First to Present this Scientific Evidence on Effects of Smoking



A MEDICAL SPECIALIST is making regular bi-monthly examinations of a group of people from various walks of life. 45 percent of this group have smoked Chesterfield for an average of over ten years.

After eight months, the medical specialist reports that he observed . . .

no adverse effects on the nose, throat and sinuses of the group from smoking Chesterfield.

CHESTERFIELD—FIRST and only premium quality cigarette available in both regular and king-size.

CONTAINS TOBACCOS OF BETTER QUALITY AND HIGHER PRICE THAN ANY OTHER KING-SIZE CIGARETTE

Buy CHESTERFIELD Much Milder

Copyright 1952, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA

TODAY THRU WEDS.
"The Steel Trap"
With Joseph Cotten and Teresa Wright

STARTS THURSDAY
"Operation Secret"
With Cornel Wilde

STATE

LAST TIME TODAY
"Full House"
Jeanne Crain
Fred Allen, Ann Baxter

WEDS. thru THURSDAY
"Week-End With Father"
with Van Heflin and Patricia Neal

RITZ

TODAY and WED S.
"The Sellout"
With Walter Pidgeon and Audrey Totter

STARTS THURSDAY
"Stronghold"
Also
"Apache Country"

DRIVE-IN

TODAY and WEDS.
"Carbine Williams"
With James Stewart

STARTS THURSDAY
"Cave of the Outlaws"
Also
"Road Agent"

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

(Continued on Page 4)

There's fun-filled confusion when the campus empties into cars, trains and planes as Christmas holidays begin. Heading for good times? Pause for a Coke and go refreshed.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Students May Take Civil Service Test

Florida State students may apply for the Civil Service examination for Student Aid Trainee paying $2,950 and $3,175 a year. Most of the positions are located in various Federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and vicinity.

The examination is open to college Sophomores and Juniors majoring in the fields of chemistry, physics, mathematics, metallurgy, meteorology and various branches of engineering.

Appointments will be for employment during school vacation periods or for periods of employment of students in co-operative courses. Applicants must have completed appropriate college study; a written test will be given. Students who expect to complete the required study by June 30, 1953, may apply. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Full information regarding the training program and the requirements for applying are available at most first and second class post offices and at the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Dr. Baum Tells Of FSU Faculty Grants

Dr. Werner A. Baum, head of the department of meteorology, has announced a number of faculty grants made by the FSU Research Council at their last meeting.

A $600 grant has been awarded Dr. H. A. Curtis, professor of Education, for studying the problems of educating children in Florida of widely different cultural backgrounds.

Dr. John Spitzer, temporary assistant professor of physiology, was awarded $1,200 for study in that field.

Nine hundred five dollars was earmarked for Dr. Robert W. Rogers, assistant professor of zoology, for the study of alpha particle arradiation effects on metosis in living cells.

Dr. Helen A. Denyes, assistant professor of physiology, was awarded $600 to study the comparisons resulting in hibernating and non-hibernating mammals.

Ninety-nine dollars was awarded to Dr. George Lensen, assistant professor of history, to study Russo-Japanese Relations Purchase of Micro-films.

Calderoni Is Elected President of Ad Club

Members of the Advertising club elected officers recently. Louis Calderoni is the new club's president. Mike Barlow was elected vice-president.

Cagers Win Two

(Continued from Page 3)

gathered only 14 points via the foul shot.

IN THE FRIDAY hair-raiser against Rollins, the Seminoles had to stave an up-hill battle to notch their 90-83 victory. Behind 62-41 with less than two minutes to play, FSU staged a furious rally and poured through 7 points in the last minute. The lead changed hands 25 times before the final game-winning splurge.

Five of the eight Seminoles who saw action against the Tars got 10 or more points, with Wernke leading the way with 21. Right behind him was Westaby with 20. Richardson got 13, Sophomore Tommy Burst scored 12, and Duane Gordon notched 11.

But scoring honors for the night were taken by Rollin's Bob McHardy with 31. McHardy was all over the floor for the Tars and his play kept his team in the struggle till the end.

FSU Has Purchased Van Hyning Collection

The Van Hyning Shell Collection, reputed to be one of the best in Florida, has been purchased by Florida State University for study, teaching, research and display purposes, Dr. James S. Cullison, head of the department of zoology, has announced.

Boasting 3,765 species, the collection is classified into three major categories: Florida shells, 1,357 species; world shells, 2,194 species; and Iowa shells, 214 species.

"THE FLORIDA collection has special significance because there are so many specimens of each species, 25 or more, from so many different localities, offering study of variations within individual species," Dr. Cullison said.

Beautiful conch specimens, including queen, fighting, trumpet and Triton (Greek sea god; hor- are among the Florida shells. Th- are from the East Coast, W- Coast, Inland Beaches and Keys. Many were dredged up f- deep waters.

IMPRESSIVE AMONG exhibition shells in the collection are three pairs of man-eating clam from the South Pacific, weighing about 300 pounds per pair. A- kind pearl divers fear becau- they are sometimes caught a- tween the huge lips. The clam- are not literally man-eating.

The Iowa collection is comprised entirely of land and fresh wat- shells. It is one of two be- complete collections of its kin-

THE LATE DR. T. Van Hyning, who made his collection of shells a lifetime hobby, was director of the Florida State Museum at Gainesville for many years. He had extensive contact with collectors all over the state, the country and the world —traded with them and bought from them. Purchase of the collection was made through the e- his four sons, C. C. Van Hyning of Sebring.

Exhibition shells in the geology department are treated with a plastic spray to preserve their natural colors and give a high gloss. They are carefully numbered, labelled and placed in showcases, enabling students and visitors to make direct comparisons and deductions with personal shell findings.

DR. CULLISON said only selected shells in the new collection will be unpacked immediately because present crowded quarters in the department put a premium on space. University plans call for a new geology building. When it is finished, a comprehensive exhibition of the Van Hyning shells will feature the opening.

Meanwhile, Dr. Cullison and staff are displaying exhibition shells of the new collection as space available. Arrangements are underway to make the exhibits open to the public, Sundays as well as weekdays.

Theta Chi Wins

(Continued from Page 3)

yards and was taken by Phifer, who ran it back 25 yards to his 42. The half ended with TC on the loser's eight yard line.

Theta Chi took the kick-off to start the second half, but on their second play, Phifer fumbled and LC's Wargoner recovered at the 40, a mishap resulting in the game's first TD. From here Miller picked up 10 and Mansfield scampered for gains of 10 and 8 yards. On second down, with LC six away from a score, Mansfield dashed around end, but was hit inches short of the double line by Schafer. However, Suttlemyre, on the next play, cracked over, and the Lambda Chi's were ahead. The try for extra point, an end run, failed.

About five minutes later the game was thrown into a tie on Blinn's 70 yard touchdown run. Just before Blinn's score, Scutter-Mead intercepted a Phifer pass for Lambda Chi, at the TC 8, but TC got the ball right back when they recovered a Lambda Chi fumble.

Minutes before the end of the content, the game winning tally was chalked up by TC. They got the ball after a 50 yard completed pass by Suttlemyre was nullified by a backfield-in-motion penalty. Then Lambda Chi punted. On the first attempt after taking the punt at their 45, Phifer hit Blinn with a perfect throw at the 20 Blinn who had gotten behind the LC defense, sprinted the rest of the way. The try for extra point was unsuccessful.

The winners were coached by varsity footballers Al Wodham and Vic Szczepanik, while the mentors for the Lambda Chis were Vic Polak and Ken MacLean. MacLean is the "B" team football coach—J.E.

Tribble and Graham Talk To FSU Class

Lewis H. Tribble, general counsel for the State Comptroller's Office, and James L. Graham, director, Division of Finance, State Department of Education, discussed the responsibilities of their offices in the supervision of local activities of county governments recently before a public administration class.

The class is taught by Andrew Laird, state merit system supervisor, and part-time FSU faculty member in public administra-

For a Gift You'll Be Proud to Give . . .

'The Princess PURSE by GODFREY

Exclusive with Miller's Bootery

3.00 or 3.50 plus tax

as shown 3.50

Stamped Free

Look at the Features:

★ Outside change purse
★ Detachable, snap-on key case
★ Detachable picture case for 8 pictures
★ Snap-tab closure
★ The large money pocket
★ Stitched in nylon, will not rot

Look at the Colors:

★ Red Solid
★ Green/light green trim
★ Brown/tan trim
★ Brown/red trim
★ Tan/beige trim
★ Wine/rose trim
★ Solid Honey Saddle Leather

Look at the Materials

Your Choice of Either

★ New Zealand Lambskin
★ Saddle Leather

3.00 and 3.50 plus tax

With Your Name or Initials Stamped Free.
Gift Boxed, Gift Wrapped Free

Miller's Bootery

a glamorous gift, perfect for giving . . .

Miller's Bootery

Dainty Evening Bags

STYLED BY Garay

Soft, luxurious Brocades in gold, silver Blended Multi Colors and in Black . . . Excellent choice for evening or cocktail wear . . . A perfect gift . . . Some can be dyed to match shoes . . .

5.00 plus tax

Gift Wrapped Free

*Exclusive with Miller's Bootery

Tallahassee's Christmas Store

MILLER'S Bootery

College Ave.

For Santa's sake . . . Give the finest

NoMend Proportioned Nylon Hose

15	denier	60 gauge	1.95
15	denier	dark seam	1.65
15	denier	No seam	1.35
30	denier	51 gauge	1.65

in beautiful new Christmas colors . . . Gift boxed and Gift wrapped free.

Miller's Bootery

Bertha Cooke

TAILORED BY Gaynes

ALL TO MATCH SKIRT Miron Worsted Flannel
BLOUSE Miron Worsted Jersey

Garnet Key
Taps 16 Girls
See Page One

Florida Flambeau

Tuesday Inauguration
Installs Dan McCarty
As 31st Governor

Vol. XXXIX, No. 23 | PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA | Friday, January 9, 1953

Thornhill's Band To Play Sandspur

Claude Thornhill, the nationally famous Columbia recording artist, will bring his orchestra to Florida State University, Saturday, February 21, for the Sandspur dance, which will run from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Suwannee Room, Sandspur Chairman Jim Harris announced.

Only 1000 tickets will be sold this year, according to Sandspur dance committee's head Mac McCall. This action has been taken after careful consideration of all facts involved in the processing of the Suwannee Room during past dances. Former dances have been so crowded, claims McCall, that numerous students have requested a smaller dance where tickets sold on a "first-come-first-served" basis.

OVER 550 STUDENTS were asked if they would rather have a out crowd as against a larger crowd with lower prices for admission.

"Our ability to do this," McCall continues, "was facilitated by the fact that we obtained this orchestra (the Thornhill ensemble) at a slightly less expensive rate than has been possible in the past. The Military Ball proved to be one of the most successful dances yet held on campus for the same reason; there were no more than 1700 in attendance.

IN REPLY to many queries from all over campus as to why Ralph Flanagan, Billy May or other comparable orchestra couldn't be obtained, the dance committee has stated two reasons First the limited facilities of the Suwannee Room would

(Continued on Page 4)

Coral Gables Will Entertain Debate Squad

Florida State University's championship varsity debate squad will debate four opponents in Coral Gables at the University of Miami invitational debate tournament. Arlene Arnerd and Catherine Skogstad will be defending their championship against at least ten other university squads.

Arlene and Katherine, Seniors, will be teamed up with graduate Emmett Bert Bradley and Bill Barnack. The women will debate the affirmative side on the question, "Resolved that the federal government should enact a system of fair employment practices act." The men will debate the negative.

Last Tuesday evening, the debate squad discussed the strategy that would best help in debating the question. Dr. Greg Rohr, coach of the team, commented "Our opponents will be keen to beat, but we're going to show them that we are we."

Last year was the first year FSU had been invited to participate in the tournament, and only the Seminoles had challenge was against other opponents. Going into the tournament are some considered the underdogs but entered the undisputed victors.

Spalding and Pops Top Billing Here For Next Semester

Kiwi Spalding, nationally known violinist, will be soloist in a concert in the Opperman Music Hall, Jan. 16, at 8:15 p.m. On Feb. 6, Mr. Spalding will be soloist with the State Symphony of Florida. Ernest von Dohnanyi will be guest conductor. The concert is to be held in the Tallahassee Auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

THE STRING CLINIC for students and teachers of violin, viola, violincello and string bass will be held Feb 12-14. Eighty-seven outstanding string players will be in Tampa and Tallahassee in January. At these auditions the clinicians will be selected to be part with the String Clinic Orchestra in concert on Feb. 14. All students desiring further information should contact the head of the School of Music.

The Artist Series will present concert by the Boston Pops Orchestra Feb 25. There will be a Pops performance at 8:15 p.m. and an evening performance at 8:15 p.m. in the Leon High School Auditorium.

THE FLORIDA Sixth District Band and Orchestra Festival will be held March 26-28. The festival will feature thirty North Florida bands in marching and concert activities.

April 17 the University Symphony will give its concert with Ernest Sedeno conducting. The Men's Glee Club will give a concert April 30 in the Opperman Music Hall. May 5 the Orchestra will give a concert and May 18 will be the concert by the Choral Union.

Mandatory Exams Offered Next Week

Announcement has been made by the Test Service Bureau of Florida State University of the opportunity to take several examinations mandatory for registration of every student at the university. Most students who have no time to will have the chance to take the American Council of Psychological Examination, the Minnesota Personality Scale and the General Culture Test. These tests must be completed in order to register for the second semester.

Students who find they must take these tests at this period already automatically incur a penalty fee of five dollars per test. Before taking them, students must stop by the Test Bureau in Education Building and pay their fees. They will be given a card and the Education Building The A.C.E. Psychological exam is scheduled for Monday, Jan. 14 at 4 p.m. The Minnesota Scale will be given on Wednesday January 14 at 4:15 p.m. The General Culture exam will be given Thursday, Jan. 15 from 4:45 to 10 p.m.

James Club To Meet

The James Club will meet in the lounge of the Longmire Building on Jan. 15 at 8 p.m. Dr. Jesse Stevens of the clothing and textile department will be speaker. He will discuss given each group and the set of headlines they received. The investigators also determined the opinions and stories for Eisenhower and Stevenson on the front page, and their position. The opinions of photographs depicted to each candidate were studied.

IN A SIMILAR fashion the student-researcher counted the introductory sentences for Stevenson and for Eisenhower and then analyzed and tabulated the "adjumna" written by local and syndicated writers.

The conclusions did the evidence based on the investigation show? Here are some of the generalizations according to Prof. Kobre, who gives considerable credence to the students who did the measuring and to James E. Couch, who worked on the final tabulations and charts.

1. On nearly all the individual items and picture aspects examined, the Florida newspapers, as a whole, favored the Democratic party and its presidential candidate. The score was 51 per cent for the Democrats and 49 per cent for the Republicans. There were many variations in treatment, however, from paper to paper.

2. IN TWO of the three pollcentric generally were favored in the upper-right, the best position, and in the lower-half of the page. The Republicans were given an advantage in the upper-left hand position. Some papers leaned heavily toward the Republican party and one paper editor stressed the Democratic stories.

New Members Are Revealed By Garnet Key

Night Tapping Sees Twelve Seniors And Four Juniors Tapped

Twelve Florida State University Senior girls and four Juniors were tapped last night as new members of Garnet Key, women's honorary at FSU.

Seniors include Barbara Brewton, Frances Cawthon, Dot Rougias, Terry Porter Garrett and Brole Harris.

ELIZABETH HILL, Betty Holland, Beverly Lacayo, Leah La-Plante, Betty Ann Pierce, Jane Shepard and Claudia Thomas.

Juniors are Peggy Dame, Judy Simkins, Carolyn Gola and Jean Wetherell.

Following the tapping last night, the girls were serenaded by the Garnet Key members.

THIS MORNING the new taps will be at a breakfast at 7 in the Seminole Room.

Before initiation, the taps will give a party for the actives as follows tradition in the honorary.

Garnet Key is the women's counterpart of Gold Key, Men's honorary. Members are chosen by Garnet Key for leadership, service and spirit as well as scholastic rating.

Soda Shop to Try New Closing Hour Tracy Announces

The Soda Shop of the Longmire Building will be closed daily at 8 p.m., according to a notice from Miss Anna M. Tracy, director of Food Service. This went into effect Monday because of "financial reasons," she said.

A study of the records of income and patronage said Miss Tracy, show that 70 per cent of the income comes before 3 p.m., 84 per cent of the customers comes before 5 p.m. "There is so little trade at night at the Soda Shop," she continued, "that often the only people in the Shop were the employees. We cannot keep them open when the income of those hours is less than the cost of operation."

MISS TRACY explained the drop in business because the Student Union draws the crowds, and the once popular "night owls" is no longer heading the list.

"Perhaps at some future date we may open the Soda Shop at night again if the trade is sufficient to justify it. If we had a spot near the Soda Shop where we could have impromptu dancing perhaps we could attract more students to the Soda Shop at night."

But at any time there should be a big dance in them Longmire Building," she continued, "and the sponsors of the dance want the Soda Shop open, I will be glad to consider their wishes."

Exam Delinquents Will Be Charged Five Dollar Fees

The last Junior English examination of this semester will be given from 4:30 to 6 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 22.

All transfers who have not had it before, all Juniors and Seniors who were deferred for special reasons and all Sophomores who will be Juniors next semester must take the examination. No one will be permitted to repeat it.

Eligible students who fail to take the examination will be assessed a five dollar delinquent fee. It is paid prior to the next registration. Such students who were posted delinquent for failing to take the last examination will present their delinquent slips when they register Jan. 22.

All Sophomores who had in Sept. 1, 1952, a minimum of 62 hours are expected to take the test.

Students who plan examination indicate a need for remedial work will be enrolled for Junior English 302 and 303 without registration.

Before the time of the examination, students who have conflicts should clear their schedules in the English Office.

Professor Is Author Of Manual Chapter

Dr. Gregg Phifer, assistant professor of speech, is the author of the chapter "Evidences" in the "Informational Organization" in the Twenty-Sixth Discussion and Debate Manual."

The manual is prepared for high school discussers and debaters and is distributed in Florida by the National University Extension Association and Florida general extension division of Florida.

Toped Speech Given

The tape recording of a talk by Dr. Ralph Eisenberg, president of the American Physical Society presented at the 20th anniversary of the American Institute of Physics, was played the Wednesday afternoon for the Physics Seminar. The topic of the talk was "Physics as Science and Art."

FSU Students Aid Study On Elections Journalistics

Twenty students of the School of Journalism and other departments assisted recently in the first nation-wide survey of the 1952 presidential campaign.

The survey, conducted under the supervision of Prof. Sidney Kobre of the School of Journalism, was carried out for the purpose of determining the press bias handled the Eisenhower-Stevenson campaign from a news, picture and editorial standpoint.

THE STATISTICAL forms were worked out in the consultation with Dean Lauren R. Campbell and Prof. William B. Blankenburg of the Business School. Funds were provided by the FSU Research Council.

The "no" in the survey explained Dr. Kobre, "the students at FSU examined 34 out of 37 Florida papers for one month, a crucial period. Our survey covered the period from Sept. 1 to Nov. 3, the day before the election."

SOME IDEA of the extent of the investigation can be obtained from the fact that the 34 papers inches of news space and 5,241, news articles. They scrutinized 907 photocuphs. On the editorial side they read 231 editorials and 309 columns.

Eight specific yardsticks were used by the researchers to determine the politics of the papers and their news and editorial treatment of the candidates and issues. These yardsticks included the number of news stories for each party, the number of stories.

Citrus Grower From Ft. Pierce Becomes 31st Florida Governor

Florida's New Governor

McCARTY INAUGURATED—Dan McCarty of Ft. Pierce takes the oath of office from Supreme Court Chief Justice H. L. Sebring. McCarty officially became Florida's 31st governor at the inauguration ceremonies held Tuesday in Tallahassee.

McCarty Inaugurated Here Before Crowds of Spectators

Dan McCarty became he 31st governor of the state of Florida Tuesday as many Florida State University students and faculty members stood in the crowds and watched. The University closed its classrooms for the Inaugural events.

McCarty took the oath of office from Supreme Court Chief Justice H. L. Sebring 10 minutes before high noon, the traditional time for the swearing in of Florida governors. The Bible used in the ceremony was a gift from McCarty's mother before she died.

THE 46-YEAR-OLD Ft. Pierce citrus grower and cattleman—not the usual lawyer—made a short inaugural address after receiving the seal of the state from out-going Gov. Fuller Warren, who had, before the ceremonies, given a farewell address to the people.

McCarty repeated his often made statement that "we can meet the needs of the next four years without additional taxation by our people," but added that he will ask the Legislature convening in April to increase the tax on dog race tracks "which I feel are not now contributing their fair share to the cost of government."

HE ADVOCATED further promotion of the tourist trade urging the people of Florida to treat tourists as investors, not spenders. The tourists, he said, "will pay a third of the state's taxes, because he shares the tax burden they contribute is soundly spent and supports a government that is morally clean.

The new Governor also stands for reorganization and consolidation, more conservation services, more agricultural research, additional money and effort for health, welfare, education and institutional care. He also said, "there will be no lickers issued to anyone for a crazy train ride."

HE PLEDGED, "I will not lil-

(Continued on Page 4)

Annual Announces Entrants' Deadline

Today is the deadline for entrants in the beauty section of the 'Ad Tally Ho. Sororities, Dramities and organizations may submit a maximum of two entries they wish, according to Claudia Thomas, Tally Ho editor.

Jon Whitcomb, Annual beauty expert and art illustrator will be final judge for the beauty contest. Preliminary judging will be done by faculty members and students chosen by the Tally Ho staff.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF fifteen finalists will be chosen and sent to Whitcomb who will choose ten girls and the ten beauties. All other finalists will be included in the beauty section of the yearbook.

It has also been announced that the Miss Florida contest winners or those leaving school this semester may obtain a '53 Tally Ho only if they are voted the second escuster student activity fee. This will be collected at the time they pay at the business office here. Claudia Thomas asks that the quickest way to get the annual is to leave your ID card and receipt from the student activity fee and let a friend get it for you.

ALL ORGANIZATIONS requiring space in the Tally Ho must contact JoAnne Moore at the Alpha Delta House. Deadline for the organization pictures is Jan. 14.

Anyone having clear snapshots of "student life at FSU" are requested to submit them to the Tally Ho office by Jan. 21.

Gilchrist To Be Host For A Boli Hai Ball

A "Boli Hai Ball" will be held Saturday night for the girls of Gilchrist and their dates. The dance will be from 9 until 12 p.m. in the Longmire Auditorium.

The ball is under the direction of Joy Carter, chairman of the social committee and Jean McCormick chairman of the Gilchrist social committee.

Neel Receives Service Medal

Bronze Star Awarded For Front Line Valor

Dr. Samuel R. Neel Jr., chaplain for Florida State, will be presented the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service in Korea at ceremonies set for 12:30 until 1:30 p.m. January 13 at the ROTC practice field on West Campus.

The award will be made by Lt. Gen. E. W. Booth, professor of Military Science and Tactics, Army ROTC, Maj. W. M. Lingenfelter, area commissioner, will make the citation address. ROTC army and air units will participate in the ceremonies to be witnessed by FSU officials and students.

THE CITATION states that Dr. Neel, "Evincing utter disregard for his personal comfort and safety constantly circulated through front line positions ministering to the spiritual needs of the sick and wounded."

A member of the faculty here since 1946, Dr. Neel's service was interrupted by the war in Korea, where he served as a front line chaplain. His unit, the 31st Infantry Regiment, won distinction in battles for possession of Triangle Hill. He volunteered to be a combat chaplain with the 106th Infantry Division in the European Theater.

Dr. Neel was taken prisoner by the Germans during the Battle of the Bulge. He was Protestant chaplain for 3,500 fellow prisoners until liberated by Russians.

He received a Bronze Star Medal for his chaplain services during World War II.

A native of Alderson, W. Va., Dr. Neel is the son of the Rev. Samuel F. Neel Sr., a retired Methodist minister, and Mrs. Neel who now live in Cumberland, Md. He is married and has two children.

Dance Honorariies Plan Annual Ball To End Semester

Cavalier and Cotillion, honorary dance groups at Florida State University, have joined hands to sponsor their annual Cavalier-Cotillion Formal dance.

Scheduled by the groups will be 13 tonight at the "O" Club at West Campus. The dance will serve as a highlight of the social activities of the first semester.

Admission prices of $2 each or per couple or per person if going stag were set by the group going for a nominal price, according to its committee.

Music from the talented Ted Kimen and his orchestra who appeared for the Landis Formal will be played.

Highlighting the evening will be the dance contest and the presentation of new tops from Cavalier and Cotillion ranks. The tops will be selected and announced by the presidents of the two organizations.

Refreshments will be served during the evening and arrangements have been made available for the affair. The last bus will leave Westcott at 12:45 a.m. for West Campus and the dance will go several extra buses at the "O" Club at the close of the dance or handle the return traffic to East Campus.

Tickets are on sale at the Post Office at the Student Center and at the bus stop directly between Westcott until 4 p. m. today. There will also be a sale of tickets at the door tonight.

'TV Talent Show' To Feature Co-Ed

Jacqueline Morris, Florida State University coed who was crowned Florida's first "Jeanie with the Light Brown Hair" in ceremonies at the Stephen Foster Memorial last Spring, will be one of the featured vocalists in a program commemorating Foster on Saturday evening, Jan. 10.

The program will be Paul Whiteman's "TV Talent Show," to be broadcast over WFIL-TV, Jacksonville, from 7 to 7:30 p.m.

Miss Morris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Morris of Quincy. She played a leading role in the "51 production of "Sandspur."

Graduate Club Meets

Dr. M. F. Nimkoff, of the sociology department, will speak on "The Writing of a Thesis," at the Graduate Club luncheon meeting Thursday, Jan. 15 at 1:23 p.m. The luncheon itself begins at 12 p.m. All interested students are invited.

Speech Department To Present Play

An experienced cast led by experienced director Carl Zerke, is in preparation for the second major production of the department of speech. "The Taming of the Shrew" which will be presented in the Augusta Conrad Theater January 16, 17, 19, 20.

Recognized as one of Shakespeare's funniest comedies, "The Taming of the Shrew" centers around a 'bold young man' who tries to tame the "famous scold" of a woman . . . and successfully does it.

PLAYING THE 'bold young man,' Petruchio, will be Robert Shafer and his shrew, Katherine, will be played by Jayne Gardner.

Following Petruchio around, and making pests of themselves will be David Drea, playing the part of Gremio, Petruchio's servant Hortensio Bogdahn as Lucentio, plans strategy to marry Katherine's younger sister Bianca, as played by Bettye Ann Ray.

OTHERS IN the cast include Bill Fuller as Baptista, father of Bianca; Leonitio Hort Bowen as Pallata, father of the two girls. Carl Zerke as man as Germio, an old man seeking marriage to Bianca; Huber Eldingsworth as Hortensio friend of Petruchio who seeks the hand of Bianca; Ted Clevenger as Tranio, another suitor to Bianca; Bill Peterson is Biondello, servant to Tranio; Forrest Altman as Curtis, another servant to Petruchio; Russell West as Pedant, who is set up to impersonate Vincentio. Marilyn Nelson as the widow and Gil Hedges as the tailor.

A two scene introduction will precede the play and will feature Ken Burley as Christopher Sly; Lesnell Robinson as the hostess; Harvey and Lloyd Kay as the huntsmen; Don Remington as a page and Sam Frank as a servant.

CURTAIN FOR the production will go up at 8:15 and admission for students will be 40 cents and general admission 75 cents. The box office in the Stanley Building will be open for advance reservations between the hours of 10 a. m. and 5:30 p. m. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

Assisting Zerke in the direction of the play is Sarah Margaret Davis.

Charles Brown, Science Lecturer, Appears in Series

Dr. Charles Harvey Brown, outstanding science bibliographer, will give the second lecture in the lecture series sponsored by the Florida State University Library School.

This is Dr. Brown's second visit to the FSU campus. He was Visiting Professor in February and June of 1952. Dr. Brown has also been a visiting faculty member at Columbia and at the University of Illinois. He was also consultant at Louisiana State University. He is presently serving as Library Consultant at the University of Florida.

DR. BROWN was a member of the Library Mission sent to Japan in 1947-1948 to study the situation and make recommendations regarding the establishment of the first Library School in Japan. He is presently a member of the screening committee for Fulbright Awards in library science.

Dr. Brown is Librarian Emeritus at Iowa State College since his retirement in 1946 as Librarian of that institution. He is former president of the American Library Association and the Iowa Library Association. His special interests include science reference, nursing library service and land grant colleges.

H'coming Queen Becomes Model

Marilyn Geasler, Florida State Homecoming Queen who also made the cover of the Dec. 15 issue of Life magazine is still bringing in the honors. The Polish-born DP is now touring the Eastern Coast of America as a model.

She was chosen a Kay Windsor Cotton Cotillion Queen of 1952 from a photograph and left Tallahassee Dec. 30 for New York where she was coached for modeling. fisted for a warphobe and had publicity, primarily for Florida and the Southeast region. She is now traveling in a unit composed of her Consor comedia, a Hollywood starlet and a woman commentator as chaperone. On the tour she will model college fashions to civic.

Interns Back After Eight Week Trials

The campus suddenly became a lot busier Monday as 154 Florida State students returned from their roles as student-teachers ending their 8 week internship.

With the largest delegation returning from Miami and the next largest from Jacksonville the classes for the interns will include discussions on intern experiences and the behavior of certain age groups that they taught.

Theater Dance Group Plans Annual Program Next Week

The Theater Dance Group of the Florida State University will present its annual performance at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 14-15, in the Opperman Music Hall — the same program "An en women students in a Week-Evening of Dance" which highlighted an interior in physical education for women, is director for the dance group who did their own choreography for this number Marleen Forsberg student will be piano accompanist.

ALSO ON THE program will be a Tango, a dance called Chicken based upon Gene Kaufman's poem by that name; Mattress Mambo, a dance with several surreal dances, choreographed and

Continued on Page 4).

236478